Regents Talk Budget Terrace May Open In Executive Session For Stardust Dance

Appointments, promotions, transfers, leaves of absence and terminations were the main concern of the board of regents during its monthly meeting at 10 a.m. yesterday.

The regents spent about 45 minutes in open session on general problems and then adjourned to executive session which is closed to the press. Then they considered "the ten outstanding achievement awards and budget making problems" according to Pres. J. L. Morrill.

Pres. Morrill told the board that the forestry division has requested more money for forestry research claiming they do not have enough money now to carry on an adequate research program. He advised the board to give the division "a little emergency attention" in next year's budget.

The actual budget will not be ready until May or June according to Pres. Morrill.

The regents also accepted gifts totaling more than $64,500 for scholarships, research, the Variety Club heart hospital and special funds.

Faculty appointments numbered 23; dismissals on the faculty were 14.

Major appointment on the list was that of Charlotte G. Wolf as associate professor in the school of home economics. A graduate of Rutgers university with a masters degree from Columbia university, Miss Wolf's appointment will become effective Sept. 16, 1952.

Major transfer on the regent's docket was that of Edward W. Davis, director-professor at the Mines experiment stations, who was relieved of the directorship at his own request. Davis wants to devote his time to basic research. Taking his position as acting director will be Henry H. Wade, now administrative scientist and assistant director of the experiment stations.

Also adopted was a recommended change in name for the course in "Home Management and Practical Nursing." The change was requested by the school of home economics and the school of nursing. Now the course is titled, "Practical Nursing and Home Management."

The board approved leaves of absence for the following professors: Allen Tate, professor of English; Dale B. Harris, professor of the institute of child welfare; Rodney C. Loehr, associate professor of history; Lyda C. Belthius, associate professor of geography, Duluth branch; Robert E. Moore, assistant professor of English; and Ward M. Wells, assistant professor of physical education, Duluth branch.

Car Washing Weather

More shirtsleeve weather is the good word from the weatherman for today. Skies will be partly cloudy, with winds from the southwest at 10 miles an hour. The high will be a balmy 70 to 75, with a low of 45.

Spring Is Here; Hunt On For E-day 'Queen Colleen'

With spring really here now, study-weary engineering students are preparing to ditch tripods, slide rules, plumb bobs and drafting tables in favor of hair cuts and shined shoes.

Why the feverish preparation? E-day is coming on May 9 and 10. To engineers, E-day is not simply a single day. It also involves judging the qualities of more than 100 queen candidates for the title of Queen Colleen.

E-day queen chairman Bill Lohff says all campus organizations can file applications for one or two queen candidates until 4:30 p.m. Monday in 131 Union.

Preliminary queen judging starts 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Union women's lounge and will be open to the public.

The E-day committee expects to have about 100 coeds at the first judging. After three or four more judgments and the addition of 30 outside contestants picked from girls attending the stag Black Book dance April 25, the queen field will be narrowed down.

At the finals on May 5, there will be only five candidates who will be kissed by several candidates for the engineers' king St. Pat.

On May 9, the engineers will stage a parade—20 floats—through downtown Minneapolis and then around the campus.

Topping the engineers' celebration is their E-day brawl on May 10.

Between the preliminary judging and the brawl are a picnic, a technology open house, a knighting ceremony for St. Pat and an opera, "Il Cuspidor."

Weather permitting, the Union terrace will be opened for the Stardust dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. today. If the outside terrace is opened, the reading room will be converted into a lounge.

Benny Strong and his orchestra will play for dancing in the main ballroom and Bob Bass and his band will appear in the cafeteria. Appearing with both bands will be vocalist Bobby Wayne.

During the dance the Stardust queen, selected by ticket buyers, will be presented by a military escort. Presentation of the merchandise prizes to the winners of the Star-counting contest and Charleston contest also will be made during the dance.

McCormick Plan Vote Not Allowed on Ballot

A student vote on the McCormick plan, proposed for the forthcoming campus elections by the Resident Commuter party, has not been allowed on the ballot.

The ballots went to the printers yesterday without the referendum included, according to Jim Comfort, all-University congress elections chairman.

