WARREN TO COACH AT INDIAN SCHOOL

Famous Guard to be Director of Athletics in Oklahoma Institution

John Warren, left guard on the Varsity foot ball team will coach the athletic teams of the Chilocco Indian school, Oklahoma territory, this coming year.

His position is that of coach and general athletic director.

He will take charge at once.

When the St. Louis Fair opens he will take his men there and remain during the summer and until the football season commences.

Besides coaching the football team Warren will have charge of base ball and track athletics.

Warren has had a long and successful record as a football player. In 1898 and 1899 he played on the Carlisle team. In 1900 and 1901 on the Indian Normal school team and in 1902 and 1903 with the Minnesota team. In 1902 he played right tackle and won his "M" in 1903 he shifted to left guard where he played throughout the season. Many critics placed him on the all-western team.

NOTED SPEAKER COMING

"April 27" has appeared in the Y. M. C. A. Bulletin for some time and men are asking "What about April 27?"

That is the date when Willis R. Hotchkiss of Africa will address students and faculty in chapel at 8 o'clock in the evening. Not many students know Mr. Hotchkiss. He ranks with John R. Mott and Robert E. Speer as a logical, forceful speaker. No man at the Student Volunteer Convention held at Toronto, two years ago, made so lasting an impression as did Mr. Hotchkiss. Those who heard him have been speaking of his wonderful address ever since, and few people have not heard his name. Chapel will undoubtedly be crowded to hear him. So far as is known, President Northrop thinks it can be arranged to have him speak in chapel the third hour Friday, during the time of stay here. Students should keep the evening of April 27 open so as to hear Mr. Hotchkiss.

BASE BALL MEET

First Outdoor Practice Held on Campus Yesterday.

The baseball team got out on the campus to practice yesterday for the first time.

The diamond on Northrop Field is still flooded and so the campus east of the Physics Building was used. Even here the ground was rather muddy, but will probably be dried off in a few days. The practice consisted entirely of batting and catching flies, grounders being barred out on account of the damp ground.

About sixty men, most of them in full uniform, were out for practice.

As soon as possible a diamond will be marked off and practice for the different positions commenced.

A. C. Conser, Acad., '03, is among the numerous alumni who are spending Easter vacation at or around the University. Mr. Conser is principal of schools at Windom, Minn.

PROFESSORS LIKE SIX-DAY SYSTEM

General Opinion is That It Will Greatly Increase Efficiency in All Departments

The six day system is creating a great deal of discussion among the students and faculty alike. The students are somewhat divided in their opinions but the Faculty are quite generally of the belief that the proposed system is the most desirable one that could be put into operation. There are but few colleges or universities in the country which are carried on under the four hour system, but nearly all are conducted somewhat on the lines as now proposed here.

The groups which are recognized for the purpose of distributing long courses are as follows:

- (a) All languages.
- (b) Sciences.
- (c) Social Sciences, History, Political Science, Philosophy.

Students must take one long course in each one of these likewise, one short course in Mathematics during their Freshman year. There will be no five hour courses, but all courses will be 3 hours per week.

A Few Opinions.

Several professors have expressed opinions of the proposed plan and their views give more of the pros and cons than one could otherwise obtain.

Dr. Wilde said: "In general, I am in favor of the proposed plan. I do not think that it will tend to specialization more than at present, as there is in any department a necessary sequence of subjects."

McVey Gives Reasons.

Dr. McVey gives many very interesting reasons for the adoption of the present system. There will be more classes in the same subject than is the case at the present time. So that if two subjects occur at the same hour, it may be possible for a person to take one of the subjects three days a week and the other the remaining three days. Many of the seminar subjects will be done away with, that is, made into three-hour subjects and will count as credits. Much of this will be left to the individual department.

"Afraid of It."

Dr. McClumpha says, "I am afraid of it. There are bound to be complications. If specification of work is going to be made obligatory as it is inevitable that it will, there will be trouble. If one study is required for another, it compels a student to follow one line of work."

West Favors It.

Prof. West is heartily in favor of the plan. He says that it will give a student double the opportunity to take the subjects which he desires. It will not tend particularly in the line of specialization, although there will be greater opportunity to do so, if one wishes.

Altogether it seems likely that there will be no trouble in the passage of the new regulations.

