DULUTH, MINNESOTA — FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1966

NO. 2

Dr. Theron Odlaug, head of the UMD Biology Department makes the initial break for the Life-Science Building as Provost Darland and other distinguish guests look on.

Ground Broken For UMD Life Science Building

Ground was broken last Thursday for the construction of a $1,440,543 Life Science Building on the UMD campus. The four-story structure and greenhouse is expected to be ready for use by fall 1967.

The building will house the biology department which now occupies the second floor of the present Science Building. This move will enable the physics and chemistry departments, now housed on the first and third floors of the Science Building, to expand into critically needed space.

The main feature of the greenhouse will be its octagonal shape. It will contain laboratories and storage space and will be connected to the main structure at ground level.

The first floor of the main structure will have six research rooms, two lecture rooms and two general geology classrooms. The second floor will consist of biology department offices to house the department head and six faculty members, laboratories for morphology and plant anatomy and space for the Olga Lakela Herbarium. On the third floor there will be twelve faculty offices, laboratories for biology, zoology and physiology, and an aquarium.

Members of the building committee are Winston A. Close, chairman, professor and advisory architect, Minneapolis; Roy V. Lund, assistant vice-president of business administration, Minneapolis; Robert W. Bridges, UMD business manager; Theron O. Odlaug, professor and head of UMD biology, and Francis B. Moore, professor and head of UMD chemistry.

Cost of the structure will be paid mostly by state legislative appropriation with additional funds from the federal government and the state legislative building committee. Excluding the greenhouse, which will have 2,270 square feet of space, the structure will measure 154 by 84 feet and contain approximately 48,000 square feet of space.

Contractors for the project include A. Hedenberg & Co., A. G. O'Brien Plumbing & Heating, Commercial Electric Co., and Melander Fugelso & Associates, all of Duluth, and R & O Elevator of Minneapolis.

Appointments, Promotions Made

Five administrative appointments and nine academic promotions at UMD were announced today (Friday, Aug. 5) by University of Minnesota President O. Meredith Wilson.

Dr. Wendell P. Glick was promoted from professor of English to professor and head of the Department of English.

Dr. Sylvan D. Burgstahler was promoted from assistant professor of mathematics to assistant professor and head of the Department of Mathematics and Engineering.

Dr. Cyril M. Milbrath was promoted from associate professor of education to associate professor and program director of continuing education for the General Extension Division.

Dr. Walter L. Baeumler was promoted from assistant professor of sociology to assistant professor and acting head of the Department of Sociology.

John J. Jurkovich, assistant professor of education to assistant professor and head of the UMD Laboratory School.

Other promotions are: Dr. John B. Carlson from associate to professor of biology. Dr. Leverett P. Hoag from associate professor to professor of geography.

Dr. Thomas J. Bydalek from assistant professor to associate professor of chemistry.

Dr. George E. Ashlgren from instructor to assistant professor of biology.

Richard A. Morris from instructor to assistant professor of history.

Julian B. Hoshal from University Relations Representative and instructor to University Relations Representative and assistant professor.

Dr. Charles E. Carson from lecturer to assistant professor of geology.

Joseph G. Likely from lecturer to instructor in physics.

Lawrence J. Syck from teaching assistant to instructor in business administration

Dr. Glick, who came to UMD in 1947, received the A.B. degree at Bridgewater College (Va.), the M.S. degree at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees at Northwestern University. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and has had a number of articles published by literary and professional magazines.

Dr. Burgstahler came to UMD in 1961. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis. He spent a year in Europe on a Fulbright scholarship.

Dr. Milbrath, who came to UMD in 1959, will coordinate short courses, workshops, and seminars on the UMD campus for the General Extension Division. He received the B.S. degree at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, the M.A. at UMD, and the Ph.D. degree at Michigan State University.

Dr. Baeumler came to UMD in 1965. He earned the B.A. and M.A. degrees at the University of Omaha and the Ph.D. degree at the University of Nebraska.

Jurkovich earned the B.E. degree at Duluth State Teachers College and the M.A. degree at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis. He has instructed in the UMD Laboratory School since 1951.

Tweed Gallery

Famous Collection On Display

Selected works from the famous Maximilian-Bodmer collection are on display at the Tweed Gallery until October 14.

The 400-sketch collection and a representative group of approximately 100 water colors exhibited are a dramatic pictorial record of the western plains Indians.

The collection receives its name from Prince Alexander Philip Maximilian, a German naturalist and scientist, and Karl Bodmer, a Swiss-born artist. The two men journeyed with fur traders up the Missouri River from St. Louis to Great Falls, Montana, in 1833 and in 1834.

Prince Maximilian recorded his findings in writing, while Bodmer sketched and painted Indian culture in minute detail. After his return from the Missouri River, Maximilian published a book, Travels in the Interior of North America, with illustrations based on Bodmer's field sketches.

The collection was purchased from Maximilian's great-grand-nephew by M. Knoedler & Co., Inc. of New York.

In 1962 the entire collection was purchased by Northern Natural Gas Company of Omaha, Nebraska, and is housed in the Joslyn Museum in Omaha.

The City of Duluth Gas Department is co-sponsoring the exhibit in cooperation with Northern Natural Gas Company and the University.

Stephane Mayo, receptionist at Tweed Gallery, observes one of the many paintings now on display at UMD.

Tutorial Society To Hold Meeting

The UMD Student Tutorial Society will conduct an organizational meeting at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 4, in Kirby 371.

All students interested in becoming tutors are invited to attend. Tutoring will begin during the third week of classes and will continue through the ninth week of classes.

