MEDICS HOLD ANOTHER RUSH

This Time They Did Not Even Divide the Glory With the Police

The Medics have occupied the center of the stage so long that they are beginning to like it. When no policemen appeared yesterday morning to assist them they did a small turn of their own. The Sophomores and Freshmen came together at the third hour and after mixing it pretty generally for some time a ring was formed and a few wrestling and boxing matches indulged in.

The first wrestling match was between Kuhlman a Sophomore, and Bray a Freshman and was won by the Sophomore.

A freshman named Deering who is also a candidate for football honors was next introduced and he gave an exhibition of scientific wrestling which was well worth seeing. He knew the game from the ground up and handily disposed of Conley Mathews and Hammeral.

Two boxing matches between Frasier and Dypar for the Sophs., and Dresser and Canfield for the Freshmen were declared draws.

The Freshmen claim the victory and are jubilant in consequence.

Lind and Jones at Expo

Next Monday evening, John Lind, G. P. Jones, and James C. Haynes will speak at the Exposition building. At 7 p. m. the University Band will head the procession at the Occidental and march in a body to the Expo. A section of the hall will be decorated with maroon and gold and reserved for the students.

There will undoubtedly be a large attendance of University people as the student body has endorsed Jones and promised him their co-operation. The Jones club is expected to do good work in turning out the crowd.

A Forum Spread Spoiled

The Arenas and the Forums had a little game of their own in which, as is usually the case, the Forums furnished the entertainment and the refreshments. When the Forums found out what had happened the score stood: Arenas, Ice cream, cake, pies, fruit and sandwiches; Forums, nothing.

New Sorority

It has been rumored about that there is to be a new sorority at the U. Things are being kept very quiet as yet, of course, but it is supposed that a certain group of energetic young women are petitioning for Phi Beta Phi, the only national sorority not represented here. The aspirants will leave no stone unturned to win their charter, so the six sororities already here may prepare to welcome a new sister.

Tennis News

The School Education Co., has offered prizes for the winners of the tournament in doubles. The winners may choose between two gym suits or two $3 fountain pens. Now that prizes have been offered for both singles and doubles, by H. W. Wilson, and the School Education Co., enthusiasm should run high and competition should be stimulated.

THE FIRST BIG GAME OF SEASON

This Afternoon Will Show The Mettle of Doctor Williams' Moleskin Warriors—Strength of Team a Surprise to All

When the referee's whistle blows today for the opening of the Minnesota-Ames game the first electric charge of foot-ball enthusiasm this season will be turned on. When the game with Ames was scheduled and later—up to the last few days—no one had expected a big game; but things take sudden changes in foot-ball times, and during the past week two unexpected things have appeared. The first is that Minnesota's team is weak and the second, is that Ames has a heavier team than the Maroon and Gold rooters bargained for.

The Ames boys are husky players, they are a heavy set of triple X foot-ball material.

They will not be greatly outweighed and they play a hurry-up game, fast and fierce. They have had the instructions of a crack foot-ball player, Ristine, of Harvard, and they know the science of the gridiron to a finish. More than this they have the team work. Their team is picked, selected long since, and the men play their positions well, fore and aft and on both ends.

This is the kind of material that Minnesota will run against. The impartial judges predict a small score for Minnesota and a touchdown for Ames, and the most optimistic Minnesota rooters are using a whole lot of ifs in their foot-ball discussions.

Whatever happens today's game will be a hard one. It is very likely that the Hawkeyes will be able to puncture our line and judging from the Minnesota team's work during the past few days our interference is apt to be ragged. But Minnesota relies on the spirit of her players and quite as much on the presence of her rooters. Now is the chance for the pent up enthusiasm of yesterday's rooter's club meeting to assert itself in a good cause.

enoughK. io chtypU s- ccmfwy mfw

The Minnesota players have shown enough football work to prove that they are fast, snappy and aggressive, and while they have the ball there is no doubt that they will make good gains. If they show today as good work on the defensive as they have shown on the offensive the score will be a satisfactory one.

There is just one word more to say, of this season wd(eta oshrdlttle ss shh To-day's game, and every other game of this season is to be fought, and won, not only by the team on the field, but also by every student in the institution who has ever taken part in a SKI-U-MAH yell.

