Hallett Abend, today's Convocation speaker, recently returned from a 38,000 mile air trip during which he made a last minute survey of the areas in which the Japanese and the United Nations are now fighting. His subject is "America's Stake in the Pacific."

Mr. Abend gave up his Far Eastern post with the New York Times in January, 1941, after Japanese hoodlums had ransacked his Shanghai apartment. He returned during the summer of 1941 to make a trip to the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies, New Zealand, Australia, Singapore, Hong Kong and other points now prominent in the news.

He first went to the Far East in 1926 on a round trip ticket as a vacation from scenario writing in Hollywood. He stayed on to write special dispatches for the North American Newspaper alliance and then joined the New York Times' Far Eastern staff.

He covered wars and sieges and came to be looked upon as a trouble signal, so accurate were his presentiments of news developments.

He has met Tojo, Konooye,

Hallett Abend

Matsuoka and many of the other key figures in the Pacific war.

Zino Francescatti, Violinist, Relates Sad Experience

Zino Francescatti, French violinist who will appear with the Minneapolis Symphony at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow at Northrop auditorium, has had one sad experience in his life.

Some years ago he was giving a concert in Milan, and Toscanini came to the hall to hear him. As the Maestro entered the auditorium, just before Francescatti was to play, the audience burst into applause in honor of the Maestro's arrival.

Toscanini was offended that his presence had been publicly recognized and rushed out of the hall. "I wanted so much to have him hear me," said Francescatti ruefully.

Among benefit concerts at which he has played is that of the Coordinating Council of French Relief Societies. On this occasion a new work was played, a sonata written for violin and piano, written by Robert Casadesu and dedicated to Zino Francescatti.

Mr. Francescatti's violin technique was photographed last year by Life magazine.

Law Dean Becomes President-Elect

Everett Frazer, dean of the Law school, has become president-elect of the Association of American Law Schools, a combination of outstanding American law schools formed in 1908 to set and help raise the standards of American legal education.

Ninety-five out of about 150 law schools held membership.

After holding the title president-elect for one year, Dean Frazer will be president of the association during 1945. He is the second Minnesotan in recent years to hold the presidency. Wilbur H. Cherry, professor of law, held it in 1939.

Building Employees Vote To Strike Within 10 Days

Members of the Public Building Service employees union 113 passed a motion to give the steering committee, including the officers, power to carry out a strike within 10 days at a meeting at 8 p. m. last night in the Labor Temple. The committee designated the strike deadline to be not later than January 15.

Union Board Votes Guest Cards For Military Wives

Guest cards will be issued to the wives of servicemen stationed on campus so that they may use the facilities of the Union, it was announced at the Union board meeting last night.

A report was made on the Union budget for activities for the year. At the beginning of the year $15,000 was available. To date the expenditures have amounted to approximately $8,700. With an expected revenue of $1,800 more this year from admission charges, the balance for the year is about $7,500.

The program coordinating committee obtained the board's approval of the proposal to change the time of the twillite and the smooth sessions from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. to 4 to 7 p. m. The board also approved a motion to have coffee hours each Sunday during winter quarter in the men's lounge.

The co-chairmen of Winter Week End, Jean Thomas, Education junior, and Phyllis Carlson, Ag junior, reported to the board the need for a $75 subsidy for the week end program. Since the athletic department and the Union board jointly sponsor the program, each has been asked for that amount. The board approved the proposal to allow the committee a maximum of $75.

It was announced that the first program of Charm, Inc. will be held Monday, January 17. Because the regularly scheduled style show presented by downtown stores cannot be given, winter clothes will be modeled by members of sorority, dormitory and co-op houses on the campus.

Union Committee Filing

Filing is open for two Union committee chairmanships, those of a talent pool and exhibits. Applications may be secured in 131 Union, and filing will be open until 5 p. m. Monday.

Tight Squeeze

Book Stores Need Help of Commandos

Getting inside the Felwell Hall or Engineering book store during the first three days of a new quarter is a job worthy of the commandos.

Two V-12 Officers Detached Wednesday

Two officers who were with the V-12 department of the University of Minnesota naval establishment have been detached and ordered to other campuses.

Lt. Elmer Darling, head of the V-12 department here, has been ordered to Carroll college, Helena, Mont. Lt. Louis R. Schubert has been ordered to Marquette university at Milwaukee, Wis. Both officers were detached Wednesday.

And no one knows it better than Harold D. Smith, manager of the professional book stores.

His job is to see that all the students get their copies of "Physiological and Pathological Chemistry" or "History of Europe," etc.

