33 GOPHERS BEGIN FIRST LEG OF TRIP TO MICHIGAN TODAY

Thousands to Gather at Milwaukee Station at 8 p. m. to Give Team Send-off

MINNESOTA WINS ONLY THREE OF 15 CONTESTS

Frosh to Battle Varsity in Final Scrimmage on Northrop Field This Afternoon

By Bob Mueller.

Thirty-three fighting Gophers will entrain for Chicago at 8 p. m. today on the first leg of the journey to Ann Arbor to fulfill their engagement with the Wolverines at Ferry field Saturday.

The Minnesota football contingent will leave Minneapolis from the Milwaukee station. Thousands of Gopher students and followers are expected to gather at the station to give the Maroon and Gold players a sendoff which will rival the farewell oration given to the team on its Ann Arbor trip last year.

Interest in the Minnesota-Michigan doubleheader is running at high pitch throughout the northwest, and fans will be particularly anxious to give the team a good sendoff for the first game of the series. The second encounter between the two eleven in the Memorial stadium Nov. 20 is expected to attract a larger crowd than that which witnessed the Notre Dame clash. Practice at Ypsilanti, Mich.

Dr. Spears will send his men through a light workout in Chicago Thursday morning, after which they will entrain for Ypsilanti, Mich., arriving there at 7 p. m. The Gophers will be given their final drill at Ypsilanti Friday afternoon and will remain there until Saturday morning, when the final leg of the journey to Ann Arbor will be completed.

A record crowd of more than 38,000 is expected to watch the battle at Ferry field. The entire allotment of tickets for the game given to Minnesota was sold out Monday morning and indications are that there will be a complete sellout at Ann Arbor.

The contingent of Minnesota rooters will leave Minneapolis Thursday night or early Friday to arrive at Ann Arbor in time for the game Saturday. More than 1,500 Minnesotans, besides alumni from Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland, will be in the stands to support the Maroon and Gold eleven.

Players on Trip Announced
Dr. Spears announced the squad which will make the trip last night. They are as follows: Clarence Aredsee, Harold Almqvist, Harold Barnhart, Wendell Bremdus, Sholly Blustin, "Hot" Gibson, Mitchell Gary, "Andy" Geer, Clayton Gay, Joe Gordon, "Tony" Hulstrand, Harold Hanson, Ken Haycraft, Neil Hyde, Lawrence Johnson, Herbert Joesting, William Kaminski, Darrell Knorr, Arthur Mulvey, Al Maeder, George Mackinnon, William McCall, George O'Brien, Robert Peplaw, Donald Riddell, Leif Strand, George Tuttle, Ukkelberg, Roger Wheeler, Leonard Walls and Bob Williams.

Opposing the Gophers Saturday will be a new Michigan eleven, fully as strong as the championship aggregation which subdued Minnesota last year. Coach Yost has 15 veterans of the 1925 team back this season, besides 11 other members of the old varsity squad, which has been augmented by a number of sterling graduates from the frosh team.

When Minnesota's maroon and gold eleven clashes with Michigan's maize and blue in the first game of the season's double-header on Ferry field at Ann Arbor Saturday, it will mark the 17th time for the game Saturday. More than 23 years of gridiron history.

First Game Played in 1892
Football relations between Minnesota and Michigan were established in 1892, when the Gophers romped off to a 14-6 victory. The Minnesotans scored another victory in 1893, but since that time the Maroon and Gold has been victorious only once, that was in 1919 when Arnold Oss ran wild against the Yost-men and gave the Gophers a 34-7 win.

