NEW PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS STUDENTS AT ARMORY TODAY

Ex-Dean of College of Education to Make First Appearance in New Capacity

PROFESSORS PIKE AND BALLENTINE TO SPEAK

Occasion Marks Inauguration of Fifth President at Minnesota.

Lotus Delta Coffman, the new president of the university, will make his initial appearance in his official capacity at the first All-University convocation of the year at 11:30 this morning in the Armory. President Coffman is the fifth president of the University and succeeds Marion L. Burton, who resigned last spring. President Coffman was formerly the dean of the College of Education.

The other speakers will be Professor J. B. Pike of the College of Science, Literature and Arts, and Professor Henry W. Ballentine of the Law school. Prof. Pike, who is one of the veteran members of the faculty, will speak on the spirit and traditions of the University. Professor Ballentine, one of the newest members of the faculty, resigned the deanship of the College of Law at the University of Illinois in order to become professor in the University of Minnesota Law school.

The University band will furnish the music for the occasion, and the convocation will end with the singing of "Hail Minnesota" by the student body.

The Armory will seat only 2,500 of the 10,000 students now on the campus, so all late-comers will be unable to enter the building.

U. of M. Band to Play At Convocation Today

The University band will get under way early this year when it plays for convocation today. All of last year's band men are urgently requested to come to convocation prepared to play. The band will also help in the pep-fest ceremonies tomorrow night. The number of tryouts for the concert band indicates that Minnesota will be assured of a splendid organization this year, according to old members.

Alumni Weekly to Appear Wednesday

Vincent Johnson, '20, New Editor; Many Editorial Changes Promised.

The first issue of the Alumni Weekly will make its appearance, Wednesday, October 6. Vincent Johnson, '20, is the new editor of the weekly, and has announced that numerous editorial changes will be made. Mr. Johnson was formerly business manager of the Minnesota Daily, and last year editor of the Foolscap. He will be assisted by Mrs. R. B. Thompson, '09, as associate editor. Mrs. Thompson will be remembered as the author of a series of articles appearing in the weekly last year under the head "The Old Grad Comes Back."

E. B. Pierce, '09, registrar for 15 years, resigned his position July 1, 1920, to accept a position as secretary of the General Alumni association, and field secretary of the University, combining the two offices, and succeeding E. B. Johnson, '88, resigned.

Shevlin Congestion Will Be Over Soon

Work on the new Shevlin cafeteria is rapidly approaching completion. When completed the new cafeteria will seat 700, and offer many new conveniences to patrons. It was planned originally to have the cafeteria completed by the time school opened but unforeseen labor difficulties caused the delay.

In the meantime everything possible is being done to accommodate the girls. Miss Boyd, the new manager, said yesterday. The cafeteria is unable to serve three meals a day under the present circumstances, but expects to be able to do so in a few days. Miss Boyd said.

University Army to Don Caps This Year Says Quartermaster

The army's wearing caps, this year. Old students were surprised and freshmen were delighted today when the quartermaster of the University R. O. T. C. told them to draw caps instead of the campaign hats which were in vogue with the military organization last season. The entire corps is being outfitted with the caps. "They don't shed as much rain as the hats," declared an experienced soph to his juvenile companion in ranks, "but the chances are they'll keep their shape a lot longer. They will certainly take up a good deal less room in the closet."

All of the equipment issued this year is new. Unusual speed is being shown in outfitting the R. O. T. C. Drill will be proceeding as usual by next week, according to word from the commandant's office today.

Daily Not Included Under Blanket Tax

Erroneous Impression Believed to be Check on Subscription Campaign.

Contrary to rumors persistent among former students, the Minnesota Daily is not to be given to every student under a blanket tax. Although the blanket tax was passed by the students last spring by a small majority, the number in favor was so few more than the number opposed that the matter was not continued and it was decided that every student should support what activities he felt he could. The increased tuition fees have given many former students the erroneous impression that the increase was caused by the adoption of a blanket tax.

