AIRPLANE STUNTS TODAY IS CLIMAX OF GOPHER DRIVE

Catcher of Baseball Dropped From Plane to Get Free Copy of Gopher.

TWO DAYS LEFT TO REACH 3,000 MARK

Nearly 1,200 Subscriptions Obtained by Last Night; No. 12 in Lead.

Flying over the campus in an airplane, Warren Hamburg will drop a baseball on the parade ground just before convocation this morning. In the center of this ball there will be a slip entitling the catcher to a free copy of the 1921 Gopher. This stunt will serve as the climax of the drive for 3,000 subscribers which will be continued on the campus today and tomorrow.

Incomplete reports turned in to the Gopher Hole late last night showed approximately 1,200 of the 3,000 subscribers had been obtained. Team 12, Louise Bowman, captain, was leading all the teams with those led by Ada Mae Eshelby, No. 9 and Bernice Marsolais, No. 10, close behind. All the teams are bunched and complete reports may change the leaders.

The Hour Glass in front of the post office will show the progress of the drive, starting this morning, and will be changed as often as anywhere near accurate reports can be made.

Angus Smith, business manager of the Gopher, made the following statement late last night, relative to the progress of the campaign. "While we are greatly pleased with the way in which the student body has responded on this first day of the subscription drive, we wish to call attention to the fact that in order to reach the goal set efforts must be redoubled on the remaining days. No extra copies of the book will be ordered so the only chance to subscribe for the annual is during the three days of the drive. Many of the hardest working girls have had poor stations, and consequently, do not show up as well in the score as some others. I wish to emphasize the fact, though, that everyone must work just as hard in the two days left as they have today in order to reach the high goal toward which we are aiming."

The live gophers, which were to be a feature of the campaign, have not been caught as yet, but efforts to cage the animals are still being made and hopes that they may be on exhibition today still prevail, according to Harrison Schmitt, in charge of that feature of the campaign.

Attention is called to the fact that the girls' teams are supposed to take only $1.00 down on the purchase price of $3.50. The balance of $2.50 may be paid at any time before January 20th, in the Gopher Hole.

The additions of the various teams today are as follows: Men's post office, Team 6, Miriam Thompson; Girls post office, Team 2, Katherine Fischbein; Folwell Base, Team 15, Dorothy Bleeker; Folwell 1st floor, Team 4, Ruth McCrea; Folwell 2d floor, Team 13, Louise Bowman; Library, Team 1, Alice Dunnell; Law building, Team 3, Bernice Healy; Engineering building, Team 9, Ada Mae Eshelby; Millard hall, Team 7, Jean Taylor; Chemistry, Team 11, Edith Miller; Minnesota Union, Team 10, Bernice Marsolais; Shevlin hall, Team 5, Jessalyn Salmon; Dentistry, Team 14, Alice Cheek; Pathology, Team 8, Winnifred Mo; Pharmacy, Team 12, Louise Robertson.

"Ag" Campus.

Administration, Team 2, Maurine Nall; Home Economics, Team 1, Hazel Hoag.

Engineers Gather

Meeting of American Association to Be Held in Engineering Auditorium.

The American Association of Engineers are to hold a "get together" meeting at the auditorium in the main engineering building tonight at 8 o'clock.

There will be a short talk by F. K. Bennett, who is the national director of the association, and also president of the Twin City chapter. Assistant Secretary Tomlinson, of Chicago, who is an experienced railway engineer, will also give a talk.

This is a "pop" meeting and there will be no formalities. The eats are free.

To Give Out Letters At Football Banquet

Captain of Next Year's Team Will Also Be Chosen at Dinner-Dance at Union.

Minnesota football men will end a lively season with their annual dinner-dance to be given Friday, December 12th, in the Minnesota Union.

The captain of next year's eleven will be elected and the Gopher warriors who have been fortunate enough to play in conference games will be presented with their hard won "M's."

The dining room and dance hall will be disguised with festoons of Maroon and Gold, and the Gopher colors will be everywhere in evidence.

Ernest Lampi will hand over his captaincy with a brief address, and the captain-elect of the 1920 squad will discuss the football prospects for the coming year. Dr. H. L. Williams will give the principal address of the evening.

This great event is under the general supervision of the "M" club and the Minnesota Union governors. The committee in direct charge of the party consist of:

M. M. Anderson, general chairman; Elmer Englebert, chairman of the banquet committee; Elizabeth Forsell and Frank McNally, ticket sale; Frank Hall, entertainment; Ray Lockwood, decorations; Frank McNally, finance; and Max F. Stevens, publicity.