Mr. Smith has been managing the bookstores since 1925. They were opened as a service to students at least five years before that.

The bookstores handle five times as much business at the beginning of a quarter than they do at any other time without hiring much extra help, Mr. Smith said. The reason for extra help during the rush period is needed is that everyone works longer and harder. Student clerks, nearly all coeds now, spend all their time outside of classes in the store.

In this dispute, which reopened December 13, the War Labor board at first refused to take jurisdiction on the grounds that the University is a subdivision of the state.

However, a WLB announcement, stating that the board would reconsider its refusal to take jurisdiction, arrived in time to be read at a union meeting December 28.

At that time, union members authorized officials to call a strike if the board failed to act within a week or ten days. Since the board delayed action, union officials called a meeting to determine action.

In an effort to secure arbitration and recognition for the union, 450 employees went on strike last year, October 3, 1943.

University-union controversy in August of 1942 originated when the union demanded that the University establish a labor board to deal with employe problems.

A board of one member representing the University, one representing the union and an impartial third person as chairman was the union's proposal.

The Board of Regents advocated establishment of three committees, to represent service, professional and clerical employes.

The regents' proposal was rejected by Carle on the grounds that each committee would be headed by a pro-administration president.

Hence, the employes struck October 3 and 4.

The intercession of Governor Stassen halted the two-day strike. His decision, providing for union recognition, was not accepted by the regents.

After Repair Job Ag Union Opens Again to Students

The Ag Union was opened to students and servicemen yesterday morning after having been closed last week for repairs and painting. The first floor is ready for use now, and according to Doris Chapman, Ag Union director, the entire facilities will be open by Tuesday.

"The Ag Union is becoming more and more popular with the students and servicemen all the time. For this reason we would like to ask increased cooperation from everyone using it," Miss Chapman said.

Jane McCulloch, who has been with the campus Wesley foundation for 14 years, was appointed last month to act as supervisor of personnel. She will also be in charge of the two soda fountains in the Ag Union.

Miss McCulloch will work with the students in planning social affairs which involve the use of the Union. She is a graduate of Northwestern university and took several courses at the University while she was with the Wesley foundation.

Winter Quarter Enrollment Drops

Yesterday's registration figures showed a civilian enrollment of 6,175 for winter quarter. But with the army, navy and women engineers on campus, there is a total registration of 10,732.

Civilian enrollment last quarter was approximately 6,530, the military students bringing it up to nearly 11,000. The decrease is due in part to the heavy graduation at the end of fall quarter.

The total registration is over a thousand more than winter quarter of last year, when the figure was 9,107.

The enrollment is 17 per cent more than a year ago, while fall quarter it was 3.5 per cent more than a year from that time.

Education will have an important part in winning the peace.'

Six University Press publications are being shown at an exhibit of "The Modern Book" at the St. Paul Gallery of Art. The exhibit opened Tuesday and will continue through January 30.

A translation of "Arcadia Borcalis: Selected Poems by Eric Axel Karlfeldt" by Charles W. Stork, and a translation by Raymond L. Grismer, associate professor of Romance languages, and Elizabeth Atkins, assistant professor of English, of "The Book of Apollonius" are among the Press books on display.

The sixth Press publication in the exhibit is "The Background of Thomson's 'Seasons'." Several unbound copies and posters were also contributed by the Press.

Army Pamphlet Is Prepared By Dean Blegen

Dean Theodore C. Blegen of the University Graduate School is now directing preparation of informational pamphlets to be used in informal army camp discussions, according to an incomplete announcement made by the War Department's bureau of public relations, Press Branch.

The purpose of the pamphlets will be to aid soldiers in boning up for the 'G. I.' forums which are rapidly becoming popular in army camps both at home and abroad.

The Press Branch release states that the responsibility for the pamphlets' preparation has been placed in the hands of the American Historical association.

"To take charge of the work of preparing the pamphlets the association has established the Historical Service board, an editorial staff composed of experts in many fields of education—history, economics, political economy and sociology. The board guarantees the accuracy of the information in the pamphlets."

It is expected that the first series of pamphlets dealing with topics of current interest will be released early in 1944.

Guy Stanton Ford, former University of Minnesota president, has also been named to assist Dean Blegen on the editorial staff of the Historical association for the preparation of the pamphlets.

The War Department's Press Branch release points with pride to the army discussion group organized at Camp Lee, Virginia. "The topic to be discussed gets an advance build-up over the camp radio and loudspeaker system and through announcements in the post newspaper and on bulletin boards. The semi-weekly meetings are well attended. No matter how profound the subject, it is cheerfully tackled.

"The discussion groups are popular because when American soldiers get together, somebody's bound to have something to say."

