POOR TEAM WORK

The Varsity Shows up Well Individually but Display Lack of Team Work

In Saturday's game the Varsity team showed poor team work. Especially in the first half the play was ragged and open. It was an easy matter for the high school boys to get at the runner and even succeeded in breaking up the play before it was fairly started. Then when a few sure ground-gaining plays would have scored a touchdown the Varsity was sure to fumble and lose the ball. It was rather discouraging to the rooters to see the Varsity team held down to an even score by a team of high school boys. It augurs poorly for this year's team. But on the other hand last year's team was held to a standstill by the Minneapolis high school team and narrowly escaped being scored on. This year all play was on Central's territory and with but one exception Central never got the ball except on a fumble, kick or penalty. If the '01 team develops as fast as last year's team there is no cause for great alarm.

The second half was more like football on the part of the Varsity team. The players acted as if Dr. Williams had given them a little advice. They played with more ginger and spirit, but throughout the team work remained rather loose and ragged. St. Paul H. S. was pushed about the field about as the Varsity desired. They put up a good fight, but the superior weight and knowledge of the game of the Varsity team made the contest an uneven one.

McCarthy, of the Minneapolis C. H. S. made a sensational run early in the game. He secured the ball on a fumble with a clear field started for the Varsity's goal. He made about 20 yards before Fee ran him down.

Fee showed up well. He had only been out to three practices before he lined up for the game Saturday.

Rogers made several good runs and played his position well. He is a veritable fiend to tackle and shows no mercy for an opponent. In the second half Boeckman did good work. He made several good gains and promises to develop into a football player when he masters the points of the game.

Fee and Thorpe made the touchdowns and it looked from the side lines as if they did it alone, as they went through the St. Paul players without any visible aid. The line-up:

FIRST HALF.
Minnesota.	Minneapolis Central.
Fee	left tackle. Merrill
Strathern	center McCarthy
Mueller	right guard. Morse
Thorpe	right tackle. Browne
Aune	right end. Keyes
Dobie	quarter. Courtney
Irsfield	right half. Marshall
Knowlton	full back. Bidlake

SEASON TICKETS

Season tickets will be issued next Saturday. Get them either at the postoffice or at the gate before the game begins. These tickets are good for all games on Northrop Field during the season. If a holder of one of these tickets wishes a reserved seat he can secure the same by presenting his ticket and paying the difference between the price of general admission and the reserved seats. If possible call at the desk in the postoffice Saturday for your ticket. It will save time and confusion at the gate. You are saving money by buying a season ticket now. It admits you to eight games and saves you over $2. It gives you a chance to cheer the Minnesota players and an opportunity to show your patriotism. It furnishes you a place to go on Saturday afternoon and a chance to forget your trials and tribulations of the week previous. There is a lot of recreation for a little money.

A HAPPY TIME

The annual reception given by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., of the University was a record breaker in point of attendance and an occasion of great pleasure to all who attended.

Early in the evening hundreds of students from all the classes and different departments poured into the drill room of the spacious Armory building where everything had been arranged for welcoming and entertaining the throng of students and professors who are always present on occasions of this nature.

Freshmen who very recently approached the registrar's desk with timid and faltering steps had their first opportunity to shake hands with many professors and upperclassmen as well as to become acquainted with a large number of their own comrades.

Early in the evening the Rodenkircher stringed orchestra, of St. Paul, arrived and throughout the evening furnished some very pleasing selections which added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. Later President Northrop mounted the rostrum and in his usual happy way greeted all who were present and then introduced Rev. W. Douglas McKenzie, of Chicago, who made some brief but pleasing remarks suitable for the occasion. Miss Beatrice Pickthall then rendered a charming vocal solo, which was heartily encored by the audience.

Refreshments were served at one end of the hall and though the process of serving so great a multitude was necessarily slow the feat was finally accomplished and the guests departed for their various homes, all agreeing that the occasion was a genuine success.

The Federal society met yesterday afternoon and plans for the year's work were outlined. W. D. Galvin, R. P. Chase, Geo. Webb and Hammond were elected to membership. The society will meet again next Saturday at the 4th hour in Prof. Folwell's room.

OUR OPPONENTS

What some of the Teams we Meet This Year are Doing and Expect to Do

Iowa

The football enthusiasts at Iowa City are happy. They felt for a time that Iowa was doomed to form her team entirely from new material and light material at that. But now the prospects are brighter and the rooters are confident that Iowa will have a winning team again this year.

The old men up to date who are on this year's team are Williams, captain and quarter back; Briggs, sub center; Colthard, sub tackle; Macey, sub full back; Hollenbeck; the second team's big tackle; Watters, right end; Burrier, left tackle, and Seiberts, Herbert, Maresch, and Buckley, last year's subs. With this number of old men on hand and 30 new men, things look more favorable.

