School Building
1906

The above picture indicates the entire equipment for school purposes of the Northwest School of Agriculture in 1906. One building, constructed and furnished at a cost of $15,000, accommodated everything,—administrative offices, library, class rooms, kitchen, dining room, and dormitory apartments. The legislature having made no provision, funds for school maintenance were raised by private subscription among citizens of Crookston and other places in Northwestern Minnesota. But for this patriotic popular support, school could not have been opened at that time. In 1907 the legislature appropriated $2500 to refund these private contributions and maintain the school another year. The rapid growth of the institution, as shown by the picture opposite, indicates an appreciation of the need of such a school in the Northwest.

REETINGS TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS
OF 1915:

William Penn said: "The Country is both the philosopher's garden and library, in which he reads and contemplates the power, wisdom and goodness of God." May you return to country life with increased intelligence, keener interest and renewed enthusiasm, resolved to do all in your power not only to increase harvests of grain, but those of neighborliness and good will!

Your sincere friend,

George E. Vincent.

Dean A. F. Woods
Department of Agriculture

University Farm,
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1, 1915.

TO THE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN OF THE NORTHWEST SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE:

You are beginning your great work in the morning of a new century. The world is at war. Suffering, Starvation and Death appal us on every hand. But on the dark clouds there already shines the bow of peace. It dips down into the great northwest. The land of sunshine and of golden grain, with cattle on a thousand hills, and happy homes of a vigorous and contented people. A land in the morning of its prosperity needing only your skill for the fulfillment of its great promise.

Faithfully yours,

A. F. Woods,

To Class of 1915.

Superintendent C. G. Selvig
Northwest School and Station

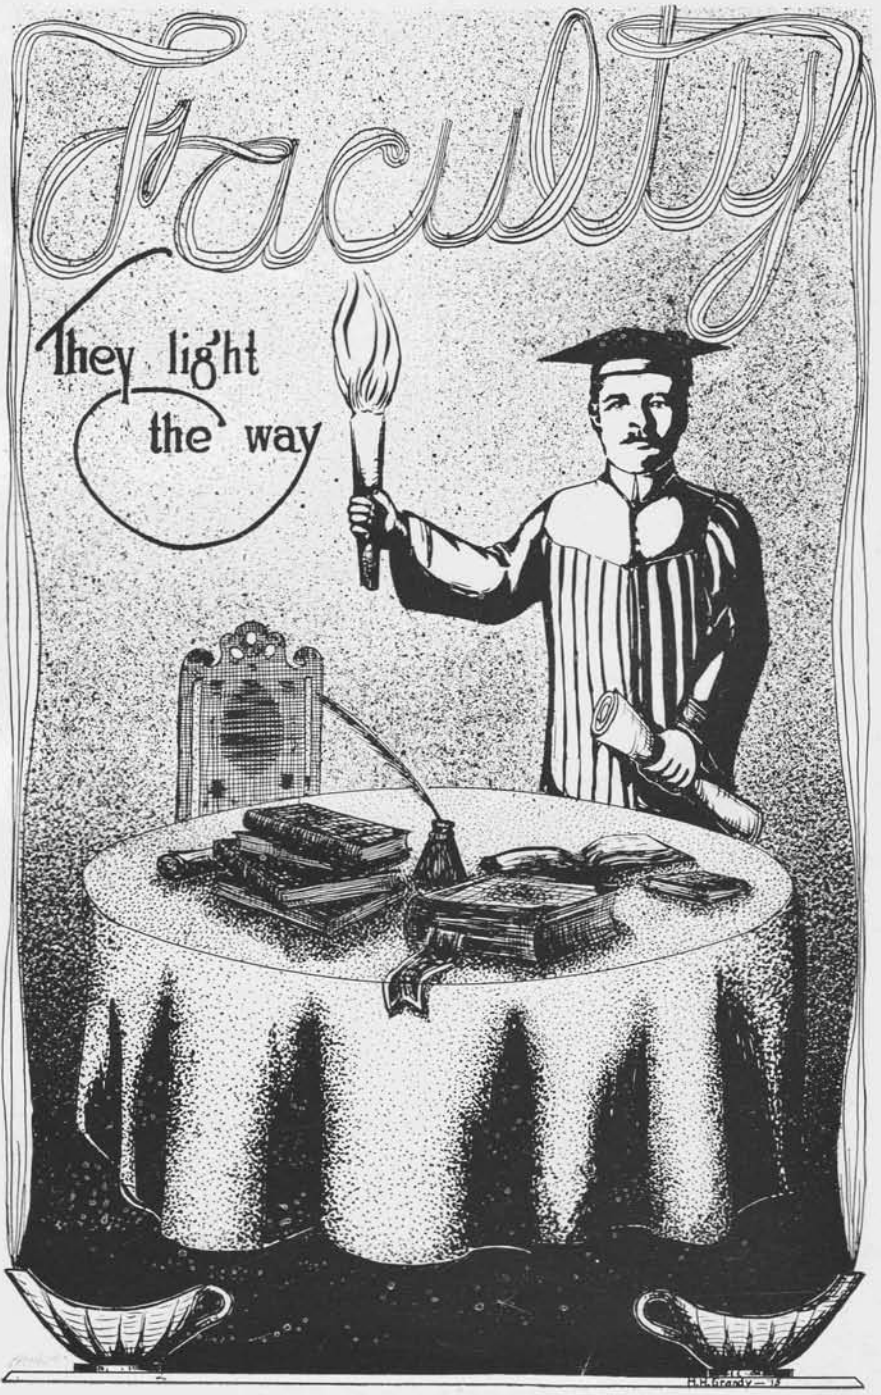

TO THE CLASS OF 1915:

You have the privilege and the responsibility of upholding the name and reputation of the Class of 1915. Each succeeding year calls for higher ability and greater powers of concentration. There are many desirable purposes which your school has deemed significant. There is a great work to do to promote these worthy endeavors. How well you will do, no one can foretell; all expect you to do your best. It remains only for you to use your fullest powers, patriotically, and in the way of the largest selfishness of which you are capable!

