U. S. Is Important Point In War Crisis, Bouton Informs U. Audience

America will be drawn into the next war if it lasts long enough, unless she wisely adopts the policy that when American citizens lose property to belligerents "it's their own hard luck," S. Miles Bouton, veteran foreign correspondent and observer of the European scene, told summer session students yesterday in the first convocation of the session in Northrop Auditorium.

As an example to prove his point, the newspaperman charged that Spain in 1898 had accepted all the demands of the United States and yet the nation went to war because certain interests kept the truth from the people.

Speaking on the question, "Why War?" the correspondent told his audience that he believed pacifism of the non-resistant, refusal-to-serve type was an open invitation to criminal nations and that "hating war is sound pacifism."

"The talk that munitions makers make war is nonsense," he declared. "Primitive men fought with stones and flails and even up to the time of the Civil War there was no large munitions industry."

The United States is shirking its duty in refusing to join the World Court and the League of Nations, Mr. Bouton further asserted. The League has made many glaring errors since its inception, he admitted, but it is handicapped by having the wealthiest and most influential nation in the world out of the fold.

It is not necessary to be unduly pessimistic over the present war scare, the audience was told in a discussion of the causes of war.

"The causes of war are not so much economic as some have said," Mr. Bouton declared. "While economic methods do prevail, to conquer greed will not conquer war. We've got to go deeper than that."

"Education and more education" is needed if there is to be any lasting peace, he told his audience. People must be able to distinguish propaganda from the truth and the governments must be honest and not indulge in false propaganda.

Among the further observations of the correspondent were the following:

"Only America can prevent the coming European war."

That people must do away with the idea that a nation's honor can be injured.

That standing armies "are symptoms of a disease, not the cause."

That if the press would stand together in telling the truth, while refusing to
