Cast of "You Can't Take It With You" Rehearses For Fall Term Production

Miller Directs Pulitzer Prize Play Of 1937

The Speech department announces that its fall production is to be "You Can't Take It With You," the 1937 Pulitzer prize play, written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman.

Mr. Miller, the new speech instructor, is the director. Since there is no Play Production class this quarter, the production is being handled by a newly organized dramtic club.

Tentative dates of performance are November 2 and 3. Tryouts were held and rehearsals are now underway.

The characters in "You Can't Take It With You" have the philosophy of doing as they please. Joyce Wiles plays Penelope Sycamore, the effervescent mother whose desire it has always been to write a play, merely because she has a typewriter. Her husband, Paul, who manufactures firecrackers, is played by Jim Matteson.

Grandpa Vanderhof, around whom all the story's events revolve, is enacted by Harold Steffen. Essie, whose ambition is dancing, but whose side-line is fudge-making, is the role taken by Lois Pearling, while her dancing instructor, Kolenkhov, is played by Edward Anderson.

The only two reasonably sane members in the story are Alice, played by Helen Hagen, and Tony Kirby, her boss's son, enacted by William Cashin.

Other students in the cast are Loraine Cote, Joseph Tomars, John Tyllia, Ellard Low, Gerard D'Arcey, Kathleen LeBlanc, Vincent Seguin, Barbara Brown, Donald Johnson, Wallace Johnson, Frank Gogins, Phil Pfenninger, Doris Morehouse.

DSTC Students Broadcast Over KDAL

Many at the college are unaware that the students in the Music Department present weekly broadcasts over KDAL on Fridays at 4:15 P. M. So tune in this week.

Friday's program features Ruth Buckley, cornetist, accompanied by Myrtle Mattson at the piano.

Ida Mae Conway, contralto, will be heard October 6th, accompanied by Gretchen. Maul. They will be followed on October 13th by Dorothy Erickson and Rose Moody.

OFFICE NOTICES

For the benefit of new students and as a reminder to former ones, we wish to call to mind the regulation, established last year, prohibiting smoking. No one is permitted to smoke on the college campus or in any of the buildings except Washburn Hall.

This regulation will result in a more orderly campus and will make a better impression upon our guests.

GRACE O'ROURKE HEADS SENIORS IN ELECTIONS

Classes Elect Simonich, Ericson and Nagolski Star

Grace O'Rourke was elected president of the Senior class at the class election, this being the first time in several years that a woman has held this office. Other officers elected Monday morning are Robert Thom, vice-president; Betty Fladeland, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Evarts, assembly committeeman.

The Senior class decided that some form of activity such as an outing should be held during the fall term, although most of the Senior activities such as the annual Valentine dance, the graduate banquet, and commencement affairs occur later in the year.

Nathan Ballou again receives the presidency of his class. The supporting officers of the Juniors are: Vice-president, Ina Swenson; secretary - treasurer, Mildred

College Enrollment Largest In History; 736 Students

More Than 350 New Freshmen

Seven hundred and thirty-six students have registered for the fall quarter this year. In addition, there are two hundred and thirty-five pupils in the elementary grades. September 5th was devoted solely to the registration of students entering Duluth State Teachers' College for the first time. Sixty-six young men and women are now staying at the two dormitories, Torrance and Washburn, on the campus.

The extension of the curriculum in Music and Speech is partly the cause of this great influx of students. Not only Duluth is represented here, but also the surrounding districts and Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Ohio, Florida, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Illinois.

In the fall quarter of last year five hundred and thirty-three enrolled, while seven hundred and thirty-six are now attending the preparatory teaching and college courses. Waiting in line for two or three hours in order to register was not unusual on September 5th. Tired, prospective students went home on Tuesday to return Wednesday to complete their registration. Wednesday was also registration day for former students. This two-day registration period will go down in the history of the college as the first of its kind. Never before has the enrollment required more than one day.

