Y. W. C. A. TO GIVE TWILIGHT CONCERT

Music and Elocution in Chapel
Next Friday Afternoon—Excellent Program Will Be Given

On Friday afternoon of this week, at four o'clock, the Y. W. C. A. will give the second of its series of Twilight Recitals in the chapel. The association has been fortunate enough to secure Mrs. Charles Mead Holt of the Johnson School of Music and Oratory, who will give a program of readings, while Mr. Cragg Walston and Miss Opal Fay will assist.

Miss Fay is a pupil of Herr Ober-Hoffer, and one of the most satisfactory pianists among the younger performers, while Mr. Walston has already established his position as a violinist among the University students as well as among local musicians.

Mrs. Holt will give two charming monologues, several selections from Kipling and a comedy number from Mrs. Fiske of which the Mpls. Journal says, "Mrs. Holt's reading of the Fiske monologue 'Keeping a Seat at a Benefit' was a choice bit of comedy work."

The Times also gives the following appreciation of Mrs. Holt's ability as an interpreter of literature:

"Evident clear understanding of what she reads, and the power to play upon the emotions of her hearers are characteristic of Mrs. Holt's work. She has the true dramatic temperament, and yet her work, while tender, pathetic or intense, is never forced and her characterization is true and clear."

The tickets for this recital are on sale to-day and no student should willingly forego the pleasure of hearing so entertaining a program at the nominal price of fifteen cents.

ANNUAL INDOOR MEET

Board of Control Decides to Hold an Indoor Meet. Inter-department and Interfraternity Races to Be Held.

As was decided at the last meeting of the Board of Control the annual indoor meet will be held Saturday, Mar. 19, in the Armory. There will be the usual card of sprints and field events and a specialty will be made of the relays, of which there will be five: the Inter-fraternity, the Inter-department, the Inter-Athletic, the Inter-class and the High School relays. The first and second teams in the Inter-fraternity relay will receive silk banners and the members of the winning team will get medals.

The high schools will have no indoor inter-scholastic this year and the only mid-winter track work will be the high school events in the University meet races.

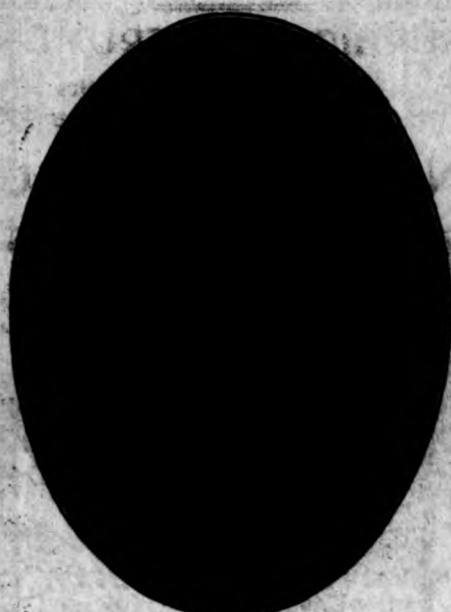

Besides the relays, sprints and hurdles will be held.

The squad of track men is steadily increasing and bids fair to develop into a good all-around team. It has been further increased by the addition of Shedd and Hasbrook.

NOTICE—FRESHMEN

There will be an important meeting of the freshmen academics tomorrow at the 2d hour in Prof. McClumpha's office. Arrangements for the class tournament will be made and other business attend to.

ROGERS IS CHOSEN HEAD COACH AT CARLISLE INDIAN SCHOOL

EDWARD ROGERS

ROGERS' RECORD

Born in Minnesota.
Played seven years at Carlisle.
Captain of Carlisle foot ball team in 1900.
Came to Minnesota in 1901.
Played left end, 1901-1902-1903.
Captain Varsity team, 1903.
All Western End, 1901-1902-1903.
Head Coach Carlisle School, 1904.

Edward Rogers, known East and West as one of the greatest end rushes that ever donned moccasins, will coach Carlisle next year.

"Ed" has been negotiating with the Carlisle management for several weeks and yesterday received a final offer, with instructions to telegraph if he wished to accept, and after consulting Dr. Williams and other friends, our late captain decided to accept the proposition and wired an answer to that effect.

Immediately after the Michigan game last fall, Rogers visited at Chicago and conferred with a representative from Carlisle. At that time he was offered the position of first assistant to Glen Warner, who was then coach of Carlisle and had turned out winning teams for four successive years. But before Christmas Warner was offered great inducements to go to Cornell and he finally did so. Our "Ed" was then offered his position, that of overseer of all outdoor athletics and head coach of the various teams.