Only about 300 of the necessary 750 signatures for inclusion of the referendum were obtained, said Jim Read, vice chairman of RCP.

RCP chairman Carl Conner thought that the entire student body should have been given a chance to express its opinion on the controversial issue rather than the all-University congress voting on it (at last Wednesday's meeting).

"I would have preferred a referendum, but since this is done it would be silly for us to campaign against it," he said.

Conner said he personally would like to see an alternative to the McCormick plan.

The all-University congress voting record on the motion made last Wednesday to discontinue the McCormick plan was as follows:

• For—Gusty Anderson, Merry Cady, Jim Comfort, Dutch Cragun, Jack Estes, Barbara Gallagher, Tom Kellett, Lyn Kessler, Katie LeRoy, LaRue Lobitz, Marilyn Schaefer, John Shumway, Bob Silha, Clayton Stunkard. Dudley Kaushagen's name was omitted on the roll call, but he voted for the motion later.

• Against—Jim Penn, Jerry Peterson, Jerry Petterson, Jim Rock, Larry Smith.

• Mike Martell abstained.

Meanwhile, a total of six have filed on the independent slate for positions on three student governing bodies. They are:

• All-University congress—Chuck Mohlke, Bob Allen, Jim Trunk (with Gopher Progressive backing).

• Business board—Bart Burns, Robert Thomas.

Christians Must Side With Weak-Wiggins

By Betty Berg

Christianity must be on the side of the exploited people if it is to be a real power, philosophy instructor Forrest Wiggins told Lutheran students yesterday.

Confining himself to the Christian faith in his "Evaluation of Religion," Dr. Wiggins concluded that Christians must reaffirm the original faith that "the meek shall inherit the earth."

"The struggle in the world today is not between communism and democracy," Dr. Wiggins asserted. "It is instead between those exploited peoples and those who want to keep them in bondage."

Colonial people insist they are men, he said, and Christians must recognize them as such.

Dr. Wiggins believes the Christian religion will become a real power in the world when it loses its present "respectability" and regains its "early insight."

During the early Christian era, according to Dr. Wiggins, Christianity was not the faith of those in high positions. It recognized the complete brotherhood of man, sharing of goods, and the basic tenet that God created all and that all belongs to his children equally.

He described present churches as athletic and social clubs filled on Sunday morning with well-bred people piously listening to sermons.

"Despite two thousand years of preaching charity and brotherhood, the world has returned to the same situation as when Christianity arose," he said, comparing the time of the life of Christ and the present.

"Greco-Roman civilization was decadent, producing a hopeless outlook for the common man. He had no place to go," Dr. Wiggins said, "no guiding agency, no possibility for recognizing his destiny."

Christianity gave hope to the masses then as it must do today, he believes.

He thinks capitalism is not in accord with Christ's teachings.

"Capitalism began with the exploitation of lowly peoples," he said. "The exploitation is continuing; religion has not stopped it."

World Affairs Meet Enters Second Day

A discussion of problems in general education opens the second day of the "Universities and World Affairs" conference here.

Nathan M. Pusey, president of Lawrence college, Russell B. Thomas, president of the University of Chicago, and Richard Hartshorne, professor at the University of Wisconsin, will lead the discussion.

The conference is sponsored by the Carnegie endowment, New York city. Representatives from 30 Northwest colleges and universities are attending.

