INDECISION MARKS THE MEETING OF THE BOARD

Committee of Investigation of Coaching Systems Appointed.—Other Important Business.

After receiving the students' petition relative to Dr. Williams, the board of athletic control yesterday placed the coaching matter into the hands of a committee. This committee will investigate the coaching problem and report to the board at its next meeting, Saturday at 4:00 o'clock. At that time the coaching question will probably be settled.

The following football men were awarded M's by the board: McGovern, Johnston, Pettijohn, Vidal, Walker, Molstad, Farnum, Stewart, Powers, Ostrand, McCree, Radamacher, Schain, Faegre, Holen, Atkinson, Rosenwald, Stevens, Erdal, Smith and Pickering.

Dr. Cooke was elected basket ball coach for the season. The board wishes to learn student opinion relative to the issuance of season basket ball tickets. If they are generally desired the board will have them issued. The time for the redemption of the covers of season football tickets was extended to December 15th. That is the final date upon which holders of these tickets can get back their 50 cents.

Financial matters came up for consideration. Minnesota's share of the receipts from the Michigan game was $13,200. The total receipts of the Wisconsin game were $5,715. The expenses of the trip to Madison amounted to $2,105. The ninth budget authorized by the board of control comes to $2,033.97.

LECTURES ON GEOGRAPHY

Famous Professor of the Subject Addresses Chapel-goers on the Modern Viewpoint.

Professor Richard Dodge of the teacher's college, Columbia University, spoke in chapel today on the "Viewpoint of Modern Geography," which, he said, has changed radically in the last twenty-five years and for the better.

The study of geography was a meaningless study of terms, not understood, a haphazard, aimless methodless pursuit. Within the last few years, men have begun to realize the human side of geography and to study environment in its relation to man. The great development in this, the study of Phyllography, is due to Americans, Captain Dullon, Professor Davis and others, for the vastness of the physical features of America offered the greatest opportunity for research.

In various Universities the human geography is studied under these names; Commercial Geography; Regional Geography and Anthropo Geography, as the influence of the Mediterranean on civilization.

From a scientific study and analysis of environment and an endeavor to answer the "whys" of the conditions of the world. Geography has become a culture subject in which all may find much of interest.

TWILIGHT CONCERTS TO BE RESUMED BY Y.W.C.A.

First of Series of Afternoon Entertainments, Wednesday—Karr, Chief Attraction.

Wednesday, Dec. 8th, the first Y. W. C. A. twilight concert will be given in the University chapel. Mr. Frederick Karr, the head of the Northwestern Conservatory of Music, will read "The Hour Glass." Mr. Karr is a very talented reader, and his rendition of "The Hour Glass" is pronounced excellent by those who have heard him. He comes very highly recommended by Dr. Burton, who is anxious to have this play read at the University, as it is very probable the Dramatic Club will present it before long.

Will Norton will assist with a solo. The usual afternoon concert price of 15 cents will be charged. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the cabinet, or committee in charge, or in Library rotunda, Monday and Tuesday.

SANTA IS HONOR GUEST HOLD MOCK TRACK MEET

Christmas Traditions and Customs To Be Carried Out In Girls' Party.

Santa Claus, with a real Christmas tree, is expected to come down the Shevlin chimney on the afternoon of December 11, when the Y. W. C. A. and the Women's League gather around the Shevlin fire-place. No special invitations will be sent; all members of either organization who have paid their dues are urged to come.

Come with a ten cent present and a Christmas atmosphere. Other mysteries will be revealed in some take-offs of a famous group of persons at college.

Refreshments will be served, last mentioned, but by no means last in attraction for a crowd.

JUNIORS FOLLOW SUIT

Appropriation of $25 for girls' tournament Made by Third Year Men.

At an unusually thrilling and exciting meeting of the junior class, viz. seven members, yesterday, it was voted to appropriate $25 to the purchasing of suits for the girls' class basket ball team.

Two committees were also appointed for the tournament:—a decoration committee with Elizabeth Carey as chairman, and a mascot committee of which Emma Minier was appointed chairman. An additional five dollars will be appropriated for decorations.

The junior team is strong this year, but they feel that they must have the support of the class to win the tournament.

Tam-'o-Shanter will hold a meeting next week to work up enthusiasm.

The senior class meeting will be held after fourth hour to-day, and not "during fourth hour," and in 205 Library building, not "205 Folwell Hall" as was announced in yesterday's Daily. A large attendance is desired.

