Duluth -- A German expert in cultural philosophy will speak on the UMD campus Tuesday, Oct. 4.

Dr. Winfried Herget, scientific assistant to the Chair of American Studies at the University of Saarland, Saarbrucken, Germany, will speak on "Trends in Modern German Philosophical Thought" at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in Room 403, Humanities building.

His campus appearance is co-sponsored by the UMD philosophy and language departments. The talk is open to the public at no charge.

Dr. Herget is on a tour of American campuses under the sponsorship of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. He will return to Germany in late October.
