DISARMAMENT PETITIONS OUT

GALA APPEARANCE FADES; CAMPUS BACK TO NORMAL

Homecoming Parade Led by Winning Alpha Phi Float; Sophs, Frosh Battle to Second No-decision Tie

Effervescent Homecoming Day spirit has disappeared today, and students are coming back to normalcy after the greatest celebration in Gopher history. The gala appearance of the campus faded away with the removal of the bunting and colored lights from various college buildings, marking the end of Minnesota's annual fête.

The Homecoming Day parade, containing some fifty floats led by the prize winning vehicle entered by the Alpha Phi, was one of Saturday morning's early attractions. Over fifty floats representing nearly every organization on the campus were in the procession.

Frosh, Sophs Battle

Freshmen and sophomores battled to their second no-decision tie in their bag rush when onlookers judged the match a draw. On class scrap day the two classes were also unsuccessful in determining which side was superior, and it was to settle the question that the second contest was staged Saturday. Each team dragged pound bags across their goal lines, and an equal number of three hundred the decision is still in the air.

As early as twelve noon crowds began lining up in front of the general admission window waiting to purchase such tickets as were on sale, and it was early apparent that the stands would be packed. Student sections were crowded an hour before the opening whistle blew.

One thousand Iowa students, with their gold and black arm bands and badges, were present to back their team. After viewing the Homecoming color in the stands and listening to Gopher rooting, several of the alumni expressed the opinion that Saturday's demonstration has never before been equalled at Minnesota.

Tom Graham Addresses Ags on Charity Fund

Visiting American colleges and universities in the interests of the Fellowship Fund, "Tom" Graham, former pastor of Andrew Presbyterian church, Minneapolis, spoke at chapel service on the Ag campus Sunday morning.

Mr. Graham has been traveling in Europe for the past few months, visiting schools in central Europe. As an instance of present conditions he cited the fact that whereas in past years the faculty would not pass students doing manual labor to earn their way through school, at the present time professors and students were building their own dormitories. Professors, according to Mr. Graham, were living on six dollars a month, and students on one dollar and a half.

'U' Freshmen Organize Mock City Government

Organization of a juvenile municipality has been effected in Northeast Minneapolis with Edward Orshak, freshman at the University of Minnesota as mayor, and John Nagovsky, also a freshman at the University as health officer. The purpose of the organization is to instruct the boys of that district in the workings of a municipality.

J. B. Watson and D. L. Dawley, students at the University, are directing and helping the new "city officials." All municipal affairs are in the hands of the officials. The basement of the Northeast Neighborhood house, Second street and Fourteenth avenue has been given the boys for their city hall.

Minn.-Mich. Game Seats on Sale at Athletic Office

Two hundred seats for the Minnesota-Michigan football game will be placed on sale at $2.50 tomorrow at the athletic office. With the 300 seats which have already been reserved by Detroit rooters, a section of 500 will be pulling for the team.

The Interfraternity council at the University of Chicago is sponsoring a move to have the men on the campus wear golf knickers.

Plans for a University theater costing approximately $400,000 have been completed at Michigan.

New Scholastic Rules Lenient, Says Registrar

Present Regulations Will Give Many Students A Second Chance by Giving Them Probation Standing, West Points Out

"Practically no difference exists between the regulations recently published in the official daily bulletin, governing the scholastic standing of students, and the rules hitherto followed by the University," R. M. West Registrar, said last night.

"There is a small change with regard to the discontinuing of students, however. Heretofore, the ruling had been to discontinue students who were far below in their work. The new ruling will give such students a second chance by giving them probation standing. This gives the rules more leniency."

The rules apply only to all junior college students in the colleges of science, literature, and arts, engineering, agriculture, and to freshman dentists and pharmacists.

EXCLUSIVE PICTURES FOR 'U' PUBLICATION

Oil Painting Will Be Frontpiece of Next Ski-U-Mah, On Sale Thursday

Five exclusive pictures of the Minnesota-Ohio game have been assigned first place in the second issue of Ski-U-Mah, which will be introduced to the university public Thursday morning.

An oil painting by S. Chatwood Burton, whose work has gained national recognition, will be used as the frontpiece of the magazine. A treatise from the pen of Joseph Warden Beach, author and poet, is also listed as one of the features of special merit.

