GOPHERS ENROUTE TO WISCONSIN TOWN

TWO AG STUDENTS EXPELLED FOR PARTICIPATION IN SCRAP

Twelve Others Are Suspended; Four of These Are Frosh

BOTH EJECTED MEN ARE SOPHOMORES

Dean Nicholson Reviews Unscheduled Class Fracas at University

Unconditional expulsion of two AG for the remainder of the quarter, reinstatement of twelve, and the partial suspension and subsequent scrag of the huge ladderless 212 foot concrete chimney as the center of underclass flag raising battles are the final class scrap casualties listed in the latest communique from the AG campus front.

Both of the expelled men were Sophomores. Four of the twelve suspended pending signing of peace treaties were freshmen. Eight of the dozen were second year men.

A complete review of the entire situation was outlined yesterday by E. M. Nicholson, dean of student affairs, who ordered the action taken. Waste of time and disorganization of the teaching program occasioned by class scraps in every college of the University together with specific violations of a student-faculty agreement are given as basic reasons for the position taken by the administration.

With the dean of student affairs as chairman, representatives of all official student organizations after investigation of the problem recommended that class scraps in all colleges of the University should be held under the direction of the All-University students' council; that class rushes in all colleges were to take place on the same day; and that the students' councils in the various colleges should act as sub-committees in charge of rushes in their respective colleges.

Leave of Absence Granted Medic Prof.

Because of illness, Dr. J. P. Sedgwick, head of the department of Pediatrics in the Medical school, has been granted a three months' leave of absence with pay by the Board of Regents.

As it has been Dr. Sedgwick's custom to take his vacation during the winter, he will be absent from the department six months. Accompanied by his family, he will leave Saturday for Los Angeles, Cal. His daughter, Jane Sedgwick, a University student, will remain in Minneapolis.

International Club Hears Dr. W. H. Emmons

Dr. W. H. Emmons, head of the department of geology and mineralogy spoke last night to members of the International Relations Club on "China and its Peoples." Dr. Emmons has recently returned from Southern Manchuria where he examined iron and coal fields along the Southern Manchurian railroad.

Why doesn't some statesman make his name secure by proposing that we buy our own land instruments into showcases?

FIRST YEAR SQUAD WILL GO TO GAME

Tag Sale Money Will Send Pig-Skin Chasers to Madison

Definite results as to the outcome of the tag selling contest will not be known till ten o'clock this morning, when all the money will be in the hands of M. A. Webb, who was in charge. At this time money will be given to members of the freshman squad at the rotunda of the Library.

A list of 25 men were given by Coach "Sig" Harris, and these men will be given batches of twenty dollars each as long as the money lasts. It may be possible that all the men will be sent, but if not enough money is had, the men will receive twenty dollars shares in the order following: Abramson, Cox, Christian, DeLoach, Ecklund, Gilbreth, Jacobson, Macdonald, McMillan, Nockles, Odell, Rollet, Sarff, Simmons, VanDuzee, Forasdeek, Thompson, Mason, Wachholz, Klesnet, Moore, Stoner, Etersen, Brock, and Ode.

Regents Announce New Appointments

Appointment of Wives of Three Faculty Members Confirmed By President

The new members are Mrs. Gladys Blakey, wife of R. G. Blakey, professor of economics, as assistant in the department of history; Mrs. Elizabeth Buck, wife of Sten J. Buck, professor in the department of history, as part time instructor in the department of English to take the place of Miss Dorothy Hudson, who is on leave of absence; and Mrs. Hermione Dealey Dronak, whose appointment as assistant professor of educational psychology was confirmed.

President Coffman said it was undesirable that both husband and wife be faculty members, and after Jan. 1, 1922 only one member will remain.

Forensic League Extends Activities

Marion Is Head of Campus Literary Societies

Forensic League activities will be extended this year, an oratorical contest being the feature for the first quarter, the regular debate the second quarter, and in the spring, a League banquet followed by a representative feature program.

The League is composed of representatives of the seven Forensic literary societies, with Francis Marion, a Shakopee member, president.

Glee Club Leader Wants More Tenors

Organization of the Men's Glee Club will not take place until all parts are filled, according to John Wiggins, the president of the club. Tenors are especially desired.

There are 40 aspirants for baritone, 20 for bass, and 4 for first and second tenor sections.

