Police Beer Drive Hits Near Campus; Cafe, Home Raided

Dry Officers Take Names of Fifty Student Patrons

ALCOHOL CONFISCATED

Woman Operator Arrested Again for Second Time in Year

Believed to have been the opening shot in a war on student-patroned beer parlors, a private home near the campus and a Central avenue cafe were raided by police over the weekend, and liquor confiscated from both places.

The cafe was visited Saturday and Sunday nights, and names of persons in the place taken each time. The proprietor was taken to the East side police station after the first raid and released on his recognizance. Disposition of charges against him is expected to be made today.

Liquor Confiscated
Mrs. Amanda Walton, booked on liquor charges after a raid Friday night, was arrested on similar charges last year and later sentenced to six months. Quantities of intoxicating beverages were found in her house near the campus when officers conducted the raid.

Police and detectives who raided the cafe followed the same procedure each time. They entered the restaurant the first time shortly before 11 p.m. Saturday. Any alcoholic or other intoxicating liquors were confiscated. Sunday night the officers returned on an inspection trip and found more liquor.

Between 40 and 50 "patrons and patronesses," many of them undergraduates at the university, were in the place both times. Saturday night nearly 20 were grouped together about a cluster of tables, police said.

New Raids Made
The raids were the first of any consequence to be made since last March, when operators of a "beer flat" near the University farm were arrested and convicted after 13 students in the School of Agriculture had been suspended for possession of liquor in their dormitory.

Mrs. Walton was arrested and sentenced to six months earlier in March last year when several students were found drinking beer in the rooming house which she formerly operated at 324 14th avenue southwest. At that time home brew, mash and several pints of moonshine were confiscated.

Education Professor Speeds To Chicago Weekly for Study

Engelhardt Outstrips Extension Pedagogues Who Commute 28,000 Miles in Term to Duluth Classes

The College of Education and the general extension division of the university are battling each other in long distance traveling to teach classes, without even a prize for the winner.

Five instructors in the Extension division hope to win the race, by commuting each afternoon to Duluth and returning by midnight trains for morning classes here.

But it took Fred Engelhardt, professor of education, to go his fellow pedagogues one better. He travels to Chicago each Monday, returning to the campus each Thursday night for Friday and Saturday classes.

The men from the Extension division are Dr. John W. Powell, lecturer; Edward M. Kane, assistant professor of history; O. C. Edwards, assistant professor of mechanical engineering; C. L. Edwards, assistant professor of mechanical engineering; C. L. Rostel, associate professor of accounting; and H. J. Smith, professor of industrial education.

Professor Engelhardt expects to have travelled more than 12,000 miles by the end of the quarter, and is the unofficial holder of the record for the most "air-minded" member of the faculty. He makes many of his trips to Chicago by plane.

As a part of an investigation being made by the division of field studies of the Teachers' college of Columbia university, Professor Engelhardt is conducting a survey of the Chicago public schools. He has made several similar studies of city school systems throughout the Northwest.

Singing Cossacks, Czar's Old Guard, Arrive Tomorrow

Chorus, Exiled Remnant of Russ White Army, to Appear at U.

A band of 38 soldiers, once in the Russian Czar's army but now men without a country, will sing in the Northrop Memorial auditorium tomorrow night when the Don Cossack chorus appears as the third attraction of the current University Artists course.

A part of the famous Cossack cavalry during the World War, these soldiers had been sent on an expedition to Bulgaria late in the struggle and were exiled during the Russian revolution, when Czar Nicholas and his family were murdered.

The men found themselves "stranded" in a foreign land and were forced to go through many adventures and take up several kinds of work in order to earn enough money to live.

During the long days at camp the soldiers used to sing old folk songs, and some of the men suggested organizing a chorus. In 1923, Serge Jaroff, once the captain of a machine gun company, led them in their first public appearance.

Since then, the chorus has given over 1,400 concerts and is now world famous. Two years ago, the Don Cossacks made their first American tour and sang at Minnesota on November 24, 1930, as the second Artists course feature of that season.

Still expatriates, the Don Cossacks have to use special "Nansen passes" arranged by the League of Nations and issued to former Russians, expelled by the revolution, who have since pledged no allegiance to any other government.