In addition, there will be two pages of editorials, five of kodak pictures, two of humorous stories, ten of cartoons, and jokes and a large athletic section.

Players Initiate, Dance at Prexy's House Friday

A party for new members, mock initiations, and a dance will be given Friday evening, Nov. 11, at President Coffman's house by the Players' Dramatic club. Jui Bauman, chairman, assisted by Mary Parsons and Grace Crawley, are making the arrangements.

The play committee, with Bernice Marschall as chairman, will select a production for the annual winter program soon. Henry Fessler was recently elected vice president of the club in place of Hilton Melby, who did not return to school this fall.

Barton Re-elected Head of Language Department

Professor R. B. Barton, head of the Romance Language department, was elected chairman of the Modern Romance division of the Minnesota Educational Association for the year 1921-22 at a meeting held last Friday. As chairman of this division, Professor Barton will appoint the sub-chairmen for the Scandinavian, French, and Spanish Round Tables.

Professors at the Willamette University are to be required to take the oath of allegiance to the United States, in accordance with a bill passed at the last session of the Oregon legislature.

Oberlin college has something different—a student chest, into which each student pays a certain amount of money, for financing college activities.

ALPHA CHIS WIN HOMECOMING MAG CUP FOR SALES

Publication Board Included N. Wall, H. Briggs, E. Baker and C. Carney

WEST SANFORD GROUP EARNS SECOND PRIZE

Special Articles Analyze the Chances of a Victory Over Michigan

Alpha Chi Omega sorority won the silver loving cup presented to the sales teams which sold the greatest number of Homecoming magazines, it was announced yesterday. Hannah Collings was captain, with Frances Walton, Katherine Galland, Myrtle Avelsgard, Alice Foss, Lois Jones, and Genevieve Woolan as saleswomen.

West Sanford team, under the leadership of Belle Bergh, won the second prize.

The magazine was published Friday by the Homecoming committee. Norman J. Wall was managing editor of the paper, with Harold Briggs as editor and Earl R. Baker, advertising manager. Celeste Carney officiated as sales director.

Articles by Dr. Williams, Arnie Om and Harold Schoelkopf analyze Minnesota's style of play, and tell something of the extensive training Gopher warriors must pursue before they round into big league form. Minnesota's prospects of winning the Michigan game are also discussed by the sports editor of the Michigan Daily.

Captains of Teams

Captains of sorority teams who sold the magazine about the campus were: Vera Altmeyer, Sigma Kappa; Frances Hicks, Pi Beta Phi; Belle Bergh, West Sanford; Hannah Collings, Alpha Chi Omega; Eleanor Corey, Kappa Delta; Mary Gillen, Chi Omega; Norma Miller, East Sanford; Charlotte Keyes, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Eleanor Piper, Alpha Phi; Lillian Kirwin, Alpha Omicron Pi; Jane Sedgwick, Kappa Alpha Theta; Ruth Smalley, Gamma Phi Beta; Erna Schurr, Delta Delta Delta; Katherine Sutherland, Alpha Xi Delta; Margaret Walker, Alpha Gamma Delta; Marjorie White, Delta Gamma.

Old Clothes Wanted for Pillsbury House Sale

University students and faculty members have been asked to contribute old articles of clothing to the rummage sale which Pillsbury settlement house will conduct on Saturday, Nov. 12, at the settlement house, 320 Sixteenth avenue south. If those who have articles to donate will call Geneva 4588 the house will send for the contribution.

Game's Results Were Sent Out By Radio Phone

Music, Yells Also Heard by Gridiron Fans Within Radius of 31,415 Square Miles—200 Stations Received Service

Minnesota rooters last Saturday were heard over an area of 31,415 square miles. Music, yells, and play by play reports on the progress of the game were clearly heard within the area.

This was made possible through the efforts of the University electrical engineering department. A radio phone transmitter was installed in the grandstand, and information was sent directly through the ether.

Students of St. Olaf college at Northfield were able to receive all the benefits of the game without the accompanying expense. Their operator reported sally hearing the yells and music. Sleepy Eye, New Ulm, and other points "listened in." When it is remembered that some 200 stations had an interested audience of from three to several dozen, the benefits of this undertaking can be in some way appreciated.

