

NAACP's Spingarn (L) discusses convention with award-winner Langston Hughes.

Students March Against Legionnaires' Actions

(The following story is part of a telephone interview with the Daily Californian, University of California student newspaper at Berkeley.)

BERKELEY, Calif.—Walking for "the right to picket," 150 students Sunday staged a march in front of the American Legion state convention headquarters where four youths were roughed up by angry Legionnaires last Saturday.

The students—most of them from San Francisco State University and the University of California—weren't protesting the American Legion gathering for the same reason as Saturday's picketers.

Most of the convention's 2,000 delegates left San Francisco's Civic Auditorium Saturday and surrounded the youths, who carried signs reading, "Don't Resurrect McCarthyism," "Why Must You Kill the UN?" and "We Must Keep Our Civil Liberties." The youths were later identified only as "students."

ANGRY Legionnaires grabbed their signs and destroyed them. A newspaper reporter said Legionnaires took his notes and tore them into pieces.

Sunday the four students, unhurt, stood on the sidelines watching as the 150 students picketed the convention. It was believed that Sunday's picketers included students who had staged a pacifist sitdown strike on the steps of San Francisco's city hall last month.

They waved signs in front of the auditorium Sunday which read "Americanism Means Free Speech," and "Thought Control?"

ONE PICKETER said, "The Legion can pass any resolution it wants to, but it can't stop non-violent picketing."

The students broke ranks about 5 p.m. San Francisco time and dispersed.

There was no indication what the "resolutions" were which the Legionnaires had proposed to pass before Saturday's incident.

Move Started To Give D.C. Voting Rights

Presently in the District of Columbia, a movement is underway to propose an amendment to the U. S. Constitution guaranteeing the District's citizens the right to cast votes in presidential and vice-presidential elections.

Under the present setup, people in the District have no voice in either national or local government. All local affairs are under the Federal government, even the setting of streetcar and taxi fares.

YESTERDAY Marshall S. Watson, local executive secretary and counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union, said his organization "would certainly support such a move" although it is "not an ordinary civil rights matter."

Magician to Give Thursday Convo
Kajar, internationally-known magician, will appear at an 8 p.m. convocation Thursday in Northrop Auditorium.
Besides appearing on TV and writing several books on magic, Kajar has acted as technical adviser for Broadway plays and Hollywood movies.
His performance is free and open to the public.

NAACP Delivers Warning, Awards

By MAURICE HOBBS

Warnings to possible Southern candidates for the presidency were handed out here Sunday along with the University's outstanding achievement award and the Spingarn medal, at the last meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) convention.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, was handed the University's outstanding achievement award by University Vice-President Malcolm Willey.

IN HIS ACCEPTANCE speech Wilkins said "unfair as it may be, any candidate from the South must bear the cross made up of the sins of the unreconstructed" Deep South states.

The possible Democratic candidates can, with one exception, be called good candidates, he said. The announced Republican candidate is in the same category.

But Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D., Texas), or any other candidate from the South, said Wilkins, must bear the burden of the treatment of the Negro in the South.

WILKINS ALSO CALLED on the Democratic and Republican parties to adopt meaningful civil rights platforms, to cover voting, housing and employment.

The Spingarn medal, presented to the man of African descent who has made the greatest achievement in the year, was given to author, playwright and poet Langston Hughes by Arthur Spingarn, NAACP president.

Hughes criticized Negro writers who are ashamed of writing about Negroes or who want to write about "just people."

It hadn't been for the troubles of the Negro race, he said, his books, poems and plays might never have been written.

At Showboat . . . Audience Stages Show

By HEATHER ARLING

Some men and women in the Showboat audience Sunday looked as if they were going to perform. They were wearing costumes from the same period as those worn by the Showboat cast.

This was because the Minneapolis Region of the Horseless Carriage Club of America came to see "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" Sunday.

People drove up in vintage cars (the oldest, an '09 Maxwell) wearing costumes from the same era. They walked across the gangplank to the Showboat (built in 1899) and were greeted by cast members wearing costumes with a 1904 flavor. They came to see a musical comedy George M. Cohan wrote in 1904.

The Minneapolis Region of the Horseless Carriage Club was founded in 1952, said club president Bob McDonald, South St. Paul.

"Some members have had the cars since they were new," McDonald said. "But that's rare. Most of the cars have been dug up from junkyards or old barns."

