

13 Students Leave For NSA Congress

Thirteen University representatives are leaving this weekend for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will attend the 10th National Student Congress for the United States National Student Association (USNSA). The congress enables student leaders from every state and many foreign countries to meet and discuss mutual student government problems, programs and plans for the ensuing academic year. The University of Michigan is the site for this year's USNSA Congress.

ALL-UNIVERSITY CONGRESS representatives will be: Jim Osterhus, IT senior, All-University Congress president; Wayne Anderson, SLA junior, Educational Affairs Commission; Peter Balfe, Agriculture senior, International Relations Commission chairman; Kathy Bezat, SLA senior, Educational Affairs Commission; Jim Greeno, graduate student, Legal Affairs chairman; Ginny Schisler, SLA junior, Special Services Chairman; Movane Juhnke, graduate student, International Affairs Commission; Bob Martin, SLA junior, Student Government Commission; Marion Solly, graduate student, International Affairs Commission, and Connie Zipperman, Education junior, Student Affairs Commission.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM SLA Board will be Pat Spencer, SLA junior and Paul Jensen, SLA sophomore.

Meg McGregor, SLA senior, will represent the Minnesota Daily. All-University Congress funds will cover about $1,200 of the expenses for the delegation.

Korean Bonus Forms Available On September 9

Korean Bonus application forms will be available at the Hennepin County Veterans' Service Office about Sept. 9, Frank Adams, County Service Officer, has announced.

The veteran will have until Dec. 31, 1958, in which to apply for the bonus and no payments will be made until after Jan. 1, 1959, under the terms of a law passed at the last session of the Legislature.

Payments will be computed on service performed between the dates of June 27, 1950, and July 27, 1953.

Veterans are asked to locate their separation notices (Form DD#214) so that certified copies can be prepared for use at the time bonus applications are available, and to make applications early.

Experimental Balloon Launchings Becoming Popular in Twin Cities

Balloons and more balloons are being launched from the Twin Cities this summer, but the purposes they serve are different.

Most frequent launchings of high altitude balloons are those being made weekly by cosmic ray investigators in the University's School of Physics. But two other launchings are scheduled for the next two weeks under other auspices.

AN AIR FORCE PHYSICIAN is scheduled to make a manned flight from northern Minnesota in the next two weeks shooting for a manned record to beat the 86,000 feet achieved by a Navy manned balloon in October 1956. His concern will be primarily human reactions to high altitude flight and implications for space medicine, in a balloon built by Winzen Research of Minneapolis.

The Office of Naval Research will make a test flight of a balloon preliminary to sending up another balloon carrying a camera to photograph the sun above the earth's obscuring atmosphere. This balloon is manufactured by General Mills and the project is headed by Dr. Martin Schwarzschild, Princeton University astro-physicist.

MEANWHILE, WEEKLY LAUNCHINGS, eight so far this summer, of unmanned balloons are being made by the University's School of Physics. Dr. John Winckler, associate professor of physics said yesterday that three of the eight unmanned balloons have not been recovered yet, one presumed having landed in Lake Michigan, another in the Atlantic Ocean, and a third in the vicinity of Rapid City, S.D.

School of Physics balloons carry photographic plates which pick up energy particles from space before they are scattered by collision with atmospheric gas molecules. They generally achieve altitudes above 100,000 feet.

Villagers, Filerman to Meet

By Jim Shoop

University village representatives will meet today with Gary Filerman, vice-president of All-University Congress, to discuss the village housing controversy.

The meeting will be at 1 p.m. at the congress office in Coffman Union.

VILLAGE RESIDENTS have protested the University's action in evicting 84 families from the 500 to 600 block on 28th Ave. S.E. and Como to build a storage plant there. Led by Glenn Patterson, Mayor of University Village, they carried their protest to Governor Orville Freeman last Tuesday.

University officials have stated the entire area north of Como is to be converted sometime in the future into a service area in accordance with long range planning. Officials have said all evicted families will be relocated in the village or Grove East.

"WE WANT to ascertain whether this is a matter of student welfare," Filerman said yesterday. "That's why we are meeting with the Patterson group."

"We feel congress has jurisdiction in this matter and the meeting today will fill us in on details and help in determining policy," he said.

Meanwhile, Patterson said, a letter is being drafted by the committee on married students' housing for presentation to the Board of Regents.

The committee met last night to make mimeographed sheets containing points of view of both villagers and the University which will be given out at a public meeting at the Village Union tonight.

VILLAGERS RESENT strongly an implication in a Wednesday Minneapolis Star editorial that taxpayers are indirectly subsidizing

Pollen Count May Beat '56

By Al Miller

"Rag week" is creeping up on hay fever sufferers, says Agnes Hansen, instructor in botany.

