Collins, Dellastatious Are Ready—and So Is Missouri

Missouri is going to be at full strength for the Gophers today as the two teams continue where they left off last year. With all injuries practically waved aside, Coach Chauncey Simpson is throwing everything his underdog Tigers have at the Minnesotans.

Bucks Given Nod Over Wisconsin

Wisconsin is going to have the hardest game of the week for a Big Ten team today when Harry Stuhldreher's Badger youngsters play the favored Ohio State Buckeyes at Madison.

Jug Girard helped the home club to a 21-2 win over Marquette last Saturday, while Ohio romped over an undersized Iowa high school team, 34-0. It will be a duel of shining lights with the Bucks relying on a high-powered backfield in general and Les Horvath in particular.

The strong forward wall presented by Ohio State may have a little to say about the wicking done by Girard.

Paul Collins, captain of the Tigers and number one quarterback, is still bothered a little by a back injury which he got in the Kansas State game last Saturday.

Also starting in the game against Minnesota today will be Bill Dellastatious. Bill, a light man at 165 plus, is counted on to help the Tigers in any pitching proceedings. He was also injured in the Kansas State contest which the Minnesotians won, 33-0, but has recovered.

Wm. Dellastatious, (Continued on Page 4)

'Experts' Divine Purdue Victory

Birth of a daughter to Coach and Mrs Cecil Isbell of Purdue Thursday may or may not give the Boilermakers a reason for hating the Iowa Seahawks at Lafayette today, but "experts" from coast to coast are giving the hosts a margin regardless.

Boris Dimancheff and Ed Cody lead the favorites against the navy's Bus Mortes and Del Taylor who are scheduled to put on an exhibition for the spectators in the way of passing and running skill. Indiana is figured to be 48 points better than Nebraska, the outfit which the Hoosiers entertain today, and Notre Dame is too big for Dartmouth.

LORRAYNE BRAKKE, Minnesota cheerleader and also an Arts sophomore, practices a yell for the Gopher-Missouri football game today. Five members comprise the cheerleading squad. (See story on page 4.)

Homecoming—Northwestern, Nov. 4

Minnesota meets the Northwestern University Wildcats in one of its traditional games in celebration of the 1944 Homecoming on Saturday, November 4. Plenty of good sideline seats are still available. The mail order period for this game runs through Monday, October 23. For better seat locations, patrons are advised to order in advance through mail order. All seats will be reserved for this game with tickets priced at $3. The largest attendance of the 1944 season is expected for this game. It is unlikely that public general admission tickets will be available. However, if capacity permits, servicemen will be admitted at the special general rate of 60 cents. An announcement of the admission of servicemen will be made Thursday of the week of the game.

Cameras

Under a ruling of the Big Ten conference, the taking of still or moving pictures at conference games is prohibited. Spectators are requested to comply with this regulation and guards and ushers have been instructed to enforce the rule.

Lost and Found Department

The Ticket office operates a Lost and Found department with the aid of the Boy Scouts. Articles found in the stands may be handed to any Boy Scout for delivery to the Lost and Found department. Articles lost in the stands may be traced by calling the Athletic Ticket office, Main 8101 or Nestor 1306. Every effort will be made to locate lost articles. Found articles are retained in the Ticket office two days. Thereafter, they will be sent to the Lost and Found department in the University postoffice, Coffman Memorial Union, and should be called for there.

Please Retain Your Stub

When leaving the Stadium, use the ramp through which you entered.

Pass-Out Checks

If it becomes necessary for you to leave the Stadium during progress of the game and you desire to return, be sure that you leave by the pass-out gates which are numbered 3, 5, 7, 11, 13, 16, 21, 24, 27 and 29. Indicate your intention to the gate-men and obtain from them a pass-out check. This check will be required in addition to your ticket stub in order to re-enter the Stadium. Pass-out checks are non-transferable.