The complete record of the games played between Minnesota and Michigan since they began football relations in 1892 follows:

1892	-Minnesota 14, Michigan 6
1893	-Minnesota 34, Michigan 20
1894	-Minnesota 0, Michigan 20
1895	-Minnesota 4, Michigan 6
1896	-Minnesota 4, Michigan 6
1897	-Minnesota 14, Michigan 14
1898	-Minnesota 6, Michigan 23
1899	-Minnesota 6, Michigan 6
1900	-Minnesota 6, Michigan 15
1901	-Minnesota 0, Michigan 6
1902	-Minnesota 34, Michigan 7
1903	-Minnesota 0, Michigan 3
1904	-Minnesota 0, Michigan 38
1905	-Minnesota 7, Michigan 16
1906	-Minnesota 0, Michigan 10

German Students Two Years Ahead Of Americans, Declares Dr. Prell, Forest Zoologist, Speaking Here

Men and Women Satisfy Requirements in English, French and Italian Before Matriculation; Have More Time For Intensive Studies

Students entering German universities are at least two years ahead of American students, Heinrich B. Prell, head of the Institute of Forest Zoology at Tharandt Saxony stated speaking before students and faculty of the agricultural college last night. He asserted that all students entering German universities have satisfied language requirements in French, English, and Italian. This enables them to devote more time to essential studies without wasting time on pre-requirements.

Studies American Methods
Visiting government departments and universities in this country to study American training and technique. Dr. Prell is the guest of the International Education Board, a Rockefeller institution.

One of the greatest obstacles that the smaller colleges and institutes like that of Dr. Prell must contend is lack of funds to purchase necessary equipment.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR TECH COLLEGES EDITORS CONVENTION

Techno-Log Plays Host to Engineer Journalists For All Over Country

2 DAYS MEETING TO END WITH FEATURE BANQUET

Complete committees to have charge of arrangements of the convention of Engineering College Editors Association, to be held at the University of Minnesota Oct. 22d, 23d were announced last night.

Delegates to this meet include the business managers and editors of 21 leading technical schools throughout the country. Reservations have already been received from colleges as far west as Colorado, Alabama, on the south, and as far east as the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The Techno-Log, Minnesota's technical publication, will be host at the convention.

The two-day session will be taken up by the discussions led by various student editors. The chief event is the banquet held Friday night at the Leaning hotel. Dean O. M. Leland will give the address of welcome and Prof. O. S. Zeller will act as toast master. The main speaker has not been definitely decided upon.

The meet was held last year at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and it was through the efforts of the delegates from the Minnesota Techno-Log, Paul B. Nelson and Alvah S. Bull, that the convention decided upon Minnesota as the next meeting place.

Committees are as follows:
General arrangements: Carl F. Luehli, Sheldon F. Johnson, Lawrence Clousing, Alvah Bull, Paul Nelson.

Program: Carl Sweet, chairman; Neal Nelson, John Marcroft, Lawrence Anderson.
Publicity: Paul Nelson, chairman; Dick Trexler, Albert Morse, James Helbling, Douglas Campbell.
Banquet: John Ginnaty, chairman; Carl Ewald Swanson; F. J. Fox, Stuart Bailey, Ralph Blyberg.

Convention sessions: John Marcroft, chairman; Wilbur Sperry, D. M. Bohrer, Marshall Coolidge, Leon Mears, LaMonte Warrington, Gerald Warrington, Walter Carpenter, Fred Clark.

Sight Seeing Tour: Dean Affleck, chairman; Kathleen Fleming, Margaret Bradbury, Alida Hudson.

BUSINESS DEAN SPEAKS

POLITICIANS BUSTLE; FIVE SCHOOLS NAME CLASS HEADS TODAY

Most Quiet Season in Years as Professional Students Prepare to Cast Ballot

ELECTION OF SENIOR LAW LEADER TO BE THRILLER

Don Rogers and Sam Campbell Only Two to Run For This Office

University politics this morning swung into heavy action after its four-months' lull as students in five professional schools and colleges on the campus balloted for officers from a list of candidates nominated in general assemblies before the polling began.

A political battle that may prove an all day siege is the expected result of the close battle between Donald Rogers and Sam W. Campbell, candidates for senior-law president. They were the only candidates who signified their intention of running for office before the nominators at 9:30 this morning.

Students in the College of Engineering, the College of Pharmacy, the School of Mines and the School of Chemistry also held general assemblies this morning to nominate candidates for the different offices.

