Japanese Educator Asks 'Aggressive Pacifism'

By Al Oppgaard

"A national Japanese army—never! An international UN police force—perhaps yes."

In quietly emphatic tones, Dr. Hachiro Yuasa, president of the International Christian university of Tokyo, expressed this opinion in his second speech on campus yesterday.

The small group gathered in Murphy hall auditorium was visibly impressed as the Japanese educator presented his "precarious position of aggressive pacifism opposing any steps toward the remilitarization of Japan."

YPA Admitted to McCarran Group

A fourth organization, the campus Young Progressives of America, has voted to support the Committee for the Repeal of the McCarran Act.

But at the committee meeting yesterday, there was debate whether the YPA should be accepted to membership.

After discussion, which followed an easy, informal pattern, the committee voted five to two to re-emphasize the point in their constitution that all organizations recognized by the student activities bureau may be admitted to the committee. This would include the YPA.

Meantime, plans for the committee's program are beginning to form: Circulation of a student-faculty petition has been approved by the SAB. The club also is preparing handbills and posters for distribution.

Tickets Still Left For Heggen Play

Only 50 tickets, all in the $4.20 bracket, remained yesterday afternoon for the special Sunday performance of "Mr. Roberts" at the Lyceum theater. Tickets are on sale at the boxoffice.

Proceeds from the performance at 8:30 p.m. will go to the Thomas Heggen Memorial library in Murphy hall.

Mr. Heggen, author of the play, was a graduate of the University school of journalism.

Henry Fonda, another former University journalism student, stars in "Mr. Roberts."

Smiling, he told his audience, that his decision to speak on a "burning issue of today" was contrary to the cautionings he received before leaving Tokyo.

He went on to say the pacifist position is now embodied in the new constitution of Japan, which states her people "desiring to live in friendly relations with all nations of the world, relinquish war as a sovereign right of the nation."

While this provision was ratified in a democratic election, Dr. Yuasa said, there remains a dangerous core of militarists in Japan, which advocate a change in the constitution (which re-armament under the United States would require) to provide for self defense.

"No one in Japan today wants war," he said, "but the danger lies in whether the people are against war because they were defeated or because of a realization of the futile nature of war."

"The only contribution Japan can make today to the cause of peace is to maintain its present pacifist state. . . . My people have an obligation in working for peace. . . . We must take part in the international police force under the UN. . . . There is a difference between UN police and a national army."

"The UN, imperfect as it is with all the weaknesses inherent to human machines," he said, "still is the best device open to humanity. The UN represents the conscience of enlightened people today."

Dr. Yuasa talked earlier yesterday on "Democracy Through Christian Education in the Far East" to a faculty luncheon meeting in the Union.

Ballet of the red shoes is performed by Robert Helpmann and Moira Shearer with Leonide Massine, as the shoemaker in the English movie, "The Red Shoes." Showings will be at 2:45, 5:20 and 8 p.m. today in Northrop auditorium by the University film society. Tickets for all performances at 60 cents are on sale in Westbrook hall basement.

Leadership Assembly To Hail 8 Ag Students

Eight Ag campus student leaders will be recognized at the fourth annual leadership assembly at 8 p.m. today in Coffey hall auditorium.

The senior who has made the greatest contribution to student life on Ag campus will be awarded the Dean E. M. Freeman medal. He was selected by a faculty scholarship committee whose decision was partly based on student recommendations.

Seven other students picked by the Ag student council will receive certificates of merit for service and leadership.

Two organizations also will be honored for their contributions to campus life.

The Ag campus chorus of 60 voices under the direction of Earl Rymer, instructor of music, will sing at the assembly. Their numbers will be "Built on a Rock," "Steal Away," "Dark Water," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Green Sleeves" and "Skip to My Lou."

"Extra Dividend" is the subject of the evening's main speech which will be given by Leonard L. Harkness, state 4-H leader.

Following the assembly the Ag Union will hold an open house and dance. Punch and cake will be served in the lounges with dancing to a juke box in the corrals.

Members of the Ag student council are in charge of arrangements of the assembly. Homer Wass, agriculture senior, is chairman of the assembly committee.

Columnist to Speak In Union Tomorrow

A columnist for the United Feature service will speak at the fifteenth annual Bosses' Night banquet at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Union main ballroom.

Robert Ruark, columnist and author, has entitled his talk "Off the Cuff." He has written two books, worked for the Washington, D. C., Daily News and served in the navy.

Tickets for the event, sponsored by the Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce and open to the public, are now on sale at the JCC office, 838 Metropolitan Life building, at $2.50 a plate.

Red Cross Drive Nears 25 Per Cent of Goal

About 25 per cent of the campus Red Cross drive's goal of $1,200 was collected at the end of the second day of the drive, Jim Penn, general chairman, said yesterday.

Yesterday's receipts totaled $288. "There will be solicitors in every building on campus today for the drive's biggest effort," Penn added. The drive will end Friday.

U Cadets' Draft Status Clarified

A selective service bulletin, issued yesterday by national director Lewis B. Hershey, clarifies the draft status of reserve officer training corps students.

Hershey ruled that only selected ROTC students who sign agreements to serve at least two years of active duty after graduation, if called, can be deferred under the draft law.

All others are subject to the draft, even though they are taking regular ROTC training in college.

Draft officials said Hershey issued the special instructions because of a general public misunderstanding of draft deferment policies governing ROTC students. They said most persons thought all ROTC trainees were automatically exempt.

Hershey said, however, that only a limited number of ROTC students may be deferred.

ROTC staff members emphasized that this order was nothing new. It is a clarification, rather than a change, they said.

The agreement, which ROTC students must sign before becoming eligible for deferment, says the student agrees "to accept a commission, if tendered, and to serve on active duty for a period of not less than two years after receipt of such commission, subject to call by the secretary of the army."

These deferments are given on quota basis, ROTC officials said. Students to whom they are offered are chosen by a board of the professor of military science and tactics and all basic cadet instructors.

This year, according to ROTC staff members, all sophomores, juniors and seniors in the army ROTC program have been offered deferments. In addition, some first year basic students will be given the chance to sign agreements in April.

Signing the deferment agreement automatically exempts the ROTC student from induction, in the words of the agreement, "until after completion or termination of the course of instruction, and, thereafter, so long as (the student) continues in a regular or reserve status upon being commissioned."

House Group Approves U Television Measure

The state house committee on civil administration yesterday approved a bill asking the University to televise all athletic contests.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul, now goes on general orders in the house.

Mac Prof to Talk On Isolationism

Isolationism, as opposed to internationalism, will be evaluated by Dr. Huntley Dupre, Macalester college history professor, at 3 p.m. today in 320 Union.

His talk will be the last in the series of seven open student forums sponsored by the all-University congress.

Dr. Dupre is a member of the United Nations association and chairman of the state chapter of the United World Federalists. Last summer he was adviser for the SPAN group in France.

Naughty Woodpeckers!

The Northern States Power company announced recently that the hunt is on for a group of pileated woodpeckers, opponent of the loon for state bird, which have been pecking holes in electric power poles, causing serious damage.

Atheist Hughes 'Hard Put' At YMCA Discussion Period

Frank C. Hughes, the militant atheist, was hard put to justify his fundamental atheistic stand before an overflow crowd in the small YMCA Commons club room yesterday.

Students fired questions and dissenting opinions at Hughes for about two hours. In answer, he drew assistance from his briefcaseful of papers and from his wife.

In answer to one question Hughes asserted he would like to convert everyone to atheism, but in the University case he was "interested in upholding the Constitution of the United States."

After about an hour and a half formal question and answer session, Hughes sat down and discussed his own views with a few remaining students. He passed out some of the letters he has written for student inspection and also distributed a supply of his 1950 Christmas cards.

Love between Pierre (Jim Kennedy) and Irma (Nancy Jean Walsh) brings the blessing of the countess (Norma Jean Wanvig) in the University Theater's "Madwoman" of Chaillot. The play is being presented at 8:30 p.m. today through Saturday and at a 4 p.m. matinee Sunday in Scott hall auditorium. Tickets at $1 are on sale in 18 Scott hall.

Communists Start Attack on East End of UN Line

Complied from United Press Reports

By Greg Jensen

Communist forces attacked in strength in East Korea Wednesday morning, Korean time, and drove back American and South Korean troops in what appeared to be the first stages of a massive counter-offensive.

Front dispatches indicated the heaviest attacks came against the South Korean third corps in the area two to six miles northeast of captured Amidong, with the enemy penetrating some Allied positions.

Another dispatch said the Communists struck with intensive small arms and mortar fire and drove the United States 24th division from a hill near Yangpyong, in the center of a Communist buildup area some 25 miles east of Seoul.

