MEMBERS OF THIS YEAR'S GLEE CLUB ANNOUNCED

Voices So Good Two Tryouts Were Necessary—Membership Now Twenty-five.

Late yesterday afternoon a final decision was reached as to the composition of the Glee Club. The committee had a hard time deciding upon the candidates, on account of the number and quality of the voices. The competition this year was so close that two tryouts were held.

As it had been previously decided to increase the membership from sixteen to twenty-five voices, the following thirteen tenors and twelve basses were chosen:

Tenors.—O. Anderson, Harold Van Dusee, Thomas, A. C. Payne, John Crosby, Agnew, William Farnquist, George Boeke, Neil Stacey, P. G. Ford, Mathew Crawford, Ted Anderson and Nesse.

Basses, Walker, Le Roy Carlson, Hodapp, Donald Durham, Earl Knutson, Henry Doermann, Miles McNally, Snodgrass, Webster, Theodore Blegen and Harry Wilk.

Ripley Dorr will be the accompanist.

TRYOUTS WELL ATTENDED

Interest in "Girl in the Moon" Keen—All Who Tried Out Eligible.

The first tryouts for the "Girl in the Moon" were held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Building. About 35 men tried out and the managers consider the preliminaries very satisfactory. The old bugbear of eligibility is not in evidence as it was last year and all of those who tried out are eligible.

There are still several parts which have not been filled and for those who wish to fill them there will be another tryout at the Y. M. C. A. at one o'clock on Monday. This will probably be the last chance

The following men are candidates for officers of the Junior Ball Association:
 For President, Waldorf Ganssle,
 For Vice President, David West,
 For Secretary, Lee Smith,
 Herbert Turnquist,
 For Treasurer, John Jenswold.

Presidents of all the junior classes in the University will meet in the Daily office today at 12:00 M., to arrange for the J. B. election which will be held Thursday, November, 9.

Minnesota Has Best Individual Team—Backfield Is Especially Strong—Chicago Team Royally Entertained During Visit—Purity Banquet Last Night.

Promptly at two o'clock this afternoon Referee Connett will announce the kickoff in what promises to be the greatest football game the west has seen for many years. Both teams are trained to the minute and both coaches, although neither will predict a victory, feel sure that their team has a chance of winning. Coach Stagg has developed a great machine for the Gopher game. The Maroon mentor has had a small squad of men to draw from, but has succeeded in selecting eleven men from the squad who pull together. He has had few veterans to work with, but feels sure that if his first team can remain intact throughout the entire game his team will have a good chance of winning.

The team will line up the same as in the Iowa game. Captain Pickering will be at fullback on the offense and at left end on the defense. "Pick" has played a great game at fullback this season, his carrying the ball thirty yards in two successive downs in the Iowa game has demonstrated that the big captain can find the holes through the line. "Pick" is an expert at hurling the forward pass, his throws always being fast and accurate.

Rosenwald is back in his old form, having gone through the week's grind without receiving further injury to his side. He has shown his oldtime dodging ability, and can be depended upon to tear off a good gain when called upon. Chicago men remember "Rosie's" remarkable exhibition at Marshall Field last year and they will do their best to stop the clever dodger.

Louis Stevens, the star of the Nebraska game, is showing up better than ever this year. Steve follows his interference better than any man on the team. His defensive playing has been a marked feature of the secondary defense.

Teams at Purity Banquet.

Last night the two teams were entertained at a "purity banquet" at the University Club rooms. The affair which is one of the first of its kind to be held within the last four years, was a decided success. President Vincent acted as toastmaster. The friendly rivalry between the Chicago and Minnesota elevens was brought out in the speeches of Coaches Stagg and Williams and Captains Rademacher and Pickering.

Ralph Capron, at quarter, is covering himself with glory in each contest. The little speed king scored the first touchdown in the Nebraska and Iowa games and both of them were the results of spectacular runs. "Cape" makes use of his speed and is showing a great deal of dodging ability at the same time. His handling of punts has been unusually well for a player of his experience. He has been coached in this department for the last week, and it is expected that he will continue to show the improvement that each game has brought forth.

In Scruby Chicago has discovered a great kicker, and if "Cape" can take care of Scruby's boots one of Chicago's greatest points of attack will have been solved.

Minnesota Can Win.

Viewed as a whole and individually, the Minnesota backfield has an edge on the Maroon backs. This fact is expected to manifest itself in the final score. If the Minnesota line can take care of the Chicago forwards, there seems to be little doubt but that the superior ability of Minnesota's backfield will be the determining factor of the game.

PRESIDENT VINCENT SHOWS STUDENTS HIS LOYALTY

Loyal Sentiment of President Brings Minnesota Spirit Back Again.