Not Troubled With Cops

There is no trouble with the cops at Lawrence university, but it is a wild and wooly time they are having there all the same. The class rivalry between the Freshmen and Sophs which has been rife for some time past reached a climax Thursday evening when the Sophs broke up a party of Freshmen and captured one of their enemies and carried him off. After taking the Freshie to a safe place they painted his face and body with a solution of iodine and then turned him loose. The Freshie presented a horrible sight, and, as a result of the application of oxalic acid, used for the purpose of removing the color, the student is badly blistered and burned.

After the capture of the freshman his classmates repaired to the college campus loaded with ample supplies of red paint, with which they bedaubed the steps and entrances to all the college buildings. Several students were not allowed to enter the classrooms yesterday and a wholesale expulsion will probably be the result of these frolics. A legal action is expected in the case of the injured freshman.

Scrubs Will Play

A preliminary game at 3 p. m. will be played between the third and fourth teams today before the Ames game. The teams will be composed of the best material in these teams and of some members of the second team.

A Host of Candidates

The Glee Club trials yesterday afternoon brought out the largest number of candidates in the history of the organization. Over sixty students tried their voices on Prof. Oberhoffer and most of these will be held for a more thorough examination before he makes the final selection.

The most encouraging feature of the trials were the number of promising candidates for the Tenor parts. It has often been said one or two good high tenor voices will make a club. This part has been rather light during the past two years but yesterday several were discovered which bid fair to make good. There also appears to be good material which will make good the loss occasioned by the graduation of Walter Brown who has been the mainstay of the second bass section. The selecting process will be continued next Friday.

W. N. Carroll Sunday

An address of value to all men in the University will be the one tomorrow at the Y. M. C. A. at 3 o'clock p. m. The speaker is W. N. Carroll, a prominent attorney of this city. He is a graduate of the Law school; secured his degree of D. C. L., a few years later and has since then established a large practice. He is an interesting speaker. He talks on the subject of "Business" tomorrow and should be heard by a large number of students. The quartette will sing.

FIRST MASS MEETING HELD

Rooters Trust Re-Organized—Thelan Made President Amid Great Enthusiasm

The first mass meeting of the year was held in chapel yesterday. While the exercises were very impromptu in character there was something doing all the time and it was voted a success by the rooters who filled every seat and most of the available standing room.

The main object of the meeting was the reorganization of the Roters club and the main interest centered in the election of a President.

Only two names were proposed, J. McMartin and John N. Thelan, and on a rising vote Mr. Thelan was elected by a good majority.

Von Williams acted as chairman and after a few remarks by President Northrop he called the meeting to order and introduced Dr. McVey the only remaining member of the Great Burton, Woodbridge and McVey trio.

The professor's appearance was greeted with great applause. He spoke in his usual happy way recalling his last year's seech, which was the subject of a beer add and a Gopher comment. He said this was the day of trusts and advised the formation of a rooter's trust capitalized to the full extent of the lung power and enthusiasm of the students.

After Mr. Thelan's election, he took the platform and laid out plans for the fall.

The rooters then took a hand in the ceremonies and Mr. Grannis was called upon for a speech. He was escorted to the platform. His speech was the hit of the day and he was cheered to the echo.

After this Thorpe, Flynn, Rogers and a newly discovered genius from the law school, who sails under the name of Chilloc were discovered in dicerent parts of the room and were more or less willingly borne to the platform by their enthusiastic friends. All made remarks that entertained the crowd. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president.

Tournament Nearly Over

The Tennis Tournament in singles is nearly over. Thursday, Newhall beat Northrop 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, after Northrop had beaten Kin 6-2, 7-5. This leaves Newhall to play the winner of the match between Field and the successful man in the Werner-Marshall contest. If Newhall wins he will hold the 1902 single championship. Otherwise, Northrop, Newhall and the Unknown will contest the round robin.

"U" Bible Class

Prof. Wilde will conduct the University Bible class at the Andrew Church this winter, beginning this Sunday at noon. The subject will be the history of the Jews considered with special reference to the origin and development of their religious ideas and institutions. The work will be prefaced by a discussion of the character and historical value of the Old Testament writings. The purpose of the course is to study these writings in the light of modern criticism, history, and science of religion. All students are welcome and discussion is invited.

The DAILY has been asked several times lately what seems to be a pertinent question. Why is it that magazines do not appear on the library rack until so long after they have appeared at the news stands?

