"U" ARMORY IS SELECTED

President Roosevelt will Deliver
His Address at the University
Armory

President Roosevelt will not speak at the Exposition as had generally been supposed. The University armory has been selected as the most suitable place for the occasion and while the Armory will not permit more than about 4000 people to hear the president, it is well understood that the speech to be delivered in Minneapolis will be one of great moment.

The president's complete program while in Minneapolis will be something as follows: He will arrive between six and seven o'clock in the evening, next Saturday. He will be taken to dinner immediately. About 8 o'clock he will leave the banquet to go to the Armory and an escort of mounted police will accompany the president.

Senator Knute Nelson will probably introduce President Roosevelt, and the following will constitute the committee to welcome the president. Thomas Lowry, Thomas H. Shevlin, President Northrop, Mayor Haynes, T. E. Burns, A. C. Paul and Henry Deutsch.

The admission to the Armory will be by tickets and the committee in charge will attempt to spread the tickets over the city as equally as possible. Hon. J. T. Wyman, regent of the University, will furnish the University with tickets.

Inter-Sophomore Debate

Saturday afternoon ten men contest for places on the inter-sophomore debate which is to be held April 24, a prize of $75 going to the winning team. Three persons, Miss Cashman, Carlson, and Thompson were marked according to their work in inter-society debate. As Messrs. Carlson and Thompson have decided to remain with their inter-society teams they resigned their places. Both men would have received places. The six contestants who will enter are Miss Cashman, Phillips, Halloran, Peterson, Weiskoff and Henston.

Mr. Walchli would certainly have made a place were it not for certain voice imperfections which he is rapidly correcting. The contest was a spirited one and at its close any six could have been chosen with satisfaction to the audience. To Messrs. Carlson and Thompson much praise is due for so generously placing their own personal interests secondarily to those of their societies.

Law Concert

The law students were favored by an open air concert yesterday, which they seemed to appreciate greatly. Two shabby, outlandish looking individuals wheeled a hand organ up in front of the Law building and began to render some ragtime melodies which made up in volume of music for what they lacked in harmony. Their music however brought the concertists no remuneration until they wheeled their organ up the steps within a few feet of the entrance. Then the pennies and nickels began to fly, and for a while the concert managers were kept busy gathering in their gains. The foreign gentlemen kept up their entertainment until classes were called.

Board Entertains

The executive board of the Women's League entertained the junior girls yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Etta McCabe, '05. The plans for the League for next year were discussed for the purpose of getting the next year's seniors interested. The subject of a grand council for the League consisting of members from the various classes, to have jurisdiction over the whole was laid before the girls. This council would assist the executive board which now has all the responsibility. After an informal meeting the ladies were served elegant refreshments.

DELIGHT ST. PAUL AUDIENCES

Glee Club Sings Jolly Songs and Mandolin Club Renders Excellent Program

The concert given by the two clubs Friday night at the Park Avenue Congregational church, St. Paul, was the best yet and in every way the most successful one given by these organizations in the Saintly city. The leaders of the clubs are to be congratulated on the showing made on Friday night.

Here is what a St. Paul critic has to say in the Pioneer Press for last Saturday morning:

"It takes the University boys, with their programs of gay, sparkling melodies, their numerous encore numbers and their jovial choruses, to awaken the instantaneous applause that bespeaks genuine appreciation and enjoyment. The Park Congregational church, Holly avenue and Mackubin street, was filled to the doors last evening with the friends and admirers of the University of Minnesota Glee and Mandolin clubs, and the radiant good humored looks of approval from the opening number to the last note evidenced that everyone was enjoying himself hugely and was not ashamed to show it.

"Glee club concerts as a rule are not burdened with intellectual music, and on this occasion no occult strains and involved cadenzas elaborated themselves on unhearing ears—everything was tuneful and bright and funny, and when the people were not laughing at the 'joke numbers' they were nodding and keeping time with their feet to some well-known popular air which swung in rhythmic cadence from the banjo and mandolin strings. Indeed when the club played some 'Prince of Pilsen' selections an almost audible humming accompaniment went with it, and before the last note died away impatient demands called for a repetition.