FIRST VOCATIONAL CONFERENCE FOR WOMEN HELD HERE

Afternoon Program to be Followed by Dinner in Shevlin Hall.

TALKS TO BE GIVEN BY PROFESSIONALS

President Burton Will Speak on "Responsibility of Women as Citizens."

The first vocational conference of the school year, 1919-1920, for the women of the University of Minnesota, will be held this afternoon from 4:00 until 6:00 o'clock at Shevlin hall. Following the conference, dinner will be served in the dining room at Shevlin. The program for the afternoon includes talks on vocational training, by men and women who are experts in their particular professions and work. The conference is primarily for sophomore, junior and senior class girls.

Pres. M. L. Burton will be speaker of the evening at the dinner. His topic will be "Responsibility of Women as Citizens."

The program for the afternoon has been announced as follows:

"Public Health"—Dr. J. Sundwall, head of the University Health Service.

"How to Get a Job"—Miss Margaret Smith, director of the Occupational Bureau for Women.

"Americanization"—Prof. A. E. Jenks, of the Americanization department.

"Business for Women"—Dean G. W. Dowrie, of the College of Business.

"Look Ahead"—Dean J. B. Johnston, of the College of Science, Literature and Arts.

In addition to the talk by President Burton at the dinner at 6:00 o'clock there will be community singing by the girls attending. The speakers at the afternoon meeting, their wives, and Mrs. Jessie Ladd, acting dean of women, have been extended invitations to be guests at the dinner.

Today's conference will be held under the direction of Miss Katherine F. Hill, vocational director for women, assisted by the Student Vocational Committee of the university.

All of the university women may attend the conference and the dinner. Tickets are on sale and may be secured at Miss Hill's office or any member of the committee. The price is 50 cents.

It is expected by the committee in charge that the attendance at the meeting will be large, since in arranging for the conference, they have chosen subjects which they believe will be of interest to all university women.

All students of the university and members of the faculty are cordially invited to the regular meeting of the Christian Science society, Friday, December 5, from 12:30 to 1:00 o'clock, in room 104, Folwell hall.

Flonzaley Quartet Scores Success In Second Concert Course Number

Before an overflowing audience, the Flonzaley Quartette presented a symphonic program last night in the armory as part of the university concert course.

The program was as follows:
1. Quartette in D. Major, Allegretto-Largo by Haydn.
2. Poem—written for quartette by Prof. John Beach, Boston.
3. Quartette in E. Minor—Aus Meinen Leben by Smetana.

The first and last numbers of the program were divided into four movements. The poem was inspired by "the tricolor" by Paul Mowrer.

The harmony of the four players was wonderful, but the artistic individuality of each member of the quartette was clearly expressed throughout.

The members of the quartette expressed great delight in having the opportunity to play before such a large audience, since their specialty is chamber audiences.

The great powers of an entire orchestra were displayed by the quartette, yet they attained whispers of tone that an orchestra could not approach. Perhaps the greatest expression was reached in the large movement of the first number.

Professor and Mrs. Beach were in the audience. Professor Beach who wrote the musical accompaniment of the poem was formerly an instructor at Minnesota.

The audience showed itself to be very appreciative and the players were encored again and again.

The members of the quartette were as follows: 1st violin, Adolfo Betti; 2nd violin, Alfred Pochon; viola, Lewis Bailey; violin cello, Ivan d'Archebaeu.

Because of the co-operation of the students, and the use of all three doors, this large audience was taken care of with greater ease than usual.

Masquers To Have Christmas Party

Holiday Festival to Be Held at Alpha Gamma Delta Home on December 17.

Decision on a Masquer party for Christmas and appointments of committees were the important events of the Masquers Dramatic club meeting Tuesday.

The party will be held December 17 at the Alpha Gamma Delta house. Marion Jones is in charge of the party arrangements and is giving special attention to the perfection of a seasonable and general feeling of holiday atmosphere. Due to the conflict of finals the party is at a more distant date from Christmas than has been the case in the past years. "But the holiday spirit will be there 100 per cent proof," is the club's opinion.

A better Masquer room was also a club consideration. The room is to be redecorated and furnished under the direction of a committee headed by Mary St. Clair and composed of Francis Donnelly, Harold King, Hazel Gleason, Alice Rochford, George Holtenbeck and Laila Platou. Posters and pictures of club activity will be hung on the walls, and a library of plays produced and considered by the club will be started.

Club clippings, news, criticisms and comment are all to be collected and filed by the scrap-book committee of Hazel Hoag, Fred Smith, and Mary Holten, with Elizabeth Nissen as chairman.

The dramatic section of Foolscap, which is to become a regular department, will be informed of club activities by Francis Holtenbeck, Gertrude Herman and Robert Withy of the dramatic news committee.