The students will be glad to hear that the musical numbers which were so beautifully carried out last year, will probably be continued again soon. A series of the programs were given out at the third hour on Fridays and it is hoped that some of the same artists can be secured this year. The Ladies Thursday Musicals of this city and the Schubert Club of St. Paul are recognized being composed of some of the best musical talent in the Northwest, and some of their members rendered some excellent programs here. The Russian choir composed of young boys and girls were also here and entertained the students.

Programs of this nature are heartily appreciated by the students and serve as excellent recreation.

As Others View Us

The twin city newspapers are using feet of space in description and denunciation of the recent "student outrage." Some of the editorials are very amusing. The Tribune stated that, had the policemen used clubs on Thursday the disturbance would have soon been quelled. This is amusing, considering the size of the crowd and the temper of the students.

The Pioneer Press should however, be unanimously awarded the blue ribbon for its account of the game. We make no comment but publish the following clipped from that reliable newspaper; "The officers were hustled and jostled. The officers drew their revolvers, but this resort to arms did not terrorize the crowd. The ringing of the chapel bell came as a godsend for the policemen."—enough said—"As a teacher rang the bell the children filed into the old school-house."

One of the writers of the heavy editorials says that if the school authorities are unable to quell the disturbances other means must be employed and hints darkly at calling out the militia. All of which shows the folly of trying to write editorials without understanding the conditions.

Agricultural school Innovation
Within a few days a school text book will issue from the press that is of more than ordinary interest as a new departure. It is compiled by professors at the State Agricultural school for use in the rural schools of the state, and will be distributed free of cost to such schools as desire to use it. The expense is met by a special appropriation of the legislature.

The book does not pretend to be a text book on agriculture. It is a series of experiments, designated to teach children on the farm facts that will be of advantage to them as farmers, and could well be made use of by their parents. The experiments cover a wide range, including stock raising, tree culture, selection of seeds and soils, and domestic lessons for the girls. There will be in all about about 300 experiments, which will be for the most part a fascinating sort of play for the farmer boy and girl. Brought to them in such attractive form, the lessons will stick to them and will come into play in later years, if not immediately taken advantage of.

Prof. Williet M. Hays is editor in chief of the book, and experiments are contributed by Professors Robertson, Green, Snyder and Vye and Miss Blair. It will give an opportunity in a small way for beginning the study of agriculture in rural schools, and it is hoped that it will lead to greater things.

Dental Department

Pres. Basal; V.P., Burns; Sec. French; Treas. Wood. The election split along barb and frat lines and the barbs were the winners.

Mr. George A. Montelius registered with the Juniors during the week. He was the last man in.

The large freshman class claim that they taught the Sophomore Medics a lesson on Friday morning.

The Juniors and Seniors began their lecture course in Operative work Friday morning.

At a meeting of the Senior class yesterday morning a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of Clarence A. Hagaman.

Dr. Reed informed the Juniors the other day that they are supposed to chase themselves around the campus a few times before entering the dental building. Of course the boys always oblige "Doddy."

Fine Lecture Assured

Dr. Simmons' address on Sunday to the U. L. A. will be on "Human Nature in the Light of Modern thought." Every body is welcome. Room 13, Library building, at 3:30.

The Dramatic Club trials will be held in Mrs. Potter's office at the fourth hour Saturday. All those who intend to try should give their names to Miss Corrinne Webster. Put them in Box 342.

THE WOMEN'S LEAGUE

A Big Reception Will Be Held Oct. 20—Organization of League Changed

The executive committee of the Women's League met last Wednesday and elected Miss Etta McCabe of the sophomore class to fill the vacancy on the executive committee left by Miss Clara Wheeler who did not return to the University this year.

The organization of the League will be different this year from that of the past two years. The change will be announced in a few days. The large reception will be given on Oct. 20, and during the three or four days following the organization will be completed. Desks will be placed in the post office and the Registrar's office at which the young women may register for membership, by paying the small fee which will be required of each one. This, it is thought will be a more satisfactory method than the mass meeting, as the girls may have more time to consider the matter. It is, however, thought that almost all the girls will join this year and make the organization a very successful one.

At the opening reception on Oct. 20, to which all the girls will be invited, some of the Dramatic club will present a farce, and the band will furnish the music.

Arthur M. Johnson, '04, who was instructor in botany during the summer school, has accepted a similar position under Prof. Wheeler at the farm school. Mr. Johnson will not leave school, but will devote the afternoons to his new work.
