Emerson loved the good more than he abhorred evil. Carlyle abhorred evil more than he loved the good. If you should by chance find anything in this book which you do not especially like, it is not at all wise to focus your memory on that, to the exclusion of all else.

The Regents Visit

THE board of regents of the University of Minnesota, together with Pres. L. D. Coffman and Dean W. C. Coffey and heads of important University departments, visited the Northwest School on December 7. Among the regents present were Fred B. Snyder, president of the board; John G. Williams, Duluth; A. D. Wilson, Guthrie, J. E. Sundberg, Kennedy; Dr. Wm. J. Mayo, Rochester; Samuel Lewison, Canby; the Ex-officio members of the board, L. D. Coffman, President of the University; and J. M. McConnell, commissioner of education. Other members of the party were William T. Middlebrook, comptroller of the University; T. E. Stewart, in charge of publicity; Dean W. C. Coffey; Professor Andrew Boss, Chief of Agronomy and Farm Management; and H. A. Hildebrandt, Superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The purpose of the visit was to see the school while the students were present and to inspect the various needs concerning equipment, repairs, and buildings. During the visit at Crookston the board spent part of the forenoon in a tour of inspection and later attended assembly, at which time the members were introduced by Dean Coffey. Addresses were given by President Fred B. Snyder and President L. D. Coffman. Both addresses were of an inspirational nature but space does not permit quoting the speakers in detail.

At noon the members of the group were guests of the Crookston Association of Public Affairs. After a business session a reception for the regents was given by the faculty, and in the evening the visitors had dinner with the faculty and students at the dining hall. The regents left that evening for Morris. We were pleased to have this official visit by the regents, and the opportunity afforded the students to meet this group personally will be an inspiration for many years to come.

The Red River Aggie

Oh, the Seniors they come from the East and the West,
To their fair Alma Mater Minnesota has sent her best,
They stayed not for poor crops, they stopped not for rain
But with minds set on culture to these halls they came.

Full many have come from tree land and plain,
And many in cities their home they can claim;
But, although they may differ in places of birth,
You may search far and wide; there's none better on earth.

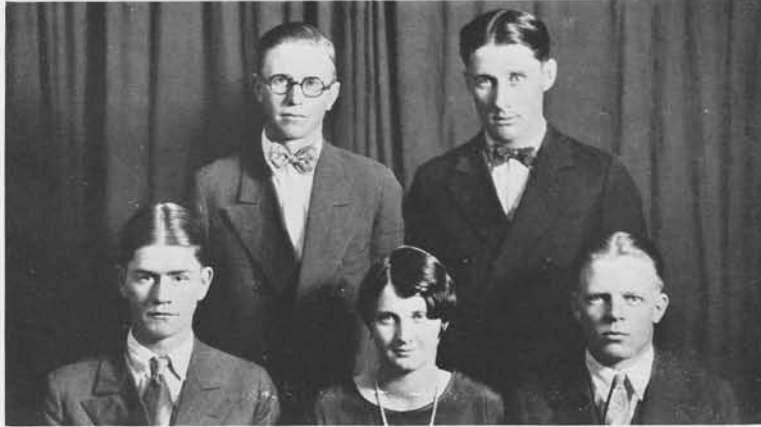

Here's a greeting to you that is hearty and glad;
Although you'll soon leave us, we'll feel lonesome and sad.
To have known you has been a great pleasure indeed
We wish you success in the lives you may lead.

Sincerely yours,

MR. and MRS. A. M. PILKEY,

Class Advisers.

Counting the Seniors

The Senior class of '28
They number fifty-nine
And if you wish to know them all,
We have them here in rhyme.

We've Teddy Carlson, number one,
The head man of the class.
Erma Ross comes second,
And third is Clara Ness.

Fourth is Elmer Wardeberg,
Our famous football man.
Fifth is Ethel Harris,
Who does the best she can.

Six is Chester Torgeson,
And seven, Irvin Flynn.
These boys room together
But they are seldom in.

Next is our Senior captain,
It's Stordahl, number eight.
And nine is Telmer Olson,
Who comes from Elbow Lake.

Irwin Nelson, number ten,
Eleven's Carrie Buck,
And twelve is Wilfred Bakken,
In English never stuck.

Thirteen is August Thorkelson,
Fourteen is Gordon Hunt,
And fifteen is Harold Roadfeldt,
Who can do the acting stunt.

Vickie and then Paul you know
Will make it seventeen,
A happier and a nicer two
You have never, never seen.

We have a pair of Burks in roll,
A couple of Larsons — GEE!
Then with Berggren and Peaches in
It makes us twenty-three.

Twenty-four is Palma Hornseth,
And next is Esther Blair.
Twenty-six is Newhouse
With his shines and well-combed hair.

Bernath makes us twenty-seven,
Lawrence Philipps, twenty-eight;
Twenty-nine is Rudie Johnstad,
Who seldom has a date.

Julia Miller, number thirty,
And then its Harry Confer.
He'll lick most any kind in school
And when he hits you're done fer.

Isabelle Dobias, thirty-two;
Art Sandal, thirty-three;
Thirty-four is Lillian Bakken;
Thirty-five is Mr. Lee.

Next is Anna Osmundson;
Then it's Laura Buck,
Thirty-eight is Elon Bryngelson,
Who in football had hard luck.

And next we have a student.
It's Eddie, thirty-nine.
He's very good in basketball,
And hungry all the time.