MASQUERS' COMEDY LEADS ARE NAMED

Play Is First New York Success to Appear on Campus Before Stock Presentation

Playing opposite Verneita Thompson in "A Successful Calamity," coming Masquer production, will be Merlin Carlock, who will take the leading role as Henry Wilton, the socially fatigued financier upon whose desire for an evening at home the plot of Clare Kummer's comedy revolves.

In making the announcement, Ray Busch, president of the club, pointed out that both leads in the play will make their debut in campus dramatics in this production.

Exchange tickets for the play, which will be staged in the Little Theatre Nov. 18 and 19 under the direction of Miss Ariel Macnaughton and Mrs. Leone Nuzan, Minnesota's new assistant dramatic coach, were placed on sale last week. Stage arrangements are being made by Fred C. Smith, William Wallcut, Alex Hockstruck, and Franklin Gray. The production will be unique in that it will be the first recognized New York success to appear on campus playboards before going into stock production.

Minnesota rooters felt as good over that lone touchdown as they did when we licked the Hoosiers two weeks ago, judging from the applause. It surely was a pretty piece of work, and Gopher fans have this to spring on the Iowans—it was the most sensational touchdown of the game.

SENATORS NELSON, KELLOGG TO BE INFORMED OF ACTION

Open Forum Discussion, Led by Professor Allen, Will Be Held in Law Auditorium Wednesday Night

Minnesota's attitude toward disarmament will be ascertained this morning when petitions to the United States Senators Knute Nelson and Frank B. Kellogg, are circulated on the campus urging these men to "use their official and personal influences upon the American delegates to the disarmament conference, to the end that definite limitation of armament may become real and immediate."

Needle in Boy's Heart Removed by 'U' Doctors

A two-inch needle was removed from the heart of Dawson Sambles, 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sambles, 200 West Fairfield ave., St. Paul at the University hospital yesterday afternoon. The success of the operation was assured at 4:00 o'clock.

While playing in his home last Friday afternoon, the boy stumbled and fell on a piece of sewing which contained the needle. Dr. Thomas Meyers was called, who discovered a small incision above the heart. The exact location of the obstruction was revealed by X-ray pictures, which showed it to be embedded in the lining.

Houses of Alpha Phi, Delta Chi, Best Decorated

Displays of Alpha Xi Deltas and Dekes Given Honorable Mention by Judges—Paraphernalia "Laid to Sleep"

Alpha Phi sorority carried off first prize Saturday when their reproduction of a farm landscape on the lawn of their house was adjudged the best display entered in the Homecoming Day house decoration contest conducted among the Greek letter societies. Today they are sporting a football blanket as the spoils of victory. Alpha Xi Delta won honorable mention.

Competition was keener among the fraternities. Delta Chi was awarded first place for their autumn leaf arrangement on the house roof. A blizzard string of colored lights slipped into an "M" and an "I" won honorable mention for the Deke house.

Jones Chairman

A committee of faculty and students from the college of Architecture acted as judges. Prof. R. C. Jones was chairman; with Prof. Leon Arnel, Faith Nixon and John Walquist as the other members.

Co-eds and fraternity pledges, professors and curious children, all aided yesterday in removing the decorations which were a part of Minnesota's greatest Homecoming.

Magnificent shields were laid in cotton batting, shocks of corn were stored in reception rooms, and bunting of all colors was put away in the cellar until next year.

New York Pianist Will Appear in Recital Here

A unique recital will be offered to day at 4 p. m. in the Little Theatre, by the University Department of Music.

Miss Eleanor Shaw, one of the producing artists for the Duo-Art, and a well known New York pianist, will give a piano program. Miss Shaw will be assisted by Miss Gertrude Hull, faculty member of the Department of Music. Miss Hull will be accompanied by the Duo-Art.

An unusually rapid recovery from his recent appendicitis operation permitted Rex Kitts, prominent Law student, to return to his classes yesterday.

Homecoming Chairman Survives Car Wreck

Car Driven by Armon Completely Wrecked on University Ave. Sunday Night

A narrow escape from death just after he had completed the Homecoming program was the experience of Harry J. Armon, chairman of the 1921 Homecoming Committee.