It was reported that Watters had severed all connections with the Hawkeye crowd and would join himself with Minnesota team. There is evidently no truth in the report.

Wisconsin

Wisconsin began football practice with 18 men, 10 of them new men and eight of last year's football squad. But now at the end of one week, there are 10 veteran players on hand so that with one possible exception her team will be made up entirely of veteran players. The men are heavier than was at first expected, and promises a team averaging close to 180. Monday the training table was started.

Coach King is looking for a quarterback. He wants a heavy man, who possesses all the speed and dexterity of a featherweight. He has three promising candidates at present. Deering, a 180-lb. man, Hummerson, and Bradley, who has played that position before on the Badger team. Marshall, Driver and Skow put in their appearance last week.

Nebraska

Nebraska players are fast. They walked all over the Lincoln high school last Saturday. They made their greatest gains around the ends and in general put up a running game. On the defense the line held firm and the high school succeeded in making their distance on downs but once.

All but three of her last year's team have lined up on the gridiron again this year. This fact combined with the fact that practice began fully two weeks earlier than usual, makes the Prairie Dog rooters confident of victory.

Kingsbury, the star tackle of '97, will probably play full back. Stringer and Bender have developed great propensities for swinging their pedal extremities and give good promise of rivaling Pat O'Dea. Shedd, Cortleyoff, Westover, Brew Ringer, Koehler, Dram, Raymond and Crandall will undoubtedly be slated for positions. Bill Melford has been hired as assistant coach by the

Reserved Seats

Much complaint was made Saturday over the sale of reserved seats. The stand was placed outside the gate and many who wished reserved seats would not come back again to change their general admission tickets for a reserved seat ticket. The arrangement was a poor one and the association lost the sale of many tickets. Some arrangement should be made before Saturday so that all can be accommodated. One box can be used for the sale of the general tickets and the other for reserved seat tickets. Then there can be a plat of the grand stand to which the purchasers can refer in buying their seats. If large posters are placed on the boxes indicating where general admission and reserved seat tickets may be secured, there would be less confusion and much better satisfaction given to all concerned.

MR. THALER'S PROMOTION

Mr. Joseph Aiken Thaler, E. E. class '00, has been elected and accepted the assistant professorship of mechanical engineering in the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Montana, located at Bozeman, Mont. He will leave for his new field of labor early next week.

Mr. Thaler is one of the most promising men ever graduated from our college of engineering—a thorough, careful student and a man in the best sense of the word. During the past year he has been the instructor in engineering mathematics—the able, faithful and successful assistant of Dr. Haynes. He has won the esteem of all by his modest, quiet, manly bearing and made friends of those with whom he has come in contact in the class room, by the untiring interest he has steadily manifested in their welfare.

While we shall miss him greatly, yet we congratulate him on his promotion, bid him God-speed, and are glad that the university is able to furnish such men for other institutions.

DRAMATIC CLUB RECITAL

Under the auspices of the University Dramatic club, Mr. Henry Southwick will give an interpretative recital of Richard III., in the University chapel, Friday evening, Sept. 27th.

Mr. Southwick was connected with the Emerson School of Oratory at Boston, as professor of the principles of oratory, dramatic expression and interpretation of Shakespeare for ten years.

Mr. Southwick is a man of delicate, true and sure intellectual perception, a scholar as well as a student and as the Boston Times aptly expresses it, "he is a thorough Shakespearian, scholar and a superb elocutionist. Lights and shades always harmonize. He has no tricks of delivery, and reads his lines with such delicacy of finish, such suggestiveness and acute sympathy, that even to those who know their Shakespeare well, his interpretations come with a forceful, light-giving power."

The Dramatic club is very anxious that this recital be very successful, and wants the co-operation of every student, in order to make it so. The price of the tickets, 35c to every part of the chapel, makes the admission within the means of everyone, and no student should fail to hear Mr. Southwick give his recital of the great tragedy of ambition, Richard III.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Dramatic club, or at the door on the evening of the recital.

A NEW INSTRUCTOR IN MATHEMATICS IN THE ENGINEERING COLLEGE

The DAILY wishes to extend a welcome, on behalf of the students of the engineering college to Mr. William E. Brooke, who takes the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Thaler.

Mr. Brooke is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, class of '92, with the degree of B. C. E. The two years following graduation were spent in the employ of the Burlington railroad, part of the time in field work and part of the time in the draughting office of the chief engineer of the road.

In 1894 Mr. Brooke returned to the university, taking a post-graduate course of study in mathematics and physics, and at the same time giving instruction in the former subject, receiving the degree of Master of Arts in 1896. Since 1897 he has been instructing in mathematics in the Omaha high school.

Mr. Brooke comes to the University of Minnesota most highly recommended, and will undoubtedly be a valuable addition to our instructing force.

The DAILY is in receipt of a subscription from W. S. Mann, '99, who is superintendent of the Thayer Mining and Milling Co., at Miranmas, Costa Rica.