In contrast to this time in the nineteen-thirties the enrollment reached a high of slightly over six hundred for teachers' training and college work.

Says Dean of Women Miss Harrison, of the great influx of students, "It's a bit overwhelming!" "Men are higher scholastically," stated Dean Corfield.

Sigmund Spaeth, Tune Detective, Comes Oct. 18th

In keeping with the Music Department's policy of bringing outstanding personages to the college campus, inaugurated last year with the presentation of Roland Hayes, the student body is to have the privilege of meeting Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, educator, lecturer, author, and newspaperman, who comes to the college October 18th and 19th.

Mr. Spaeth needs no introduction. He is known to millions as a humanizer and simplifier of music for the layman. He concentrates on the important job of making music intelligible and entertaining to everyone, regardlesss of individual talent and experience.

Radio Star.

As a radio entertainer, Sigmund Spaeth is practically a household word, for he has appeared as star and guest-artist on innumerable programs. In addition to his writings, he has engaged in making several movie shorts which have proved exceedingly popular with the American public. These activities have earned for Mr. Spaeth the title, "America's foremost educational entertainer in any musical program."

During the last two years, Sigmund Spaeth has traveled a hundred thousand miles to fill over four hundred engagements. As he is making only a few appearances this season, we are extremely fortunate in being selected as one of the colleges to play host to this prominent artist in the field of music.

Fortnightly Staff Posted By Editor Dorothy Fuller

Journalism Class Aids Publication Of Paper

A tentative selection of the "Fortnightly Chronicle" staff members has been announced by Dorothy Fuller, editor.

The assistant editorship will be handled by Jack Shunk, who has had three years of experience on the DSTC paper. Phyllis Brooks, sophomore, will be the feature editor, and Herbert Krause, also a sophomore, sports editor; Margaret MacDonald, news editor.

With the introduction of a Journalism class under the direction of Dr. Sandin, the staff will include members of that group interested in writing for the paper.

Among the new reporters, outside the Journalism Class, are Frances Gruesen, who edited the Stanbrook Hall official publication of the Villa Saint Scholastica; Alyce Taylor, sports editor; Gerard D'Arcy, managing editor of the La Crosse teachers' college paper; and Margaret Halstead, a feature editor at Central High School.

Other reporters for our staff who will be assigned duties are Madelyn Kleutsch, Betty Fuller, Marjorie Mills, Betty Watterson, Helen Hagen, Dorothy Peterson, Helen Belverud, Hazel Paulson, George Harmala, William Wern, Ed Hakkarainen, Connie Everson, Ruth Branstrom, Bill Martin, Lloyd B. Johnson, Gerry Lindberg, Lanny McKay and Verner Curtis.

The circulation department is headed by Ruth Bard, with Betty Bartel and Vivian Knox assisting.

June Tregenza will head the typing department. Lois Long and Marge Hendry will be her aids.

Although these are the initial members of the staff, others are urged to make contributions to the paper. New members of the staff will be announced later in the year.

RECEIVES NEW POSITION

Maurice Gorham, former star athlete and assistant coach at Duluth State Teachers College, is now teaching history and physical education in Shakopee, Minnesota.

Paul Bunyan's True Disciple Here

Call Crosshaul, the man who is the only true interpreter of our famous Northwestern hero, Paul Bunyan, is to appear before the student body on September 28, Thursday.

Crosshaul's use of the old time lumberjack's lingo puts a punch and charm into his tales to thrill and amaze his listeners.

Chapel Talk By Dr. Dunnington

Dr. L. L. Dunnington, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, spoke in chapel last Thursday upon the subject "Behind the Headlines in Europe."

Over One Hundred Graduates Placed

More Placements Expected, Says Mr. Voorhees

According to Mr. Joseph Voorhees, head of the D. S. T. C. department of recommendations, total placements for 1939-40 have reached seventy-two for graduates of the two-year curriculum and fifty-six for the four-year graduates. Seventy-four of this number were 1939 graduates. Although the number placed is not as high as that of last year, Mr. Voorhees anticipates that by Christmas time many more placements will have been made.

