The Outstanding Achievement Award

Ten years ago the Regents of the University of Minnesota, long desirous of giving recognition to outstanding alumni of the University, approved an award in the form of a medal and citation for outstanding achievement which could be presented from time to time to those former students who have attained signal distinction in their chosen fields.

This evening, at the Law School Recognition Exercises, the University has the privilege of honoring one of its graduates, an attorney and civic leader of St. Paul.

All of us present know that the greatness of a university resides in large degree in its graduates who contribute to the hopes, aspirations, and well-being of mankind. The recipients of the Outstanding Achievement Awards at the University of Minnesota have earned for themselves the respect and the admiration of their professional colleagues. The presentation of this award is, among other things, an expression of the deep obligations which all of us have for those who have lived courageously and fruitfully to the end that society in general benefits.