BY THE WAY

The Iowa State University opened Friday with the largest enrollment in its history.

Lillian Hatch Chalmers, '95, has returned to college and is now taking post-graduate work.

Miss Helen E. Camp, '02, has been elected to a scholarship in history. She will instruct a class in history, course 1.

J. F. Smart, ex-'99, and Miss Myrtle E. Gates, of Olivia Minn., were married Sept. 18, at Brainerd, Minn. They will reside in Crow Wing county, where Mr. Smart has a stock ranch.

President Northrop has appointed Professor Henry F. Nachtrieb chairman of the Freshman faculty and Professor Frank L. McVey chairman of the sophomore faculty. Now will you be good.

The Hermean literary society held a business meeting in Dr. McVey's lecture room in the Library building last Friday evening. The following officers were elected: Robert S. Kelley, president; George H. Stone, vice-president; Nels A. N. Cleven, secretary and treasurer; Newton Hegel, sergeant-at-arms.

Southwick Recital

Tickets for the dramatic recital are on sale at Miss Pouchér's desk in the postoffice.

Y. M. C. A.

The address Sunday by Dr. MacKenzie of Chicago was one of great value to University men. Special music was furnished by Mr. B. A. Rose, accompanied by Miss Fritz, and was of the high quality always provided by these artists. The association has purchased new song books which add to the interest in the services.

Board of Directors

The board of directors of the DAILY will meet in Prof. Anderson's study at the 4th hour on Friday for the purpose of selecting a successor to Mr. Fernald, who recently resigned. The board invites applications for the position from all who may wish to be considered in that connection.

Federal Society—Notice

All students who desire to enter the Federal society must hand in their names to some member of the society at once or leave at the DAILY office.

Debating Association—Notice

A meeting of the Debating and oratorical association is called for Wednesday of this week at 1:30 p. m. in Dr. McVey's recitation room for the purpose of electing a business manager in the place of C. C. Conser, resigned.
—Frank L. McVey, President.

FLYNN RETURNS

All doubt has been dispelled and joy reigns supreme in the rooter's heart. Flynn; the same old microscopic Johnnie who has more than held his own against all the big right guards in the west; is back in the flesh and blood, and will begin active training at once. No man has been more sorely needed to fill his old place since the season began and his return to the ranks of the faithful will be hailed with delight. While of course not in the best of condition he has yet three weeks before him and under Dr. Williams' care should rapidly round into shape and will be undoubtedly a tower of strength to the team. With Flynn and Fee both back in the game, the left side of the line should be well provided for.

athletic board. This is a new position. A training table is to be established. This, also, is a new departure for Nebraska.

Coming to Minneapolis

Many university alumni and leading business men of Lincoln are doing all in their power to secure an advantageous rate to Minneapolis, Oct. 12. If they are successful, it is probable that 600 or 700 Lincoln visitors will witness the game with the Gophers.

One thing is certain, we won't have to meet Pillsbury. We are glad of it. To oppose a man who bears the same name as the father of the U. of M. fill us with a certain amount of shame. To think that a man bearing that name, would bend every effort to defeat us fills us with awe and dismay. Never mind, Mr. Pillsbury, of Nebraska, what's in a name anyway.

Grinnell

Tratt, of the University of Wisconsin will coach the Grinnell team this year. The practice has not begun in real earnest as Tratt has not yet arrived. The team is naturally weakened by the loss of four of last year's players. The new material is exceedingly raw and there are few heavy men.

The probable line up will be follows: Center, Dunn; guards, Baggs, Collins; tackles, McKeag, Van Dyke; ends, Evans, Moore; quarterback, Fisk; halves, E. Evans, Walker; fullback, Lyman. Subs: Smith, Lewis, Goode, Chase, Marsh, Clark, Spaulding.

Illinois

Sixty men came out for practice. Coach Holt has charge of the practice and began by teaching the men to break through the line. Saturday he lined up the regular team against the scrubs and gave them a stiff practice in breaking through the line. This was the first try out of the season.

GYM. NOTES

Dr. Cooke has had his hands full the past week with gymnasium registration. This has been particularly heavy this year, a much larger number of men from the professional departments than formerly having decided to take up the work. Already there have been over 230 registered and the constant stream shows no sign of stopping.

Dr. Cooke is very confident that there will be plenty of strong men in the University this year, and while it is hardly probable that anyone will better Allis' record, unless he returns to do it himself, yet the totals of the 50 strongest will without doubt be considerably higher than last year's fifty. The best record thus far is that made by T. S. Alden, '04, whose total strength was 1113.1 kilos. Only about 50 have as yet taken strength tests and several have made over 900 kilos. Nearly all of last year's stars, with the exception of "paragon Allis", have returned, and prospects for a star "strong 50" are exceedingly bright.