While 82 per cent of the 1939 two-year graduates have received positions, in contrast approximately 52 per cent of the four-year graduates have been placed.

Two-Year Curriculum.

Of the number in the two-year curriculum who have received positions, forty-eight were graduates of 1939. The two-year group includes: Marion Addison, '39, Hinckley; Marion Anderson, '39, District 126 of Pine County; Bernice Anderson, '37, Carlton; Ruth Bispala, '38, Floodwood; Florence Belling, '39, Denham; Fern Breckheimer, '39, Arthyde; Rose Cerkvenik, '39, Bovey; Genevieve Danielson, '39, Strandquist; Naoma Duncan, '39, Rothsay; Susanna Eid, '39, Detroit Lakes; Doris Frank, '39, Aitkin

Former Chronicle Ed.'s Literary Efforts Appear In Publications

Ethel Erkkila, former editor of the Fortnightly Chronicle, and at present a teacher in Shakopee, Minnesota, has received word that her article, "Art Problems in the Junior High School," is to be published in a future issue of the "Clearing House," a national professional magazine.

During the summer her poems appeared in "The Moccasin," "Garden of Song," "The Country Bard," and "Prairie Wings." Last week a poem of hers was accepted by the "American Poetry Magazine."

Miss Erkkila has been accepted into the American Literary Association.

President Sorenson Announces Winners Of Student Fellowships

Fellowships have been awarded this year for the first time in Duluth Teachers College. These students will act as assistants to the instructors in their fields. Intelligence, industry and scholarship were the primary essential criteria in selecting the students. The awards amount to twenty dollars a month for the school term of nine months.

Dr. Sorenson has announced that the following students were awarded the fellowships: Botany, Margaret Jackson; Speech and Dramatics, Grace O'Rourke; Chemistry and Mathematics, Nathan Ballou; English, Margaret Peterson; Education, Betty Fladeland; Fine Arts, Hilmar Hanson; Library, Ina Swenson; Zoology and Physiology, Verner Curtis; Men's Physical Education, Charles Pegelow and Wilson Ericson; Music, Phyllis Quaranta and Fred Mumma; Social Studies, John Helmberger and Marjorie Bullard; Rural Education, Ruth Carlson, and Women's Physical Education, Edith Peterson.

Current Affairs Hold Attention of Discussion Club

Three talks on the international situation will be given this afternoon at a regular meeting of the Discussion Club, at 1:15, in room 315.

Mack Fredin will discuss "America's Attitude on War;" Clifford Harmala, the "Nazi Primer," and Stanley Finklestein, the "Russian Situation."

At a recent meeting of the organization, Wilson Ericson, sophomore, was selected president; Sidney Sicotte, vice president; Betty Bartel, secretary - treasurer; refreshment committee, Hazel Pearson and Charlotte Munro; publicity, Martha Kothz and Marjorie Larson.

Last week Sidney Sicotte discussed both sides of the U. S. neutrality situation. Britain's attitude on the second world war was discussed by Rhoda Levine, while Marybeth Nelson spoke on the subject of everyday changes in general living conditions of 1914 as compared with 1939.

All students are invited to attend meetings of the club.

Student contributions to The Chronicle will be greatly appreciated.

IN APPRECIATION

The Duluth State Teachers College has a scholarship fund which we should all be eager to see grow, for it enables many worthy students to pay their tuition and expenses.

Recently a very real contribution was made to this fund by a friend of the college who donated fifty dollars in order that a deserving student might continue his education.

This friend wished to remain anonymous, but we want to take this opportunity to extend our sincere appreciation to her.

Increased Enrollment Crowds School

A lack of both equipment and space has been noted at Duluth State Teachers' College. The enrollment has increased from 534 students in 1938 to 736 students. Since appropriations from the State Legislature are made on the enrollment of the previous year, our present budget is insufficient at the moment.