Sincerely your friend;

C. G. Selvig

Y. W. C. A.

Gertrude is the only person in the class that does not get angry. Wherever you see her she is either laughing or getting ready to. She maintains the cheerful side of the class. She was born in Angus, May 30, 1896, at which place she received her elementary education.

"I should worry."

Sophie Monson, Drayton, N. D.

"Sof"

Home Economics Club

Y. W. C. A.

Her favorite study is Domestic Science, and if she goes on with her education she may some day become a domestic science teacher. She was born in 1894 on a farm near Bobbin, Minn. Her former education was at a district school and one year at high school.

We all think she is a light hearted, joyful girl.

Lawrence Floan, Melvin, Minn.

"Isaac"

Y. M. C. A.

Newton is one of the brightest boys in the Senior Class. If his success through life will be as great as his success at school, he will never have any cause to regret his past school days. He was born in St. Paul, Oct. 25, 1896. He attended school there and also at Felton.

Christian Hagen, Hendrum, Minn.

"Christmas"

Senior Basket Ball

Debating Club

Boys' Glee Club

Y. M. C. A.

Hagen is one of the smallest boys in the class, but good stuff is put up in small parcels, so he is all right. "He is short, but thick," the Juniors say when they run into him in a basket ball game. He attended a country school about two miles from Hendrum, where he also finished the eighth grade. He was born in Hendrum, Minn., Feb. 7, 1896.

"Just what I figured."

In 1895 the census of Ortonville, Minn., was increased by the arrival of Earle. He has attended school in various places in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Before attending the N. W. S. A. he attended the Crookston High School.

"The More the Merrier."

Charles Harris, McHugh, Minn.

"Chuck"

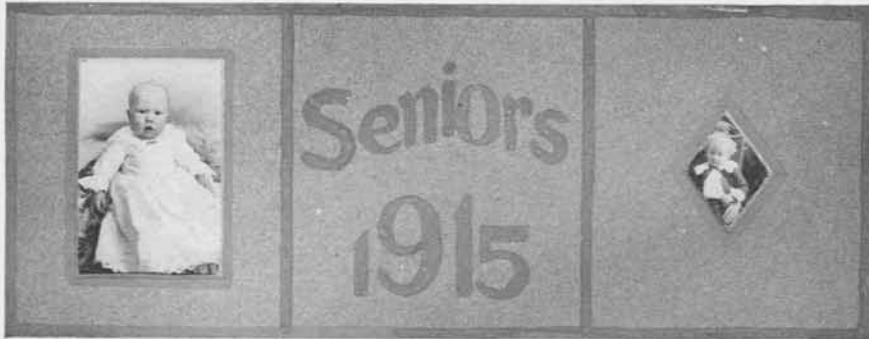

Band

Sergeant at Arms,—Senior Class

Y. M. C. A.

"Chuck" arrived one sunny morning on the 11th day of July, 1893, at Sauk Rapids, Minn. He went to school at Benton County, Minn., but since his parents went to McHugh he could not finish there. He came to this school in 1912, but missed one year, and we're glad he came to finish with this class. Chuck is a very funny fellow and very popular.

"Pass the clothes pins."

Ole Pederson, Fertile, Minn.

"Ola"

Aggies Basket Ball

Boys' Glee Club

Y. M. C. A.

Ole has won his way through school against all sorts of difficulties, but has made good through all his troubles. We are all proud of Ole for the work he has done for us in basket ball and otherwise.

He first attended school in Fertile, where he finished the eighth grade. He was born in Fertile, Minn., Mar. 29, 1896.

"Oh! Schucks."

William Rud, New Salem, Minn.

"Willy"

Y. M. C. A.

Willie was born in 1892 at New Salem, Marshall County. He attended the public schools at that place before taking the course at the Agricultural School. Willie is a very industrious boy and surely hates to leave the A. C.

"I wish I could win."

Harold Dunton, Bagley, Minn.

Y. M. C. A.

Harold first saw the light of day in Buffalo, Minn., in 1897, but soon moved to Bagley, Minn., where he attended the public schools. He came here last year. His favorite study is Dairy Husbandry.

 Holy, Holy, Holy! Merciful and mighty!
 God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

Holy, Holy, Holy! All the saints adore Thee,
 Casting down their golden crowns around the glassy sea;
 Cherabim and Seraphim falling down before Thee,
 Which wert and art, and evermore shall be.

Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty!
 All Thy works shall praise Thy name in earth, and sky, and sea;
 Holy, Holy, Holy! Merciful and Mighty,
 God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

Daisy Thornton, her friend	- - - - -	Elizabeth Strandness
Mrs. O'Connor, with no liking for goats	- - - - -	Hannah Gulseth
Mandy Bates, whose tongue will stumble	- - - - -	Gertrude Osterloh

ACT I.

Time—Autumn.