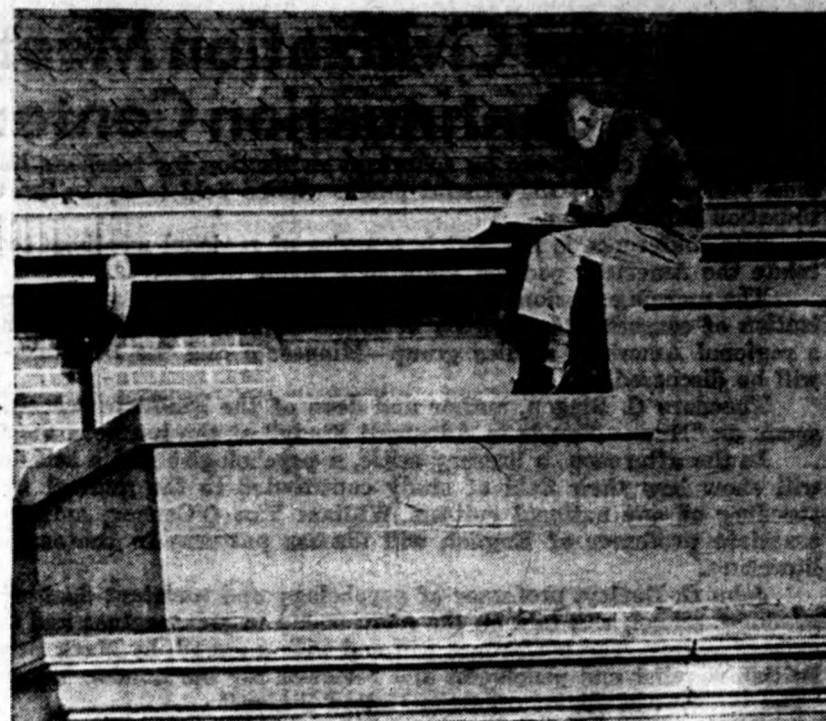

At a luncheon today, Laurence M. Gould, president of Carleton college, will discuss the contributions of the natural sciences to education on international relations.

A session on specialized training in world affairs this afternoon will include Harold Deutsch, professor of history, Clyde H. Bailey, dean of the department of agriculture, and Anne Winslow of the Carnegie Endowment.

Roger Carter, cultural Attache of the British embassy in Washington, will discuss international relations training in British universities tonight.

Charles J. Turck, president of Macalester college, will speak on university responsibilities in adult education tomorrow. Louise Wright, director of the Midwest office of the Institute of International Education, will lead a discussion on foreign student exchange.

A final summary of the position of universities in international relations training will be presented by Russell Fifield, professor at the University of Michigan.

Some like it high. One spring-infected student has discovered the perfect way to study outdoors and still avoid the crowds on the Mall and steps of buildings. He is perched above it all on a parapet of the Main Engineering roof.

Dorm Residents Choose Officers

New officers for the coming year were elected at Centennial, Pioneer and Comstock halls yesterday.

Both Goodmundson and Jaeger will take office immediately. There were no other officers elected at the two men's dormitories.

At Comstock hall, Bette Spaeth, SLA senior, was elected president.

One of her defeated opponents was a man, Larry Serber, who works in the Comstock hall dining rooms. "He ran but due to technical difficulties he didn't get it," reported Halene Whitfield, member of the elections committee.

In lieu of his defeat because of the "technical difficulties," Serber was made an honorary president of Comstock hall.

American Civilization Meet Set for Continuation Center

A one-day conference on American civilization for teachers, librarians, journalists and the general public will be held today in the Continuation Study center.

The conference is the first in a series of regional meetings to correlate the American peoples' knowledge about themselves.

The morning session, starting at 10 a. m., will center around organization of courses and curricula in American studies. Establishment of a regional American studies group—Minnesota and the Dakotas—also will be discussed.

Theodore C. Blegen, author and dean of the graduate school, will speak on "Newer Trends in Advanced Study" at the luncheon meeting. In the afternoon, a literary critic, a psychologist and a sociologist will show how their field of study contributes to the general understanding of our national culture. William Van O'Connor, author and associate professor of English will discuss patterns in contemporary literature.

John G. Darley, professor of psychology and assistant dean of the graduate school, will talk on the relationship between values and social class structure. The conference will end with a speech by Mark Benney, British novelist and penologist and reviewer for the London Times, on "The Concept of Glamour in the United States."

2 Historical Films Will Show Monday

Two historical films will be shown at the Monday movies from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. in the Union main ballroom.

"House of Rothschild," a condensed Hollywood movie, will star George Arliss and give the story of the establishment of the famous banking house of Europe.

An animated color movie on the history of the oil industry also will be shown.

Adams to Become Class of '27 Member

Adams will be inducted as an honorary member of the class at the special reunion luncheon May 23, a part of the annual Minnesota reunion. Adams will give his regular noontime news broadcast from the luncheon.