Initiation for new members will be in charge of a committee composed of Max Freitag, chairman, Lillian Taylor, Mildred Hogan and Henry Fossen. An initiation will be instituted which will become a club tradition to be passed down to future members.

In the matter of next quarter's play, the same committee which functioned this quarter will continue to perform its duties of play selection for early next quarter. It is composed of Dorothea Simons, chairman; Edith Sondergaard, Marion Jones, George Hough and George Lamb.

Bankers Wanted

Opportunity for study with the National City Bank, of New York, for work in some of the bank's foreign branches is offered to students in the School of Business again this year.

Each year several students are selected from the applicants for this fellowship and recommended to the National City Bank. From the men recommended the bank chooses one or more, who are taken into the bank in New York and trained for foreign service. A position in one of the foreign branches is then offered.

The selections are made from competitive work in the spring and applications must be made before March. It is hoped that some of the best men in the university will compete this year. Some of the men who have been selected for this fellowship before are Neil Upham and Max Stevens.

Wounded Veterans Get Compensations

University Men Wounded in Service Must Apply to Red Cross in Person.

All university men who were wounded in the service, and who have not yet made their arrangements for compensation, can do so by applying at the offices of the Minneapolis chapter of the American Red Cross, 401 La Salle building. Those in charge of the chapter want to assure the men that they need have no fear of "red tape." All that will be necessary is the presentation of a certified copy of discharge papers and a sworn statement of fidelity before a notary public. The Red Cross is handling entire by the Red Cross without further trouble on the part of the applicant. All applications must be made in person.

The present law in effect for compensation provides for $30 per month, to which all men with a 10 per cent or greater disability are entitled. There is a bill now pending in congress, however, which has already been assured passage, providing for a compensation of $50 per month. Aside from these actual money payments, the men are given free medical and surgical attention from the best physicians and surgeons available.

Legion Campaign Endorsed By Vance

Dean Recommends Coming Membership Campaign of American Legion.

Dean Vance spoke to the membership committee of the University post of the American Legion yesterday afternoon in the Men's union, endorsing the coming membership campaign on the campus. The Dean dwelt on the purposes of the American Legion, advising conservative but firm action in meeting the present situation in regard to the radical movement. He cautioned the Legion to confine itself to seeking the preservation of our institutions through law and order, praising the Legion on its stand taken in the past and stating his confidence that the Legion would be a powerful influence for law and order in the future.

The membership committee of the University post is composed of men in every division of the student body on the campus. Frank J. Tupa is general chairman of the committee. Earl M. Hodel, chairman of the pharmacy college committee; Raymond J. Bros, chairman of the engineering college committee; George Lewis, fraternities; E. J. Berkvam, Gopher Gobs; F. Lincoln D. Holmes, campus marines; Edgar Fageros, aviators; Leonard Kinsell, law school; Frank J. Raddeck, College of Architecture; Merrill Woodruff, College of Agriculture.

The meeting was conducted by Post Commander Lohmann, who mentioned a few of the pertinent issues confronting the local post. The campaign for membership opens with an all-university smoker for ex-service men next Tuesday. Leon Branham is in charge of the arrangements for the smoker.

FAULTY TO WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS—MANY LOCAL NOTABLES WILL ATTEND MEETING

Executive is Member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho—Is Eager to Bring Bonds of Union Closer.

MEETING OF DAILY STAFF AT 12:30 THIS NOON

CORRECTION.

Owing to an error in interpretation, the Daily announced that the tuition was to be raised because the legislature failed to meet the demands made for appropriations. The fact is that the legislature met every demand but the reason for raising the tuition fee was due to the present economic condition and the number of students enrolled.

BOARD OF REGENTS HEARS PLEAS FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Need of Ten Structures Presented to Committee Hearing Last Tuesday.

APPEALS SHOW NEED FOR EXPANSION AT "U"

Auditorium and Women's Dormitory Among Those Erections Proposed.

Revealing the university's need of new buildings, ten new structures were proposed at the board of regents meeting Tuesday. Representatives of various departments presented appeals to the committee for new buildings.

Prof. F. L. Rarig presented an appeal for an auditorium, endorsed by students and faculty. Dean Guy Ford emphasized the immediate need of a new library, and Mrs. Jessie Ladd and Dr. Anna Norris asked for a dormitory for women.

Other buildings appealed for were a new law building, a new pharmacy building, a plant industry building for agronomy, chemistry, and forestry at the farm school, another building for the Minnesota union or removal of the cafeteria from the present building, a practice building for the music department, a building for the campus club, and an engineering building, which is already assured.

