CAMPUS AGOG AS POLLING BEGINS

FIRST ELECTION ASSEMBLY DRAWS CROWD OF 2500

Minnesota only School in Western Collegiate World Holding Elections

AUDIENCE GENEROUS IN GIVING APPLAUSE

Candidates for Daily, Gopher State Aims, Outline Policies

The first pre-election assembly has been a success, and is a credit to the University; but the very biggest thing of all remains—for every student to turn out at the polls tomorrow and add to a big and an intelligent vote.

These were the words of Alvin Anderson, chairman of the student's assembly, as that meeting drew to a close yesterday morning. Two thousand students were there, to see the candidates face to face and to hear, personally, the appeals which the principals had to make.

If the casual observer had attempted to make any prediction on the basis of the applause accorded the speakers, he would have had a very difficult time, as the audience was generous in its approbation of each one.

Dworschak Gives Policy
George Dworschak, candidate for Daily, was the first man to be introduced. After his qualifications were read, Mr. Dworschak outlined his principal purposes for administration of the paper, which are, briefly: to maintain a fearless and open editorial policy; to represent impartially the campus activities of all the organizations and colleges; to maintain a distinct section for women's activities; to fight shoulder to shoulder with Leuchter and Spaulding for winning teams at Minnesota; to appoint, and promote members on the basis of merit and merit only.

Jack Smalley, after a similar introduction, appealed to the students on the basis of a larger and more representative Daily. His plans as outlined include an eight-column paper, with a larger number of pages; a Saturday supplement, as an outlet for the literary talent of the University; a separate department of sports for women; and a woman associate editor to be chosen by the women's organizations on the campus.

Gopher Candidates Speak
James U. Bohan, first to speak of the candidates for managing editorship of the 1924 Gopher, outlined his policy as follows: "If I am elected, I will further the aim for a bigger and better Gopher; I will select my assistants with regard only to their merit; I will insist on fair and equal treatment for every college; and I will see that the 1924 Gopher reflects only the spirit of—"

Real Girls Will Hand Out Kisses At "Castanets"

Six kisses, and from real girls at that, will be distributed to the most fortunate in the audience between the second and third acts, Friday, April 28, when the Spanish Club presents "Castanets," a musical comedy. But the kisses are in a novel form and are apt to give the receivers an unexpected shock, so the club said.

Polls For Y. M. In Post-Office

Officers for the Y. M. C. A. for the year 1922-1923 will be chosen by members of the association at polls in the post office today. Two candidates have been nominated for each office. Polls will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Mid-Term Marks All In By May 5

Mid-quarter grades for the spring session must be in the registrar's office by Friday, May 5, according to Mr. H. G. Arndorf, assistant registrar. There are approximately 200 students who are at the present time on probation who will be affected by the mid-quarter marks.

MINERS ENTRAIN FOR FIELD TRIP

Delegations Will Go to Montana, South Dakota, and Iron Range

Nearly a hundred members of the sophomore and junior classes of the School of Mines will entrain within a few days for their annual spring field trips. The students will be divided into three sections. The first section consisting of 30 junior mining engineers will leave May 2 for Great Falls, Helena, Anaconda and Butte, Mont. They will study the mining, smelting and refining of copper and zinc at Great Falls and Anaconda. At East Helena they will study the smelting of lead and silver, and at Butte underground mining work and surface plants.

The second group will consist of geologists from both the School of Mines and the Academic College. They will be accompanied by professors G. M. Schwartz and W. H. Emmons, and will spend about six weeks in the vicinity of Lead, South Dakota, studying the mineral formations of the Black Hills.

The third group is composed of thirty members of the sophomore class in mining engineering, who will report at Crosby, Minn., May 1, for about seven weeks work on the Cuyuna range. This group will be accompanied by Professors A. J. Carlson, E. H. Kersten and L. S. Hellig.

M. E. A. College Section at St. Thomas Saturday

The college section of the M. E. A. will hold its spring meeting at St. Thomas College, Saturday, April 29, at 2 p. m. Dean M. E. Haggerty is to talk on "Intelligence, Scholarship and Success of College Graduates." Professor Davis or Macalester will speak on "The Fundamentals of Education." The meeting will be followed by dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Rules For Election Stated By All-University Council

1. There shall be no electioneering or soliciting of voters within a radius of 50 feet of the voting booths. At the Agriculture campus, instead of the 50 foot rule, there will be no electioneering allowed on an election day in the building in which the election is held. (Upon request of the Council of Agriculture and Forestry.)

