"DAILY" DRIVE BRINGING RESULTS—TEAMS BATTLING FOR LEAD

REVIVAL WILL BRING BACK PRE-WAR PEP

Bonfire, Snake Dance, Songs and Speeches Are on Evening's Program.

THREE U PRESIDENTS TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Rooters Club, in Reserved Seats Will Have Charge of Yelling.

Probably the largest co-educational meeting ever held on the campus will be staged tonight on the Parade Grounds, the Knoll, University avenue, and in the Armory, when the university will turn out en masse for the purpose of ridding itself of the superfluous pep and energy accumulated after three months' vacation. A bonfire, a snake dance, songs, speeches and yells will be some of the features of the occasion. Every person, connected with the University in any way, has been requested to be present to aid in making this meeting a true exhibition of "Better Minnesota Pep."

The committee on arrangements, consisting of Burton Forster, Elizabeth Forsell, and Dave Bronson, has planned a program with such men as Presidents Folwell, Northrup, and Burton, Registrar Pierce, Dean Nicholson, Doctor Williams, Assistant Coach Basson, and Captain Lampl, as speakers.

Rooters Club to Take Part. The Rooters Club, 60 strong, will lead the meeting armed with horns, whistles and cowbells. What little time they sit down they will occupy a reserved section in the Armory, which will be the center and moving force of the enthusiasm of the evening.

Revived for the first time since pre-war days, the Rooters Club will meet today in the reception room of the Union at 3:30 to organize and elect officers.

The club will attend every campus affair of sufficient note hereafter and affiliate as noisemakers, and enthusiastic boosters.

Farm Men Coming Over. Special arrangements have been made to bring the agricultural men directly from their stag meeting to the main campus on two cars at the expense of the college.

Doctor Williams, when interviewed yesterday regarding Minnesota's chances for a championship team, said, "This year, as never before, the student body must support the team. Tell them to come out and yell their heads off."

This occasion is an opportunity to learn new yells and rehearse old ones for the Minnesota-North Dakota game. Mr. Forster in speaking for the committee stated that they expected the largest, pepiest turnout Minnesota has ever seen.

S. A. T. C. GETS BUTTONS.

Congressman Informed of War Department Ruling. Members of the student training corps, excluded from the list of the army personnel entitled to receive Victory buttons under the war department order of April 14, 1919, will now be entitled to receive and wear such buttons.

Congressman Walter H. Newton, of Minneapolis, who made inquiries of the war department as to the reason for excluding S. A. T. C. men from the issue of victory buttons, was informed that the department recently has amended its order to permit the S. A. T. C. men to wear the button. Field clerks and army nurses who served honorably on active duty in the army of the United States at any time between April 6, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1918, may wear the victory button.

REPORTERS NEEDED.

While the news gathering force of the Daily has been fairly well organized several more good reporters are needed. Students who have had previous experience either on newspapers or on high school or college publications are preferred. However, those who desire to try out for the staff will be given ample opportunity to make good.

CROWD TURNS OUT TO HEAR ADDRESS BY PRES. BURTON

Opening Convocation of School Year Held Yesterday in Northrup Field.

TALK ON THE GREAT NEED OF MODERN UNIVERSITIES

University Head Characterizes Superficiality as an American Vice.

"What must the University do" was the topic on which Pres. M. L. Burton addressed the students and faculty at the first All University Convocation, held yesterday in Northrup Field.

Inasmuch as the crowd was too great to be easily handled in the Armory, the committee in charge decided to hold the meeting in the South Stands in Northrup Field. Three sections were entirely, and two others were partially filled with students, all eager to hear the president's opening address.

Before the program, a gorgeous parade, headed by Miss Isabelle Borgeson, in charge of the Daily subscription drive, and a band especially recruited for the occasion. Girls on all teams, fantastically dressed, gave exhibitions of their pep and determination to reach their goal of 3,000 subscriptions, in front of the stands.

Prof. Carlyle Scott, director of music, led the audience in singing "America" to start the program. After responsive reading, led by the president, and several announcements of general interest, President Burton began the speech of the day.