Miss Hansen should know because she has since 1947 made the pollen count that appears in the Minneapolis Star during August and September.

SHE SAID YESTERDAY that the last week of August is traditionally "rag week" when both the total amount of pollen in the atmosphere and the amount of pollen coming from ragweed flowers are highest of the year.

"It gets very bad for hay fever sufferers when particularly recommends Virginia and Ely. Duluth comes second.

It seems the worst offender, ragweed, is largely absent from forested regions, but appears wherever cultivation goes on. Deserts are free of ragweed but sagebrush pollen can make these areas uncomfortable, too.

the pollen count gets above 100 and stays above 100 for two or three weeks because the substance they are allergic to builds up in their systems," Miss Hansen said. "The count today is 48 compared to 41 at the same time a year ago so it is a little higher this year. But I don't think it will be as bad a year as 1953. Last year the count ran above 100 for only about 10 days."

DURING THE HEIGHT of the pollen count, Miss Hansen said, she may get 10 to 12 phone calls a day for information on the count or where sufferers may go to escape. Within Minnesota she

Russian Mine Experts Reschedule Days at U

Arrival of five Russian mining experts a day later than expected forced splitting of their two days at the University.

The tour of Mines Experiment Station and the peat research laboratory in Chemical Engineering has been tentatively rescheduled for Aug. 28, Arthur J. Madden, Jr., associate professor of Chemical Engineering said yesterday. The Russians were to visit these facilities Monday but did not arrive at Wold Chamberlain field until Monday night.

MADDEN, who accompanied the Russians Tuesday, said the group visited the School of Mines on campus in the morning. Here they examined projects of Charles Fairhurst, research fellow; Donald H. Yardley and Washington D. Lacabanne, assistant professors; and Harold M. Mooney and Gust Bitsianes, associate professors.

In the afternoon horticultural applications of peat were seen at a commercial flower grower's greenhouses. Growth in test plots comparing European and American ammoniated fertilizers was examined at grounds of the Toro agricultural machinery concern.

THIS RELATED to interest of two of the group in peat because of the peat base used in the European fertilizer, Madden said. Grass cutting and other machinery of the Toro concern also interested the group, he said.

Guiding the afternoon trip were staff members of the Institute of Agriculture Hubert J. Sloan, director of the agricultural experiment station; Rouse S. Farnham, soils department research associate; Harvey P. Hermanson, soils research assistant; and a member of the department of horticulture.

and, for the most part, is brilliant.

Among the dancers, all of whom are excellent, Diedre and Martin Bobgan, Polle Kemp, Gordon Brockway, and Wayne Schmidt have top style and harmony of line. Of course Moulton is excellent with his imaginative form and timing.

SINGERS Kit Nelson, Joanne Jonson, Jane Thiele, Brian Klitz, Jim Olson, and Sheldon Simon give numbers such as "Sunny," "The Operetta Waltz Song," "The Blues" and "The 1950s" the same full-bodied charm and technique of voice shown in past Theater productions.

The touches of humor and sharp satire are really heightened by a set of experienced comedians. Shirley May, Al Anderson, Irv Atkins and Bill McGraw make such numbers as "The Protest Drama," "Three Songs That Shouldn't Be Sung," "The Vanishing Art" and "The Drama Quartette" some of the high points of the show.

THE GALA ARRAY of costumes designed by Moulton remind one again of his creative imagination, perhaps most clearly in the first act finale. The minimum suggestive scenery of McGraw attractively dresses the stage without hindering the musical comedy movement.

Perhaps numbers such as "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" and "Red Hot Hedda" are a mite too long and their satire a bit obscure. But they round out a revue that has appeal to every taste in musical theater past, present, and future.

A spectacle telescoping thirty years of American musical comedy into a two-act revue of rare subtlety, humor, satire and professional showmanship opened Wednesday night in Scott Hall Auditorium as the University Theater's final fare of the 1956-57 season.

The presentation, from Black Bottom to ballet, received a warm response from an appreciative audience. Marion and Robert Moulton, in assembling and directing the seventeen numbers constituting "Some Like It Hot," have not only managed to touch the highlights in the history of American musical theater of the last thirty years, but have fused a combination of the overt directness of musical comedy and an infinitely subtle satire on the very public tastes which have caused the changes and development of this theater.