GIRLS ECHO SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF WILLIAMS

Students are of one Mind on the Question of the Inadvisability of Change of System.

"Williams for us," is the student sentiment. Eight hundred names had been signed to the petitions before two o'clock yesterday, and as statistics show that one in five of those interested in a movement, go so far as to sign a petition, when not actually handed a pen and requested to use it, this is a significant evidence of undergraduate opinion. Another sign of the feeling around the University is that not a word is heard in favor of alumni coaching.

Forty or fifty girls' names appear on the petitions, and the general sentiment in Shevlin is strongly in favor of the present coaching system. The co-eds at first were a little dubious about writing down their names among so many masculine ones. "I want Dr. Williams back next year, but I" (Continued on page 4.)

Cross-country Team Is Guest of Squad at Banquet—Followed by Theatre Party.

Wednesday night, the victorious cross-country team were the guests of the track squad at a dinner at Dayton's. The whole affair was run off as a track meet, the toast-master being the field judge, and starting the men with a pistol. There was also a timer who reported the men as all finishing in record time. The place cards were miniature track trunks.

After various informal toasts the squad formed a snake, and, singing the "Rouser," marched to the Orpheum.

FAVORS MONDAY RECESS

Bishop Edsall Urges President Northrop to Take Matter up With the Regents.

President Northrop addressed a meeting held in the Church of the Redeemer, Monday night, to discuss the lack of observance of Sunday. Bishop Edsall asked "Prexy" to make himself a committee of one to suggest to the University board of regents that no college be held Mondays. Rev. Edsall was of the opinion that under the present system students were required to study on Sunday for their Monday lessons. Sunday, he said, should be a day of rest.

Prexy replied by saying, that as "students did no work thruout the week, they had no occasion to rest on Sunday."

FAMOUS SURGEON TO ADDRESS Y. W. C. T. U.

Dr. Geisel, a surgeon in the Battle Creek Sanitarium, will speak at the meeting of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the Assembly room at Shevlin, today at 1:15. Every girl in college is invited.

MINNE-HA-HA! TO EXPOSE BIG ATHLETIC SCANDAL

December Issue To Feature Dark Discovery Dealing With Alumni Coaching Agitation.

Minne-Ha-Ha has come to her own at last! According to rumors, said to have emanated from reliable sources, the editors have learned of the connection of a prominent member of the law faculty with the movement to oust Dr. Williams and institute graduate coaching at Minnesota. This is to be given a thorough airing in the holiday issue, there will be some choice statements concerning the affair in the editorial columns and the professor in question will be lampooned thoroughly by the poets on the staff.

The cover is the work of George Snyder and all those who remember his excellent work of last year will welcome his return. A new artist, Chas. Beckel, has contributed a catchy initial page drawing. Vic. Roehrich maintains his usual high standard with numerous sketches of a Christmas nature.

The editors are enthusiastic about the quality of "dope" to appear in the issue. The key-note will be Christmas, of course, and every phase of the subject will be fully covered in mirthful poetry and side-splitting prose. Besides the holiday matter, there are a number of items that are too good to be excluded merely because they have no bearing on the season and these will add a delightful variety to what promises to be the finest number of this or previous years.

SECURE OUTSIDE TALENT

Sophomores Promise Many Attractions for Vaudeville—Nina Blackburn on Program.

Considerable outside talent has been secured by the Sophomores for their vaudeville next week.

Miss Nina Blackburn, the well known child impersonator and reader, will present a sketch, in which she has before appeared, and which has been well received. In her former appearances here, she has always done child impersonations, so this deviation will be something new, and is looked forward to with great expectations.

The management has been negotiating with the Minneapolis School of Music, and it is possible a musical number may be had from there.

A genuine prize fight is another of the new and exciting possibilities and all who have any curiosity as to what such a thing is like, will surely want to go. The heavy-weight champions of Minnesota will swing the gloves for four rounds. The Japanese Jiu Jitsu experts and sword dancers, are industriously polishing up on their stunt, and this promises to be one of the most interesting features of the show.

Ray Orr, '09, who made an extensive trip through the Black Forest of Europe, has returned and will assist in the research work now being carried on by the forestry department.

Much variance of opinion has been evoked by the efforts to get women students to sign honor pledges. Some declare the men ought also to be brought to book; others have declined to comply because they considered it an aspersion on their character; and still others assert that the signing of pledges has no beneficial effect.

Abstractly considered, the objection with respect to the men has no weight. Your neighbor's proneness to evil is no excuse for yourself to transgress; and surely in this instance the women should be eager to be in the vanguard with the standard of virtue! But human nature (of either sex) is weak; and it is undeniably hard to see those who are presumably the worst offenders escape almost without reprimand.