Five thousand of the 6,000 seats allotted to Ohio State for the Michigan-Ohio game have been sold. The Buckeyes will travel to Ann Arbor in four special trains.

"Dad" Elliott's Views Applicable To All Students

(By Lawrence S. Clark) I sat alone this morning with "Dad" Elliott for an hour while he told me why he is here at Minnesota this week end, what he hopes to accomplish and how he hopes to accomplish it.

I was impressed with his earnestness, his sincerity of purpose, and his confidence in the Minnesota student body. The effects of his talks last year were far-reaching, everyone must admit. He, himself, was pleased with the reaction.

"Dad" does not expect everyone to agree with him. He knows that everything he says cannot be universally applicable. But he does know that there are certain fundamental things in every man's life, some of which require more careful analysis and attention than the average college student cares to give them.

College, "Dad" says, is the practice field for life. What a man does in college will be reflected in his after life. Can a man be fundamentally wrong in college activities, he asks, and then go out into life upon graduation clean, wholesome, and striving always for what is right? Only one person in nine changes his methods of living after he gets out of college, and only one in four after his second year in college.

To make students think about this, to make them realize that what they are in college is reflected in their life, and to make them want to change in their methods for the right, is "Dad's" purpose in coming to Minnesota. His meetings last year caused discussion, revision of many lives, and a higher moral tone visible in the better college spirit prevalent on the campus last spring and this fall. He is here this year to continue the work, and to give it added impetus. Will the student body rise to the occasion as it did last year? "Dad" thinks it will.

On, Fair Ones, You'll Catch Up

Professor James Davies, of the German Department, recently aroused the wrath of every co-ed in his Modern Drama class when he compared members of their sex with men.

"There is no doubt that women are advancing," Mr. Davies told his Modern Drama class, a few days ago. "And they're changing for the better, too."

The eyes of the co-eds, which had become noticeably brighter, instantly dimmed when Mr. Davies resumed his discussion. "Yes," he continued smilingly, "the women are indeed improving. Why, they grow more like us men every day."

In The Wake Of The News

Radio News, Madison, Oct. 27, Special to Minnesota Daily.

The team is in especially good condition and is showing up well," said Coach John R. Richards, yesterday, after he had put the eleven through a stiff 40 minute scrimmage with the Freshman eleven.

"I doubt if we are in as good condition as we were last week, however," The squad has been practicing new and old plays in anticipation of a tough battle when it meets Minnesota for the Homecoming game Saturday.

By wireless through the University of Minnesota Station.

University of Missouri, Oct. 17.—Scout McCormick, who returned to the Drake stronghold, reported to coach Banks that, in his estimation, the Missouri team was more to be feared than the Kansas Aggies despite the Manhattan victory last Saturday. McCormick's report to his superiors was that the Aggies won on the breaks that come once in a season, while Missouri's defeat was partially aided by a few errors of judgment which will probably never happen again.

Well, New York won the world's series—just as we expected.

Homecoming Guest

COLONEL LEE

The Colonel has attended every Minnesota football game since time immemorial. The Homecoming committee, having decided that Colonel Lee is as much a part of the game as the stands or the team, have singled him out for special attention at the Minnesota-Iowa game Nov. 5, and will present him with a football blanket and a box seat for the fracas.

Gopher-Badger Tickets All Sold

Too late, they are all gone! Not a single ticket remains of the five hundred which were on sale at the athletic office. Dr. Cooke wired yesterday for more, but the answer was, "All available space sold, even the standing room." One after another, disappointed Gopher rooters filed out of the office.

Dr. Cooke said, "This unprecedented demand for tickets to the Maroon and Gold backers. With five hundred human explosions from Minnesota behind them, the never-give-up kind of scrags in them, the Gophers will give the Badgers another disappointing homecoming."

Read It, Then Sleep Under It

A new and most unique use for the "Minnesota Daily" has recently been discovered by Greta Miller, a Sophomore Academic who lives at Sanford Hall.

A short time ago Miss Miller lay down for a nap—without covers. When she awoke some two hours later, she found herself very snugly wrapped in the folds of the "Minnesota Daily."

"How did that get there?" inquired Miss Miller.

Then her room mate, who had witnessed the scene, told her that after she had slept for half an hour, she sat up in bed, reached for the "Daily" which lay folded at the foot of the bed, carefully unfolded it, spread it out to its fullest dimensions, and wrapped it around her body. Miss Miller then resumed her nap.