"Perhaps the most appreciated numbers on the program was 'Little Tommy,' a humorous chorus given by the glee club with much long-drawn-out expression and exaggerated pathos. The response to a call was short though effective, and the club refused to make it longer.

"The concert was almost wholly presented by the men in ensemble work, there being only two soloists on the program, C. A. Steadman, violinist, and Earl Barrows, who sang delightfully.

All successful candidates for places on inter-sophomore debating team meet in Prof. Sanford's room at chapel time.

WAS A BIG SUCCESS

First Trip of the Dramatic Club
Proves Successful Both Artistically and Financially

The Dramatic club players returned to the city Sunday evening after experiencing a most pleasant, profitable and interesting three day's trip. All along the road the club was greeted most royally and the only regrets were that the end came so soon.

At Fergus Falls and Moorhead, the auditoriums were crowded to the doors, the audiences in both instances being warm and enthusiastic. At St. Cloud, where the club played under the auspices of the opera house, the crowd was not so large and there was a noticeable lack of university spirit pervading the whole town.

When Fergus Falls was reached Friday, the troupe was met at the station by a large delegation of alumni and townspeople and the city was turned over to the party. The afternoon was spent in visiting points of interest in the city and everyone voted Fergus Falls to be the "best ever." Several luncheons and dinner parties were given for the club while in the city.

At Moorhead the performance was given in the new auditorium of the Normal School and it was with difficulty that all the spectators could be accommodated. After the performance a reception and dance was tendered the club by the faculty of the Normal School. Sunday was spent in visiting Fargo and Moorhead and several dinner parties were given for the visitors. Immediately after dinner a reception was given for the party by the students at the school. This proved a most enjoyable affair and everyone regretted that the time passed so quickly.

The royal entertainment accorded the club all along the road served to encourage the players in their work and as a result excellent performances were given at all places. Very favorable press comments were given in each place. The following clipped from a column write-up in the St. Cloud Journal-Press being a good example:

"Those who were fortunate enough to attend the performance of the University Dramatic club at the opera house last evening were well repaid for their effort, the performance being the best amateur production ever witnessed in the city.

"The regular performance of the evening was Henry Esmond's three act comedy, 'One Summer's Day.' Too much praise cannot be accorded the work of the players in this piece and it compared very favorably with many of the professional performances seen here. The production gave evidence of much preparation and rehearsal on the part of the company and was admirably staged. The introduction of several new pieces of scenery added much to the effectiveness of the performance, every detail of which was carefully looked after.

Freshman Oratory

Eight men handed in orations and of these five will contest the place as representative against the sophomore in the annual contest, May 8. The five men are Christianson, Flinders, Reed, Keeley and Aygarn. The contest will be held Saturday afternoon, April 4.

Spring Base Ball.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Board of Control, a committee was appointed to draw up regulations governing inter-department baseball this spring. The committee will also take measures to encourage the organization of inter-department teams and probably a banner will be awarded the winning team. The Board decided to go to the expense of removing the bleachers on the east side of Northrop Field for the purpose of giving room for this sport.

THIRD INDOOR MEET

No Records Broken. Men Show Up Fairly Well.

In the presences of two hundred enthusiastic spectators the 'varsity' and the Minneapolis high school athletes held their annual indoor meet at the Armory. At 8:30 the 50 yard dash took place in which Varco and Bockman were the subjects of much interest. Varco displayed his superior ability in this event in a way which met with the unanimous approval of those present. Bockman was at first thought to be the favorite; and it was quite a surprise to see Varco win out.

The enthusiasm of the audience was at its height during the Freshman-Sophomore relay. At first it looked as if the Sophs would have it all their own way. Glen Greaves won the admiration of all by giving Murphy a hot chase.

The results of the contests were:
50 yard dash, Varco, 1st; Bockman, 2d; Redman, third. Time, 5 4-5.

60 yards high hurdles, Bockman, Ostvig, Sanborn. Time, 8 flat.

16 lb. shot put, Harsh, Warren and Pattee. 40 feet 9 1-2 inches.

High jump, Twidt, 5 feet 4 inches; Tuck and Robertson tied at 5 feet.

Pole vault, Jensen, 9 feet 6 inches; Prior, 9 feet; Campbell, 8 feet 6 inches.