Events through the past week leading up to elections today have proved the quietest in years and this year's candidates to make the race interesting and perhaps surprising. Juniors and Seniors of the College of Agriculture, Forestry and Home Economics will ballot from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. today, while in the academic college Juniors ballot Thursday, Seniors Friday, Sophomores October 20, and Freshmen October 21. Political turmoil in the College of Education will be delayed several days but the elections are scheduled for Thursday at 11:30.

No colleges have as yet accepted the suggestion of last year's retiring all-University council that all nominations be made by petition or secret ballot. Each college called a general assembly to appoint candidates by open nomination.

Students in the College of Pharmacy will elect class officers, members of the college council and the president of the senior class later in the week.

No Convocation Yet Booked for Thursday
No general convocation will be held tomorrow, F. J. Kelly, dean of administration and in charge of arrangements for convocations stated yesterday. He asserted that the date had been left open to enable the individual schools and college to schedule special gatherings on subjects of particular interest to the various departments of the University. To date, individual convocations have been arranged only in the School of Business and the School of Pharmacy.

TICKETS FOR GAME SATURDAY SOLD OUT
Gopher Officials Attempt to Provide for Additional Students Going to Ann Arbor

Tickets for the Michigan game at Ann Arbor Saturday have sold faster than for any game away from home in former years, according to Kenneth Wells, football ticket sales manager. Although Minnesota's entire allotment has been sold, Mr. Wells declared that accommodations will be provided whenever possible for students who have not as yet bought their tickets. About 1500 seats have been reserved for Minnesotans at Michigan and not only have all these been sold but also every seat in the Michigan section, which have been sold out since the first part of September.

The Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads declared that they are contemplating sending special trains to Ann Arbor, but have not made definite arrangements as yet. As in former years a great number of students are driving down in their cars.

Mr. Park will speak on the situation in the far east.

The Minnesota School of Agriculture meets every noon except Thursday in the auditorium of the Administration building on the University Farm campus. Charles F. Hall, St. Paul, a member of the Minnesota Conference of Social Workers, will speak today.

Debating Over Radio Is Best Part of Class Requirement in Argumentation This Year
Twenty-six students registered in the class of argumentation and debate, will have the privilege of taking part in a debate over WCCO as one of the requirements of the course. In regard to the project, Wayne L. Morse, instructor in the department, said, "As far as I know, this is the first time radio debates have been carried on as a part of a class requirement."

Through this new plan, students will get training in speaking over the radio and the public will have the opportunity to hear actual class work.

Last year four debates were broadcast by inter-collegiate debates. After each of these events from 150 to 400 letters were received from all parts of the country, in which the writers expressed their interest in the debates. Plans have already been made to broadcast the inter-collegiate debate contests this year.

Class debates will be broadcast starting the last of fall of beginning of the winter quarter. Five or six subjects of universal interest will be chosen for these debates which will continue throughout the school year.

FIRST DERBY DAY NETS 475 SALES; TRI DELTS LEAD RACE

Students Plan To Grow Beards For Pioneer Homecoming; Father Time Forbids; Barbers Register Relief

Novel Program Under Way as 18,000 Alumni Get Invitations to Attend 1926 Get-Together on Day of Michigan Football Game

Embryo plans to have men students grow beards for Minnesota's 1926 "Pioneer Homecoming" were dropped yesterday, because of the shortness of time before the celebration. There was doubt expressed as to the willingness of the men to resist the razor, it was stated.

This is the first year that a pioneer Homecoming celebration has been held at Minnesota. Members of the committee believe that the novelty of the idea will prove a great success. Michigan, Minnesota's traditional gridiron foe, will appear in the Memorial stadium for the second clash between the two teams this year.

18,000 Alumni Invited
Every Minnesota alumni that can be reached through the mail will receive a personal invitation to attend the celebration at the University, November 20. Letters will be mailed to 18,000 alumni this month, requesting that they attend the reunion of Minnesota graduates, Cleary Freden, chairman of publicity, announced. Community organizations in all towns over 2,000 people were mailed invitations last week.