COSMOPOLITANS PLAN UNUSUAL REVUE PROGRAM

Different Foreign Foods Will be Served Between Acts—Girl Vendors

USHERS TO REPRESENT MANY NATIONALITIES

Posters on Display in Library—Prize to be Awarded by Popular Vote

That an unusual program has been achieved by the Cosmopolitan Club for their annual Revue to be held in the Armory tomorrow night was the opinion expressed by Arthur Motley, coach, last night.

"The novelty of the program is what strikes me," Mr. Motley, coach, declared last night. "The Revue is set off from the usual performance. The members of the Cosmopolitan Club have achieved a continuity that is remarkable by uniting each separate act of the different nations into a segment story."

The scenery will be second not even to that of the Arabs. Girls Represent Nations
Russian cakes, Swedish cookies, delicate French bonbons, Chinese candies and all sorts of foreign cakes and candies, representative of the different groups in the Cosmopolitan Club will be sold between acts, at the Cosmopolitan Revue Saturday night, April 29.

Girls in native costumes will act as vendors. Girls who will usher dressed to represent the different nations in the pageant of peace, are Helen Swanson, Jennie Wall, Helen Edlund, Faye Bradley, Winnifred Whitman, Ruth Maser, Eleanor Cedarstrom, Jennie Graham, Hulda Thelander and Florence E. Pierce.

Dean Ford Writes Book on Prussian Recovery

A precedent for German recovery has been set by Guy Stanton Ford in his book "Ruins and the Rise of Reform in Russia, 1807-1815." The book is intended for a biography, but deals chiefly with the months following the German defeat at Jena in October, 1806, when the Prussian state virtually collapsed, and Stein stood out as the possible savior of the state.

Rules For Election Stated By All-University Council

2. Personal voting only will be allowed.
3. There shall be no soliciting of votes by paid advertising, hand bills, election cards, form letters or notes, either printed, typewritten, or written, or by banners or posters of any nature whatsoever; nor shall the same be distributed through any medium whatsoever.
4. Candidates shall be held strictly accountable for the acts of their agents, friends, adherents, and enthusiasts in violation of the strict letter or spirit of any of the aforesaid regulations or part thereof.
5. The individual violators of any of the aforesaid regulations or of any part thereof will be summarily dealt with by the All-University Student Council for such violations.
6. The All-University Student Council reserves the right to determine whether the letter or spirit of the above regulations has been violated.

Harry Brown To Captain Gophers Against Purples

Harry Brown, baseball captain will lead the Gophers against Northwestern today and tomorrow. The Minnesota team has been revamped in an effort to increase its hitting power, and Gopher fans are looking forward to a strong exhibition at Evanston.

POLITICAL ASSEMBLY HIGH-LITES

Election cards, buttons, banners, bands, and extreme spirit were absent at the political assembly yesterday. At times it bore the resemblance of a national Democratic Convention with William Jennings Bryan absent.

The mighty "women's vote" seemed to appeal strongly to both Daily candidates. Dworschak promised to increase the co-ed space allotment, while Smalley endorsed a plan by which the fair sex would own a member of the staff who would have the same rank as the editor-in-chief.

When Tom Phelps, managing editor of the Daily, finished his plea for the adoption of the method of electing publication heads, a spectator was heard to remark: "And still they gazed, and still their wonder grew, That one small man could carry all he knew."

"At present students vote for their candidates because of their personal beauty," Tom Phelps said. Perhaps that accounted for Phelps' election last year.

Bids Open For New Library Building

Bids for the construction of the new Library building soon to be erected are open for acceptance, according to Albert J. Lobb, comptroller. Bids for the addition to be added to the University high school are also being accepted.

Work on the new Music building is progressing favorably and indications point to its completion by next September, the time specified by contract. The interior is at present being plastered. The pipe organ will be installed sometime in July.