"I want to see the best team win to-morrow, and I want that team to wear the maroon—and old gold."

This loyal sentiment, expressed by President Vincent yesterday, formed the keynote of the largest and most enthusiastic mass meeting of the year. The band was present and the singing was spirited, and several short, inspiring, talks were made. A new yell, called the "Roar" and some lively new songs were practiced.

President Vincent was the first speaker. He said that he anticipated the game tomorrow with mixed emotion. Loyalty is acquired in layers, and if he saw a game between Chicago and Yale, he would be apt to find himself hoping for Yale, in just the same way that in the Minnesota-Chicago game tomorrow, he may find his sympathies partly with Chicago. However, he added, he had acquired a good sized layer of Minnesota spirit already and he could hardly be expected to throw off entirely in a few months the loyalty of eighteen years. In conclusion, he stated, "I want to see the best team win tomorrow, and I want that team to wear the maroon—and gold. Long live Minnesota."

Professor Frelin, who then addressed the students, said that twenty-five years ago, a green French boy landed on the shores of this great country. He travelled from east to west and learned how immense it was. But it was at Minnesota that he learned how bluffs could be climbed more easily than hills or mountains, and it was at Minnesota also, he added, that he became acquainted with the great American game of football. He expressed his confidence of victory tomorrow, and he said that McGovern had told him that we were sure to win.

Lyle Johnson spoke on the progress of the team. He said, "Pickering has worked harder, probably, than any other captain Minnesota ever had, and the team is in fine shape."

Bunny Rathbun, who was discovered in the crowd and forced to come forward said that he had one thing he wanted to make clear. "The Minnesota team, being composed of Minnesota men, is sure to fight like Sherman's definition of war." He said that there was no doubt but what they could deliver the goods. As an alumnus, he desired to say that one did not appreciate what college spirit was, until awaiting the returns of a big game, in some small town.

The students at the University, in fact our whole community, have been able to settle most of their own difficulties, when left to Butting In themselves. Trouble al- From the ways starts, however, Outside when our interests are taken up by outsiders.

Problems of this kind have not been coming up as frequently as in former years, but we have an excellent example before us in the ticket scalping in vogue in the hotels and saloons.

Some time ago the proprietor of the Radisson cigar counter started to pass out handbills, advertising the sale of choice tickets for the Chicago-Minnesota game. It has been found that this is but one instance of a rather common practice in some places down town. Of course, all the men engaged in the scalping have to do when addressed, is raise one eyebrow and ask what we can do about it.

In the first place, who is content to see a lot of men having no connection with the institution whatever, step in and make a lot of easy money out of our football team. This is undoubtedly just another case where the attentive friend of a sporting editor will step in and call us for interference. He will undoubtedly say that such matters are only in the province of the professional. He may intimate that we do not know as much about scalping as he does. In all the other matters of our conduct which he has taken exception to we are totally unconcerned with what he knows. But we know that ticket scalping on the University football games loses to the athletic association money which is theirs.

We also know that our management will get a lot of blame for which they are not liable. They have made a rule, and there is no evidence to show that they have broken it, that only six tickets can be bought by one person. It is said that the hotels in some cases had their entire bell-boy force on hand at the ticket sales, buying up the valuable seats and holding them or a rise in the market.

Such a condition is received with particular dissatisfaction at the present time, as a large number of the students have found it difficult to provide themselves and their friends with good seats. As the outsiders can not and do not conform to the system of seat selling ethics in vogue here, we will have to have some way to keep the control of our affairs completely in our own hands.

SHAKS GO ON WAR PATH.

War paint is being applied by the Shakopean tribe in preparation for traveling their annual warpath. The band will meet on the Library steps at seven o'clock Tuesday and will depart to the hunting grounds, where a pow-wow and other Indian stunts will take place.

The following proclamation has been issued:

"Hark all warriors. The time of year has come when all good braves string their arrows and lace their moccasins. The trail is light and the journey sure, and on the third day from this, all Shaks will meet not long after the sun has gone down, to start on war path and heap big pow-wow."

An unusually large number of senior were present at a class meeting yesterday noon, when the class constitution was submitted by the committee and adopted. In regard to the all-senior feed, the other colleges were heard from. Lester Knapp, speaking for the senior engineers, said, "The engineers have never laid down yet. When it comes to the all-senior spread, we'll be there."

The reports of the various committees on a place for the feed were heard. The Agricultural College refused to consider serving the supper. Owing to the difficulty of getting tables and dishes in the Armory, it

The "feed" will be held some time before Thanksgiving and an effort will be made to have it an "all-senior" in every sense.

The students and the Athletic Association are doing their best to show the Chicago football team a good time during their stay here. Yesterday afternoon the students took the team motoring through the boulevards of the Twin Cities.