Gopher Solicitors, 300 Strong, Will Attack Sales Resistance Today as Annual Drive Opens

Paul Sees His First Woman

The above picture, showing Paul Bunyan inspecting the first woman he ever had seen, will be reproduced in the 1932 Gopher as one of the frontpieces depicting various incidents in the life of the woodsman about whom the theme for the yearbook is being centered. Paul found the woman in the town to which his loggers had gone after deserting him. His efforts to entice them back to the camp, summed up in an 8-day speech, failed and Paul, Johnny Inkslinger, his secretary and bookkeeper, Swede, his Nordic foreman, and Babe, the gigantic blue ox, disappeared forever.

Each Subscriber to Receive Button Picturing Paul Bunyan

GOAL PLACED AT 2,500

Speakers Will Talk Through Broadcast System From Yearbook Office

Polishing up every argument to combat sales and depression resistance, 300 solicitors will comb the campus today, opening the Gopher sales campaign in their quest for 2,500 subscriptions.

Sales resistance will be broken down partially by short talks to be broadcast through loud speakers at all advantageous spots on the campus. Speakers will broadcast from station FEG, Paul Bunyan Gopher office, between classes throughout the day. Wessie Olson will announce the program which will include musical numbers by the Stadium Singers.

Nicholson Will Speak
Bernie Bierman, football coach; Fritz Craler; and E. E. Nicholson, dean of student affairs, will be among faculty members who will speak. William H. Crowe, business manager; Leon Boyd, editor, and Kenneth Simpson, campaign director, will represent the students.

Seniors Must Fill Out Activity Cards Today

All seniors who will be graduated from the university at the end of the winter or spring quarters, or who were graduated at the end of the fall quarter, must have their lists of activities in to the office of the 1932 Gopher by 5 p.m. today, Helen Silver, alumni section editor, said yesterday. The blanks can be filled out in the office of the publication, in the basement of Pillsbury hall.

Judge C. B. Elliott To Address Forum Was Justice of Supreme Court of Philippines

A former justice of the supreme court of the Philippine Islands, Judge Charles Burke Elliott, will address the students forum today at 12:30 p.m. in the Minnesota Union ballroom.

He will give his views on Philippine independence from first hand knowledge of the state of Philippine affairs which he gained there as supreme justice, member of the Philippine commission of inquiry, secretary of the department of commerce and law, and president of the Philippine industrial exposition.

A Filipino who studied dentistry at Minnesota last year and who is now in Manila, recommended Judge Elliott to the students forum committee as an authority on Philippine problems.

Three new members have been added to the students forum committee, it was announced on the eve of today's lecture. Ruth Fuller and Stanley Erickson, both sophomores in the Arts college, and Hubert Schon, graduate student, were elected regular members after their three months' service on the committee.

Freshman Interest Groups Organized

Freshman interest groups sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. have been organized for the winter quarter and will hold their first meetings this week.

A freshman cabinet to be made up of representatives from the interest groups will plan projects for the freshman class with Annie Emily Shipley, a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Subjects chosen for study and discussion are books, crafts, dramatics, music, nature lore, personality and charm, personal religion, poetry, travel and world affairs.

Upperclass members of the Y. W. C. A. who will act as advisers for the groups are Delphine Brooks, Frances Bruce, Margaret Guthrie, Antonia Marosta, Maxine Kaiser, Josephine Pease, Betty Mulvehill, Helen Cook and Dorothy Verrell. All freshman coeds are invited to join.

U. Theatre to Give February Matinee of 'Julius Caesar'

3,000 School Students Expected to Attend

A matinee of the University Theatre production of "Julius Caesar" is to be given in Northrop auditorium on February 3 in response to requests from high school principals in Minneapolis and St. Paul. While it was originally planned to give two evening performances of the play, the interest shown by English teachers throughout the city, as well as the principals, made it necessary to change the original plan.

More than 3,000 high school and junior high school students, as well as a group of elementary school students will be brought to the performance.

No Seats Reserved
There are to be no reserved seats at the production in the afternoon, although all seats will be reserved in the evening performance. College students desirous of attending the matinee will be admitted at a general price of 50 cents.

Subscribers to the season productions of the University Theatre will be admitted by coupons without extra charge although the price scale for this play is higher than it has been for the productions in the Music auditorium.

Students Make Arrangements
A special block of seats is being reserved for high school and junior high school principals for the evening performance. Those who will be unable to attend the evening performance will be admitted to the afternoon performance.