Campus Indicator

Every day the Daily reporter asks ten students picked at random a question.

QUESTION: What does an Academic Think a Good Student is? Mitchell I. Harris, sophomore, academic—"A good student is one who gets his lessons right along, puts in five nights a week studying, and does not step out unless he has his studies completed."

W. R. Nelson, sophomore, academic—"What is a good student? I am a good student."

R. W. Swanson, senior, academic—"A good student is one who wears an eye-shade in the upper reading room in the Library."

W. D. Brown, junior academic—"A good student is one who helps send the band to Madison."

Dorothy Higgins, junior academic—"One who wears goggles, carries a lot of books, and has the ability to bluff."

Grace Dougherty, freshman, academic—"One who wears glasses and studies all the time."

Mary A. Osborne, freshman, academic—"One who can get through without studying."

College Activity Indicates Work In Later Life

"Dad" Elliott Discusses Student Affairs at Campus Gatherings

ELLIOTT MEETINGS TODAY.

4:00 p. m. Open. Engineering Auditorium.

7:30 p. m. Men Only. Armory.

"We must increase our capacity for constructive influence on the campus, because what we are in college determines what we will be in later life," A. J. ("Dad") Elliott, student secretary for the International committee of the Y. M. C. A., declared yesterday at convocation. "Only one man in nine changes the direction of his life after he gets out of college, and only one in four after his sophomore year."

Mr. Elliott went on to cite specific examples of where present day college life is falling down. He considered the classroom but briefly, saying that the problem there was to "knock the idea out that college is a winter resort."

Coming to Minnesota under the auspices of the student Y. M. C. A., "Dad" Elliott gave three talks on the campus yesterday and is scheduled for two today besides numerous personal conferences. He spoke to the women students yesterday afternoon in the Little Theatre on "The Woman's Problem from a Man's Point of View." Last night, in the Minnesota Union, he addressed nearly two hundred fraternity men on "Fraternity Question," bringing to light many problems which have been confronting fraternity men but which have never before been brought out so vividly.

Taking up the constructive influences in campus life at convocation, "Dad" considered the parts played by athletics, fraternities, social and political life, and by foreign students.

"We need Christian brotherhood," he said, in dwelling on the latter topic. In many colleges in the country, student organizations have restricted their membership so as to exclude foreign students. "Consider for a moment," he urged, "what kind of relationship you would like to have that student have toward you if the positions were reversed."

"The foreign students in our colleges today," he continued, "are the future diplomats, the future representatives of their countries in America. If you arouse suspicion in their minds of Americans, nothing can ever allay it, while if true Christian brotherhood prevails, peace and friendship will exist between countries in diplomatic circles of the future, and wars will be a thing of the past."

"Dad" criticized severely the present system of varsity athletics, stressing the attitude of "win by playing clean, if possible, but win," as one of the most destructive influences. The great trouble with athletics today, he said, is that a few are trained to a high degree, but the great mass of students who really need the athletic training, are denied the privilege. "Dad" did not advocate the abolishment of athletics, but merely the enlargement and cleaning up of the present system so as beneficially to affect the great mass of the student body.

"Only four teams in the Big Ten conferences have clean hands in the case of hiring athletes," he said. "Methods of paying vary from an outright gift, to a loan which need never be paid back."

Mr. Elliott, affectionately called "Dad" by thousands of students all over the United States, is especially well fitted to discuss college problems. A graduate of Northwestern university, an all-western football player, besides being an all-around college man, he has been in student work for the past fifteen years, and estimates that he has personally talked, in man-to-man fashion, to more than fifteen thousand students, besides the myriads whom he has addressed in the thousands of meetings he has conducted.

Senior engineers at the University of Nebraska have adopted a wild-west sombrero as the distinctive class symbol, and will inaugurate the custom Oct. 24.

MAROON AND GOLD GRIDDERS GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF

Loyal Rooters See Gopher Warriors Off to Wisconsin Town—University Band Serenades Coach Williams and Squad

SPECIAL TRAIN WITH ROOTERS WILL LEAVE FOR MADISON AT 8:30 TONIGHT

President Coffman and Other Executive Officers Will See Minnesota-Wisconsin Game In Badger Town

Cheered by five hundred enthusiastic rooters and serenaded by the University band which was out in full force for the send-off, the Varsity squad left the Minnesota Union at 7:30 o'clock last night for the trip to Madison. The pep demonstration was the first real send-off tendered the Gopher warriors this season.