Mr. Armon, his brother, and a party were driving up University ave. in a Ford sedan when they were struck by a Packard touring car driven by Johnnie Ertie, Minneapolis boxer. Armon's machine was overturned and completely wrecked. The Homecoming chairman escaped with only a large cut on his forehead. Others of his party suffered severe bruises.

Although suffering from the shock of the collision, Mr. Armon was able to attend his classes yesterday.

Gross Receipts of Iowa-Minnesota Game $33,000

Approximately $33,000 was taken in at the Minnesota-Iowa game last Saturday. The proceeds are to be divided equally between Minnesota and Iowa, according to the officials. The receipts compare favorably with other years.

Oxford (England) University has the record for overseas World War veteran enrollment. Over 14,000 men who attend, or who have graduated, are World War veterans.

MEMORAH MEETING

The Memorah meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 9, has been postponed to Nov. 14.

Alpha Phi 'Lizzie' Wins Premier Honors

The prize-winning Alpha Phi float was a wheeled carriage of the days when the ownership of a horseless carriage signified class. The float represented Minnesota Homecoming in 1901. In the car were Margaret Sweet, Elizabeth McLean, and Elizabeth Catlin, members of the Alpha Phi sorority.

Delta Kappa Epsilon put forward a blue-law float which attracted considerable attention. Members of the fraternity sang hymns and drank tea in a room fitted up on the back of a large truck.

In the parade Saturday were over 50 floats from every active organization on the campus. The novelty and uniqueness of the exhibits this year was the subject of favorable comment. Judges of the parade were President Louis D. Coffman, Mrs. Carlisle Scott, and Colonel Stuyvesant, commander of the University R. O. T. C.

SPORTSMANSHIP THAT COUNTS

That was the spirit of true sportsmanship—the thing that moved thousands of Minnesotans, in and out of the University, to cheer and acclaim Aubrey Devine, captain of the Iowa football eleven, when he trod off the field before the end of the game Saturday on Northrop field.

The score was 41 to 2, in favor of Iowa. Written tremendously big into the story behind those figures was the dashing achievement of Captain Devine. He had shown how to thread the maze of a gridiron, how to ward off the foe, how to catch the ball, or punt it, or pass it, or run with it. There was scarcely anything possible to his position that he did not do, and do well.

It was enough to take the heart out of losers who did not have the right stuff in them, but the Minnesotans plugged away to the last, fighting against odds, determined that the score board should not show a cipher on their side when it was all over.

Matching this grit on the field was the "hail and farewell" of the Minnesotans for Devine. These flauters of the Maroon and Gold may have been sick at heart over the battle that was so one-sided in the count, but they knew a good thing in the enemy camp, and when Devine came their way past the stands they greeted him as if they were greeting a "hero" of their own. It was a fine, graceful thing to do. Without having it from Devine, we venture to say he got even more joy out of this heralding of his football prowess than he did out of exercising that prowess on the field.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Iowans, you are good men. Minnesota congratulates you—congratulates for superior playing in every department of the game, for dash and speed the like of which has rarely been seen on Northrop field, congratulates you for Aubrey Devine, congratulates you on victory.

We congratulate you and wish you the championship. You deserve it. For the first time in Gopher footballdom, Minnesota has tasted four consecutive defeats. For the first time since the Maroon and Gold lined up in front of Minnesota's goal, Minnesota's opponents have torn through for a score as large as yours.

Such a varied attack, such a charging line, such a combination of offense and defense seldom has been seen on Northrop field. Iowa played hard and deserved to win. There is no question but that they were the better team and it is not the intention of any Minnesotans to belittle the victory of the Hawkeyes. For more than thirty years they have waited for such a game.

Iowa played splendid football, clean football and every minute of the game. Granting that Iowa did get the breaks of the game, granting that Minnesota was without the services of her greatest star, granting that some of the men were still suffering from injuries—granting all of these things, we do not believe that the Gophers would have stemmed the Iowa attack.

Any team which can take the Gophers into camp on four successive occasions, beating them worse in the fourth game than in the first, deserves the championship.