A 33 per cent increase over former records at the university has resulted in congested conditions, which were fully revealed to the university regents Tuesday. No action was taken by the committee, but they agreed the appeals presented had given them a much clearer insight into the needs of the university.

The regular meeting of the board of regents will be held next Tuesday.

At present he is vice president of the Northwestern National Bank, succeeding former President Chapman. "The University and the State" is the subject upon which Governor J. A. A. Burnquist will speak at 11:30 this morning in the armory at the first State day convocation to be held at the University of Minnesota. The purpose of State day is to emphasize the obligations of the university to the state, and to impress the students with their duty to the state, the government and the university.

President M. L. Burton, the university faculty and the students are uniting in an earnest endeavor to establish State day as a permanent tradition of the university. It is thoroughly fitting to set aside one day each year in the university calendar for the purpose of publicly recognizing the close relations existing between the state and the university. The legislature provided generously for the maintenance of the university, and in the future the state and the university will of necessity be interdependent.

The convocation program is as follows:

Overture from "Orpheus" (J. Offenbach), by University band, directed by Carl Cheurer.

America.

Address—"The University and the State," J. A. A. Burnquist, governor of Minnesota.

Song—"Patria," University choir, Carlyle Scott, director.

Hymn—"Hall Minnesota," University choir and audience.

The faculty will appear in caps and gowns in order to lend more of an academic atmosphere to the occasion.

Among the guests will be President Emeritus W. W. Folwell, President Emeritus Cyrus Northrop, Lieutenant Governor Thomas Frankson, Speaker W. I. Nolan, Mayor J. E. Meyer, and Mayor L. C. Hodgson. President Burton will preside, give a brief talk to the students, and introduce Governor Burnquist.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist was born in Dayton, Iowa, in 1879. He graduated from Carleton college with a B. A. in 1902. He took the degree of bachelor of laws at the University of Minnesota in 1905. For some time he practiced law in St. Paul. From 1913 to December 30, 1915, he was lieutenant governor of Minnesota. In 1915 at the death of Governor W. S. Hammond, he succeeded him to the governorship. The following November he was re-elected governor for a term ending in January, 1919. Governor Burnquist is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Delta Sigma Rho. He is thoroughly in sympathy with the spirit of State day and is eager to bring out those obligations which each owes the other and to emphasize the bonds of union which exist.

President Burton wants this convocation to be a concrete demonstration of the devotion of the students to the welfare of Minnesota. He desires to have every seat in the armory occupied and every inch of standing room utilized so that the governor may see the loyalty of university students to their state.

Mystery At Party

Stunts at Pinafore "Black Secret" Party Will Display Originality and Charm.

Pinafore announces a "Black Secret" party to be given on December 10th. The sophomore girls refuse to divulge the nature of the party, although it is suggested that it will be surrounded with mystery. Music will be furnished by a four-piece poppy orchestra, well known on the campus for its entrancing strains. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the evening will be presented by the said orchestra. A number of junior girls have promised to perform a stunt; and several freshman girls will be there to serve refreshments and to provide entertainment between courses. The "Black Secret" party will take place in a unique dining room to be announced tomorrow.

Tickets for this pinafore party are but fifty cents, hardly enough to pay to see the junior and freshmen girls stunts.

SOPH ENGINEERS OPEN "TOWN TEA KETTLE" CAMPAIGN

Students to be Urged to Help Fill Tea Kettle in Drive Opening Today.

DRIVE IS PART OF CITY-WIDE CAMPAIGN

Fund Will Aid in General Welfare Work of Various Organizations.

Have you got your button? will be the slogan of the sophomore engineers, today, in the campus-wide campaign for contributions to the Town Tea Kettle. Everyone will have a chance to give his little bit, as there will be engineers in every main building on the campus all day persuading students to help fill up the tea kettles.

The drive on the campus will be held in co-operation with the city-wide campaign for subscriptions to the Town Tea Kettle fund. The fund is to be used in helping the various charities and other organizations in their welfare work for the following year. Last year a similar drive was held under the name of the War Chest and the University of Minnesota made an enviable record for herself in the high amount and percentage of subscriptions that were given on the campus. The drive this year will be conducted somewhat differently, owing to the Gopher campaign, which is being held at this time, in that there will be no pledges taken, but the individual contributions will constitute the entire amount to be given by any one individual. For every contribution that is made, a button will be given to the contributor by the men in charge of the tea kettles.