Forty's Gladyce Gunderson,
And then it's Miss Parduhn.
Forty-two is Mr. Seaberg
Who always sleeps till noon.

Forty-three is Edythe Martinson,
A very popular lass.
And then it's Mr. Hogenson,
A shark in Physics class.

Forty-five is Esther Viker
With her every-ready smile,
And then comes Mr. Lindquist
Who is busy all the while.

Forty-seven is Harold Norseth
With his light and curly hair;
Forty-eight is Arnold Hendricks
Who never has a care.

Forty-nine is Edward Logelin —
We mostly call him Ed.
But next is Esther Engbretson
With her hair so bright and red.

Fifty-one is Manford Halvorson
Whom we seldom ever meet.
And, Oh, yes, there's Mr. Roisum,
For an actor can't be beat.

Fifty-three is Helen Hovland,
With two dainty little feet,
With eyes as clear as summer skies
And a smile that can't be beat.

Elida makes it fifty-four,
And next it's Sally and Ruth;
Fifty-seven's Esther Lundin,
She'll prosper in whate'er she doeth.

Fifty-eight is Harriet Skjerva,
And last we have in line
Irene Schell from Pencer.
That ends it — fifty-nine.

The Red River Aggie

Senior Alphabet

- A is for Andy who drives the big bus,
And makes extra trips without any fuss.
- B is for Bakken, both Wilfred and Lil,
Both are so popular and sure fill the bill.
- C is for Carlson who is everyone's pard,
And also for Confer who sure can act hard.
- D is for Dobias so anxious to learn
In spite of the fact that he lost a sideburn.
- E is for Engbretson who makes lots of noise
And for Erickson, too, who vamps the new boys.
- F is for our Irishman whose name is Flynn.
A darn good scout for the shape he's in.
- G is for Gunderson, so smiling and bright.
Once upon a time she came in late at night.
- H is for Hovland, our popular lass,
And Hogenson, who is so bright in class.
- I is for Irma, so studious and quiet,
Senior and Advanced, she was willing to try it.

He makes his bed when he retires at night.
- L is for Lindquist, about six feet four.
When the Aggie is published he'll be no more.
- M is for Martinson, a romantic lass,
And also for Miller who hands out the hash.

But has a hard time to attend to his biz.

A friendlier chap you never have seen.

If girls try to get round him he'll fool them a trip.

They stare right at us wherever we go.
- R is for Roisum who sure knows his stuff,
And also for Roadfeldt — in the play he looked tuff.

They say he and Letness now never speak.
- T is for Trandem, or happy-go-lucky,
And Thorkelson, all ambitious and plucky.
- U is for U. of M., our dear old school,
Which is helping us to reach our goal.
- V is for Viker, with a sweet loving heart;
Poor little cupid knows not where to start.
- W is for Wardeberg who'll be our "cap",
Star athlete and student is this chap.
- X is the thing we know nothing about
In Algebra class we can't figure it out.
- Y is for you who is reading this bunk.
- Z is for Zero which means a sure flunk.

Boys' Athletics

COACH LAVOI

ATHLETICS for every boy is the program followed at the Northwest School. The Major sports included in this program are football and basketball, while those of minor nature are boxing, wrestling, track, and gymnasium. Inter-school games in football during the fall and in basketball during the winter are played with other schools. Boys not on the first team play on class teams, where everyone has a chance to learn the game as well as to taste regular competition. Gymnasium is offered as one of the courses in the curriculum of the school. Classes are taught each day at which time instruction is given in Physical Health and Personal Hygiene. Members of the classes take part in calisthenics, boxing, wrestling and light and heavy apparatus work such as performed on or with Indian clubs, flying rings, horizontal bar, punching bag, etc.

Each year a growing interest is being shown in our athletic program. Many are coming out for the teams and much more interest is being shown by the student body. The past year witnessed the largest attendance at our games, although one of our chief handicaps at the present is the lack of gymnasium facilities to take care of these increasing crowds. Our athletic policy is clean sports and fair play. We work to win our games but to win fairly and in a sportsmanship way. After all, this is what "playing the game" really means. The type of athletes found at the Northwest School are those who believe in scholarship first and then the other things that go to make good players. Many have had little experience but they learn quickly. Their moral codes are above reproach and training rules need seldom be mentioned. In all, their spirit is true. They are good winners but by far better losers. With these qualities emphasized we believe that the boys in our school are receiving the true benefits from athletics, a training that develops them mentally as well as physically and one which builds character.

Girls' Athletics

GIRLS as well as boys need recreation and regular exercise to keep in good physical condition for the day's varied activities. Physical education for girls at the Northwest School consists of marching, calisthenics, apparatus work, folk dancing, and games. All of these help the student to respond quickly and accurately to signals and situations not only in the gymnasium but in other activities as well.

Development of correct postural habits in standing, sitting, walking, and running, and other health habits are stressed in the giving of these exercises.

The playing of games develops obedience, co-operation, courtesy, leadership, and good sportsmanship. The ability to be generous winners and good losers will mean a great deal in the student's life after she leaves school.

Basketball is played for recreation, mainly. Up to this time, the girls have played inter-class games only, and competition for school championship has been strong. These games and the inter-class competition in the field meet at the end of the school year help develop class spirit which is necessary in any school.