Details of the attack were meager, but ROK troops appealed for air strikes and American artillery barrages to help them stem the Red advance. In the attack, as in previous Communist offensives, massed weight was hurled against the South Koreans in hopes of achieving a breakthrough that would end once and for all the Allied "killer offensive."

The fragmentary front dispatches emphasized the Communist still too early to say whether the enemy was going over to the offensive all along the entire front.

On the opposite end of the line from the new Communist attack, GI's crossed the Han river east of Seoul and pushed forward north of the river against light resistance.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower . . .

. . . yesterday announced the appointment of a seven-man "brain trust"—including three British general staff officers and one American—to plan the defense of Western Europe.

The appointments were the first step toward putting Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact headquarters on a footing to direct and control the Atlantic Pact troops now in Europe.

Meanwhile, the British secretary of state for air announced that Britain will turn over her entire light bomber command, which eventually will be equipped with twin-engine Canberra jets, to Eisenhower's command.

And representatives of the United States, Britain and France signed an agreement providing that their troops can be shifted from one West German occupation zone to another without prior permission and at a moment's notice.

At home, senate democratic leader Ernest McFarland said that congressional delay in approving added troop shipments to Europe has "handicapped" Eisenhower's plans for his Atlantic Pact army.

The Big Four conference . . .

. . . of deputy foreign ministers produced a report that Russia was ready to propose the withdrawal of all occupation troops from Germany by the end of 1952, apparently in the hope of delaying the arming of Western Germany.

Informed sources said the proposal was part of a five-point "peace" program which Russia will place formally before the Western Big Three if a Big Four foreign ministers' conference can be arranged.

The army issued a call . . .

. . . for 60,000 draftees in May—20,000 less than in April—and the senate overwhelmingly rejected a proposal to clamp a three-year ceiling on army, navy and air force enlistments.

The enlistment amendment, proposed by Sen. Wayne Morse (R., Ore.) was brushed aside by a vote of 77 to 14, as the senate drove for final passage by tomorrow night of the administration's combination draft-UMT bill, under which youths could be inducted at 18 for 24 months' service.

Draft officials have said that draft quotas for the next few months—including the new call for May—can be met from the present pool of men 19 through 25. But after that, they said, the army either must call 18-year-olds or take veterans and husbands from the present age group.

Other defense problems . . .

. . . got a going over from several people yesterday. Price stabilizer Michael DiSalle said new price ceilings will be issued "very shortly" for processed foods. There was no indication what the new levels would be, but DiSalle said he now hopes to halt the rise in food prices before mid-summer, the original target date.

Union officials agreed with wage stabilizer Cyrus Ching that there is some hope for early settlement of labor's mobilization dispute. The cautiously optimistic reports came from a member of the united labor policy committee and from Minnesota's Sen. Hubert Humphrey, whose senate labor subcommittee met with Ching to discuss the dispute.

But in Key West, Fla., defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson again aroused labor's wrath. He said after a talk with President Truman that he had no idea when labor will end its boycott of the mobilization program, and made it clear that neither he nor Truman will back down in the dispute.

Wilson also charged that labor withdrew from the defense program primarily because he would not let it control manpower allocation.

Union officials in Washington immediately denounced the allegation as "shockingly untrue" and issued a statement attacking "the lack of any effective leadership in the fight against inflation." They said the manpower squabble was only one of the "major issues" in their dispute.

Two investigations . . .

. . . made news yesterday. Sen. James E. Murray (D., Mont.) defended his support of an RFC loan to a swank Miami hotel as "routine" and demanded a public airing of all similar cases involving congressmen.

Simultaneously, senate investigators asked the RFC to make a thorough investigation of a 1948 RFC loan to an Alabama paper mill in which the son of Rep. Frank W. Boykin (D., Ala.) was an official. Boykin joined in urging the investigation.

And Sen. William F. Knowland (R., Cal.) demanded that President Truman "return home from Florida and clean house" in the RFC and other government agencies.

In the other investigation, the house un-American activities committee has subpoenaed screen and radio performers John Garfield, Joe Ferrer, Abe Burrows and Anne Revere to testify on possible Communism in Hollywood. Committee officials said the subpoenas have been issued but did not reveal whether they have been served.

'51 Carnival Will Be Held For Two Days

This year's Campus carnival will be a double header.

The Carnival will be held two evenings, April 27 and 28, instead of one day, as it was last year.

The change was made after a student survey showed the majority of campus organizations favored the two-night stand.

"This way, the organizations will be able to bring in more money for the social service fund," general chairman Fred Heschmeyer said.

The second night of the carnival will be family night, and students will be asked to invite their parent and friends to attend.

Petitions and rules for the carnival have been sent to campus organizations, Heschmeyer said.

Any organization that would like to petition for a part in the carnival should contact the carnival office, 203 Union.

Sponsor of the carnival for the second consecutive year is Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity.

M/SGT. LOUIS KRAFT operates the controls of a model railroad, used to work out problems of army transportation corps ROTC cadets. Thomas LeFebvre, SLA junior, (left) and Robert Huntzinger, technology senior, were among four transportation corps students who helped Kraft construct this and other training aids.

Model Railroading Serious For Transportation Students

By Greg Jensen

Model railroading, ordinarily thought of as a plaything for Junior, is a serious business over in 103 Armory.

There the 90 feet of HO gauge track, the three switch engines, the road engines, 18 assorted freight cars and two cabooses are just part of an elaborate training aid.

The mock-up of a harbor and surrounding rail yard which fills the back end of the room is designed so that almost any problem the army transportation corps might encounter can be duplicated on it.

It is used for teaching railroading and port operations to all three specialized classes of transportation ROTC cadets.

Inspecting officers from fifth army headquarters in Chicago said last spring it was the most complete working-model training aid they had ever seen in a ROTC unit.

The model was designed and constructed by M. Sgt. Louis C. Kraft. Sgt. Kraft was assisted by four transportation corps students Thomas LeFebvre, now cadet regimental commander; Rolf Wunder, SLA sophomore; Bob Huntzinger, technology senior; Rex Jacobson, former student.

Together, the five men devoted 1,200 man-hours over a five-week period to the construction of the model, built on the tops of two regulation-sized ping-pong tables.

The model was made of a scrap plywood base and metal plasterer's lath, covered with cloth, which was then covered with plaster of paris and painted.

The model railroad parts, together with the cardboard building models, were furnished through training aids kits from the army's transportation school. Although all transportation corps ROTC units receive the kits, this model is the largest and most elaborate being used in any unit in the country, said Sgt. Kraft.

Tea to Honor Memory of Sinclair Lewis

A tea honoring the memory of Sinclair Lewis will be sponsored by the Friends of the University Library from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday in the Campus club.

Frank Buckley, assistant professor of English, will speak at 4:15 p.m. His topic will be "An Estimate of Sinclair Lewis."

"In the death of Sinclair Lewis," declared Mrs. Dorothy A. Rood, president of the Library patrons, yesterday, "the University Library lost a true friend."

"A former member of the University faculty, Mr. Lewis was a strong friend of Minnesota authors and one interested in Minnesota literature," Mrs. Rood said. "Over the years, Mr. Lewis presented to the Library many volumes of his writings, especially copies of his books translated into various foreign languages," she explained.

A selection from the Library's almost complete collection of Lewis works will be exhibited at the tea.

AWS to Recognize Women for Service

Women who have contributed outstanding services to the University will be honored at the Associated Women Students' recognition dessert today.

Of those attending the dessert, 175 will be recognized and 50 will receive special recognition in the form of a certificate.

The new officers of all women's activities on campus—Panhellenic council, AWS., Women's Athletic association, YWCA and the Toast-mistress club—will be announced.

Horticulture Course

The annual horticulture short course on vegetable, fruit growing and ornamental fruits and vegetables will be held March 29 and 30 on Ag campus.

Union in Talent Search to Save Square Dances

The Union is paging student talent in the form of square dance callers.

Life of the Tuesday night square dances may depend on response to this call, since the program has been losing around $25 a week by hiring a caller, said Bud Abrahamson, Union program consultant.

"I understand there are about 30 students on campus doing professional calling," Abrahamson said. "If some of them would call one Tuesday night next quarter, plus any amateurs who are interested, we could continue the program."

The callers would each have one class during spring quarter, to which they could teach any of their particular favorite square dances. They could bring their own records or use those which the Union has.

Interested students may contact Abrahamson between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in 229 Union.

Vets Can Repeat Fails if Required

Veterans registering for spring quarter may sign up to repeat a course if they have previously failed the class and it is required for graduation.

A course also may be repeated if the veteran has successfully completed the course but it has been changed and is not now accepted for graduation.

Loren Helberg, assistant director of the bureau of veterans affairs, said veterans should be certain their situation falls within regulations.

Senior Play Author Former Radio Man

A former CBS staff member from Hollywood was named as the author of the senior class play by Missy Van Fossen, Senior week chairman.