All arrangements having been made the contract will be drawn up and Rogers will probably journey to his old school in his new capacity, early in the fall.

For the present he will continue his law studies at Minnesota and will graduate in the Spring.

HAWKEYES WILL BE HERE FRIDAY

Annual Debate Between Iowa and Minnesota Will Take Place
Next Friday, Feb. 26

The annual debate between the State Universities of Iowa and Minnesota will take place in the University Chapel, Minneapolis, February 26th at 8 o'clock p.m. The judges are selected, both teams are thoroughly prepared and confident of victory and a good contest is assured.

Minnesota will support the affirmative and Iowa the negative of the following proposition: "Resolved that the United States should now abandon the protective tariff policy."

Mayor Haynes has been asked to preside and Professor Ely and Doctor Sparling, both of the University of Wisconsin, have consented to act as judges.

EAST SIDE ALUMNI

The Alumni Association of the East Side High School will hold its first annual Mid-Winter Reception to graduating class, Alumni and former students in the school hall on Saturday evening, February 27th.

HONOR SYSTEM AMONG ENGINEERS

Proposed Reorganization of Engineering Society—Honor System in Exams a Feature

The Engineering Society held a meeting yesterday at the noon hour to discuss the matter of a reorganization of the society, based upon the honor system.

The matter has been under the consideration of the officers for some time but yesterday's meeting was the first open mention of the change. The plan was, originally, to draw up a series of amendments to the constitution, but it developed yesterday that the old constitution had been destroyed in the Dorsett fire. This necessitated the drawing up of a new constitution and consequently a committee was appointed for that purpose with instructions to incorporate therein the honor system. Professor Jones was present at the meeting and made a plea in favor of the change, which was seconded by the officers.

Plans outlined

President Fairchild of the Society, when seen by a reporter, outlined the

DR. BURTON SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Old Varsity Favorite Comes Back for a Brief Visit—Address on Teachers' Compensation

Dr. Burton has come and gone again. Yesterday chapel was crowded long before the time for daily services by students of all classes and departments who were anxious to hear the far-famed "Dicky." The rostrum was crowded with members of the faculty, desirous of honoring their former colleague.

There was a slight murmur of disappointment passing through the audience as President Northrop entered unaccompanied. But a few moments later, in the midst of the service, Dr. Burton quietly slipped into a seat. Prexy introduced the distinguished literateur as "Our old friend."

Loud and long-continued applause greeted the genial professor as he began his address.

Dr. Burton took for the theme of his talk "The Compensation of the Teacher." He did not have reference to the financial return but rather to the ethical and he spoke from the standpoint of the teacher of literature.

The constant reading and re-reading of the great authors who put into their works the best expression of life, and drawing of new life from the earnest young people with whom he comes into daily contact—these things were sufficient for him. The inspiration from these sources would lead any man to lead the higher, nobler life which, after all, is what we are placed in this world for.

Dr. Burton felt that the life of a teacher with such a recompense was better paid than a person who measured his return in coin. He referred to his own experience as literary critic for a publishing house. Altogether the financial part was all that could be desired, he was missing the real aim of life and had to consider everything from the material view-point.

From the unfavorable light in which he showed up his work in the East as compared with his very satisfactory occupation of teaching at Minnesota, one would naturally infer that Dr. Burton might be induced to return.

The vast audience followed every word of Dr. Burton's with the closest attention and when he closed the applause was deafening.

WILL MAKE ATKIN NEXT

Dramatic Club Will Present Its Popular Farce at Atkin, Minn.

Arrangements were made yesterday for the presentation of "One Night Only," the dramatic club's farce, in Atkin, Minnesota on Wednesday night, March 2d. A fine new opera house has just been completed in that city and it is for the purpose of opening it to the public that the club received the offer. Several excellent companies were turned down by the management in order to give the club the opportunity.

It is an honor much appreciated by the cast and it is certain that they will do their part toward making the opening a successful one.

HONOR FOR MINNESOTA

Minnesota should take great pride in the fact that Edward Rogers, Captain of the 1903 football team has been elected head coach of the football team and director of all outdoor athletics at the Carlisle Indian school.

Minnesota can hardly afford to spare Rogers as he has another year yet to play here, but she appreciates the fact that it is as great an honor to the University as it is to Rogers to have him chosen to this important position.

It shows conclusively that the work that has been done by the Minnesota football teams during the past three years, has been recognized throughout the country and that Minnesota players are not excelled by any in the business. It is also a tribute to the coaching ability of Dr. Harry L. Williams.

Carlisle, each year, plays the leading eastern colleges and is always considered one of the best and most evenly developed teams in the country.