Bemidji - Aggie Game

CROOKSTON Aggies lost to the Bemidji Teachers College at the Northwest School, October 29, by a score of six to nothing. The score for the teachers came in the last few minutes of play on a "shoe string" play with Keeler passing to Stant for a gain of 28 yards. Four times during the game the Aggies were within scoring distance. Two of these times the ball was on the one yard line. The first half ended with the Aggies on Bemidji's one yard line with four yards left to go. In comparing first downs the Aggies made 18 and visitors 6. Widseth, Confer, Stenborg, and Roisum made the gains in the back field while the entire line did good work in stopping Bemidji's back field.

The line up for the game was: Hole, Engman, Berggren, Wardeberg, Johnson, Ostlie, Mylerberg, Confer, Roisum, Stenborg, and Widseth.

Thief River High Defeat Aggies

THE final football game of the season was played at Thief River Falls when the Aggies were defeated 16-0. The Aggies played a hard game but were unable to stop the hard hitting back field men in their runs around ends and off tackle. Two well executed passes, one from Stenborg to Mylerberg for a gain of 30 yards and another from Stenborg to Confer for a gain of 10 yards together with a line plunge by Widseth, placed the ball on Thief River's $1\frac{1}{2}$ yard line. Here the Aggies were unable to break through and lost the ball on downs as the whistle blew for the half. The line up was as follows: Hole, Lindquist, Berggren, Wardeberg, Johnson, Ostlie, Mylerberg, Confer, Roisum, Stenborg, and Widseth.

East Grand Forks Defeats Aggies

OUTPLAYED in all but one period of the game the Northwest School football team went down to defeat before the East Grand Forks High School by a score of 26-0. Coach LaVoi sent in a number of substitutes in an endeavor to bolster up his team and with an exception of Bryngelson who went in for his first regular game, no one could stop the constant gains of the visitors. For the Aggies, Stenborg and Widseth made the best showing while Confer did effective work in reserving passes and in end runs. Football Team Wins Over Morris

TO THE 1927 football team goes the honor of being the first Northwest School team to defeat Morris on its home field. Neither team found passing successful and in the drives thru the lines and ends Crookston made 17 first drives and Morris 2. The first touchdown for Crookston came after a fumble. In the second Crookston held again and tacked for considerable loss and the half ended with the ball in Morris' possession on their 35-yard line. The next score came towards the close of the third quarter when a plunge was made by Widseth, making the score 20-0.

The Northwest school players in the line-up were: Hole, Engman, Berggren, Wardeberg, Johnson, Ostlie, Mylerberg, Confer, Roisum, Stenborg, and Widseth.

Aggies Win Over Model High

THE Northwest School annexed another football victory when they defeated Model High of Grand Forks 18-0 at the Northwest School. Interference worked well for the Aggies and while they were a little slow in working their signals there were times when their plays made good gains. Model High showed plenty of fight in their come-back after the Aggies had made two touchdowns in the first quarter. The center, Schraeder, did some of the best punting ever seen on the Aggie field and averaged 45 yards for his punts.

The line-up for the game was: Suchomel, Engman, Berggren, Wardeberg, Heathman, Ostlie, Mylerberg, Confer, Roisum, Stenborg and Widseth.

Aggies Won Over Red Lake Falls

RED LAKE FALLS lost to the Aggies in a game Saturday forenoon with a final score of 18-0. The first quarter was scoreless. Red Lake Falls, however, made a number of successful passes. The remainder of the game was in the Aggies' favor. During one period of the game the ball was in Red Lake Falls' possession on the Aggies' 20-yard line. Two touchdowns were made by the Aggies in the third quarter. The Aggies made most of their gains through line plunges and end runs. The final quarter was scoreless with neither side being able to make any material progress.

The line-up was: Suchomel, Engman, Lindquist, Wardeberg, A. Widseth, Berggren, Ostlie, Stenborg, Odlund, Anderson and C. Widseth.

Debate

DEBATE seems to have stirred up more interest this year than usual, except in the literary societies. Attendance there has been small, and debate has lagged. In the regular classes more than usual snap has been shown. The classes are organized as debate clubs. A member of the class presides and learns the accepted method of conducting debate. The teams, three on a side are appointed at the beginning of the term and come into action in a regular order.

The debaters do not hesitate to tackle real questions as shown by the following which have been used during the year: The World War Debt Question; Installment Buying; Nicaragua; and Capital Punishment. The installment buying question has seemed to be the most popular, most of the debaters coming to the conclusion that installment buying is a good thing.

The inter-school debate will be held March 9, too late for the results to be published in the Aggie. Enough ambitious debaters turned out to make a double squad. Four of them have had experience in inter-school debating before. The question is: Resolved, That the United States should construct an All American Great Lakes Waterway, or other than cooperate with Canada in the St. Lawrence Great Lakes project. This is the same question used by the Minnesota High School Debate League. Material for reading and study, especially for the affirmative has been rather scarce, but thru the kindness of Congressman Selvig we have had enough.

In one of the debate sections the question was, Resolved, that capital punishment should be abolished. One of the speakers on the negative gave two quotations from the Bible, one from Genesis and one from Numbers prescribing the punishment of death for murder, and naming Moses as the author. The Affirmative immediately countered by quoting the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill" and claiming the point on the ground of highest authority, since the commandment was written by God. The judges, however, who were members of the class, concluded that Moses knew more than Jehovah about murder, and gave the decision to the negative.