The play, which will be given May 22 through 24, was written by Phil Gelb, SLA senior, who was drama critic for the Daily in 1942.

During the time he was out of school from 1942-50, Gelb also served as radio director of the office of civilian defense in Chicago and as press and radio director for the National Society for Medical Research in New York.

Gelb calls his production "Romney and Juliet," although he says the only resemblance between his play and the one by William Shakespeare is the title.

In his production he says the feuding Montague and Capulet families become competing businesses—a metal-paper works and a tinfoil foundry.

Gelb also wrote a musical comedy show at the University of Utah in 1948. It was later optioned for Broadway production.

Miss Van Fossen said that there were still openings for the show. "Actors, directors, crew workers and many others are still needed," she said.

People who are interested can file in 228 Union, Miss Van Fossen said.

Travelog on Egypt Heads Union Movies

A travelog and a comedy will be shown with three recent newsreels at 11 a.m. and noon today in the Union main ballroom.

"Just for Fun" is a collection of the best scenes from Mack Sennett comedies. The travelog is "Treasure of the Nile."

The admission price of 14 cents, which was raised from 10 cents this quarter, will be put on a permanent basis, along with the two showings instead of three. This was decided at the last Union board of governors meeting.

The Monday movies and Wednesday newsreel program are the only two Union activities which will continue through the week before finals.

3 Pucksters Lead Gophers to Record

By Dwayne Nettland

Three individual record-breakers helped Minnesota establish a new team goal scoring record this year as the Gophers wound up their regular schedule with 140 goals.

This topped the previous high of 138 set by the undefeated NCAA and AAU champions of 1940, which claimed Johnny Mariucci and Frank St. Vincent among its unofficial all-American personnel.

Individually, Cal Engelstad, Rube Bjorkman and Gordy Watters each eclipsed the combined goal and assist total of 40 set by Rollie DePaul in 1948.

Engelstad finished with 53 points, Bjorkman 47 and Watters 46, despite the fact he was sidelined games with injuries. Watters' goal total of 27 tied Mariucci's 1940 mark, and Engelstad's 34 assists represents another new record for future stickers to shoot at.

Goalie Larry Ross may have set another unofficial record when he registered 88 stops during the two-game Colorado college series. Ross allowed an average of two goals per game over the last nine contests on the schedule.

The Gophers were back in practice regalia yesterday, snapping through one of their sharpest scrimmages of the season. Coach Doc Romnes liked the play of the all-freshman front line, Dick Daugherty, International Falls, Minn.; Gene Campbell, Minneapolis South, and Pete Steurwald, a transfer student from Michigan.

The decision on the controversial NCAA trip will be known sometime this afternoon, assistant athletic director and NCAA hockey chairman Lou Keller said.

Playing the first half with only three men, the heavily-favored Bums were knocked out of the all-U intramural basketball tourney last night by the Ramblers, Ag campus champs.

The Bums held the Ramblers to a 12 to 12 tie in the first half and employed a fast-break at times.

In the final period the Bums, using four men, actually built up a 24 to 21 lead, but Francis Januschka, Dick Stucky and Don Kvasnicka hit buckets against their rapidly-tiring opponents and Kvasnicka added a free throw to give the Ramblers a 28 to 24 victory.

Ralph Turtinen, Jim Malosky and George Hudak of the Bums played a superb game both offensively and defensively, but the odds were too great to overcome.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Lions scored at will against Phi Gamma Delta to take the professional fraternity title, 47 to 18.

Phenomenal shooting gave the Lions a 16 to 4 lead at the end of the first quarter. From then on they substituted freely and the outcome was never in doubt.

At the start of the third quarter the Lions scored 15 points in a row, mostly on fast breaks by Bob Wigley and Sam Orlich, who scored 12 and 11 points respectively.

Burly Lyle Nash was high point man for the losers with three baskets and a free throw.

John Wallfred and Bob Bartholomay sparked the Amigo Club to a 27 to 17 win over B & G to snare the second division title in the Independent league.

Smith Announces Switch In I-M Cage Playoffs

A change in the all-U intramural basketball tourney set-up was announced yesterday by W. R. Smith, I-M director.

The winner of the Amigo Club vs. B & G game will play Centennial House III instead of the Bums. The Bums will play off against the Ramblers, Ag campus champs.

Top Duo Sparks Spartan Glovers

By Jerry Jacobs

Two of the toughest and smallest college boxers in the country, will lead San Jose State against the Gopher glovers Friday in Williams arena.

By name they are Mac Martinez and Al Tafoya and by reputation the two rate as the best in college circles. Martinez is the reigning NCAA bantamweight champ and has never been beaten in a dual meet. Tafoya, the other half of the one-two punch, also is undefeated this year. The 130-pound Spartan lost out in the semifinals of last year's nationals to Tad Thrash of L.S.U. who went on to win the title.

But the Gophers' Dave Mackey who saw that bout and will tangle with Tafoya Friday knows what he's up against. "He's got a solid hump of muscle in his back," says Mackey, "and he just swarms in." Gopher ace Neil Ofstun will square off against Martinez in the 125-pound scrap. If anybody can beat the hard-hitting Mexican, Coach Ray Chisholm thinks Ofstun is the one to do it.

"I'll have to fight him from long range," says Neil and there is good reason for this strategy. In last year's NCAA tourney, Martinez got hit with everything except the ringpost in the first round of his bout with Bob Pastor and still went on to win the fight and the national title.

It's almost impossible to hurt the Spartan and so Ofstun will attempt to outbox instead of outslug him.

Besides Tafoya and Martinez, the undefeated Spartans have four other boxers who have yet to lose this season.

They are welterweight Johnny Johnson, senior-welterweight Bill Mendosa, middleweight Nick Diez and heavyweight Jack Scheberies.

MIXING IT UP: The boxers worked out in the main ballroom of the Union yesterday with about 300 students looking on.

Skoog, Johnson, McIntyre Hit 93

ATWATER, MINN. — (Special) — Three former Gophers combined for 93 points to lead the Gopher Stars to a 104 to 63 victory over Atwater's all-stars here last night.

Maynard Johnson was high point man with a total of 38 points from a forward position. Jim McIntyre dropped in 28 and Whitey Skoog had 27.

Skoog stole the show with his all-around floor play and expert passes. The Stars led at the half 53 to 32 and controlled the game throughout. Harold Olson, coach of the team, says that several other tentative games are lined up.

Swimming Gets Spotlight With Conference Meet

Swimming takes the Minnesota sport spotlight this week as many of the nation's top swimmers converge on Cooke hall for the Big Ten conference meet tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

With competition tougher than ever, several new world records may be broken. Already Ohio State's Jackie Taylor, has surpassed the world record in the 100-yard backstroke.

Taylor, a versatile junior who excels in all events but diving and breaststroke will try to repeat his last year's victories in the 1500 meter, 50-yard backstroke and 440-yard free style. The triple-crown defender holds the NCAA record in the 1500 meter race.

Ohio State, perennial tank champion, has more than its share of standouts and is favored to defend its title. Besides Taylor, the Buckeyes boast Bill Sonner, NCAA 100-yard backstroke record holder and Joe Marino, national AAU outdoor diving champ.

Michigan State may take one or two records of its own back to East Lansing. Coach Charles McCaffree, Jr., has Clarke Scholes, Hal Shoup, 1948 Olympian swimmer George Hoogerhyde and a brilliant sophomore, Bert McLachlan.

Scholes has the best conference times this year in the 50 and 100-yard free style. McLachlan, after showing strength in early season performances, may take the 220 and 440-yard free style events.

Dave Anderson, Minnesota's stellar sophomore star, seems to be coach Niels Thorpe's brightest prospect for the big meet. He has been cutting his time in the 220 and 440-yard free styles with every meet. If he improves even more this week, he could challenge Taylor in the 440-yard and 1500 meter races.

Whitey Skoog

Skoog Tops 'Small' Men in Big 10 History

The greatest "small" man over a three-year period the Big Ten has ever seen!

That's what even more people are calling Minnesota's Whitey Skoog after yesterday's all-conference selection for the third year in a row.

Whitey made the official coaches' second team as a sophomore and the first team the past two seasons.

Only players ever to receive such honors in the past have been such big, high-scoring centers as Jim McIntyre and Ohio State's Dick Schnittker.

Because of his 6-foot height, Whitey was a forward or guard all during his college days. Thus, his "little guy's" mark of 568 points in the Big Ten is even more amazing.

Only centers Don Rehfeldt of Wisconsin, McIntyre, Schnittker and Northwestern's Ray Ragelis ever scored more than the Skoog in Big Ten play and all measured 6-4 or higher.

In his three years the cotton-top hit 766, 201 and 201 points for fourth, sixth and eighth places in the scoring races. He and McIntyre are the only Big Ten cagers in history to score more than 150 points three years in succession.