Donald C. Roger, law graduate of the University and now assistant attorney general of Minnesota, is chairman of the 1927 class. He was president of its senior class.

Northwestern Prof to Talk Here

Thomas D. Eliot, professor of sociology at Northwestern university, will speak at 4:30 p. m. Monday in Murphy hall auditorium.

Eliot, who will speak on "Social Welfare in Norway," recently spent a year there under a Fulbright grant.

The talk is sponsored by the Scandinavian department and the Scandinavian area studies program.

Minnesota Lakes to Dry Up According to Bulletin

All the freshwater lakes in Minnesota will eventually dry up according to a bulletin written by Dr. James A. Zumberge, associate professor of geology at the University of Michigan.

The bulletin, "The Lakes of Minnesota," is published by the University Press as a bulletin of the Minnesota Geological Survey.

MCF Group Will Hear Missionary Talk Monday

The Mission Study group, sponsored by Minnesota Christian fellowship, will meet at 12:30 p. m. Monday in 302 Johnston hall.

The Rev. Robert Reed, missionary to South America, will tell the group his experiences in mission work in Colombia, South America.

Big Sister Applications To Be Taken Next Week

Juniors, sophomores and freshmen interested in acting as big sisters at the Big Sister tea sponsored by AWS next fall as part of the Welcome week activities may apply in 227 Union all next week.

The Ag and I Students to Show U Animals At Kitchie Geshig

Deadline for signing up for the Kitchie Geshig showmanship contest is 5 p. m. Wednesday in Coffey hall.

For those not informed, Kitchie Geshig is the all-college weekend May 16 and 17.

Entrants in the showmanship contest will show animals furnished by the college. They will be judged on their ability to show the animals. Prizes are as high as $25 and $30.

The animals will be assigned to the entrants after the Wednesday deadline. Dates will be posted when the entrants can get instructions in showing animals.

The contest is open to all students.

At its meeting at 7:30 Tuesday in 100 Haecker hall, the Junior Dairy Science club is going to view a color movie titled, "The Triple Threat of Brucellosis."

The speaker will be Hugh Livingston, a graduate student from Scotland.

Any student interested in the dairy industry is invited.

A. L. Harvey, professor of animal husbandry, is going to be down in Columbus, Wis., May 3.

He will be in charge of instruction at the Judge's Conference and Breeder's Type school of the Red Poll Cattle club of America.

Novelist to Speak On Glamour Concepts

A British novelist and literary critic will speak on American concepts of glamour today at a special University lecture.

Mark Benny, now a visiting lecturer at the University of Chicago, will speak at 2 p. m. at the Continuation center. His talk, which is open to the public, is part of a one-day meeting on American civilization sponsored by the American studies department.

Movies to Be Shown On Tropical Eye Ills

Two colored movies on treatment and surgery for tropical eye diseases will be shown at 1:30 p. m. today in the Anatomy building amphitheater.

Dr. Douglas Hursh, missionary from Kano, Nigeria, will show the films. The program is free and open to the public. A discussion period will follow the films.

Wesley Talk Tomorrow

Dr. Hurst Anderson, president of Hamline university, St. Paul, will speak at 7:15 p. m. tomorrow at Wesley foundation. His topic will be "Jesus Teaches About God."

Interior Designing Scholarships Now Offered

Scholarships in interior designing established in memory of the late Johns Hopkins, now are being offered for the first time by the University.

The new scholarships are open to anyone who has completed two years of study at the University in drawing and painting and two years in architectural design. Applicants need not be enrolled at the University.

The scholarships, ranging up to $500, will cover at least three months of intensive study in interior design. Winners may use their scholarship to travel to observe outstanding examples of interior design, study or do research at selected schools or work in the studios of noted interior, industrial, decorative or furniture designers.

Hopkins served for many years as the University's consultant designer, in charge of redecorating campus buildings. He achieved national fame for his work on the St. Paul courthouse and city hall, the Chicago Daily News building and the North Dakota state capitol.

Deadline for applications is May 1. Applications should be submitted to George B. Risty, director of the bureau of loans and scholarships, 201 Eddy hall.