Tickets for the production went on sale yesterday, and the box office in

Forgery Suspect Held on $2,000 Bail

Parker Will Appear Before Court Today

Mark C. Parker, charged with passing worthless checks to a Southeast bookstore, will be called before Hennepin county district court for preliminary hearing today.

Parker waived examination yesterday when he was arraigned in municipal court; he was lodged in the county jail when he failed to post the $2,000 bail set by the court.

Posing as a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity from Nebraska, Parker appeared at the Minnesota chapter house of the fraternity during rushing week and during the next 10 days cashed checks amounting to nearly $300.

Leaving Minneapolis last Monday, Parker was apprehended in Madison Friday, after passing a $30 check at Brown's bookstore near the University of Wisconsin campus. He told Delta Upsilon members at Wisconsin that he was from the Minnesota chapter. A message warning other chapters of the suspect's activities had arrived there Thursday from Minneapolis.

Pitt Debaters Clash Twice With Gophers

Speakers Uphold Socialism, Government Control

Minnesota engaged Pittsburgh in two no-decision debates Saturday on the question of socialism versus capitalism as a means of control over industry. One of the debates was held on the campus Saturday morning, the other before the Saturday luncheon club in the afternoon.

On the campus the Minnesotans upheld socialism in preference to capitalism. Downtown they upheld government control of industry.

The Minnesota team contended that the heart of capitalism is the House of Morgan, the Chase National bank and the City Bank of New York, who together control $57,000,000. The Pittsburgh squad replied that under socialism crooked politicians would be in control.

Editor Speaks to Class in Country Journalism

Selling of advertising for country newspapers was discussed by Mr. Verne Joslin, editor and publisher of The Haven Lake News, in a talk to the class in country journalism Saturday. Mr. Joslin attended the convention of the Minnesota Editorial association in Minneapolis on Friday and Saturday. Members of the country journalism class attended several of the sessions.

Council to Discuss Budget at Meeting

Will Select Dates for Student Trip, Homecoming

The postponed substance of a tentative budget to the all-university council is scheduled for the meeting of the group tomorrow night.

Carroll Geddes, ticket auditor for the office of student affairs, was unable to present the proposal to the group at the last meeting due to illness.

Other business which will come before the student governing body is the selection of dates for homecoming and the official student football trip next fall. Big Ten gridiron contests scheduled for Minneapolis are Purdue, October 8; Northwestern, October 20; and Michigan, November 19. Games to be played away from home are Iowa, October 22 and Wisconsin, November 12.

The council membership has been cut to 15, due to the dropping out of four members. Richard Morean resigned when he became senior president of the Arts college. Gordon Bowen, education, did not return to the university for the winter quarter, and Ralph Golseth, Arts college, and Lloyd Stanley, business, were graduated in December.

Singers Plan Group of Friday Concerts

8 Programs Will Be Given in Union

The University Singers will institute a series of eight Friday noon concerts in the Minnesota Union lounge room beginning this week. E. G. Killen, director of the organization, said yesterday.

Talent from the University Singers will be used extensively throughout the series to form the basis of the programs, but for the first program Friday the KSTP Troubadours have been engaged.

The Minnesota Union board of governors is sponsoring the concerts. They will be about 40 minutes long and will begin at 12:30 p.m.

BLUE OX NEVER 'OFF FEED'

50 Bales of Hay

Only an Appetizer for Bunyan's Pet

This is the first of a series of stories about Paul Bunyan, patron saint of lumberjacks and the 1932 Gopher, courtesy of W. B. Langness, editor of this issue of the Paul Bunyan stories. Paul Bunyan is the hero of lumbercamp whoppers that have been handed down for generations. These stories, never heard outside the haunts of the lumberjack until recent years, are now being collected by learned educators and literary authorities who declare that Paul Bunyan is "the only American myth."

When and where did this mythical hero get his start? Paul Bunyan is known for his mighty works; his anecdotes and personal history are lost in doubt. You can prove that Paul logged off North Dakota and grubbed the stumps, not only by the fact that there are no traces of pine forests in that state, but by the testimony of oldtimers who saw it done. On the other hand, Paul's parentage and birth date are unknown. Like Topsy, he just grewed.