Interested freshmen are also invited to attend although they will not be able to join the society until Winter Quarter.

Last year's members are required to attend this meeting. If unable to attend, members are to fill out forms that will be available at Kirby Information Desk.

Five Appointments Announced

Five appointments to supervisory positions in the UMD office of Student Personnel Services were announced today by SPS Director Chester W. Wood.

Dr. Wood named:

- * C. Dean Kjolhaug as associate director of SPS.
- * Charles H. Mannel as Coordinator of Placement.
- * Frederick E. Fess as Admissions Coordinator.
- * Nicholas F. Whelihan as Financial Aids Coordinator.
- * Wayne W. Daley as Housing Coordinator.

Also, Angelo Pergol has been hired as a full-time counselor. A native of Chisholm, he has been a counselor and head basketball coach at Hibbing High School since 1958.

Kjolhaug had served as UMD Coordinator of Housing and Religious Activities since 1963. He came to UMD from the University campus at Morris, Minn. where he was faculty advisor to the Student Association and the Inter-Faith Council.

He earlier served as Minnesota Regional Advisor to the Lutheran Student Association, as a counselor to Lutheran students at the Minneapolis campus and Wisconsin State University at Superior and as an instructor in business at Clearbrook High School.

Kjolhaug will receive the M.A. degree at UMD on August 19 and is continuing his graduate work on the Minneapolis campus.

Mannel came to UMD in 1963 as Admissions Coordinator after serving one quarter as a teaching assistant in economics. He previously taught English and typing in the public schools in Duluth and Baltimore.

Mannel received the B.A. degree at the University of Maryland, the B.S. degree at the University of Minnesota and has completed the requirements for the M.A. degree at UMD.

Fess came to UMD as a counselor, a position he had held at Bloomfield Hills, Mich. public schools. He received the B.S. degree at UMD and the M.A. degree at Arizona State University (Tempe).

Whelihan received the B.S. degree at UMD in 1962 and stayed on as an instructor in physical education for men. He also served as swimming and track coach through this past spring.

Like Mannel, he has completed requirements for the

M.A. degree. Both men will receive their degrees at UMD commencement exercises on August 19.

Before coming to UMD, Daley served two years as supervisor of the St. Louis County Health Department. Prior to that assignment, he was a Supervising Sanitarian in the Student Health Service on the Minneapolis campus.

He received the B.S. degree at Creighton University (Omaha, Neb.) and has completed the course work toward the M.A. degree in public health at the University's Minneapolis campus.

FRESHMAN CABINET SELECTS OFFICER SLATE

This year's Freshman Cabinet held their first meeting at 1:00 p.m. Friday, Sept. 23 for the purpose of selecting the slate of freshman officers.

During the 3 hours of deliberation candidates were selected to run for president, vice-president, and secretary of the freshman class. Chosen as Freshman Cabinet Coordinator was Pete Austin, 719 East 4th St., Duluth. As Coordinator he will keep the Freshman Cabinet in action throughout the year as a group to raise school and freshman spirit and contribute to school activities.

David Delisle, 2232 East 1st St., Duluth and Bill Hengen, Room 236, Torrance Hall were selected as Freshman presidential candidates. David was selected on the second ballot and Bill was selected on the third. They competed against two other nominees for the ballot.

Competition for the nomination as vice-presidential candidates was slightly more rugged than the contest for president. Neil Lavick, 706 Granite St., Cloquet, was elected on the second ballot; while Robb Sweetnam, Room 230 Torrance Hall sweated it out until the fourth ballot before he was chosen. Neil is a commuter to the campus now, but intends to move during Winter Quarter into Duluth.

Chosen on the first secretarial ballot was Pat Rizzi, Room A-111, Griggs Hall and on the third was Mary Rick, 2238 Woodland Ave., Duluth.

This completed the slate of officers for the Freshman elections which will be held on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 29 and 30. The voting booths will be in Kirby and will be open several hours each day.

All freshman are invited to attend the meeting of the Freshman cabinet which will be held at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, October 4 in Kirby Ballroom. According to Pete Austin, Cabinet Coordinator, the meeting will include the election of assistant officers, the planning of weekly meetings, and the formation of committees for Homecoming floats and activities.

Although only the elected Cabinet representatives will have voting privileges, other freshman may join to assist the Cabinet in the planning and completion of various projects throughout the year. Pete would like to see others join the cabinet to avoid "having the same few people do everything."

Back Porch Majority Captivates Audience

Those of us who have had the opportunity to witness a professional artist perform have undoubtedly noticed the poise and self-confidence with which he approaches the audience. A professional tries to make himself as comfortable and a tightly intet-woven with his audience as possible without becoming entirely inconspicuous. This is the art of being a showman, and without showmanship an artist's talent becomes lost on the stage.

they were offering a flowing ballad, a contemporary folk song, southern prison blues, or a worked-over comedy skit, their sound was fresh but well rehearsed.

The jokes were delightful. The songs were powerful, and the Back Porch Majority once again certified themselves as 'top notch musicians'.

No doubt all persons who attended the Back Porch Majority concert were quietly embraced by the BMP's stage style. Style to the BMP means sneaking through a common ground amidst voluminous voices and sharp movements across the stage. It was obvious that the BMP tried desperately to direct all loud emotions towards them, resulting in an established unity between themselves and their listeners.