"The universities of today must demand accuracy and preciseness of its students," he said. "By accuracy I mean a carefulness and thoroughness of preparation that is noticeably lacking at the present time. When the American universities do this, they will command a new respect from the world. Superficiality is one of the vices of America." He went on to say that Oxford University, to which many American students are sent by means of Rhodes scholarships, has said many times, that the chief trouble with Americans is that while they know many subjects superficially, they have no clear knowledge of any one subject, edge of any one subject.

"The second phase which the universities must change," the president continued, "is to accept the responsibility of stimulating and awakening the students. This can be done in three ways. First, a new value must be placed on teaching. I propose to see to it that the men and women who can teach receive adequate remuneration for their services. Second, we must have students who study. If a student cannot think straight while in college, for heavens sake, how can he do it after he gets out into the world? Third, we must have teachers who teach. By this I mean, men who understand that the student is a human being and not a machine."

"The third phase in university reform is the modernization of its structure." (Continued on page 3.)

Foolscap Dance

Magazine To Make Initial Bow at Armory Party October 10.

The first all university social event of the year will be the birthday party of Foolscap, the new magazine, on Friday, October 10, in the armory. The first issue of the magazine will appear at that time and every student is invited and urged to be present. Miss Grace Shannon, in charge of arrangements, was overheard saying, "Yes, really, we are spending heaps of money and we are just doing it to give everyone a good time. We have secured the real So Chu Inn orchestra, which everybody knows is the best in the Twin Cities. Speaking of decorations well, you won't know the place. We have had a special design made for the programs and the floor will be waxed as never before."

Ag Men Hold Stag

Party Tonight in University Farm Gymnasium—Entertainment Is Planned.

A stag party will be given at 6:45 tonight in the gymnasium at University Farm, for all men in the College of Agriculture and Forestry. Stunts, music, and speaking will provide entertainment, and everyone is assured of a good time. After the party it is expected that the men will attend the big celebration and bonfire on the main campus.

First Place Won By Dairy Judges

Farm School Stock-Judging Team Carries Off Honors at Waterloo Contest.

The University farm's live stock students have again proved their ability as judges of dairy cattle. Last week at the Dairy Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa, this team won first place among the six contesting teams.

Missouri won second place and Iowa third. Minnesota also held the winning place in the contest of individuals.

The men who represented Minnesota were Mr. C. B. Finley, Mr. Henry Kahldal, and Mr. Ray Stiedall. Mr. Anderson acted as substitute. As a team they won three silver cups as trophies. One was presented by the Sharpies Cream Separator company, which was offered to the team winning first place at the congress. A second was presented by the Holstein Friesian Association for the best judging of Holstein cattle, and a third by the Aryshire association for the highest grade of work in the Aryshire breed.

Finley Leads in Points. Mr. C. B. Finley, winning highest honors as an individual, was presented a gold medal by the congress and a silver cup by the DeLaval Cream Separator company. Mr. Henry Kahldal was also presented with a gold medal by the congress in recognition of his high grade of work.

Minnesota's men will compete again at the Dairy Cattle Show at Chicago next Monday. Sixteen or eighteen agricultural colleges are expected to send teams. Three scholarships of four hundred dollars each are offered to the winning men. Minnesota has in attendance a man from Connecticut, and one from Missouri, who have won these scholarships in previous years. Trophies are also offered for work in individual breeds. Minnesota awaits the return of this contest with great interest and high expectations.

R. O. T. C. Under Way

Equipment Now Being Issued—435 Men Enrolled With More to Come.

Five companies in the R. O. T. C. have been organized, with a total enrollment of 435 today. The enrollment will not be completed until Monday.

So far the program has consisted of issuance of equipment, and it is likely that this will continue for nearly a week.

Advance courses have not yet been organized, but it is expected that many former service men will take advantage of the instruction and training offered, to fit themselves for reserve officers.