Mrs. Briggs, a widow, looks steadfastly on the bright side of human affairs, although she cannot get enough work to provide for her four children. Ralph, her adopted son, decides that he must not be a burden to her any longer, but must go to the city to earn a livelihood. Virginia Lee, much to the disgust of her wealthy father, is devoted to Ralph, and visits the Briggs' home often. She is finally disinherited by her father who cannot persuade Mrs. Briggs to help him out of his difficulty. Jimmie, Mrs. Briggs' own son, also leaves for the city.

ACT II.

Time—Christmas season.

Virginia Lee has come to live with Mrs. Briggs. This ambitious woman borrows money from Silas Green, whose great grandfather's aunt was her grandfather's cousin, for the purpose of setting herself up in the poultry business. Christmas, a holiday that, according to Mrs. Briggs, is a day that comes to mock poor folks, is made a merry day for the children by neighbors and friends. Jimmie's coming home and an "incubus" for her poultry yard from Ralph, who is still in the city, make Christmas day a happy one for Mrs. Briggs, who had dreaded the day.

ACT III.

Time—A few months later.

Mrs. Briggs' good will is more buoyant than ever for Jimmie, and she has an established poultry business. Strange happenings take place that remove all barriers between Ralph and Virginia. The play ends happily for all, leaving an admiration for the genial Mrs. Briggs and her wholesome philosophy in the hearts of her hearers.

Minnesota, hail to thee,
 Hail to thee our college dear;
 Thy light shall ever be
 A beacon bright and clear;
 Thy sons and daughters true
 Will proclaim thee near and far;
 They will guard thy fame
 And adore thy name;
 Thou shalt be our Northern Star.

Like the stream that bends to sea,
 Like the pine that seeks the blue;
 Minnesota still for thee
 Thy sons are strong and true.
 From their woods and waters fair;
 From their prairies waving far,
 At thy call they throng
 With their shout and song,
 Hailing thee their Northern Star.

Every Day Chronicles

OUT-DOOR FESTIVAL.

Saturday, October 24.

There have been several pleasant social events since school opened. One of these was an October out-door festival held on a Saturday evening in the grove back of the Home Economics building. In place of supper at the dining hall the students roasted weiners and had other essentials necessary for a picnic supper out-of-doors. After this there was a program of games and athletic stunts, consisting of sack races, imitation pillow fight, tug of war, etc., which caused much amusement. A huge bonfire served as illumination and spread cheer and good spirit among those present. Not a small feature of the occasion was a "ghost walk" by a number of "spirits" which caused fear and consternation among the Freshmen.

Saturday, October 31.

The Hallowe'en party given in the gymnasium proved to be the usual happy event and various stunts and tricks caused mirth to reign supreme throughout the evening. After the program of events necessary to a gathering on this evening the students indulged in games for the rest of the evening. It is rumored that the "evil spirits" were abroad later during the night. This can be testified to by several members of the faculty who were looking after the equipment.

Monday, November 2.

Senior program. Features were solos by Jones, Miss Gunderson and Mills, and a debate on the question, "Resolved, That sweet clover is a better crop for the Red River Valley than alfalfa." C. Cannon and C. Clementson maintained the negative, and W. Johnston and H. Grandy the negative. Affirmative won.

Tuesday, November 3.

The Senior Class celebrated "Voting at the Polls." Band practice with the usual good results.

Friday, November 6.

A large delegation of from three hundred to four hundred teachers who were attending the Teachers' Convention in Crookston came out to visit our school. The Senior girls served refreshments in the Home Economics building while the boys served as escorts. The boys seemed to like it.

Saturday, November 7.

Meetings were held by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

Monday, November 9.

The Junior program consisted of readings and papers by the Juniors and of several selections by the Byrne trio.

Tuesday, November 10.

Band practice this evening. Improvement.

Wednesday, November 11.

Mr. C. Harris was going to visit at Robertson Hall but as he took sick suddenly, he changed his mind.

Thursday, November 12.

The play "Back to the Farm" is scheduled for the Dairymen's Convention December 9, 1914.

Friday, November 13.

Three busses left the school carrying students to attend the Operetta at the Grand this evening.

Saturday, November 14.

"Back to the Farm" was given with splendid results, and improvements over last year's production.

Sunday, November 22.

The girls of Robertson Hall entertained the Senior boys this evening. Readings and songs were rendered after the refreshments.

Monday, November 23.

The Freshman program was excellent, although the greenish tint prevailed.

Tuesday, November 24.

A male quartette has been organized; Oscar Lovas, Oscar Lund, Richard Billings and Martinus Stenseth being the members.

Wednesday, November 25.

An illustrated lecture on the Panama Canal was given by Mr. Bennyhoff, of Minneapolis. Moving pictures followed. The basket ball game between the first team and Freshmen ended with a score of 46-8 in favor of the First Team.

Thursday, November 26.

The day was an unusually happy day for all who are connected with the school and farm.

In the morning, students, faculty members and dining hall girls with the exception of those who went to church, were busy with preparations. Realizing that to carry out the spirit of the day no one should be overburdened with work, all were anxious to do their share and made the preparation easier with their merriment and laughter.

The tables were made to look inviting with attractive place cards and center pieces made from pumpkins loaded with fruit. Yellow chrysanthemums were also used in the decorations.

At half past one o'clock the happy company of nearly two hundred sat down to the feast. Among the guests were the Model School pupils and their parents. Priscillas and John Aldens, the most of them seniors, served the dinner and saw to it that all were carefully waited upon before "they spoke for themselves."

The invitation that had been extended to the people of the community to attend the afternoon and evening celebrations was well responded to, and many outsiders were on hand for the program given at four o'clock in the auditorium.