The BMP also provided an ample amount of variety to prolong this unity. Whether

DRAMATICS UNDERWAY

The UMD Dramatics Department was introduced to new students at 1:00 p.m. Friday, Sept. 23, at the UMD Theater. Approximately thirty-five people attended. Mr. Robert Rence, director, and Mr. Fred Olerman, assistant director, explained some of their ideas. Both are new faculty members. Intentions are to have three major productions, one each quarter. A childrens' show is also being considered, using junior high school facilities. The University Methodist Church, St. Marie St. and Carver Ave., will be used for productions while improvements are being made on the UMD Theater. Hopefully a new theater will be constructed in the near future. The present capacity is approximately 500 people.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"HE'S THE ONLY ADMINISTRATOR WE'VE EVER HAD WHO HAS FULLY UNDERSTOOD OUR PARKING PROBLEM."

Dr. C. M. Milbrath, left, discusses the extension system with Provost Darland.

Adult Program Expanded

An expanded program of continuing adult education in Northeastern Minnesota is being initiated at the University of Minnesota, Duluth, this fall, according to Willard L. Thompson, Minneapolis, Dean of the General Extension Division and Summer Sesion.

Recently appointed Regional Director for Institute, Conferences, and Special Projects, Dr. Cyril M. Milbrath will have a leading role in its development.

Dr. Milbrath, representative of the University's General Extension Division, will serve as a liaison man between UMD and the community.

This is the first time the extension services will be made available to seven counties, 347,000 people, in Northeastern Minnesota. These counties are: Cook, Lake, St. Louis, Carleton, Pine, Itasca, and Kochiching.

Dr. Milbrath said, "The current technological and economic changes in Northeastern Minnesota make it desirable that many of our citizens acquire new knowledge and technical skill."

Future plans call for a Continuing Education Center at UMD. Facilities would be available for up to 200 people. This would allow people to stay in a comfortable place without too much moving around.

A foundation-supported institute for community development is also planned. This would provide experts in such fields as sociology, urban planning, business, etc., who would aid communities, junior colleges and county-level extension offices with continuing education programs.

Dr. Milbrath's office will complement the activities of the General Extension Division office in the New Garrick Building in Duluth which directs the evening and special-class courses taken for University credit. That operation is directed by Gilford W. Remington.

Half of Dr. Milbrath's time will be dedicated to the Continuing Education program and half to teaching. But from June through September 15 he will devote himself entirely to associated faculty members and outside groups in developing institutes, workshops, and conferences.

Some non-credit courses and lectures' series used in other places are; Perception in the Cuts for Dentists, Forces for Change in the Soviet Bloc; and Nuclear Weapons.

UMD Provost Raymond W. Darland invited individual citizens and organizations to contact Dr. Milbrath and make known their needs in areas of adult education which can be served by his office.

Dr. Milbrath received the B.S. degree at the University of Minnesota, the M.A. degree at UMD and the Ph.D. degree at Michigan State University. He was on leave during spring quarter studying community education programs at Flint, Michigan. He came to UMD in 1959 after teaching at Moorhead State College, Michigan State University and Proctor High School.

Views expressed in the STATESMAN's unsigned editorials represent those of the paper. Signed columns, reviews and letters to the editor represent the personal views of the writers. In neither case is the opinion necessarily that of the University administrators, faculty, staff or other students.

Academic Freedom — More Trouble Ahead?

"Academic freedom" is a term that has become well known and advocated on college campuses throughout the country. Every year students are becoming more aware of these many "freedoms" that have been instituted as part of their educational careers.

Last year UMD got its first taste of academic freedom during the Fall Quarter Extremism Seminar. This was unique in that two of the country's most controversial personalities were on campus—George Lincoln Rockwell, commander of the American Nazi Party, and Arnold Johnson, public relations director for the American Communist Party.

The seminar was a success on campus despite numerous objections of this type of program by certain Duluth businessmen. Considering that this was the first year that UMD Student Association attempted such a seminar, most aspects of the program were carried out effectively.

It is hoped that the Student Association continues its work in this specific field of "academic freedom" again this year. Many students consider last year's extremism seminar as a starting point for further discussions and panel participation of topics which are of great importance in the United States today: Morality, Civil Rights, the rise in crime rates, to mention just a few

Last year's experience appeared to be hampered by the interference of persons who believed that a small minority of students on campus were influential enough to bring the speakers to UMD. They were proved wrong by an election of the student body. We sincerely hope that this situation doesn't repeat itself again this year.

Better programs, better organization on the part of the UMD Student Association, and better community relations will undoubtedly lead to more meaningful seminars at UMD. The students of UMD were introduced to this phase of "academic freedom" last year. Hopefully, we will continue this program on a greater scale this year.

The Statesman's Role: Editorial Policy Defined

A campus newspaper is as important—if not the most important—communication link at a university or college. But without certain basic standards to follow throughout the school year, the newspaper will fail to accomplish its purpose.

Realizing this fact, the editors of the Statesman staff have devised policies which shall be instituted as part of the overall purpose of the publication.

Perhaps the most important single function of the Statesman will be to report news of the campus, organizational activities and coming events to the students in the most objective manner possible.

Through the use of feature articles, book and theater reviews, polls and interviews the Statesman hopes to further the students knowledge of persons at UMD and aspects of the university and college life that aren't always realized by the student.

The newspaper's function on campus also includes the fair comment or criticism on specific issues through the use of the editorial page. We will take a definite stand on critical topics and support candidates for campus offices whom we feel are best qualified for the job. In some past cases editorial comment has appeared in sections other than where it belongs. This year, editorials will remain on the editorial page.

We hope to make friends. But undoubtedly we will have enemies. This is taken for granted and, of course, naturally expected by persons in the newspaper business.

The Statesman welcomes all letters-to-the-editors. All letters sent to the editor for publication must be signed. Names will be withheld upon request of the writer, although the Statesman reserves the right to refuse publication of unsigned letters.