That such a team is to be trained by a Minnesota man is an honor to the University, the football team and our coach.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

The action taken by the Engineering Society in inaugurating the honor system, marks an epoch in University life.

This is the first time that any student organization has seen fit to take cognizance of the disgraceful condition of affairs which have existed here for the last year or two and shows that at least a portion of the student body are beginning to realize the seriousness of the situation.

Nothing tends to foster cheating, cribbing and unfair methods more than the knowledge, by the offender that he will be applauded rather than censured by his fellows.

As soon as these men begin to realize that the attitude of the student body towards them has changed and that instead of being praised they are scorned by their associates, they will either stop their nefarious practices or leave school.

No organization is better fitted to begin this crusade than the Engineers' Society. Every engineer wishes to belong to it and it exercises a wide and powerful influence.

While this movement is only a beginning the Daily thinks that if properly nurtured this spirit of fairness and honor is bound in time to pervade the entire University.

The Daily hopes the day is not far distant when every University society club and organization will make honesty one of their membership provisions, and that the honor system may soon be thoroughly engrafted into University life. The engineers have started a good thing.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATERS

JOHN P. DEVANEY.

John P. DeVaney was born at Lake Mills, Iowa, twenty-one years ago. After graduating from the local high school with the class of '99 he taught for two years and then came to the University of Minnesota where he is now a Junior of high standing in the Science course.

Although this is Mr. DeVaney's first appearance in inter-collegiate debate he has won his spurs in many local contests and has numerous victories to his credit. In his first year he led the freshman team to victory over the Sophomores and thereby won one of the Peavey Prizes. In his sophomore year he again represented his class against the freshmen, defeated them and again won one of the Peavey Prizes. On account of his high grade of work last year he was excused from the preliminaries, awarded a $25 place prize and allowed to enter the "final" direct last October where he won a position on the Iowa team and a $15 prize.

He is quick, resourceful, and energetic in debate and is sure to give a good account of himself in the approaching contest with Iowa.

He is a member of the Arena Literary Society, of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity and is Associate Editor on the Minnesota Daily.

Athletic Board Chooses Him Assistant to Manager Reed.

At the meeting of the Athletic Board yesterday afternoon, John G. Redding of the law department was chosen assistant manager of athletics.

The other candidates were Hugh Leach and George Dredge.

It was decided not to have a basket ball game with Wisconsin as that institution wanted $300 to come up here and would only give up $75 for a return game.

Nothing more of importance was done.

NO GAME

Co. B. and Freshmen Do Not Come to a Clash. The Engagement is Postponed

The game of basket ball scheduled for last night between Co. B. and the Freshmen was postponed and will be played on a later date.

The reason for the postponement lies with both sides. The freshmen are so busy planning a party that all the activities are centered in the direction of social matters and one or two of the leading players of Co. B. have been of late threatened with typhoid fever.
As soon as the social affairs of the freshmen and the physical condition of the Co. B. players have been adjusted and put on a secure footing the game will be played.

met a number of the football men who expect to play on Minnesota's squad were admitted and the proceedings of the meeting are wrapped in profound mystery. It is probable that spring and summer work was laid out.

Dr. Williams will leave for Europe in March and expects to return about Sept. 1st. There were not any new candidates at the meeting and a small number of men showed up. No very promising new men reported.

HONOR SYSTEM AMONG ENGINEERS

plans of the reorganization as follows:

"The plan is to base the membership of the club on the honor system. No man who is suspected of cribbing or any other dishonest action will be eligible for membership, and any member who is found guilty of dishonesty will be summarily black-balled from the society. This is no sudden step, but has been under the consideration of the officers ever since last fall. The loss of the Constitution precipitated the reorganization.

"The Society feels that the present state of affairs makes a stand against cribbing necessary. The first question asked an applicant for a position in any engineering firm is 'Were you expelled for cribbing?' This cannot continue, for unless it is stopped, our diplomas and certificates will be useless. The officers are backed by the entire society and the reorganization is assured."

Check on Cribbing

E. J. Cheney, Editor in chief of the Year Book said, "The real object of the change is to put a check on cribbing. Although the evil is just as virulent among the medics and laws and academics, it happens to have been the engineers that were caught, but nevertheless, it must be stopped. The present attitude of the society is surely the right one and it has the distinction of being the first organization to take a stand for the honor system. Prof.

Jones warmly advocated the system, as did the officers of the club."

The Engineers' Society, as it now stands is composed of thirty engineers, organized for the common benefit of its members. The officers are: President, A. R. Fairchild; Vice President, F. E. McMillan; Secretary, V. C. Dorsett; Treasurer, E. B. Lewis, and Business Manager, W. C. Adams. The reorganization will affect no change in the personnel of the officers.