Although the college is the largest teachers' college in the state, it has least facilities of any college. In a period extending from 1915 through 1938 the University of Minnesota received $588 per student; other teachers' colleges received $322 per student, and the Duluth college received $281 from state appropriations, according to the State Auditor's report.

This part of the state contributes 85 per cent of the money used for educational purposes, but received in appropriations only 16 per cent; in comparison the Twin Cities area contributed nothing and received 85 per cent; the Western section furnished 11 per cent and received 26 per cent.

The $440,000 for which Dr. Sorenson has asked the Legislature would enable the college to enlarge its faculty and to increase its facilities. There is a great need for this expansion as indicated by classes with an enrollment of over a hundred students. Addition to the faculty would allow such classes to be split up into smaller groups.

According to the Physical Education department, three more gymnasiums are needed to accommodate the classes. An athletic field and field house are also badly needed.

The other departments have felt the lack of the necessary number of textbooks and other equipment. This overcrowded condition is difficult on students and instructors alike, but we look forward to more spacious days.

—Mary Ellen Smith.

College Thinking

If the United States is to maintain its neutrality in the present European war, besides enforcing neutrality of action, we must adopt a policy of careful, unprejudiced thinking regarding both the origin of the war and the developments following. This requirement undoubtedly will be of increasing importance to the nation as war progresses and sympathies become more pronounced.

At the time war broke out, President Roosevelt declared the existing neutrality of the United States. But he explained also that American thought cannot be expected to remain neutral. However, sympathizing with any belligerent hardly necessitates posting an opinion and defending it as conclusive. The president's message seemed to encourage and to advise cautious thinking and to condemn bull-headed opinions based on likes and dislikes.

Indeed the outstanding need of the United States' citizens is an ability to weigh impartially and to consider all the aspects of various problems confronting them.

To us the important question is: "What part should the college student play in all this?" If any group of people could be selected to lead the nation in seeking to understand the world as well as the nation, college students, trained in institutions which are dedicated to promote sound thinking, should be able to step forward and light the path.

—LeRoy Haglund

Join Our Clubs

New students usually have difficulty in adjusting themselves to their surroundings. The primary purpose of most organizations in college is to enable the student to become acquainted and to participate in activities.

These clubs have both academic and social functions for all students. By such common interests at group meetings the social life of college is maintained and increased. Other students are as eager to become acquainted with you as you are to know them.

New people—new points of view—they're always welcome. These college activities are yours if you wish to make them so.

MR. MILLER FINDS DULUTH IDEAL

* * *

Speech Instructor Wrote For Radio

(By JACK SHUNK)

"I'm greatly impressed by the natural beauty of Duluth, its hills, and your campus, so ideally located amid all this scenic beauty. I am certain my stay here will be extremely enjoyable," said Mr. Joseph W. Miller, the new speech instructor, in an interview.

Mr. Miller came here from the University of Maine where he was instructor in the theater. He received his B. A. and M. A. degrees from Cornell, majoring in public speaking and dramatic literature, then attending the Theodora Irvine School for Acting in New York City. Mr. Miller's experience on the professional stage consisted of roles in a group of one-act plays produced by Alfred Kreymbourg, the noted playwright, also as understudy lead in Marc Connelly's recent Broadway production "Injunction Granted," which ran for thirteen weeks. In addition to these activities, Mr. Miller did free-lance writing and prepared numerous radio scripts which were presented by New York broadcasting stations.

Following the presentation of George S. Kaufmann's Pulitzer prize-award, "You Can't Take It With You," which the cast is now rehearsing, Mr. Miller has plans for other recent plays, possibly Ian Hay's productions of last year, "Bachelor Born," "What A Life," or "Helen of Troy." The latter piece played to record crowds for four nights last season at the University of Maine. Plans for the classic production are indefinite, but Mr. Miller has in mind either Shakespeare's "As You Like It" or "Richard, the Third."

