Duluth-- Articles by Dr. Anna Lee Stensland and Fred Schroeder, both members of the UMD English faculty, have been published in recent issues of the Minnesota English Journal.

Dr. Stensland's article, entitled "Curriculum Planning and the Small High School" was published in a recent issue of the journal.

Dr. Stensland, an associate professor, joined the UMD faculty in 1960. She was director of a five week Institute in Children's Literature held at UMD last summer.

"Where Angels Fear to Tread: Humanities Programs in the Secondary Schools," an article by instructor Schroeder, appears in the current issue of the Journal.

Schroeder's essay is the lead article in a Journal edition devoted especially to teaching of humanities in high schools.

He has been member of the faculty since 1963.

The Minnesota English Journal has a statewide and regional circulation.
