CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS SOUGHT BY COACH GRANT

Printed Circulars Call on Men of University to Help Form a Winning Team.

To boost cross-country running, Dick Grant has had two thousand five hundred circulars printed which he will have distributed among the men of the University. He says that running is a natural exercise which everybody enjoys at some time, that a running outfit costs very little; that a well-developed heart means sound lungs, well-developed muscles and other organs and the best way to strengthen even a functionally or an originally weak heart is to run under proper direction; that tuberculosis, which is so deadly, would be done away with as well as pneumonia by out-of-door running in the pure, fresh air. After considering the health side of cross-country running, he goes on to tell the time needed and the ease and benefit it does in one's development. "It is a companionable form of exercise * * * Running is the basis of success in nearly all forms of sport as it is practically the only exercise that will give endurance within a short time. Those who become proficient in cross-country running rarely give it up."

From the Minnesota standpoint he goes on. "Minnesota at present holds the western inter-collegiate cross-country championship and there is no reason why she should not always retain the honor, so long as she is a university in such a state and with such a sturdy people. Running is an art that any normal person may accomplish. Every member of the track team should be a cross-country runner and the members of next spring's track team will be largely made up of this fall's cross-country runners."

He then earnestly requests every body to come out with the squads which leave at the beginning of the fourth hour and at the end of the sixth and seventh hours. "The runs vary from two to five miles, to suit the runners, and the pace is set to accommodate the slowest man. Any man coming out now ought to be able to make good by November 19, the date of the cross-country championship at Chicago."

DR. STORRS TELLS GIRLS HOW TO CRITICIZE PLAYS

Dr. Carl B. Storrs, dramatic critic on the Tribune, gave an interesting talk at the meeting of the Thalian Literary society yesterday afternoon. He explained the principles of dramatic criticism and illustrated his points with examples from a number of the late plays.

The girls of the Minerva, Acanthus and Theta Epsilon societies were guests of the Thalians. The meeting was held in the living room at Shevlin Hall and after the talk frappe and wafers were served.

THREE HUNDRED CO-EDS GRACE Y.W.C.A. BANQUET

Membership Gathering Well Attended—Alice Anderson Presided Over List of Toasts.

The annual Y. W. C. A. membership banquet, given Tuesday night in Shevlin Hall, was a great success. The new dining-hall was filled to its full capacity and three hundred and thirty places were prepared.

Before the banquet the ceremony of candles was gone through with as it was last year. The freshmen, each carrying a lighted candle, marched by two under an arch supported by the members of the cabinet while the upperclass girls looked on from the sides of the assembly hall. After a prayer and the symbolic blowing out of the candle of selfishness, the girls adjourned to the dining-room.

Alice Anderson was toastmistress. Elizabeth Bruchholz welcomed the freshmen in to the Y. W. C. A. as the "elder sister" of all the girls in college. Miss Baxter, a member of the advisory council of the Y. W. C. A., gave some reminiscences of Minnesota eleven years ago. Helen Drew voiced the gratitude of the freshmen with the modesty becoming to their lowly station. Mrs. Harrison, president of the over-towa Y. W. C. A., spoke of its work among all classes of girls, and Della Melbourne demonstrated the fact that she is an "angel child," beyond any doubt or question.

DEAN WOODS SEEKS FUNDS FOR LARGER FARM SCHOOL

Plans to Be Submitted to Board of Regents—Dormitories and Classrooms Needed.

Dean Woods will submit plans for the future needs of the state agricultural schools of Minnesota at the next meeting of the Board of Regents. The plans are not only for the present needs but for those expected in the next ten years. The estimates call for the appropriation of about $1,000,000. The present need of the institution are two dormitories with a capacity of seventy-five students each and another building having about ten class rooms. These buildings, Mr. Woods thinks, are absolutely necessary for the present enrollment of the school, regardless of any increase. Conditions in the present dormitories are greatly congested and with the exception of the new dormitory under construction, there is no immediate relief. This new building when occupied will still leave fifty girls out who will be compelled to board outside of the campus. No relief whatever is promised for the boys this year.

These same conditions exist at the branch schools in Crookston and Morris, where the dormitories are crowded to their capacity.

Dean Woods in his plans will submit a campus scheme similar to that suggested for the University of Minnesota. He would have the college and prep. schools at the opposite sides of the grounds.