The fraternity half mile relay race was won by Sigma Chi; Phi Gamma Delta, second; Delta Tau Delta, third. Time, 3 minutes, 14 second.

The Freshman-Sophomore half-mile relay race was won by the Sophomores. The Sophomore contestants were Armstrong, Nichols, Murphy and Redman. Time, 3, 9.

The third relay race between the track and basket ball teams was won by the basket ball team.

The High School results were:
50 yard dash, Myrick, first; Hunter, second; Smith, third. Time, 6 flat.

60 yard high hurdles, Myrick, Towler, Yerxa. Time, 9 1-5.

The High School relay race was won by South Side in 4 minutes and 20 seconds. The team consisted of Bang, Capson and Myrick.

For Waste Paper

It will be quite unnecessary to have any more waste paper flying around the campus from now on. Several large substantial waste paper boxes have been placed at convenient points on the campus and every man, woman and child is ordered from now on to throw all their surplus waste paper into these boxes instead of throwing them out on the grass. The boxes have been placed on the campus by order of Mrs. Gale and if the students can be induced to make use of them there is no reason why they should not do valuable service. It is always an ungracious sight to see papers and posters flying around on the lawns between the buildings.

The students of this University do not deserve to ever hear a well rendered concert, or good music in any form. The concert given last Saturday night was sufficiently well advertized, and the artists who appeared were well enough known to ensure a bigger house than any public University entertainment of this year. But be it said to the everlasting discredit of the students that the audience numbered about seventy-five, and while the artists all rendered their parts with a glad hand, it was easy to see that they were all very disappointed. Miss Vincent alone, who as the students know is worth hearing for twice the admission price of last Saturday, was particularly pleasing in her solos. Mr. Fischer is a thorough master of his cello and Prof. Beach beside being an accomplished pianist is a very sympathetic accompanist.

The concert held in chapel on Saturday evening was a decided success as regarded the quality of the performance. Mr. Beach's piano solos were given with spirit and were listened to with marked appreciation. Miss Vincent sang a group of songs in her usual happy manner and responded to an encore. Carlo Fischer quite captivated his hearers with his pleasing manner and the lights and shades of meaning which he drew out of his big cello were truly wonderful.

As regards the audience we regret to speak of the bitter disappointment which the small turnout gave to every one interested in seeing the piano paid for and in seeing music receive the encouragement for its own sake which it should receive here. The appreciation which is always shown at the Friday morning musicales must not be of a very earnest kind if it cannot be depended upon to assist in so worthy a cause. We however still feel that the poor support given Saturday night resulted more from thoughtlessness on the part of the students than niggardliness.

The meeting last Friday night at which Mr. J. M. Anderson, president of the Metropolitan Music Company spoke drew forth at the close of the speaker's address various interesting remarks and decidedly unique suggestions. Mr. Anderson's address was delivered in the right spirit and it gave many valuable points in regard to existing conditions. But the trouble with both Mr. Anderson's address and every other address which has been delivered on the subject of student morals is that, while the words of the speakers may all be true, they convey only one-half of the whole truth. There are several very important points which neither the principal speakers nor those who have taken part in the general discussions have brought up. On the other hand the crusade against evil at the University is not only well meant, but very much needed. However, the various suggestions offered at the last Friday meeting to remedy existing evils, such as boycott, are merely childish and deserve only to be laughed at. If the men are in earnest who have taken up this affair, they will keep up a sustained effort and will leave something accomplished in the end. But their efforts must consist in something farther than desultory speeches no matter how well delivered, no matter how well meant. An organized systematic effort on the part of the students might remedy by deeds perhaps better than indignant words the present conditions.

As Lorenz Sees Us

The now famous Dr. Lorenz has written a letter to a Chicago paper in which he extols many American institutions. He pays special tribute to America's beautiful women, enterprising newspapers and busy cities. He also speaks of American students in a very meritorious tone. He says:

"I was very much interested to observe the habits and life of the American students. The American student is extraordinarily industrious. To him time is money and he is determined to obtain the greatest possible value for his college fees. Student unions such as we have and the tavern life of our men are unknown to them. Sport is the substitute for the liquid poetry of the German student. Every university has a place of sports with a running track. The football matches are the greatest events outside of their purely academic work."

