THE ANN ARBOR GAME

A Contest Which Brought Honor to Both Teams. Michigan Won.

Minnesota's hopes of landing the Western championship this season went glimmering Thanksgiving Day when Michigan won by the decisive score of 23 to 6. A large crowd of Minnesota rooters went to Ann Arbor to see the game and the only disappointing thing about the whole trip was the score.

Never before was there such a crowd at Ferry Field as the one which attended this game. The stands were filled and enthroned supreme. The Minnesota band made a big hit with the crowd and it will long be remembered there as the best college band in the country.

It is needless to go over the story of the game again as every knows by this time how Minnesota was defeated.

As was the case in the Wisconsin game Michigan started in with a rush and played Minnesota off her feet in the first few minutes of play, scoring the first touchdown in seven minutes of play. Another touchdown was made in the first half by Michigan and the goal which was kicked brought the score up to 12 points. Heston, the star Michigan half back, made this last touchdown after a beautiful 35 yard run.

The first half closed without further scoring.

Minnesota started in the second half with a dash. After the ball had changed hands several times, Weeks fumbled a punt from Minnesota, and Flynn, picking it up as he ran past, dashed down the field for a touchdown. This cheered the Minnesota rooters and they began to take fresh courage.

A few minutes after, when Minnesota had held the Wolverines on the Gopher 15 yard line, Sweeley kicked a difficult goal from the 25 yard line. This made the score 17 to 6. The final score was made by Heston who broke through the line and plunged down the field for a touchdown. This was also made on a 35 yard run. Sweeley kicked goal and the score stood 23 to 6. The half ended with the ball in Minnesota's possession on its own fifteen yard line.

The defeat was not due to Minnesota's poor playing but to Michigan's machine-like work. It resembled an engine which could not be stopped after it had once got its full head of steam.

Minnesota fought hard to save herself but the fates had decreed against them. Every man deserves honor for they all worked like the men that they are. Full and impartial praise is due the team and it will be well remembered as one that went down with its colors flying. A team that never knows defeat when it is beaten is one that will always stay on top, and it is such a one that represents Minnesota this year.

Capt. Flynn showed great headwork in the game and was always on the spot when needed, as is shown by the touchdown he made.

The backs worked to their limit and found they were able to gain through their opponent's line but everything seemed to go against them at the critical moments. Harris played the game of his life and showed himself the equal of Weeks.

M. L. U.

The Program for the first regular meeting of the Minnesota Literary Union which was published in the DAILY on Nov. 20, will be rendered in Prof. McClumpha's room, Library building on Dec. 15th.

Every member of each literary society in the Union should be present and visitors are cordially invited. A high grade of work is expected and all should turn out with enthusiasm and help to make the Literary Union a success and a benefit to the University.

Keep the date open, Dec. 15th.

THE HUNTERS' PARTY

Fancy Dancing and Costumes Will Make the Party Particularly Attractive

Now that the football season is over the students are reminded that the first of the three annual University parties is less than three weeks distant.

The Hunter's Party to be given in the Armory on December the 12th by the Ladies' Gymnasium Classes promises to be one of the most elaborate affairs at the U. The decoration will be unusually attractive and will resemble somewhat those provided by the Commercial Club for the N. E. A. last summer.

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the "May Party" of last year were loud in their expression of the good time enjoyed by all.

The costumes of the men and women who give the fancy dances will be in harmony with the decorations and the forest surroundings of the hunting scenes.

The tickets are only $1.50 bringing the event within the reach of everyone.

The order of the dances will not be given out until the evening of the dance in order to prevent the filling of programs in advance.

The following ladies have consented to act as patronesses:

Mesdames Geo. Partridge, A. B. Jackson, Cyrus Northrop, C. B. Elliot, Chas. Hunter, Lucien Colley, J. B. Gillfillan, J. T. Wyman, B. C. Hurd, DeWitt Clinton, E. C. Gale.

The frappe tables will be presided over by Mesdames F. S. Jones, H. L. Williams and L. J. Cook.