Rest Rooms

Located on the concourse near the following ramps: Men—8 and 9, 13, 18, 24, 28. Women—4, 8, and 9, 13, 18, 24, 28.

Personal Paging

Because University authorities have found it extremely difficult to administer requests for emergency announcements over the public address system, all such requests for personal paging and announcements will be refused. Any patron expecting an emergency call is instructed to leave his name and specific seat location on file with the Ticket Office representatives located in the lower office adjacent to patron's section.

To Our Patrons

The use of intoxicating liquors in this Stadium is prohibited. Ushers and officers have been instructed to refuse admission to holders of tickets who are intoxicated. We shall revoke the license conferred by the ticket and eject from the Stadium anyone violating this restriction.

Patrons are advised for their own convenience and to facilitate their seating prior to the kick-off, to arrive in advance of the flag raising ceremonies which are usually held about 1:45 p.m. Some congestion in the ramps with resultant delay in reaching seats has been caused by numbers of season ticket holders timing their arrival at the stadium too close to game time.

Southpaws to Get Handwriting Help At Speech Clinic

Through the increased emphasis in schools and at home on educating the left handed writer in left handed writing, the enrollment of the clinic for fall and winter quarters has increased to 22. The clinic shifts the hand position of most writers only from the top to the side so that they may write across instead of down.

Most of the clinic students are men, due to the fact that 50 per cent more males inherit the tendency than females. Thirty-two out of every 100 babies born are left handed unless changed by teachers and parents, pointed out Dr. Bryngelson.

Mason Tells View Of Negro Voters

By Politicus

A speech by Louis Mason on "The Negro and the Election" and a discussion on the recent ban on use of the University Postoffice boxes to announce certain meetings highlighted the meeting held at 3:30 p.m. yesterday in the Union by the campus Committee for Roosevelt.

William K. Fels, chairman of the committee, explained that the petitions being circulated in protest of the ban will be given to President Coffey in an effort to prove that the majority of students want a "clear and specific explanation of this precedent." A faculty petition is also being circulated, Fels added, and 12 names have been secured on this petition to date.

Mr. Mason, whose talk was the main feature of the program, told the approximately 70 persons present that "Negroes have special interest in this election. We feel that by supporting Mr. Roosevelt—and his social programs—we are furthering our own advancement as well as the cause of liberal thought in this country."

The youthful Mr. Mason, who is a member of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People and an honorably discharged World War II veteran, stated that Negro discrimination in the armed services still exists but that "great improvements have been made."

"There is no branch of the army in which Negroes are segregated," Mr. Mason asserted, "and it is through the efforts of Franklin Roosevelt that Negro men in the navy are no longer restricted to being messmen."

With considerable vigor, Mr. Mason quoted figures showing the marked increase of Negroes in high schools under the present administration and went on to claim that there has been a 175,000 increase in the number of Negro farmers since President Roosevelt has held office.

"I don't blame Roosevelt for the discrimination and intimidation that is still directed against the Negro," Mr. Mason stated bluntly. "I do blame the anti-Roosevelt gang in Congress who are more interested in the status quo than improvement."

"Negroes don't want to be chronic beefers, but as long as Southern railroads can defy the Fair Employment Practices Commission and a man like Sewell Avery can defy a nation's war economy and Congress can vindictively defy the president, that's how long we're going to fight to hold what we've got and to make other necessary gains."

At the conclusion of his speech, Mr. Mason answered questions from the audience.

Before the adjournment of the meeting, various committees were appointed and Fels announced that the next meeting will be at 3:45 p.m. Friday in 343 Union. John M. Jacobson, regional director of the CIO's Political Action committee, and Ruben Latz, a member of the AFL political committee, will be the speakers.

Flying Club Meet Set for Thursday

Air-minded Minnesota students will open another season of flying, talking about flying, and talking, when the Flying club has its first meeting of the fall quarter at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Fine Arts room of the Union.

Films of flying done by Naval students and colored slides of the different types of planes will be shown. Don Hart, promotional director of the club, will tell about the club, its activities, and how those who are interested may join.