All letters for publication should concern themselves with comments or opinions pertinent to the University, the Statesman, or the student body. Naturally, all letters must conform to the standards set down by the Statesman. No opinion or comment will be so edited by the staff as to alter the meaning in any manner.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Problem Finally Solved?

An open letter to Mr. Richard L. Griggs, former university regent and a recent donor of $50,000 to the UMD stadium fund.

Dear Sir:

I am taking the liberty of writing you this letter to express the thanks of one UMD student who is grateful for what you have done. It is an open letter because I doubt that the majority of the student body at UMD realizes that you, sir, are greatly responsible for what will be recognized as the revival of UMD football.

It was probably during your term as University regent that you realized that an integral part of University life was missing at UMD. You saw that the fall football madness, deeply steeped in tradition, which sweeps almost every major college campus in the country never touched UMD. You also realized that if the UMD student body never noticed the lack it only indicated that it didn't know what it was missing.

Student apathy is a terrible thing. I saw it at Virginia Junior College where five students once attended a home basketball game in which the team played its heart out and lost 82-80 in overtime. It was the best basketball game I have ever seen. The UMD football team has lost its first two games this year. In the South Dakota State game, the Bulldogs were inside the Jackrabbit ten-yard line three times in the first half. Each drive failed as the home crowd sat in almost dead silence. Why should the team care when no one else does? Why should the fans care about a team that always loses? We have the proverbial immovable object meeting the irresistible force.

You, sir, have solved the riddle. You could have placed your money in a scholarship fund bearing your name or you could have donated it to the new Science Building fund. But you did not. Your money instead provided the major step in giving a home to UMD football. A 3800-seat stadium will be ready for the Homecoming game this fall. An additional 4,000 seats, a field house, and press box facilities will be added in 1969. A winning tradition is what is needed next.

You, sir, have done what you can; we true football fans in Duluth thank you for it. What is left is up to the UMD student body. We have our stadium, will we use it? Only time will tell.

Signed,
John Servaty

For a Job Well Done

I am writing this letter while still under the magic spell of the rollicking, fun-loving Back Porch Majority who presented a superbly entertaining concert last Sunday night. This was the final event of Welcome Week and the kick-off concert for a year that appears at its commencement to be a tremendously exciting one.

The New Student Registration-Orientation program is over. As chairman of Welcome Week I would like to extend a most sincere thank you to the many people who devoted long hours toward the planning and execution of Welcome Week.

Don Streufert, Orientation Commissioner, deserves a very special thank you and congratulations for a program very few individuals could have executed with such skill and administrative ability. Judy Freitag, Orientation secretary, also deserves a special thank you, along with Tyler Gill, Club Group Coordinator, Jungle Jim Berdahl, Daily Activities Chairman, and imaginative Julie Anderson, Evening Activities Chairman.

Many months were spent planning the programs for Welcome Week. It was a real pleasure working with them. Mary Bennes, Parents' Day Chairman, and Ron Garatz, Publicity Chairman, also deserve a special thank you and recognition for their fine work. Thank you also to the Statesman for their excellent first issue which came out at the beginning of Welcome Week.

In addition to the efforts of many individuals too numerous to list, I would like to say thank you to Phi Beta Chi who contributed not only as individual members, but as an efficient, hard working organization. They were responsible for the decorations in the Ballroom at the Orientation Ball and Coronation. Their ingenious dunking machine set a precedent for an imaginative and fantastic Club Carni attraction.

To everyone who worked so hard on Welcome Week — Thank You.

Welcome Week Chairman

Greek Forum

Gamma Theta Phi Fraternity is pledging this quarter and invites any 2nd quarter freshmen and all sophomores, juniors and seniors to pledge. Any man interested should contact a member of Gamma, or attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in SS 102.

Gamma Theta Phi wishes to congratulate the Freshman Welcome Week Committee for the fine job that they did. Special thanks are extended to Julie Anderson for her help in assisting Gamma in setting up the pie throw at the Club Carni. Also, Gamma wishes to thank Bill Conner, Interfraternity Council President, for showing fine interfraternity spirit by donating his head for one free pie throw.

Are you a girl interested in having fun while serving others, socializing, and participating in campus activities? If so, then you are a prospective sister of Gamma Sigma Sigma Service Sorority, the only national sorority on campus. Gamma Sig's carry out many service projects on and off campus, have social activities, and take an active part in many UMD events such as Homecoming, Sno-Week, and SOS Week.

For you to earn more and meet the members, and also give them a chance to know you, Gamma Sigma Sigma is having a Rush Tea 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, October 2, in the Fine Arts Lounge. This is for all freshman women who have gone to summer sessions here, and all sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have been attending UMD. If you wish to attend or wish for further information, please sign the list at Kirby Desk.

Although freshman women are not eligible for membership until they have completed one quarter here, they are eligible for Winter Quarter Rush which begins with a tea the first Sunday of Winter Quarter.

The men of Sigma Tau Kappa ask each freshman to consider Greek life as one way of getting the most out of school, and to keep Sigma Tau Kappa in mind for Winter Quarter pledging.

A note to all students who have completed 12 or more credits and have a GPA of over 2.00: The men of Sigma will be pledging this quarter. Interested men are asked to keep an eye peeled for posters announcing the time of the first smoker. Attendance at the smoker is non-obligatory; it will be to acquaint students with Sigma Tau Kappa.

Alpha Nu Omega feels that academic and social pursuits go hand in hand in establishing a well-rounded education. There are certain aspects of college life that only a social fraternity can provide. During the upcoming quarter you will have an opportunity to obtain an insight into Greek life.

