NEW INSTRUCTOR IS ADDED TO THE JOURNALISM STAFF

Mr. Radder Was Head of the Journalism Department in Arkansas University.

DECLARES MINNESOTA HAS ADVANTAGES

Journalism Class Is at Present the Largest Ever Seen in the School.

The Department of Journalism has added to its staff the name of Mr. Norman J. Radder, who comes from the University of Arkansas where he was in charge of the department of Journalism. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin and while there was connected with the Daily Cardinal. He has also worked on the Milwaukee Journal and the Kansas City Star and while at the University of Arkansas started a series of articles on the subject of the state, which appeared in the Country Gentleman.

Mr. Radder believes that the University of Minnesota has exceptional advantages, and on account of opportunities for practical work in the Twin Cities, should be able to build up strong courses in Journalism. Students can get the best kind of practical experience not only by assignments on the campus of the University, but also at various news sources in the Twin Cities, such as the State Capitol, Federal Courts, State Courts, etc. The course is growing in popularity. Professor Radder's class has the distinction of being the largest in the history of the school.

Mr. Radder is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity and of Pi Delta Epsilon honorary journalistic fraternity.

'U.' BUILDING ACT CARRIES IN HOUSE

Regents Are to Issue Certificates of Indebtedness for the Amount.

Last Monday the House of Representatives voted unanimously to pass the University budget for the ten-year building plan. Instead, however, of levying a tax of 35 mills to raise the sum of $560,000 as was previously planned, it was decided to give the regents the right to issue certificates of indebtedness to amount to $560,000.

The ten-year building plan was approved by a vote of 91 to 9. This matter has not yet come up in the Senate, but since the Senate Committee approves of the plan, the bill will undoubtedly be also passed there.

W. S. G. A. Store Busy

Demand for Some Books Exceeds the Supply—Many More Could Be Sold.

The W. S. G. A. book store is doing a rushing business, according to the officials. One hundred dollars has been taken in this quarter. The calls for psychological and education books exceed all others. Many more books could have been sold if students had brought them in. The demand has been greater than the supply in many cases.

TRIANGLE CLUB GIVES A DANCE

MANY SIGN UP FOR VICTORY DRIVE.

Dining Hall Is to Be Thrown Open to Accommodate the Crowd of Dancers.

The first social event of the new quarter will be held tonight in the nature of a dance which will be given by the Triangle Club, Junior interfraternity organization, at the Leamington Hotel. Since the dance is to be an all-university affair the committee in charge has arranged to have the dining hall open to the dancers as well as the ball room. This, they believe will make ample room for all. Kelsey's five piece orchestra has been procured to furnish the music.

Joe Armstrong, of national tennis fame, who was just recently discharged from the service, was on the campus yesterday and in seeing a Triangle poster remarked, "what, the Triangles giving a dance? Where can I get a ticket?" Several other young campus celebrities, who are on furlough expect to attend the dance it was made known this morning.

BRIAR CLUB NEW CAMPUS FORCE

Juniors and Seniors to Promote Organization of Minnesota Spirit.

"The Briar Club" is the name of the newest campus organization which has as its chief interest the general welfare of the university. The members hope to be instrumental in reviving Minnesota traditions and in promoting a spirit of co-operation between the students. Membership will be strictly limited to men of the Junior and Senior classes. Meetings will be held regularly once a month. Briar pipe smokers and possibly cigar smokers, but no pill fiends will be in order at the meetings according to the charter members of the society. It is planned to have Dean Nicholson and others interested in student affairs present to take part in discussions.

W. S. G. A. Promises A Good Time This Afternoon At Ye Sunlight Dance

At three o'clock this afternoon, in the ball room of the Minnesota Union the Psi Upsilon orchestra will strike up a peppy one step, or perhaps it will be a fox trot, and the W. S. G. A. Sunlight dance will be in full progress. If the students of the university sufficiently demonstrate their interest in this event, the W. S. G. A. promises a Sunlight every Saturday afternoon. Dancing will be until 5:30.