It is believed that this is the cause of the apparent apathy among upper-classmen when approached and asked to subscribe to the Daily. While more than 1,000 subscriptions are already on the books, the majority of these have come from the freshman class. The plans for the year have been figured on a basis of a subscription list of 3,000. With the revenue derived from a list of this size, many features, such as a cut or cartoon in every issue, special features, and high class articles by eminent authorities, can be incorporated which otherwise would be too expensive. Although a subscription campaign by means of personal solicitation is prohibited, desks for taking subscriptions are located in convenient places around the campus.

Social Events at "U" to Start Soon

Social events in which the entire university can take part will begin as soon as the confusion of the opening days has subsided. The first sunlight will be given Saturday, October 9, the day of the Northwestern game at Evanston. A special wire will bring the results of each quarter direct to the dancers.

Shevlin hall throughout the year will be the scene of Sunday get-togethers. These informal parties last year proved popular, especially among the students living near the campus. Both men and women of the university are invited.

Social hour will be given every Friday afternoon this year, starting in two weeks. Some clever entertainments are expected from the girls who present these affairs.

To take the place of the first social hour, a Big Sister party will be given Friday, October 8 for all freshman and junior girls, if the weather permits, it will take place on the river bank.

Freshmen Women Are Asked to Meet Dean

Freshmen women are called to a meeting by Mrs. Ladd, dean of women. The meeting will be held in the Armory, Friday at 4:30.

The program will consist of an address of welcome by Mrs. Ladd, a short talk by the head of the Housing Bureau, and a few words on health service by the resident nurse. The president of the W. S. G. A. and the president of the W. A. A. will speak to the girls about the organizations they represent. The chairman of the Big Sisters and a representative from Pinafore will also give short talks. Freshmen-girls who have classes at that hour will be excused if they wish to attend the meeting.

U. OF M. ROOTERS ORGANIZED FOR EXTENSIVE WORK

Bill Freng "Chief Noise Maker" Out-of-Town Trips on Schedule

MEMBERSHIP MAXIMUM MADE FIVE HUNDRED

Hamburg, Taylor, and Schoelkopf Elected Officers for Ensuing Year.

The All-University Rooters club was organized last night in the Little Theatre. The club gives promise of being the most active as well as the largest organization of its kind in the history of the University, according to Warren Hamburg, president. Plans are well under way to have the Rooters club become one of the most influential and potent student organizations on the campus. Pep-fests, parades, and out-of-town trips are on the schedule.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon, general elections of officers for the ensuing year were held as well as the official selection of the rooter king. Warren C. Hamburg was chosen president; Ed Taylor, treasurer, and Harold Schoelkopf, secretary and publicity manager.

Because of the fact that the Rooters club this fall wants early results, it was moved that the new rooter king be a man with considerable experience in the art of noise producing. Because of his ability in organization as well as because of his experience last fall, Bill Freng was unanimously made the "Chief Noise Persuader," and shortly after his election demonstrated to his assembled cohorts that as a king he was "there."

Tomorrow night the rooters are going to show the University in general that there is something emphatically alive in the professional yellers. As an organized body they will attend the big pep-fest and form a nucleus for the rest of the yelling.

The officers of the rooters club have made arrangements to procure for all members attractive Maroon and Gold caps which will be sold for thirty cents each at the meeting tomorrow night. This will not only serve as a means of insignia but will also, as one member facetiously suggested, help keep the shiny pompous in good order. Every rooter club member is expected to purchase a cap at an early date so the members will make a better showing in the stands and at the games.

The men who were at the meeting last night are requested to call at the housing bureau in the Minnesota Union for the blank enrollment forms anytime today after one o'clock. Any male student, no matter what class or nationality or religion, is eligible for membership and if he is not approached, he will gladly be enrolled as a member or he will bring his name and ten cents to the housing bureau in the Union.

