NEW DRAFT REGULATIONS TO BENEFIT STUDENTS

The selective service board has recently made an announcement of interest to college men. College students may, after receiving their pre-induction physical notice, still finish that academic year and enlist in the service branch of their choice. This is a change from the ruling which was previously in effect, which said students could not enlist after receiving their pre-induction physical notice. Enlistments may now be made any time before receipt of the induction notice.

Any college student doing satisfactory work may be deferred until the end of that academic year. If a student is in the upper half of his class he is eligible to apply to his draft board for reclassification. These students may be classified as 2A.

This classification can be kept only as long as the student remains in the upper half, and will increase a student's chances for returning to school next fall. The selective service board recommends that students classified as 2A consider attending summer school. This action would help to prove that they are serious about completing school.

DEBATE TEAMS RECEIVE HIGH RATING AT MEET

Last week-end two UMD debate teams journeyed to Moorehead to participate in the Red River Valley Debate tournament where they won 5 out of 12 debates.

Luther college, Decorah, Iowa, was the winner with Eau Claire and St. Olaf placing second and third, respectively. Twenty-six colleges and universities sent teams to compete in this tournament.

SCOTTISH GROUP HEARS TEZLA SPEAK

The people who attended the 192nd Burns' birthday dinner in Clan Stewart hall, 1012 East First street, last Saturday night heard Albert Tezla, English instructor, give summations of Burns' influence today.

The dinner, which was followed by a program and dance, is sponsored annually by Clan Stewart, Order of Scottish Clans. David Elder, chief, presided.

Art and Music Films Will Be Presented

An art and music program of films will be shown Thursday at 12:00 in the auditorium. This features two short operas and two movies on art. The operas are "The Barber of Seville," a famous comic opera, and "Lucia di Lammermoor." Both of these feature Tito Gabbi, a famous Italian baritone. The two movies on art include "Namatjira, the Painter," the story of an Australian aborigine who has become one of our most respected modern painters, and "Maya Through the Ages," a color film on Maya art and civilization.

The movies will last about an hour and a half.

"Dr. Faustus" Will Begin Four Day Run Wednesday

The drama department's centennial production of "Dr. Faustus" will be presented Wednesday through Saturday of next week at 8:20 p. m. in the UMD auditorium. Advance ticket sales will begin today in the front hall of Main or tickets may be purchased by calling 3-1225.

This is the first time in the history of UMD that a play will have a four-night run.

Orchesis and the music department have also contributed their talents to make this production unique. Interesting expressions by the modern dance art have been created by Mrs. Rosemary Hoene for the seven deadly sins which will be danced by Nancy Diers, Elizabeth Anderson, Kay Onsgard, Virginia Christie, Erveen Mary and and Donna Grace.

Dr. Addison Alspach has composed special music for each of the sins. He has also written music for a dramatic interlude during a dawn scene for trombone and oboe which will be played by John Duncan and John Kinkaid, respectively. The mixed chorus will sing before the play begins.

Marlowe's poetic version of the Faust legend will be interpreted by Phil Smith as John Faustus, Herb Taylor as Mephistopholis, Robert Nelson as the Old Man, and a dozen other hard-working drama students under the imaginative direction of Dr. Hayes.

THREE SORORITIES PLEDGE NEW MEMBERS THIS WEEK

The newly elected officers of the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority council elected to serve for the rest of the year are Paul Johnson, president; Marguerite Bender, secretary; Joan Peterson and Helmer Nelson, social co-chairmen. A new constitution was also adopted at the meeting.

This year, for the first time, rushing is being carried out under the co-ordination of this council. Sigma Psi Gamma and Delta Beta Gamma completed signing of pledges at formal dinners last night.

Completion of sorority rushing was carried out by Sigma Phi Gamma and Delta Beta Gamma last night by the signing of pledges at formal dinners.

Sigma Phi Kappa held its formal initiation at the Woman's club Wednesday following a ruff initiation at Portman Square the preceding night. Rushees, Joan Fish, Bev Evans, Ruth Hayes, Jean Grandmaison, Mary Heinan and Mary Young were presented symbols to be worn as necklaces.