U NROTC Rifle Team To Face Iowa State

The five-man team from Ames, Iowa, and their coach Master Sgt. I. N. Greene, U.S. marine corps, will stay overnight with University team members.

California Pediatrician To Give Memorial Talk

Dr. John M. Adams, head of pediatrics at the University of California, will deliver the annual Clarence M. Jackson memorial address at 8:15 p. m. Monday in the Museum of Natural History auditorium.

His topic will be "Changing Concepts of Respiratory Diseases." The lecture is sponsored by Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity.

Spring Finds Union Terrace In Process of Rejuvenation

Complete rejuvenation of the furniture for the Union outside terrace is not expected to be completed until next week. The doors from the main lounge onto the terrace have been opened but there is no furniture.

Gordon Starr, director of the Union, says there are other problems beside the furniture to be solved before the terrace can be opened.

One of the problems most difficult to solve in the past, Starr said, was the problem of the wind toppling over the ten tables with sun umbrellas.

"Every year there are a few occasions when a gust of wind catches an umbrella and someone finds a sundae or cup of coffee in his face." This year four of the ten large tables with umbrellas will be bolted to the flagstone floor.

Deciding the date when the flowers should be placed out—a date not too early for frosts—is another problem.

When the furniture is re-installed, the doors from the grille will be opened so students may eat on the terrace. "We can do this only as long as students will bus their own dishes," Starr said.

Refuse cans will be placed on the terrace for the commuters who wish to eat bag lunches there.

The entire rejuvenation program will cost nearly $250, says Starr. The terrace may be opened next week. The hours will be the same as usual Union hours.

Holmes Quotation Introduces New Library Exhibit

"Taxes are the price we pay to civilization"—Holmes.

"We were originally inspired by the fifteenth of March," says Mrs. Marion Christenson, principal librarian and chairman of the library exhibits committee. "But when we read up on the matter we discovered that income taxes, while enormous, are only a small part of taxation."

The exhibit, which will be shown during April and May, gives the historical background for taxes and has displays on Roman, Greek, Egyptian, medieval and early modern taxation.

State and federal income taxes are representative of modern taxation. A graph depicting how the U.S. tax dollar is spent shows that 60 per cent goes to the military services, 13 per cent for security and foreign relations and 5 per cent more for veterans services and benefits.

Mobile Dental Unit Serves ROTC Officers

As if going to see the dentist isn't bad enough, naval ROTC officers stationed here have dentists coming to see them. A semi-truck housing a mobile dental unit rolled into the Armory garage this week and will stay there until May 9.

Active NROTC officers from the University and around the state may receive dental treatment in the unit which houses two dental chairs, an X-ray machine, a generator, a hot water tank and an air conditioner.

The mobile dental office is one of two which services the 13 states in the ninth naval district. With the unit are dental officers Cdr. William J. Cobb and Lt. jg. W. E. Crawford and dental technicians Robert V. Holesovski and Morris E. Caldwell.

Ziebarth Will Attend Conferences in Japan

E. W. Ziebarth, chairman of the department of speech and theater arts, will fly to Japan next week for conferences with Gen. Matthew Ridgway and other military and civil leaders.

International affairs analysts from all parts of the United States will make the special trip.

While in Japan, he will consult with those concerned with mass media of communication in an international communication research projects.

Ziebarth last week was given the top award in the news interpretation division of the Institute for Education by Radio and Television.

Geology Dinner Monday

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 39...THE FLYCATCHER

"THEY HAD ME BACKED UP TO THE WALL!"

He's fast—he's smart—he covers ground—he's a real varsity outfielder! The 'quick-trick' cigarette mildness tests were almost too hot to handle, but he didn't make an error. He realized that cigarette mildness can't be judged in slam-bang fashion. Millions of smokers throughout America know, too, there's a thorough way to judge cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Gopher Nine Triumphs 12-0

By Perry Galvin

CEDAR FALLS, IOWA—The Minnesota baseball team backed up Ken McGonagle's five-hit pitching with an 18-hit attack to defeat Iowa State Teachers 12 to 0 here yesterday.

It was the second consecutive shutout victory for the Gophers. Allen Andersen blanked Luther Thursday 7 to 0.