Y. M. C. A. Wednesday Night

A goodly number of the students, men and women, took advantage of the social time at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. Among the taking features for whiling away the time was the division of the guests into states as they arrived. As the fun started each state delegation appeared with an appropriate yell and song. The mock mass meeting followed. Pres. Thelan, and Jones of Rock, and Grannis with much demanded Emerson songs were all here (by proxy). Ezra Kendall was not forgotten and Parmalee did himself proud as second to the famous comedian. Refreshments were served and when every one had played one game of ping-pong the assemblage parted to dream of what didn't happen on Thanksgiving Day.

Miss Mary McIntyre, '05, spent vacation at her home in Edea Valley, returning Monday.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE DELAYED

Baird Absent From Chicago Meeting and Consequently Little but Gossip Results

Michigan failed to have a representative at the Conference of Western managers held in Chicago, Saturday.

"Consequently," says the Record-Herald, "while there was a good deal of tentative progress made in the schedule arranging for the football season of 1903 no definite schedules were made. On account of a holdover contract, Michigan and Chicago will play a Thanksgiving game on Marshall field next year, and at present it looks as if the Thanksgiving games would be as follows.

Michigan and Chicago at Marshall field. Minnesota and Illinois at Champaign; Wisconsin and Nebraska, possibly in Milwaukee; Iowa and Northwestern, somewhere in the state of Iowa.

George Huff, the director of athletics at Illinois, said yesterday he was very much pleased over the fact that Dr. Williams of Minnesota when asked for a Thanksgiving game with Illinois at Champaign accepted at once.

To the general observer it would have seemed logical for Minnesota and Wisconsin to get together on Thanksgiving day, as Michigan, Chicago, Minnesota and Wisconsin have been quite generally rated this fall as "the big four" of the West. Manager Huff said:

"While we are not very proud at Illinois, still we do think that, take the season all in all, we have a good right to rank in the first four of the West, and this mark of recognition is pleasing."

However, it must be taken into account that Wisconsin has not favored Minnesota because of alleged rough tactics in the Wisconsin-Minnesota game.

On the whole Nebraska received a frost in its endeavor to get places in the schedules of the big games. Illinois was the only one which gave Manager Engel any sign of hope. It is not unlikely that Illinois and Nebraska will meet the last week in October or the first of November. Manager Engel will make a strong bid to get the Wisconsin Thanksgiving game. However it is possible that Iowa will get that game.

Manager McCutcheon of Iowa took part in the conference, but made it explicit that Dr. Knipe would make the schedule. Knipe is now in the East.

Huff of Illinois made more progress than anyone else, and seemed well satisfied with his schedule. Illinois is not seeking a game with Michigan for next year. Illinois and Chicago will meet in football Oct. 24.

A dual track meet schedule for the winter was arranged by Director Stagg of Chicago, Huff of Illinois and Manager Kilpatrick of Wisconsin as follows: Jan. 23—Chicago freshmen vs. Illinois freshmen at Champaign.

Jan. 31—Wisconsin vs. Chicago at Chicago.

Feb. 14—Illinois vs. Chicago at Chicago.

Feb. 28—Wisconsin vs. Chicago at Madison.

March 30—Illinois vs. Chicago at Champaign.

Farewell Appearance

Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Norman Howard Bartlett delivered an address on the "Shams of Society." His remarks were very well received by the 1000 Y. M. C. A. men who heard them. Mr. Bartlett leaves for Portland, Ore., shortly where he will deliver the annual memorial address of the Elks' Society. He is billed for a course of 32 lectures in Washington, Oregon and Northern California.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Championship of Four States is Claimed by St. Paul Central.

Thanksgiving morning on Northrop Field Minneapolis Central won from Duluth Central High School by a score of 23 to 0.

During the first half the game was decidedly Duluth's until Minneapolis took a brace and pushed the ball over her opponent's goal line shortly before time was called.

In the second half Duluth fell all to pieces and Minneapolis had a walk-away.

Minneapolis's back field and tackle Bidlake played best and for Duluth Cummings and Frank Bradley were the stars. The feature of the game was Cumming's attempt at a goal from the center of the field near the side line. The ball went through the center of the goal posts about a foot below the cross bar.