COST HIM $100

The minimum expenditure for a single year at Yale, $100, was made by a man who spent but $550 during his entire course. The highest individual expenditure in a single year was $11,000. The maximum cost for four years was $20,000.

MEN OF CATHOLIC CLUB TO BANQUET

Men of University Catholic Association Lay Plans for Stag Festival

The men of the University Catholic Association will meet around the banquet board at Hotel Nicollet on Saturday evening, April 9th. John Gleason, '06, is chairman of an invitation committee consisting of twenty-five members carefully selected from various departments. The idea of the banquet is carrying out one of the two objects for which the association was formed, namely: to acquire a better knowledge of doctrine, and secondly to create a closer feeling of fellowship.

The more prominent of the city clergy who have always been interested in the success of the organization will be invited. A special invitation will be sent to Archbishop Ireland. The plates are $1.00 per and one hundred men have signed to attend. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee.

PROFESSORS HONORED

Two More Made Chairmen of Exposition Conferences.

Dr. W. W. Folwell, head of the department of Economics and Professor C. W. Hall, head of the department of Geology have been chosen chairmen of sections in the International Educational Conference to be held in Connection with the St. Louis World's Fair.

Dr. Folwell is to be chairman of the department of economics. Professor Hall has received a similar appointment in the Geology section.

Professor F. L. McVey will be one of the members of the board of awards for the exhibition of the Social Economy Section.

"ON ENIGHT ONLY."

This great production will be given again in chapel.

While but little has been heard of late in regard to the dramatic club, nevertheless the members are at work and are laying elaborate plans for next year.

It is probable that besides the play to be taken on the road, another one of a heavier nature will be put on in town. The local play may be "Everyman," which had to be given up this year.

But it is likely the club will, attempt something of Ibsen's or Ben Johnson's. The aim of the club is to put on a better class of plays from year to year.

"One Night Only," will make its final appearance to the public some time during the coming month. The play will be put on in chapel and a minimum admittance will be charged the proceeds of which will go toward some of the college organizations.

Mr. J. A. Burger, Acad. '01, now principal of schools at Staples, Minn., was seen at the University yesterday. While at the U Mr. Burger was one of Minnesota's strongest men in debate and oratory, serving on several intercollegiate debates. During his last year at the University he was business manager of the Daily.

GYM. SQUAD BACK FROM EASTERN TRIP

Enjoyable Trip and Fine Treatment Reported—Capt. Ostvig Wins Third Place in All-Around Work

Dr. Cooke and his gymnastic squad returned yesterday morning all in good condition from the New York Meet. The trip proved in everyway enjoyable and profitable to the men. They were delighted with the treatment they received, and claim that they were beaten fairly. One of the causes of their defeat they contribute to their inexperience with the Eastern style of work.

"We were afforded an excellent opportunity to compare the gym. work of the East and West," said Dr. Cooke. "Their combinations are much larger than ours. Where we have three or four exercises in a combination they have 7 or 8."

Gymnastic work is much more advanced in the East. It is made a great deal more of than here. Then, too, they practice harder. At Yale the gym. teams start work as soon as college opens.

Their apparatus differed a trifle from ours but that did not have any serious effect on our work.

The Eastern men cordially welcomed us and encouraged us to come again as shown by the appointment of Ostvig on the executive board.

While we were royally entertained as the guests of the President of the New York Gymnastic Association.

The colleges which entered the gymnastic championship contest were Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Minnesota, Rutgers, New York University, Univ. of Pennsylvania, Haverford and Amherst.

The first and second places were carried off by Yale.

Minnesota ranked about midway on the line. The men showed up well in the contest, their limited number of exercises counting against them rather than any lack of skill. Ostvig's work was especially good. He won for himself third place in the All Round Championship Contest.

HIGH SCHOOL FINALS

Fergus Falls vs. St. Paul in Chapel.

The final inter-high school debate to decide the championship of the state will be held in chapel on the 15th day of April.

The Central High School of St. Paul and the Fergus Falls High School won out in the semi-finals last week and will therefore be the contestants in the finals.

Fergus Falls won the cup last year.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

On April 12th at 8 p.m. the Seniors will inaugurate their first lenten social season with a little "time" at the armory.