The program consisted of music, readings and a Thanksgiving talk by Supt. C. G. Selvig. The numbers from the Model School were a new feature, and very much appreciated. Mr. Selvig, in a few well chosen words, expressed many of the things for which we have particular reasons for being thankful this year.

After a short intermission, moving pictures were shown in the auditorium. Between the reels, pictures of the school activities were thrown on the screen much to the delight of the audience.

At six o'clock a buffet lunch was served in the dining room, the Juniors assisting.

In the evening, the games so dear to the hearts and inspiring to the feet of the students were indulged in. The happy Thanksgiving spirit was contagious, and every one present seemed to be fairly bubbling with thankfulness and good will.

The day as a whole was one of the most successful days in the history of the school, and will long be remembered by those who shared in its pleasures.

Friday, November 27.

"Why does Mr. Hest blush to a crimson hue ever and anon?"

A Friday saying by "Chuck" Harris: "I smell fish."

Saturday, November 28.

Moving pictures followed by three half games of basket ball.

1st team vs. Seniors—won by first team.

1st team vs. Juniors—won by first team.

Juniors vs. Seniors—won by Seniors.

Sunday, November 29.

"Sweethearts' Day."

A large number of students were celebrating.

Tuesday, December 1.

Hagen:—"Nobody loves a small man."

Thursday, December 3.

Why does Bob go to his other room and look through the west window?

Saturday, December 5.

At chapel exercises a name for the Annual was voted on, resulting in a vote in the ratio of 3 to 1 in favor of the "The Red River Aggie."

Sunday, December 6.

Supt. Sanberg, of the Crookston schools, gave a very good talk at our evening meeting.

Monday, December 7.

The Advanced Course students gave a good program this evening.

Tuesday, December 8.

Question: "Why is Tuesday designated as our "Blue Monday?"

Answer: Classes meet.

Wednesday, December 9.

The students went to hear the talks given at the Red River Valley Dairy-men's Convention this afternoon.

The A. C. Band played a number of selections.

The play "Back to the Farm" was given with great success.

Thursday, December 10.

Some of the students went to hear the lectures at the Dairy-men's meeting in town this afternoon.

William Lindberg is making a short visit at the school.

Friday, December 11.

Our first team is surely showing results from their regular practice and from the efficient coaching under Mr. O. Buhr.

Saturday, Decemebr 12.

A game between the "All Stars" of Crookston and the "Aggies" was played, resulting in a bad outlook for the "Stars." Score was Stars, 8; Aggie, 37.

A game followed between the Juniors and Seniors. This was a very interesting game but, of course, the Seniors won. Saugstad lost his wind once, but finally fount it in a corner of the gym.

Sunday, December 13.

Vacation must be close at hand from the way the fellows are sending home for money and telling hard luck stories.

Mr. Clementson, Jr., gave a fine talk at Senior Hall today.

Monday, December 14.

The Debating Club program was postponed until after Christmas.

Tuesday, December 15.

Dr. F. H. Koch, of Grand Forks, read Dickens' "Christmas Carol" at the school auditorium this evening.

Wednesday, December 16.

Exams! Exams!! Exams!!!

Friday, December 18.

Last day of school. Everybody is in a hurry to go.

1915

Thursday, January 7.

School opened today. A few Seniors have arrived.

Friday, January 8.

The grounds look a little greener since the new term opened up. Why? A game between the Model High, University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, and the Aggies was played here, resulting in a score—Model High, 16; Aggies, 28. Movies followed the game.

Sunday, January 10.

A number of Seniors and Freshmen went skating in town and reported that the ice was quite hard.

Monday, January 11.

There was no program given this evening.

Tuesday, January 12.

First band practice this year. Band will play for Saturday evening game. The Freshies had a class meeting in the Agronomy room of the Hill Building. Just about the time they were going to nominate a "Prexy" the lights seemed to lose their illuminating properties, and the Freshies were lost in utter darkness which caused a great commotion and a panic.

The Sergeant-at-Arms rushed out and restored the lights and then escorted Mr. C. Hagen into the room. They extorted from him the secret of the real way to vote.

Mr. P. Ness and N. Jones were going to start a vaudeville, but called it off.

Wednesday, January 13.

A large attendance at chapel today.

Thursday, January 14.

Chinese laundry, Room 9, Senior Hall.
Clothes washed and ironed while you wait.

Friday, January 15.

A large number of the Aggies went to see "Bulbul," a play given by the High School at the Grand Theatre, Crookston.

Saturday, January 16.

Basket ball game Aggies vs. Grand Forks, N. D. The result was a score of 33-31 in favor of Grand Forks. The game was followed by a Freshie program and a Pie Social which were enjoyed very much by the other classes.

The Aggie band played at the game and are receiving congratulations from all over the state.

Sunday, January 17.

Some of the Alumni were visiting school today.

In the afternoon the Y. W. C. A. had its regular semi-monthly meeting with Chloe Starr as leader. The topic for discussion was "Worry Lessens Care." There were a number of good short talks given upon the subject, and it was unanimously decided at the end of the meeting to form a "Don't Worry Club" with all the girls as members.

Miss Grace Bingham spent the day with her friend, Alma Nettum.

Monday, January 18.

A large number of pictures were taken today by Mr. Hakkerup, the photographer.

The Debating Club gave a program this evening. The question for debate was "Resolved, That the United States should acknowledge the independence of the Philippines."

Affirmative: Robert Billings, Richard Billings. Negative: M. Stenseth, H. Anderson.