Alpha Nu Omega wishes you the best of luck in your future endeavor at UMD.

The 66-67 academic year proposes to be one of our best. Beta Phi Kappa has returned to campus with a total active membership approaching fifty. With such a large membership we can look forward to an extremely active year. Socially we hope to attain new and even better levels in campus activities and affairs, as well as community projects.

Beta Phi Kappa extends an open invitation to any and all students who are interested, and wish to 'meet the Greeks'. We proudly boast of having the only fraternity house in Duluth, which is always open to those who wish to meet us. Stop in — anytime!

Barker's Club Becomes Official Organization

"Here they are again." Under the direction of John Litecky, sophomore, the Barkers' Club is changing this year from an unofficial to an official organization.

The Barkers' Club, open to freshman only, is designed to create school spirit in the freshmen, while also giving support to UMD teams.

First formed during freshman orientation week last year, the club is now being transformed by Litecky and a constitutional committee of eight freshman into an official campus organization.

This year's first meeting was held September 22; about 200 freshman attended. The selection of the eight-man committee and a brief outline of the club's functions was the main business of the meeting.

• Congratulations

To the Editor,

On behalf of the Student body, I would like to congratulate Don Streufert and Joanne Backlund and the people who worked on the New Student Orientation, Freshman Camp, and Welcome Week. These people deserve merit for they not only worked during these times but for weeks prior to this.

As a new program, the Orientation was well planned and executed. The well chosen and highly skilled staff all worked together to make the program a success.

Our congratulations,
Ed Thomas

• Thank You

To the Editor,

As a member of the Freshman class, I would like to thank all of the people who were responsible for the success of orientation, camp, and Welcome Week. The experience received from these was most beneficial as it was a good introduction to the many phases of college life.

We all had a good time and propheted from the many discussion groups during Freshman Camp and Welcome Week. We also received insight into college life at UMD through the various activities presented by S.A.; Kirby Planning Board, the Greeks, and the other organizations which contributed.

Especially, I would like to thank Don Streufert and Joanne Backlund for the time they spent organizing all of the activities

FORENSICS PLANS FULL PROGRAM

The UMD forensics program hopes to answer the Kansas State College of Pittsburgh's invitation of "Y'all come" when they travel to tournaments in various states. Other states, besides Minnesota, that are on the agenda to be seen are Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

A full program of debate and individual events is planned for any interested students. To get the program started, members of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensics fraternity, are hosting a reception October 4 in Kirby's Fine Arts Lounge at 7 p.m. The purpose of this reception is to become acquainted with the forensics program.

Many returning forensics members will be on hand to greet the interested individuals. Jeff Latts, Cliff Hanson, Fred Friedman, and Steve Johnson make up the returning debate nucleus. Mike Monaghan and Ed Thomas are experienced people in individual events.

UMD plans a more extensive program. The debaters will participate in tournaments which will put them in competition with many represented schools in the nation.

Mr. Jackson Huntley is directing this year's program with Mr. Thomas Pollock as assistant.

UMD belongs to the Twin Cities' Debate League. This league is designed to give a large number of people experience in forensics. They participate in a number of practice tournaments in the Twin Cities area.

High school experience, though beneficial, is not necessary. Huntley says, "The Duluth area is rich in people talented and trained in the forensics field through the excellence of high school programs. The University's role is to encourage a continuance of this experience and to offer a program of quality. We'd like to encourage all students to participate."

Each year Pi Kappa Delta hosts an invitational high school debate tournament during the fall quarter. During the winter quarter an invitational high school forensics tournament is held. These are designed as a service to high schools.

Meetings are held according to the student's schedule. Participation in tournaments is also in accord with one's being able to travel and one's interest in preparation.

Huntley's philosophy of the program is that it enriches students in being able to identify issues, conduct research, draw conclusions, and express them with oral effectiveness. Forensics prepares the serious university student to function better in society.

Anyone interested in the UMD forensics program is invited to attend the reception or get in touch with Mr. Huntley or Mr. Pollock.

Kirby Sets Fall Ball

The Kirby Social Committee invites you to attend the Fall Ball A-Go-Go and relieve your first week of class frustrations. The band being featured is the sensationally new "Seductive Sounds". The dance will take place this Saturday, October 1, from 9:00-12:00 in the Kirby Ballroom. A fall motif will set the mood for the occasion.

The Kirby Fall Ball A-Go-Go sponsored as the first regular Saturday night dance of the school season. The purpose of this dance is not only to provide entertainment, but also to set a precedent for the following dances which various organizations will sponsor every Saturday night. We would hope and suggest that the girls wear dresses and the boys wear sweaters and similar attire.

There are also several rules and regulations which are established by the Kirby Policy Committee, which are mandatory for all dances and which shall be enforced at this dance. They are as follows:

- All students must show an ID card before entering the dance.
- There is to be no drinking on the campus or in the school.
- No smoking is permitted on the ballroom floor during a dance. You may smoke in the balconies on either side, the Bulldog Bar, or down in the Kirby Lounge, or where ash trays are provided. We urge you to use the facilities that are provided for smoking.

Once again all students are invited to the Fall Ball. Admission will be 50c per person.

Buzz Book On Sale Soon

The Bulldog Buzz Books will soon hit the halls of Kirby! The Buzz Book, sponsored by the UMD Student Association, will contain pictures, names, addresses and phone numbers of freshman students at UMD.

The book contains approximately 100 pages. This will be an opportunity for students to contact or meet new friends or identify familiar faces.

1,400 freshmen responded to the 35 cents per copy advanced sale. Approximately 600 copies still remain and will be sold at 50 cents per copy to any interested student.