It was voted to make the club a maximum of 500 members as that number can more readily be handled. This will make it imperative that all students who desire membership apply at once as the roster will be closed as soon as the limit is reached. The Rooters are having a large number of folders printed with the yells and the words of the various songs printed upon them and these will be given out free at the Friday night meeting.

It will be the biggest, pepiest, noisiest, most enthusiastic, fire-workest, most Minnesota affair that has rocked the campus for years, according to members of the club in charge of the program.

Foreign Students Favor Minnesota

A record registration of students from foreign countries is seen by Registrar F. M. West in the registration figures compiled to date.

There are 11 Chinese men at Minnesota this year, three of whom have just arrived in this country, two new students from Japan, two from the Philippines, and the same number from India.

The Y. M. C. A. Committee, located on the ground floor of the Minnesota Union, desires to establish helpful relations with all foreigners, and proposes to make them acquainted with American homes and American institutions.

"Ags" to Work for National Championship

Stock Judging Team Will Enter Contest at Chicago Oct. 11

WINNERS FROM FIVE STATES TO COMPETE

"Judges" Returned From Ames, Iowa, Yesterday With First Awards.

The University dairy stock judging team will compete for the national stock judging championship at the national stock show in Chicago, October 11, against winning teams from other sections of the United States.

The team returned from Ames, Ia. yesterday with four cups, three medals, and the sectional championship in dairy stock judging. Myron A. Loomis of Minnesota took first place in the contest, with J. C. Jefferson of Iowa State College second; R. C. Sleighton of Ames, third; Vernon Williams of Minnesota, fourth; and A. M. Corby of Missouri, fifth. The agricultural colleges represented by teams were Iowa State, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, South Dakota, and Minnesota.

Engineers Name New Magazine Techno-log

Publication to be Issued Monthly—Plans for 1920-21 Year Announced

The Minnesota Techno-log is the name given to the new engineering publication which will make its first appearance on the campus on November 10. It is planned to have eight editions, which will be issued monthly from November 10 to June 10.

The magazine will be made up of 32 pages and will contain articles pertaining to engineering, architecture, and chemistry, the news from the Association of Engineering Students and a complete alumni section. It will further include a humorous page with cartoons and a section given over to news of general interest to the University as a whole.

A drive will be put on about October 13 for membership in the Association of Engineering Students. The membership will be $2 which will be divided so that 50 cents will go for association dues and the remaining $1.50 will entitle the subscriber to one year's subscription to the Techno-log.

M. F. Wichman is managing editor of the new publication.

Y. M. C. A. Stag Social To Be Given Tonight

A stag social will be given tonight at 8:30 in the Ag gymnasium. The Y. M. C. A. is in charge and is making special arrangements to entertain the freshmen and help them get acquainted.

Refreshments will be served and a program of stunts and games will be given.

Student speakers representing the different organizations on the Ag campus will talk to the freshmen and explain the purposes of and rouse interest in their respective organizations.

All freshmen men should take advantage of this opportunity to become acquainted and meet the faculty.

Upstairs Cafeteria In Union Open Today

The upstairs cafeteria in the Union will be open for service to the men students today for the first time this school year. Meals will be served from 11:30 to 1:30. Those wishing to get the quickest service are urged to get there as soon after 11:30 as possible.

Persons or organizations desiring to make reservations for dinners or lunches may speak to Mrs. Woodruff instead of the manager of the Union as formerly. This will mean a more direct personal supervision of these functions, insuring more efficient service, the management decided.

NEAL ARNSTON ELECTED CAPTAIN OF GOPHER ELEVEN BY NINE "M" MEN

Enrollment in Drill 1,500 on First Day

The military department enrolled 1,500 students in drill yesterday. Never has there been such a great number of men taken care of on the opening day of school. Ex-Registrar, E. B. Pierce, stated that on the first day of class last year only one-half of the students of drill were registered. The enrollment in the military department may reach 2,500, it was reported today.