Any team that in four quarters can cross the Gophers' goal line six times for touchdowns deserves the championship. Iowans, we take off our hats to you. You put a sad crimp in our Homecoming, but you showed us football that is football. The best team won. We wish you luck.

DISARMAMENT PETITIONS

Is it true, as is often said, that University students are self-centered, and uninterested in the great social and political issues of the time? That question as it relates to Minnesota at least, will be answered during the next five days, when petitions asking for the definite limitations of armaments will be circulated on the campus. That students are interested we know. This is our chance to show it. Furthermore, it is by such petitions that the members of the conference are to know the attitude of the body of men toward the limitation of armaments. It is therefore of the utmost importance that Minnesota voice her opinions. And since petitions are effective, for the most part, by reason of their bulk, it is of equal importance that every student sign it. A petition from Minnesota signed by 7,000 students will be many times more significant than one signed by three or even 5,000. For such a petition will express absolute unanimity.

It will moreover, coming from a University, mean that men from every section of the country, of every class and type, are agreed as to the desirability of the limitation of armaments. So it is now or never—for Minnesota, for the nation for the world!

—R. M.

Chicago professor maintains men are becoming effeminate because the male members' of his class failed to learn a list of Aztec tribes which their fair classmates memorized. Try them on football coaches, professor; perhaps they have outgrown their taste for blood curdling Indian names.—Michigan Daily.

There's many a slip 'tween the hip and the lip.

A crank is not usually a self-starter. Many a lawyer loses a case because of the activity of the prohibition agents.

THE NATION'S SPENDING—AND OURS

This is not to be a plea for starving Russia; for famine stricken China; it is not to be a plea for a contribution of any kind. But a statement issued by the Treasury department of the United States government gives cause for reflection and for comment.

People of the United States spent more money in 1920 and the first nine months of 1921 for luxuries than in any previous corresponding period in our history. More money was spent for tobacco, for candy, for cosmetics and, despite of, or thanks to, prohibition, more for liquors. All of this at a time when there are more than 5,000,000 men out of work and when there are bread lines in some of our coast cities!

University students, safely tucked away here for nine months of the year, are prone to forget that the outside world is moving, that changes are coming. For a period of four years we are not producers in any large sense of the word; we are merely making preparation for future production. Is it not meet that we stop for a moment and consider how we spend our money? As long as we are spenders, let us be wise spenders. The United States government is cutting down expenses—eliminating unnecessary items of expense. It is not curtailing business; it is not stopping all activity; it is continuing to function and to function more efficiently and more economically. Reduced to individual cases, we, as university students can do the same thing.

We need not eliminate our trips to the theater, to the movie, to dances and to parties, but we can cut down on the number of times we go. Let us not spend four or five dollars an evening at some place of entertainment and save our consciences the following day by dropping a quarter into the collection plate. As future leaders of the city and state it is fitting that the men and women of Minnesota establish a reputation of being wise spenders so they may be examples to the nation.

SPEAKING GENTLY OF THE DEAD

Last Thursday we found two tickets to the Iowa game in the editor's desk and by a commendable reticence we kept our silence about this accident and the ticket also. The editor made some general remarks about some tickets that he couldn't locate but we closed our ears to keep the blasphemy out. We asked seven lilies to the game and at last by telling one that we were somebody else, we made the date. We arrived with said lily about twenty minutes late and discovered that the two tickets were for seats already occupied by a couple of cromagnons. We sat on the steps in the aisle. Minnesota gave one of the finest exhibitions of stationary football ever seen on Northrop or any other field. It was a great question whether the entertainment between halves was as good a farce as the game. Mister Devine of Iowa must have eaten his morning order of drive shafts before he came over judging from the way he pushed the Gophers into the soil of their native Sweden. It was a dreary show for the most part oh well, nine rows for Sig, and nine death rattles for the Doc.

PERSONAL

We wish to thank all those who bust out with jokes for us every now and then that never arrive in the column, but some of those jokes are just a trifle too warm even for this medium. Thanks anyhow.

Hoffman Visitor
Ross Lynch, last year's senior president of the College of Education, and at present superintendent of schools at Hoffman, Minn., visited with friends at Minneapolis last week.

In addition to the open house programs, many of the Greek letter societies gave evening parties and banquets.