Dramatics

THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH

MAINTAINING the usual high standard in dramatics at the Northwest School, the senior class this year presented "The Goose Hangs High" by Lewis Beach. Besides introducing bits of clever comedy, this play teaches a valuable lesson to children who fail to appreciate the sacrifices of their parents, and also shows that the modern young people are by no means so flippant and calloused as many older people believe them to be.

Northwest Eagle Fraternity

THE Northwest Eagle Fraternity, an organization of Boy Scouts at the Northwest School, was formed for the purpose of promoting and stimulating character, leadership, and citizenship. The school scouting program is a unique and interesting program of work and fun combined which tends to build the scout up physically, mentally, morally, and socially. The scouts of our school keep ever in mind the principles of the scout motto, the oath, and the law which are the finest traditions of our civilization. The success of the Northwest Eagle Fraternity is largely due to the able leadership and guidance of scoutmaster D. H. LaVoi. This organization is the finest of its kind in the history of school activities and it will be a permanent part of the school functions hereafter.

The School Orchestra

THE Northwest School Orchestra is one of the most important campus organizations. It has for its purpose the training and development of those students who are talented and who are interested in musical instruments. Regular rehearsals are held every week during which the members get considerable practice in playing, sight reading, and ensemble work. Part of each rehearsal is taken for practice conducting work by the Orchestra members.

This organization appears on several program throughout the year including the Winter Shows and Commencement.

Literary Societies

LITERARY society work has ever been one of the leading outside activities in the student life at the Northwest School. The Agricultural Literary Society was the only medium through which students could get training in public speaking until public speaking was made a part of the school course in the year 1912-13. School credit was given for participation in literary society work during the early years of the school.

The Agricultural Literary Society was a mixed organization until the year 1912-13, at which time the girls withdrew and formed their Home Economics Club. The Society divided again in 1914-15 into two groups, the old organization taking the name Pioneer and the new Society the name Lincoln. The Agrarian society was organized in 1919.

The Home Economics Club divided in 1920, and the new group took the name Sanford in honor of Maria Sanford.

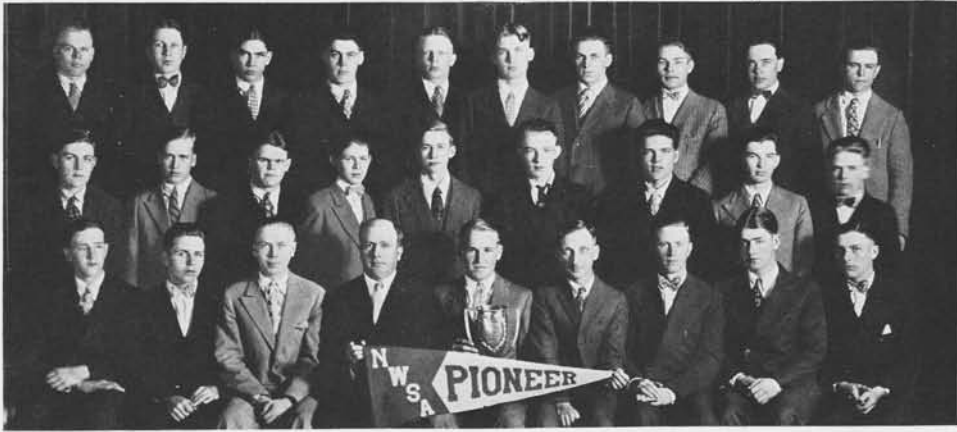

Literary society work has been popular with the students all through the years. The programs consist of discussions of every day problems and current events, readings, music and debates.

Former Superintendent C. G. Selvig presented a silver loving cup to the Northwest School in 1916 to stimulate inter-society debating. The Pioneer Society won permanent possession of the cup in 1922, by winning it three times in succession.

The inter-society declamatory contest was held first in 1923, with an oratorical section for boys and a dramatic section for girls, during the five years of declamatory contests, the major honors have been won by the Pioneer and Home Economics Clubs.

Caleb-Dorr Scholarships

EIGHT boys and girls from counties in the Red River Valley, who have made good records in 4-H club work, were awarded Caleb-Dorr scholarships last fall. Each scholarship consists of seventy-five dollars which is to help defray the expense for one year at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston.

The purpose of the scholarship is to assist worthy boys and girls in acquiring an education in agriculture and home economics.

Alice Erickson of Pencer, Roseau county, has been in 4-H club work three years. During this time she has assumed the leadership of the club. She has taken part in the bread, cake, and sewing projects.

The scholarship in W. Ottertail county was awarded to Archie Overgaard of Dalton for consistent good work, two years with a baby beef and two more with pigs. With the scholarship and money made from his club pigs, Archie is putting himself through the first year of school at Crookston.

Four years ago, corn club work was started at Barnesville in Clay county. Loren Braton was among the first to join the club. His Minnesota 13 corn has taken the sweep-stake prize at the Winter Shows and first at the State Fair. In 1927 he selected sixty bushels of seed corn.

Freeman Allen of Thief River Falls has been in club work only one year but hopes to continue for several more years. His grade calf placed first at the county fair. He plans to buy a purebred this year.

Three State Fair trips and one National Dairy Show trip to Milwaukee is Orville Anderson's record in three years of club work. His dairy calf was the county champion one year. In judging, Orville was selected the first alternate on the state judging team.

Clarence Eidenschenck of Detroit Lakes won high honors with his fat barrow in his first year of club work. He is adding the sheep project for this year.