The Buzz Book will be distributed from 10:00 a.m. — 3:00 p.m., Oct. 6-12 in front of Kirby Lounge.

Freshman must present receipts for their copy.

A FRESHMAN PRIMER

by STEVE LINDSTROM ☆

MAN, THIS OLD UMD CAMPUS HAS REALLY BEEN OVERRUN BY FRESHMEN.

HOW CAN YOU TELL THE FRESHMEN?

OH, IT'S NOT TOO HARD.

LOOK AT THEM, EAGER TO LEARN, BUBBLING OVER WITH ENTHUSIASM. SOMEBODY SHOULD PUT THEM IN THEIR PLACE.

YEAH! I REMEMBER WHAT A FOOL I WAS AS A FROSH. I WENT TO THREE FOOTBALL GAMES BEFORE I SHOOK MY HABIT OF CHEERING*

* DEEP INNER MORAL

IF I WERE RUNNING THINGS, I'D HAVE A REAL ORIENTATION WEEK FOR THEM. SHOW 'EM WHAT COLLEGE IS LIKE.

THE FIRST DAY WE WOULD HAVE A SESSION ON BEGINNING APATHY FOLLOWED BY A TWO-HOUR LECTURE ON THERMONUCLEAR DYNAMICS BY A PROFESSOR WITH A HANGOVER.

THEN, JUST FOR FUN, AND TO EASE THE TENSION, WE WOULD PLAY "FILL OUT THE INFORMATION CARD" IN WHICH YOU FORM GROUPS AND FILL OUT IDENTICAL BLANKS FOR 3 HOURS.

THE SECOND DAY WE COULD HAVE A COURSE IN HOW TO ACHIEVE "SOPHISTICATION" IN THREE QUICKIE LESSONS, INCLUDING... 1. HOW TO DRESS WEIRDLY ON A SMALL BUDGET. 2. HOW TO GENERALIZE VAGUE IDEAS INTO COMPLETE NON-EXISTENCE. 3. ADVANCED BACK-STABBING (OR HOW TO KILL FRIENDS WHILE INFLUENCING PEOPLE.)

GET OUT OF IOWA

WEDNESDAY WOULD BE SHERMAN GLUTZKY* MEMORIAL DAY IN TRIBUTE TO THAT FORMER STUDENT WHO ACTUALLY REGISTERED FOR CLASSES WITHOUT HAVING TO MAKE A SINGLE CHANGE IN HIS SCHEDULE. (SHERM DIED AN UNTIMELY DEATH THE FOLLOWING DAY TRYING TO TAKE CUTS IN THE DROP-ADD LINE.)

* ALSO HOLDER OF THE "MOST CONSECUTIVE DAYS WITHOUT A PARKING TICKET" RECORD. (HE WAS SICK BOTH DAYS.)

...THEN, THE FINAL DAY, WE WOULD HAVE A BIG RALLY, FOR BOTH PROFESSORS AND STUDENTS, DESCRIBING THE JOYS OF COLLEGE LIFE... THE DRINKING, CHASING CO-EDS, SKIPPING CLASSES...

AND WE COULD MENTION SOME OF THE THINGS THE STUDENTS DO TOO!

YEAH, LIKE OLD ALPHONSE "8 BALL" KREDMER WHO WAS BANNED FROM KIRBY POOL LOUNGE WHEN IT WAS DISCOVERED HE WAS WINNING MORE THAN ANY OF THE PROFESSORS EARNER

YESSIR, I THINK WE WOULD REALLY SHAPE THESE FRESHMEN UP FAST.

ONLY ONE THING BOTHERS ME...

THEN HOW COULD WE TELL THEM APART?

Intramural Meeting Slated

The intramural touch football season will get underway via an organizational meeting at 4:00 pm., Monday, Oct. 10, in PE 165 for all team captains. Tentatively, play is expected to start around Oct. 11.

Craig Peterson, head of Men's Intramural has placed a sign-up sheet outside the main Phy Ed office. Interested persons can sign up collectively as a team or as individuals. Individuals will be allocated to the different teams. Everyone is asked to watch the bulletin board for rules, schedules, and standings.

A major rules change is being instituted this year. Previously Intramurals played "Flag." A ball carrier was downed by removal of one of two hip pocket flags. Now it will be two-hand touch below the waist. "I took a poll of 44 midwestern schools and found 90% of them used touch," said Peterson. "I also found a majority of UMD participants were disenchanted with flag."

Peterson stressed one final point. All individuals signing up must also write in their phone numbers. Otherwise there will be no way for team captains to contact them.

The International Club of UMD once again begins its academic year of activities with the commencement of fall quarter.

The purpose of the club is to introduce the foreign students at UMD to the rest of the student body. In past years the turn-out has been encouraging and the club successful. Expectations are for an even better club this year.

President Gary Loomis and Vice-president George Abdallah, Lebanon, called the first meeting for Wednesday, October 5, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be centered around welcoming new Foreign students as well as the old ones.

FACULTY MEMBERS GRANTED LEAVES

Eight UMD faculty members have been granted sabbaticals or single quarter leaves for the next school year.

Dr. M. Harry Lease Jr, assoc. prof. of political science, will spend next year on sabbatical studying judicial systems in the U.S. and Europe. His research will carry him to England, France and Germany. He hopes to develop a manuscript from his research.

Dr. William Crockett, assoc. prof. of English, will be gone spring, 1967 continuing his research on criticism in the 19th Century. He specifically will be interested in Oscar Wilde's aesthetic theory during this leave.