The affirmative won.

A baseball stunt was featured very well by C. Lindberg, N. Jones, C. Hagen, W. Johnston. A number of short talks were also given.

Tuesday, January 19.

"Prexy" Clementson has neuralgia which enables him to miss classes.
Organization of a yelling squad to go to the Forks next Friday evening.

Thursday, January 21.

Supt. F. E. Lurton, of the Detroit schools, accompanied by the debating team of that school, paid the school a visit, and at the same time spoke to the students and faculty upon the very interesting subject of "Farm Life." They were on their way home from Ada, Minn., where they had debated the high school team.

Friday, January 22.

The Aggie basket ball team went to Grand Forks, N. D., to play the high school team of that city. The Aggies cleaned them up 38-25. About 100 students and faculty members went along. A large share of the good basket shooting was due to the fact that the boys wore "shears and sawbuck" shoes. (Smile).

Mr. C. Harris took sick when the rooters came back with the score and from the effects has not been feeling well the remainder of the term.

Saturday, January 23.

Inter-class game was played between the Juniors and Freshie. Won by the Juniors 28-12. Entertainment followed the game.

C. Clementson yelled for the Freshies. Why?

Whom did Lindberg and Grandy yell for?

Sunday, January 24.

Amanda Hanson spent the day in Crookston visiting relatives.

Meetings were held by the associations. Mr. Selvig spoke to the Y. M. C. A. boys.

Monday, January 25.

The Junior program was a huge success. Their four piece orchestra gave a few selections and others gave fine readings.

The first team went to Thief River Falls to play basket ball.

Tuesday, January 26.

The first team came back this morning looking very long faced. We lost by a score of 32-29.

New music for the band received today.

Wednesday, January 27.

Mr. F. B. McLeran, of the Extension Division, favored the students with a very good talk at chapel this morning. His talk was given with a view of showing the advantages of farm life over that of city life, as he himself was brought up in the city but moved to the country later on. He spends the summers on his farm and his winters in the service of the Extension Division.

The lights went out about seven o'clock this morning, and while some of the fellows were at breakfast, they found it impossible to find their faces.

Thursday, January 28.

Some of the Juniors were trying to make fudge over an electric light globe, but it must have proved fatal, judging by the manner in which the compound was used.

All the Seniors are very anxious to give their thesis first.

Mr. Wm. Dietrich gave an excellent talk in chapel today.

Friday, January 29.

Dr. Gillette, of the University of North Dakota, lectured on "Rural Co-operation" at the school at 3:00 this afternoon.

Saturday, January 30.

The Aggies presented the play, "Back to the Farm" at Ada this evening.

A fine program was rendered by the Debating Club "proper" and following it was a game of basket ball between the Aggies and Stephen. The Aggies were victorious by a score of 45-14.

Sunday, January 31.

Usual meetings were held today. Ex-Senator John Saugstad gave a good talk at the evening service.

Monday, February 1.

Private program of the Home Economics Club.

Tuesday, February 2.

Supt. Wolfe of East Grand Forks schools, gave a fine talk at chapel today.

Band practice at 5:00 p. m.

Wednesday, February 3.

Basket ball game between Freshies and Seniors at 4: 00 p. m., with poor results for the Seniors.

Thursday, February 4.

Mr. McCall gave a fine talk at chapel this morning.

The Senior boys were entertained at the Domestic Science building by the Senior girls.

Friday, February 5.

"Back to the Farm" troupe went to Fertile today to give their play. A very good attendance was reported.

Senior team and First team game with usual results.

Saturday, February 6.

The Home Economics Club gave a fine program this evening, lasting for about four hours. There was an Indian cast in the Home Economics Building which was very good.

A negro school was featured in Stephens Hall and a Japanese mock wedding was in session at Senior Hall. A fine program was given in the Auditorium, consisting of a two-act play written for the occasion, and moving pictures of "Washington at Valley Forge."

Christian Hagen went home for a visit.

Sunday, February 7.

Regular devotional meetings.

Monday, February 8.

The Senior program was given tonight, consisting of numerous readings and a few solos. The program was well attended by the under classmen.

Tuesday, February 9.

Short Course opened today. A few students arrived this morning.

Christian Hagen came back this morning and reported that he was sick during his stay at home.

Wednesday, February 10.

Dr. John M. Gillette, of the University of North Dakota, gave a lecture on "Rural Leadership" at 3:00 today. The Short Course students were present together with the students.

Thursday, February 11.

A few talks were given in the different buildings this afternoon for the Short Course students.

Senior Class meeting.

Friday, February 12.

Usual lectures to the Short Course students.

Saturday, February 13.

Prof. Otto I. Bergh gave a splendid lecture today at chapel on his trip through the European countries.

A basket ball game was played with Bagley, resulting in a score of 41-26 in our favor.

A Senior-Junior game was played, resulting in a score of 13-8 in favor of the Juniors.

Sunday, February 14.

This was one of the stormiest days we have had this year. The snow was piled up around the Hill Building about six to eight feet.

Monday, February 15.

A program was rendered by the school. The clubs sang two new selections which are a credit to their instructor. Mr. O. Lovas gave another one of his fine solos. Various selections were given, and a debate between the Pioneer and Debating team, resulting in favor of the Pioneer Club. Band practice.

Tuesday, February 16.

No classes in the afternoon. Farm Crops Show opened today. Basket ball game between the Juniors and Freshies. Juniors won. Games in gymnasium followed.