Led by Dick McCrudden's four hits, the Gopher assault began the very first inning. Eugene Elder's lead off single and error and Jim Lund's triple to left produced two runs.

After picking up single runs in the second and third innings the Gophers knocked starter Koch out of the box with a three-run explosion in the fifth inning. Walks to Tom Sullivan and Dick Buro and McCrudden's run scoring single brought in Tangeman. Ora Ackerman's long fly and an error completed the inning's scoring.

McGonagle started shaky by stranding six men in the first three innings. However, he got stronger as the game progressed and retired the last 15 men in order.

Kulbitski Brings Winning Record

John Kulbitski and championships go hand in hand. Where one goes, the other doesn't seem to be far behind. At least that's the way it's been so far. And head coach Wes Fessler naturally hopes this pleasant partnership between Kulbitski and football title continues.

The former Minnesota football and track ace had his appointment as Minnesota freshman football coach made official yesterday at a regular meeting of the board of regents. He had accepted the position several days ago.

Championships started flowing Kulbitski's way when he played football under Bernie Bierman in 1936, 1937 and 1938. In the big center's first year, the Gophers were national champs. In the next two years, Minnesota captured conference crowns.

Kulbitski's high school coaching career began in 1939 at Red Wing high school. The Red Wing team won championships both years Kulbitski coached there.

The Virginia native moved on to South St. Paul and the Packers came through in 1941 with the Twin Cities Suburban title. A three-year hitch in the navy followed. Then Kulbitski returned to South St. Paul where his team was runnerup for the league crown in 1946, 1947 and 1948.

In 1949, the old "Kulbitski touch" returned. The Packers captured the championship that year and in the next two years. The 1949 team was the mythical state champion.

Kulbitski has a masters degree in education and has been working toward a doctor's degree. He and his wife, Garaldean, have three children, Joan, 10; Gary, nine; and Kathy Ann, 14 months.

The new fresh coach will assume his duties at Minnesota Monday. And the Gophers, who undoubtedly will appreciate Kulbitski's neat coaching skill, also will appreciate it if he brings along the "magic title touch" of past years.

Gophers Open Track Slate in Kansas Relays

The Kansas Relays today will offer the Gopher track squad its first taste of outdoor competition this season. Fourteen tracksters, including several key freshmen, will compete for Jim Kelly's squad.

Freshmen who will figure strongly this season include Chuck Swanum and Harry Nash of the quarter-mile relay team and Arnold Beck and Dave Ryerse of the two-mile relay crew. Jerry Helgeson, another first-year man, will be in the discus throw today.

Chisholm Through at U?

Rumors that boxing coach Ray Chisholm was resigning were circulating yesterday. Chisholm had no comment, and athletic director Ike Armstrong was not available for comment.

I-M Office Stymied By Space Headache

The intramural department once again has its back to the wall in its constant fight for adequate space for the ever-growing I-M program. W. R. Smith, department director, said yesterday that there are now more teams entered in baseball competition than the department can possibly handle.

Twenty-six teams are entered in the title race now—six more than there is room for—and Smith says that there will no doubt be another five or six by next week.

So several I-M games each week will have to be played on diamonds "borrowed" from the Minneapolis park board. Since these fields are located some distance from the University, transportation will have to be arranged by the teams themselves—a prospect not too enthusiastically received by these "commuter" clubs.

Lee to Captain '53 U Boxers; 6 of 8 Return

Pete Lee will captain the 1953 Gopher boxing squad. He was chosen yesterday by vote of returning members of this year's squad. The 148-pound junior has boxed two years, this season as a 148-pounder.

Lee was involved in several close decisions this season winding up on the wrong end of most of them. Pete won only once, but was representative of the makeup of the squad in showing determined improvement throughout the year. Coach Ray Chisholm expects a good year in '53 since six of the eight regulars will be back.

Smith did state, however, that several years ago baseball games were held at 6 a.m. He added that he was certain that this idea would not be welcomed by the teams involved in this "early-bird" schedule.

Despite the limited space question, the 1952 intramural baseball schedule will begin on Monday at 6 p.m.