Those who will serve on the introduction committee at tomorrow's Sunlight will be Katherine Burrill, Mary K. Hartung, Virginia Morrison, Frances Aokley, Florence Dale, Katherine Hartzel, Niel Upham, Burton Forster, Fred Curtis, Cecil McHale, Newton Holland, Neal Arntson, Elizabeth Forsell, Marian Wash, Helen Toomey, Annette Reynaud, Carol Curtis and Irene Shannon.

Secretary To Talk

Miss Greenough Will Reveal Some of Love Stories Heard While Hostess Monday.

Miss Greenough, who for the past ten months has been director of the Y. W. C. A. hostess houses at Great Lakes Training Station, will tell her experiences on Monday at 4:30 in Shevlin hall at the regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Greenough said she heard more love stories while serving as hostess than she expects to hear in all the rest of her life. A great many marriages took place under her direction. Through her efforts the hostess houses were kept open at night so that the men might have a quiet place to read and write.

Miss Greenough came directly from Great Lakes when she arrived here a month ago to assume her duties as general secretary of the University Y. W. C. A.

DR. ALLEN SPEAKS AT SHEVLIN LUNCH

In France, A. T. Bissonnette has re-Many Illiterates Living in India—Urges Women to Go as Teachers.

Dr. Bell Allen, who has been for six years a medical missionary in Borado, India, spoke before members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and members of the Student Volunteers at a luncheon in Shevlin yesterday.

"There are as many women in India as there are men, women and children in North and South America," said Dr. Allen. Ninety-five of that number are illiterate. All those who can read or write could live comfortably in Philadelphia.

"Their religion teaches them that it is wrong to kill even insects or snakes. They would rather let the snake bite them than kill it. Often they ask a doctor to kill it for them. The woman must marry at the age of ten. Often the marriage takes place when the girl is only three or four." Women are held responsible for the death of their husbands.

Dr. Allen urged that college women go to India to waken them from their ignorance.

Gopher Is Due May 1

Gopher Hole Is the Scene of Great Activity During Final Preparations.

University people who have been anticipating the 1920 Gopher will be interested to know that the Annual will make its appearance on May 1st. The Gopher Hole and the Feature Office are scenes of great activity as the staff hastens the final preparations. Faces of campus "Celebs" are seen frowned in common "ads," though the authorities refuse to reveal details. There are to be over six hundred "cuts" in the Gopher, an unusually large number, besides many colored plates. Most of these plates have been made by Richard Burton and Helene Melrose. The binding will be of black leather.

Volunteer Students to Assist in Obtaining Subscription for Victory Drive.

DINNER PLANNED FOR MINNESOTA WORKERS

Many 'U.' Students Have Already Signed to Become W. S. S. Organizers.

Again the Minneapolis division of the War Loan organization is appealing to the students at Minnesota to aid in this big War Savings Stamp campaign. Mr. C. H. Chalmers, head of the Savings Division, has asked us to contribute one hundred workers and it is up to Minnesota to respond to this appeal as it has done to previous ones.

The work in this Victory drive is going to be extremely interesting. Each worker will go to the factories or business firms assigned to him and will proceed to organize societies in these centers where campaigns will be held for selling stamps.

It is imperative that one hundred students sign up for the campaign. Those in charge of carrying it out have promised that Minnesota will contribute at least that number, so it is imperative that the students sign up soon.

A big dinner will be given for the workers next Wednesday night at the Minneapolis Athletic Club. It will not however, take place unless Minnesota furnishes one hundred workers; so everyone who is interested in work of this kind should hand his name in immediately at Box 174 or at the Daily office.

If you are not one already, come and be one of the one hundred Victory

MANY TRACK MEN ARE OUT FOR WORK

McNally and Dawson Have Returned to School—Men Needed for Pole Vault.

The track is rolled and in good condition, according to coach Len Frank, and from now on the men will work outside. Several good men have returned to school, greatly strengthening the team. Among these men are Ensign McNally, quarter and half; Dawson, sprinter; Harold Summers, high and broad jumper—possible hurdler—just back from France; Kenneth Moon and Big Bill Bennett for the distances; and Holt, a dash man.