Citizen's Clubs Get Appeal
Every organization of the Elks, Rotary club, Kiwanis club and the commercial club in the larger towns in Minnesota were mailed letters asking that the secretary of each of the organizations announce the Homecoming celebration at the University.

Students have been busy in the Homecoming office at the Minnesota union typing letters and arranging mailing lists.

Fraternities and sororities were approached last week that they might be willing to outline their program for the celebration. A meeting of delegates from each of the organized houses on the campus is planned for on October 20. At this time pioneer house decorations will be discussed.

FIRST JUNIOR CLASS DAY IN 'U' HISTORY SET FOR SATURDAY

Success of Freshman Week This Fall Spurs Third Year Students to Similar Event

THE HIRED HAND, VONNELL PREPARE TO GIVE SKIT

Junior Class Day has been set for Saturday. On this date, for the first time in the history of the University, the Juniors will have a day set aside exclusively for them and will make merry at an afternoon party in the Minnesota Union hall room.

Spurred on by the success of Freshman week this fall, members of the Junior class feel that a similar celebration would create a real class spirit among third year students, and bind them into a more workable organization. To encourage attendance at the Saturday party, an attractive program has been arranged including dance music by Pat Palmer's jazz orchestra, returns by radio from the Minnesota-Michigan football game, a concert by Mike Jalma's University band, and a humorous skit by the campus comedians, the Hired Hand and Carleton Vonnell. There will be no admission charge.

Arrangements Under Way
Preliminary arrangements are already under way, and special invitations are being prepared which will be presented individually to every Junior in the University. In order to accomplish this feat, considerable work is necessary. Present plans call for a file index, by colleges, of all members in the Junior class, which will be used by the class organization in preparing for any future activities which it may care to sponsor.

Mike Jalma's Minnesota band will present its first concert of the year on this occasion. Following the concert program, guests will be provided with the novelty of dancing to band music. The Gopher band will swing into action from Ann Arbor will begin at 1:30, and dancing music will continue until half past five.

Palmer's Orchestra to Play
Marsh (Fat) Palmer and his ten-piece jazz orchestra will furnish music for the greater part of the afternoon's dancing. This part of the program is being presented with the cooperation of the W.S.G.A. who had scheduled a Sunlight for Saturday.

The humor section will be improved. Something new is promised by the editor. A considerable amount of copy is already finished and ready to be sent to the printers.

Sophomores Call Issued
The subscription drive for the Gopher opened yesterday amid the saluting of cannons, the playing of Fats Palmer's and Dave Ackerson's bands, the riding of a gopher Paul Revere, and the beginning of a horse race among entrants of the various teams soliciting subscriptions. The drive will last until Saturday with the teams working toward the goal of a new record for Gopher circulation.

A call for 20 Sophomores to assist in the distributing work in the office of the 1927 Gopher was issued yesterday. The assistants will meet in the editorial office at 9:30 a. m. today. The call is the first sent out by the editorial editor for assistants in that department.

WHY GO TO COLLEGE

In this day, when there are statistics of statistics and the universal curiosity is rampant, it is odd that the reason our colleges and universities are so well attended is not minutely investigated. If such a search were made, some undreamed of reasons would be discovered.

Many persons attend college that they may ultimately draw fatter salaries. Most of the indifferent students are there at the desire of papa who wanted his son or daughter at the college. Dads and moms care little for the football or athletic berth and care little for the mental side of student life. The future educator buds forth in the education school. Once in many moons may be found a person who actually enjoys the intellectual part of a university, not for any utilitarian purpose but solely for cultural reasons. Quite often there are fish on the campus—big fish in a little pond when they could not be big or little fish in a big pond. Some students enjoy campus life and find it so stimulating that they can do little in the arts or sciences away from it. Some attend college because they have always gone to school and might as well see the thing to its end.

Knowledge seems to be connected with most universities, and the poor mechanics, pre-dents, engineers, and their associates are very unfortunate in having to do so much work. They should take the general course and be glad. But there is solace in the fact that graduates of the college of Science, Literature and the Arts especially know a lot about a lot or a little about several lots.