Glee Club to Make Tour of Iron Range

Tryouts Continue Today and Friday—Winners not to be Known Until Monday

A large number of men appeared for the Glee Club tryouts which will continue today from 1:30 to 2:30, and Friday from 2:30 to 5. Announcement of the successful candidates will not be made until Monday, October 4, in order to allow more time for the tryouts. An especial call is being made for specialty men, readers, violinists, men who can "do" pianologues, etc.—who will try out at the announced hours at the music building. Each man who tries out must bring some song which he will be asked to sing.

Definite engagements have been made for a five days tour of the Iron Range during Easter week, and for six weekend trips in addition. The plans for the coast trip to be taken later in the year are progressing favorably. "Prospects for the trip are excellent," declared members of the club today.

All women interested in the organization of a Women's Glee Club are urged to report for tryout at the music building today between the hours of 2:30 and 5. A club of forty or fifty women will be formed. Freshmen girls who have sung in high school glee clubs, or elsewhere are asked to be sure to come for the tryout.

Many Anxious to "Make Their Way"

Average of Fifty Reporting Daily to Employment Bureau, Nearly 300 Placed.

About fifty students have been reporting daily to the employment bureau, practically all looking for afternoon and evening work. Between two and three hundred have been placed on part-time employment.

A large part of the work being done is in return for board, on such lines as the cafeteria, assisting house-holders at their heavy work, and fraternity house duties. It is expected by the bureau men that all applicants will be accommodated within two or three weeks.

Several women have applied for part-time work, but so far there has been very little demand. The bureau reports a number of good stenographers on hand ready to take any work in their line.

Minnesota Enrollment Sets New-High Record

Minnesota's enrollment sets the high mark for middle western institutions of corresponding rank both in the total registration and in the percentage of increase according to registration figures from other universities.

Valparaiso University opened September 22 with the largest attendance in many years. The registrar estimated that the enrollment exceeds the 2,000 mark. Many students are coming from other colleges where they were unable to obtain admittance.

There are 3,125 students in classes in the University of Kansas. That is the number given by Registrar Foster. Of course, some more have been added since Friday, late enrollments and the like, but Registrar Foster knows nothing of them, until the late enrollment figures have been given him for matriculation," states the Daily Kansan.

Veteran Quarterback Named After Season's First Chalk Talk Last Night

CAPTAIN-ELECT LONG FAMED IN ATHLETICS

Stepped Into Football Limelight Substituting For Lampi on 1919-Squad.

By Henry Niles.

Neal Arnston, veteran quarterback and star forward of the basketball quint, was elected to the captaincy of the 1920 Gopher eleven last night by the nine "M" men who are members of the squad.

The election took place after the first chalk talk of the season by Coach Williams in the Minnesota Union. Other members of the squad were dismissed early while the letter men of last year remained to name the new gridiron leaders.

Arnston first stepped into prominence on the football field under maroon and gold clars last fall when he entered many games as substitute for Captain Ernest Lampi. He played a fast and heady game which led to the prediction that he would be the quarterback of the 1920 team. Arnston reported for the squad this fall with additional weight, an almost perfect knowledge of signals and in fine fettle from a summer spent in a section crew. From the first his position at quarter was assured.

The ballot last night was the third taken to name a Gopher gridiron leader for 1920. The first was taken last spring with Captain Johnson the choice of the letter men. The cancellation of his registration was followed by the provisional election of Kewpie Schroeder, stellar end of the 1917 eleven who has been at South Dakota since that time. Schroeder signified his willingness to accept the position and register at Minnesota but eligibility stepped in and prevented him from joining the Gophers.

Arnston had been considered the most likely candidate since the departure from the squad of Captain Johnson although two other men, Oss and Ruben were spoken of in connection with the post. Oss, however, is to head the Gopher quint this winter and Ruben is scheduled for the leadership of the 1921 eleven.