Moulton

Irv Fink, congenial Master of Ceremonies, keeps the audience abreast of the passing musical parade as the review moves on. From the flapping 20s into the unknown future, a talented cast of singers, dancers, and comedians release a show over the footlights that never comes down to the mediocre

• All Candidates for Degree Commencement Rehearsal

On August 22 candidates for all degrees will meet in Northrop Auditorium at 4 p.m. sharp for a rehearsal. You must bring degrees and gowns to the rehearsal. It is important that all candidates for all degrees be present because basic instructions will be given for the evening commencement exercises. The names of all colleges will be on standard 25x31½ cards in the center aisle; take your proper seats as you enter. The rehearsal is short—it takes less than an hour.
Commencement
On August 22 all candidates for all degrees will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the lower Mall between Vincent Hall and the Chemistry Building. Candidates will assemble under the signs of their respective colleges and march into the Auditorium. Facilities will be provided for students to leave their hats, coats, and purses. Attendants will be on duty during the Commencement Exercises. However, each student must remember where his own belongings were hung or left. Candidates for bachelors' and doctors' degrees, but not masters' degrees, can check their coats, if they wish, since these gowns hide shirt sleeves. The procession will enter the Auditorium at 8 p.m. sharp. The ceremonies will be over at about 9:30 p.m. The recessional will begin immediately at the conclusion of the exercises, and it is important that each student remain in line and follow completely the instructions which will be given at the rehearsal.

President's Reception
President and Mrs. J. L. Morrill invite all members of the Senior Class, their friends, and relatives to attend a reception at the Union Terrace immediately after the Commencement Exercises. This is informal.

• Regents' Scholarships
Tuition free Regents' Scholarships are again available to Civil Service employees who want to take University courses related to their work. Sixty scholarships have been established for the fiscal year 1957-58. Twenty of these are offered for the fall quarter. You may apply for a scholarship if you are a full-time Civil Service employee of the University. You can apply to take one or more University courses which do not total more than six credits or meet more than six hours a week. These scholarships allow you time off from your job to attend class and permit you to register tuition free.
The Civil Service Committee makes the final decision on all applications and awards the scholarships taking into consideration: relation of the course to your present job and promotional possibilities; your length of service; work load in your department; efforts you are making on your own initiative to acquire training; and availability of the same or similar courses in evening schools. Scholarships are not awarded to any one employee for more than three consecutive quarters.

You can get full instructions and application blanks for Regents' Scholarships from the Civil Service Personnel office, 12 Administration Building or from its Training Division in 302 Johnston Hall. Return applications to 12 Administration Building completely filled in with the necessary approval by the department head and dean or administrative officer by September 3, 1957. Applications must be in by that time to allow the Civil Service Committee time to make selection of the twenty scholarship winners before fall quarter begins.

ALL DEPARTMENT HEADS AND SUPERVISORS
• Orientation Meetings
The weekly "Get Acquainted with the University" sessions for new Civil Service employees (in all classifications) will hereafter be held in Room 310 Johnston Hall instead of Room 203. The time remains the same—every Thursday afternoon at 2:30 (3 p.m. after Sept. 15). A folder of informational material is sent to your department for each new employee shortly after he is appointed. Please see that he gets this folder, and if possible arrange for his attendance at one of these orientation meetings as soon as he begins his new job. For further information call ext. 6497.

Pollen . . .

MISS HANSEN sets out two three-inch by one inch slides on opposite sides of the roof of the botany building every 24 hours. The slides are coated with a mixture of vaseline and mineral oil that catches air-borne pollen. Miss Hansen counts the number of pollen grains that are caught on the surface of the slide occupied by a square centimeter under a microscope. She then averages out the counts made on the slides from opposite side of the botany roof for counts published in the Star.

"WHEN IT IS windy and sunny the count tends to be high," Miss Hansen said. "Rain and high humidity tend to lower the count. Pollen grains then pick up moisture and are heavier.

Highest days last year, she said, were August 31 and September 1. But the pollen counts that are published don't tell the whole story.

"Many people are allergic to spores of fungi which are not included in the pollen count. The count of spores like those of corn smut usually runs over 100 during the first and second weeks of October and may go up over 300 sometimes. That's why some people still suffer when the pollen count drops down to zero or near zero."

the village.

"We contend very strongly that we are paying our own way," Patterson said. "The village has grossed an average of $400,000 in rent annually since its inception. The only cost to the University besides an original investment of a million dollars has been maintenance."

Osterhus appointed Filerman to meet the villagers under the authority of the executive committee to make emergency decisions in the absence of Congress itself, which does not meet in the summer.

"WE DON'T ASSUME the student is right in this matter nor do we assume they used proper methods in pressing their point," Filerman said. "But in any case they should have been consulted by the University and advised of future plans."

"We feel the villagers should have explored possibilities of arbitration through congress before taking action. They put themselves at a disadvantage by contacting us post facto."

Cars lined up in front of Union in readiness for Capitol march. About 200 persons including students and their families made the trip.