The big blue ox, constituted Paul's assets and liabilities. History disagrees as to where, when, and how Paul first acquired this bovine locomotive, but his subsequent record is reliably established. Babe could pull anything that was movable.

Babe was seven axhandles wide between the eyes, according to some authorities; others equally dependable says 42 axhandles and a plug of tobacco. Like other historical contradictions this comes from using different standards. Seven of Paul's axhandles were equal to a little more than 42 of the ordinary kind.

When cost sheets were figured on Babe, Johnny Inkslinger found that upkeep and overhead were expensive, but the charges for operation and depreciation were low and the efficiency very high. How else could Paul

Gopher Needs and Merits Your Support

TODAY Minnesota's Gopher begins a subscription campaign which is of utmost importance, as the results of the drive will have a direct bearing upon the annual's chances for future existence.

Thus the Gopher is more than a book; it is an institution which should continue to prosper and to serve. In order to live on, the Gopher depends upon your support during the present campaign.

Let Colonel Kelly and Cadet Argue With Pershing

ON February 2, 1932, the delegates to the World Disarmament Conference will assemble in Geneva. The conference is one of the greatest opportunities that humanity has ever had for its own betterment.

Colonel Kelly cites the example of "Switzerland, the best armed existing nation, which has not fired a hostile shot in 115 years." Next he points the moral by calling attention to "China, a huge country without military organization which is now being trampled by its smaller but better organized Japanese neighbors."

Let Colonel Kelly and the cadet lieutenant hark to the words of the two soldiers who have been the only "four star" generals since Grant. In 1921 Pershing said "It would appear that the lessons of the past six months should be enough to convince anybody of the danger of nations striding up and down the earth armed to the teeth."

TO friend and foe alike: The Bystander is slowly dying from a pernicious cold contracted while lying in bed reading "The Irish Literary Renaissance." Come, All Ye Faithful, and rejoice while ye may!

which the Geneva conference will attempt to scrap as well as the compulsory military training which the "second page pacifists" have tried to abolish at Minnesota.

Justifying military training in colleges, Colonel Kelly pointed out that because colleges have a greater percentage of intelligent men who can be trained for leadership, it is their duty to lead the way.

Some saw a comparison between Senator Moses' attempt to retain the presidency pro tempore of the Senate and the present senior class election situation here. We note with interest that New Hampshire's senator is still president pro tempore of the Senate.

The Democrats have discovered at last that there is a depression. They ought to know—isn't there a little matter of $500,000 still owing to John J. Raskob?

The Bystander

TO this desk comes the tale of the latest exploit of Francis George Bosworth, one-time editorial chairman of this venerable sheet and still widely-known as a spinner of extraordinary yarns.

Le M. Bosworth, now in New York City giving his life's blood in service under the banner of John Golden (Rip Van Winkle of the New York theater world), heard that the manuscript of Eugene O'Neill's "Mourning Becomes Electra" was aboard a steamship nearing the port of New York.

IS it true that Agriculture's Dean E. M. Freeman and Registrar Rodney M. West were both threatened with a civic fine of $10 each, for their negligence in removing snow and ice from the sidewalks in front of their homes?

IS it true that one of Ski-U-Mah's staff scribblers was incarcerated in the Minneapolis goal for two hours on Saturday night, after expressing his disapproval of all civic policemen in general to one policeman in particular?

A fetching story concerning the acumen of one Minneapolis bookseller: The simple fellow noticed our admiration for a volume called "Paul Bunyan and His Great Blue Ox." He beamed. Then he said, "Say, you know, this is a wonderful book. This fellow Bunyan, they say, spent most of his life in jail writing it."

W. R. Hearst has added about 200,000 acres to the little ranch which is now his principal California residence, and Sunday morning Senator Hearst's grandson, George Hearst, flew down from San Francisco to see his father, and back in time for luncheon.

And how much has W. R. Hearst added to the little fortune of one Arthur Brisbane, for excellent publicity stories such as this one?

ON THE SPOT: What genial member of "Buck" Lawrence's Happy Family, known popularly as a mechanical wizard and a man of great manual dexterity, panned on the steps of the Engineering building one day last week, lighted his pipe, tamped the tobacco ashes down in the bowl with his fountain pen—and then watched his beloved pen go up in flame and black smoke?