Splendid Opportunity For Girls To Make Or Break Friendships

Minnesota girls! Tenshun! If you have blues prepare to shed them now. A guaranteed cure for grievances, fillet-temper, and ennui has been discovered. Professor Scott of the musical department has just informed us that he has discovered a panacea that will remove facial blemishes, add sparkle to the eye, and above all will lead directly to vocal perfection. Hush! Here it is. Good, hard, strenuous, zest-

Burton Kept Busy

University Head Has Strenuous Program of Speeches the Next Few Days.

President M. L. Burton has many speaking engagements scheduled for the next two weeks. This evening he will address the Minnesota State Medical association at a meeting at the Radisson hotel. Tomorrow he will speak at the opening assembly of the school of agriculture on the farm campus at twelve o'clock and on next Thursday he will be the principal speaker at the All-Freshmen convocation at the armory.

Huge Mass Meeting For Freshmen Girls

Dean of Women Will Welcome First Year Girls in Armory Gathering This Afternoon.

The freshmen women of every college in the university have been called together by the acting dean of women for a huge mass meeting in the armory at 4:30 this afternoon. The dean will welcome the girls to Minnesota and Elsie Van Ness will talk on the honor system and campus traditions. Laura Pick will represent the Big Sisters and Elizabeth Forsell, president of the Women's Self Government association, will explain the activities carried on by that organization on the campus.

The girls of the sophomore class will have charge of selling green buttons to the new students and every girl in the freshman class will be expected to wear one.

Following the mass meeting, tea will be served in Shevlin Hall at which time the attendance of the first year girls will be checked.

Waiters Scarce In "U" Eat Emporiums

Kitchen and Serving Help Shortage Serious—Wage Demand Much Higher.

Difficulties in the way of higher learning at the university have appeared. They are intangible, but nevertheless, they are difficulties. They consist of the want of kitchen help and waitresses, and may seriously hamper the university's organization for the feeding of its students, both at the agricultural school and college and on the main campus.

The University of Minnesota houses something like 600 farm school students at University Farm. It also maintains a large cafeteria for the accommodation of agricultural college students. At the main campus is another large cafeteria in Shevlin Hall for the use of hundreds of women students and the Minnesota Union for men. The shortage in help is the same in all. This in spite of the fact that the management is offering $40 a month with room and board for an 8-hour day of service as against $35 offered last year, and $18, with similar privileges the year before.

ECONOMICS TEA POSTPONED.

The tea given by the Home Economics Association for the Big Sisters and their freshmen, scheduled for Friday, October 3, has been postponed because of the compulsory freshmen meeting advertised in the Daily today.

Why take sleeping-powders when you can be an idealist?—Life.

GIRLS DRIVE AHEAD IN SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST

Gopher-Flickertail Game To Be A Battle

Boys From North Dakota Plan on Trick Plays to Surprise Minnesota Team.

Coach Paul Davis and 20 North Dakota players leave tonight from Grand Forks for Minneapolis, where they play Minnesota tomorrow.

The game, which will start at three o'clock, will be a fight for the Gophers, for the Flickertails are a fast team and are reported to have many tricks up their sleeves. Unusual formations and trick plays are on the cards for the game.

Dr. L. J. Cooke, director of athletics, has promised an efficient corps of ushers, to take the fans to the newly-numbered seats. Roofs have been built on the portable stands and the main stands have been repaired.

Late last night the eligibility committee held a meeting and several men who have been under the scholastic ban will attempt to get themselves in good with the authorities.

The sale of the student tickets has been unprecedented so far and an unusual first game attendance is expected.

Many Old Men Back

Ag Football Team With Veterans Returning Looks Like a Winner to Campus Dopsters.

The college of agriculture has already begun to lay plans for a championship football team, such as it possessed in 1917, when it was victorious over all other colleges in the university. Many of the veterans of that team are back, among them being "Boots" Hauser, Jack Phillips, "Bear" Hawkenson, and Anton Kosmoski. The freshman class has several promising men, and under the leadership of Coach Mitchell a team is expected to be developed that will put all others in the shade.