Harold Bendix of Henning has been a dairy calf club member three years. He was also a member of a demonstration team.

Arthur Widseth of Gonvick says that his six years in dairy calf club work have been happy and profitable years. His achievements in Clearwater county have been numerous, three firsts, two seconds, and one third.

WHEN OUR MOTHERS AND

Parents' Day

Parents' day held its sway,
As in the days of yore.
With modest pride, they all arrived
As they never did before.

The day was cold, and yet, behold!
The football game was played.
We lost the game, but just the same,
The team was not dismayed.

And in the night, with lights not bright,
The Hallowe'en party came.
We'll have to admit, it made a hit
And put all others to shame.

The stairs were dark and gloomy,
We all just shook with fright
The time we did the ghost walk,
On that chill November night.

The evening's program was games and fun,
Peaches and Flynn had a row.
Lambert and Ted told what school life would be "Twenty-five years from now."

The party was entirely successful,
We admit we all had a good time.
But we never know what a job it would be
To make this blamed thing rhyme.

FATHERS PAID US A VISIT

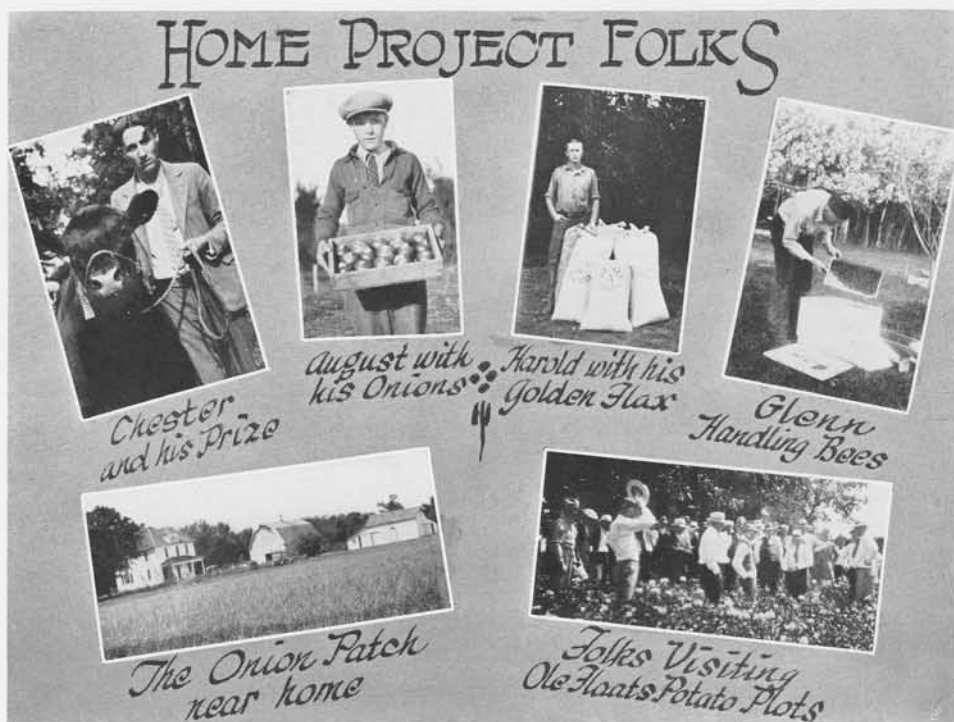

Home Project Exhibit

THE Seventh Annual Home Project Exhibit was held November 5, in connection with Parents' Day. With 57 exhibits of girls' work and 46 entries in the farm crops classes, the exhibit was a splendid presentation of the quality of home project work completed during the summer. Honors in home project work, based upon exhibit at the show, records, and story submitted, and reports of the supervisors, were announced at the annual get-together dinner on December 21. The awards were as follows:

Silver Trophy for Boys' Project — Lawrence Elton, Hawley.
Scholarship for Boys' Project — August Thorkelson, Gatzke.
Honorable Mention, Dairy Management — Lauritz Mikkelson, Hawley.
Honorable Mention, Pork Production — Henning Erickson, Twin Valley.
Honorable Mention, Farm Crops — Carl Hogenson, Winger.
Honorable Mention, Agricultural Engineering, — Lawrence Omundson, Thief River Falls.

Silver Trophy for Girls' Project — Alma Krogstad, Fertile.
Scholarship for Girls' Project — Elida Erickson, Clearbrook.

Honorable Mention, Sewing Project — Ethel Harris, Crookston.

Home Project

SUMMER home project work, under the supervision of the school faculty, has been an important feature of the Minnesota schools of agriculture since they first were established. Each student plans the summer project with the assistance of the instructor before the end of the school semester and receives instruction regarding various topics involved. The home project supervisors visit each student from time to time during the summer months to give suggestions and note results. This forms a contact between the school and the farm and home which mutually beneficial. The student receives instruction which enables him to become established in some special branch of agriculture, such as breeding livestock, pure seed production, growing certified seed potatoes, etc., while he still is in close contact with school and experiment station.

A few of the projects chosen by boys during the summer of 1927 were dairy herd management, baby beef and swine production, poultry management pure seed production, corn and potato growing, farm accounts, tractor and truck operation, and building construction. Home Economics projects included canning, preserving, baking, sewing, and fancy work. Nine students organized boys' and girls' club work in their communities and acted as local leaders thruout the summer.

