We hope Fired Up will be a catalyst for healing, activism, and prioritizing prevention.

Cordella Anderson, Activist and Author

I was amazed by the courage of the individuals sharing their stories, and surprised at the sense of hope and love I was left with at the end.

Fired Up, a project of the Minnesota Coalition Against Sexual Assault's HOPE (Honoring Our Personal Experiences) program, is a strategy to engage survivors and others with lived experience in prevention. It is based on and motivated by the work of Ping Chong + Company's (PC+C) play, Secret Survivors, part of PC+C's Undesirable Elements Series. Funding was provided by the Minnesota Department of Health Sexual Violence Prevention Program. This activity is made possible by the voters of Minnesota through a grant from the Minnesota State Arts Board, thanks to a legislative appropriation from the arts and cultural heritage fund.
