GIRLS DISCUSS SELF GOVERNMENT PROBLEM

Occupation of Alice Shevlin Hall Brings up Vital Question of Control

At noon yesterday chapel was filled with girls assembled in mass meeting by the president of the Woman's League.

The question before the meeting was that of a scheme of government to help Mrs. Ladd in her oversight of the 900 girls of the university. One suggestion was that a joint committee of the presidents of the League and the Association with three others appointed in mass meeting, should be selected to look after the interests of the girls.

Another plan has been suggested and is calling forth much discussion from every quarter. This is the formation of a self-government association composed of all the girls in college.

This plan is in successful operation at most of the girls' colleges in the east where the dormitory system is in use. Self-government at Minnesota would be an organization without dues or pledges, but based upon the honor system, with the active co-operation of every girl in college.

To find out what the girls desire in this matter, a vote will be taken. A box will be placed in the registrar's office Friday, and every girl is requested to consider the subject carefully, and vote either for committee-government or for self-government for the girls of Minnesota.

Dedication Ceremony Today

The long-anticipated dedication of the new Woman's building will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was originally planned to have it in the evening, but as no men except the faculty members are to be allowed within the sacred premises, the girls would have difficulty getting there, it was decided to hold it in the afternoon.

The program will commence at 4 o'clock and all girls are invited to attend.

HOCKEY FOR CO-EDS

Girls Plan to Organize Club to Play on Northrop Field

A hockey club seems to be next in order for the co-eds.

Several members of the fair sex have importuned the president of the athletic board for permission to practice on Northrop Field, if it should be flooded for the men's hockey team.

A list has been started, signed by those girls who wish to join the club. All girls interested are requested to sign at once. The list is at the post-office window.

SENIOR REGALIA

Cap and Gown Committee Ready for Measurements

The committee on senior caps and gowns is ready to take measurements for orders at the following places—the men in the registrar's office, the women in the Y. W. C. A. room, library. All seniors are expected to come prepared to give height and weight. The hours are for men, 2nd and 4th hours, M. W. F., 3rd and 5th hours, T. Th. S.; for women 2nd and 5th hours.

LITTLE WHITE NOTES CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

"Dear Bud" Missives Make Many Dates for Unfortunate "Jacks"

"I think there must be some mistake. This—this doesn't seem to belong to be."

A timid freshman stood at the postoffice window and nervously pushed a little white note over to the postmaster.

The note ran thus:
Dear Bud: Can you go to the Glee and Mandolin Club Show with me Friday night? I've heard them practiced and it's the richest thing this side of Rockefeller.

Hope you can go. —Jack
The next to present one of those mysterious "billet-doux" was a well-known professor. She said: "I think this must be in the wrong box." Explanations followed.

Another professor tendered a small white missive with an apologetic smile.

The chapel procession began. Voices were heard outside the post-office. A feminine voice said:

"Why, look at what I found in my box! Dear Bud! Indeed! The audacity of calling me that! Who is it? Jack—why it must be Jack. No, I don't know him well enough to—It must be in the wrong box."

Part of the regular chapel procession turned aside to the postmaster's window and handed in various notes with indignation, apologies or blushes, or both.

And now all the "Jacks" in college are taking half a day off to figure out if they are all "stuck" to take a girl to the Glee and Mandolin Club concert.

FINDS SKELETON IN BOX

Pile of Bones Comes to Co-ed Thru Medium of the Postoffice

A human skeleton was found in one of the postoffice boxes yesterday morning.

One of the Daily reporters made the shocking discovery during the first hour.

All morning it was viewed with awe by the members of the staff, but at chapel time the spectral pile of bones disappeared.

It was a perfect skeleton, six inches long. "Oh, isn't it the cutest!" said the girl who received it.

INTER FRATERNITY HOCKEY

League to be Formed and a Championship Schedule Arranged

An inter-fraternity hockey league is being formed among the different fraternities. It is planned to form a league on the same basis as the baseball league last spring.

A meeting of those interested is to be held in the near future and a schedule will be made to secure a pennant to go to the championship team.

CHANGE FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS NEXT SATURDAY

Y. W. C. A. Girls Will Hold Annual Bazaar in Alice Shevlin Hall

Alice Shevlin Hall will be thrown open to the public for the first time Saturday, Dec. 8. The occasion is the annual Christmas bazaar given by the Y. W. C. A.

Aprons, bags, and fancy work of every kind and description, all of which will make suitable Christmas presents, will be on sale.

The affair will continue thruout the afternoon and evening. Short programs will be given. The one for the afternoon is as follows:

Piano solo, Gertrude Hull. Vocal solo (violin obligato), Frances Chamberlain. Reading, Sara Preston. Violin solo, Florence Hofflin. Selection, Girls Quartet.

Saturday evening: Piano solo, Frank Bibb. Violin solo, Anna Louise Woodcock. Selection from Kipling, Arthur Kachel. Solo, Lester Luther; accompaniment, Miss Pontus. "An Original Monologue," Grace Garrish.

U. C. A. MEETS SUNDAY

There will be a meeting of the association in the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday, Dec. 9, at 4:15 p. m. Rev. Fr. Lawler, pastor of the Cathedral, will address the association. All the members as well as those interested in the society are requested to be present.

WANT NARROWER FOOTBALL

Gridiron People Busy with Suggestions for Next Year's Play

Ed Cochems, a Wisconsin star of some years ago is advocating a football of a different shape from the one now in use and his idea is in some measure backed by Stagg of Chicago.

