A PEERLESS SERIES

Will be the Games with Grinnell next Monday and Tuesday

Grinnell is well known to Minnesota for her football powers, but her baseball strength has not been exhibited to us since 1895. As a fact Grinnell has long led Iowa colleges in baseball, last year winning every game played with one exception, and has not met defeat this year. In her, a truly college team from Iowa will be matched against our own. Grinnell is one of the strongest smaller colleges, her students are typical college men, and it is a treat to engage in athletic contests with her. Both games are sure to be very close and exciting throughout. Baseball in its highest form among colleges will be the order on Northrop Field next Monday and Tuesday. Nebraska was obliged to cancel her date, so these two games will be the only ones during the next two weeks. Every student will want to attend these games—nowhere else can he get the same enjoyment for his money. Then, in addition, our team needs the support of the whole student body. There is nothing that will put conscientious effort, strict training, and unremitting energy into a team like the knowledge that all the students are backing their representatives, and demanding that they give a glorious account of themselves.

Let us fill the grand stand for the once. Let us turn out 2,500 strong to the game, Monday, and our team will do the rest.

THOSE SEASON TICKETS

They Must be Redeemed At Once
Second Kicking Contest

A great deal has been said about those who signed for season baseball tickets, but haven't yet redeemed them; but this is only a starter. We are determined that every ticket signed for shall be taken and definite steps to that end will at once be taken. We must have the money for these at once. Big expenses are already upon us. Here are big games with big guaranty; and we must have the money. We depend upon these tickets for the funds to meet the guaranties and we just will not go into debt. It has been suggested that a list of the delinquents be made and published, that the institution may see who they are. We will not do this just yet. We will give subscribers one more chance. These tickets will be at the Book Store, and there can be redeemed up until the Grinnell games. All delinquents at that time will be promptly looked after. Now, students, come out and meet your duty, duty to your institution, duty to athletics, duty to yourself. Your honor is at stake. Let this be met gloriously and let every ticket be taken up before this printers' ink gets cold.

A FAIR STATEMENT

Manager Miller Says Some Things Which Should be Digested

I feel constrained to make some reply to an editorial in yesterday's Daily, which, if allowed to pass without comment, might create a very erroneous opinion regarding the conduct of the baseball team at St. Thomas. The editorial, referred to was undoubtedly penned in the best of spirit, and intended to promote the cause of athletics, but in justice to the team we must say it completely misrepresents the situation. It was evidently written by one who was not at the game and to whom only confused reports came. The delays, the talking, etc., were indulged in by both sides freely during the first few innings, due entirely to the work of umpires, who were good fellows, but couldn't tell a baseball from a pumpkin. After this feature was remedied there was no trouble or delay.

We have labored with the distinct object in view of getting this baseball team in good control, and seeing that they ever act the part of gentlemen and college men. This has not been difficult, for the men themselves are an unusually clean lot of fellows, and gentlemen. I have seen no rowdyism in any form connected with the players this year. Some of the "rooters" may have overstepped the proper bounds, but not so with the players. Further Capt. Cameron has the men in the best of control; every one knows that, and the management is looking to its duty. We promise only clean, gentlemanly conduct this spring, both at home and abroad, and it is distinctly understood by every player that the slightest insubordination, or any conduct unbecoming a student of the University of Minnesota, will result immediately in the management's dropping such player permanently.

This leads us to another matter of no less importance, and that is the conduct of the students and spectators at our games. These games are great events, they furnish us with entertainment, with diversion from study, and with excitement. We must get all the fun out of them we possibly can. If it is in accord with our spirit to yell, let us yell most vociferously and unceasingly. But still there is an element that must run through all our conduct. We must be gentlemen. Ladies are always ladies. Let us suggest a few items that can conveniently be dropped from our "rooting" that will redound to our credit. Whoever may be the umpire there is no excuse for heaping maledictions upon his head, and extending any threats to him. Treat him as a guest, not as a barbarian enemy. There can be no great harm in a little friendly "joshing" extended to the opposing team, but see to it that it is friendly and good natured. Never descend to vituperative attacks. Generously applaud our opponents' good work.

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS' HOME

A Y. W. C. A. Proposition to Establish a Boarding House for Girls

If there is one thing that Minnesota prides herself on it is progression. From a modest beginning we have come to take our place at the front. There is much that we still need and among other things Minnesota hopes to have a dormitory system before long. It has not seemed feasible as yet but the time is coming. The need seems greater among the young women than among the men. It was with this object in view that the Y. W. C. A. first conceived its idea of a boarding home and the idea has met with a hearty reception. Their plan is to open three flats near the "U," accommodating from 20 to 25 girls. It will be under the charge of a competent matron and the plan is to make it a "home" in the true sense. The idea is not fully developed as yet, and the committee will be glad to receive suggestions or assistance. What will you do about it? Girls, it rests with you! Shall it be a success or a failure? At present it is only a venture but we want it to become a permanent feature. Will you help?