ACADEMIC FACULTY WILL MEET.

There will be a meeting of the faculty of the College of Science, Literature and the Arts, Monday evening, October 6, at 7:30, in room 301, Folwell Hall. A full attendance is desired. Announcements of interest to new members of the faculty.

J. B. JOHNSTON, Dean.

Minimum of Fifteen Hundred New Subscribers Expected by Night.

DRIVE MADE A SUCCESS BY ISABELLE BORGESON

Rivalry is Keen Among The Teams Prize is Offered to the Winners.

Battling with vim unprecedented in the history of University campaigns, the sixteen teams enlisted in the Daily campaign yesterday drove through for a total of 1,500 subscribers.

The support accorded them by the University was wonderful. Never in the existence of Minnesota has there been manifested such a thorough-going spirit of co-operation and school patriotism.

But a minimum of 1,800 more subscribers must be obtained before Saturday noon. The battle is going forward today. Before nightfall, it is expected that at least 1,500 additional subscribers will be enrolled.

It was early in the morning yesterday that the teams began their vigorous work. It remained for the convocation hour for the girls to show their vim and life. Headed by a band, they paraded before the Northrup stands in a parade, displaying slogans of the various teams, all of whom are competing with one another for the honor of being the victors.

The fine organization of the teams is due to the work of Miss Isabelle Borgeson, who with her two assistants, Dorothy Rosholt and Ruth McCrea, are in charge. But it is due too in considerable measure to the hard work of the team captains and their loyal members.

Winners to Get Prize.

And there is to be a prize for the winning team and its captain, and also for the girl who takes the largest number of individual subscriptions. But what these prizes are to be the management of the Daily is still keeping a secret.

As has already been manifested, the Daily this year is to be far and above those of other years. Typographically, it is to be superior to those of other years. Every effort is to be made this year to give service which will be as nearly perfect as possible in its distribution. And, from both the news and editorial standpoints, the indications are that the Daily will keep up to the best standards of metropolitan journalism.

The news-gathering force has been reorganized on a most competent basis. Runs have been assigned in such manner that no stories will be missed. The Daily will not be made the organ for the undue publicity of organizations. It will present news, concisely written, in an interesting manner. And it will present all of the news of the University.

The subscription price is three dollars for the entire year. Wherever students have not the entire amount with them, they may pay one dollar down and the rest later at the Daily office.

A subscription to the Daily is the only way in which it is possible to keep in touch with the University and its activities.

SOUTH DAKOTA OPENS SEASON.

The Sioux Falls college football team will play its first game of the season with South Dakota University today. Considerable interest is attached to this game since it will be the first public appearance for both teams.

WHERE TO GET SEASON TICKETS.

Student Athletic Tickets will be on sale today from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. in the athletic manager's office at the Armory, and also will be sold at the postoffice Saturday morning. Students desiring tickets must present their registration receipts with $5.00 in cash. The student tickets will admit the holders to all inter-collegiate games played on the home field, including the four football games, the six basketball games, and all the track meets.

IN WHICH WE WERE SURPRISED.

A number of co-eds, some of them freshmen, were in our office yesterday inquiring as to whether tonight's mass meeting was to be strictly a man's affair. At least six girls were on the committee that was instrumental in forming the plans for the "pep fest." In these days of equal suffrage it is surprising to find anyone, man or woman, who would even dream of being left out of such an affair.

A PROPHECY.

Colonel E. T. Lee paid us our first visit yesterday. The old prophet informed us that the "Flickertails" wouldn't have a look in in tomorrow's game. Incidentally, he informed us that the loss of Wyman and Long wouldn't make any particular difference in Coach William's machine. Lee will be on deck tomorrow with the flag "under which Minnesota never lost a game." Every little bit helps.

ONLY 1,500 MORE.

The first day of the subscription campaign was a decided success. At one time our cash register was so full of money that we couldn't open it. However, we can't allow ourselves to feel too optimistic. Some 1,500 subscriptions are still needed to place us on easy street. You who have been overlooked do your duty today. We can't believe that there are any slackers among us.