Dr. Kenneth DeYoung, assoc.

prof. of psychology, will be gone fall quarter. His topic involves a search for factors related to the identification of briefly presented complex visual stimuli.

Dr. Henry J. Ehler, prof. of philosophy, will spend spring, 1967, seeking material which would fuse traditional logic with modern mathematics.

Dr. Ehlers will be a guest professor in the philosophy of education at the University of Washington, Seattle, June 20-Aug. 19.

Dr. Anna Stensland, assoc. prof. of English, will be gone fall quarter. She will study senior high school literature programs in Minnesota. She already has sent questionnaires to 200 high schools and later will visit some schools. Comparisons will be made with standards set up by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Dr. Frederick Witzig, prof. of geography, will be gone spring, 1967, to research material on the historical geography of the iron mining districts of Northern Wisconsin and Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Dr. Edward Flaccus, assoc. prof. of biology, will be gone in the fall to study the effect of Lake Superior on "distribution of Acer Saccharum, Tilia Americana and Betula lutes."

Dr. Maude Lindquist, prof. of history, will spend spring quarter researching material on early Protestant missionaries in Minnesota.

Bulldogs Lose Again

UMD's highly touted and talented backfield failed to live up to expectations for the second consecutive game as the Bulldogs lost 13-0 to Augsburg at Parade Stadium in Minneapolis Saturday.

Augsburg's two tallies came on an 85-yard pass interception and a drive from their own 38 later in the game.

The Bulldog defense held the Auggies to only six first downs as UMD collected 13, but to no avail, as both UMD's offensive drives fell short of pay dirt. The first extensive foray into Augsburg territory failed as Tanski's field goal attempt failed in the second quarter and the second excursion dropped short on the 16 when the Auggie's held on downs.

UMD's statistical edge was highly evident in the scoreless first half as they dominated almost all phases of the game. The Bulldog defense, led much of the time by Vern Emerson, Tom Bell, Kim Burkey, and Don Larson, held the home team to a scant four yards on the ground as Duluth collected 69.

The second-half scores by Augsburg told the tale of the game as their first score shocked Coach Jim Malosky's eleven who were close to pay dirt around the Augsburg 20. Joel Nyquist, Augsburg linebacker, grabbed Steve Sand's errant throw at his own 15 and rambled with a couple of key blocks to the goal line 85 yards distant. Slavick's point-after was good and the Auggies were on their way.

Augsburg's only flash of offense came at the end of the third quarter as they marched from their 37 in seven plays to a touchdown. Karl Sneider on two runs totaling 36 yards took the ball to the UMD 3 where Mike Anderson brought it, over in the final period.

UMD's last-chance effort midway through the fourth began as tackle Vern Emerson blocked an attempted field goal by Bob Slavik. Don Lacher recovered the ball on the Duluth 42.

Alternating quarterbacks Sands and Scott Gernander directed the Bulldog attack to the Augsburg 22 where Anderson picked off the fourth interception of the evening at his own 14.

Following this outburst, neither team mounted another sizeable threat to the other during the rest of the final period. Even though UMD solidly trounced the Auggies in most of the statistical columns they couldn't break into the one that counted—total points.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL WORTHY CHALLENGE

What is frustration? Frustration is deciding what school to go to. Frustration is selecting a curriculum. Frustration is being a freshman.

Football is also a frustration. "It's hard to be on a losing team. It's hard to make myself go to practice and hit and block when my team is losing," said Al Decker. Decker, a freshman from Duluth Central, is aware of the problems that college presents whether they be academic, social, or physical.

Decker began playing football as a high school sophomore. He was first groomed to play center. Later he was converted to an offensive guard and defensive linebacker, positions which he held throughout high school. At UMD he is vying for the same positions.

Decker brings several credentials with him as he launches his college football career. As a junior he was selected on the all-city team, and won honors on the all tri-state team (Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota). As a senior, Decker was awarded all-city, all tri-state, and all-state honors. Al Decker also received probably the most coveted award among athletes; he was chosen as an All-American prep football player, the only one from this area to receive this honor.

Even though Decker has received these honors, he realizes the challenges college football presents. The scale is more accelerated. Loafers are weeded out and those who don't hustle are left behind. The competition is keener because the athletes are bigger, faster, and there is much more ambition than in high school.

Every man is after a starting position. Although many people think athletes are going to school to play football, all are at college for an ed-ity to play pro football, but for those who don't, they have learned self-discipline and, hopefully, have gotten enjoyment out of the game. Football is not only a game of inches and seconds, it is a game of intelligence, too.

What one puts into football is what one eventually gets out of it. Decker feels that the effort one shows in anything—study, work, or athletics—will prove worthwhile later in life. The coach can do so much, but it is up to the individual to produce.

Decker plays football because he loves the game. Although he hardly understood the fundamentals as a beginner, the desire to be a good player gave him a goal to work for. Decker emphasized the fact that he is at UMD first to get an education, and second, play football.

Decker explained what his assignment is on offense when the line is set and ready to go: "The quarterback checks the defense and calls signals. The linemen know what their assignments are and prepare to get their jobs done. There is never any hesitation in thought. Everyone moves and works together. Without team effort, a team has little hope of winning."

Injury is another frustration. Decker suffered a knee injury in practice. His knee had to be drained and he was told to be careful with it. Decker believes that a leg injury is the worst kind of injury any athlete can suffer.

The two big words in football, in Decker's opinion, are hustle and togetherness. Decker feels the upperclassmen have been very helpful and friendly to the new freshmen. He listens to their advice and hopes to profit from it.