Northrop, Exchange Editor; Editorial Staff: Ernest F. McGregor, Niles E. Reid, Eby G. Gridley. Business Manager, J. Rolla Ware; Ass't Business Manager, I. Nesbit Tate; Secretary, Claude Z. Luse.

'02 and '03 Debate

The final tug of war between the sophomore and freshman debaters will occur on next Thursday at the seventh hour in chapel. The faculty at their last meeting took action excusing from the seventh and eighth hour classes on that day all sophomores and freshmen who wish to attend the debate.

NORTHWESTERN

Wins First Place in the Contest

Last night at Madison, Wisconsin, occurred the ninth annual contest of the Northern Oratorical League, participated in by representatives from the Universities of Michigan, Oberlin, Chicago, Northwestern, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Last year the contest was held at Oberlin, Ohio, and was won by a man from that institution. Joseph W. Beach was Minnesota's representative. This year we were represented by Waldron M. Jerome, the winner of the local Pillsbury Contest, with his oration "The Last of the Puritans." E. O. Hagen was with Mr. Jerome at Madison as alternate but he is also Vice-president of the League.

The following special message tells of the result of the contest:

"TO THE MINNESOTA DAILY—
Northwestern first, Wisconsin second, Michigan third, Minnesota fourth, Chicago, Oberlin, Iowa. Hot contest; markings bunched.

"E. E. McDERMOTT."

Wisconsin Wins the Interstate Oratorical Contest.

A telegram from Denver states that Mr. Wescott of Wisconsin wins first place, Missouri second and Iowa third. Minnesota's place not given.

Physical Culture Drill

The public drill of the physical culture class proved to be very successful in showing forth the good results of the work this year. The girls kept admirable time, all their movements being in unison, and all commands were promptly executed. Each girl showed perfect control of her body, especially in the exercises requiring arms in opposition to head and body. The hand movements showed great flexibility, and the arm exercises were very well performed. The stepping and walking exercises showed why the girls walk well on the campus and the street. The girls rise from their chairs somewhat more easily and more gracefully than they take them. The placing of chairs was well done, quickly and without confusion. The last fifteen minutes was devoted to a very pretty bar-bell drill and to marching.

A large number of visitors enjoyed the entertainment from the balcony, but the girls seemed perfectly unconscious of their observers. Miss Kiehle has completed a most successful year, and is to be congratulated upon the success of her effort. Miss Hillman will have exclusive charge of the classes for the remainder of the year.

Miss Kiehle's classes will be open to visitors today also, at the second, third and fourth hours.

The Chi Psi's forfeited to the Delta Tau's the game that was to be played this afternoon.

AN EDITORIAL STATEMENT.

AFTER ONE week's experience editing the MINNESOTA DAILY, we wish to say a few words which we deem expedient. We are frank to say that we have made mistakes and mistakes which should not have occurred. We have no excuses to make but can only say that we shall see to it that they do not occur again. Some of the work has been hastily prepared, and the proper amount of consideration has not been given to it. As the editors become accustomed to their work, however, that shortcoming will be overcome. None of the editors and none of the reporters have had previous training; they have not had an opportunity to become acquainted and to work together in the same harness. Time will remedy this matter and things will go along smoothly. In these matters we ask the indulgence of our subscribers for a time. We are sure that they will recognize these defects mentioned as due more to a zeal for the work than as intentional and premeditated. We can assure you all that we recognize our faults and feel them as keenly as you do, and we shall spare no effort to make an improvement as we grow into the work.

The Board has been working under difficulties and handicaps which it is useless to enumerate in detail. Suffice it to say they are mostly due to the financial stringency under which the Board is working. A goodly number of subscriptions have been secured but not more than one-third as many as we will have to have to prevent a deficit. Under such circumstances—a deficit staring the management and editors in the face—it must be understood that we can not give you the paper we might give you if we, or you, could get more subscribers. We regret exceedingly that we are thus handicapped, and we are not satisfied with the DAILY as we are now running it but we can see no way to better things until we are backed up in a more substantial way than at present.

If the students will in some manner bring about a different state of affairs we will make changes in the paper which we are sure will be popular and make the DAILY what it ought to be.

One matter more. We shall be only too glad to receive frank, honest criticism of the paper from anyone. We invite it. We need it to make the DAILY a success, and if anyone feels that he is going to hurt our feelings we want to assure him that he is very much mistaken. We have been placed in the offices which we hold by the student body and if they want us to truly represent them and do their bidding they must let us know it emphatically when we fail so to do. We are all inexperienced, and honest criticism, adverse or favorable, will assist us materially in making the paper your organ as it should be. Any changes, improvement, or suggestions that you may have in mind will be most heartily accepted and given due and thoughtful consideration.

Thanking our subscribers for their charity during the week, and asking their further and hearty co-operation, We are,

THE EDITORS.

Save a dollar for the Gopher next Tuesday.