Following a ruff initiation held last week at Ardene Miller's home new members, Joyce

Dinner to Be Given By Faculty Wives

The faculty men will be guests of their wives at a buffet dinner and party to be held at Tweed hall on Tuesday at 6 p. m. This is becoming an annual event since this is the third year these parties have been given. The group will play cards following the dinner, according to Mrs. Raymond Darland, program chairman.

Chairman of the social committee is Mrs. Gerhand von Glahn. Other members of this committee are: Mrs. Peter Apostolokos, Mrs. Allen Downs, Mrs. Joseph Gerlach, Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mrs. Maske, Mrs. James Richards, Mrs. Richard Sielaff, Mrs. Albert Tezla, and Mrs. Ward Wells.

Cafeteria Meal Tickets Are Available Now

Meal tickets went on sale this week in the cafeteria. A $10 ticket may be purchased for $9.50 and a $20 ticket for $18.50. These tickets will be honored at any time in the cafeteria.

Torrance Hall girls may either buy a set of tickets or remain under the present plan of room and board.

A replacement for Miss Boldts, former cafeteria dietician, has not yet been chosen. She left for a new position in Chicago.

Several Campus Organizations Will Sponser Snow Week Events

Plans are under way to make Snow Week, Feb. 19-24, the big event of winter quarter. Although the Council executive board is in charge of general arrangements, various organizations are sponsoring the different events.

Organizations are reminded that the deadline for Snow Queen nominations is 3 p. m. Friday. The nomination, plus a picture of the candidate, should be placed in P. O. 1.

Snow Week activities will begin Monday, Feb. 19, with an all school skating party at the Duluth Curling club. ROTC is sponsoring the event with Ron Weber in charge of arrangements.

There will be a band concert in the auditorium Tuesday night, Feb. 20.

Wednesday, Feb. 21, the Interfraternity-sorority council will give a dance in the gym.

Thursday, Feb. 22, is a holiday because of Washington's birthday. An all day program of winter sports is being arranged by WAA, PEMM'S and the recreational leadership class. There will also be a ski meet at Chester Bowl the same day. That night there will be a square dance at East high. The UMD-Y club is in charge of the event with Don Carson as chairman. The Snow King will be chosen at the square dance, following the judging of the beard contests.

Friday night, Feb. 23, a big talent show will be held in the auditorium. Roger Lillehei is chairman of the show, which will be sponsored by the senior class. He asks that any student talent which has some different and unusual acts see him. The convocation will be followed by a stocking dance in the gym. The Snow Queen will be crowned at the talent show.

Snow Week will be climaxed Saturday night, Feb. 24, with a semi-formal Snow Ball, sponsored by the sophomore class. Ron Kramnic is in charge of plans for the dance.

George, 'Uncle' Elizabeth, to Be One And the Same as Tom Turns Actor

By RAY NADDY

If you haven't been cutting classes regularly, you've met him. If you've been chasing mice around the building, you've probably run across him. If you've been cruising around the third floor in Old Main around midnight, you've seen him and will know we're talking about George.

Despite the fact that he is referred to as, "She, her and it," George, a large black-and-white tom cat, is a bonafide HE.

First noticed around UMD in August, George has settled down, making Old Main his home. As a result of his residence, the mice and rats have been forced to vacate. A decision of theirs that up to the time of George was considered not only improbable but impossible.

George, thoroughly house-broken, makes his home in the boiler rooms under the lab school and has the run of the entire building and adjoining acres. Not being proud, George attends classes regularly, and as if he doesn't know any better he even goes into business and economics classes. Climbing up on desks and strutting across classrooms, George has the distinction of breaking up more carefully prepared lectures than any other cat on the campus.

George isn't just any cat: heaven forbid. Take his eating habits for instance; he looks at the white mice in the psychology lab with distaste and he won't consider eating sandwiches composed of spiced lunch meat. Otherwise George is a very normal cat, hating dogs, running to the coal bin during emergencies and hating to be alone.

George, UMD's nomination for Duluth's most educated cat title, plans to add to his list of extra curricular activities that of an actor. Knowing George and other UMD hams, we know that George can ham with the best, or should we say the worst, of them.