An exhibit of home economics and farm crops project work was held in connection with Parents' Day, November 5. D. H. LaVoi and E. R. Clark supervised boys' projects and Miss Retta Bede directed the home work in home economics.

THE SELVIG FAREWELL BANQUET

An impressive event of the school year occurred March 20, 1927, when the unveiling exercises of the 1926 class memorial were held in the Dining Hall. An oil portrait of Mr. C. G. Selvig, retiring superintendent, was presented to the school in behalf of the class of '26 by Mr. R. S. Dunham, adviser. The Misses Naomi Forder and Doris Olson drew curtains that revealed the likeness of the superintendent who had so faithfully served the Northwest School for sixteen years.

THANKSGIVING DAY

In memory of the first Thanksgiving Day, the students of this school gathered at the Dining Hall to give thanks. A prize was awarded for the best decorated table, and after a turkey dinner, we enjoyed a program given at the auditorium. In the evening the students and guests were entertained either at the dance or at the party.

THE GET-TOGETHER DINNER

Community singing, class toasts given by Carl Widseth, '27, Elida Erickson '28, Lloyd Weaver '29, and Johanna Caudle '30, with Mr. Rutt representing the faculty, giving of awards and presentation of a sweater, donated by Ruettel Clothing Co., to Carl Widseth who was selected as the outstanding student in the 1927 football squad, provided the entertainment at the annual Christmas dinner. Santa paused to leave a few gifts for his good children. Confer's cough medicine and Sharp's alarm clock were a few odd remembrances.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held Monday evening, March the fifth. The dining hall and the tables were decorated in lavender and yellow, the Junior colors. "Campus Gardens" was the toast theme.

Following the dinner, the Juniors entertained their guests at a party in the gymnasium. The place was beautified with Junior and Senior class colors, and fun was given full reign for a couple of hours.

The Red River Aggie

ARMISTICE DAY

November 11 was observed at this school by giving a program in memory of the day. Mr. Loring of Crookston delivered an address, and several musical numbers were given by Miss Polski, Miss Brown, and the mixed chorus. After the program the faculty and students, headed by the Crookston American Legion Drum Corps, marched to the memorial. A floral tribute to our dead was placed on the monument by our Senior class president, Theodore Carlson. The program of the day was ended by the sounding of bugles and shooting of guns.

OUTDOOR FESTIVAL

"What's it all about?" queried the Freshmen as on October 15 the faculty and students donned their knockabout clothes. However, the ignorant were soon informed. Lonesomeness and homesickness were forgotten during the lively time which followed the outdoor supper. The various class contests were the cause of much excitement and interest as the students spurred the contestants on toward their goals. The Larson-Rutt pillow fight, the broom duel by the Widseth brothers and the girls' race won by Miss Simley were a few exciting events of the evening. The snake dance and the burning of the Morris goat brought the festival to a fitting close.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

October 8, 1927, our student body and faculty held their first social gathering. This party, which was held in the gymnasium, was sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. The students and faculty, after having been introduced to one and all, were entertained with games and stunts. At the close of the program refreshments were served. This party was given for the purpose of giving the students and faculty a chance to become better acquainted with each other. After the evening's performance, every new student felt himself or herself a part of the N. W. S. A.

GIRLS' FROLIC AND BOYS' POW WOW

October 5 marked the first social event of the school year. The girls held their Frolic in Robertson hall parlor, while the boys held their Pow Wow at Senior Hall parlor. These gatherings were held for the purpose of getting the upper classmen acquainted with the freshmen and new students. Jokes, speeches, and music featured both parties and also a wild scramble for apples. The freshmen were initiated, and the girls were given the privilege of joining the Ku Klux Klan club. The boys concluded their party by serenading the girls at Robertson. All adjourned feeling very well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

The Red River Aggie

DEAR OLD PAL,

I am sorry that you could not get away to attend the homecoming celebration at school. We had a wonderful time every minute we were there. We arrived just in time for the pep fest Friday evening, and really, it did not seem that we had been gone for a whole year. We joined in the yelling and even sang the new "Valley Aggie" as lustily as the present students. The joke was on me, tho. I asked Miss Simley who the good-looking cheer leader was, and she said it was Mr. Rutt who took Mr. Milligan's place. Of course, I knew most of the fellows on the team. Ole is just as bashful as ever — when it comes to speech making.

Since classes were in session Saturday morning, we had to visit as many as we could. Carl Widseth made such a brilliant speech in English class that Lorin Parkin went to sleep. You should have seen the line-up in that back row. Vic, Naomi, Harry, Kenneth, Gandrud, Phinny, Adeline, Ruby — and I don't know how many more. We all looked for Edna Peterson to come, but I guess Grand Forks could not spare her. Someone said the Balk, Miller, and Aakre were driving up from Minneapolis, and so we had high hopes of seeing them, but in that we were disappointed.

Just before the game, who should appear in the usual high hat but Einar Loven. He soon had a German band organized with Skat as chief drummer, and we had quite a parade around the campus. You know, all that is necessary for a full entertainment is Einar and a funny hat. It was a treat to hear Skat sing again, too. He certainly got a heavy round of applause at the banquet when he sang "Kjore Vaten" and that evening at the dance, when the old Foxy Five came out on the floor, we just simply lost interest in the polkas.