CAST PARTIALLY COMPLETED FOR "TRIAL BY JURY"

Women's Co-operative Alliance Purchases Matinee Performance

PLAY HEADS SENIOR WEEK THIS YEAR

Prolog Being Directed by Geo. Lamb—Satire on Campus Courts

Announcement of the partially completed cast for the senior class play, "Trial by Jury," was made last night by Arthur Motley, coach. The play which promises to be one of the biggest productions of the University year, will be presented at the Lyric Theatre, Monday, May 8.

In some instances in the announcement of the cast of characters the names of two candidates for a part are given for the reason that the coach has been unable to decide to which one the part would be assigned.

Cast Partially Elected
The final cast has not been decided upon. The partial list follows:
The Judge—Philip Wilson, R. M. Croose; The Defendant—Carlson Neville; Foreman of the Jury—Glen Memon; Usher—Merlin Carlcock; Counsel—Leland Schoenleben; Plaintiff—Meyab Tupper, Helen Sweet; Bridesmaids—Eunice Peterson, May Phillips, Chrystal Justice, Catherine Collins, Ruth Gerley, Beatrice Holmes, Katherine Hammond, Winifred Mc, Ruth Greenfield and Edna Riecke.

Woman's Alliance Purchase
The Women's Co-operative Alliance, composed of Federated Women's Clubs in Minneapolis, have purchased the matinee performance May 8, for a benefit. Mrs. Carlyle Scott recommended the opera very highly, and the clubs were delighted to be able to secure the production. The proceeds from the matinee over and above the price paid the senior class will go to the fund which they have for aiding delinquent juveniles. Miss Barrows of the Women's Club is in charge.

The play, a Gilbert and Sullivan opera, heads senior week this year which is a new venture, as formerly the class play was presented earlier in the year. This is the first time a musical comedy has been staged as the senior play in the University.

Bids Open For New Library Building

Bids for the construction of the new Library building soon to be erected are open for acceptance, according to Albert J. Lobb, comptroller. Bids for the addition to be added to the University high school are also being accepted.

Work on the new Music building is progressing favorably and indications point to its completion by next September, the time specified by contract. The interior is at present being plastered. The pipe organ will be installed sometime in July.

INCREASE IN VOTES PREDICTED

Daily, Gopher, All-U Council Will Furnish Wildest Competition

BOOTHS WILL BE KEPT OPEN LATER

George Dworschak, Jack Smalley in Lineup for Daily Editorship

TODAY WINDUP OF HOT CAMPAIGNING

James Bohannon and Bernard Jones in the Field for 1924 Gopher

With polls open later than in previous years, approaching a climax, and with campus-wide efforts being made to bring out the largest student vote in years, students today will vote for their representatives in the regular spring All-University elections.

Large Vote Predicted

Predicting a 550 per cent increase in the vote over previous years, A. A. Anderson, All-U Council president yesterday declared that all indications point toward a record turnout at the polls today. Booths for academic college voters will be placed in the library and are open from 9 to 3 p. m., one hour later than last year.

Vote on Publication Plan

The offices of the managing editor of The Daily and the 1924 Gopher, together with All-University Council positions, are expected to provide the high lights of today's contest. George Dworschak and Jack Smalley are in the lineup for the Daily with James U. Bohannon and Bernard Jones in the field for the Gopher editorship. The proposed Board of Publications plan for control of student publications is also in the limelight.

Never have University political campaigns been so hotly waged as those which wind up today, and student interest displayed in yesterday's pre-election assembly is taken to point toward a record total vote.

Womens' Work Is Topic Of Talk Today At 4:30

"Opportunities for College Women" will be the subject of Miss Helen M. Bennett's talk to Minnesota women in the Little Theater this afternoon at 4:30. She will emphasize particularly the field open to women under present economic conditions. Miss Bennett will also discuss those occupations which are filled or overcrowded.

"I want to see Minnesota girls personally because that is the best way for me to solve their individual problems," Miss Bennett said in an interview yesterday. She will be in the Jean Martin Brown room this afternoon at 3 p. m. for personal conferences.

"I think it is almost necessary for every large college to have a vocational adviser on the campus, either all the time or at least for frequent interviews," Miss Bennett said yesterday. "To choose her college courses intelligently, a girl must know what her later occupation is going to be."