"All students may attend as the program is for either the private pilot or the person who has never flown," said Inez Luck, president of the club.

The club, which is an extra-curricular activity of the University, holds regular meetings on the campus.

All-U Council Committee Will Clarify Dispute

The All-University Council last night decided to take action to clarify, for the student body the dispute concerning general distribution through the University Postoffice boxes. Three Council members were chosen as a committee.

Resignation of Richard Tregigas, Arts junior, elected to the Council last spring, was accepted by the Council. A student will be appointed, after filing, to fill the vacancy until the next election. This comes in the spring quarter.

Filing for an office committee under the All-University Council will be open soon under the direction of the secretary of the Council. It was decided that she would be responsible for setting up the committee.

Briton Will Meet Ag Campus Staff

Elwyn Jones, British farmer who is in the United States at the invitation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be on Ag campus Monday for various conferences and meetings.

Mr. Jones will speak at an Ag Extension conference at 11 a.m. Monday and also at a staff meeting following the afternoon tea in the fireplace room of the Home Economics building. The rest of the day will be spent in individual conferences with staff members.

Clyde H. Bailey, dean and director of the Department of Agriculture, stated that the meeting should prove interesting now that England has increased her agricultural production two-fold since the outset of the war.

Opportunity Ask Wart Donors

By Connie Wurst

We've been asked to donate blood. That's all right.

We've been asked to donate money for Campus and Community War Chests. That's all right too.

But now we're being asked to donate WARTS!

Drs. F. W. Lynch and R. J. Steves, dermatologists at the University hospital, need 100 warts for experimentation.

The virus of wart material will be separated and used as a vaccine for the treatment of warts. "Other experimenters have tried the same experiment with success," said Dr. Steves yesterday.

Any students who are interested in having warts removed are requested to report to the Health Service.

Christianson Is New YM Leader, Board Announces

John Christianson, Arts sophomore, was appointed president of the University YMCA at a meeting of the faculty committee of management meeting, Thursday. Richard Sturges, Arts sophomore, was named vice-president.

The faculty board approved the general program policies, said J. Benjamin Schmoker, executive secretary. The major emphasis of this year's work will be on small informal and natural groups covering a wide variety of student interests.

Special projects will be operated by the students for military personnel, especially those units in barracks near the building.

A series of open house programs are in progress every night, with special programs on Saturday and Sunday, for the men stationed at Shevlin hall.

Coffey Urges Sane Victory Celebration

It is possible that within a matter of weeks or months we shall receive the news flash that the Germans have capitulated and that the European phase of the war has ended. Those will be welcome words, and they will bring relief and consolation to millions of human hearts in this country and throughout the world. The European war will be over!

And what should our response as a University be to that dramatic news? Even though the war may not be ended for some time, it is well to give thought to this question.

It is my deep conviction that announcement of the defeat of Germany is no proper time for unseemly emotional display. The end of fighting with Nazi Germany is not the end of the war. American soldiers will still be fighting and dying in the war against Japan, and what reason have we to lose ourselves in delirious delight when our own sons are still facing death and the enemy? Why should we, whose sacrifices relatively have been slight, rush madly into celebrations for a task but yet half done?

No. Rather, the victory over Germany should imbue us with a solemn determination to carry forward the fight. Instead of releasing our energies in pointless jubilation, it should focus our efforts all the more directly upon the yet unwon war with Japan. Reemphasis on seriousness of purpose rather than unrestrained celebration should characterize V-E Day.

All that I am saying applies especially to a university. It would not be in keeping with the traditions of a university such as our own, were we under present circumstances to abandon our purposes, even for one day. Nor would it be in keeping with the attitudes of service and devotion to duty that have been expressed over and over again in the letters I have received from alumni and former students of this University who have been fighting grimly on every front. We must not forget what they will think of us.