Joining Skoog on the coaches' stary five were Ragelis, who set a new conference scoring mark with 277 points, Illinois' Don Sunderlage, Indiana's Bill Garrett and Wisconsin's Ab Nicholas.

On the second team were Frank Calsbeek and Chuck Darling of Iowa, Purdue's Carl McNulty, Illinois' Rod Fletcher and Indiana's Bill Tosheff.

Royals Cut Laker Lead With 90-79 Victory

The Minneapolis Lakers dropped their fourth game in a row last night as Arnie Risen led the Rochester Royals to a 90-79 win at Rochester. The Royals shaved another game off the Lakers' lead and now trail by only 2 1/2 games. Rochester has six games left to play and Minneapolis five.

Track Team Keeps Busy While Coach Kelly Is Away

Jim Kelly may not hear what his track boys have been doing 'til he gets back from Argentina Monday.

But things are happening while the white-haired mentor is in charge of the United States track delegation at the Pan American games in Buenos Aires.

Jim Hancock, Kelly's prize sophomore distance man, finished ninth in a strong field of two-milers Saturday in the Big Ten indoor meet. His time was 9:48, cutting ten seconds off his previous best.

Pole vaulter Tom Carroll picked up Minnesota's only three points with a third place leap of 13 feet, 8 inches, while Dick Gregory missed the 60-yard dash finals by a lash.

Especially good news for Kelly when he returns will be the fact that freshman Denny Hanson Saturday ran a 4:27 mile. Earlier the former state champ ran 1 1/2 miles in 7:04, the best ever for a freshman at Minnesota.

Meanwhile, squad members are working hard to see which men will make the trip to the Florida Relays during spring vacation. Bob Gelle, 1949 state high school shot put champ, will be out for track.

Gophers Down Sioux Icemen 5-2

By Dwayne Netland

Minnesota cleared another hurdle in its sensational late-season dash to the NCAA hockey tournaments by scalping North Dakota's Sioux skaters 5 to 2 last night in Williams arena.

While the winter's worst blizzard was swirling its icy blasts against the exterior of the arena, the Gophers treated the surprisingly large turnout which braved the blinding snowstorm to its best passing and stick checking exhibition of the season.

Only some yeoman work in the nets by Dakota goalie Rudy Lindbeck, the South St. Paul, Minn., product, kept Doc Romnes' stickers from shattering the all-time Gopher goal total of 138.

Lindbeck proved one of the toughest cage obstacles the Maroon six has faced all year as he registered 37 stops, including six consecutive blocks on unmolested Gopher rushes down the ice.

Meanwhile Minnesota's Larry Ross came up with his net masterpiece of the season to join forces with defenseman Tom Wegleitner to spark the Gophers to their ninth straight win.

Ross turned back 49 Sioux shots and had a shut-out for 35 minutes until George Dickinson propelled a screen shot through him late in the second period.

Wegleitner's effective defensive play evoked favorable comments from both Romnes and Dakota mentor Fido Purpur. The St. Paul speedster broke up countless Sioux attacks with his deft stick handling, in addition to figuring prominently in Minnesota's second goal.

Cal Engelstad pushed the Gophers off to a 1 to 0 lead by converting Gordy Watters' perfect feed pass past Lindbeck at 14:38 of the first period after Ross had deflected 20 successive Nodak shots.

With eight seconds of the same session remaining Russ Strom converted on a double assist from Wegleitner and Don Bodin, then Harry Adams made it 3 to 0 with an icer at 5:54 of the second period.

Dickinson countered with a pair of tallies for the Nodaks, but Rube Bjorkman and John Amatuzio sewed things up by driving home loose pucks late in the third period to forge the final 5 to 2 count.

Hoping for a better break from the weather man this time, the Gophers can virtually nail down the NCAA bid by subduing the Nodaks in tonight's 8:30 Williams arena '51 finale.

THE HIGHEST scoring front line in Minnesota hockey history—Cal Engelstad (left), Gordy Watters and Rube Bjorkman—will lead the Gophers against North Dakota in tonight's '51 home ice finale.

Wrestlers Blanked In Big Ten Prelims

EVANSTON, ILL.—(UP)—Minnesota was blanked here yesterday in the first round preliminaries of the Big Ten wrestling meet.

All eight Gophers entered lost their first round matches as Michigan took the lead by qualifying seven of eight men for this afternoon's semi-finals. The finals will be held tonight.

Floyd Laumann, Minnesota's 137-pound entry lost to Dibellow of Michigan State, 5 to 2, to get Gopher competition under way.

Senior Don Hopperstad, at 123 pounds, lost out to Macias of Iowa, 6 to 4, while sophomore Bob Carter met defeat in the 130-pound division at the hands of Gallon of Michigan, 5 to 3.

At 147 pounds Don Zastrow lost to Keogh of Ohio State on the referee's decision. Dick Metzger suffered Minnesota's fifth straight loss to Thomas of Iowa 13 to 5.

John Grygelko was shutout 3 to 0 by McLean of Ohio State in the 167-pound slot, while Don Witzel succumbed 5 to 1 to Illinois' Schwartz in the 177-pound division.

Heavyweight Jack Dorfman was thrown by Big Ten champ Bill Miller of Ohio State at 5:37.

Ohio State qualified six, Iowa five, defending champ Purdue and Michigan State four, Illinois had three, Wisconsin two, Northwestern one and Indiana and Minnesota none.

Puck Fans Brave 'Worst' Blizzard

The worst snowstorm to strike Minneapolis in over a year couldn't keep nearly 3,000 hardy hockey fans from converging on Williams arena last night as the Gophers defeated North Dakota 5 to 2 in one of the season's better-played tilts. . . .

When Minneapolis Central and Edina high schools faced off for their 7 p.m. prelim, Gopher business manager Marsh Ryman was casting nervous glances at the swirling gusts outside—and the empty seats indoor. . . .

But by 8 p.m. nearly 2,000 patrons had clicked the turnstiles, and by game time it was a few hundred more. And an estimated 400 additional onlookers came over from the city high school district basketball playoffs in the other end of the arena. . . .

Gopher coach Doc Romnes was his usual tranquil self before the game, while his coaching rival from Grand Forks—Cliff (Fido) Purpur—was fidgeting with equipment and nervously pacing the floor. . . .

The doughty Purpur had time, though, to declare his current crop of Sioux freshmen pucksters the best in North Dakota history. . . .

Japanese Educator Asks 'Aggressive Pacifism'

By Al Oppegaard

"A national Japanese army—never! An international UN police force—perhaps yes."

In quietly emphatic tones, Dr. Hachiro Yuasa, president of the International Christian university of Tokyo, expressed this opinion in his second speech on campus yesterday.

The small group gathered in Murphy hall auditorium was visibly impressed as the Japanese educator presented his "precarious position of aggressive pacifism opposing any steps toward the remilitarization of Japan."

YPA Admitted to McCarran Group

A fourth organization, the campus Young Progressives of America, has voted to support the Committee for the Repeal of the McCarran Act.

But at the committee meeting yesterday, there was debate whether the YPA should be accepted to membership.

After discussion, which followed an easy, informal pattern, the committee voted five to two to re-emphasize the point in their constitution that all organizations recognized by the student activities bureau may be admitted to the committee. This would include the YPA.

Meantime, plans for the committee's program are beginning to form: Circulation of a student-faculty petition has been approved by the SAB. The club also is preparing handbills and posters for distribution.

Tickets Still Left For Heggen Play

Only 50 tickets, all in the $4.20 bracket, remained yesterday afternoon for the special Sunday performance of "Mr. Roberts" at the Lyceum theater. Tickets are on sale at the boxoffice.

Proceeds from the performance at 8:30 p.m. will go to the Thomas Heggen Memorial library in Murphy hall.

Mr. Heggen, author of the play, was a graduate of the University school of journalism.

Henry Fonda, another former University journalism student, stars in "Mr. Roberts."

Smiling, he told his audience, that his decision to speak on a "burning issue of today" was contrary to the cautionings he received before leaving Tokyo.

He went on to say the pacifist position is now embodied in the new constitution of Japan, which states her people "desiring to live in friendly relations with all nations of the world, relinquish war as a sovereign right of the nation."

While this provision was ratified in a democratic election, Dr. Yuasa said, there remains a dangerous core of militarists in Japan, which advocate a change in the constitution (which re-arms under the United States would require) to provide for self defense.

"No one in Japan today wants war," he said, "but the danger lies in whether the people are against war because they were defeated or because of a realization of the futile nature of war."

"The only contribution Japan can make today to the cause of peace is to maintain its present pacifist state. . . . My people have an obligation in working for peace. . . . We must take part in the international police force under the UN. . . . There is a difference between UN police and a national army."

"The UN, imperfect as it is with all the weaknesses inherent to human machines," he said, "still is the best device open to humanity. The UN represents the conscience of enlightened people today."