FATHER COMES TO THE CAMPUS

We have never been thoroughly in accord with that fadism which in recent years has taken a very definite hold of America—namely that of setting aside certain days on which we are to do homage to certain men. Institutions, or documents which have come to mean a great deal in our life. These "saint's days" in our public calendar have become so numerous that one could well be observing a new one every day.

But on last Saturday, Minnesota observed again a "day" which, although roughly it comes under this general class, has come to take on a definite significance and importance at this school. We refer of course to Dad's Day. Aside from any sentimental significance which such a day might have, the occasion has a practical importance which is far greater and which is more than sufficient reason for its continuance.

At a state-owned institution of learning which must depend upon the action of a legislative body for its subsistence and which is as intimately bound up with the public life as is our university, it is essential that the citizens of the state be at least conversant with the problems which their schools must face. It is in this direction that we feel a day such as last Saturday may be a potent influence. When a large group of men visit this campus, see the institution in operation and are brought face to face with its problems and needs they are more likely to have a sympathetic understanding of what the University officials are endeavoring to do.

Often the more severe critics of the University have been men who never visited the campus. An occasion such as Dad's Day helps to correct this. We feel certain that last Saturday, when a definite effort was made to present the facts with regard to this institution as they exist, have gone away with a more thorough understanding of the school—its aims and its needs.

In Dad's day we see an opportunity to bring into a closer relationship those two elements, the university and that great body of citizens which support it. Occasions such as Dad's Day can be employed to make this understanding more complete and more ably to cement the bond which links the administration with the public which it serves.

FINANCIAL AID FOR STUDENTS

Figures which have just been made public by Dr. W. T. Middlebrook, comptroller of the University, reveal that more than six hundred students availed themselves of the University loan fund during the past year. This institution has been operating in a quiet but efficient manner, lending assistance to needy students. Loans are made on a short-term basis and only those requests which are deemed worthy of consideration are granted.

An occasion may arise in the life of a student when he is pressed for money and, unless he is able to cope with the situation, he may find it necessary to drop out of school. It is for such emergencies that the loan fund was installed, but it is not an instrument of charity. The majority of students who have been given assistance through this fund have discharged their obligations in an entirely satisfactory manner, and have justified the faith which was placed in them by the University.

It is significant that the current report records a decrease, both in the number of individuals accommodated and in the funds which were placed at their disposal, over the report of the previous year. This indicates a discrimination exercised by the trustees of the fund before the natural order of things would result in an increase in loans made to students. The continued success of the loan fund is a matter which lies entirely in the hands of the students. As long as the temptation to abuse this privilege is resisted it will continue to render its valuable assistance to those in need, but if it is looked upon as being a benevolent institution it can only hope to operate in a constantly narrowing field.

THUNDER ON THE RIGHT

One of the most amusing—if one has a sufficiently broad sense of humor—features of campus life is the "High Hat". He is an ubiquitous animal, inhabiting the post office, the knoll, or the class room. He eats whatever he is fed and drinks whatever he is offered. He is entirely harmless if not taken as seriously as he takes himself.

He has a definite place in an institution of learning such as this. He epitomizes the third rate novelist's idea of the college man. The man who leaves school in a huff and turns writer in revenge is dependent upon him for types. It is to him that the professional fearer for the younger generation turns for copy. He inspires the typewriters of the self-appointed "great thinkers" of the time. He is as important to the regular publication of the sensational magazines and news sheets as the eternal triangle.

His value to the amateur psychologist is incalculable. He represents the finest and most complete development of the superiority complex that has yet been discovered. His ego is the perfect ego.

He is the only person that is able to concentrate on the fact that he is being college bred to the full exclusion of the self-debasing thought that the other students on the campus are going through the same process. He has achieved a private paradise here among the common clay.

What if he is the pouter pigeon of the human race? He doesn't mind.