The band started playing at 7:00 p. m. The Rouser, "Hail, Minnesota," and a number of popular selections were included in the concert. The team and coach were greeted by prolonged cheers as they came out of the Union, where their farewell banquet was held. Doc Williams stood at attention while the band played a piece especially for him. At 7:30 taxis drew up in front of the Union to carry the men to the Merriam Park station. Roman Bohnen, rooster king, led the rooters in "sky rockets" and "locomotives" as each of the machines left the campus.

"To Madison By Bus" Is New Slogan On Campus Today; Let's Go

Minnesota students who want to see the Madison game without paying the full railroad fare will be given the opportunity today, when arrangements will be completed for a Bus trip to Madison and return.

The total cost of the round trip will be twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50). This is about one half of the regular fare charged by the railroads.

All those wishing accommodations are requested to communicate with P. O. 2185 before eleven thirty. The bus will leave from the front of the Mens' Union at twelve o'clock sharp. Those going are requested to be there on time. The bus will return Sunday night.

Construction of New Library to Start in Spring

New Building Will Be Located North of Chemistry Building

J. H. Forsythe, associate professor of architecture, stated yesterday that the plans for the new library to be located north of the Chemistry building, will be completed in two months. Construction will start in the spring.

It has not been definitely decided whether to complete the building at once, or to finish part and make additions. When it is completed it will be the same size as the Chemistry building, and will be on the same plan in architectural design. The cost will be approximately $1,250,000, and it will take two years before it is completed.

As far as the plans have progressed now, no detailed information can be obtained. There will be three large reading rooms. One of these rooms will seat 400 persons, and the other two will seat 250 each. The advantages of these rooms will be seen when both the reading room and the reserved reading room in the library building seat only 300. Besides these three rooms in the new library there will be a reserved reading room which will seat 260. The top floor will contain 40 seminar rooms and 13 book-stacks 7 1/2 feet high, which will hold 1,250,000 books.

One drawback to canned daylight is that it won't keep after sunset.

Collection For Band Short

Funds obtained by collection at the Indiana game Saturday fall short by $400 of the sum required to send the entire band to Madison. It is likely that a few members of the organization will be left behind, while the remainder make the trip with the football squad.

Special Leaves Tonight
Over one hundred student rooters have made reservations for the special train for Madison, which leaves the Milwaukee station to-night at 8:30. The band, freshman team, and two carloads of downtown professional and business men will make up the balance of the train.

After arriving in Madison the Gopher rooters will congregate in a body to meet the Minnesota team which will come in on another train. Many Minnesota co-eds will make the trip. Arthur Bohnen in charge of arrangements, says that there is room for more.

Those who have not yet purchased their tickets may do so today in the rotunda of the library from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., where a ticket agent of the Milwaukee Company will be on duty. Everything possible is being done to insure the comfort of the passengers on the way to Madison. Arrangements are being made for the connection of a cafe car during the first part of the trip.

To allow plenty of time for visiting and participation in the social activities at Madison the special train will not leave on the return journey until Sunday evening. This will allow time for the students to return to class promptly Monday morning.

"Prexy" Will Be There

Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University; J. J. Pettijohn, assistant to the president; and many deans, heads of departments and other members of the faculty will be in the Minnesota stands tomorrow, pulling for the Gophers to "bring home the bacon." The Prexy left yesterday morning for Toledo, where he will today address the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' association convention. He will leave there tonight, arriving in Madison tomorrow morning, where Mr. Pettijohn and a party will join him. Mr. Pettijohn will make the trip by motor, leaving the University at noon today. The Prexy quietly expressed the opinion before departing that the Badgers are due for a bad upset.

Armament Conference Attended by Seventy

Economist Exhibits Charts Showing Consequences of Loss of Life

More than 70 delegates representing 40 universities and colleges met at Princeton yesterday, for the Inter-collegiate Conference on the Limitation of Armaments, according to reports received from Princeton. President Hibben of Princeton delivered an address of welcome, and Prof. E. W. Kemmerer, economist, has prepared charts showing the economic consequences and the loss of life caused by the recent war.