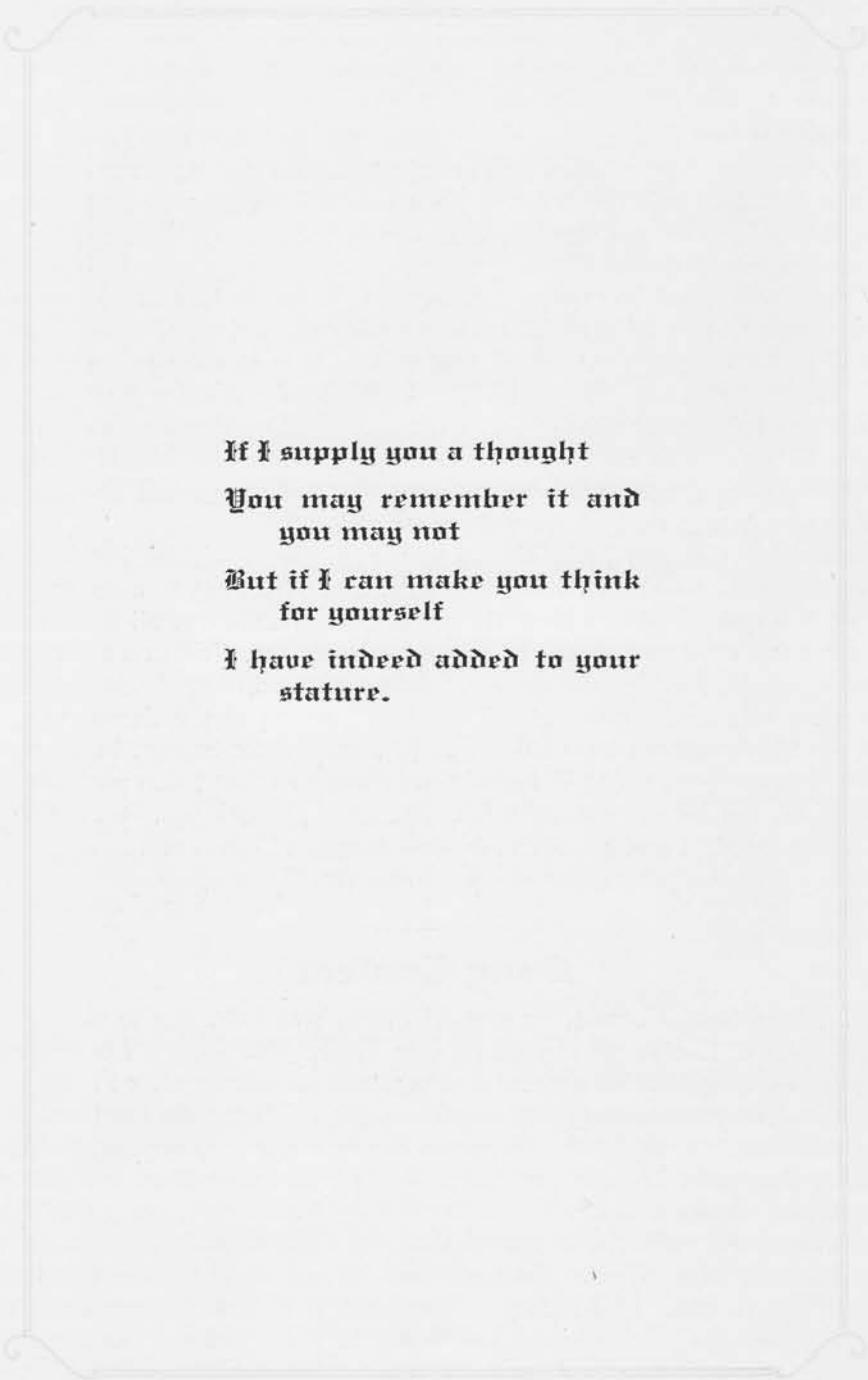

I'll have to try to forget the good time enough so that I can settle down to work again, but believe me, next fall, you must go back too. We'll help the A. C. beat Bemidji and get even for what happened last week.

As ever,

YOUR OLD ROOM-MATE.

Song Contest

THE Class Song Contest, an annual event, was held at the close of the Fall Term. Each class elected its own leader who showed his interest in music by working faithfully with his classmates. All the leaders in this year's contest had an exceptionally fine musical ability. They were Lambert Erickson, Freshmen; Lowell Ryden, Juniors; Chester Torgerson, Seniors; and Loren Parkin, Advanced. The various classes showed fine cooperation and thorough preparation, thanks to the help of Miss Brown, Miss Polski and Miss Warne, according to the judges who stated that the contest was very close. Mrs. O. E. Locken, Miss Myrtle Hovland, and Mr. O. W. Peterson, the Judges, awarded fourth place to Freshmen, who were at a disadvantage because of lack of experience. Third place was given to the Juniors. The Advanced, altho handicapped by lack of numbers, made a fine showing and won second. The first place and the Selvig trophy was won by the Seniors; much of the credit of the Senior presentation was due to their director, Chester Torgerson.

If I supply you a thought
You may remember it and you may not
But if I can make you think for yourself
I have indeed added to your stature.

The Red River Aggie

Once on a stormy winter night,
 So the story's told,
 Two men were struggling with a
 Ford;
 Preceptors, wise and bold.

For an hour or so they cranked that car,

Their hands were stiff and sore,
 And yet fair Lizzie stirred not
 And so they cranked some more.

Then finally came a Hudson
 That pulled them round the square;
 But yet the Ford was stubborn.
 (They say those men don't swear.)