A feature of the opening day of the Fourth Annual Farm Crops Show was the Rural School Spelling Contest, consisting of both an oral and written test. The first prize in each of these contests was taken by a Polk County girl. Miss Grace B. Sherwood had charge of the contests.

The school grounds were the scene of great activity on this day due to the fact that the various corn and stock judging contests of the Farm Crops Show were conducted out here.

In the Stock Judging Contest there were listed teams from East Grand Forks, McIntosh, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Hallock, Barnesville. In this contest the team from Hallock took first by a wide margin and received the silver cup offered.

In the Corn Judging Contest there were entered teams from East Grand Forks, McIntosh, Argyle, Warren, Stephen, Red Lake Falls, Hallock, Ada, Mahnomen, and Barnesville. The team from Hallock again showed itself to be well versed in this work and took first prize.

In the Junior Corn Judging contest there were entered seven boys, all from East Grand Forks. Theodore Olson, of East Grand Forks, won the first prize.

Wednesday, February 17.

Usual evening visits at Robertson Hall. Dean Woods addressed the students in Stephens' Hall after dinner.

Thursday, February 18.

Governor Hammond, who is scheduled to speak at the Farm Crops Show in the evening, came to the school for a short visit and to take dinner at the Dining Hall. After dinner he was introduced by Supt. Selvig, and gave a short and interesting talk to the students assembled. He was lustily cheered by the audience.

Friday, February 19.

Our band has been playing every afternoon at the Farm Crops Show. President G. E. Vincent gave a fine lecture this evening.

The Aggies played ball with Ada High School on our floor. The score was, Aggies 84, Ada 7.

Sunday, February 21.

Spring seems to be coming by the sound of crows we do not hear.

Monday, February 22.

The Debating Clubs gave private programs this evening.

The Home Economics Club also gave a private program.

Tuesday, February 23.

The members of the Senior class gave a party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bengtson, their class advisers. After the party they found an electric table lamp in their apartments in remembrance of the class.

Friday, February 26.

The Junior girls gave a treat to the Junior boys.

Saturday, February 27.

A basket ball game between the Fargo Agricultural College Farm Husbandry Team and the Aggies was played and resulted in a score of 32-17 in favor of the Aggies.

Sunday, February 28.

International baseball game featuring "Dad," pitcher, and Harris as a fan.

Monday, March 1.

Freshie program. A very good program can be given by this class when they want to give one.

Dramatics

Every spring during commencement week the graduating class of the school gives a class play.

The graduating class of 1914 gave "Back to the Farm," and it was a success from start to finish.

In the fall of 1914 the new Senior Class and some of the members of the Advanced Course worked up this same play and gave it at the school auditorium on November 15, and in Crookston during the Dairymen's Convention, Dec. 9. During the second semester it was given at Fertile, Ada, and Halstad, and also at Crookston during the Farm Crops Show on Feb. 17 and Feb. 19.

Another dramatic feature of the school was the presentation of a few pantomimes by some of the students on a Saturday evening in October, 1914, when eight scenes from "Skinny" were given. This was very much enjoyed by the audience, but the other pantomime, "Miss Smith Entertains" was particularly good as it showed her cleverness in concealing all her callers.

Heard on the Breeze

A. C. Girl—"A vertebrate animal is an animal that brays."

*****

"A one celled animal is an animal something like a fish which sticks its body over its food."

*****

"A joint is a mechanism for putting the body and skull together."

*****

"If Willard were Rud to Cyril, would Cannon ball (bawl)?
"No, Irene would."

*****

"If Conrad fell into the cellar, would the coal chute?"
"No, the cord wood."

*****

"Harold would never allow a corn to trouble him." "Why?"
"Because he is husky enough to Schuck it."

*****

H. S.—"Bill, what do you like to play in the evening as the Sun is setting?"
W. E.—"Ah, at that hour I am all crazy about playing Sun tag."

*****

Instructor—"Conrad, what is your favorite month of the year?"
Conrad, absent-mindedly:—"May."

*****

Senior—"Well, Oscar, did your father spank you for that joke of yours?"
Oscar:—"Yep, he caught me trying to Sel-ma"

*****

"Why is Lenora and Willard a good combination?" "Because she begins with Len (lean) and he ends with lard."

*****

"What is lacking on a bald head?" "Hair-is (Harris)."
"Got a new job, Cy."
"What ya gonna do?"
"I'm going to the frog pond to pick hops for the brewery."

Teachers' Training Course

The Rural Teachers' Training Course was first introduced at the Northwest School of Agriculture in October, 1913. The purpose of this course is to prepare young men and women to teach in rural and consolidated schools.

It has long been felt by the people of Minnesota that teachers for rural and village schools should be given special training that would fit them to meet the conditions that are found there. The Normal Training Course here meets that demand. Besides the work usually given for the training of teachers, the student teachers here are given a thorough course in Domestic Science, Manual Training, Nature Study, Agriculture, and Arts and Crafts.

The Department maintains an ungraded model school which is composed of children from the campus and surrounding community. This is the first year the model school has been organized, but it has proven a great success.

During the early months of the year, the student teachers observe this model school under the supervision of the instructor. Later, after some knowledge is obtained in the process of teaching, and managing a school, the student teachers take charge of the model school. Under the close supervision of the instructor, two teach a week at a time, one acting as principal and the other as assistant. During the last two months of the year each student will have the entire charge for a week.

It has been planned that during the last two months of the term, the student teachers will visit the rural and village schools around Crookston. This will enable the students to become acquainted with schools other than the model school.