In the play, "I Remember Mama," which the University theatre is planning to produce, George is being enticed to sign a contract to play the part of the cat. An assignment in which we are sure George can prove his ability to star in any role.

Despite his roving instincts, we are sure George will remain at UMD to play in this production. It is sure to be one of the top achievements of his undergraduate days. Incidentally, the Guild members are watching George's every move these days, for if George does revert to his old tom cat ways, no one knows just which ham director Hayes will assign to fill in as George's understudy.

So, if by any chance a big black-and-white tom cat has ever leaped upon your shoulder, scratched your face and smiled at you, you have met him. Respect him, for he's an honored dramatist, economist, linguist, rodent exterminator and guardian of the coal pile, our own, GEORGE.

Dear Editor:

Hats off to Arne Moilanen's "Chalk Talk" column. As to the Krebs' contribution, gripe is tripe and so is Krebs.

Mr. Krebs has been hammering away at the Range athletes lately. Again? No. yet . . .

P. S. To Range athletes:

Krebs' gripes are not representative of the UMD student body. We welcome all athletes whether they be from Podunk Valley or Skunk Hollow.

So, come on all you potential muscle-men, sign up with UMD. With our excellent coaching staff and a new athletic plant in sight, UMD may become a powerhouse in the MIAC.

In the meantime, Mr. Krebs, if you must attempt sports-writing, try to omit your personal objections and think of the college in terms of its entirety.

One of the many Range students who would like to see UMD grow.

Joe R. Marches.

My Dear Mr. Marches:

I am sorry if I have had to "hammer away at the Range athletes" as you so aptly phrase it. but someone, somewhere, has to try to get up enough spunk among the Range athletes so as to encourage them to attend UMD and get in on the Bulldog athletic program! I have had no intentions of belittling our northwest "neighbors" but, rather, would like to see them come "en masse" to UMD for their own good as well as for the good of the school.

Personally, I think this feud between the Range and Duluth should come to an end and that we should all get together and show the Twin Cities that we, up here in the northland, are not "out-state" as they so delight in calling us, but that they are "down and out-state."

John Krebs.

HEY, LOOK! RED BEARDS!

Several UMD men sprouted strange looking beards this week. They were bright red, and looked curiously as if they were carefully drawn, rather than grown.

Investigation revealed that Kangaroo court had gone into session Wednesday. Those men who were unable to give a good excuse for not wearing beards were promptly assisted in growing them. Red beards sprouted miraculously with the assistance of strong arms and a bottle of methylate.

BLESSED BE THE TIE THAT BINDS . . .

Quip of the week, by a student, "The United Nations would be more accurately named the UN-TIED Nations." Maybe a good strong rope around a few necks would help . . .

RING!

Last week the men got a clew, this week for the girl's benefit is Beta Phi Kappa's new telephone number . . . 3-6292.

RING! RING!

Our little spy in the belle system tells us that the Victory hall nurses' number at St. Mary's is 7-9813 and not as it is in the directory.

SQUARE THOSE BEANIES . . .

Swabie hats with red initials are the official pledge uniform of Beta Phi Kappa during initiation period.

MINNESOTA, HAIL TO THEE—

These words may be heard issuing from any secondary education class room these days. It has become a class assignment in Dr. Wheat's, Dr. Goldstein's and Mr. Robert Porter's class to learn the school hymn. Their contribution to school spirit. Music students are conducting the classes in singing the song.

EDITORIAL . . .

YOU ASKED FOR IT, NOW WHAT?

Tuesday night, as a part of Open House week, the Student council meeting was opened to the student body. Did you attend? We hope you did.

You may not realize it, but ALL meetings of the Student council, unless it is expressly stated otherwise, are open to the student body.

The Student council is the most important student organization on campus, and you should know what it is doing. It is your direct connection with the administration, your voice and your mediator. Your Student council has been working hard for you this year, and it needs your support.

By working with a co-operative administration, the Council has managed to inaugurate four student services this year. This is an admirable record and the Council this year is fulfilling its purpose.

- The Canteen which opened last week was began because the Council felt that students needed a place for recreation. Four new pieces of modern plastic and chrome furniture have been installed to help relieve the monotony of straight-backed chairs.

