SHEVLIN HALL

The attention of all women of the Summer Session is called to the fact that Shevlin Hall is open for use during the day. In addition to the office of the Dean of Women, where information regarding rooms may be obtained and where any inquiries will be gladly answered, and the offices of the Vocational Adviser for Women, the Y.W.C.A., and the W.S.G.A., Shevlin Hall contains parlors with comfortable chairs and settees, a reading table, an assembly room with piano and phonograph, a rest room, a study room, a non-toll telephone, and material for a "stitch in time." This is the women's building on the campus, and all women are urged to make use of its resources.

TO WAR CHEST SUBSCRIBERS

All persons who subscribed to the War Chest Fund are asked to make their payments regularly each month by presenting coupon books at the nearest bank and paying the appropriate amount. Students and faculty are asked to facilitate the collection of pledges by giving prompt cooperation. It is obviously undesirable for the Central Committee to spend on postage for individual notices money that was intended for philanthropic purposes.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The States Relations Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has established a register for the purpose of aiding graduates of State agricultural colleges returning from military service in securing positions. Dr. A. C. True, Director of the States Relations Service writes as follows:

"We shall be glad to receive from your institution the names and addresses of any of your agricultural graduates returning from military service and desiring positions in order that we may correspond with them regarding this matter, and we will also appreciate it if you would furnish us from time to time notice of vacancies in your State which might be filled by such men."

Application forms may be obtained at the office of the Secretary, University Farm, and it is suggested that any divisions having vacancies correspond with Dr. True.