As this is State day at the university it was considered an excellent time at which to stage the drive, the drive lasting for one day only, so as to not interfere with the Gopher drive. In yesterday's bulletin President M. L. Burton is quoted as saying: "The 'Community Chest' idea has commended itself fully to many of the large cities of America. It provides an efficient method by which intelligent and discriminating citizens can make their contributions to the worthy causes which deserve their support. It is confidently to be hoped that the members of the university will cooperate as heartily as last in this very commendable plan. I am glad of this opportunity to express my endorsement of this campaign."

The "Community Chest" idea is this year being called the Town Tea Kettle drive and the support of everyone is looked forward to in conducting this campaign, both in the city and on the university campus.

Beware The Bold Bad Bolshevik

Savoring of a Bolshevistic attitude, caused by the appearance of vivid red tickets, Cap and Gown, senior girls' organization, which until the present time had possessed a reputation for conservatism, will give a Christmas party for its members on Tuesday, December 9, at 5:30, in Shevlin hall. Although nothing has yet been made public regarding the program, the committee in charge has insinuated that the statement of President Wilson that college people are conservative will be proved erroneous.

The pasteboards that have caused the sensation on the campus are of the Lenin hue, and have been decorated by the radical crew. On one side of the ticket are the words, "Be a Bolshevik for one night. A capitalist may be spying. Hide this!" The other side states, "Union Made Ticket."

The girls who will be stationed about the campus selling the tickets are: Elizabeth Nisson, Lucille McNally, Ruth Hedman, Ruth Cillespie, Corrinne Askegaard, Virginia Smith, Dorothy Humiston, Betty Jones, Margaret Abbotmeyer, Marion Irwin, Margaret Mealy, Hazel Martin, Muriel Hughes, Elizabeth Malrick, Alice Rochford, Marjorie Cates, and Irma Baker.

The price per plate has been fixed at fifty cents.

Announce Plans For Winter AT A.U.A. Feed

Upperclass Dinner at Union Tomorrow Evening to Decide on Policy.

The executive committee of the Academic Upperclassmen's association will present a suggested program of winter quarter activities at the regular upperclassmen's dinner to be held in the Minnesota union Thursday evening. The meeting is of special importance as the policy of the association for the remainder of the year is to be decided at that time.

Among the matters which will come up for consideration is the proposal to alternate or co-operate with the Commerce club to secure prominent speakers on subjects in which the upperclassmen are interested. It is hoped to secure speakers on local municipal problems, both political and economic, on the future military policy of the United States, and on other subjects of current and national interest. One of the features of the suggested program is the plan to hear from some of the heads of eastern schools on the subject of college spirit and the ways of arousing it.

It has also been proposed that the dinners be made more of an informal gathering of faculty members and students for the purpose of talking over events taking place on the campus. Dick Haupt, president of the Academic Upperclassmen's association, stated that the members of the faculty are invited to attend and to remove some of the dignity of their professional duties while meeting with the students. A stunt to be staged by faculty members is planned for one of the future dinners.

The decision as to the date of the regular meeting of the Academic Upperclassmen's association is to be made at the Thursday evening meeting. It has been suggested that Wednesday evening would be a better time than Thursday as at present. In connection with the decision as to the date of the meetings, the association will decide as to the scope of its activities for the next quarter.

Mrs. Wilde To Speak

Y. W. C. A. Will Hold Second Meeting in Charge of Freshmen, Monday Afternoon.

Mrs. Norman Wilde will be the speaker at the Y. W. C. A. meeting in Shevlin hall next Monday afternoon. Miss Winifred Wygall, of the field headquarters, will lead devotions. The meeting will begin promptly at 4:30. It is the second of the December series in charge of the freshmen. Marion Davis will preside. At 4 o'clock tea will be served in the Y. W. parlor. All university women are invited to attend.

A UNITED UNIVERSITY.

A great deal has been said, but very little done about the so-called united class plan. The original purpose, as was generally understood, was to have one group of officers for each class in addition to the present way in which the Academics, Engineers, Chemists, etc., are separate and distinctive organizations. To accomplish such a change would necessitate a goodly amount of self-sacrifice on the part of present and prospective class officers. Colleges would naturally vie with one another to place their respective representatives in the coveted offices and this, it appears, would have the effect of bringing into the limelight not so much the choice of a little circle of mutual admirers as is now too often the case, as the really worthy men to whom the more responsible offices should go. Possibly and very probably the uniting of the classes would eliminate at least the greater part of the undesirable and kindergarten politics which seem to automatically pervade every class meeting. If this were the only thing which the new plan would accomplish it would therein be unqualifiedly justified.

