CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK

Engineer to Give Convocation Talk Thursday, June 18

David Cushman Coyle, widely known consulting engineer and designer of the Washington state capitol, will be the first of five convocation speakers on the summer session convocation program. He will speak on "Technology and Culture" at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 18, in Northrop Auditorium.

A psychologist, a famous Alaskan wolf-dog musher, a traveler and lecturer on foreign affairs and a famous sculptor will follow Mr. Coyle on subsequent convocation programs which are scheduled on consecutive Thursday mornings during the first session.

David Seabury, psychologist, author and lecturer, will deliver the convocation address on Thursday, June 25, at 10 a.m. His subject will be "Keeping Up with Your Mind." Mr. Seabury is the author of two books, "Unmasking Our Minds," and "Growing into Life." Kenneth Meyers, whose travels during the past 15 years have taken him to Europe 20 times, Asia five, Africa three and South America twice, will be the speaker on the following Thursday, July 2. His subject will be "The New Palestine."

"The Romance of Alaska" will be the subject of "Slim" Williams, well-known Alaskan pioneer, miner, big game hunter and dog team driver, when he appears at convocation on Thursday, July 9. Williams made the longest dog sled trek in the history of the north a few years ago when he drove his wolf-dogs from Copper Center, Alaska, to Washington, D. C., a distance of 5,600 miles.

Lorado Taft, noted Chicago sculptor, will be the last speaker on the first term convocation schedule. He will speak on "My Dream Museum" at 10 a.m. Thursday, July 16. Among Mr. Taft's best known professional works are "The Blind," the Columbus Memorial Fountain in Washington, D. C., a monument to Washington at Seattle, Washington, and the "Fountain of Time" on the Midway Plaisance in Chicago.

Commencement exercises will be conducted on Thursday, July 23, at 10 a.m. and will replace the convocation hour. Dr. Charles H. Judd, head of the de-

Teacher Training Course Offered Graduate Nurses

In order to serve both adult education and the work of the organized school, the University of Minnesota in cooperation with the American National Red Cross is offering to graduate registered nurses a program in the theory and practice of teaching during the summer quarter.

Because more and more emphasis is being placed upon the need for better group education there is a need for the nurses who are teaching or who are to teach courses in home hygiene and care of the sick as conducted by the Red Cross to be trained in teaching methods, according to the stated purpose of the course.

Marion Clayton Will Play Organ Concert Tonight

Marion Clayton, organist of the Lafayette avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, will be presented in a recital for the organ today at 8 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium. The recital is listed as one of the outstanding musical events on the first program for the summer session.

Nationally known as one of the country's outstanding concert organists, Miss Clayton will present a program of eight selections for the organ. Two compositions by Liszt will be included in the group with the remainder of the program made up of the compositions of Handel, Couperin, Reger, Bach, Callaerts and Debussy.

Liszt's "Prelude and Fugue on B-A-C-H" has been included in the program in recognition of the one hundred twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of Liszt which occurs this year. As a tribute from one composer to another, Liszt takes the notes B, A, C, H, which in the American notation would be B flat, A, C, and B, and with them spells over and over again the name of Bach. Liszt's "Der Papst-Hymnus" depicting the founding of the Christian church is also on the program.

"Concerto X" by Handel has been selected to open the program. This is one of the 20 concertos for organ and orchestra written by Handel. It was his custom to perform one of them between parts of the "Messiah" or other oratorio, frequently playing the organ part himself. This concerto was arranged for the organ alone by Alexander Guilmant.

The aria, "Bist du bei mir" by Bach is also on the program. The aria is found in the second notebook of Anna Magdalena Bach which contains a miscellaneous group of pieces. "Intermezzo" by Callaerts, organist of the grand organ of the Antwerp cathedral, during the latter part of the nineteenth century, has also been included by Miss Clayton.

"Soeur Monique" by Couperin, court musician to Louis XIV of France, Reger's "Benedictus" and "Prelude to the Blessed Damozel" by Debussy complete the program. The complete program in

2-Piano Recital Scheduled Today

A program of compositions for two pianos will be presented by Constance Lane and Marion Nelson in the Music Auditorium at 3 p.m. today as the first of the summer session music programs.

The program is as follows:

I
Rondo Brillante Schubert-Bauer
Andante and Variations Schumann
II
Introduction to 2nd Suite Rachmaninoff
Silhouettes Arensky
The Dreamer The Dancer
III
Dances Andalouses Infante
Sentimento
Ritmo

The program is open to summer session students and to the general public free of charge. The second in the series of afternoon recitals is scheduled for 3 p.m., Wednesday, June 25, when Frank Miller, cellist, will present a program in the Music auditorium.

Orchestra Soloist Well Known Here

Guy Maier, who will appear on the campus Thursday night as soloist with the Twin Cities Civic orchestra, is perhaps best known as a member of the noted piano duo of Maier and Lee Pattison, but he is also an outstanding concert pianist in his own right.

Maier, together with Pattison and Walter Damroch, inaugurated the French-American music school in France immediately following the World war. The team of Maier and Pattison has appeared in the Twin Cities several times. At present, however, Maier is serving as the assistant to Dr. Nikolai Sokoloff, federal director, of the Federal Music Project which sponsors the civic orchestra.

Abe Pepinsky, assistant professor of music and guest conductor for the June 18 concert, expressed himself yesterday as "highly enthusiastic" concerning the performances of the orchestra in rehearsal, pointing out that the personnel of the organization contained many fine musicians with excellent professional reputations in the Twin Cities.

The orchestra will open the program tomorrow night with the overture, "Iphigenia in Avlis" by Gluck. Mr. Maier has chosen the Concerto for Piano in C Major (K.V. 467) by Mozart as his selection. This number will include the movements allegro maestoso, andante and allegro vivace assai. The orchestra will close the program with "Symphony 'Italian,' Op. 90" by Mendelssohn including Allegro vivace, andante con moto, con moto moderato and saltarello presto movement.

All of the concerts of the orchestra will be open to the summer session students and to the general public without admission charge.