Cochems, who is the coach at St. Louis University, believes that the ball used at present is too cumbersome for the forward pass. By lengthening the ball a couple of inches and giving it tapering ends with a bulge in the middle, he says a coach could reduce the fumbling on a rainy day, increase the distance of kicks by ten yards and give the thrower back a greater hold on the ball and a surer and longer pass.

Coach Stagg said this in regard to Cochems' suggestion: "I think the idea of having a slimmer ball is an excellent one and one that should be tried out."

When interviewed, Dr. Williams said that he had given the matter no thought whatever.

Coach Cochems has announced that he will attempt to form a league of the southwestern universities on the same plan as the "Big Nine." The rules will be practically the same as those that govern the conference in which Minnesota is with the exception of the freshman rule.

Cochems says of the first year rule: "We allow a freshman to play as soon as he enters the institution, and I think it a very foolish thing that the western association does not adopt the same rule. The freshmen they secure here now are capable of putting up a good, strong game, as they gain considerable experience and knowledge of the game in the high schools."

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN DAILY MANAGEMENT

Colburn Succeeds Lyon, resigned, and Michener Elected Managing Editor

At a meeting of the Daily board of publishers late yesterday afternoon, Frank Lyon formally presented his resignation from the position of business manager of the Daily.

Mr. Lyon's report on finances showed the publication to be in the best possible condition.

The resignation of Edward S. Hall from his position as managing editor was accepted and C. K. Michener elected to head the paper for the remainder of the year. Mr. Hall is at present doing newspaper work at Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Following is Mr. Lyon's report to the board of publishers:

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 5th, 1906.
To the Board of Publishers of the Minnesota Daily.

Gentlemen: As business manager of the Minnesota Daily I submit the following report concerning the financial condition of the Minnesota Daily, December 1st, 1906:

Total Receipts, Sept. 1st to Dec. 1st, '06 $397.79
Total Expenditure 869.76

Balance on hand $ 28.03

Assets
Cash on hand $ 28.03
Due from advertising 250.05
Subscriptions due and payable 395.75
Cash on hand $ 28.03
Advertising contracted for and now running 1,400.00

Total Assets $2073.83

Liabilities
Index Press Account $ 131.33
Salaries due and payable 114.00
Printing estimates Dec. 1st, '06 to June 1st, 1907 1,300.00
Salaries Dec. 1st, '06 to June 1st, 1907 662.00
Miscellaneous 66.45

Total Liabilities $2073.83

Owing to the recent death of my father and other circumstances over which I have no control I have been obliged to change my plans for the college year considerably. I find that other affairs in addition to my regular college work will require much of my time for the balance of the year, and that I shall be unable to devote my attention to the Minnesota Daily. It is necessary, therefore, for me to present herewith my resignation as Business Manager, to take effect December 8th, 1906.

HOW ABOUT HOCKEY?

Now that the hockey season has begun it is time to ask a question to which no satisfactory answer has been given for several years: Why does Minnesota not have a hockey team?

Minnesota is noted for being a state in which every one skates and skates well. Nearly every year some of the championship prizes in skating are won by Minnesota citizens. In hockey the high school teams have always maintained an enviable record and there are enough old high school stars in the university who would form a good nucleus around which to build a team.

The hockey season comes at a time when all other sports are driven indoors by the cold weather, and basketball is the only thing left for an athlete who desires to train all the year around, and hockey would offer an excellent opportunity for track and baseball men to keep in training until spring.

There are so many lakes around Minneapolis that there are plenty of places in which to practise and Northrop Field could be flooded at a very small cost.

The organization of a girls' hockey club shows that the girls have the proper spirit. The different fraternities are also getting in line and hockey promises to become the most popular winter sport at the university.

As to a schedule, a good one could easily be arranged as all of the Big Nine colleges have teams and there are many other smaller colleges which have good teams.

This question has come up each year for several years but nothing has ever been done in the matter. We should like to see some action taken in this matter as it deserves to be pushed.

GIFTS FOR SHEVLIN HALL

The class of '03 has plans on foot for a memorial to be placed in Shevlin Hall. Nothing has been said about what it will be. The class of '06 are going to follow suit, and present some memorial and probably other classes intend to do the same. Especially the women who formerly attended the university are anxious to help the co-eds in providing for the new building.

Tonight, Dec. 6, at the East Side Commercial Club, the senior men will banquet.

You are cordially invited to inspect the beautiful and best gathered from the market of the world.

Meeting Called to Discuss New Association Building

A special meeting of the advisory board of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Monday evening at 8:30 in the association parlors. The meeting has been called at the request of the board to see what action ought to be taken with regard to the new building movement. It is possible that something definite will result from such a meeting and that the time will not be far distant when Minnesota will keep her place in this respect as well as in all others.

IMPORTANT CHANGES

This resignation is not caused by disloyalty to the Minnesota Daily, nor by any fears concerning the probable financial standing of the Minnesota Daily for the balance of the year. The above report shows that the new association plan has proven fairly successful, that the Minnesota Daily is now in good financial condition, and that with little additional effort on the part of the management the paper will close the present college year with all expenses and back debts paid, with a reasonable surplus on hand, and we trust with greatly improved standing.

This action would have been taken earlier in the year had it not been that I wished to remain with the Minnesota Daily until the new plan had been given a fair trial and the successful outcome for the year had been assured. This has now been accomplished and I therefore resign at this time.