The election of Arnston will be heartily endorsed by the student body, it is expected, for he is popular both on the gridiron and on the campus. His stellar performance in two sports have more than earned him the honor conferred, in the opinion of many. He is also considered the first choice of his team mates outside of the "M" men who took part in the election.

Engineers Do Big Business on First Day

Business amounting to more than $5,000 is the record of the Engineer's book store for yesterday, its first real business day. With approximately 800 members, this co-operative enterprise is supported by more than 80 per cent of the Engineering college.

Chemists and architects, as well as engineers are among its customers. Today coveralls and shop tools are to be placed on sale. The executive board expects, at a later date, to run a complete retail store, selling sporting goods, candy, tobacco, and all student supplies, in addition to textbooks and instruments.

Mix-ups Many When Students Hunt For Classes Yesterday

"Beg your pardon, professor, but this doesn't sound like state and local government," said a sophisticated sophomore, yesterday afternoon after listening for several minutes to the guttural accents of advanced German in Room 209, Folwell.

"Funny," said the professor, stopping the flow of German for the moment. "Your class card says you belong here. No you don't either. You belong in Room 209 in Mechanic Arts." And amid the titters of the co-eds in the class, the sophomore silently folded up his notebooks and slunk away.

Sophomore was only one of the many who got into the wrong classes or got there late, according to reports from professors last night. Lateness was the rule and in most cases were many until the forepart of the hour was over.

AGAIN THE CAMPUS

The University of Minnesota has always prided itself on the beauty of its buildings and cleanliness of its campus.

To the visitor who might cross the Minnesota campus today, would appear the fact that the students were neglecting to do their part in keeping the campus clean. Bits of paper, copies of the Bulletin, and the Daily are strewn everywhere on the campus.

The University of Minnesota has, in former years, set a record in the upkeep of its campus—a record which has been the envy of other universities.

This year, as usual, receptacles for waste paper have been placed on all parts of the campus.

Why not uphold the boast of the upperclassmen "We keep our campus clean."

ATTENDING CONVOCATIONS

There is one phase of education which the student does not receive in the classroom or library. It is that which attends every convocation which is held during the year. Men who are leaders in their fields are brought here for our benefit. The things they say to the outside public is eager to hear. The things they say to us are printed in the papers for the downtown people to read. And then we, quite often, think ourselves endowed with such superior mental equipment that we do not have to go to these meetings. It is a regrettable thing in Minnesota student life of the past that students have taken such an attitude.

This may sound a bit intolerant especially at the beginning of the year, but inasmuch as the same thing has occurred for years it seems time to call a halt. Convocation time is the one time ordinarily in the week that the students and faculty can get together. It is a privilege to attend. Then men who come here to address us are men who are authorities on the subjects of which they speak. Convocation hour is set aside for the purpose of bringing the students into contact with each other and offering them something which they cannot receive in the class room. Sometimes a goodly number of us attend, and other times there are scarcely more than a few hundred.

Last year at one of the most noted of our convocations addressed by a man of standing and eloquence, there were, by actual count 235 students in the seats. As it happened the speaker delivered what our president declared was the most masterful address ever heard at Minnesota, and the rest of us, around the number of 8,000 were so busy doing something else that we did not think it worth while to go and hear what our guest had to say.

President Burton left Minnesota to go to Michigan because he wanted to get into closer contact with the students under his administration. We were all sorry to see him go especially when we reflect that in a part it was our fault. But, instead of crying over the proverbial spilled milk, let's turn over a new leaf. We have a new president. When he calls a convocation, crowd the armory to the doors. We need not say anything here about our new chief. Were he to speak downtown, he would address a crowded house. Surely, the least we can do is to offer him—one of ourselves—an equal reception.