- The bus service to the Science building has provided a way for students to major in science without freezing during the process.

- The meal ticket system, scheduled to begin this week, is another Council-backed convenience. Dormitory girls have been given the choice of separate board and room or remaining under the old contract.

- The library was opened on Wednesday nights because of Council recommendation.

These four services have two things in common. First, they are in operation because of the Student council, and second, they are on a temporary basis. The Council got them for you because they felt you needed them, but they cannot keep them unless you use them. If they are not used they will not stay in operation and the Council's work will go for naught.

"THE TITAN is biographical, yet so subtly done, suggesting, describing, carrying the thread of art, history, politics, and making the presence of Michelangelo, himself, felt, although no human figure appears on the screen. The travelogue through Florence and Rome is in itself a thrill!"—Margaret St. George, UMD Art Dept.

'YOUR CAREER' SERIES — NO. 7

Banking Demands Long-Run View

Commercial banking, from the long-run viewpoint, offers good employment prospects, simply because "many qualified people who might ultimately have found themselves in good banking jobs have been unwilling to accept the low starting salaries offered," according to Dr. Cecil Meyers, assistant professor of business and economics here.

Ed Cunningham and Leonard Reed, in their booklet "Your Career," published by Simon and Schuster, further point out that "banks have been having and probably will continue to have difficulties in getting qualified personnel, because the security factor of bank employment has been overshadowed by high earning possibilities in industry." With nearly 400,000 people now engaged in commercial banking as compared to 268,000 in 1940, they estimate the field can absorb a minimum of 20,000 annually.

Regionally, rural and small city banks offer the most varied training, but best advancement opportunities for specialized personnel are in the large banks.

College training is increasingly necessary for jobs leading to official posts. Studies should include commercial law, negotiable instruments, accounting, economics, business management and banking operations. For special fields, such as trusts, investments, credit and foreign banking, postgraduate work is indicated.

The commercial banker (at the highest level) sets up and operates facilities for safekeeping of funds, and for movement of checks, notes, currency and business papers, and is responsible for strict accounting controls. He converts funds of de-positors into bank investments and loans; provides capital for all types of construction, business expansion, etc., in forms of mortgages or loans to corporations and individuals. He determines the advisability of granting loans on the basis of his appraisal of risk involved. Sets up and operates trust funds for clients, with authority to buy, sell, or switch investments. Supervises wills and administers estates.

Starting salaries for non-college grads run $25-$35 per week. An example of progress for a college graduate: starts as credit clerk in large bank, at $45-$55 per week, stays in post about one year; credit analyst gets $55-$75 for first year, may go to $100 if he stays longer.

Next week: Commercial Artist.

Griffith To Lecture On Motion Picture Accomplishments

"The Films in Our World," a lecture by film authority Richard Griffith, will be presented at the convocation Tuesday. Mr. Griffith, assistant to the director of the Museum of Modern Art Film Library, New York, will discuss the accomplishments and potentialities of motion pictures.

The speaker has a large background in films. He is co-author of "The Film Till Now" and a writer on films for many publications. He has done research in film history and also has served as executive director of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures.

Mr. Griffith will also show a Buster Keaton silent film, "Sherlock, Jr." and discuss it. A small portion of the film will be shown during convo and the complete film afterwards for those who choose to remain.

The movie, "Sherlock, Jr." is an uproarious comedy directed by and starring Buster Keaton. It concerns a small-town motion picture projectionist who aspires to become a great detective. His first amateur effort results in his being accused of the crime he is trying to solve. Despondent, he returns to the projection booth to put on the evening show, and, falling asleep, dreams that the characters in the film have turned into people in his life.

Students who have received "F" grades will have to earn additional points to meet the "C" average required for graduation.

UNIVERSITY WEEK TO COMMEMORATE MINNESOTA'S CENTENNIAL YEAR

In observance of University week which begins Monday to commemorate the Centennial year of the University of Minnesota, Dr. John E. King, acting provost, noted: "Over a 100-year span the influence of the University of Minnesota has been seen in virtually every activity—social, cultural, industrial, economic—in the state."

"The thousands of students who received their preparation at the University, the untold research in many fields by University men and women and the rich cultural contributions it has made are living testimonials to the University of Minnesota and its leaders through the decades."