Now consider a moment the practical side of the question. When the freshmen entered this fall, the Chemists had their own scrap and as a result the first year men of that college blossomed forth in green neckties. The Academics fought and bled at their own Chateau Thierry and soon thereafter the green raiment appeared in that college—this time in the form of green headgear. But why not do the whole thing in the right way; why not have every sophomore be a friendly-enemy to every freshman irrespective of college or profession? Why not have one Freshman class, one Sophomore class, and one class for each of the other years still preserving in each, however, the present admirable and commendable rivalry between the different colleges? Occasionally we do have all-university functions, or all class dances and these have been successful to a remarkable degree. Why not extend on that idea and make the university a united institution instead of a somewhat prosaic collection of minor organizations whose aims and activities constantly conflict with one another and overlap. In a thousand ways we can see the value of this new idea—why hesitate? Although we have two campuses, many colleges, and basically varied interests, lets have one Minnesota. The attainment of such an ideal spells our potency and organized growth, while to continue in our present system will leave us in the time-worn and outgrown ruts of conventionality. Are we progressive enough to start something new; to do something which will make our whole college a better spirited and animated place? Which class is going to take the initiative in bringing this plan into practise; which class is going to set the example; which present organization is willing to first feed the fires of progress with personal sacrifice that the wheels of Greater Minnesota may turn more smoothly and in uninterrupted succession? Who will accept the challenge—what loyal Minnesota student dares fail to do his share?

We think that the members of the different Gopher subscription teams should be given credits for the course in salesmanship that they are taking. Judging from the results, they all deserve A's at least.

Bill Carlisle has been caught. If he had remained at liberty much longer, those who formerly read dime novels would spend their time reading the newspapers instead.

"Pershing extols the war-aid of Latin America," says a news despatch. We thought this talk of "Who won the war?" had ended, but it seems that it is destined to go on forever.

Zionists To Dance

Jewish Society to Give First Large Social Affair Thursday Night.

The university Zionist society will be host at the first large social affair given by Jewish organizations on campus, in the form of their annual dance to be given at the Lake street auditorium, Thursday night, December 11. Shepard's orchestra has been engaged, and the affair promises to draw a large crowd.

The society is giving its dance early this year in order to obtain funds with which to send a delegate to the national Inter-Collegiate Zionist convention to be held in Boston during the Christmas vacation.

The Menorah Musicale, scheduled for the same week, has been postponed in order that members of that organization may lend their co-operative efforts in making the Zionist dance a success. Tickets for the affair may be secured from any member of the society.

Christmas Stamp Sale

Minnesota To Invest $250,000 This Year in Fight With Tuberculosis.
 Only $68.00 a year spent for the health of a family of five!
 That's the average expenditure of 13,000 families in St. Paul, Minneapolis and twenty-eight other representative cities of the country investigated by the federal bureau of labor statistics.
 A similar average was declared applicable to the smaller cities and towns.
 An advance report of the investigation, made during 1918 and 1919, was received yesterday by health officials, who pointed out the small expenditure for health protection in comparison with amounts spent for other purposes.
 Minnesota is about to invest $250,000 in the fight against tuberculosis and other diseases during the coming year, this fund to be raised through the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals on a basis of but 10 cents per capita.
 For the doctor, dentist, oculist, the hospital and for medicines, the average annual expenditure for one member of the family is but $11.44 a year, the report states in emphasizing the meager outlay made for health purposes.
 For amusements, the average expenditure was $17.50 and for education was $17. All three items represented but 17 per cent of the annual family budget.
 For clothes, husband and wife alone spent an average of $130 a year. Half of the families investigated had incomes of more than $1,500 a year, and the annual income of only a fifth of them was less than $1,200.

Wilde To Address Polity Club Today

The International Polity club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in room 15, Folwell hall. Professor Norman Wilde will speak on "Some Limitation Upon International Morality." General discussion and election of officers will follow. Any member of the university interested in the discussion of international problems is invited to attend and take part. The International Polity club is a student-faculty club of several years' standing in the university. It is organized for the purposes of an open forum in the study and discussion of international problems. Any member of the university who is interested may become a member by participating in these meetings. The central organization, the Institute for International Education, which is supported by the Carnegie foundation, sends speakers closely connected with these problems to address the local club and to lead in general discussion. Some of these speakers are of national and international note. The officers of the club during the past year were Irwin H. Ludolph, president; Lorna D. Beers, secretary; Professor L. L. Bernard, faculty advisor. New officers of the club will be elected following the meeting tonight.