Miss Bennett has been nominated for county commissioner of Cook county in Illinois on the Republican ticket. She is interested in politics as women's newest vocations. She is also interested in the advantages of vocational training for women.

Last night Miss Bennett was entertained at a dinner at the University house. Tonight she will be dining at a dinner for her at the University house. Tonight she will be dining at a dinner for her at the University house.

"Have You Voted?"

Today is the day they give offices away—they referring to the campus citizenship, and not to the candidates who probably finished the distribution of their plums at least a week ago. To a large extent, the success of student self-government and student publications depends upon the care and foresight with which the average student casts his ballot, and upon the number of careful and foresighted students who take the trouble to vote at all. Elections are and should be a high point in the year's undergraduate activities. Indifference, lack of information, or "spoils system" politics may conceivably work more harm today than all the enthusiasm which may be manifested by the student body in the next three months.

The choice of the men and women who will represent the students in activities during the coming year is a vitally important one. Not voting today may be disastrous and expensive. The point is "Vote," and in voting, "Think."

Stand Up

When the president of the All-University Council yesterday morning called off the names of the candidates for all University offices, about half of them were present to respond. Of this number, there was another group too modest or too uninterested to stand up when their names were called, even though they were many of them sitting in the audience.

At the outset of the meeting, and once during its course, a request was made that all the candidates come up to the stage where they could be seen. These requests were not only unheeded by many, but in addition they did not even show themselves, or left before their names were reached. This is surely a fine recommendation for all concerned.

Evidently positions on the All-University Council in some of the professional schools on this campus, which admit only upperclassmen to boot, are not deemed important enough for the candidates to show themselves. Perhaps these candidates think it ungentlemanly to admit that they are running for office.

Minnesota does not want men and women on all-University boards who look upon their offices as an honor thrust upon them. We want men and women who are qualified for the jobs, who believe themselves that they are qualified, and who are willing to prove their qualifications.

Hereafter, let us hope, false modesty and carelessness will not prevent candidates for important offices from fulfilling their obligations to the people by whom they expect to be elected.
—L. A. G.

No Issues

The more than 1,800 persons who attended the Pre-Election Assembly in the Armory yesterday morning got something out of the time they spent listening to the candidates for the Daily and Gopher editorships, and to the explanation of the Association of Student Publications plan, but we feel free to admit that the candidates certainly did not over-exert themselves to bring this about. This applies to every one of the four would-be editors impartially; one was as lax as the others.

Not a man of the four committed himself on a single one of the issues now before the student body. We didn't hear what a single one of them thinks about the Association of Student Publications plan, about the honor system, about the relative merits of student or faculty government in the everyday life of the University. The speeches they delivered were certainly fine examples of issue dodging.

We are not interested in hearing from their lips the astounding information that they are for a Better Minnesota, that they have their own individual ideas about the technical features of their respective publications. What we wanted to know was what these men believed about the present general campus conditions, so that we could form an idea of what they would in all probability make their publications stand for after election. We have heard the sort of speeches delivered yesterday ever since we have been in school.

There is nothing to do but make the best of it. The candidates yesterday passed by a great opportunity to get out of the old rut and really stand for something. An astute man could have elected himself at that meeting had he delivered such a speech as we have indicated above. Let us hope that we yesterday heard the last of the regular, old-fashioned, pre-election speeches with their appeal to the support of particular groups and their general lack of a real platform.
—L. A. G.