This is not supposed to be a "bawling out." We want you to get the idea. When you see in the bulletin that there is to be a convocation, keep the date clear—make this year an unusual one from the standpoint of co-operating with our president. Get behind him and work with him. Go to the convocations—not as a duty but as a privilege and almost automatically you will see the spirit of Minnesota improve.

After the summer vacation your requirements for stationery are probably immediate. Don't wait until the Fall rush but see us at once for new styles and sizes.

Well, well, well. The first day of classes, has passed and we have no cuts recorded against our fair names as yet. We are improving.

Five Men.

Five men were seated around a table. They had been enjoying an elaborate dinner and had reached the coffee and cigars.

One man was the life of the party. He told anecdotes, invented epigrams, gave imitations and laughed loudly. He was a professional pallbearer.

A second man chuckled a great deal and told a racy story. He was a deacon.

The third man smiled occasionally, but said little. He was a broker.

The fourth man never smiled, and whenever he said anything it was gloomy. That was us.

The fifth man sat like a clam and glowered. He was paying for the dinner.

Questionnaire for Freshmen.

Q—What is "The Lyre?"
A—A humorous column (a misnomer), published every time this invaluable sheet is fed to the devouring public.

Q—Do you accept contributions to the LYRE?
A—Yes. Unlike the politicians we have no system of going out after contributions. So we just collect them.

Q—What sort of stuff does your column publish?
A—Anything that is proper and not too long. Purity is our first rule. We run squibs, jokes, serious poetry, paragraphs, light and dark verse, ads for respectable campus parties (for a consideration of course), kicks, insults aimed at persons smaller than we, theatrical notices, and other stuff that the news editor says is not fit to print.

Q—Can anybody contribute to the LYRE?
A—Aye, verily—the Ph. D. Q. and the second string football man, the matron and the maid, men of professional and tonsorial distinction, ex-gobs and S. A. T. C. heroes, all the colleges and all the boarding houses within riding distance of the campus.

Q—In what form should a contribution be sent in?
A—Typed, double spaced, on one side of clean, white tissue paper. In that form it attracts our eye and is in shape for the night editor to send to the printer without changing. If you bring it into the Daily office you will save postage. A stamped addressed envelope will guarantee return of stuff.

If we weren't freezing to death, we would finish this column. But our fingers refuse to pound this machine any longer.

A. M. LELAND IS NEW ENGINEERS COLLEGE DEAN

Served on Civil Engineering Faculty at Cornell For 17 Years

Dean O. M. Leland of the College of Engineering and Architecture comes to Minnesota from Cornell University where he has spent 17 years of the faculty of the civil engineering department.

He was born in Grand Haven, Michigan and received his degree in Civil Engineering from the state university at Ann Arbor. Following graduation, he spent several years in the service of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

In 1903 he was appointed to the civil engineering faculty of Cornell University, where he remained until last spring, when he became engineering supervisor for the J. G. White Engineering Corporation of New York City.

During the years 1904-1911, Dean Leland was a member of the commission determining the boundary of Alaska, which became necessary as a result of the arbitration between the United States and Great Britain.

From 1911 to 1913, he was a member of the Costa Rica-Panama boundary arbitration commission, being one of two non-partisan members appointed by the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

During the war he saw active service with the 78th Division as Lt. Colonel of Engineers, taking part in the St. Mihiel and Argonne-Meuse offensives. After the armistice, he was transferred to the 89th Division where he commanded the 314th Engineers during the occupational period.

Dean Leland is a member of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society, the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, the A. S. C. E., the American Astronomical Society, and a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

W. S. G. A. Exchange Wants More Books

The W. S. G. A. book exchange is doing a rushing business. "If the students would bring in the following books, a much larger business could be done," officers stated today:

Albright—Descriptive Writing.
MacDonald—Documentary Source.
Fish—Introduction in American History.
Robinson & Beard—Development of Modern Europe, Vol. I.

