CAMILLA URSO

The Noted Violinist to Give a Concert Recital at the "U" November 9th

As announced in yesterday's DAILY the great violinist, Mme. Camilla Urso, has been induced to give one of her concert recitals at the University on November 9th.

This will undoubtedly be the great musical treat at the University this year and the committee are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts to secure the services of Mme. Urso.

Although many men—and but few women—of genius have made the violin their medium of musical expression, it has been truly said that it is pre-eminently a woman's instrument, in that it can interpret better than any other those lighter and more tender phases of emotion that are her special charm. It is one of the interesting features of Mme. Urso's remarkable career that she has illustrated this truth by surrounding herself with that subtle atmosphere of affinity which everywhere has attracted to her the cultivated element of her own sex, and made her especially known as the woman's artist, as well as "queen of the violin."

Tickets will be on sale in a few days. The price of admission will be 50c.

SOLDIER MEMORIAL NOTES

Pledges are too easily forgotten, so enclosed find three dollars for memorial monument to our soldiers—Claribel Angle.

The plan meets with my hearty approval, and it certainly is a very commendable enterprise, and one that should be carried through to a successful completion. I hardly know how much would be expected from each individual, but as a starter, I herewith hand you draft for five dollars.—De Forest Ward.
Col. C. A. Van Duzee sends pledge for $10.

Cyril Brackenbury, of the Quincy mine, Hancock, Mich., sends check for $1.00.

O. G. F. Markhus sends pledge for $5. Commandant Cole, of the University Cadet corp; pledges $25 and the "University Press" $50.

Total of pledges since the canvass began on Oct. 15. $347.75.

Later—The Alpha Kappa Pi frat. has just contributed $14.

The only colleges in the country that support daily papers are Harvard, Yale, Brown, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Cornell, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Stanford, California and Indiana.—Daily Nebraskan.

I suppose we are so small that you do not see us, Nebraska. How about 10 to 0.

IN THE OUTING

An Article by Dr. Williams in November Outing on Western Football

In the November Outing appears a very interesting article from the pen of Dr. Williams in which he reviews at some length the progress of middle western football, and comments upon the outlook for this season.

Beginning back in the 80's the writer traces the gradual advance of western colleges in the science of football from "crude" beginnings to the present high standard. He says in opening:

"Although behind the eastern colleges in acquiring skill and knowledge of football the west has made rapid strides and it is now perfectly safe to say that the great eastern cities see no finer play and no keener rivalry than is found today on the gridirons of the middle west and upon the Pacific slope."

From the first contest between an eastern and western team when Michigan, the long-handled and much-feared champion of the west was met and defeated by Yale by a score of 50 to 0—down to the season of '99, when Chicago, the modern western champion compelled several strong eastern teams to bow down before her, the Doctor follows the advance of the western teams and reviews and compares the work done by them. In the season of 1900 he places Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa in the first class, giving Minnesota championship honors. He pays the following tribute to the last year's team: "The make up of the Minnesota team was quite remarkable—not a man on the eleven being less than six feet tall and the general average height being six feet one inch. Every man on the team was cleancut and swift and active, combining weight, speed and strength and at the end of the season when the team had reached the edge of its true form the aggregation was one of the most formidable the writer has ever seen." This bears weight in view of the fact that Dr. Williams has been more or less familiar with all of the eastern teams.

In the outlook for this season Wisconsin, having but two vacancies to fill, center and quarter, stands a splendid chance of mopping the earth with Minn. Northwestern likewise has lost but two men—while Iowa and Chicago have each lost several men, but are credited with plenty of good material. For Minnesota the Doctor mourns the loss of Tweet, Hoyt (who is not entirely lost, however), Van Valkenburg and Smith—but very modestly hopes that a strong team may again be developed. The article is full of interesting matter and give a very impartial review of western football.

Meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at the close of the fourth hour today. Miss Everington will lead and the subject will be "Irreverence."

A Good Plan

Chicago University has inaugurated a novel plan by which students are able to be advised and assisted in choosing their vocations in life. Certain members of the faculty are selected for this duty and constitute a kind of committee or bureau of information and help.

Many students enter college with a very hazy and undefined purpose. They have little or no knowledge of the avenues leading to industrial or professional duties and hence are at sea as to the proper course to pursue. Others doubt their fitness for certain lines of work and desire advice of some one who has had experience in that particular work. Many and multitudinous are the doubts and questions which come to the mind of every thinking student before and during his college career and the action taken by Chicago in instituting a system which will aid the students is highly commendable.

It is to be hoped that Minnesota in the near future may decide to give us a system similar in nature.

The Students and Police

The numerous arrests by the police Saturday night proved what has been contended all along, namely, that the acts of vandalism committed after a football victory were not the acts of University students but of a crowd of down town toughs who take advantage of the opportunity to perform deeds of rioting and lawlessness. Of the many people arrested for creating disturbances not one was a student of the University; a fact which is gratifying in the extreme to the friends of the institution.