P. O. 106

Last night we took the gently notebook and pencil, climbed into the press car and drove over to the Dollar Grabber House to witness the dress rehearsal of the Annual Mean Dansanante. Mean is right, Watson, mean's the word. When we got back to the Gopher Grin suite at the Rad we had to have a hot foot bath and bathe our eyes in Boric acid. We hope to mosee in your tea if you can beat it. The whole affair begins with a chorus known as the May Basquet, but judging from the length of time it took the dames to get dogged up, the name will in all probability be changed to The January Molasses, and the commencing hour changed from 9 to 10:30. This gang trips out led by one Peg Wise, and, although we can't say whether or not she is, she certainly ambulates a tough larynx over some song about a Ben who never sent her flowers. We was about to give her part of our lunch to console her when in comes the mob surrounded by halos after the show we come to find out that these was no less than the flowers that this Ben sent. He had started 'em when Burleson was still in office. Next we give our eyes to some gang that staggers in moaning about railroad luv. They all carries red lanterns but they needn't have—we wouldn't have bothered them none. To cap this they does none the less than to sit down and begin to shoot a game of Ethiopian chess, the meanwhile hollerin' such phrases as "Hop-up," "On your back" and the so forth, showing that it was no new game they were playing. Then, though we might have suspected it, imagine our surprise at seeing Doug James from the Pal U Home for Boys come shufflin' in. He heard the call of the cacklers and came to the Dollar Grabbers house instead of Hank Niles garage. All same—no diff. After he and this Fossum had throwed a cake walk, the gang grabe the M. & St. L.—James riding the caboose a la Farley. This done, they starts some other effect. Somebody brooses in through the trees dressed in a chimney-sweeper or the less and trips around hunting dew worms. We wasn't interested in the dew worms, personally, but we always hunted 'em with a lantern. About the time we got to the stage, where we was biting holes in the floor the young lady, otherwise known as Florence Neipert, give up the hunt and disappeared. The next was named the Powder Puff Chorus, and they was dressed in a style that would have made the aforementioned Neipert woman look like she was going sleighriding with Doc Cook. If clothes was music, this gang would be a saw-mill. There are a gang of 'em. They're supposed to represent powders and we figured 'em out as follows: Peters, Winchester, U. M. C., Du Pont, Dynamite (C'mon red), and Seidlitz. We dunno but guessed that this gang had their clothes blowed up pretty badly in that big explosion at Trenton, or wherever it was, last year. They is led by some Alum, sister of Jessie Richter (who plays "Peters"), but she's married or something so there's no 40897 TWO DAILY . . lb* . . *****

The next effect give us the hives as some gent patters up and scratches himself red and snores some song on Bad Dreams. Soon a troop of 'em enters all smoking, tob, and one H. Nobelthau (alum too, recently—honor points), flits around with Camels hung all over her dress. She lumps the Bennie and calculates to lasso his nanny when he falls asleep, whereupon these cigarette chorusers do a dance. Then the guy comes to and brays around while the girls do one mean dance. Who—we ask you, the Neb girl sure does a mean job—she slings a hot cigaroot. Then the May Basketters do a ditto, proving that they think they're all right and the night is done.

Bill Tod, Spanish prof. in disguise, is the D. W. Griffith of this affair. In asking him about the prospects for the show he says: "I never felt better in my life, Dempsey is a great man but I feel confident that I can put him away in less time than it takes to tell." Jack McLaury beats the hurdy gurdy. He spends a lot of time tripping around lightly, and if he doesn't ruin that piano nobody ever will.

"You'll not be sorry," said the kid's brother as the kid cursingly opened the Arabian Nights on Christmas.—HUMPTY DD. D.

Bab Says: Josephine Marie Offers Dresses in a Sale

DEAREST GENEVIEVE:
WHOM DO you think I saw this morning? None other than Betty Ann, who tells me quite naively that she is publishing her daily record under the name "Betty Ann's Diary" which is done in very much my own style; flattering me quite a lot, as you know that is the greatest sort of compliment. After that I can hardly say how much I enjoyed it, can I?

THE KEN-BRA
in the Builder's Exchange, next door to the Athletic Club, has announced a special CHICKEN PIE DINNER for Saturday night, at only 75 cents. You have dined at the Ken-Bra of course? The food is very delicious, and the service quiet and satisfying. It is an ideal place for a quiet two-some, or for a larger party. There are private rooms for dinner-parties and banquets. Fraternities are using the rooms for their special occasions.

TUCKER-STEVENS
In the Meyer's Arcade is specializing just now in wraps and coats, for really we have worn heavy coats with comfort up to this time, and now with the warm sunny days realize that we must have a lighter wrap for wear over suits and dresses. I recommend particularly a perfectly plain model, prunella cloth in honey-dew shade with brown lining showing in pockets and scarf collar. Another unusual coat is silver gray marvella with indistinct red stitching. A charming cape model is gerona, comes in navy or brown.