DOES COLLEGE PAY?

In these days when a first class plumber makes more money than the average college professor, and when the laborer draws a larger wage than thousands of salaried clerks in responsible positions, we sometimes wonder if our time in college is being well spent. It seems evident that were present conditions to continue the most of us had better join the army of the unskilled and wield the shovel. The "Daily Kansan" believes that present conditions will not long continue. Their editorial on the situation follows:

"The most unskilled laborers in the steel industry are receiving a minimum wage of forty-five cents an hour or $4.50 a day for a ten hour day. Practically all these men are foreigners—hunkies with less than a common school education. Men with more skill, but not more than the average American of common school education receives $10 a day and upwards. Everywhere laborers as a class are receiving as high or higher wages than big percentage of college graduates working on salaries. Naturally, the question arises, "Does college pay?"

"Considering the question from this economic side only, the relationship between a college graduate and wages, college will pay. The present condition cannot be otherwise than superficial. In the readjustment of industry to war conditions and the resulting high prices, organized labor forged ahead in its demand for increased wages while the salaried workers remained practically at a standstill. The salaried workers did not have the stimulus of organization and the increase in their pay is following the slow moving natural route.

"The balance must be restored because without executives laborers can not long run an industry. Eventually, the law of supply and demand will create higher salaries for these executives, who, in a large part, will be recruited from the college graduates of the country. In time the basis of pay gain will be determined largely by what a man knows rather than by how many cubic feet of dirt he can shovel in an hour.

"By the time the freshman of today is a graduate, college will pay."

Employment Bureau Makes Good Record

Large Number of Students Being Placed in Spite of Delinquency of Some.

Among the organizations that have succeeded in helping the students, stands the employment bureau with a record of having obtained more work for students than ever before in so short a time. Now that the rush of registration is over, more students are daily getting the services of the bureau.

"The bureau is losing thousands of dollars worth of employment," says Mr. Poucher, "due to the lack of responsibility on the part of some of the students. If they could be relied upon to do the right thing by the bureau and the employer, many more students could be helped to find work." Despite this it has been the record of the bureau that no student, if he takes advantage of the help offered in getting employment, has had to drop out because of financial reasons. The wonderful record made is attested to by the report of the United States inspector who was here two years ago. In his report he ranked the Minnesota University Employment Bureau as the foremost in her class.

GREEN CAP DAY.

Ag Sophs Will Lay for Freshies on Monday Morning.

October 6th is the big day! Big day for whom? Why, the freshman on the Ag. Campus of course. At 8:30 a. m. Monday, October 6th, every freshman in the colleges of agriculture and forestry is commanded to put on his green cap.

It has always been the custom for freshmen at this university to "wear the green" in order that they might easily be identified by their classmates. This year, on account of there being so many more students, and a larger freshman class than ever it is even more important that the caps be worn.

The husky Sophs will be on the watch Monday morning for those who do not wear the green headgear, and "the way of the transgressor is hard." So, Freshman, don't forget, the green caps are to go on next Monday, October 6th.

"Officer, I've lost my wife. What would you advise me to do?" "Enjoy yourself for the afternoon. She'll turn up at the hotel in three or four hours."—Kansas City Journal.

Wisconsin Colleges In Fund Campaign

Eight Schools Seek $5,000,000 to Meet Post War Demands in Equipment and Salaries.

The attention of the educational world has been called to a movement perpetrated by the Wisconsin colleges, associated, which has as its program the raising of $5,000,000 in one week, probably during the latter part of this month. The money obtained will be distributed among the various Wisconsin colleges on a basis of student hours, and will be used largely in paying adequate salaries to members of the faculty, in increasing the facilities, in providing new buildings, and in furnishing endowments to the individual colleges.