There was a time after a glorious victory when Minnesota could celebrate with a good, rousing, old-fashioned zig-zag! The actions of rowdies has made this impossible for the time being and the stand taken by the police is to be commended insofar as it does not attempt to prevent legitimate and harmless jollification. It is to be hoped that their efforts will be successful and that at no distant date we may see again a good old-fashioned celebration by "U" students and "U" only, a thing which, we believe, the greatest stickler for propriety cannot find offensive.

The statement of Burrier, of the Iowa team, which appeared in several papers Sunday morning, are such as to call for the condemnation of every lover of sportsmanlike action. His talk of Williams' making a difference of 32 points, when Iowa voluntarily withdrew him, is nothing more or less than babyish. Why he could not acknowledge his defeat like a man passes comprehension. Had he done so he would have been more respected by both friend and foe and he would not have lost any of his self-respect as he seems to have done. The trouble with Mr. Burrier is, he talked too soon after the game and without due deliberation.

DEAN PATTEE'S MEMORIAL

The members of the Senior Law class were presented with a very beautiful memorial of Gov. Pillsbury this week. The memorial is made up in pamphlet form, containing the address delivered by Dean Pattee, at the memorial service held at the Armory. It is printed on a very fine quality of paper, and enclosed in rich and appropriate covers. Altogether it makes a very beautiful and valuable little remembrance, and will be highly prized by all who received a copy.

U. C. A. MEETING

The subject of Father Moynihan's lecture before the U. C. A. Sunday was "Instinct" the fourth in a series of lectures on "Materialism." The discussion brought out, by authority and illustration, the distinction between instinct and reason, showing that they are fundamentally quite different, and that therefore man's mind cannot, in view of the latest scientific thought, be regarded as merely the product of evolution from that of the brute. The course so far has considered the scientific discoveries which have contributed to the progress of materialism, the impossibility of knowing matter save as reflected in the mind, the futility of the materialist's explanation of life, and the nature and origin of the mind. This last subject will be continued next Sunday in a discussion of the relation between mind and body. These lectures are thoroughly imbued with the modern scientific spirit and are of especial interest to students of psychology and biology. The Y. W. C. A. room is taxed to the utmost to hold the reverend father's audiences.

ALUMNI

The following alumni were at the game Saturday: J. Walso, Law, '01, W. S. Kienholz, '01, O. C. Nelson, Dent., '01, H. C. Tweet, Law, '01.

Mr. John Beise, Pharm., '99, was married on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Beise is in business at Ferbus Falls.

Harvard has organized a student union with a membership of 2,500. Its object is social intercourse and recreation.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday will be addressed by Miss Eleanor Wood, secretary of the Associated Charities of this city. Miss Wood is a graduate of Bryn Mawr and has had a wide experience in sociological work. A strong meeting is assured.

On Oct 30th, 1893, Minnesota defeated Northwestern by the same score that she ran up against Iowa Saturday. Then, as now, Wisconsin was the only dangerous rival for championship honors remaining on the schedule. On Nov. 11th of that year came the famed 40 to 0 game with Minnesota, Minnesota the winner of the game and championship. May history repeat itself.

There were not nearly so many visiting fraternity people in Minneapolis last Saturday as on the day of the Nebraska game, but several of the fraternities entertained visitors.

Kappa Kappa Gamma had a number of guests here from Iowa and had a luncheon for them at noon Saturday and a more pretentious entertainment in the evening. The Phi Delta Thetas had some visitors here also and entertained them at supper and then at the theater in the evening. The Alpha Phis entertained Saturday evening at the home of Miss Corinne Webster in honor of some of the visitors from out of the city.

The entertainment provided by the Olivet church orchestra Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. was greatly enjoyed by the crowd of men who were present. A similar occasion will be provided for next Saturday.

THE SAD TALE OF A 'HUNCH'

Oh, say! let me tell you about McCutcheon's hunch, and the fellows that came up from Iowa

To work it. It was a real, live, self-conceived hunch; one that you're not responsible for, you know; such an one as you read about.

It was a hunch discovered in the dead of night, when the moon was pale and cold and all that sort of thing, and ghosts flit about; and the manager was writing to Luby to try and discover by any means he could if we were alive.

Yes it was a great hunch. It was so strong as to cause McCutcheon to execute a war dance—in his his exuberance. But this was excusable, you must understand—for it was a great hunch;

And say, the strange thing about it all is; the thing that can't by any means be explained,

The hunch didn't work.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Anyone who knows of cases of sickness among the students will confer a great favor upon the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations, by reporting the cases to the associations. These associations intend to see that all students who are sick have the best of care, but many cases never come to their attention. Instructors are requested to report the names of students absent from their classes, presumably on account of sickness, and the associations will gladly look up such cases and report to the instructors. Please report names to Mr. P. O. Hanson or Miss Ada B. Hillman.