Then came a bright idea
 For it the coach did fall;
 The motors man looked in the tank
 There was no gas at all.

TWENTY-THIRD PSALM

Mr. Larson is my teacher
 I will not pass
 He maketh me explain hard theorems
 And exposeth my ignorance to the class.

He restoreth my sorrows
 And causeth me much misery
 For my class's sake.
 Yea, tho I study till midnight
 I shall gain no knowledge
 For exams bother me
 He rendereth a scolding
 In the presence of the class.
 I receiveth a low mark.

Surely distress and sadness shall follow me all the days of my course, and I shall stay in the geometry class forever.

There was a young fellow named
 Confer
 Not a girl in school would he runfer
 But when Peaches came round
 And Harry she found
 We all thot Harry was dunfer.

Aslaug Satre—Shall I take these rugs out and shake them?

Esther Hanson — NO! They're
 my roommate's bath towels.

Paul D — What's that funny stuff on the sheep?

Mr. Kiser — That's wool.

Paul D. — I'll bet it's half cotton.

Harry C. — Yes, I had a girl once and she made a fool of me.

Lawrence S. — My, what a lasting impression some girls make.

Art Sandal was entering the house of one of the faculty, he encountered an Airedale dog, and was very frightened.

"Come in", said Dorothy. "He will not bite".

Sandal still hung back and finally asked, "Will he swallow?"

Hunt — Last week I had a fall which rendered me unconscious for several hours.

Trandem — Really! Where did you fall!

Hunt — I fell asleep in farm management class.

Alice E. — Is that a real diamond that you have in your tie pin?

Geo. B. — Gosh, I hope so. I paid half a dollar for it!

Melvin H. — Sweets to the sweet.

Sophie B. — Oh, thank you, may
I pass you the nuts?

Fond Parent — How dare you come home like this in the middle of the term! And how dare you have the nerve to say you didn't like your school! Don't you know that it has turned out some of the most brilliant men in the country?

Aase — Yes, dad, that's why they turned me out.

EVER NOTICE THIS?

How doth the Crookston Laundry
Search out the weakest joints,
And always tear the buttons off
At most strategic points.

FOOLING 'EM

His sister called him Willie,
His mother called him Will,
But when he went to College
To Dad 'twas Bill, Bill, Bill.

A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer. That's why so many of us fail in examinations.

Mr. Dunham in chemistry class — Didn't I tell you to notice when the solution boiled over?

Berggren — I did. It was a quarter past one.

A woodpecker sat
On a freshman's head
And started in to drill.
He worked away
For half a day
And then he broke his bill.

Mary — "And did he actually dare to steal a kiss from you."

Agnes — "Yes, but I made him put it right back."

"I see you have a new girl," Ecklund. "Who is she?"

Ecklund — "That's not a new one.
That's just the old one repainted."

Ole S. — "I hear that sheep are the most stupid animals in the world."

Alice B. — "Yes, my lamb, they are."

One day in cooking class the percolator fell over and strained its coffee.

Ostlie — Do you like figs?

Hazel — No, but I'm very fond of dates.

Mr. Kiser and Mr. LaVoi, visiting in the country during vacation.

D. H. L. — Your son has very fine manners. He opened the gate for us.

Farmer — That's nothing. He does that for the cows every day.

Viola Buringsrud — What dreadful language your parrot uses.

Mrs. Hillmon — Yes, my husband bought the bird in town and brought it home in his car. And I understand he had three blowouts and engine trouble on the way.

Sterling Seed Corn

Sterling Seed Corn is supplied in 20 varieties suitable for the Northwest. The germination is always 90% or better. This corn is grown from our own seed stocks and under our supervision. It is fire dried to 12% moisture before cold weather. For full information write for our Seed Corn Bulletin.

Extra Early Northwestern Dent (Crookston Experiment Station Strain)

A strain developed at the Northwest Experiment Station at Crookston by 15 years breeding and selection. It is about a week earlier than average Northwestern, also earlier and taller than the leading North Dakota strains. Our crops are grown from seed coming directly from the Crookston Experiment Station.

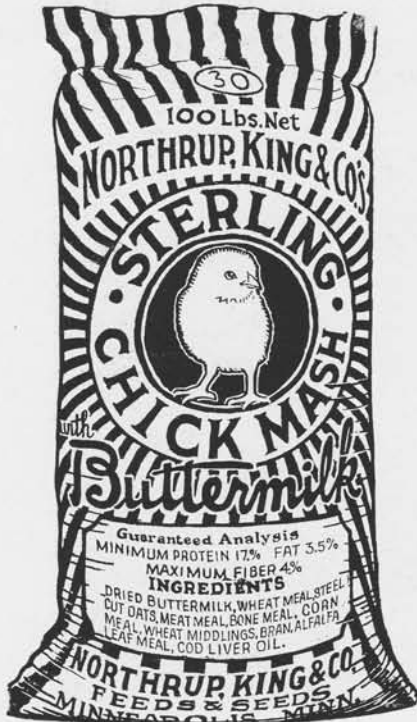

Extra Early Minnesota No. 13 Haney Strain

This strain has been grown in North Dakota for 25 years and is earlier in maturity and more thoroughly acclimated than most of the so-called North Dakota grown corn. Our corn is grown from seed coming directly each year, from Mr. Haney at Grand Forks, North Dakota. This preserves its early maturity and assures our customers a better quality of seed than can be produced farther north.