To the Editor, The Minnesota Daily: "Student opinion on compulsory drill is immaterial," says Colonel Kelley. Apparently this observation is borne out by the facts.

Possibly students are correctly the mere subject matter of the controversy. Yet somehow we evince a certain amount of interest in the discussion itself. Therefore we welcome all possible discussion of the subject in the columns of The Minnesota Daily.

For instance, if it is true that "inefficient leadership has been a prominent cause in the loss of life during past wars," is it not true that inefficient leadership got us into these wars in the first place? In the event of another war, can we not expect more efficient use of poison gas.

They could never keep Babe more than one night at a camp, for he would eat in one day all the feed one crew could tote to camp in a year. For a snack between meals he would eat 50 bales of hay, wire and all, and six men were kept busy picking the wire out of his teeth. Babe was a great pet, and very docile as a general thing, but he seemed to have a sense of humor and frequently got into mischief. He would sneak up behind the drive and drink all the water out of the river, leaving the logs high and dry. It was impossible to build an ox-sling big enough to hoist Babe off the ground for shooting, but after they logged off Dakota, there was room for Babe to lie down for this operation.

Once in a while Babe would run away and be gone all day, roaming over the northwestern country. His tracks were so far apart that it was impossible to follow him, and so deep that a man falling into one could only be hauled out with difficulty and a long rope. Once a settler and his wife and baby fell into one of these tracks, and the son got out when he was 57 years old and reported the accident. These tracks today form the thousands of lakes in Minnesota. "The Land of the Sky Blue Water."

Veterans Prove Power in Subduing Fighting Team In Close Tilt

Victors over Michigan, 30-26, Saturday, the Gopher squadron was given a day off yesterday while all around the conference cage circle other teams were hanging up their suits to take a shot at examination blue books.

Five old stagers in Big Ten basketball were responsible for the great game the MacMillanmen put up against a strong Michigan quint. When Walt Sochacki went out of the game with five minutes left of the first half, Minnesota had a full team of veterans in the fray and the veterans pulled up on all 11-8 Michigan advantage to make the score 12-11 in Minnesota's favor at the half.

Veterans Lead
It was this quintet of veterans which piled up a six-point lead after 10 minutes of play in the second half, only to see Whitey Ereland put Michigan in the lead, 26-25, by three uncanny long tosses, with only two minutes left of the game.

At this point Captain Mike Cielusak became the hero of the game when he raked a foul shot to tie up the score. Later he took a rebound from the Michigan backboard and sank it to give Minnesota the lead, 28-26, while the 65,000 fans screamed so loudly that the referee's whistle could not be heard in the din. Licht made the final basket.

The Gopher five put on a show of courage and good basketball such as is seldom seen in any section of the country. Michigan time and again proved that they were dangerous by overcoming a Minnesota lead and three times went ahead of the Gophers. The lead changed four times in the first half and twice in the second.

Play Chicago
Mike Cielusak gave the best performance for Minnesota, but Brad Robinson, who was high scorer with three baskets and two fouls, Virgil Licht with three baskets, and Glenn Bethel with two field tosses and a foul were all necessary to the victory.

Cliff Sommer again proved his ability as a pinch-hitter when he went in for Red Sochacki and handled the ball without throwing away a single pass beside scoring the Gopher's only long shot before the half.

Brad Robinson duplicated his feats in the Indiana game to again earn the title as the most spectacular man on the floors. Three times he scored, and each time it was with an overhead

Yearlings Win Wrestling Meet From Farm School

A strong freshman wrestling team won the first meet of the season from a more experienced farm school team Saturday by the score of 38-23.

The freshman performed well in all divisions and after the first few bouts the outcome of the meet was never in doubt. The yearlings won eight of the twelve matches, winning six on falls and two on decisions while the visitors were pressed to the utmost to win three falls and one decision.

Cliff Sommer again proved his ability as a pinch-hitter when he went in for Red Sochacki and handled the ball without throwing away a single pass beside scoring the Gopher's only long shot before the half.

All Candidates to Meet Thursday in Stadium to Meet New Coach

Actual Practices to Start Sometime Next Week In Field House

The keynote for the 1932 football season will be sounded Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in the "B" room at the Stadium when Coach Bernie Bierman greets his football candidates to outline plans for spring practice.

All candidates including grid lettermen and last year's frosh griders are asked to attend the meeting where Bierman will get acquainted with his future griders.