About 500 Minneapolis people and 200 Duluth people saw the game.

Saturday the St. Paul Central won the state championship by defeating the St. Cloud team at Lexington Park. The St. Paul team ran away with their opponents in the early part of the first half scoring a touchdown and a drop kick. During the rest of the game St. Cloud braced up and kept their opponents from increasing the score. Had the St. Cloud team played as well at the beginning as she did at the last the result might have been different but as it was the up river team, crippled by the loss of both its crack ends who were injured early in the game, they were unable to score.

The High School Championship while not settled so decisively as to silence all dispute, seems to rest with St. Paul Central.

St. Cloud had a strong claim upon the penant through its victories over Minneapolis Central and Duluth. The claim of Winona for first honors was effectively silenced by St. Paul. The only weak point in St. Paul's title is the fact that it has not played any Minneapolis team.

The State Championship carries with it the championship of Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa for the leading teams of these three states have met with defeat at the hands of Minnesota teams.

Y. M. C. A. Sunday

Prof. F. D. Tucker, principal of the Agricultural school made a strong talk at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday. His subject was "Worry" and what he said was of good practical value to the men present.

George Dredge, law, '04, visited in North Dakota during vacation.

The Michigan Game

Michigan won the great game and with it the undisputed title to the Western championship. She has probably the greatest team ever produced in the West and her men and her coach deserve and are receiving, from no one more cheerfully than from Minnesota, the greatest credit for their work. At the same time the Thanksgiving game brought nothing but credit to the Minnesota team and to Dr. Williams. The men played under very adverse circumstances. On a strange field of an entirely different kind than that on which all her practicing and playing had been done, so slippery as to make tackling in the open field uncertain, 700 miles from home and with a hostile audience and a partial official, they played a magnificent game which was really much closer than the score indicates.

The first touchdown was made by the Wolverines in a magnificent exhibition of football which carried the Gopher's team down to their very goal line before it could be checked. There the men braced and it took three downs to make but a few feet and at the end Michigan had the touchdown with only a couple of inches to spare.

The remainder of Michigan's scores were made on two long runs which Harris would in all probability have stopped had they been made on a less slippery field and a beautiful place kick by Sweeley when it hardly seemed possible that the Wolverines were within striking distance of the Minnesota goal.

Aside from the two runs mentioned Minnesota gained more yards in the second half than did Michigan while Knowlton held his own in the punting.

The one unpleasant feature of the game was the fact that a man who has been acting as assistant coach at Michigan was worked in as umpire by the Wolverines. This was a very unsportsmanlike action and the fact that all the Minnesota players state that he gave the Michigan team a great deal the best of it makes it even more reprehensible.

Of the treatment received at the hands of the Michigan rooters the Gophers who visited Ann Arbor have nothing but praise. The treatment received at Iowa City makes the gentlemanly bearing of the Ann Arbor students all the more noticeable.

Another Roast

The following editorial in the Martin County Sentinel, published at Fairmont, Minnesota, was handed to us yesterday afternoon with the request that we say something about it.

The Sentinel said in part: "How the bosoms of proud parents whose children attend the State University must heave with joy and pride as they read the accounts of the noble exhibition of animalism on Northrop Field, where men like wild beasts, batter and trample their fellows in the dirt amid the cheers and catcalls of their backers. And what a moral influence, what an inspiration to a pure and virtuous life follows in the wake of these Olympian sports, as witness by an account in the daily press:

"The entire Minneapolis police and detective force, aided by twenty-five special officers was unable to handle a mob of 1,000 students and rooters who went on a wild jamboree Saturday night in celebration of the foot-ball victory over the Wisconsin University."

"How the hearts of the one thousand fathers whose Spartan sons are forming characters under President Northrop's tutelage, must pulsate with rapture when they read the above. Grand old University! Builder of character! Maker of men! Millions for its maintenance!"