Decker enthusiastically said, "Saturday night we're gonna go out and get 'em" referring to Gustavus Adolphus, UMD's Saturday night opponent. He hopes there will be many supporters following the team. They plan to bring back a victory. The offense and defense are geared for a tough and exciting battle. The athletes are working hard for UMD.

GUSTIES BULLDOG OPPONENI

After two consecutive losses UMD will travel to St. Peter to meet Gustavus Adolphus who beat the Bulldogs 17-6 last season.

Gustavus features a strong and rugged defense and a good offense.

Steve Hokanson, a two-year veteran at quarterback, will be supported by two fine halfbacks, Mark Embretson and Lyle Holmberg and fullback Stuart Seibert.

The Gusties also have Tom Harmon who is an excellent kicker.

Halfback Rick Evans has been converted to split end and Gunnar Viljaste will be the tight end.

The offensive line, which averages about 205, will have Lyle Halvarson and Harmon at tackles with Jay Anderson and Dave Showalter at guards. Rick Jeager is the center.

The defensive line averages around 220. The defensive ends are Gary Wenshlag and Gary Anderson. Bruce Gross and John Gustafson are the tackles and Jack Niemi and Jay Anderson are the guards.

Gustavus was fourth in the MIAC conference last season with a 4-3 record, one notch ahead of the Bulldogs.

UMD has an all-time record of five wins and nine losses against Gustavus and will try to close the gap Saturday.

After a somewhat less than spectacular start the UMD Bulldogs will try to get back on the road to recovery when they play Gustavus Adolphus at St. Peter Saturday night.

The Bulldogs have yet to score a single point this season after their 27-0 defeat at the hands of South Dakota State in the season opener and then a 13-0 pasting by Augsburg last Saturday.

The loss to South Dakota was the first time Coach Jim Malosky's team has been shut out at home since Malosky started his coaching career at UMD back in 1958. The two consecutive shutouts was also a first. Malosky has never been shut out more than twice in a single season.

Malosky brought UMD its first Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship in 1960 when the Bulldogs posted a 6-1 record. They repeated as champions the following year with a 7-1 mark.

The best season in Bulldog history was back in 1938 when they had a perfect 7-0 mark. In contrast the worst year was in 1952 when the Bulldogs lost all seven contests.

The game with Augsburg was the MIAC opener for both teams. UMD grinded out a total of 227 yards and had a first down advantage of seven in the game but still was not able to score.

The Bulldogs were stopped by the tough Auggie defense after three long drives. The third penetration was halted after Joel Nyquist picked off a pass and raced 90 yards for a score and a 6-0 Augsburg lead which they never relinquished.

But Malosky, certainly not smiles after the two losses, isn't exactly in a state of despair either.

"We have a good team and I think we are coming around," said Malosky.

"I was impressed and encouraged by the way they played at Augsburg. The team played as a unit and had good hustle, desire and spirit. We are improving and now we just have to iron out some of the minor difficulties.

The absence of five regulars has hurt us. Two seniors did not return and Bob Wilkowski, who grabbed 43 passes in two seasons and ranks second among all-time receivers, is injured and will miss the season. Then Jim Martin, our defensive tackle, who is a solid performer was hurt and so was Jim Mason, an end."

"That is quite a blow and we have had to try and adjust," continued Malosky. Mason has not seen any action yet and Martin has seen very little. But they should be back soon. Eric Eversley, the left half, should be ready in time for the game. Actually we are in pretty good shape and are maturing fast.

"Harry Davis and Dick Voltzke, both transfer students from the University of Minnesota are in their first year of eligibility and show great potential but they have not played since high school and are a little inexperienced right now."

"We have lost so many starters and some players have been pressed into action before they were ready," noted Malosky.

"It is tough to just go in there and do a good job right away. It all takes time but we have a lot of good players and they are definitely starting to move.

We are lucky that the MIAC is so evenly balanced this year. It is anybody's race. St. John's, the defending champions and St. Thomas were expected to be outstanding teams but they both lost their opening games and so it will be up to us to do something to stay in the race. You can bet that we'll be a real tough team before this season is over."

Dream Finally Realized; UMD to Have Stadium

A dream—now a reality. Yes, that's right, plans for construction of a 3,800-seat football stadium at UMD were announced last Thursday by Provost Raymond W. Darland.

A $50,000 gift from former University Regent Richard L. Griggs has made construction possible at this time.

Plans for the stadium were first realized by the late Reidar Lund, former executive sports editor of the Duluth Herald-News-Tribune, who in 1958 helped raise the initial $2,000.

The seats are expected to be installed in time for the UMD St. Thomas Homecoming game at 2 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 29. A formal dedication is planned at this time.

It is hoped that the lighting will be ready for use for the last home game with Macalester at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 5. An all-electric, day-night scoreboard already has been installed and the field has been sodded.

By 1969 an additional 4,000 more seats will be located on the south side of the field, forming one wall of a to-be constructed fieldhouse.

Alumni president, David Zentner, looks forward to a new, greater era in UMD sports because of the new stadium, the new Duluth Arena and the excellent facilities already provided on campus.

Provost Darland added, "This is what we need to help bring more student and public interest in the football team. The enrollment is rising at a fantastic rate and we feel that in time the stadium will enhance sports at UMD."

Dr. Emmett Davidson, UMD faculty representative also agrees that this is the beginning of school spirit and tradition at UMD

The 3,800 seat stadium is of the bleacher type being used extensively by universities and professional teams across the nation. The stands will be 234 feet long, 53 feet deep and will have about 25 rows of seats served by four aisles.

Seventy-two mercury flood lamps will be mounted on eight steel poles, two of them 90 feet tall, six of the 70 feet tall.