Players Make Plans

Dramatic Program for Year Discussed at Business Meeting Yesterday.
 A dramatic program for the coming year and plans for a party in the near future were among the important matters taken up at a meeting of the Players at 12:30 yesterday, in room 306, Folwell hall. Miss Ariel McNaughton addressed the club in regard to plays suitable for amateur production.
 The question of absences for business meetings was taken up, and the division of the club into an active and associate membership decided upon. Thursday noon, December 11, was chosen as the time for taking a picture of the club for the Gopher. All members are expected to meet promptly at Miller's studio, at 12:00 o'clock.
 A party will be given immediately after Christmas vacation in honor of the new members that the club is planning to admit. The exact date will not be announced until later.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS REGISTERING

Announcements of interest to students who are planning to take work in the English department were made yesterday by Professor Elmer E. Stoll, chairman of the department. They refer to arrangements pertaining to the work of next quarter. The official announcements follow:
 1. Students who finish freshman Rhetoric (1-2-3) at the end of this quarter and wish to take English Survey, the prerequisite to all courses in English, will be permitted, without presenting a petition, to enter the class now running. They will take second and third quarters; and inasmuch as there will be no English Survey next year, they will not be expected to take the first quarter at all. They will receive, however, six credits toward graduation, not nine.
 2. Students who, owing to the large number of conflicts arising from the four-hour courses introduced this year, have difficulty finding any course in English open to them the second quarter, will, on the approval of the department, be permitted to take courses numbered above 100 without the full complement of prerequisites.
 Elmer E. Stoll, Chairman.

Speaks At Conference

Miss Margaret Smith, of Minneapolis, Will Speak to University Women Thursday.
 Miss Margaret Smith, new director of the Woman's Occupational bureau of Minneapolis, will be one of the speakers at the vocational conference for the women of the university which is to be held on Thursday afternoon from 4 until 6 p. m. at Shevlin hall. Miss Smith has recently come to Minneapolis from Chicago, where she was assistant to Miss Helen M. Bennett, director of the Chicago collegiate bureau.
 The Women's Occupational bureau of Minneapolis is organized on the same general plan as the Chicago collegiate bureau and offers to help university women to secure employment in fields other than teaching. It is the purpose of this bureau to conduct studies of women's occupations and to offer vocational advice to women who are seeking opportunity for advancement.

SPEED?

The speed of submarine telegraphy is illustrated by the fact that five minutes are usually sufficient to cover a complete buying and selling operation between the London Stock Exchange and Wall Street. The distance between these two points is about 4,000 miles and it takes the message less than a minute for the journey.

Electric Development in Japan.

It is stated that there are 715 electrical utility undertakings in Japan, including 625 power plants, 42 electric railways, and 48 companies operating both power plants and tramways. This is an increase of 40 companies over last year and evidences the growing popularity of electricity in that country.

THE SPINAL COLUMN

"Without Which There
Could Be No Life"
By "Ting."

STONE WRITES US.
Dear Ting:
I will try and help make the Gopher Dance on the evening of Friday, December 5th, a huge success. I know I shall enjoy the dance as I enjoy your column.

Yours for clean humor,
FRED.
SPECIAL WIRE FROM RALPH AHLSTROM.
Dr. Woodenskill, dean of profane languages at Mush University, Purgatory, Arizona, has just returned from the convention at Baltimore, of the International Brotherhood of Casual and Unemployed Workers, and has a very interesting report. The convention passed unanimously, a resolution condemning the chain gang system for convicts.

Bob Sherman again comes to the fore with the following communication:

Dear Ting: After reading this morning's offering with regard to myself, my only comment is, that it seems a great pity that you should waste your remarkable talent on such a subject. Sincerely, Bob Sherman.

We believe in prohibition and although we will divulge nothing concerning private basement stock we quote the following from the national anti-booze headquarters:

"Oh—wad some power the giftie gie us
To see ourselves as others see us;
Methinks 'twould so reduce our chests
That we could have our little vests
Wrapped thrice around, and still so slack
That they could button in the back."
—California University Pelican.

THAT'S US.
The college man who crossed the Atlantic to fight militarism is not the one to be a quitter when the fight against alcoholism is carried across the ocean.

"Style may be making the women wear their skirts shorter. But it isn't style that is making the men wear their pants longer."—Exchange.

Contrary to any reports and rumors that may slide about the campus we wish to announce that Fowell hall was not burned down last night. The report is without foundation.

This poetry by an unknown author concerns a certain Miss Halloran. Oh! Winsome, captivating Nell. She's a scintillating little belle. Of talk she has a line. That makes you feel just fine; But what she says I'll never tell.

One day by chance I caught her eye. And I hope to win her heart or die. Tho' there isn't much of her, S'mighty easy to love her. But she always favors th' other guy.

She has a cutesy little shoe. Guess it must be 'bout size 2; And so daintily she prances At all the Varsity dances. Just learn the truth from any Pal-U.