This editorial needs no comment, every fair and well informed person who read it would at once appreciate its utter falsehood, the only question is, what paper printed the "facts" upon which the Sentinel bases its burst of holy indignation.

The Regents' and Faculty of this institution are men of known and recognized integrity and ability, and it hardly lies in the sphere of an unknown editor, secure in his obscurity and remoteness, to condemn them upon charges which consist of misunderstood facts and unqualified misrepresentation.

Jenkin Lloyd Jones Tomorrow

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week, Jenkin Lloyd Jones is to deliver three popular lectures in the First Unitarian Church of this city. For over thirty years Mr. Jones has been one of the most striking lecturers and most effective public speakers in America. To students of social problems his attractive personality is made more interesting just now by his work in erecting in Chicago the first "Institutional Church" in the West. The structure is to contain libraries, club-rooms, class rooms of various sorts, especially for industrial work, and rooms for sports and recreation. The building will be open seven days in the week, and is designed to be a center of social as well as religious activities.

The program for the lectures is as follows:

Wednesday afternoon, 4:15 o'clock, "The Story of the Dog." Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, "Boys;" Thursday afternoon, 3 o'clock, "Dickens' tale of Two Cities."

The general admission is placed at thirty-five cents; but University students can secure tickets at twenty cents by purchasing them in advance at Hyde & Manuel's Book Store.

ALL WESTERN STARS

Critics Making all Western Team.
Five Gophers Get a Look-in

With the close of the football season we have the usual crop of All-Western Teams, there being as many as there are athletic editors.

As to the Minnesota men chosen, Flynn is the unanimous choice for guard while VanValkenburg is generally conceded a position at half.

A majority of the critics give Rogers a place at end.

Strathern, Knowlton and Harris are picked by many of the wise ones to fill their respective positions on the all star team.

Carl Green of the Chicago Record-Herald, who is pretty generally conceded to be a fair critic picks the following men as the best representatives of western football:

Fullback, Sweeley of Michigan.
Half-backs, Heston of Michigan and Van Valkenburg of Minnesota.
Quarterback and captain, Weeks of Michigan.
Center, Ellsworth of Chicago.

Guards, Flynn of Minnesota and McGugin of Michigan.

Tackles, Maddock of Michigan and Farr of Chicago, with Schacht, Minnesota pushing Farr hard.

Ends, Cook of Illinois and Abbott of Wisconsin.

Other lineups give Skow of Wisconsin at center and Rogers of Minnesota, end.

All star teams are only a matter of opinion at best and that the opinion of men who have to depend very largely on faulty newspaper reports. These critics carry very little weight at best and Walter Camp's and Caspar Whitney's teams will be the ones to receive the most consideration although they are not any more likely to represent the best material in the west.

"A SPLENDID THING"

Rev. Hardin Defends Football
Before the Ministers and Quotes Prexy

The annual measure of abuse is being heaped upon the game of football as it is played today. This comes every year and is in almost every case the judgment of those whose experience with the game is derived solely from the newspaper accounts or from having seen about one game.

The ministers of the city at a meeting held yesterday morning took up the discussion of college athletics and after considerable discussion and controversy during which football came in for some pretty severe criticism, Rev. Martin D. Hardin took the floor and first establishing his right to be heard by telling them of his intimate knowledge of the game both as a player and coach he delivered himself in the defense of the great game as follows:

"I want to say to you men that I'd rather lose out of the years of my life any three studies in college than the experience I gained on the football team. I believe the training to be of inestimable value to me as a man and as a preacher, and morally I am a better man than if I never had played." Mr. Hardin deprecated the gambling which he did not believe to be that of the student body, but mainly of professional gamblers. The game was less rough than in his day when for instance the flying wedge was a star but a dangerous play.

Mr. Hardin said he would like, later to present a paper on his side of the question. He quoted President Cyrus Northrop as saying, when asked by the speaker what he would say at the meeting as to football, "Tell them it is a splendid thing."

nerable and the Michigan backs could do nothing against them. They ran down under punts in excellent shape. The line men did their best, but flesh and blood could not withstand the tremendous assaults that were made upon it by the Michigan team.