Dancing will be the order of the evening but seniors not caring to indulge, will come just the same for electives have been added to the program and everyone will have "the time of his life."

The committee consists of Annie D. Blitz, Ruth Rosholt, Fred Poppe, Amy Cook, and Frank Fernald.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE—ITS LESSON

The Woman's League has been a lesson and an inspiration to the University.

The lesson it has taught has been the value of student organization and co-operation.

The inspiration it has given has been the application of student organization and co-operation to uplifting and bettering the conditions of college life.

Three years ago the Woman's league was nothing.

To-day it is the most powerful and important student organization in the fourth largest university on the American continent.

Three years ago it was struggling for life.

To-day its membership is only limited by the number of girls enrolled in the university.

Three years ago its object was purely social.

To-day it is actively preparing to raise sufficient funds to build a woman's building on the campus to be a monument, as it were to the persistence, loyalty and tireless energy of the college girl of the North Star State.

But have the men at the University learned the lesson which these girls are trying to teach us? Have we gained from their endeavours the proper amount of inspiration?

No.

The men at the University are unorganized. They are divided into different cliques, and clans, parties and factions; are separated by social barriers, and are without a common inspiration or a common purpose.

Not so with the girls. They are united. True, the same agencies operate to separate them as among the men, but these agencies are subordinated to their common organization and their common purpose. Petty jealousies, social differences and class distinctions are here forgotten, or laid aside in order that their purpose may be accomplished.

Is this not a lesson that the men at the University might well learn, an example that they might emulate.

We hope that some time in the not very distant future, a Men's League will be organized at the University.

But it will not come to-day, or tomorrow, or next year. In fact it can never come until the student body becomes inspired by the fact that the material welfare and prosperity of the University of Minnesota should be placed above politics, above society, above athletics and above all the other phases of college life which tend to separate the poor from the rich, the genius from the dullard and the weak from the strong. And not until these disintegrating tendencies are neutralized, not until unification instead of separation, becomes the dominant factor in college life, will the men of the University accomplish anything along this line.

AN IDEAL PROF.

In a lecture on "The College Faculty," President Harper outlines the following qualifications for the ideal college professor:

He should be married.
He should be a church member.
He should mix with his students outside the class room.

He should have a doctor's degree.
He should be willing to work hard eleven months in the year.

He should be in sympathy with the public and take an active interest in public affairs.

President Harper said that the college professor who is married will do three times as much work as one who is not, and if he has three or four children he will be a better man.

At the same time, there were, in Doctor Harper's audience, members of his own faculty who are confirmed bachelors and club men, who teach for a part of the year and travel the remainder of the time.

Prof. S. Sigvaldson, Acad., '93, of Buffalo Lake, Minn., is spending his vacation in the city.

Co-eds in Short Story Class at Northwestern Take Advantage of Offer

"I see no reason why the members of this class should not make themselves comfortable. I wish that we might have rockers and Morris chairs and that the ladies should bring their sewing if they wish. We might even delegate some one to serve fudges," said Prof. Odell to the members of his short story class at Northwestern at a recent meeting.

The young ladies, nothing loth, have taken the professor at his word and have arranged that neither the fudges nor the sewing will be lacking when the class meets again next Tuesday.
One member has been given the duty of serving, while some of the other ladies declare that they will appear with their fancy work.

The Swami Ranu Speaks of His Plan to Send High Caste Hindoo Students to America

The students who were fortunate enough to be at chapel yesterday enjoyed a brief but interesting talk given by Swami Ran who was introduced to the audience by Dean Wulling of the Pharmacy School. The Swami spoke of the educational conditions in India and of the lack of such movements in reform as has characterized the advancement of all nations. He pictured life as it is at the present time in his native land and presented his plan to send to America and educate the finest young men of India, "her heart's blood" as he calls them. It is their hands which he wishes to particularly educate though while here, they must imbibe the energy, and true spirit of equality which characterizes this American generation. Then they will return to their people to accomplish what the missionaries can never accomplish in India. The lack of social and industrial intercourse due to caste distinction, he spoke of as one of India's greatest drawbacks. He is small man with a pleasingly foreign accent which, however, detracts nothing from the clearness of his speech.

The Swami will give a long talk on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the chapel, and will tell many interesting stories of his work both in India and the United States and the results he has already achieved, and what he hopes for the future.