Cantiery and Jordan are showing great promise in the hammer throw. Cantiery threw the hammer 100 feet after his first three days' practice for this event.

Milton Anderson, of Duluth, looks like a good quarter-miler.

Hant, a distance man, got a condition at the recent exams and is temporarily out of the running.

There are no men out for the pole vault. "We've got to have pole vaulters," says Mr. Frank. "We need more in the weights, in the jumps—everywhere."

WASTED ENERGY.

The other day two hundred thousand shells and several containers of poison gas were brought from France to Baltimore and from there dumped into the ocean. These shells and poison gas were manufactured in the United States. They were sent to France, arriving too late and were accordingly returned. The New Republic wonders whether the ocean is deeper around American shores or whether French fish are more susceptible to shock.

In either case utilizing much needed cargo space for such a return certainly was a splendid example of wasted energy.

Especially during the spring is energy hard to find, yet easy to lose. Ranking by far the most facile thing in the world, is to sit at a table with a pen between one's fingers, a far-away look in one's eyes, and an absolute blank in one's mind.

Yet it took energy to get the book and to hold the pen, and the self-same energy is wasted unless we really accomplish what we set out to do. And, of course, the thing that we set out to do must have been something worth summoning up energy to accomplish.

In the third act of "Plots and Playwrights," when Miss Frances Hollenbeck, as Molly Hammond, "the girl who came back," staggers on the stage, crying, "Where is my mother?" she will wear a black cashmere shawl that once belonged to Rosa Luxemburg. When the great worker for Russian independence was taken, a relative of Miss Hollenbeck was with her, and received the shawl, which the bent, gray woman took from her own shoulders and gave her friend as a parting remembrance.

"Then," says the letter which accompanied the shawl, "the little figure of a great Russian woman was taken by the soldiers, and we saw her limp slowly down the path, looking back at us only once. I kept the shawl with me until we, too, were taken. Knowing then that I could not keep it safe from her enemies, I conceived the idea of sending it to America, the country which received her so kindly, where Rosa Luxemburg had many friends. If you will keep it for me until we walk in the ways of peace and liberality here in Russia, you will befriend her as well as me."

Miss Hollenbeck received this letter with the shawl only a short time ago. "Something of the spirit of its owner seems to have been imparted to this square of black cashmere, fringed and worn," she said, "and to have the privilege of wearing is an inspiration in my work." The first appearance of this bit of realism from Russia will be on next Friday night and the second Saturday night, at the Little Theater.

Plan Class Revivals

Y. M. C. A. Plans a Revival of Class Organizations Existing Last Year.

The Y. M. C. A. of the campus have certain plans well under way for the revival of such class organizations as existed last year. The purpose of these organizations has formerly been the fostering of good relations between the students of each class and a means of discussing current campus topics. However this year it is intended to carry this idea a bit farther by making religious thought more of a factor in these public discussions. Beginning in the week before Easter, "Prexy" Burton has kindly consented to give several talks on the condition and stagnation of religious thought caused by the war. For this purpose the Sophomore Academic Men have been invited by the Y. M. C. A. to meet April 9, at 12:30 in the Minnesota Union with plans for organizing the Sophomore class into an old time Mixer. All Sophomore Academic men are requested to be present at this meeting.

BOARD ENTERTAINS.

Last night the Advisory Board of the Y. W. C. A. entertained the Cabinet and Advisory Board of both the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. on the two campuses at the home of Mrs. J. S. Young, 1120 S. E. 6th St. President Burton was the chief speaker of the evening.

To the Editor of the Daily:
 At convocation Thursday President Burton appealed to the pride of the students in asking them to keep the campus clean and to walk on the sidewalks. How many students have enough pride to heed this request, a request for a better looking campus? It is very evident that many students do not care for a good looking campus, they like to see iron fences stretched across the open spaces, and moth-eaten looking paths crossing and criss-crossing everywhere. But what about strangers and alumnae?