If dear old Ulysses were living today,
I'd tell the policemen to pinch him;
Or else I should start (in a definite way),
A dastardly movement to lynch him.
Why should he have loosed the winds he held,
(Within his strong, cordovan leather bag?)
When windmills are the oldest of antiques,
And sail-boats are a hoary, aged gag.
I walked down the street by the famous Perines',
(And slowly to favor my bunions)
When floating through windows by hamburger signs.
Came odors of essence of onions.
Now hamburgers are quite a lovely thing,
To those, perhaps, who else would starve to death....
But as for me, I do not like the new
Aegean Wind with onions on its breath.

FAMOUS FAREWELLS.

My Gosh! But you're getting heavy.
—The Hired Hand

Campus Comment

To the Editor:

I as a member of the student body approach the authorized in charge of student conduct in the stadium with a statement of an occurrence at the the game last Saturday.

This violation was probably the only one of its kind in the student section and this is by an old offender, as the minute detail is quite unnecessary, and would indeed be impossible were it deemed expedient. I do not object to drinking either by students or non-student, but when some one in section 8, row 50, nd about seat 30 dropped a bottle of a very conspicuous size so that the smell of redistilled alcohol, fuel-oil, and only God knows what else was in it, permeated the atmosphere, I raise a protest.

Things of this nature are controlled by school authorities alone. To the latter the civil authorities stand back in such matters. It is the duty of all of us to guard strictly this inestimable privilege, a privilege which can never be destroyed except by the licentiousness of those who wilfully abuse it.

Prof. Rowley Attends Engineers' Meeting

Prof. F. B. Rowley, director of experimental engineering, will go to Pittsburgh this week to attend a meeting of the American Heat and Ventilating Engineers' committee on heat transmission. Their object is to lay out a general program for the research laboratory of the society. C. M. Jansky, associate professor of electrical engineering, left last night for Chicago, where he will speak tomorrow afternoon at the radio show before the committee of radio dealers, jobbers and manufacturers. He will return late this week.

Northwestern Frosh 'Insult' Senior Class

The freshmen at Northwestern university this year are characterized by an unusual amount of boldness, which gives them courage to even paint and partially burn the senior, log, a "state offense" at that institution. The log is a massive timber located in front of University hall and is a traditional resting place for seniors only, traditionally forbidden to the freshmen. As a result of the snarlage, the senior council and Deu, the senior men's honor society, will prosecute the offenders.

MINNESOTAN 3*

The Country's Outstanding College Model

It was a glorious week! For you men here at Minnesota. You can justly be proud of the extraordinary reception accorded the "Minnesotan 3," which you created right here at Minnesota.

A glorious week for Society Brand. For it was Society Brand who translated your ideas—your tastes—your preferences—into a distinctive college model that has taken college men—everywhere—by storm.

And for Juster's, too, a glorious week. For it was at Juster's banquet to 110 Minnesota Men that the "Minnesotan 3" was originated. Universally accepted as the standard college style, the "Minnesotan 3" has been widely imitated—but never duplicated! There's only one "Minnesotan 3"—and here at Minnesota it can be had only at Juster's.

It is being shown in an unusually wide variety of the finest foreign and domestic fabrics—many of them exclusive with Society Brand.

Every week is College Week at Juster's—you will always find a wonderful assortment of exclusive fabrics moderately priced—well within the reach of the college man, no matter how modest his clothing budget may be. You can buy

Harriers and Frosh to Perform in Camp Memorial Drive

GOPHER-WOLVERINE GRID TILT WILL BE REPLAYED BY FROSH

Fans Will See Actual Plays in Stadium Here Saturday

FROSH CHAMPIONSHIP WILL BE FEATURE GAME

Minnesota football fans will not need to make the trip to Ann Arbor to "see" the Gopher-Wolverine grid tussle, for the game will be re-enacted play by play in the stadium here in accordance with the plans for the Walter Camp Memorial Fund program. A schedule that is packed with action has been prepared by the committee, including a game between the freshmen eleven to decide which is the championship team. This is the first time that Gopher followers will have a chance to watch the highly praised yearling squads in action. Those who have been watching the "37 six foot" frosh slam the varsity are very elaborate in their statements concerning the first year men.