Dr. Yuasa talked earlier yesterday on "Democracy Through Christian Education in the Far East" to a faculty luncheon meeting in the Union.

Ballet of the red shoes is performed by Robert Helpmann and Moira Shearer with Leonide Massine, as the shoemaker in the English movie, "The Red Shoes." Showings will be at 2:45, 5:20 and 8 p.m. today in Northrop auditorium by the University film society. Tickets for all performances at 60 cents are on sale in Westbrook hall basement.

Leadership Assembly To Hail 8 Ag Students

Eight Ag campus student leaders will be recognized at the fourth annual leadership assembly at 8 p.m. today in Coffey hall auditorium.

The senior who has made the greatest contribution to student life on Ag campus will be awarded the Dean E. M. Freeman medal. He was selected by a faculty scholarship committee whose decision was partly based on student recommendations.

Seven other students picked by the Ag student council will receive certificates of merit for service and leadership.

Two organizations also will be honored for their contributions to campus life.

The Ag campus chorus of 60 voices under the direction of Earl Rymer, instructor of music, will sing at the assembly. Their numbers will be "Built on a Rock," "Steal Away," "Dark Water," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Green Sleeves" and "Skip to My Lou."

"Extra Dividend" is the subject of the evening's main speech which will be given by Leonard L. Harkness, state 4-H leader.

Following the assembly the Ag Union will hold an open house and dance. Punch and cake will be served in the lounges with dancing to a juke box in the corrals.

Members of the Ag student council are in charge of arrangements of the assembly. Homer Wass, agriculture senior, is chairman of the assembly committee.

Columnist to Speak In Union Tomorrow

A columnist for the United Feature service will speak at the fifteenth annual Bosses' Night banquet at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Union main ballroom.

Robert Ruark, columnist and author, has entitled his talk "Off the Cuff." He has written two books, worked for the Washington, D. C., Daily News and served in the navy.

Tickets for the event, sponsored by the Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce and open to the public, are now on sale at the JCC office, 838 Metropolitan Life building, at $2.50 a plate.

Red Cross Drive Nears 25 Per Cent of Goal

About 25 per cent of the campus Red Cross drive's goal of $1,200 was collected at the end of the second day of the drive, Jim Penn, general chairman, said yesterday.

Yesterday's receipts totaled $288. "There will be solicitors in every building on campus today for the drive's biggest effort," Penn added. The drive will end Friday.

U Cadets' Draft Status Clarified

A selective service bulletin, issued yesterday by national director Lewis B. Hershey, clarifies the draft status of reserve officer training corps students.

Hershey ruled that only selected ROTC students who sign agreements to serve at least two years of active duty after graduation, if called, can be deferred under the draft law.

All others are subject to the draft, even though they are taking regular ROTC training in college.

Draft officials said Hershey issued the special instructions because of a general public misunderstanding of draft deferment policies governing ROTC students. They said most persons thought all ROTC trainees were automatically exempt.

Hershey said, however, that only a limited number of ROTC students may be deferred.

ROTC staff members emphasized that this order was nothing new. It is a clarification, rather than a change, they said.

The agreement, which ROTC students must sign before becoming eligible for deferment, says the student agrees "to accept a commission, if tendered, and to serve on active duty for a period of not less than two years after receipt of such commission, subject to call by the secretary of the army."

These deferments are given on quota basis, ROTC officials said. Students to whom they are offered are chosen by a board of the professor of military science and tactics and all basic cadet instructors.

This year, according to ROTC staff members, all sophomores, juniors and seniors in the army ROTC program have been offered deferments. In addition, some first year basic students will be given the chance to sign agreements in April.

Signing the deferment agreement automatically exempts the ROTC student from induction, in the words of the agreement, "until after completion or termination of the course of instruction, and, thereafter, so long as (the student) continues in a regular or reserve status upon being commissioned."

The state house committee on civil administration yesterday approved a bill asking the University to televise all athletic contests.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul, now goes on general orders in the house.

Mac Prof to Talk On Isolationism

Isolationism, as opposed to internationalism, will be evaluated by Dr. Huntley Dupre, Macalester college history professor, at 3 p.m. today in 320 Union.

His talk will be the last in the series of seven open student forums sponsored by the all-University congress.

Dr. Dupre is a member of the United Nations association and chairman of the state chapter of the United World Federalists. Last summer he was adviser for the SPAN group in France.

Atheist Hughes 'Hard Put' At YMCA Discussion Period

Frank C. Hughes, the militant atheist, was hard put to justify his fundamental atheistic stand before an overflow crowd in the small YMCA Commons club room yesterday.

Students fired questions and dissenting opinions at Hughes for about two hours. In answer, he drew assistance from his briefcaseful of papers and from his wife.

In answer to one question Hughes asserted he would like to convert everyone to atheism, but in the University case he was "interested in upholding the Constitution of the United States."

After about an hour and a half formal question and answer session, Hughes sat down and discussed his own views with a few remaining students. He passed out some of the letters he has written for student inspection and also distributed a supply of his 1950 Christmas cards.

Love between Pierre (Jim Kennedy) and Irma (Nancy Jean Walsh) brings the blessing of the countess (Norma Jean Wanvig) in the University Theater's "Madwoman of Chaillot." Communists Start Attack on East End of UN Line

Compiled from United Press Reports

By Greg Jensen

Communist forces attacked in strength in East Korea Wednesday morning, Korean time, and drove back American and South Korean troops in what appeared to be the first stages of a massive counter-offensive.

Front dispatches indicated the heaviest attacks came against the South Korean third corps in the area two to six miles northeast of captured Amidong, with the enemy penetrating some Allied positions.

Another dispatch said the Communists struck with intensive small arms and mortar fire and drove the United States 24th division from a hill near Yangpyong, in the center of a Communist buildup area some 25 miles east of Seoul.

Details of the attack were meager, but ROK troops appealed for air strikes and American artillery barrages to help them stem the Red advance. In the attack, as in previous Communist offensives, massed weight was hurled against the South Koreans in hopes of achieving a breakthrough that would end once and for all the Allied "killer offensive."

The fragmentary front dispatches emphasized the Communist attack still too early to say whether the enemy was going over to the offensive all along the entire front.

On the opposite end of the line from the new Communist attack, GI's crossed the Han river east of Seoul and pushed forward north of the river against light resistance.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower . . .

. . . yesterday announced the appointment of a seven-man "brain trust"—including three British general staff officers and one American—to plan the defense of Western Europe.

The appointments were the first step toward putting Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact headquarters on a footing to direct and control the Atlantic Pact troops now in Europe.

Meanwhile, the British secretary of state for air announced that Britain will turn over her entire light bomber command, which eventually will be equipped with twin-engine Canberra jets, to Eisenhower's command.

And representatives of the United States, Britain and France signed an agreement providing that their troops can be shifted from one West German occupation zone to another without prior permission and at a moment's notice.

At home, senate democratic leader Ernest McFarland said that congressional delay in approving added troop shipments to Europe has "handicapped" Eisenhower's plans for his Atlantic Pact army.

The Big Four conference . . .

. . . of deputy foreign ministers produced a report that Russia was ready to propose the withdrawal of all occupation troops from Germany by the end of 1952, apparently in the hope of delaying the arming of Western Germany.

Informed sources said the proposal was part of a five-point "peace" program which Russia will place formally before the Western Big Three if a Big Four foreign ministers' conference can be arranged.

The army issued a call . . .

. . . for 60,000 draftees in May—20,000 less than in April—and the senate overwhelmingly rejected a proposal to clamp a three-year ceiling on army, navy and air force enlistments.

The enlistment amendment, proposed by Sen. Wayne Morse (R., Ore.) was brushed aside by a vote of 77 to 14, as the senate drove for final passage by tomorrow night of the administration's combination draft-UMT bill, under which youths could be inducted at 18 for 24 months' service.

Draft officials have said that draft quotas for the next few months—including the new call for May—can be met from the present pool of men 19 through 25. But after that, they said, the army either must call 18-year-olds or take veterans and husbands from the present age group.

Other defense problems . . .

. . . got a going over from several people yesterday. Price stabilizer Michael DiSalle said new price ceilings will be issued "very shortly" for processed foods. There was no indication what the new levels would be, but DiSalle said he now hopes to halt the rise in food prices before mid-summer, the original target date.

Union-officials agreed with wage stabilizer Cyrus Ching that there is some hope for early settlement of labor's mobilization dispute. The cautiously optimistic reports came from a member of the united labor policy committee and from Minnesota's Sen. Hubert Humphrey, whose senate labor subcommittee met with Ching to discuss the dispute.

But in Key West, Fla., defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson again aroused labor's wrath. He said after a talk with President Truman that he had no idea when labor will end its boycott of the mobilization program, and made it clear that neither he nor Truman will back down in the dispute.

