GET-TO-GETHER CLUB

A Unique Scheme for Industrial Betterment Launched in New York.

A unique meeting was held in New York city last week, at which men employing 250,000 people, representing millions in capital, got together to talk about improving the condition of their employed. For students of the social sciences the meeting is of particular interest. It was described as follows:

Four hundred members of "The Get-Together Club" sat down to a one-dollar dinner a few nights ago, in Madison Square Garden Concert hall, and after the dinner, in 10-minute speeches, told what, as employers, they are doing to improve the conditions of their employed.

The Get-Together Club of New York is unique in many ways. It is composed of about 1,000 earnest, thoughtful business men who realize that this age is confronted by great social and economic problems which demand the careful consideration of every citizen—those that feel that no one man, or set of men, or party, has all the truth necessary to solve these problems, but who do firmly believe that there is a solution, and that from free and open discussion by men of diverse views, yet having a common purpose, that solution may be evolved.

The club has grown so rapidly and the interest in its work has increased to such an extent that it is probable a home will soon be established—a social center or headquarters—in New York and the scope of the work will be enlarged to embrace other cities in which branch clubs of the "Get-Together No. 1," of that city will be organized. It is also proposed to have a non-resident membership at a fee of $3.00 a year. This will entitle business men from outside the city, who are members, to the privileges of the club, house in New York and allow them to attend the meetings and dinners of the club in this city.

In other words, it will be a sort of twentieth-century masonry between the business men and the manufacturers throughout the entire country and the business men of the great metropolis of the United States. It is proposed to make the Get-Together Club House in New York the social and industrial betterment clearing-house of the country. Foreigners, business men from abroad, will at the Get-Together Club House in New York have a home and receive valuable information and directions as to how to find and visit the prominent business centers and manufacturing places throughout the country. A foreign membership is also suggested.

The program was as follows, the subject being "Industrial Betterment, or Movements for Improving the Conditions of the Employed."

W. Bayard Cutting, of the executive committee, New York Chamber of Commerce, presiding.

J. M. Cornell, New York and Cold Spring, bridges and structural iron. (1,250 employes.)

H. A. Sherwin, president Sherwin-Williams company, Cleveland. (750 employes.)

James A. Craig, Metropolitan Life Insurance. (15,000 employes.)

Wm. G. Redfield, treasurer, Brooklyn, J. H. Williams & Co., drop forgings. (250 employes.)

Walter W. Law, Jr., Briarcliff Farms, N. Y., dairy products. (325 employes.)

Geo. H. Daniels, New York Central and Hudson River R. R. (78,000 employes.)

H. F. J. Porter, South Bethlehem, Bethlehem Steel Co. (4,000 employes.)

A Representative of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. (9,000 employes.)

Howard Heinz, Pittsburg, foodstuffs and conserves. (2,500 employes.)

Chas. Theo. Hennig, consulting chemist, Krupps, Essen, Germany. (50,000 employes.)

H. F. Gunnison, business manager, Brooklyn Eagle. (450 employes.)

John H. Patterson, Dayton, Ohio, president National Cash Register Co. 2,900 employes.)

SOME INTERESTING ART PIECES

Among the pieces to be noted at the art exhibit are many beautiful landscapes done on Miss Clopath's travels—her Swiss mountain home, an evening on Lake Geneva, several of the Mediterranean, showing the deep blue of the water and the vermilion of the soil found at Constantinople. There are also many familiar scenes about Minneapolis, among them a beautiful Mendota sunset.

There are many studies in still life, showing both European and American flowers, Oriental roses, the famous edelweiss, and many familiar to us.

This exhibit will remain in the Y. W. C. A. room during this week and every student should avail himself of the opportunity of seeing some very fine works of art, and of especial interest since they were done by one of the instructors of the University Art department.

THE ARTESIAN WELL.

As stated in yesterday's DAILY, $3,000 will probably be appropriated by the state legislature for an artesian well to be sunk on the campus. The water of the University has up to this time been supplied by one of the spring water companies of the city. The water has not been up to the very best quality, and the yearly supply of the University has cost almost as much as the amount needed to sink a well that could supply the institution with absolutely pure water for drinking purposes.

The well will probably be located near the heating plant i. e., back of the Mechanic Arts building. The work will commence as soon as possible and at any rate will be completed before the close of the summer vacation.

A RESTFUL HOUR

University Band to Give Another Vesper Service Next Sunday

The University band, assisted by down-town talent, will give another restful hour concert next Sunday, which promises to be as pleasant and enjoyable as the one given two months ago. The band will be conducted by B. A. Rose, and he will be assisted by Miss E. Abbie Thomas, soprano, Mr. Alfred R. Wiley, baritone, and Miss Pearl Fritz, pianist.

The concert is under the auspices of the U. of M. Christian Associations, and a silver offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of delegates to be sent to the Lake Geneva summer conference of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

The program to be rendered is as follows: "March Militaire, No. 1" (Schubert); "Awakening of Spring" (Bach); soprano—"Nearer My God to Thee" (Holden); Miss Thomas; Overture, "Chimes of Normandy" (Planquette); "Funeral March" (Chopin); cornet, "The Lost Chord" (with band accompaniment), (Sullivan), Mr. Luse; offertory, "Liberty" (Sorrentino); baritone, "Resurrection" (Shelley), Mr. Wiley; sextette from "Lucia" (by request) (Donizetti); "America."

IN EFFECT NEXT YEAR

The reports in regard to the change to the two semester plan next year have been conflicting and misunderstood. The new regulations will go into full effect next year. The faculty holds a meeting next Saturday to decide on the changes that will have to be made. Many of the courses will have to be re-adjusted. Conditions and failures will require special attention and programs will have to be rearranged. The registration fee will probably remain the same, but become $7.50 a semester.