SEMPER FIDELIS PLANS PARTY FOR FUND TO AID AREA MARINES

The Semper Fidelis club, a recently formed organization in Duluth which has taken upon itself the task of raising the morale of the U. S. marines of this area and their families, is sponsoring a games party Tuesday at 8:00 p. m. in the Hotel Duluth ballroom.

Anyone who is interested is invited to join the club, although the membership is now largely ex-marines, and mothers, fathers, wives, sweethearts and widows of the Duluth area men who left with our "B" Co. 4th Infantry Battalion, last August 21.

Among those men were alumni, students and former students of UMD, including: 2nd Lt. John Lindseth, S-Sgt. Herb Sonnenberg, Sgt. John Spencer, Cpls. Warrand Kirsch, Ew Spencer, Ray Naddy, Jim Murray, John Hull, Harvey Solon, Bob Ignatius, and Tom Marron, and Pfc's. Mel Hendrickson, Jerry Riordan, Don McVaugh, Hank Oltmann, Bob Effinger, Richard Harkwell, and Dick Bellamy.

UMD representatives have held their casualties at a minimum, and none have been killed, but twelve Duluthians have been killed, 43 wounded, and many evacuated because of frostbite.

To bring home a little closer to every Marine the Semper Fidelis club has set as its goal. Weekly luncheons are sponsored at which men on furlough or en route to their homes are guests

BULLDOGS BOW TO HAMLINE PIPERS

CHALK TALK

By ARNE MOILANEN

The UMD hockey team did not mean to imply that Dr. King was at fault for the hockey dilemma which was expressed in a recent letter to the editor written by a representative of the hockey team. Rather, Dr. King has given the situation full consideration and support.

A game with St. Olaf has been scheduled for Feb. 19 and a contest with Carleton is tentatively listed. The athletic department is attempting to schedule St. Thomas as well. These will all be home games.

Prep Talk

Duluth Central's rampaging Trojans should be the team to beat when the District tournament rolls around next month, but upsets do occur as can be proved by Morgan Park's victories over Two Harbors and Esko last year. In District 28, we'll string along with Hibbing although Chisholm edged the Bluejackets last week, and in District 27, we'll vote for Gilbert.

Charity Tosses

We would like to have seen Dick Hill, former UMD cager, on the floor against his former mates when the Pipers played here. Hill was mentioned in a national sports magazine, "Stanley Woodward's Basketball," as a possible starter on Coach Joe Hutton's Piper five. However, a bad leg kept the former Proctor flash out of action this year.

Comparisons

With four games remaining in conference play and a record of four wins and four losses to date, it appears that this year's version of the Bulldogs will be able to better the record of last year's team which compiled a conference record of five wins and seven losses. Their overall record was nine wins and 13 losses while the '51 Bulldogs have won ten and lost eight so far.

Odds and Ends

Probably the least noticed but still a very important individual at the Bulldog basketball games is Les Nummela, the equipment manager. Les, a trackman, is a junior and hails from Kettle River.

Ron Johnson, ex-Central ace, is the lone Bulldog in the Air National Guard. He won't be the only one affected by the present international situation though since Bruce Budge has already taken his pre-induction physical.

The Klo-Kay bowling team, it has been said, are the "New York Yankees" of the intramural league.

PAULSON POTS 23 AS SPIRITED UMD QUINTET DROPS FOURTH MIAC GAME

The UMD Bulldogs, playing their last game under the capable wing of Lieutenant Ray Isenbarger, USN, literally played their hearts out for the 31-year-old coach, but to no avail as they were handed a decisive 75-59 defeat by the towering Hamline Pipers last week at the Duluth Armory.

Despite a brilliant floor game by the spirited Bulldogs' freshman sensation, Bruce Paulson, the modest 6 ft., 2 in. bespectacled Moose Lake product, who scored 10 field goals and a trio of gift shots for a sizzling 23-point total, the superior Hamline height was too great an obstacle to overcome. Pug Norlander was watched closely but the blond Bulldog managed to get 14 points.