Get your pictures early and help the Gopher to come out April 1st.

NEW BOILER INSTALLED IN ELECTRICAL BUILDING

Substantial Addition to Light Plant Put In—Power Capacity Is Raised to 500 Horsepower.

A new 150 horsepower Sterling boiler is being installed in the power plant in the Electrical building. The new boiler will be used to assist the other two boilers in carrying the heavy lighting load during the winter, until the new power plant, which will be built next spring, is completed.

The boiler is equipped with an automatic moving chain grate. A fan will be used to increase the capacity of the chimney so that it will be able to take care of the three boilers. When the installation is completed the plant will have a capacity of 500 horsepower.

The mechanical engineering department will use the new boiler for experimental study. The three boilers of the plant are each of a different type and a very good chance for comparative study will be afforded.

FRATERNITIES TO COMPETE ALONG SCHOLARSHIP LINES

Plan Suggested for Raising the Standard of Scholarship Among Greeks.

An interfraternity scholarship competition may be established at Minnesota along the lines in vogue at other universities. The plans are as yet entirely in the embryo, but are meeting with considerable encouragement.

Professor Nicholson, head of the interfraternity council of the University of Minnesota, says of the movement: "The plan has not yet been considered by the council as a body, but I would advise all the fraternities to consider the matter. It is a very good plan and I would like to see it instituted here at Minnesota. It would undoubtedly help in establishing very high standards of scholarship."

At Wisconsin there has recently been given to the fraternities the Gamm cup, awarded each year to the fraternity having the highest average scholarship of all its members. The five highest fraternities have the names engraved on the cup in the order of standing.

DISAPPEARED FROM THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE.

The record book of the graduate faculty has disappeared from President Northrop's office. The book is about fourteen inches long and three-quarters of an inch thick.

The book is believed to have been carried from the president's office during registration week through someone's error, and it can not be found on the campus. A large number of students and members of the faculty were in the office during said week, and it is believed the book is lying unobserved in someone's room. Kindly make a search, and if you find the book, please leave it with Miss Whitney in President Northrop's office. The book is of great value to the graduate school, but is worthless to others.

PARADE GROUND TO BE SPRINKLED BEFORE DRILLS

Superintendent of Buildings Finally Concedes to Old Complaint—Cadets Rejoice.

The parade grounds will be sprinkled every day before drill, provided it is necessary, was the information received yesterday at the office of the superintendent of buildings and grounds. Many complaints have been made by the students in regard to the thick clouds of dust that rise from the drill grounds every time the cadets are required to drill. The superintendent of buildings claims that no complaints have as yet been made at that office this year, but if it is necessary that the grounds shall be dampened, so as to settle the dust, the wagons will be put on that portion of the campus at once. The only objection in the past to sprinkling the parade grounds was that it was feared that the wheels of the heavy water wagon would cut deep ruts in the grounds and eventually render them of no value for drilling purposes.

During recent years there has been a change in the attitude of the general public towards the universities of the country and the student part that university and students play in the The World. commercial, political and industrial pursuits of the nation. Statistics tend to show that besides educational work, students as a whole are becoming more and more engaged in work in the outside world before their education has been completed. Thus it is that the assimilation of the students into the pursuits of life takes place now without a sensible commotion. They take their places without that breaking in and foolish experimenting that has been the delight of humorists and the joy of writers of current fiction, who were accustomed to portray it all with much elaboration.

In other words the average university student is becoming more and more a recognized citizen before he has received his degree. His vote, and there are not a few like his among the colleges, is sought after. Student support is desired. It not only has present value, but if the student is brought to one point of view the chances are that he will continue to observe that point of view, and as he is recognized as a coming force in the nation, it is well that he should be started right.

The present trouble is, however, that the majority of the University students do not realize their responsibility and the position that they are holding. More active interest in the affairs of the nation, increased desire for improvement of governmental affairs, and a broader area of activity will do much for the status of the University student, not only now but later in life.

Now that school is well under way and classes all established the question of quizzes again comes up. It seems that many professors and instructors make Quizzes. it a rule to give their weekly exams on Monday. Why not give them the last part of the week instead of putting this unnecessary burden on the student?