Bierman will tell the men of the policy under which he will conduct the spring practice sessions. Actual practice will not start, however, until next week when the first group of players, probably the backfield men will start taking gridiron exercises in the Field House. Other groups of players will alternate, each practicing only a few days a week until the beginning of the outdoor spring season.

Fraternity Ski Meet Taken by Phi Deltas

Dekes Place Second in First I-M Race

Covering the mile and three-quarter course in 15:15, Lincoln R. Page of Lambda Chi Alpha took first place in the first inter-fraternity cross-country ski run held Saturday at the University recreation field.

Walt Hargeshelmer placed fifth, with George Taylor and Doug Erskine placing seventh and fourteenth to give the Phi Deltas the team championship.

Following Page by about one minute, Ambrose Lund of Delta Kappa Epsilon headed the four Dekes entrants who totaled the second lowest score to follow the Phi Deltas. Kruse of Lambda Chi Alpha trailed by a few yards to take third.

If the Lambs had entered a third man they would have had a good chance for the team championship.

Harold Flaata, independent, placed fourth. Phi Rho Sigma, with Harold Schele placing sixth, took the professional team championship.

Fate of Gopher Relays Await Return of Crisler

Awaiting the return of Fritz Crisler from Chicago, the fate of the Minnesota Relays, as established by Coach Sherman Finger in 1928, will hang in the balance until the mentor and athletic director confer either tomorrow or Thursday. It was feared that the intended make-up of the Relays would necessitate revision if the plans of Crisler to confine the events to high schools were put into effect.

Tracksters Prove Strength in Contest

Both Yearlings, Varsity Make Strong Showing

Varsity and freshmen track candidates gave an afternoon performance last Saturday with Coach Sherman Finger occupying the box seat. The premiere proved highly satisfactory to Finger in that it showed Minnesota will have the material for a strong track team this winter and spring.

The matinee was not held for the purpose of breaking any records but merely to give the track and field coach a line on what his men were doing. Harold Thompson showed that he had a real pair of legs on him when he won the finals in the 60-yard dash, beating such men as Walt Hass and Chuck Schiefley. He also defeated Hass and Middlebrook to take first honors in the 220. The time of the events held Saturday were not released.

Graydon Kilbourne, a sophomore who came from Carleton this fall and who, therefore, will not be eligible for competition this year, proved that when he placed first in the low hurdles, second in the high hurdles, and third in the 60-yard dash finale.

John Currell placed first in the mile run as he was expected to do. Ted Rasmussen was second and Dick Herriek third. Henry Bettendorf won the varsity 300 race, while Robert Savage led the freshmen runners in the same event. Freshmen placed first in every one of the eight events, promising a powerful track squad for 1932.

Track men took a light workout last night and probably will swing into intensive practice today.

Gopher Puck Slate Sliced by Weather, Lack of Finances

Michigan Series Only Big Ten Games Left—Canadians May Come

What to do with a championship hockey team has become an acute problem for Coach Frank Pond who is being thwarted on all sides by adverse weather and finances at the various western schools in his endeavor to get games for his charges. "There isn't any natural ice east of Minneapolis," bewailed the coach, "and most of the schools haven't enough money to finance hockey trips." A two-game series with Michigan at the Wolverine stronghold will finish the Gopher travels for the year.

Play Michigan
The series with Michigan will be held at the Ann Arbor indoor rink March 4 and 5. However, home engagements will fill out the Minnesota schedule in no light manner if current negotiations are carried through.

February 4 and 5 Michigan Tech will appear here for a pair of contests with a fairly strong team and tomorrow a confirmation from Marquette is expected concerning the booking of a pair of games here February 1 and 2.

There is a small possibility that further games with Wisconsin may be booked but the chances are that the Badgers will not play any more games this year in the ice sport due to financial and weather troubles.

Canadians Strong
The Canadian Olympic team thought to be the class of all the entrants in the Olympics may appear here during the latter part of February on a tour after the playoffs.

If the Canadians come they will be the second Olympic contestant to play here as the Polish team appears here February 18 for a one-game stand.

The Canadians, with a team composed of former Stanley cup players and others who have made names for themselves in hockey, are one of the strongest puck clubs ever to be assembled.

Thus far the Gophers are perched on top of the conference hockey heap by virtue of just three victories.