Minnesotans Face Tough Crew in Purple Base-Swipers Who Boast Win Over Ohio State Team

Minnesota's baseball warriors left at 7 p. m. last night for Northwest, 15 men, two coaches and Dr. Cooke making the trip. The Gophers are going into the contest with great confidence and fully expect to bring home the bacon, according to Captain Harry Brown.

Mooney and Brown will be the batteries for today's game, with Captain Palmer on the mound for Northwest. It is the opinion of the coaches that the new batting order will be more effective than the one used against Wisconsin.

PILL SWATTERS GET BOOST FOR VARSITY TEAMS

Director Luehring Issues Call For Varsity Candidates—Games with Drake and Big Ten Schools May Be Arranged

Gopher followers of the national sport of Scotland may have the opportunity of competing with several Big Ten and Western university teams, announced Athletic Director Fred Luehring yesterday.

Drake university is among the prospects for golf meets in the near future. Last year Drake won the championship in both the Missouri Valley Conference and the Western Conference, and made a good run for the national inter-collegiate title.

Wisconsin, traditional enemy in all sports, is also being considered for meets. Besides the Badgers, other Big Ten schools are being negotiated with for matches by Mr. Luehring.

Play in the qualifying tournament will begin Saturday, so it is necessary that all candidates enter at once. Aspirants are asked to hand in their names in Mr. Luehring's office at the Armory.

375,788 Books Issued by Library Last Year
A circulation of 375,788 volumes is reported for the general library during 1920-21 in the president's report issued recently.

On one occasion 220 books were issued in 40 minutes in the lower reading room, the report states. A total of 15,503 books were added to the library and 112,309 volumes were catalogued. The University library borrowed 196 books from other libraries and lent 45. These books went to all parts of the country, from Texas to Winnipeg and from Montana to New York.

Democrats Organize to Boost Party Interests
Democrats of the campus have organized themselves into the University Democratic Association for the purpose of advancing democracy and the Democratic party in the State of Minnesota. Robert Kingsley, secretary of the Democrats, declared yesterday. A resolution was passed at their first meeting last Thursday declaring their confidence in Wilsonian democracy.

Bill Spaulding Plans Full Time Game Next Week Friday

Some time next week, Coach Bill Spaulding will stage a real football game for the fans on the campus. The tilt will take place on Northrop field and will be featured by the playing of two full teams under regular rules.

Friday of next week seems to be the logical date for the demonstration although Director Luehring will announce the date definitely later on. Fans who have not thus far seen the Gophers in workouts are due for a surprise. A new form of tackling, running interference and charging a line all have been taught by the new mentor and his first mates, Boles Rosenthal, George Hauser and Arnie Oss.

Bugle Sounds For Academic Diamond Nine

A meeting of all men interested in the formation of an academic college baseball team is being called for this noon at 12 noon in the Little Theatre. John Day, former member of the Athletic Board of Control and captain of the swimming team this year, will preside. Men prominent in the academic school believe that a campus title winning team can be picked from the material available.

Every Mongrel Dubbed Cur At Ag Initiation

Eight mongrels were made curs Wednesday evening when Gopher State Kennel 2313, of the Ancient and Honorable Order of Yellow Dogs was established in the dairy division at the College of Agriculture. All the mongrels were of straight American breeding, save one, Gordon L. Flack, who is a Canadian husky. Other mongrels who were kroued through and ate fresh meat are L. A. Jessup, E. O. Anderson, C. W. Macy, W. E. Peterson, H. C. Kernkamp, assistant professors; and C. D. Dahle, instructor.

The order originated with the U. S. Department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. Charter members who are instrumental in establishing the order at Minnesota are Chief Cur J. R. Kithley, professor in dairy products, who came to Minnesota from Pennsylvania; F. E. Astroth, who came from a California kennel, and custodian of the Bone, Carl F. Huffman, who came from a kennel in Kansas.

J. J. Pettijohn Called to Mother's Bedside

Intramural Water Meet Set May 6th

Coach Nels Thorpe Announces Swim Meet to Be Held in Gopher Pool—Big Entry List Expected

An intramural swimming meet will be held in the Gopher pool Saturday afternoon, May 6, according to an announcement made yesterday by Coach Nels Thorpe, Gopher swimming mentor.