Phi Kappa Sigma entertained their alumni at a banquet at the house Saturday. Delta Chi honored their alumni at a dancing party. "Doc" Williams was the guest at a dinner at the Alpha Delta house Friday night. A number of Iowa men were guests at a dinner at the Phi Delta house. A dance was staged by the members of the Phi Delta Pi fraternity. Dancing featured the program arranged by the Alpha Sigma Phi. Omega Psi Phi entertained "Duke" Slater, Iowa's colored tackle, at a smoker Saturday night. Iowa bandmen were extended their greeting at a banquet at the Minnesota Union at 8:00 p. m. The Board of Governors were guests at a Homecoming dance at the Minnesota Union ball room from 9:00 to 12:00. A dinner was given at the Loring Cottage Sunday night by Miss Julia Roney for the former and present Loringites.

In honor of graduates and former students who were here for Homecoming, open house was held after the game by fraternities, sororities, the men's Union, and Shevlin hall.

The main alumni interest was at Shevlin hall where the Minnesota Alumnae club, headed by Mrs. Leo Crafts and assisted by W. S. G. A., kept open house from 4:00 to 6:00.

Mmes. John F. Downey, G. S. Wilkins, and Frank M. Warren presided at the tea table. Miss Edith Garbett was chairman of the social committee, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Oren. On the reception committee were visiting alumnae from each town in the state. W. S. G. A. had

Iowa Eleven Crushes Gophers

MINNESOTA CRUMBLES UNDER RUNNING ATTACK OF INVADERS

Devine's Playing Is Outstanding Feature of Game—Iowa Captain Plays Perfect Football Behind Stalwart Line—Locke Also Stars

GOPHERS SCORE ON FIFTY-YARD PASS TO BROWN—VARSITY MISSES CHANCE TO SCORE EARLY IN GAME

"Flying Frenchman" Is Only Minnesota Man to Show Well—He Is Handicapped By Poor Play of Line—Grose Plays Well On Defense

By Eugene W. Bondy
With the invincible Aubrey Devine leading their attack, the team from the Corn State literally overwhelmed the Varsity grid to be a closely contested game was turned into a veritable rout...

line-up. Devine's versatility should land him a position on Walter Camp's All-American eleven, he is a team in himself.
The following is a line-up of the teams:
Minnesota Pos. Iowa
Cole L. E. Kadesky
Teberg (C) L. T. Thompson
Aas C. C. Heldt
Tierney R. G. Mead
Copeland R. T. Slater
Larkin R. E. Belding
Brown Q. B. (C) A. Devine
Bailey L. H. Shuttleworth
Martineau R. H. G. Devine
Gilstad F. B. Locke

Hawkeyes Score First
The Hawkeyes scored first blood in the opening period when Shuttleworth intercepted a pass from Martineau on Minnesota's 24 yard line and ran to the 9 yard line before he was stopped...

Minnesota was outscored, outplayed, outtricked, outpassed—the Gophers were figuratively out of the game. The Williams-coached team in the second half had no semblance of a college aggregation, this was evidenced by the noticeable lack of unity in the team's play when Devine kicked off to the Gophers in the fourth quarter and three Varsity men collided in receiving the ball.

Locke Gains Ground
Captain Devine was helped in his game against the Gophers by the plunging fullback, Locke, whose peculiar style of hitting the line with both feet off the ground brought the stands to their feet on several occasions, he was a menace to the Gopher forward wall at all times.

For the Maroon and Gold, Grose's work on the defense was one of the few gratifying features of the team's play; Capt. Lawrence Teberg and Festus Tierney played their usual steady game on the line but the work of the Minnesota forward wall in general was disappointing to the 23,000 Gopher adherents that filled the stands. The playing of Aubrey Devine will never be forgotten by the fans that witnessed the game, the while Iowa team is built around this versatile quarterback, this was shown when he was taken from the game late in the fourth quarter, incidentally getting one of the greatest ovations a visiting player has ever received on Northrop Field. The Hawkeye team lacked that punch that they had during Aubrey's presence in their

Suffers Injuries

Following the game Saturday afternoon, it was discovered that Aubrey Devine, Iowa quarter, was suffering from severe internal injuries. The train was met at Iowa City by an ambulance, which hurried Devine to the hospital. A telegram received from Iowa City last night stated that although the star had been released from the hospital, it is doubtful if he will be able to play against Indiana next Saturday.