Ames Will be Here

Besides the enactment of the varsity game and the frosh battle, the cross country men will begin and finish their meet with Ames in the stadium. The main attraction begins at 1:30 so that fans will be able to leave the stadium about the time the Gophers end the game at Ann Arbor.

The frosh teams that will battle for the honor of being the first team will be known as the "Vern Williams Gophers" and the "Merton Dannigan Wolverines."

Alumni and students from Yale, Michigan and Minnesota are joining in the program. All the gate receipts will go towards the erection of a $300,000 coliseum at the entrance of the Yale Bowl.

Committee Working Hard

The committee which is hard at work on the program includes Otto Zelner; E. B. Pierce; John McGovern, one of the first Minnesota players to gain All-American recognition from Walter Camp; F. W. Leuhring; Prof. George Swensen; W. R. Smith; Donald Rogers; W. W. Heffelfinger, a Yale man who made Camp's All-American; Dr. H. L. Williams; James Dain; Frederick Weyerhouser, and John Ordway of St. Paul.

Yale leads in the number of men trained in Red Cross annually.

Physical Ed Women Elect New Officers

The newly elected officers of the Women's Physical Education association are as follows: E. Lina Litt's president; Ostrid Johanson, secretary, and Norma Gerber, alumni-secretary. Elizabeth Slaughter was elected freshman president.

YOST PASSING GAME STILL GOING STRONG

Friedman, Oosterban, and Flora, of 1925 Team, Again Lead Attack

By Maury Fadell.

When the Minnesota football team was turned back in its conference title fight by the powerful Michigan eleven last year, it was defeated by the best grid team that the Wolverines have had in the last 25 years. This startling statement came from none other than Coach "Hurricane" Fielding Yost, who is putting in his 26th year at the Wolverine institution.

"That was the best team that I ever worked with," was the way that "Hurricane" put it.

Although Michigan's 1925 record was marred by the defeat at Northwestern with a three to two, the eyes of the public still looked to the Michigan aggregation as the best in the conference. The fluke score on the muddy gridiron which gave Northwestern the edge will always be remembered by the water-soaked crowd that sat through a drizzling rain just to see the famous Friedman, Oosterban, Flora passing combination.

Some of the men who carried the blunt of the Michigan attack are again carrying the Maize and Blue through a schedule which includes some strong teams. The Navy, Illinois, Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin, and two games with the Gophers includes the schedule that faces the Yostmen. The passing combination, from Captain Benny Friedman to Oosterman and again from the captain to Flora is still intact. It is against these men that opponents must concentrate their attacks if they intend to hold the Wolverines.

Notre Dame's failure to complete a single pass against the Gophers has been getting plenty of consideration from the Wolverine coaches who are working harder on the aerial attack which is expected to carry the Maize and Blue to another championship.

33 Gophers Begin First Leg of Trip

1924—Minnesota 0, Michigan 13
1925—Minnesota 0, Michigan 35

A light scrimmage session will be in line for the Gophers tonight before they entrain for Ann Arbor. The varsity again opposed the freshmen last night and failed to make a favorable impression upon Dr. Spens. During the course of the practice, the frosh, using Michigan plays, scored four touchdowns against the varsity.

Continually harassing the varsity with varied line plays, end runs and forward passes, the frosh made life miserable for the first-string men. Several shifts were made in the varsity line, notably when Johnson and Gary exchanged tackles and Bredemus took Johnson's post at right tackle. Kaminski and Walsh started at the guards, with Strand replacing Walsh. Haycraft held down an end post.

Included in the frosh "varsity" which performed in a creditable manner against the regular varsity last night were: Oster and H. Anderson, ends; Nagurski and Emlen, tackles; E. Anderson and F. Anderson, guards; Hardy, center; Gordon and Kleffman, quarterbacks; Wilson and Danberg, halfbacks, and Call, fullback.