A large mass meeting was held Wednesday night. Speakers included Col. Franklin D'Olier, first national commander of the American Legion and a graduate of Princeton, Vernon Kellogg, director of the American Commission for the Reduction of Armaments, and Dr. J. H. Pomeroy, of New York.

CONCERNING OUR DELEGATION TO MADISON

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock that special train will leave the Milwaukee depot carrying the biggest delegation of Gopher rooters to the Wisconsin game which has ever left the campus. In spite of cuts, in spite of the high railroad fare, in spite of the way students are being held up for tickets to the game, these loyal fans are determined to see Minnesota spoil another homecoming for the Badgers.

A lot of credit is due these people. More than one of them will have to curtail expenses for the rest of the quarter in order to make the trip and still stay in school, but yet they go. When the call came for Minnesota to her spirit, they answered with a will.

But to them alone credit is not due. There is not a real Minnesota man or woman in the University who does not want to be in the stands at Madison when Captain Teberg leads the team out on the field. We'd all be there if it were a mere question of willingness or inclination; the ones fortunate enough to make the trip are in reality the representatives of the entire student body. Let them see to it that their conduct on the trip, at Madison, and coming home is such as to do credit to the traditions of Ski-U-Mah.

UNIVERSITY STANDARDS

Only once in a long while do we get the opportunity of hearing a speaker like "Dad" Elliott. There are very few men with his forceful personality and high ideals who at the same time have such marked oratorical ability. He is one of those rare men who have something important to say and know how to say it in the most effective manner; he brings a real message. "Dad" is correct in attaching great importance to the character of the training men and women receive during their university careers. Although only one per cent of our population receive a secondary education, yet more than sixty per cent of the names in "Who's Who" are names of college graduates. This small minority in later years acquires the leadership of countless numbers of people less fortunate than themselves.

The formative period of our lives is spent in a university or college, and the impressions and habits formed then stick with us the rest of our lives. It is the duty of society of every one of us to see to it that nothing gets into our lives now which will have a harmful effect upon us later.

Prestige and advantage attached to university training should not be abused. The living, glowing, ideals of youth have the power to move the world up or down—youth will be served. Mr. Elliott is right; it does make a difference whether we do right or wrong in our university lives.

CALL THE HANGMAN

You wait in line at the reserve desk and embrace the cherished "last copy." You have been trying to get that book for a week. You must cover the assignment before a next period quiz. Every seat in the lower reading room is taken. Ditto for the study hall, periodical room, possible places on the stairs, etc., etc. In pain and distraction you whereupon do behold—six charming damsels conducting an animated family reunion and pep-fest at the rate of one desk per damsel.

WATCH YOUR STEP

What is the matter with our campus pride? Just because we are big, do we need to be clumsy? We are not animals. We do not need fences. Let's show our intelligence and common courtesy and give the grass a chance.

NEIGHBORLINESS

Is the University of Minnesota an unfriendly college? Have the upperclassmen as a whole done all in their power to make the "stranger within their gates" feel at home?

As individuals have all of us caught up with the timid freshman walking alone on the campus? Have we said "Hello there!" every time possible to the still, reticent student who has been here some time, but who even yet "walks alone" because he has not been discovered? And, because the abilities and personality which made him a leader in his high school have laid dormant in the bigness of Minnesota.

Owing to the enormous enrollment here, the lack of dormitories, and the location of the university between the disconcerting elements of two big cities, students tend to exhibit a metallic strangeness toward all save their particular friends.

Perhaps we might well think over Stevenson's words on the world's need:
"So many paths, so many creeds,
So many worlds that wind and wind;
When all this old world needs to learn
Is just the art of being kind."
Is your neighbor lonely? Try giving him the glad hand.
—G. B.

Minnesota 20 Years Ago

Minnesota's famous right guard, G. F. Mueller, was charged with professionalism. He was said to have played for a purse of $5 on July 4th.

The Haskell Indians were to come to Northrop field to play the Gophers. One of their strongest players was Red Water. Reports were that they were a speedy team and that their goal line had been crossed only once.

The Board of Control decided to send the University band to Madison for the Minnesota-Wisconsin game. The expenses of the trip were to be borne by the association.