I am therefore urging that when the big news comes the University, mindful of its obligations, continue steadfastly on its regular schedule of activity. No more fitting expression of our appreciation of the significance of victory could be given than to remain at our work, and in remembering what still lies ahead, to pledge ourselves to the relentless completion of our task.

I am asking Jean Danaher, president of the All-University Council, Dean Williamson as Dean of Students, and E. B. Pierce, chairman of the Committee on Functions, to serve as an over-all committee to formulate a plan, possibly for gathering together in Northrop Memorial Auditorium for one hour to give thanks for the victory thus far.

Aldworth Captain; Hauser Wary of Tigers

Bill Aldworth's fourth year as a Minnesota griddier will bring him the honor today of captaining the Gophers against Missouri from his right tackle position, as a replacement for Rube Juster today.

Elsewhere in the Gopher camp, Dr. George Hauser was warning, "Last year we ran into more trouble with Missouri than we anticipated and only won 26-13. This year the Tigers appear to be even stronger."

Hauser remonstrated that although the Gophers are better off in personnel than last season, they aren't going to have a snap breather with Chauncey Simpson's men this afternoon.

That "only" may seem unconvincing judging by last year's score, but it wasn't the margin of victory so much as it was the unexpected manner in which Simpson's men hung in there until the gong. They actually made more first downs than did the Gophers, but had to go through the air to do it.

This season, Hauser and aids have succeeded in battering the hatches that let in a flood of passes in early fall, and are set for anything in the line of aerials coming from Bill Dellastatious and Paul Collins.

Moreover, Minnesota will be ready to open a passing attack on its own hook. During the past week, the Gophers have practiced continually on tossing and have polished up three or four good passers.

Added to Red Williams and Mutzy Nolan, both of whom can be depended upon to throw far and accurately, there is Phil McManus ready at a moment's notice to go in, and even Merlin Kispert or Walt Edwards, although not top-notch pitchers, could surprise by passing.

Matt Sutton will start at fullback today for Minnesota in place of the injured Tom Cates. This is the only other first team change.

Bierman Honored At Banquet

Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota football coach, recently returned to the campus, will be honored at a dinner by the Junior Association of Commerce at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Radisson hotel.

Tickets, priced at $1.25, are on sale at Billy and Marty's, 617 Marquette.

First Clash Since 1930

The gridiron battle between Purdue and Michigan, defending Big Ten co-champions, at Ann Arbor on October 28 will mark the first meeting of the teams since 1930.

Local, National Scribes Agree: Gophers to Win

In spite of last week's upsets, high flyers in the realm of sports and stars refuse to be held down, and, casting a feather into the wind, they climb onto their water wings and finally decide, "Minnesota over Missouri."

Leading off with the national prognosticators, Fritz Howell, Associated Press scribe, emerges from his ouija board session and says, "On the rebound from the loss to Michigan, Minnesota."

Darby Hicks, Denver's wise man, turns up a red ace and whispers, "Missouri isn't exactly a pop-over, but the Gophers should bounce back into pretty good form and handle that one all right."

Dr. E. E. Litkenhous, score forecaster through a mathematical system, puts his slide rule back in his pocket and gives Minnesota a 37-point difference over Missouri.

Roundy, a star-gazer from Madison, Wisconsin, folds his telescope and says, "Minnesota, 27; Missouri, 13."

Moving to the local sports guessers, Dick Cullum, sports editor of the Minneapolis Daily Times, flips a coin and plunges, "... we may expect ... about two or more touchdowns for Minnesota over Missouri."

Charles Johnson, Star Journal sports editor, puts away his copy of National Horoscope and guess-

Missouri ...

Minnesota, after starting fast last year with two touchdowns, was almost pushed into a corner by the passing of Missouri's Don Reece who has since left the team. Final margin was 26-13, but at times Coach George Hauser began to wonder.

This season, the Tigers were walloped by Ohio State's youngsters, 54-0. Naturally that makes the visitors something of the underdogs today, but in the words of Bernie Bierman, "Missouri may have a better football team than it's given credit for having."