U Medical School Has Precious Agar Supply

The war in the Pacific has had its repercussions in the nation's bacteria laboratories. Agar, a seaweed product used extensively in bacteria research, comes from the Far East, but the source of supply has now been almost entirely cut off.

The University of Minnesota Medical School has a supply of agar that will last for the rest of the year, but after the present supply is gone, a substitute must be found.

Agar is a gelatinous substance made from seaweeds used as an ingredient in bacterial cultures. It causes the cultural media to jell making a hard surface on which the germs will grow. This makes it possible to separate one species from another, and the result is a pure culture.

At present the Fish and Wildlife service is trying to develop a new source for the material. Gelatin may be used as a substitute, but it is not too good because it is not as resistant to high temperature as agar.

Before the war, agar was used to give candy a creamy consistency and to keep chocolate milk mixed. Since then it has been used only for essential purposes.

Bobby Pin Burglar Upsets Mass. Coed

Crime Note: The biggest robbery in the history of Massachusetts State College recently deprived State students of $400 in cash plus ration coupons and jewelry.

The one light note in the otherwise tragic affair was the case of the coed who had just washed her hair when she discovered that the burglar (or burglars) had walked off with her bobby pin case! Five fraternity houses and two other residence halls were robbed in the one-evening crime wave.

"CANDID" CAMERA SHOOTS SIX FOOT NEGATIVES!

THE world's largest camera, developed and used by Bell Telephone Laboratories, makes negatives up to 6 feet high at the rate of 20,000 a month. The crew works inside the camera which has a battery of lenses with focal lengths to 70 inches.

Photographs to full scale are made of valuable technical drawings that are costly to produce. These were formerly short-lived through the repeated heat and handling of blue-printing.

This safer, faster method helps speed the designing of new and special communications equipment for the armed forces—now the main job of Bell Laboratories' scientists.

Thorpe Is Pessimistic About First Tank Meet With Lawrence

Tanker coach, Niels Thorpe expressed pessimism Wednesday afternoon concerning the Gopher swimmers' clash with Lawrence college at Cooke hall Saturday. The Minnesota tank squad, made up of a few returning lettermen and a large group of freshmen, have been drilling feverishly to meet the Lawrence outfit, but Mr. Thorpe does not feel that his men will be able to take the formidable gang from Appleton.

The Lawrence swimmers are mostly from the V-12 detachment stationed on that campus and several of their men have had previous experience in college meets. Two of the top talkmen leading the Lawrence squad are Jim Spangler of Chicago and Robert Pringle of Honolulu, both experienced pool men.

Coach Thorpe is counting on veterans Ed Robb, Sam Solhaug and Jim Frazier to lead the Gophers in the contest, and expects to see some good work from Roland Thomson, Dick Evans, Gopher hopeful, and from Fred Riegel, former Carleton letterman.

Lawrence is the first meet in the 1944 Minnesota swimming squad's schedule, and gives the tank fans a first look at the new Gopher tankmen. Next comes Wisconsin at Minnesota on January 15, then Iowa State at Ames on January 22, and Iowa University at Iowa City on February 12. The championship meet will be at Northwestern University on February 19, while the National Intercollegiate meet date has not been set yet.

This is the first time in the last 24 years that Lawrence has scheduled a meet with the Gopher tank squad. Lawrence, usually not a championship tank school, is reputed to have come up with something big this year in the way of navy transfers, including the above mentioned stars. The Gophers, on the other hand, lost many of their men through graduation last spring, and a few more to the armed forces since then.

Tank fans will remember some of the names in the Gopher lineup as former stars of other years. Ed Robb, who came to Minnesota after three years as a star swimmer at Minneapolis West high, has always turned in a topflight job as a backstroke man, while Vernon Ruotsalainen has already made his big splash as a Gopher diver in the last season. Ruotsalainen can be counted on to pile up some points on the Gopher score sheet Friday night.

The lineups for Saturday evening's meet are as follows:

MINNESOTA: Medley relay—Fred Riegel, Ed Robb, Dick Evans; 220 yard free style—Don Fraser, Warren Adams; 50 yard dash—Sam Solhaug, Dick Evans; diving—Vernon Ruotsalainen, Jim Frazier; 100 yard free style—Sam Solhaug, Jim Frazier; 150 yard backstroke—Roland Thomson, Fred Riegel; 200 yard backstroke—John Tyrholm, Ed Robb, Robert Gorgan, David Goulet; 440 yard free style medley—Bud Wiseman, Bob Ross, Warren Adams.