W. H. MURFIN, '02, has been chosen by the Board of Directors to take Mr. C. E. Guthrie's place as one of the editors of the paper, and Miss Gena Glasoe, '02, and Geo. D. Montgomery, '02, have been chosen reporters by the Board of Editors. Bear these names in mind and hand news items to them.

Go down to the Book Store and get that Base Ball Ticket.

We are coming to be of the opinion that the DAILY is being read even by people who are not subscribers, if yesterday's experience—reflected in the various explanations printed today—is any sign. That's one good thing anyway. Really couldn't believe it before.

We are glad to give space to Manager Miller's statement today. The editorial referred to was possibly a little too severe in its criticism, and we do not desire to misrepresent matters. Read his remarks and bear them in mind, when watching a game.

Every student will be at hand Monday and Tuesday, Give our our team rousing, cheering, enthusiastic support. They are worthy of it.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Thursday at noon hour in the association rooms. The monthly reports were presented and the plan of the new boarding home was presented by the general secretary.

One thing more—and an important thing. In the game with Upper Iowa it is not too much to say that the crowd lost us the game. By crowding the field Metcalf was prevented from reaching home plate in the last inning; had he made home we could then have tied the score. Then, too, the crowd down on the field by fierce yelling seemed to hope to rattle the opposing pitcher. The result was simply to rattle our own men, confusing them because they were unable to hear the captain's signals. Now, fellow students, let us cut this out. Let us defeat our rivals by superior playing, not by putting them to a disadvantage in any way. I am perfectly conscious that Minnesota's students are no greater sinners than the students of sister institutions, but let us be in the lead of the gentlemen's march not in the rear. Let us set a good pace. The management has been forced to exclude every person not a player from the field during a game. This is final and will be enforced. We cannot lose any more games by reason of crowding the field. There are plenty of excellent seats in the grand stand. There are two big games at hand. Let us treat Grinnell properly—yell ourselves hoarse, but see that we ever speak like gentlemen. —C. B. Miller.

Engineers' Society

The election of officers of the Engineers' Society which was to have been held at 1:30 p. m. Friday, was postponed on account of small attendance. But 15 fellows turned out. This lack of general interest manifested in this important line of work is deeply to be regretted, not only because it does not give us the best men for the offices, but also because it lowers the high standing of the society and tends to make it a laughing stock of the department. There is no line of work in the University more important than this may be made to be, and we want every fellow who has the least spark of college enthusiasm in his make up, to put it to be his bounden duty to support it, both personally and financially. Now, boys, brace up, do your duty, and take some interest in your interests.

The postponed election will be held next Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the physics lecture room. Come one, come all, and let there be a full attendance, and a rousing meeting.

The Senior class of the Law department held a very important class meeting Friday afternoon.

It was decided that the class should issue invitations for Commencement separate from the other departments. A committee consisting of F. Sasse, Charles Adams, and C. F. Hitch was selected to investigate as to the advisability of leaving a class picture, the august attitude of which would very properly adorn the walls of the Law library forever. Another committee consisting of H. Scandrett, N. J. Robertson, and W. G. Owens, was entrusted with the honor of arranging for a class banquet, which ought to eclipse anything in that line ever heard or dreamed of.

GALLERY IN CONNECTION WITH STORE Special Prices to Students

To the Editor of the MINNESOTA DAILY:

Sir: In your editorial on the "Faculty Support of Athletics" published in your issue of May 4, the following statement occurs—"What the student members of the Board of Control did last fall and last spring, we don't believe amounted to anything at all—they were hardly ever at the meetings—and the brunt of the work was left on the shoulders of Professors Jones and Woodbridge." We feel that this statement must have been due to a misapprehension on the part of the writer. For the past year the student members of the Board have never failed to show a thorough interest in the management of athletics, and seldom has a regularly called meeting failed for want of a quorum. From our experience we think that the student body is to be congratulated on the ability and fidelity of their representatives and athletic managers.

BUSINESS NOTICES

"Hello Bill" which comes to the Bijou next week, is a musical comedy and promises to put on view one of the liveliest, brightest and funniest entertainments that the present season has given birth to. It is the joint work of Frank J. Hallo and Marie Madison, and the story of the piece is based upon the mistaken identity of twin brothers, who are exact counterparts in physical appearance but totally unlike in temperament and habits—one being a spiritualist fakir and the other a race track follower. The action of the comedy takes place in one day at a hotel in the Adirondacks. The twin brothers happen to be guests there, but do not meet during the day, each unaware of the other's presence. The other characters are the usual run of guests at a summer hotel. A country doctor of the David Harum type; a coquettish spinster and her pretty niece; several Casino girls on a vacation trip; the wives of the twin brothers, and others. The complications in which they become entangled are said to be uproariously funny, and in the denouement which exposes the wiles of the fake medium, furnish much mystification and more fun. The company that will engage in presenting "Hello Bill" includes George Ober, John Hyams, Frederick Powers, Thomas Wood, Ada Deaves, Madeline Lack, Ada Bernard, Helen Brackett, Francis Kepplar and the "Hello Bill" quartette.