As for the implications of the anti-cheating pledge, it must be admitted they are not pleasant. A student who never "cribbed" in his (or in this case, her) life feels a distinct repulsion in being called upon to promise not to. It is as if the trustees of a church should be required to swear on their honor they will not misappropriate church funds. But if, as the faculty aver, the results of a general promising not to "crib" are beneficial, no doubt such considerations should be waived.

Professor Miner of the psychology department sensibly observes that if a sentiment against giving help can be aroused, that will be a long step.

To give help is not really aiding a student, he contends, for in the long run it results in pushing him down. But the great difficulty is to make the average student feel this. He sees nothing very damnatory in assisting his neighbor as far as he can; and he dreads above all things the name of "tight wad."

The following is clipped from a late issue of "La Follette's Weekly." The article referred to is recommended by Dr. Phelan as a part of the reading in "Labor Problems."

"Get a copy of Everybody's magazine for October. Take it home and read Judge Lindsey's story, 'The Beast and the Jungle.' It is a story that will interest you. It is the story of Judge Lindsey's own life, of his own fight against the corruption engendered by Big Business and Machine Politics. It deals with conditions in Denver, but its appeal is nationwide. In every city and in every state may be found the trail of the beast about which Judge Lindsey writes. And everywhere it is the same.

"Seldom does a story find its way into print that contains so much of importance to the American people. For that reason this story should be circulated as widely as possible. And if it is read as widely as it deserves to be, 'The Beast' will have cause to tremble. The seen enemy is more easily vanquished than the unseen. Judge Lindsey has performed a service for

CO-ED BASKET-SHOOTERS DROWN ENMITY IN COCOA.

Junior and senior basket ball girls rested from their exertions after practice, Wednesday evening, by celebrating their prowess with a spread. Sitting tailor fashion around on the platform in the girls' gym in the armory with an improvised table formed of newspapers they broke all the rules of training and made sandwiches, ice cream, olives, cocoa, and fruit disappear as tho the tournament were safely over. The coaches of the teams were guests of honor being awarded the only two chairs as a sign of this. The yower class players and their coaches hung around the doors watching with longing eyes and forming resolutions as to future celebrations of their own.

RESOLUTION.

Whereas,—
Certain interests and persons have expressed themselves, as dissatisfied with the present system, of management of athletics, football in particular, at Minnesota and have gone to the extent, of advocating the removal of the present football coach, Dr. Williams.

Whereas,—
Believing that as college athletics are student activities, the student body should have a voice in deciding so important and vital a matter, Therefore, be it resolved.—

That we, the members of the Senior Law Class, do hereby express ourselves as highly satisfied with the record of our football team this fall; that we believe that the agitation at this time, against Dr. Williams and the remedies sought to be applied, are ill advised and contrary to the spirit which should prevail at Minnesota.

We, the members of the Senior Law Class in meeting assembled, do hereby unanimously ratify the above resolutions and instruct the secretary to furnish a copy thereof to the Law Representative on the Athletic Board of Control an dalso a copy to the Minnesota Daily.

"A LITTLE BROTHER OF THE RICH."

There are four acts and an epilogue in "A Little Brother of the Rich" the new satirical play at the Lyric. It is the swift, money-spending, commandment-breaking New York set which is held up to nature in this latest collaboration by Joseph Medill Patterson and Miss Harriett Ford, and naturally the scenes are all laid in and around the big city. The first act shows the living room at the town house of Mr. and Mrs. Evers, on a late winter evening of the present period. The second act takes the audience to the town home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Potter, on an August evening of the following year. The third act is a triumph of scenic production, being set in an Apple orchard at the Ellis' Westchester Farm, at the time of the harvest moon. The last scene shows the sitting room of an actress, in a fashionable New York hotel, and the epilogue occurs on the stage of the theatre where the actress is appearing. Liebler Company's regular firm of scenic artists, the house of Gates and Morange, has turned out the framework for the drama.

GIRLS ECHO SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF WILLIAMS.

hate to have my name down there with fifty men's names and not another girl's name in sight," said one. But a few brave ones made the start, giving their names as masculine a cast as possible by writing the initial only of the first name. Encouraged by these pioneers, a delegation from Shevlin signed up and said. shoals of Shevlinites were coming after class.

"And shall Coach Williams die?
An shall Coach Williams die?
There's forty hundred undergrads.
