Butcher Named NSIC Pitcher of the Week

BURNSVILLE, Minn. – University of Minnesota Crookston pitcher Jacob Butcher (R-Jr., RHP, Palmer, Alaska) was named Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) Pitcher of the Week after an outstanding outing against University of Mary Wed., April 6.

Butcher is the first Golden Eagle baseball player to earn the honor this season. He joins Harrison Cleary of men's basketball (twice), Iseioma Odor (once) and Alison Hughes (once) of women's basketball and Samantha Deutsch of women's soccer (once) as Minnesota Crookston student-athletes to earn conference weekly honors this season, setting a school record for the University.

Butcher had his strongest outing of the season as he did a great job locating his pitches in a three-hit complete game shutout. Butcher would hold the University of Mary to a .125 batting average with just one walk and five strikeouts on the game. He would allow no extra-base hits in throwing the second shutout of the season for the Golden Eagles. Butcher is in his first year pitching for the Golden Eagles after redshirting last season. He is 3-2 with a 5.40 ERA in 26.2 innings pitched on the season.

Dylan Dresel of Minnesota State University-Mankato was selected as NSIC Player of the Week after hitting .458 for the week.

The Golden Eagle baseball team will return to action April 11 with a doubleheader at Bemidji State University at 2 and 4 p.m.