No student wishes to study on Sunday beyond his regular lessons, and it is in the end an unfair condition. It is not one quiz that might be given but two or three, for one professor never knows what another is doing. The fact that we are given a day or two of rest should not be taken advantage of by the professor.

Will Petition for an Immediate Change—Can't Bear "Den of Horrors."

Prexy is to be the recipient of a petition from the freshman girls to change the place of their physical hygiene lectures. They do not care very much where they go if they can be changed from their "den of horrors." The chemistry lecture room has been suggested but cannot be used because the men have their lecture from Dr. Cooke at the same time.

WARDROBE OF ACTRESS FEATURES GREAT PLAY

The highly successful Frederic Thompson productions of Porter Emerson Browne's latest play will be presented at the Metropolitan Opera House the week beginning Sunday, October 23. "The Spendthrift" is Frances Ward (Doris Mitchell), the wife of a hard-working broker, whose extravagance brings him to the brink of ruin. She is a beautiful woman who cares more for social triumphs and the glittering incidentals of association with the money-spending set than anything else.

It is necessary, in order that the audience be convinced of Mrs. Ward's extravagant habits, that she appear in some rather expensive clothes creations. Because of that Miss Doris Mitchell, who plays the part, will have the pleasure of displaying to a series of audiences which are probably as discriminating as any in the world, several gowns calculated to make women open their eyes with delight at the sight of them and men to close their eyes at the idea of having their sight assaulted by such a similar sartorial triumph.

GOLD WEATHER PUTS LIFE INTO FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Frosty Air Makes the Scrimmage Snappy—Line Still Object of Coach's Efforts.

The cold wave that hit Minneapolis was just the thing to get some life into the Gopher squad yesterday afternoon. Dr. Williams is not going to have the team fall down in the rudimentary points of the game at the critical time of the year, so is training his men thoroughly in these points. The early part of the afternoon was spent in getting the team into a good, spirited condition. Kicking, catching, punts and signal practice took most of the time of the preliminary work.

The last part of the day was spent in a good scrimmage practice; all of the regulars got into the game well. Particular attention is to be paid in the future to the training of the forwards. Although the work of these men was more than pleasing last Saturday, they still have great room for improvement. Bromley is a hard aggressive man at guard, while Robinson is rapidly developing to be a player that can be depended on at all times. Big Jimmie Waller has at last struck his gait and if he will only keep up the spirit he showed against Nebraska and not slack up he will be one of the best tackles in the West. Young, at the other tackle, worked very creditably also and is going to prove one of this season's strong men. Morrell at center held Collins well and with two weeks' drill ought to come up into fine shape. A good kicker has got to be developed immediately and it probably will rest between "Babe" and Pick. It is hoped that they will round into form by the Chicago game, as all points will be needed at that time.

NEW RULING AT WELLESLEY PUTS DAMPER ON RUSHING

Under the new regulations at Wellesley none of the six sororities affected by the new ruling can choose their own members. This was done to do away with the "undemocratic" atmosphere of the sororities for which the alumnae members have been so criticized in the past. The new members, almost three hundred of them, were allowed to express their preferences as to the societies that they wished to join and as far as possible they were assigned to their choice. The girls are all juniors and seniors and must have acquired satisfactory standing in their college work.

FIRST FALL TRACK MEET, SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

Cinder Athletes in Good Condition—Harold Hull to Try for Record in Half-Mile.

Dick Grant is working his track candidates hard in preparation for Saturday's meet. Dick has some very good material this year and is using all his ingenuity to whip it into first-class shape. Just one month from yesterday the inter-collegiate cross-country run is to be held at Chicago. Last year Minnesota's team of five men walked away with the blue ribbon, and as this year's bunch is equally as promising as last, Minnesota hopes to come in a winner.

The annual fall track meet to be held Saturday, while as yet a new thing at Minnesota, promises to become one of the most important events of the year. Some mighty fine material promises to bring out some keen competition. The meet will be free and the scores from the important football games all over the country will be announced as soon as they are received over the wire.

"Doc" Williams promises a treat to the spectators at the meet by giving the Minnesota varsity an open practice beginning at 4:30. There will be secret practice from 2:30 to 4:30 and then the gates will be opened to everyone. The track events have been postponed until that hour also in order to give the team time for their secret practice beforehand. As both the meet and the open practice promise something very classy to lovers of athletics, a large crowd is expected.