Wilson also charged that labor withdrew from the defense program primarily because he would not let it control manpower allocation.

Union officials in Washington immediately denounced the allegation as "shockingly untrue" and issued a statement attacking "the lack of any effective leadership in the fight against inflation." They said the manpower squabble was only one of the "major issues" in their dispute.

Two investigations . . .

. . . made news yesterday. Sen. James E. Murray (D., Mont.) defended his support of an RFC loan to a swank Miami hotel as "routine" and demanded a public airing of all similar cases involving congressmen.

Simultaneously, senate investigators asked the RFC to make a thorough investigation of a 1948 RFC loan to an Alabama paper mill in which the son of Rep. Frank W. Boykin (D., Ala.) was an official. Boykin joined in urging the investigation.

And Sen. William F. Knowland (R., Cal.) demanded that President Truman "return home from Florida and clean house" in the RFC and other government agencies.

In the other investigation, the house un-American activities committee has subpoenaed screen and radio performers John Garfield, Joe Ferrer, Abe Burrows and Anne Revere to testify on possible Communism in Hollywood. Committee officials said the subpoenas have been issued but did not reveal whether they have been served.

'51 Carnival Will Be Held For Two Days

This year's Campus carnival will be a double header.

The Carnival will be held two evenings, April 27 and 28, instead of one day, as it was last year.

The change was made after a student survey showed the majority of campus organizations favored the two-night stand.

"This way, the organizations will be able to bring in more money for the social service fund," general chairman Fred Heschmeyer said.

The second night of the carnival will be family night, and students will be asked to invite their parent and friends to attend.

Petitions and rules for the carnival have been sent to campus organizations, Heschmeyer said.

Any organization that would like to petition for a part in the carnival should contact the carnival office, 203 Union.

Sponsor of the carnival for the second consecutive year is Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity.

M/SGT. LOUIS KRAFT operates the controls of a model railroad, used to work out problems of army transportation corps ROTC cadets. Thomas LeFebvre, SLA junior, (left) and Robert Huntzinger, technology senior, were among four transportation corps students who helped Kraft construct this and other training aids.

Model Railroading Serious For Transportation Students

By Greg Jensen

Model railroading, ordinarily thought of as a plaything for Junior, is a serious business over in 103 Armory.

There the 90 feet of HO gauge track, the three switch engines, the road engines, 18 assorted freight cars and two cabooses are just part of an elaborate training aid.

The mock-up of a harbor and surrounding rail yard which fills the back end of the room is designed so that almost any problem the army transportation corps might encounter can be duplicated on it.

It is used for teaching railroading and port operations to all three specialized classes of transportation ROTC cadets.

Inspecting officers from fifth-army headquarters in Chicago said last spring it was the most complete working-model training aid they had ever seen in a ROTC unit.

The model was designed and constructed by M. Sgt. Louis C. Kraft. Sgt. Kraft was assisted by four transportation corps students Thomas LeFebvre, now cadet regimental commander; Rolf Wunder, SLA sophomore; Bob Huntzinger, technology senior; Rex Jacobson, former student.

Together, the five men devoted 1,200 man-hours over a five-week period to the construction of the model, built on the tops of two regulation-sized ping-pong tables. The model was made of a scrap plywood base and metal plasterer's lath, covered with cloth, which was then covered with plaster of paris and painted.

The model railroad parts, together with the cardboard building models, were furnished through training aids kits from the army's transportation school. Although all transportation corps ROTC units receive the kits, this model is the largest and most elaborate being used in any unit in the country, said Sgt. Kraft.

Tea to Honor Memory of Sinclair Lewis

A tea honoring the memory of Sinclair Lewis will be sponsored by the Friends of the University Library from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday in the Campus club.

Frank Buckley, assistant professor of English, will speak at 4:15 p.m. His topic will be "An Estimate of Sinclair Lewis."

"In the death of Sinclair Lewis," declared Mrs. Dorothy A. Rood, president of the Library patrons, yesterday, "the University Library lost a true friend."

"A former member of the University faculty, Mr. Lewis was a strong friend of Minnesota authors and one interested in Minnesota literature," Mrs. Rood said.

"Over the years, Mr. Lewis presented to the Library many volumes of his writings, especially copies of his books translated into various foreign languages," she explained.

A selection from the Library's almost complete collection of Lewis works will be exhibited at the tea.

AWS to Recognize Women for Service

Women who have contributed outstanding services to the University will be honored at the Associated Women Students' recognition dessert today.

The dessert, which will be held at 7 p.m. in the Campus club, will have "50 years of organized women's activities on campus" for its theme.

Of those attending the dessert, 175 will be recognized and 50 will receive special recognition in the form of a certificate.

The new officers of all women's activities on campus—Panhellenic council, AWS, Women's Athletic association, YWCA and the Toast-mistress club—will be announced.

Horticulture Course

The annual horticulture short course on vegetable, fruit growing and ornamental fruits and vegetables will be held March 29 and 30 on Ag campus.

Union in Talent Search to Save Square Dances

The Union is paging student talent in the form of square dance callers.

Life of the Tuesday night square dances may depend on response to this call, since the program has been losing around $25 a week by hiring a caller, said Bud Abrahamson, Union program consultant.

"I understand there are about 30 students on campus doing professional calling," Abrahamson said. "If some of them would call one Tuesday night next quarter, plus any amateurs who are interested, we could continue the program."

The callers would each have one class during spring quarter, to which they could teach any of their particular favorite square dances. They could bring their own records or use those which the Union has.

Interested students may contact Abrahamson between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in 229 Union.

Vets Can Repeat Fails if Required

Veterans registering for spring quarter may sign up to repeat a course if they have previously failed the class and it is required for graduation.

A course also may be repeated if the veteran has successfully completed the course but it has been changed and is not now accepted for graduation.

Loren Helberg, assistant director of the bureau of veterans affairs, said veterans should be certain their situation falls within regulations.

200 Vacancies Open In Ag Men's Dorms

Applications will be accepted in 205 Coffey hall until March 13 for over 200 vacancies spring quarter in the school of agriculture dormitories for men.

Probably only one of the dorms, Dexter hall, will be filled, J. O. Christianson, superintendent of the school of agriculture, said yesterday. If there are not enough people the other two dorms will be closed.

Dorm fees are $40 a quarter for a double room and $46 for a single if any are granted, Christianson added. The cost includes linens. Meals may be purchased at the Ag cafeteria.

Students living at the dorm with classes on both campuses will receive trolley passes.

Last Charm Grooming Clinic Will Be Friday

Senior Play Author Former Radio Man

A former CBS staff member from Hollywood was named as the author of the senior class play by Missy Van Fossen, Senior week chairman.

The play, which will be given May 22 through 24, was written by Phil Gelb, SLA senior, who was drama critic for the Daily in 1942.

During the time he was out of school from 1942-50, Gelb also served as radio director of the office of civilian defense in Chicago and as press and radio director for the National Society for Medical Research in New York.

Gelb calls his production "Romney and Juliet," although he says the only resemblance between his play and the one by William Shakespeare is the title.

In his production he says the feuding Montague and Capulet families become competing businesses—a metal-paper works and a tinfoil factory.

Gelb also wrote a musical comedy show at the University of Utah in 1948. It was later optioned for Broadway production.

Miss Van Fossen said that there were still openings for the show. "Actors, directors, crew workers and many others are still needed," she said.

People who are interested can file in 228 Union, Miss Van Fossen said.

Travelog on Egypt Heads Union Movies

A travelog and a comedy will be shown with three recent newsreels at 11 a.m. and noon today in the Union main ballroom.

"Just for Fun" is a collection of the best scenes from Mack Sennett comedies. The travelog is "Treasure of the Nile."

The admission price of 14 cents, which was raised from 10 cents this quarter, will be put on a permanent basis, along with the two showings instead of three. This was decided at the last Union board of governors meeting.

The Monday movies and Wednesday newsreel program are the only two Union activities which will continue through the week before finals.

GUIDED MISSILES—G-E engineers are aiding the Army's development program.

AIRCRAFT ARMAMENT—Gunners systems are among G-E developments for the Air Force.

JET ENGINES—In 1941, the Air Force asked General Electric to build the first U.S. jet engines. Today G-E jet engines power such fast planes as the F-86 Sabre.

College graduates at General Electric are working on some of the nation's most vital projects

The rocket that rises above White Sands, N. M., contains a device that reads 28 instruments every thirty-fifth of a second and transmits its reports to earth. It was developed by G-E engineers . . .

Special communications systems for civil defense are being undertaken by G-E electronics engineers . . .

The newest class of Navy heavy cruisers gain their power from 30,000-horsepower propulsion turbines built by General Electric . . .

During 1951 more than 30 per cent of G-E production will comprise projects like these . . . the design and construction of equipment to help fill America's military needs.