An Iowan who attended the Minnesota-Nebraska game on Northrop field lauded Minnesota rooters as follows: "Minnesota's rooting was very near perfection. In one end of the bleachers on the west side was a megaphone chorus of about a thousand big horns. This band acted as a nucleus and leader of the noise and all other thousands kept in time and tune with it. The uproar was continuous whenever Nebraska had the ball, rising to a great roar whenever Quarterback Daln was trying to give the signals, and continuing in a sullen groan at other times, save when it burst into a triumphant yell during Minnesota's moments of victory.

"Another variation was the singing of various popular songs in perfect unison, the words being localized to fit the occasion. The most effective stunt of all those which Gopher rooters employed was the monotonous counting up of the score as often as it increased. 'One, two, three,' and so on to the top figure attained by Minnesota, the northerners would slowly chant the sequence, and no other yell threw the Cornhuskers into such a helpless and gnawing rage as that taunting count."

GOOPHER GRINS

Read 'em and weep

We wish to announce that the traveling representative of the Gopher Grins left last night on the lower deck of a hobo pullman to cover the game at Madison. From previous experience it was estimated that the running time of a box car between here and Madison is about three days allowing for transfers, accidents, and shuffles. The reporter was outfitted with a wobbly membership, light pair of shoes (for running), eight inches of bologna, a yard of rye bread, a pint of plain rye, 13 pretzels, a wheel of matzos, a New Testament, Captain Billy's Whiz Bang, and a time table. With these few traveling accoutrements he adjourned to the Milwaukee yards where he waited with us for two hours at the end of which time a freight pulled in and stopped immediately in front of us. We stole from the shadows and aided him to pile all his property aboard. The whistle rang, we waved to him, and the train started, but started the wrong way and there was a hurried dismounting by the reporter and the accessories. In the unloading the half pint fell on the ground and broke. After getting the dirt out of our mouths we decided it was worth $25 a pint. The reporter said he thought he could jump to Madison and the last we saw of him he was rounding a turn out of sight using the matzos for a hoop and the rye bread for a stick.

IRISH STEW BY YOM KIPPUR.

"Resolved that England should grant Ireland complete independence" is the question chosen by Minnesota, Illinois, and Iowa for debate. The men who will represent Minnesota are: Vernon Miller, John P. Dalsell, Max Shapiro, David Goldstein, Milton Rygh, and Leroy Mattson.

"ENJOY A CHAPLESS WINTER."

(For absolute proof, see car card. No kidding.)
I've gone without my breakfast,
Not one crumb did I munch,
And sometimes too when I felt broke,
Without my noontime lunch.

I've gone without my lessons,
And always have to pay,
By flunking out completely,
In my class room the next day.

I've gone without most everything,
Foresworn all kinds of joys,
But never have I given up,
My playing around with boys.

I can't give up the pleasures,
So kindly dealt by Fate,
That mean so much to damsels,
No girl abhors a date!!

And so I rise in horror,
Oh, Mary Miles of Minter,
How can the car card say to us,
ENJOY a chapless winter!!!!!!!

"A new feature of our work this year," said Sven Vaule, president of the association, "will be the admission of sophomores to our regular meetings. The idea of this gathering is to outline the year's work, and to acquaint them with the association. We want all mechanical engineering students, especially the sophomores, to be there."
Arthur Kum, who is in charge of the arrangements, has promised a supply of "liquid and solid refreshments," plenty of cigars, and a number of talks by students and members of the faculty.

Eight Tennis Courts Costing $1,800, Ready

Constructed at a cost of $1,800, the eight new tennis courts across the street from the Chemistry Building on Washington Avenue are practically completed, according to Henry Hildebrandt, superintendent of grounds. The last of the wire net backdrops are being erected today, and a week of dry weather will find the courts ready for players, he said.
Tennis sharps have kept the old courts across from Northrop Field busy all fall, and it is hoped that increased facilities will attract many more athletes. The new courts will receive the best of care, Mr. Hildebrandt said.

Following the dinner, which was interspersed with the throwing of confetti and balloons, W. C. Coffey, Dean of the Agricultural College, gave a talk. J. M. Are We Going To Make Homecoming Week A Success? You Tell 'Em!

NOT being able to see you at lunch today I'm dropping this little note via the postoffice to express righteous indignation over the pessimistic yarn in last Tuesday's Daily to the effect that Homecoming Week can't be a success at Minnesota! It can't be? How come? Jim, wait till the crepe hangers hear about a few plans you and I know about, on foot in not less than twenty-five fraternity houses around this campus.