This is the first time in the history of educational institutions that anything of this kind has been attempted. The great problems confronting universities and colleges all over the country today have forced them to look for a way out of the difficulty. The years of the war were ones of retrogression for the colleges. Much needed buildings and equipment could not be provided, as all the resources were mobilized in war service. Now the student body is returning two-fold. And a way to provide for their instruction, with a marked shortage of the necessary equipment, must be found. It is for this reason that the experiment in Wisconsin is being watched with such interest.

Eight colleges are united in the organization which is making the appeal: Beloit, Campion, Carrol, Milton, Lawrence, Marquette, Northland, and Ripon.

WHO OWNS THE AIR?

An important question in connection with the right of property owners has come up for discussion in England, and will soon have to be settled in America also. The whole issue of trespass and damage is involved.

At a meeting in London of the Civil Aerial Transport committee it was asked:

"Who owns the air?"

The committee's report emphatically declared that the sovereignty of the air over British dominions lay with the crown, and that any acceptance of the doctrine of usque ad caelum—"the sky is the limit"—put forward by property-holders would be fatal to aeronautics. The committee further recommended that legislation be enacted denying or limiting the right of the landowner to ownership of the air above his property.

As the law stands at present, flying over an estate without permission is a trespass. In support of this it is pointed out, for instance, that telegraph or telephone wires cannot be carried over a piece of real estate without the consent of the owner, even if the posts supporting them are outside of the property in question. Technically, also, the law forbids the firing of a gun across a garden lot without permission of the owner of the lot in question. What, then, is the landowner, or house-owner, entitled to legally in the case of machines flying above his property?

The risk of damage is considerable. A heavy wrench, for instance, may fall from a machine and kill a cow grazing in a field, or smash in a roof. Is the aviator guilty of negligence, or trespass, or both? How is he to be identified?

It has been suggested that flying below a certain level should be made a trespass, and to that extent the landowner should have property in the air. But the question of liability for damage arising from machines flying at higher levels has not yet been settled.

A league of nations to enforce peace has a simple problem compared to the difficulty of solving this question of trespass in the air. The right to fly must be admitted, but every government must take up the whole question of air ownership and air liability, not merely from the national but from the international point of view.—Munsey's.

dents. By this I do not mean the going to parties, knowing the latest dance steps, and kindred things. I mean that the present day student must prepare himself to struggle with the great issues of the day, for example, international relationships, and industrial problems. I do not ask you to be highbrow, and I know you are not lowbrow; I only ask you to have ideas.

that the universities must inculcate integrity. During the recent war, everyone lost all confidence in everyone else, due to the underhand practices of the German government. The supreme need of the world today is confidence. This can be gained, in part, by the universities inculcating a new consciousness of integrity in their students.

"It is our job to see that America trusts the universities. This means that we must know that we are honestly and sincerely seeking to aid the welfare of the world. Never so long as I am president of the university, can you muzzle any professor when he is speaking the truth.

"Shall the University of Minnesota, in the weeks and months ahead, do what it ought to? It is as much up to you students, as to the faculty and administration. I firmly believe that it will."

Get Running Track

Wisconsin Regents Vote $10,000 for New Course.

According to the Daily Cardinal, official publication of the University of Wisconsin, the best running track in the western conference is to be laid out this year by the University of Wisconsin with part of a fund of $10,000 voted this summer by the regents and the state board of education. The track will be a quarter mile oval, encircling the foot ball field, 24 feet wide on the curves and 26 feet wide on the straightways, allowing six lanes for hurdles, and seven lanes for sprints. It will be laid with concrete curbs, tile drains, and 18 inches of cinders on a bed of crushed rock. Later a 250 yard straightway will be added. Additional grandstand seats will also be erected in the stadium so as to increase the seating capacity to 11,300, including nearly 5,000 concrete seats.

P. O. BOXES NEEDED.

1,500 New Ones Ordered and Staff is Doubled to Handle Rush.

Those who have had to call for their mail, due to the scarcity of mail boxes, will be presented with "brand" new ones. According to Mr. Poucher, 1,500 boxes are now on the way to help annihilate the last vestige of the "lining-up" system. They are expected here within a week. In order to prevent confusion in numbers all the present lists will be combined in one. Despite the fact that the post office force has been doubled the large increase in students has necessitated the disregarding of the curfew on the part of many of the force in order to keep lists up-to-date.