The General Electric engineers, physicists, and other specialists sharing in these projects work with the assurance that their contributions are meaningful and important. Their talents and skills, further developed through G-E training courses, are standing the nation in good stead.

"How eager can they get?"

For once in his life, our fervent friend admits that eagerness can be over-done! He's alluding, of course, to all these quick-trick cigarette tests—the ones that ask you to decide on cigarette mildness after just one puff, one sniff, one inhale or one exhale! When the chips are down, he realizes cigarette mildness can't be judged in a hurry. That's why he made . . .

The sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke— on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. Bums Lack Full Team; Lose in I-M Playoffs

Playing the first half with only three men, the heavily-favored Bums were knocked out of the all-U intramural basketball tourney last night by the Ramblers, Ag campus champs.

The Bums held the Ramblers to a 12 to 12 tie in the first half and employed a fast-break at times.

In the final period the Bums, using four men, actually built up a 24 to 21 lead, but Francis Januschka, Dick Stucky and Don Kvasnicka hit buckets against their rapidly-tiring opponents and Kvasnicka added a free throw to give the Ramblers a 28 to 24 victory.

Ralph Turtinen, Jim Malosky and George Hudak of the Bums played a superb game both offensively and defensively, but the odds were too great to overcome.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Lions scored at will against Phi Gamma Delta to take the professional fraternity title, 47 to 18.

Phenomenal shooting gave the Lions a 16 to 4 lead at the end of the first quarter. From then on they substituted freely and the outcome was never in doubt.

At the start of the third quarter the Lions scored 15 points in a row, mostly on fast breaks by Bob Wigley and Sam Orlich, who scored 12 and 11 points respectively.

Burly Lyle Nash was high point man for the losers with three baskets and a free throw.

John Wallfred and Bob Bartholomay sparked the Amigo Club to a 27 to 17 win over B & G to snare the second division title in the Independent league.

Smith Announces Switch In I-M Cage Playoffs

A change in the all-U intramural basketball tourney set-up was announced yesterday by W. R. Smith, I-M director.

The winner of the Amigo Club vs. B & G game will play Centennial House III instead of the Bums. The Bums will play off against the Ramblers, Ag campus champs.

Top Duo Sparks Spartan Glovers

By Jerry Jacobs

Two of the toughest and smallest college boxers in the country will lead San Jose State against the Gopher glovers Friday in Williams arena.

By name they are Mac Martinez and Al Tafoya and by reputation the two rate as the best in college circles. Martinez is the reigning NCAA bantamweight champ and has never been beaten in a dual meet.

Tafoya, the other half of the one-two punch, also is undefeated this year. The 130-pound Spartan lost out in the semifinals of last year's nationals to Tad Thrash of L.S.U. who went on to win the title.

But the Gophers' Dave Mackey who saw that bout and will tangle with Tafoya Friday knows what he's up against. "He's got a solid hump of muscle in his back," says Mackey, "and he just swarms in." Gopher ace Neil Ofstun will square off against Martinez in the 125-pound scrap. If anybody can beat the hard-hitting Mexican, Coach Ray Chisholm thinks Ofstun is the one to do it.

"I'll have to fight him from long range," says Neil and there is good reason for this strategy. In last year's NCAA tourney, Martinez got hit with everything except the ringpost in the first round of his bout with Bob Pastor and still went on to win the fight and the national title. It's almost impossible to hurt the Spartan and so Ofstun will attempt to outbox instead of outslug him.

Besides Tafoya and Martinez, the undefeated Spartans have four other boxers who have yet to lose this season.

They are welterweight Johnny Johnson, senior-welterweight Bill Mendosa, middleweight Nick Diez and heavyweight Jack Scheberies.

MIXING IT UP: The boxers worked out in the main ballroom of the Union yesterday with about 300 students looking on.

ATWATER, MINN. — (Special) — Three former Gophers combined for 93 points to lead the Gopher Stars to a 104 to 63 victory over Atwater's all-stars here last night.

Maynard Johnson was high point man with a total of 38 points from a forward position. Jim McIntyre dropped in 28 and Whitey Skoog had 27.

Skoog stole the show with his all-around floor play and expert passes. The Stars led at the half 53 to 32 and controlled the game throughout. Harold Olson, coach of the team, says that several other tentative games are lined up.

3 Pucksters Lead Gophers to Record

By Dwayne Netland

Three individual record-breakers helped Minnesota establish a new team goal scoring record this year as the Gophers wound up their regular schedule with 140 goals.

This topped the previous high of 138 set by the undefeated NCAA and AAU champions of 1940, which claimed Johnny Mariucci and Frank St. Vincent among its unofficial all-American personnel.

Individually, Cal Engelstad, Rube Bjorkman and Gordy Watters, each eclipsed the combined goal and assist total of 40 set by Rollie DePaul in 1948.

Engelstad finished with 53 points, Bjorkman 47 and Watters 46, despite the fact he was sidelined games with injuries. Watters' goal total of 27 tied Mariucci's 1940 mark, and Engelstad's 34 assists represents another new record for future stickers to shoot at.

Goalie Larry Ross may have set another unofficial record when he registered 88 stops during the two-game Colorado college series. Ross allowed an average of two goals per game over the last nine contests on the schedule.

The Gophers were back in practice regalia yesterday, snapping through one of their sharpest scrimmages of the season. Coach Doc Romnes liked the play of the all-freshman front line, Dick Daugherty, International Falls, Minn.; Gene Campbell, Minneapolis South, and Pete Sturwald, a transfer student from Michigan.

The decision on the controversial NCAA trip will be known sometime this afternoon, assistant athletic director and NCAA hockey chairman Lou Keller said.

Royals Cut Laker Lead With 90-79 Victory

The Minneapolis Lakers dropped their fourth game in a row last night as Arnie Risen led the Rochester Royals to a 90-79 win at Rochester. The Royals shaved another game off the Lakers' lead and now trail by only 2 1/2 games. Rochester has six games left to play and Minneapolis five.

The greatest "small" man over a three-year period the Big Ten has ever seen!

That's what even more people are calling Minnesota's Whitey Skoog after yesterday's all-conference selection for the third year in a row.

Whitey made the official coaches' second team as a sophomore and the first team the past two seasons.

Only players ever to receive such honors in the past have been such big, high-scoring centers as Jim McIntyre and Ohio State's Dick Schnittker.

Because of his 6-foot height, Whitey was a forward or guard all during his college days. Thus, his "little guy's" mark of 568 points in the Big Ten is even more amazing.

Only centers Don Rehfeldt of Wisconsin, McIntyre, Schnittker and Northwestern's Ray Ragelis ever scored more than the Skoog in Big Ten play and all measured 6-4 or higher.

In his three years the cotton-top hit 166, 201 and 201 points for fourth, sixth and eighth places in the scoring races. He and McIntyre are the only Big Ten cagers in history to score more than 150 points three years in succession.

Joining Skoog on the coaches' stary five were Ragelis, who set a new conference scoring mark with 277 points, Illinois' Don Sunderlage, Indiana's Bill Garrett and Wisconsin's Ab Nicholas.

On the second team were Frank Calsbeck and Chuck Darling of Iowa, Purdue's Carl McNulty, Illinois' Rod Fletcher and Indiana's Bill Tosheff.

Swimming Gets Spotlight With Conference Meet

Swimming takes the Minnesota sport spotlight this week as many of the nation's top swimmers converge on Cooke hall for the Big Ten conference meet tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

With competition tougher than ever, several new world records may be broken. Already Ohio State's Jackie Taylor, has surpassed the world record in the 100-yard backstroke.

Taylor, a versatile junior who excels in all events but diving and breaststroke will try to repeat his last year's victories in the 1500 meter, 50-yard backstroke and 440-yard free style. The triple-crown defender holds the NCAA record in the 1500 meter race.

Ohio State, perennial tank champion, has more than its share of standouts and is favored to defend its title. Besides Taylor, the Buckeyes boast Bill Sonner, NCAA 100-yard backstroke record holder and Joe Marino, national AAU outdoor diving champ.

Michigan State may take one or two records of its own back to East Lansing. Coach Charles McCaffree, Jr., has Clarke Scholes, Hal Shoup, 1948 Olympian swimmer George Hoogerhyde and a brilliant sophomore, Bert McLachlan.

Scholes has the best conference times this year in the 50 and 100-yard free style. McLachlan, after showing strength in early season performances, may take the 220 and 440-yard free style events.

Dave Anderson, Minnesota's stellar sophomore star, seems to be coach Niels Thorpe's brightest prospect for the big meet. He has been cutting his time in the 220 and 440-yard free styles with every meet. If he improves even more this week, he could challenge Taylor in the 440-yard and 1500 meter races.

Track Team Keeps Busy While Coach Kelly Is Away

Jim Kelly may not hear what his track boys have been doing 'til he gets back from Argentina Monday.