NOTES

The Woman's League is making arrangements for a large reception to the women to be given in the Armory on April 27.

The Varsity ladies' basketball team will play a game of basketball next Saturday with the Carleton team, and it is desired by the team that all girls who play come over and practice with them. Further particulars about the game will be published later.

The following items, culled from the report of the treasurer of the Junior Prom. at Yale, may be of interest. For instance, supper $1,595; rent of armory, $270; decorations and flowers, $765; waxing floor, $125; lawyer's fees, $50; police, $82; total expenses, $5,135. The balance was $900 to the good. The Prom. is wholly a Junior class affair at Yale and seems to be successful.

This day's issue edited by
GEO. E. SILLOWAY.

SATURDAY'S issue of the DAILY will be devoted very largely to the interests of the Young Men's Christian Association of the University, and the board of editors will be assisted by General Secretary Nicol and other Y. M. C. A. officers.

THE "Mag" seems to be getting back into its old custom of coming out the middle of the month. It started—and startled—the century exceedingly by announcing a new scheme of coming out the first of every month, but it has gradually turned back the new leaf. Hurry up, brethren, or we'll begin to think that we won't get nine of your valuable numbers this year.

THIS is the season of the year when it is customary for the editors of the Minnesota University papers to enter a protest against making paths all about the campus, when by a few more steps, the walks could be used, and the editors this year do not feel backward about making the customary protest. They would be pleased if, for the sake of the appearance of the campus, the students would refrain from making these hideous paths in every direction. They do not expect, however, that because it would please them that the students will do so. They hope, nevertheless, that by having attention called to the matter, the students appreciating how much these paths detract from an otherwise beautiful campus, would themselves be pleased to take the walks, instead of these paths. Everyone realizes that there are some students who do not care a whit about the appearance of the campus, and who would if they could mar it still more, but the DAILY is not ready as yet to believe that those students are in the majority. Nor is it ready to believe that all those students who will still use the paths care to be classed with the above mentioned people, but it is certain that they will be unless they keep off these paths.

There is no desire to see "Keep off the Grass" signs placed on the campus, and no one wants students to keep off the campus. The protest is made to keep the campus intact so that the students will want to be on it, and that they may regard it as something to be kept so. Nor is the protest made against the use of such a path as leads from Fourteenth avenue to the Mechanic Arts building, for that seems to have been foreordained, and the DAILY is assured that before long a walk will be built there.

But there is no excuse for the half dozen or so paths over the knoll in front of the Old Main which are being very generally used not only by the students, but by members of the faculty as well, and it to these persons in particular that this protest is directed. The DAILY trusts that college spirit and tradition will appeal so strongly to these persons that they will cease the pernicious habit.

AN ESSAY ON NEWSPAPERS

The following article, taken from an exchange, is hardly classical, but it is exceedingly realistic. It is an essay on newspapers—not college newspapers, it must be understood, as there is nothing in the essay applicable in any sense to the high standard set by college journalism.

"Newspapers are sheets of paper on which stuff to read is printed. The men look over the paper to see if their names is in it and the women use it to put on shelves and sigh. I don't know how newspapers came into the world. I don't think God does. The Bible says nothing about editors and I never heard of one being in heaven. I guess the editors is the missing link them fellers talk about. The first editor I ever heard of was the fellow who wrote up the flood. He has been here ever since. Some editors belong to church and some try to raise whiskers. All of them raise hell in their neighborhood and all of them are liars. Editors never die. At least I never saw a dead one. Sometimes the paper dies and then people feel glad, but someone starts it up again. Editors never went to school because editors never got licked. Our paper is a mighty poor one, but we take it so ma can use it on our pantry shelves. Our editor don't amount to much, but pa says he had a poor chance when he was a boy. He goes without underclothes in winter, wears no socks and has a wife to support him. Paw hasn't paid his subscription in five years and says he doesn't intend to."

ALUMNAE STATISTICS

The first woman graduate of the University of Minnesota took her diploma in 1875—Helen Mar Ely, now Mrs. Henry M. Williamson. Since then six hundred six women have been graduated, of whom 536 have been graduated from the department of science, literature and the arts; 10 from the department of law and 60 from the department of medicine. Of these, 222 are known to be teaching, six in this university, namely, Mrs. Matilda Campbell Wilkin, '77, as assistant professor of German; Hannah R. Sewell, '84, as assistant in Economics; Josephine E. Tilden, '95, in the department of Botany; Elizabeth S. Beach, '96, in the department of History; Marion E. Porter, '97, in the department of English, and Helen A. Wilder, '98, in the department of Rhetoric. Ten at least of these graduates are librarians or assistant librarians, three being here in the University—Lettie M. Crafts, '81, Ina Firkins, '88, and Anna L. Guthrie, '92. Ada B. Hillman, '95, is general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in this institution. Alice Young, '96, who taught here in the English department for five years, is now Dean of the Woman's department in the University of Iowa.

The Harvard Scholarship in English and History was obtained in '99 by Claire E. Brill, a graduate of that year.

Two of the graduates are in the missionary field—Jessie W. Craig, '82, a missionary to Chili, and Martha A. Sheldon, '83, missionary to India. Two are prominent W. C. T. U. workers in this state; Louise E. Hollister, '83, being state organizer, and Mrs. Bessie Laythe Scovell, a lecturer. Mary Mills, '90, now Mrs. Max West, is chairman of the press committee of the National Congress of Mothers, at Washington, D. C.

Of the 606 graduates, it appears 120 are married, though many others may have attained that state of bliss and have failed to inform the Registrar. Careful investigation has brought to our notice the fact that one, at least, of the class of '84 is ameliorating the world's bitterness by adding to its sweets; Emma Zwingge is an apiarist.