MICHIGAN.
Refuting the declaration of Dr. Albert Porta, an eastern astronomer, that great disturbances in the heavens were to take place December 17, Prof. William J. Hussey, director of the university observatory, strongly attacked Doctor Porta's theory. Saturday, Dr. Porta claimed that because of the eclipse of certain planets, floods, earthquakes, and volcanic eruptions of unusual severity would be noticeable all over the globe.

Hold Social Hour

Variation in the Usual Program is Planned for Friday Afternoon.

The usual Friday afternoon social hour in Shevlin hall for the girls of the university, will be held this week with Delta Gamma sorority girls as the hostesses. While the hour will remain the same, from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock, the entertainment for the afternoon will be considerably varied from the usual program, according to the committee in charge.

In addition to the usual dancing and spread the girls promise several stunts. One stunt, a skit, will be a travesty on Romeo and Juliet with many frills and thrills attached to it. A reading, "Hickory Dock," which is not the original nursery rhyme, is another part of the program that will be completely announced in tomorrow's Daily.

All of these Friday afternoon affairs held this year have been well supported and seem to have been enjoyed, if the attendance is any indication. Every girl in the university is urged to come and spend a pleasant hour or two, which the girls in charge guarantee.

To Hear Slav Music

Assembly on Agricultural Campus will Listen to Program Put on by Dr. Junek.

A program of Slavie music has been arranged for the College of Agriculture assembly today at the third hour, under the direction of Doctor O. W. Junek, exponent of Slavie culture. A Moravian trio, consisting of Mr. S. B. Hochman and his two sisters, will sing songs of the banished Bohemian Protestants in the year 1620.

They will also sing peasant and folk melodies, thus revealing the true nature of the Slav, especially the Bohemian, and his profound love for harmony.

Miss Evelyn K. Teaber will sing other Slavie songs in the English language. Doctor Junek will give a short lecture on Slavie music and the introduction.

COLGATE UNIVERSITY.
Practice for the initial contest of the basketball season is being held by the Colgate squad. The game will be played against Clarkson Tech at Hamilton on December 11. The squad consists of about 25 men who are practicing on three nights each week. Among this number there are about ten men who have won their letters on the basketball court in previous seasons. The freshmen squad is practicing on three nights of the week, to develop the new men who will make up the nucleus of Colgate teams in the next few years.

Around the College World

ILLINOIS.

Delegates to the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity, will begin to arrive here next Thursday afternoon, according to word received recently from representatives of distant chapters on the Pacific coast. The entire 33 chapters of the society will send men here for the meeting Friday and Saturday, December 5 and 6.

To provide for the early arrivals changes have been made in the program of the convention so that the reception and registration will be held Thursday afternoon. Business sessions will commence Friday morning instead of Friday afternoon as originally planned. Friday's schedule also includes an inspection of the editorial, business and press rooms of The Daily Illini.

The chapter banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Inman hotel. A reception for the fraternity will be given by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity for women, at 5:50 o'clock on the afternoon of the same day. An Orpheum party followed by a smoker at the Sigma Chi house Saturday evening will close the convention. Among the distinguished guests will be Paul Scott Mowrer, famous war correspondent of the Chicago Daily News, and the national officers of the organization: Robert C. Lowry, president; Lee A. White, editor of the Quill; and Kenneth Hogate, secretary.

COLUMBIA.

Faced by the grave emergency in its housing facilities, the university, whose total enrollment for 1919 is 22,608, contemplates entering upon a building program called "staggering" by President Nicholas Murray Butler, and involving millions of dollars. The plight of the women students is described as particularly serious, and the rapid growth of the university, the largest in the world, demands, says President Butler, "a vigorous and courageous handling of the residence hall problem."

There was a time when a man got rich selling books on "What a Young Girl Ought to Know," but nowadays they starve to death.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"Father," said the minister's son, "my teacher says that 'collect' and 'congregate' mean the same thing. Do they?"

"Perhaps they do, my son," said the clergyman; "but you may tell your teacher that there is a vast difference between a congregation and a collection."

MISSING IN ACTION.

As we were walking down the street,
We met an old-timer
Who sobbed on our neck
And said he missed
The good old days
When a student was a student,
And not a mere book field;
He missed the time
When imitation of a sponge
Was the mark of a he-man;

He missed the day when drinking tea
Was a confession
Of mental weakness.
And there are those
Who miss the time
When the boardinghouses
Served six kinds of meat a day
For four dollars per.

Hash.
But as for us,
We don't miss any of those
Pre-army joys.
We still continue to miss
More classes than the Attendance
Committee
Will permit.—Spirit.
