DULUTH -- Gretta Sandberg, a senior violinist from Two Harbors, and Brian Halverson, a junior euphonium player from Duluth, will present a joint UMD Student Recital at 8:15 P.M. Tuesday (May 23) in the Humanities building Recital Hall.

The recital is free to the public.

Miss Sandberg will play a Sonata by the early Italian composer Tartini and the "Delius Violin Concerto in A Minor". Pianists Janet Scheringer, Duluth, and David Stech, Armonk, N.Y., will accompany her.

Halverson will perform "Chamber Concerto No. 2" by Douglas Townsend, J. Edward Barat's "Andante et Allegro" and "Romans" by Adam Mitscha. Nancy Peterson, Duluth, and Gary Cheezig, Coleraine, will be at the piano.

Both recitalists have been active in the UMD orchestra and band since coming to UMD. Miss Sandberg also has performed with the Duluth Symphony Orchestra.