Most of the Horseless Carriage Club's activities are held in the summertime. "Generally we have a parade in a small town," Mrs. Donald McGregor, club member, said.

People gather costumes from the Salvation Army, Good Will and ancestors. They collect wardrobes of costumes.

Costumes are chosen in relation to the cars members drive. "If someone has a 1910 car he tries to get a costume from the same year or so," she said.

Higher Horizons

NYC Program Could Help Here

New York City's "higher horizons" program, aimed at giving the city's slum-born youth a better chance to go to college, is an original valuable experiment that should be tried here.

THE FIRST GUNIEA PIG was P. S. 43 in Harlem, a junior high school with a poor attendance and attainment record. Half the students tested there were found to be possible college material.

The program included remedial courses and private group-financed trips to colleges, museums and symphonies.

College students from homes in the slums gave talks to the students—and, just as important, to their parents—on how they could go to college with the help of scholarships and part-time jobs.

NOW, AFTER a year with the program, attendance figures at P. S. 43 have reached a higher overall average than the rest of the city.

THE TWIN CITIES would benefit from such a program. We certainly have private groups here that would be willing to pay part of the way.

Ask the Legion . . .

Who's Un-American?

Hooray for the American Legion!

The quick, decisive action Legion members took Saturday against four students who picketed their state convention in California again—earmarks Legionnaires for headier duty to America—that of reviving the despotism and thought control against which the Legion says it battles so vigorously.

THE STUDENTS in question carried signs reading "Don't Resurrect McCarthyism," and "Why Must You Kill the U.N.?" They acted, presumably, because of beliefs they hold to be important. And the veteran, presumably, went to war because they believed in something the enemy denied was true. Saturday's action of manhandling the students and ripping their signs unfortunately leaves the Legion in the same ideological position as our ex-enemies.

WHEN THE LEGION and the McCarthyites begin to realize that viewpoints different from theirs are tenable and possibly true, then and only then will the Legion's perennial shouts of "America for Americans" be realized.

Hooray for the "American" Legion.

CAMPUS OPINION

To the Editor:

Well, the Daily is back at their "anti-witch-hunting" role again. On June 24, the Daily carried an editorial entitled "Witch Hunting Again" in which they attempted to justify Linus Pauling's flaunting of the right of a congressional subcommittee to expect him to answer a question when asked.

He did not take the Fifth Amendment; therefore he must answer the questions put to him.

I, LIKE THE DAILY, am opposed to the government making reprisals against one's opinions or lawful actions, but the Daily goes so far as to ask, "By what right does any government agency open to reprisal men who express a peaceful, honest and certainly lawful opinion?" What the Daily is forgetting to consider, is:

● Any testimony, whether concerning opinions or not can be used as material for reprisals.

● Our court and congressional committee system must be able to expect anyone on the stand to answer any pertinent, non-self-incriminating question in order to function in the best interest of the public.

● It is not a function of the government to stop private citizens from reacting in a lawful manner to the opinions expressed by others.

● Most importantly, Pauling, if he is cited, will be so for refusing to answer questions on the stand. This has been an established congressional practice for over 150 years. Therefore, despite the Daily's allegations, this matter does not involve infringements on the right of free thought.

Thus in effect, the Daily is questioning our entire court and congressional committee system as well as the practice of making testimony matter of the public record.

CONCERNING WITCH HUNTING the Daily might also be interested to hear that the Central Intelligence Agency estimates there are over 300,000 trained communist agents roaming around the free world. Is it not a matter of national and personal concern that we cooperate with our government to help root out those who would destroy us?

I hope you will find room to present the other side of the issue that you have discussed so one-sidedly.

John Keating,

NAACP ...

"THERE IS NOTHING to be ashamed of in being a Negro," he said.

The meeting came at the end of a week of NAACP sessions in St. Paul. Some 1,000 NAACP delegates and observers assembled from all over the country. Among other actions the delegates passed resolutions calling for:

- Condemnation of Vanderbilt University, Alabama State College, Kentucky State College and Southern University for expelling students and dismissing teachers who took part in sit-in demonstrations.

- Compilation and making available the "voting and public records of candidates who seek election to national, state, county, city or local governmental offices," particularly their civil rights stands.

- Boycott of goods from the Union of South Africa, and United States action in the United Nations "including if necessary military intervention by the United Nations to stop the violation of fundamental human rights."

- Inclusion of the "Powell amendment," which would prohibit states with segregated school systems from obtaining federal funds or assistance, in any federal education aid legislation.