LAWRENCE: Medley relay—Ellingboe, Howe, Frederick; 220 yard free style—Haugner, Rossie; 50 yard dash—Warner, Pringle; diving—Galoff, Batchelder, Mulvaney; 100 yard free style—Spangler, Howe; 150 yard backstroke—Tannheuser, Ellingboe; 440 yard free style medley—Pringle, Haugner, Warner, Spangler.

Kelley, DeLapp Appear Good; Iowa to Be Tough

About the time that Dr. Carl Nordly was beginning to think that all bad things ran in pairs as Kenny Johnson and Butz Lehrman, two of his starters, were taken sick with scarlet fever and influenza respectively, when the navy program suddenly dumped Ronnie DeLapp into his lap. In addition to this, Gene Kelly came along, proving that some good things still come in pairs.

Although Lehrman made an appearance at practice yesterday he wasn't too chipper, and Nordly continued to toy with Duane Baglien, Bob Snyder, Pat Geraghty, Gordy Emerson, DeLapp, and Kelly in his plans. Indications are that he will resort to frequent substitution in the coming games with Iowa Friday and Saturday nights.

Both Kelly and DeLapp showed up very well in their first practice sessions in spite of the fact that neither has had much to do with the hardwood for quite a while. DeLapp is an especially welcome sight, for he is acquainted with a large number of different shots.

"I haven't decided as yet who will be in the starting lineup," said Nordly adding, "we've been so hard hit by illness."

This will be the first Big Ten conference game for both the Gophers and the Hawkeyes. The Iowa coach, "Pop" Harrison has scouted the Gophers and declares that, "Although they are not tall, they have speed and fair shooting ability."

Iowa will be far from a push-over, considering that it is the only unbeaten conference team and has an excellent average of 62 1/2 points to the opponents' 29 in four victories. A lot of the testing of the Gopher defense will be done by forwards Dick Ives and Dave Danner, who have picked off 147 of Iowa's 249 total points so far.

Soldier Loses Pay On Wildcat-Irish Game

America's fighting men still follow the results of athletic events back in the States judging from the letters received by Northwestern's athletic department.

In a recent letter, Lt. Paul Werd, end on the Wildcat 1938 football team, wrote from England, "Just learned the Northwestern-Notre Dame score. Besides losing a month's pay, I shall have to ask for a transfer to the South Pacific. What a beating I'm taking from my outfit."

Kallin Has Goalie Post; Perko Out

Coach Larry Armstrong's hockey team showed definite signs of improvement in their practice sessions yesterday after their scrimmage with Honeywell of the Park league on Tuesday. Armstrong commented that it was just the type of practice needed to show the squad some of their mistakes so they could be cleared up for the series with St. James this weekend.

The starting lineup remains the same throughout yesterday's drill. Lou Kallin was in the net. Bob Graiziger and Bob Carley were at the defense positions. Dick Nordly at center with John Adams and John Behrendt flanking him at the wings rounded out the starters.

With Harry Bratnober still not able to take the ice it seems almost a certainty that Kallin will start at the goalie position Friday evening.

Along with the news that Arne Johnson would be unable to continue play this season pending army induction, comes the bad news that the Gophers will have to go without the services of Mike Perko at a defense position. Perko has been declared ineligible.

Coach Armstrong's second string selections also remained the same and included Paddy Ryan at center with Bob Heleen and Jim Wild at the wings. Granville "Granny" Guttersen and Al Opsahl held down the defense spot.

No predictions on the outcome of the tussle with St. James Friday evening have been given by Armstrong, but with two more practice sessions remaining to iron mistakes the Gophers have proved a worthy opponent for the fast skating Canadians from Winnipeg.

Squad Ten Looms As Top Contender

Ten teams in Division 1 of the Navy V-12 basketball league clashed at Cooke hall and the Field house last night, and one team in particular emerged as a powerful contender to watch in future games. That team is Squad 10, which ran roughshod over Squad 6 for its fourth straight triumph, 93-18.

Working on a 15-9 halftime margin, Squad 10 built up its final score by use of a fast break as well as dead-eye shooting under the basket. Wayne Johnson and Jerry Boren got 13 and eight points respectively for the victors.

In other games, Squad 3 added to the growing string of Squad 9 defeats a 45-27 shellacking. Cockrell at one forward spot eeked out a mere 28 points, while Reinhardt got 20 of the losers' 27 points himself. Also, Squad 2 took Squad 1 by a 24-15 score and Squad 5 drubbed Squad 7 with a 17-6 count. In the only game in the Academic Fraternities league, Sigma Alpha Epsilon walked over Sigma Alpha Mu to the tune of 34-17.