For the league-leading Pied Pipers, it was their shortest starter, Lloyd Thorgaard, who paced the scoring parade as the flashy 6-2 forward garnered 25 counters. Sophomore Jim Fritsche, a 6-7 forward who has been hampered with a serious foot infection throughout the season, came through with 13.

Boasting a starting lineup averaging 6'4 1/2"—two inches taller than the tallest UMD starter—Coach Joe Hutton's quintet was given little trouble as the skyscrapers left the floor at the intermission with a 44-24 lead.

The spirits of the UMD fans soared considerably late in the first stanza when the Pipers' 6-7 center, Dave Hegna, drew his fourth foul and was taken out of the fracas—only to be replaced by 6-6 Paul Smaagaard.

During the half-time, Isenbarger was presented with gifts on behalf of the student body, the M club, and the team. The student body ended the ceremony with an appropriate "Anchors Aweigh."

PUCKSTERS OUSTED IN CARNIVAL MEET

After losing the opener in the St. Paul Winter Carnival to Macalester of St. Paul 6-2 last Thursday, Coach Hank Jensen's UMD hockey squad came back strong the next day to whip Hamline 8 to 1 in a conference tilt.

UMD 2, MACALESTER 6

Leading for the first two thirds of the Mac contest, the Bulldog pucksters ran out of steam, allowing the Scots to score five goals in the last period. The Branchmen, holding a 2-1 advantage, seemed well on their way to their first win of the season on goals by Chuck Sundeen and Ernie Mustonen, assisted by Wilson and Krysiak, respectively. Dick Ventrucchi and Ed Berry stood out defensively for Duluth as they broke up many Macalester scoring bids.

Wally Heikkinen, with Bob Wilson's able support, led the Branch boys to a decisive triumph over the Piper sextet, 8 to 1, as they accumulated seven scores between them. Jim Krysiak and Bob Apostol were each credited with two assists. Heikkinen counted in the first 21 seconds of the game, while Wilson waited until only two seconds remained before the final gong to get his second goal of the game. Starring in the net for Duluth was Ron Signorelli as he made many splendid saves in a torrid second period.

Rickertmen Stall To Edge Auggies

With nine of the ten players who saw action scoring at least four points apiece, UMD's beard-growing Bulldogs put on a last-quarter rally and stalled out the final few minutes to salvage a 66-65 victory over the Augsburg collegians last Saturday night at the Duluth Armory.

The Branchmen played their first game under the coaching of Athletic Director Lew Rickert as Pug Norlander rimmed the bucket for 13 points and Dale Bentz for 12.

Other UMD scorers were: John McKeag 8, Bruce Paulson 7, Paul Nace and Bill Christiansen 6 each, Tom Dillon and Bruce Budge 5 apiece, and last, but not least, Ron Johnson with 4.

Big Bill Jensen was the lone Bulldog who failed to break into the scoring column. Bruce Johnson and Virg Gehring paced the losers as they went half and half on a combined 28-point total.

The hectic battle was another of the referee-dominated affairs as a not-so-grand total of 60 personal fouls were called—32 against the Auggies.

Eugene "Pug" Norlander, a mainstay and letterman of the Bulldog cage teams of the last three years, began his basketball career while at Lincoln Junior high. Moving over to Denfeld, Pug won letters in his favorite sport all three years, plus one in football. A member of the 1947 Denfeld state champions, Norlander's rebounding and shooting ability had much to do with their winning the State Prep title, and his selection as an All Regional forward.

Always a dependable floorman and scorer, willowy Gene is leading the UMD team in scoring, and is pressing the conference leader for high scoring honors. Because of his uncanny accuracy and wide variety of shots, he is a marked man against conference foes. Pug was awarded a numeral for freshman basketball while at the Main U in his first college year.

Norlander's nickname was tacked on at the age of five when he played football with older neighborhood kids. This was during Pug Lund's stardom at Minnesota in the early 1930's.

A pretty fair golfer, Pug spends most of his spare summer hours on the Enger Park skyline course.

Secretary of the Phi Alpha Theta (honorary history frat) and a member of the PEMM and M clubs, Gene is a conscientious student and has earned good grades while in college. Graduating this June as a double major in Physical Education and History, Pug would like to begin in secondary education, teaching history and assisting with coaching and P. E.