AND wait till they see the Juster tailored-to-your-measure suits ordered by at least 25 of the brethren for that very occasion! Have you seen the blue serge Juster made for Jerry Bemis? Jerry is so jealous of it he wouldn't tell me who made it or what it cost. But I sneaked a look at the label and then I asked Juster the price point blank. He said, "around fifty." Can you beat that?

I'M GOING down for my last fitting tomorrow—that tweed, you remember, you tried to take away from me. With that Juster Society Brand Overcoat of yours (looks like a $75, but I know it only cost you forty), I'll say two of the brethren are all set for Homecoming Week. Let it come!

HILL AND DALE MEN HAVE CONFIDENCE

Coach Frank's Charges Leave For Crucial Test With Wisconsin Cross-Country Team—Meet Will Start at Eleven O'clock

STUDENTS GOING TO MADISON ARE EXPECTED TO TURN OUT AND CHEER FOR GOPHER TEAM

Sweitzer, Hoverstad, and Winters Are Expected to Finish Well Up In Front in Dual Classic at Madison—Sturman to Start

After a hard workout over the Armory course the Minnesota harriers hopped the train bound for Madison last night all set and primed to do battle with the Wisconsin hill and dale artists. They were on the same train with the football squad, but stopped off in Madison rather than keeping on to Milwaukee.

Coach Frank wishes to make a last appeal to the Minnesota students going to Madison to not forget the cross-country classic and be on hand to cheer the runners on just as loudly as they do the pig-skin chasers. Frank said that students did not realize the great interest that attaches to one of these struggles.

The meet will be called at 11:00 o'clock in front of the Armory at Madison Saturday morning so that all Gopher followers will have a chance to turn out. The special and most of those motoring down will have arrived by that time so a large Minnesota crowd should be on hand.

To Be Close Race. Who will win the meet is the question that is bothering the dopsters at the present time. It appears to be about an even toss-up. Last year Minnesota won by the narrow margin of three points. This was over our home course, however, and the team will have to prove at least 20 per cent stronger this year to win away from home. The men are confident that they will win in spite of the difficulties they must overcome.

The meet promises to develop pretty much into a struggle between the "Big Three" of the two schools. It will doubtless be a battle between Sweitzer, Winters and Captain Hoverstad for Minnesota against Finkle, Wall and Ramsay for the Badgers. Sweitzer and Wall appear to be the favorite for top honors.

This match will be a continuation of the long standing feud between these crack distance men. They have been fighting each other for three years and they hope at this time to be able to definitely settle the question of supremacy between them.

If Minnesota succeeds in defeating any one of the "Big Three" of the Badgers, she stands a good chance to win. According to the system of scoring the first twelve men to finish count, and they are scored with the number corresponding to their place. Thus the winner is scored with one point, second place with two and so on. Then the totals of the two teams are averaged up and the one having the smallest score wins.

Coach Frank Confident. Coach Frank feels that none of his men will be last, but he is a little skeptical as to their ability to finish one, two, three. He said that he was certain of one thing and that was that the team would be in there fighting all of the way.

The course is 4.7 miles long and is over macadamized roads for the main part. It is not as hilly as the Gopher course which will work in favor of the Wisconsin men, who are primarily track stars rather than cross-country men.

The runners were all of the opinion that, given the proper support, they could cop the race. Coach Frank's last words were to get the students out to support the team. Seven men will make the trip in addition to the coach, Captain Hoverstad, Sweitzer, Moon, Winter, Sturman, and Ulrich will probably start with Johnson held in reserve.

A truck is said to have traversed Wall Street, carrying a load worth three billion of dollars. Another an-proaches. There are several reasons for this state of mind.

In the first place, Gopher followers feel that the Badgers have a sort of jinx on the Badgers. Times too numerous to mention, Dr. Williams and his warriors have taken the field with no apparent chance to win and have been returned victor. Such was the case two years ago. Minnesota supporters have a sneaking hunch that such will be the case this time.

Straight Football to Prevail. Then again the style of play of the two teams appears to be in favor of the Northmen. Ever since Dr. Williams has been in charge of the Gopher team, straight football off from various formations of the Minnesota shift has been the rule. Minnesota men have been brought up on straight football. Nearly everyone of her defeats has been the result of aerial play. Maroon and Gold followers do not feel that their team can be beaten at its own style of game, straight football.

The University of Michigan has closed its first annual music week.