This gives a practical training in the teaching process, and will enable these young men and women when they get out into their schools to do skillful and competent work.

At the end of the year if the work has been satisfactorily done, the student teachers will receive a state first grade certificate which will be renewable indefinitely.

Advanced Course

This course was established in 1914. It was established in order to provide suitable preparation for graduates of this school and other qualified students that they might enter the College of Agriculture, and there obtain more knowledge of the scientific side of agriculture.

The fact has been appreciated for some time that many of the students graduating from this School have a keen desire for the further pursuance of the field of study opened to them here; and further, that there has been practically no place in which they might prepare themselves for such pursuits. It is the aim of the School, in establishing the Advanced Course, to provide a course giving such preparation.

As the course is so new there have been only a few to take advantage of it thus far, but judging from inquiries received from former graduates and from this year's Seniors, the enrollment for this course will be greatly increased next year.

Some of the higher studies taken up in this Course are Solid Geometry, General History, English, Rural Sociology, and Agricultural Economics. In pursuing these subjects there will be developed systematic thought and logical reasoning on some of the higher and vital problems of life.

Some of the subjects of the Course and the Normal Course are the same. In such subjects, both classes recite together and this association with the comely and brilliant school teachers (future tense) forms no small inspiration for the members of the Advanced Course.

The Juniors

The Junior class is composed of forty-six exceedingly bright and industrious students.

The fact that they are not idle and lazy is shown by the high marks they receive from the teachers. They do not expect to get something without working for it.

The programs given by the Junior Class at the Auditorium were well attended. The students always go to these programs because they know they will hear something worth listening to.

This class, although good in studies, is not left out of the sports. A few fast and exciting basket ball games have been played with the class teams. The first was played with the Seniors in which the Juniors were beaten by a few points. The next game was played with the Freshmen who were defeated by a large number of points. The Junior team is practising hard and expects to win from now on. Later—they did.

Junior Social Events

The Junior Class was invited to attend a party given to them by Mr. and Mrs. McCall, the class advisers, on the evening of January eleventh at Senior Hall. After playing games, talking, and telling stories for a couple of hours, delicious refreshments were served. When thinking of the pleasant time we had been having when walking home, we were glad that we were members of the Junior Class.

The Junior Class Song

Sing a song together boys,
 We'll sing it while they squirm,
 Sing it with a hearty will,
 Sing it as we used to sing it,
 During Freshman term,
 While we wade thru Chemistry.

Chorus

A. C. Juniors! Ring out the chorus free,
 A. C. Juniors! Thy jolly sons are we.
 Cares shall be forgotten,
 All our sorrows flung away,
 While we wade thru Chemistry.

Well our old friend Physics knows
 The music of our tread,
 How our able instructors make
 Each one scratch his head.
 How our nerves are all unstrung,
 When we turn into bed,
 While we wade thru Chemistry.

Chorus

When we take our final look
 At our dear Physics book,
 Tho our voices tremble and our spirits may be down,
 Still this sounding chorus every thot of grief shall down
 After we wade thru Chemistry.

The Freshmen

Mighty is the Class of 1917, with its sixty-four fun loving, ambitious boys and fifteen jolly enthusiastic girls. This above and aforementioned class, though young, have already shown their ability in countless ways. About thirty members of this wonderful class arrived after Christmas, and the old Freshies have put forth their best efforts to help and cheer the fresh Freshies, and now all the members feel that they are a vital part of the great Northwest School of Agriculture.

*****

Freshman Happenings

The first great Freshman event was a party given January 9 by the class advisers, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sewall. Interesting and exciting games were played, games in which not one of the ten girls present was left out. Time passed quickly and pleasantly until 9:30 when, after refreshments, the guests departed feeling that they had passed a very enjoyable evening.

The second event was the Pie Social given to the faculty and the other classes on January 16, when they showed that they could entertain very satisfactorily.

January 23 the Freshman basket ball team played their first game with the Juniors. The Freshman team lost by a few points. The next game they played was with the Seniors. The Freshmen by this time had gained much confidence and skill, and won the game easily.

The Freshman programs have been great successes. How could they be otherwise?

Girls' Glee Club

*****

The Music Department of this institution is becoming more and more efficient each year, and under the able instruction of Miss Gunderson, the Glee Clubs and Mixed Chorus have done some very good work.

The Boys' Glee Club, consisting of fifteen members, has given some creditable performances both on the home stage and in Crookston.

The Girls' Glee Club consists of eighteen members, and the two together constitute the Mixed Chorus.

Under the leadership of Mr. Marshall Byrne, of Crookston, the band has made wonderful progress, and has furnished some very excellent music. It has played at different occasions at Crookston and at local social events, such as basket ball games, literary programs, etc.

A number of the students are taking advantage of the opportunity of taking vocal and instrumental lessons, and judging by the abundance of high class music at the programs they seem to get along very nicely.

Lincoln Debating Club

In the fall of 1910 the Pioneer Debating Club was organized by a body of students who were especially gifted in the art of debate.

Our debating team met the Morris debating team last year, one team journeying to Morris and the other team staying here. The Morris debating teams were successful both here and at Morris. Our teams meet Morris again this year, and are determined to win.

Very interesting discussions have been held, and the work of the club has been carried out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mr. McCall, our coach, has been untiring in his efforts in behalf of the club.

The Lincoln Debating Club was organized this year, with Miss Brown as counselor.

The Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian Association here was organized the first part of November, 1914, and most of the girls of the institution are members. The following officers were elected to serve until March when new officers will be elected for the following year. President, Esther Froshaug; Vice-President, Hazel Ingersoll; Secretary, Selma Nyquist; Treasurer, Elizabeth Strandness.