But things are happening while the white-haired mentor is in charge of the United States track delegation at the Pan American games in Buenos Aires.

Jim Hancock, Kelly's prize sophomore distance man, finished ninth in a strong field of two-milers Saturday in the Big Ten indoor meet. His time was 9:48, cutting ten seconds off his previous best.

Pole vaulter Tom Carroll picked up Minnesota's only three points with a third place leap of 13 feet, 8 inches, while Dick Gregory missed the 60-yard dash finals by a lash.

Especially good news for Kelly when he returns will be the fact that freshman Denny Hanson Saturday ran a 4:27 mile. Earlier the former state champ ran 1 1/2 miles in 7:04, the best ever for a freshman at Minnesota.

Meanwhile, squad members are working hard to see which men will make the trip to the Florida Relays during spring vacation. Bob Gelle, 1949 state high school shot put champ, will be out for track.

New Convocation System Proposed

By Bob Brunzell

This is the first of two articles on convocations.

★STUDENTS CAN HAVE a change in the University convocations program if they want it.

In fact, James S. Lombard, director of concerts and lectures, already has drawn up an alternate plan for next year that would cut the number of convocations to seven all year. The new plan along with the regular program of weekly convos, will be submitted to the three-man convocations committee.

The committee members—Lombard, Academic Vice President Malcolm M. Willey, and William Nunn, director of University relations—will decide which plan to use next year.

The new plan includes only speakers and performers in the "celebrity" class according to the fees they charge. Celebrity fees are about 150 per cent greater than fees paid to speakers under the weekly plan, Lombard says.

If the convocations committee accepts the new plan, next year's program might include John Mason Brown, Helen Hayes, Bennett Cerf, Will Durant and other nationally known figures.

Lombard says he has no preference. He's willing to accept either plan.

"Within the limits of the money allotted to me by the president's office," he says, "I am agreeable to any change of convocations as to character, day of week or time of day provided they fall within the limits of University policy."

A Daily survey showed that about half the students who don't attend convocations have classes at 11 a.m. Thursdays. But Lombard says a later hour for convos might reduce attendance instead of boosting it. Many students who commute leave the campus at noon.

This year $3,025 was committed to finance convocations. What next year's figure will be is not yet known. But with a declining enrolment and a need to economize the budget probably will drop.

Whatever plan is accepted, the committee will make the decision and complete its arrangements by June, Lombard says.

Rambling Along

From the Rambler, St. Benedict's college, Kansas:

"It seems rather sardonic that one of the freedoms we are fighting for, we ourselves are abusing to such an extent that those whom we are fighting are gaining comfort by this abuse."

Try it again, and take it slow.

A Reporter's Reporting

Backstage With the Madwoman of Chaillot

By J. L. Cash

★HAVING RECENTLY reported on the weekly comedy at the Union Board of Governors meeting, we decided to cover a real comedy so last Friday evening we went over to Scott hall, to see the opening performance of "The Madwoman of Chaillot," from backstage, and found things considerably different than we had expected.

We arrived a half-hour before the curtain was scheduled to go up and we expected to find things backstage a clutter of nervous actors and a confusion of stage-hands and property people. Instead, we found the place nearly as deserted as a Colorado mining town and the few actors who were lounging around didn't seem nervous.

We wandered out onto the stage to inspect the Parisian sidewalk cafe that constitutes the setting for the first half of the play and fell into conversation with Mr. Paul Ebert who was dressed up as a waiter.

Mr. Ebert informed us that the white wrought iron furniture on stage came from the Union terrace, the red wine set out on the tables was really strawberry pop and beer that the police sergeant drinks in the play was "near beer," imported from Wisconsin.

Just then Miss Connie Oppen came in dressed as a flower girl.

"I can't remember when I come across," Miss Oppen said, "All I have to do is walk across the stage and I can't remember when I'm supposed to do it."

"Haven't you got a script?" we asked.

"No," she replied.

"Maybe you can borrow one," we suggested. "Nobody has one," she said hopelessly. Furthermore, they changed everything around, so it wouldn't do any good."

"Why don't you," Mr. Ebert broke in. "sit down for awhile and maybe you'll remember."

Summer Tourists

Groups Plan June Travel

This is the second of two articles dealing with summer travel opportunities for students.

By George Temp

★FROM ALL indications, Paris and the Swiss Alps will have their largest tourist season since the end of the war.

One of the biggest groups traveling this summer will be students in organized and unorganized study projects. These projects offering a wealth of opportunities and methods of travel are described below:

SPAN, Student Project for Amity Among Nations, is sponsoring trips to England, France, Germany, Israel and Peru. The selection of students for these trips has already been made this year. The 1952 group will be selected this spring and next fall. SPAN is a scholarship supported and University approved project.

The next group is what may be called deluxe student projects because of their higher costs. DIS, Danish International Student Committee; STS, Scandinavian Traveling Seminar; AYA, American Youth Abroad; and Experiment in International Living are four groups offering a study-travel project that ranges from $850 to $1,200.

Mainly concerned with the student-tourist rather than the student-traveler they have a core of study projects but concentrate on presenting the standard tourists attractions.

For the student-traveler who wishes to travel in an organized and directed group of low cost there are three main opportunities: AYH, American

It was drawing nearer curtain time and Mr. Robert Moulton stuck his head in the door and said, "Good luck, everybody, and do us proud, do us proud," and disappeared.

Then Frank M. Whiting, the director called everybody onstage to practice curtain calls. Apparently they hadn't been practiced before and Mr. Whiting arranged the capitalists and prostitutes who are the villains of "The Madwoman of Chaillot" on one side of the stage and the secondary madwomen on the other with the Madwoman of Chaillot in the center.

Everybody broke up then to await the rise of the curtain.

A telegram arrived for one of the actors, Mr. Al Powers, who, beaming at it, said, "My parents have heard about this."

At 8:31 the inner-house phone rang. It was a call from the box-office telling the stage manager to start the music at 8:35.

Everyone synchronized their watches and Mr. Whiting said he was going out front and said he wanted everyone to speak their lines loud enough because "my hearing is bad—I feel very bad if I don't hear everything."

Whiting left and we watched the clock. As the minute hand went past 8:35 the levers on the control board were pulled, the music started, the house lights dimmed down and the curtain went up. A messenger rides across the stage on a bicycle and the play is on.

During the play we wandered about backstage and watched the play for awhile. After intermission we went to the greenroom where we spent the rest of the time.

Mr. Ebert came in and announced that he had two speeches in the second act and he neglected to give one of them so he was batting 500 tonight.

Miss Kay Falvey came by dressed in a long black dress with black shoes and a big brimmed black hat and a long cigarette.

"Are you a prostitute?" we asked her.

"And where is your spirit of adventure, young man?"

'7 Convo' Idea Is a Good One

THE ALTERNATE convocation plan worked out by James Lombard, director of concerts and lectures, sounds like a good one.

It would be far better to have only seven speakers and entertainers in the "celebrity" class than to have little known men here every week.

First, interest in the "celebrities" would be much higher. Northrop would be packed for each of the seven convocation programs.

Second, the "celebrities" would probably have more to offer. The speakers would be more qualified to speak as authorities, and the entertainers would have talents which put them on top in the entertainment world.

It won't be a difficult task to drum up interest for convocation programs which are offered, let's say, once a month, and which feature well-known people.

That way convocations would become a big thing rather than just another run-of-the-mill campus event.

'Red Shoes' Worth Seeing

★"THE RED SHOES," a noteworthy production on the lives and loves of a ballet company is with us again today for the benefit of the few who may not have caught it when first released—and for those who are ballet mad and by now have only seen it four or five times.

Presented by the University film society at 2:45, 5:20 and 8 p.m. in Northrop auditorium as its last offering of the quarter, the movie is a masterful combination of music, the dance, spectacular technicolor and young love.

To some, the picture may seem over-long and slow in spots. Others will praise it for its photography and staging, especially in the ballet sequence, and insist the portions that drag are necessary to keep the continuity.

Based on the Hans Christian Anderson fairy story of the slippers which refuse to stop dancing, the red shoes ballet presents, if not the greatest choreography, one of the finest musical scores done for ballet.

Briefly, the so-called plot deals with a young prima ballerina and her love affair with a composer. The two meet and become enamored during the rehearsal period of the red shoes. When the company impresario objects, the two quit the troupe and marry.

Through artful persuasion the director wins her back to the group and when her husband demands that she return to him, she cannot make a decision.

The tragic ending is beautifully handled and keeps the story from becoming one of the run-of-the-mill hearts and flowers situations.

The actors, Moira Shearer, Anton Walbrook, Marius Goring and Leonide Massine, in most cases do themselves proud during the two and one-half hours. In short, perhaps it's worth seeing more than once or twice.