Carleton's enrollment is the biggest ever, according to the Carletonia. "With a record enrollment of 672 students up to Saturday evening Carleton opened last week what promises to be one of the most successful years in its history."

"The Freshman class is larger than ever before, with an enrollment of 307, coming from nine states, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Montana and Colorado, and one student from distant South Africa. Among the new students are two from Japan, making a total of three."

Autumn Is Here

The calendar says so. The cooler days will soon say so. Everybody's desires say so. More than all of them, the wonderful new stocks of merchandise in our store say so.

This Store Is Ready to Meet the Season's Needs

Here autumn has actually come to pass. The autumn millinery is at its ripest and best; the complete assortments of autumn apparel are ready—the suits, the coats, the dresses, the blouses, the gloves, the shoes, the veils, the hosiery, the neckwear—everything that gives autumnal tone and color to the wearer—everything to suit the needs of the college miss and college man.

There is such a gratification in having "first pick" of the new things, and now is the time to most fully enjoy this privilege.

"U" Farm Students Livestock Leaders

When the Holstein county exhibits were being shown at the recent state fair, 30 former graduates or present-day students of either the school of agriculture, or the college of agriculture at University Farm were counted in the big ring at the same time. The majority were farm owners or farm managers. The incident shows that the graduates and students of the University Department of Agriculture are taking a keen interest in agricultural pursuits and are thoroughly committed to a farming career.

EKBERG AND ROOS ALLOWED EXTRA YEAR ON GRIDIRON

First Contingent to go Before Eligibility Board Clear Bars Safely

BALANCE OF SQUAD ON CARPET TODAY

Frosh Eleven Tackles Varsity In Secret Practice Scrimmage.

Gus Ekberg and Douglas Roos will be allowed an extra year of football participation at Minnesota, it was learned late yesterday. The Eligibility Board waived aside the 1918 season when Ekberg and Roos played with the S. A. T. C. team. This means that the former North High halfback will have three and Roos two more years of football under the Maroon and Gold colors.

At Chicago Coach Richards' squad will meet the "Staggmen" to play the second game of a contract series which calls for Wisconsin-Chicago games to be held for five consecutive years at Stagg field. The purpose of this agreement, as announced when it was made, is to afford a greater number of football enthusiasts including alumni of both institutions in the vicinity of the big city a better opportunity to witness an annual conflict which is intended to arouse as much interest as the Harvard-Yale battle of the east.

DR. HENRY L. WILLIAMS

Minnesota Football Mentor.

Half of the Gopher gridiron squad safely cleared the eligibility bars when they were brought on the carpet before Professor Page and the Athletic Eligibility Board yesterday. The squad was divided into two parts and all of the first group passed the necessary scholastic requirements without casualties. The other half will "go up" today.

Varsity versus Frosh was the order of affairs at Northrop Field last night. The first string backs had little trouble in puncturing the yearling line for big gains and Sig Harris' men were kept constantly on the defensive.

Coach Williams made many changes in the varsity lineup during the contest, in order to get a definite line on which Gophers to send against the Flickertails next Saturday. Another practice clash is on tap for today and tomorrow the doctor will ease up on his charges a bit to rest them for the first scheduled game.

Badgers Ready For Lawrence College

Opener at Camp Randall Should Be a Cinch For Coach Richards' Squad.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—The Wisconsin Badger eleven will go into action for the first time this season with the Lawrence College team next Saturday at Camp Randall. The contest will be little more than a light workout as the college team have very little to offer in the pigskin line this year.

Ohio First Hard Game

The first conflict to arouse the most fear will be with Ohio State the latter part of October. After that there will be two weeks for the squad to rest after their first long trip and get in trim for the fight with the Norsemen at Minneapolis, which is always a hard one because of the historic rivalry between the Badgers and the Gophers. The next game will be played at home with Illinois and will be the occasion of the Wisconsin Homecoming celebration. The team will then go to Chicago where the curtain will drop on the season.