Michigan Wins

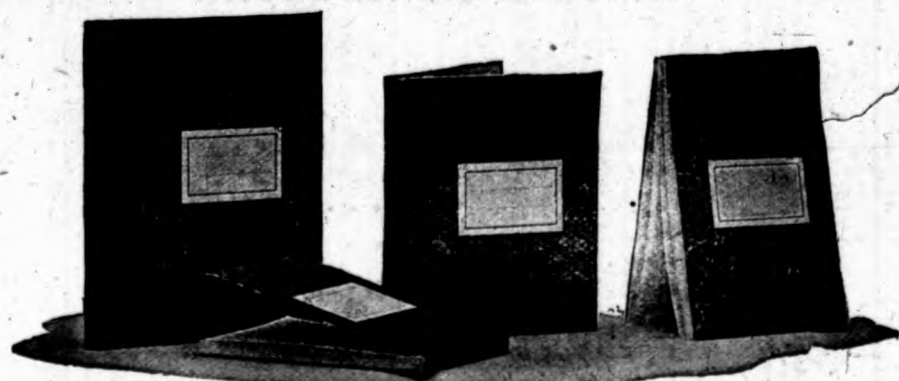

Michigan athletes took 42½ points in the indoor track contest with Cornell last Saturday night, the easterners capturing 29½. Kellogg of Michigan did the feature work in the mile run which he finished in 4:30 2-5, clipping 6 seconds off the American indoor record. In the quarter-mile, Rebstock, Hoscross, and Roalston all of Michigan took the three first places, time 54 2-5 seconds. Seviss and Porter of Cornell tied for first in the high jump, making 6 feet 1 inch, this broke Michigan's former record. Porter of Cornell won the shot-put at 40 ft. 9½ in. and Phillips and Fredrick won first and third places respectively for Cornell in the pole vault at 10 ft. 9 in. Read, Michigan took second.

The faculty of Michigan university has announced that it will suspend any student who lays a wager on the outcome of an athletic event in which the university is interested.

Museum Notes

The money set apart by the regents for the museum is making a very noticeable improvement. New cases have been put in and the exhibits rearranged, classified and labeled until the institution is being transformed from a conglomerate mass of nameless material into a well classified and arranged museum.

Dr. Hall and his assistants have had the work in charge and while it is not nearly completed, enough has been done to give an idea of what the completed product will be like.

One of the most interesting features will be a complete collection of the rocks found in the state arranged in two series to show age and rock species. Accompanying the exhibit are maps of the state to show where the different rocks come from and in brief to give complete picture of the geology of the state.

Another series of rocks gives specimens of all kinds arranged to show rock structures and textures.

The meteor exhibit which is probably the best in the west and one of the three or four best in the country is somewhat crowded but arranged in such a way as to make a very interesting display.

The old Ward series of casts of various prehistoric animals, which was originally obtained for the University by subscriptions from the business men of the city is displayed to better advantage. Dr. Sardeson is arranging some very interesting specimens gathered from expeditions to the fossil beds of Arkansas which will also be placed on exhibition.

Bowling League Standing

Only two matches were played in the finals last week owing to the medical examinations. Consequently there is but little change in the standing of the teams. It is expected that a large percentage of the remaining games will be run off this week, in order that the base ball league may begin as soon as the weather conditions permit.

The standing of the teams for the week ending last Saturday, follows:

	won.	lost.	p.c't.
Delta Kappa Epsilon,	3	0	1.000
Zeta Psi,	5	1	.830
Phi Delta Theta,	5	1	.830
Theta Delta Chi,	2	4	.332
Delta Tau Delta,	2	7	.222
Beta Theta Pi,	1	5	.166

News from the Universities

A Kappa Beta Phi society might be organized by those disappointed Saturday. It has been done at other universities. It is said that the members had a good time out of it too. In the selection of honorary faculty members however the society would have to be careful.—The Cardinal.

The Cornell University faculty unanimously passed a resolution announcing that the greatest leniency will be shown to all students who have left college on account of the epidemic at Ithaca. The resolution states that all seniors who were in good standing in their work on January 13th last will be graduated in June, even though they should not return to the university.