Esther Froshaug and Amanda Gordon were chosen delegates to attend the State Y. W. C. A. Convention held at Fargo last November. A very interesting report was given by them on their return.

The purpose of an organization of this kind is to unite the efforts of the people along Christian lines and to make a better Christian of every student who bears the name.

This organization also helps to make interesting and attractive the joint meetings held with the Y. M. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. meets every other Sunday afternoon in the Robertson Hall parlor when the girl appointed by the committee leads the discussion of the topic assigned. On the evenings of these Sundays a speaker is secured to address the members of both organizations.

The intervening Sunday evenings are spent in joint meetings with the Y. M. C. A. when members of either organizations lead the discussion of the subject assigned.

This organization received much encouragement from Miss Adelia Dodge, who is Field Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and helps in forming new organizations.

The officers are: President, John Hest; Vice President, Chester Wilson; Secretary-Treasurer, Robert Billings; Sergeant-at-arms, Earl Mills; Faculty Advisory Committee, Mr. T. M. McCall, Mr. J. P. Bengtson, Prof. Wm. Dietrich.

The Young People's Christian Association was re-organized March 22, 1914, as the Y. M. C. A. The purpose of this association is to develop character and to create a more intensive interest in religious activities, thus influencing every young man to lead a better and more useful life.

The Sunday program consists of Sunday School in the morning at eight-thirty, and in the afternoon at three o'clock a speaker addresses the members of the Y. M. C. A. Different members of the faculty have spoken to them, and also various business men of Crookston. In the evening, at seven o'clock, a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. is held. Alternate Sundays the meetings are conducted by various students of the two organizations, and alternate Sundays the students are addressed by outside speakers either from Crookston or elsewhere.

MILITARY

COMPANY A.

A course in military drill is given at this school, and every student who is physically able is required to take it. They are required to furnish themselves with uniform while other necessary equipment is furnished by the state.

The purpose of military drill is to improve the carriage of the young men, and cause them to take on a straight-forward, manly appearance, and also turn out young men who will be able to lead a corps of volunteers in case of emergency.

The students, who prove themselves most efficient in drill, are promoted to become officers, namely: Captain, First and Second Lieutenants, First and Second Sergeants, and Corporals.

During the school year of 1914-15 James Kirkeby became first lieutenant.

At the close of the year an opportunity is given to any student who holds an office to take an examination, and if passed successfully can be promoted to a higher office.

At the close of each term a final drill down is given. The one, who succeeds in standing up the longest and make the least mistakes, receives a gold medal. The one last year was won by John Hest, who was first sergeant at that time.

Athletics

Athletics at the Northwest School during the year of 1914-15 were along the same lines as in previous years, basket ball being the chief and important sport. The gymnasium classes were in charge of Martinus Stenseth, who came here with previous training in a physical culture school. His method of conducting class exercises and various setting up drills has been of great value to the boys in keeping them in fit physical condition. This work was given to all three classes, Senior, Junior and Freshmen.

The girls' physical culture class was in charge of Miss Grace Gunderson, and consists of drills and various exercises tending to improve their carriage and general physical condition.

Basket ball, the most interesting form of athletics at the school, again had its large following of students and created a never ending source of amusement and excitement. The gymnasium was kept in constant use by the various class teams, and practice began early in the fall. At the beginning of the season it looked as though the Seniors had a "cinch" on the chances for class championship, but constant and hard practice by the Juniors and Freshmen teams soon put the three in one class, and it was a hard fight for each game. The championship series was completed on March 6 when the Juniors won the championship from the other classes by defeating the Seniors by a score of 22-17. The final result last year was a victory by the Seniors over the Freshmen in the deciding game, giving the Seniors the pennant.

Due to the fact that the annual is being published earlier than is customary, it is impossible to include the annual indoor track meet. This meet will be held some time in March, and is anxiously awaited by the three classes.

Farmers' Short Course

The fifth annual Short Course was held at the School, Feb. 9 to 15, 1915. The attendance was not as large as previous years, which, perhaps, was due to the fact that so many short courses are now given in the surrounding schools, and to the fact that the Farm Crops Show meetings attracted a great many who could come for a week only. The Short Course gives to the people of this section of the state who cannot attend the regular school course a practical education in solving farm problems. Competent instructors are secured who have the knowledge of the various farm problems.

Farm Crops Show

---

The Fourth Annual Farm Crops Show was given under the auspices of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association and the Crookston Commercial Club. Up to 1914 these exhibits had been organized and given by the Northwest School of Agriculture. The 1915 show was held in the New Armory at Crookston, and was the greatest show ever held in the Red River Valley. Surrounded on all sides by a veritable sea of prize winning corn, the audience gazed with deepest interest at a magnificent corn palace that had been constructed on the stage. Corn, however, did not form all the attractive exhibit features. The grain exhibits more than doubled those of any previous year, and wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax, potatoes, etc., of the highest quality were shown, evidencing that Northwestern Minnesota is still the bread basket of the world. Premiums amounting to $3500 were awarded, including silos, machinery and farm equipment of great variety besides silver cups and handsome cash prizes.

The Farm Crops Show has won the interest and the enthusiastic support of the farmers and business men of the Red River Valley.

For Good Things to Eat

BOB'S GROCERY

115 Robert St.

One of the best inducements offered to the young agriculturist for getting married is the opportunity offered him of buying groceries at our store where quality and service are combined with live and let live prices.