St. Olaf Wins

Three Touchdowns Scored in First Two Periods of Game.

Northfield, Oct. 2—St. Olaf college defeated Pillsbury, 31 to 0, in a hard-fought football game on a slippery field yesterday.

The St. Olaf machine got away quickly, scoring three touchdowns in the first two periods. Two touchdowns were made in the second half and only one goal was kicked during the entire game. The Northfield college eleven was never in danger.

Velbey, quarter for St. Olaf, was the star of the game. His long runs included a 50-yard sprint on a forward pass play. Ide, St. Olaf halfback, also was a strong ground gainer.—Minneapolis Tribune.

QUICK, WATSON, THE NOTEBOOK.

Somebody is Getting Away With Something, It Seems.

What does a small maroon and gold bow signify? A Big Sister? Are you sure? Well, then, lend a kind ear to my grief. Late yesterday afternoon a very peculiar "Big Sister" passed the postoffice coming from the direction of the girls' gym. In addition to the symbolic bow, the "Sister" was attired in a rusty green sweater, a pair of suspenders, and all accessories necessary for the proper use of such. And you still maintain that the aforementioned bow signifies a "Big Sister?" You say he may have been a fre— To be sure, I never thought of that.

A Strike.

The other day the boss stopped at Wilton's desk and said: "I have decided to raise your salary again. After this you'll get twenty dollars a month more."

"Please don't do that!" exclaimed poor Wilton. "You don't realize what it would mean to us. The pay I get now is a burden to me and my wife, both. Every week the poor woman racks her brain trying to think up new ways of spending our income in futurity. She is all the time worrying for fear that perhaps month after next will find us with everything paid for and not a deficit anywhere in sight. Leave my pay as it is. The strain of evolving ways of spending any additional amount would be almost sure to kill the poor woman."—Life.

By Howard Diets, Ex-Gov.
I miss the uniform I wore
When I was in the U. S. N.
I miss the watches, drills, and more
I miss the Navy men.

I miss the too-familiar phrase
"Pipe down, you're in the Navy now!"
I miss the ensign's haughty ways,
I even miss the chow.

I miss "police," the komfort kit,
The C. P. O., the bugle's call,
The "bright work"—and I must admit
I'm glad I miss 'em all. —Judge.

Upperclassmen To Arouse Fresh Pep

Association Reorganized to Increase Minnesota Spirit and to Engineer Class Scraps.

The upperclassmen's association which was organized last year to back up the better Minnesota movements is on the job this fall with a representative from every college on the central committee to increase Minnesota spirit. Every freshman out to Saturday's game with the Minnesota Rouser and Hall Minnesota learned is the first movement backed by the association.

This is only the first step in inculcating the true Minnesota pep and proper reverence for school traditions into the class of 1923. The association will make it its business to have the Frosh appearing in green caps and will engineer interclass scraps and rivalry.

"This year, as never before, the student body must support the team. Tell them to come out and yell their heads off, said Doc. Williams. The upperclassmen's association is ready to see that the freshmen get out in a body and produce the required noise. No excuse will be accepted from the unfortunate undergraduate who does not know Hall Minnesota and the Rouser:

HAIL MINNESOTA

Minnesota, hail to thee!
Hail to thee, our College dear!
Thy light shall ever be
A beacon bright and clear;
Thy sons and daughters true
Will proclaim thee near and far;
They will guard thy fame
And adore thy name;
Thou shalt be their Northern Star.

Like the stream that bends to sea,
Like the pine that speaks the blue;
Minnesota, still for thee,
Thy sons are strong and true.

From thy woods and waters fair,
From thy prairies waving far,
At thy call they throng,
With their shout and song,
Hailing thee their Northern Star.

ROUSER.
Minnesota, hats off to thee,
To our colors true we shall ever be;
Firm united loyal are we;
Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
Rah for the U. of M.