The Tiger line looks weak, but there is one man who will certainly stand out. He is Jim Kerkeris, 273-pound tackle who started against the Gophers last year.

The entire Missouri team shows good spirit and, as one of the boys said last night as the outfit was moving over to the Curtis hotel from the Milwaukee station, "Bet-ter watch out, Minnesota."

Simpson Fears Breakthrough In Missouri's Forward Wall

Missouri's Tigers arrived in Minneapolis at 8:15 p.m. yesterday evening, led by Coach Chauncey Simpson, and they intend to win. The "you gotta show me" boys appeared to be nonplussed at the idea as he sprinted from the train, Simpson said that his men will try hard against the Gophers, but, he asserted, "This game will not be an easy one to take."

A likable man, the Missouri mentor speaks with a definite southern accent, but unlike most southerners, he is a fast talker. The genial Tiger coach admitted that it will be a long pull against the favored Maroon and Gold outfit.

Biggest worry is the line, Simpson said, which is made up of men who are both small and light compared to the Minnesota forward wall.

"Both of our ends are under 170 pounds," said Simpson as he and the team pulled out for the Curtis hotel. "We may have plenty of trouble."

Paul Collins

It was thought earlier this week that Paul Collins, stellar quarterback, would be unable to play because of a back injury suffered in the Kansas State contest.

Collins, however, will be ready to go today. He is the key man in the Tiger T formation.

The Missourians are undermanned this season and this is probably the primary reason that Simpson may have to risk losing Collins for future games. John Morton and Bill Ekern, last year's flankers, graduated, and that was a hard loss to an all-civilian squad.

BUD GULLICKSON, a native of Billings, Mont., has been showing such marked improvement in the Gopher backfield over his early season play that he may be called on today for his service against the visiting Tigers. The hard-charging halfback is a friend of Herb Hein and Herman Frickey, former Minnesota stars.

Hagstrom Released From Health Service

Werner Hagstrom, pharmacy sophomore, was released from the Health Service yesterday after a week of convalescence from a fractured ankle suffered when he fell on the steps of Phi Delta Chi, honorary pharmacy fraternity house last Friday night.

Hagstrom reported to Health Service Saturday morning for treatment where three x-rays were taken to determine the extent of the injury. An operation was performed on the fracture Saturday by Dr. Harry Hall.

Cheerleaders Put Punch Into Act

By Jim Noyes

Leading the Gopher rooters in their cheers today are those five veterans of the gridiron's grunt and groan section, Earl Mahachek, Paul Samuels, Arnie Gilbertson, Ruth Rossiter and Lorraine Brake.

These kings and queens of the sidelines are artists of showmanship and have perfected a technique of clowning and roughing which keeps the fans howling with laughter. It starts with Earl Mahachek declaring loudly that Minnesota will not win the game. Then Arnie Gilbertson knocks him down and Paul Samuels picks him up, pushes him back, and Arnie knocks him down again.

old lady rushed up to Arnie and scolded him soundly for "picking on someone smaller than himself."

Lorraine, an Arts sophomore, is a graduate from Roosevelt high school where she participated in dramatics, operettas, and was flag twirler in the parades and at the football games.

Barbers' All-Gopher Guesses Range from 9-8 Edge to 47-0

After thinking the situation over carefully stropping their razors, the barbers in the vicinity of the campus again have come up with more predictions, each man determined to bring home the prized gold mug for the coldest guess.

Bob of the Rellon shop tried a 21-13 prognostication last week with the result that the trophy now resides in the show window of his hair-cutting emporium.

Robert has picked the Gophers by 32-0 today, and his colleagues in the hot towel league all have selected the Minnesotans to win.

Most radical guesser this week is Gus of Gus's who figures on a 47-0 Maroon and Gold win. Oddest anticipation is by Milton of John's barber shop who likes the local talent by a 9-8 baseball score.