COOKE SQUAD IS HANDICAPPED BY GREEN MATERIAL

Basketball Mentor Hopes to Turn Out Creditable Team—Arnold Oss Assistant Coach—Kearney Only Remaining Veteran

Though 80 per cent of the material is quite green, Dr. Cooke hopes to turn out with the assistance of Arnie Oss, a basketball team that will make a very creditable showing in conference games next year.

Captain Kearney is the only Gopher who has had more than a year's experience in conference games, and this year's quint will be constructed around him. Even his position is not certain as present and all men out for basketball will be given their full share of chances before the season is over. There is plenty of material, and some pretty good finds are being rooted out during practice sessions.

The forward positions are the hardest places to fill since the loss of Oss and Arnost, but these will be filled by good capacity before long. Oscar along. The lanky Gopher was having Swanson, former St. Thomas star, trouble, and "Sweitz", putting his seems to be one of the most likely candidates right now for one of the forwards, as he is showing remarkable ability in this role.

Other forwards who are showing up well are Severinson, Fogelburg, Anderson, Tousey, "Cy" Olson, Varner, Malmer, Clayton of Shattuck, Everett Johnson, now on cross-country will be out as soon as the season is over, and McCreery, now on the Varsity football squad, will also try out for forward as soon as football is over.

The other positions have an equal amount of competition. Hanson, former Hamline star, Grimes, Sinclair, and Becker are perhaps the most likely candidates for center. For guards there are some promising candidates, Captain Kearney, "Newt" Doyle, Hultkrans and Bergsland showing well at this position. Other strong guard men are Fred Moyle, Martineau, Forsell, Grose and Sullivan.

Locke-jaw was also prevalent on Northrop field during the game. The Iowa right-hail rivalled Aubrey Devine in ground-gaining ability, and never was a pair of more brilliant backfield men seen at Minnesota than the two retina of the Hawk-eyes.

"The Howling 300" were in the north stand, and made Iowa a conspicuous enough to suit any Minnesota fan—perhaps more so. It surely was a field-day for Iowa and they made the best of it.

You've got to hand it to both sides for sportsmanship. Cross-cheering was in abundance, and good nature prevailed everywhere. Minnesota showed the most wonderful spirit when, with the score 41 to 7, the Gopher stands thundered out applause for A. Devine, even if he was the cause of our downfall. The audience appreciated brilliant playing, and encouraged all evidences by vociferous cheering.

being coached by Gilbert Larson, an "M" man of 1920 and a half of considerable experience.

Following the appearance of these two squads every night on the Ag field, the Foresters are reported to have started an organization to represent the knights of canthook and ax.

Both "Independents and Alpha Gamma Rho" have issued challenges to play any or all fraternity teams of either or both campuses. Aspirants meanwhile are wavering between "training" and bookstore sweets, cafeteria pie and Jimmy pipe with wraith of curling smoke.

IOWA HARRIERS LEAD VARSITY IN GRUELLING RACE

Ristine, Hawkeye Captain Leads Hill and Dale Men to the Tape—Gopher Team Loses Close Race by Lone Tally.

Minnesota's cross-country team suffered its second defeat of the season last Saturday when it was outrun by the Iowa delegation. The Gophers fought hard to overtake the Hawkeyes, but had to be satisfied with keeping Iowa's lead down to one point. At the start of the race it looked like a Minnesota victory, but some of the Maroon and Gold harriers failed to keep up the gruelling pace they set. The final tally was Minnesota 27, Iowa 28.

Ristine, the Hawkeye captain, took first in the last time of 26:52. Sweitzer, Minnesota's mainstay, was second with Peterman, of Iowa, third, and Winters, of Minnesota, fourth. Sweitzer lost his opportunity to cop first and Arnost, but these will be filled by good capacity before long. Oscar along. The lanky Gopher was having Swanson, former St. Thomas star, trouble, and "Sweitz", putting his seems to be one of the most likely candidates right now for one of the forwards, as he is showing remarkable ability in this role.