The program will consist of the regular events for an aquatic meet in addition to a number of novelty events. The schedule calls for a 150 yard relay, fancy diving, plunge for distance, 20 yards under water, free style swim, 220 free style swim, 80 yard breast stroke, 40 yard dash, 60 yard back stroke and the 80 yard novice event, the winner of which will be given an intramural "M."

Student Agents Should Prosper During Summer

According to Grant Anderson, University Employment agent, there are many opportunities for ambitious men and women this summer with the various companies listed at his office in the Mechanic Arts building. A great variety of commodities are offered for sale by peddlers, and students at the University are given preference over other men in this field he said. Among the many articles listed are such things as shoes, life insurance, lawn swings, raisins, woolen goods, auto refrigerators, toilet articles and motion picture machines. One of the most frequent articles listed is books. Many book concerns besides listing their commodities with the University employment agency, also have offices on the campus for the purpose of interviewing students he said.

W. A. A. Elects Camp Ahita Representative

Agnes Jones, 25, was elected W. A. A. representative to be sent to Camp Ahita for a two weeks outing this summer, at the W. A. A. primary election held yesterday noon. Miss Jones is in charge of minor sports on the W. A. A. board, and was elected as an all-around girl, and good camper, having scholastic requirements necessary for this office.

For the office of president, Jeannette Willoughby and Faye Farmer are still in the running. Eleanor Lincoln and Margaret Haggerty are yet on the ticket for secretaryship, and Jean Archibald and Gladys Woods are the only contestants left for the office of treasurer.

For tennis representative on the W. A. A. board the candidates are Sylvia Hendrickson and Agnes Jones. For minor sports representative two from the following will be elected: Adelaide Stenhaus, Helen McBeath, Deborah Deval.

Contestants Fear Maroon and Gold Men On Eve of Record Breaking Des Moines Relay Carnival

By Reuben Lofstrom
Snugly encased in their Rock Island private car, the 25 Gopher tracksters, including Coach Leonard Frank and trainer, McGanahan, left last night at 10:20 p. m. from the Milwaukee station, and were scheduled to hit the Drake battlefield at about 7 a. m. this morning.

The well balanced Illinois squad will of course top the meet. A feature of the relays will be the four mile race between the championship four-mile Illinois relay team, and the Purdue, Ames and Iowa squads. The Gophers are conceded a win in the four-mile event, Ames should win the two-mile relay and Iowa and Illinois should have a merry fight for first in the mile.

Dean Ovie to Speak at Episcopal Meeting

Dean Wrie of the College of Dentistry, will address members of the Episcopal Unit at 5:30 p. m. on Sunday at 408 4th street SE. His subject will be "My Visit in Russia" and will include a discussion of the influence of Russian leaders on present day Russia.

Prof. Ruud Given Sabbatical Leave

Professor Martin Ruud, of the English department, yesterday received notice from the Board of Regents that he has been granted the sabbatical leave of absence for which he made application some time ago. "It is my plan to leave America in August," Mr. Ruud said last night. "From the United States I will go to London. I have a great deal of research work to do at the British Museum there."

FIRST ELECTION ASSEMBLY HELD

Barnard Jones, Bohan's opponent for leadership of the class annual, said in part: "Primarily, the Gopher should be representative, not only in the fact that it chronicles all student activities, but in the fact that its staff is carefully selected from the best talent in all of the colleges. Furthermore, the Gopher staff should be open to suggestion, free from political control; a staff whose sole purpose is to fulfill the responsibility placed upon them by the members of the class of 1924. If elected, I will see that these conditions are accomplished facts."

Following this address by Tom Phelps in support of the new student Association of Publications, Alvin Anderson introduced the candidates for election to all-University offices. Mr. Anderson then told of some interesting discoveries he had made at a convention of student governing bodies in Kentucky, from which he has returned recently. "Out of thirty-five institutions represented," said Mr. Anderson, Minnesota alone is using the antiquated system of electing editors for school publications. This shows that something is certainly wrong with our method, and it should be changed in the elections tomorrow."

Bud Bohnen to close the assembly in a proper spirit of enthusiasm, led in a locomotive and the rouser: "Minnesota Hall to Thee," was sung, and two thousand students went forth to do their duty at the polls.