What Price Spirit?

Saturday, at Ordean Field, this writer witnessed the Duluth State Teachers' College football team defeat the Eveleth Jaysees in an overwhelming victory. Three cheer leaders were present, to use their efforts in stimulating vocal response and plaudits from the fair-sized crowd. But, where was the response? The size of the crowd wasn't at fault—though a vast increase in attendance would be encouraging. Time and again the cheer leaders supplied their science in promoting pep within the stadium to no avail. Throughout the afternoon the only reaction was from a handful of spectators and that top-stadium group of local hecklers known as Coxey's Army. Even the splendid efforts of the band, particularly during the halves, failed to turn the spectators' heads.

Now for some time, in fact, for several years, spirit among the students has declined and at such a rate that today, enthusiasm for anything except a holiday cannot be aroused. Last year saw the near extinction of the one organization pledged to create and lead student interests. The trouble is wholly the fault of the students; in one word — indifference, or even indolence. Whatever it is, without continuous pressure, every activity fails for lack of coopertaion and enthusiasm on the part of the student body. None better than each student wishes more than to have his institution grow. Recently, under capable guidance and through the efforts of certain enterprising individuals, DSTC has grown and will continue to grow with the assistance of student co-operation. It is the duty, then, of every individual to advertise, stimulate, and promote interest in all the activities which the college sponsors. Get behind your leaders. Participate wholeheartedly in all undertakings. Be determined to become an integral part of that stairway to progress. And the next time your team members fight for you, either in victory or defeat, show them encouragement in telling all who and what you are by spelling it — school spirit.

—Jack Shunk.

Student Musing On Campus Considers Plight Of Scholars

On the tongues of DSTC students now is the hope that this Fall season will remain as pleasant and sunny as it has been for the past week. The reason is simply this: There is nothing more inviting than the campus lawn, or more enjoyable than lying on the lawn; and this, actually, is the thing of the hour around college.

Is there anything strange or queer about this? —Not at all, when the conditions under which students are studying in the classroom building are considered. The library is too crowded and classes are so large that many could be split like a pie and still be big.

Furthermore, the building is no streamlined model with accommodations for more than seven hundred students. Even though we would be willing to sacrifice a little grass for bigger buildings—Would that the Twin Cities could hear!

Meanwhile students will use the warmth of the sun to drive away the chills caught in an overcrowded building. But—and this is the saddest of all—what will students do when winter comes?

LeRoy Haglund.

Registration Days

Oh, the girl from Pennsylvania
Came here with a mania
For Indians, buffalos, the wild, wild West,
For sand dunes and cowboys and fresh air and zest.

She came to us peaceable, but soon went mad,
Bitten by the same bug the rest of us had.
Pushing and jamming for the great open spaces
And elbowing the others out of their places.

Finally she surrendered, escaping to the lawn;
(All her ribs were broken—all her dreams were gone).
There as she lingered with all hopes bereft,
Suddenly there burst from the doorway on her left,
(Stiring her, rousing her, filling her with wonder),
Shaking the ground with a noise like thunder,
Creatures escaping from the doors in fountains
With a crush and a jam not so much like battle
As the blind stampede of a million cattle.

Were they buffalo? Was there a cowboy,
Or blanketed Indians saying, "How, boy?"
Alas for the girl from the far, far east.
The maddened creatures, half man, half beast
Were only the freshmen escaping to the mountains.

Get-Acquainted Meeting Held By Philokaila

The Philokalia Club entertained its new members at a get-acquainted meeting last Tuesday at 12:30 in the Art Room.

The interests of the members were expressed in order to plan a program for the coming quarter. The majority of the preferences were in the field of creative expression, either sketching, painting, or modeling.

A discussion was held about club pins for the members and about making green and gold ribbons, the college colors.

Meetings for the coming quarter are to be held every other Tuesday about 12:30 in room 113.

Myrtle Mattson To Head English Club

Myrtle Mattson, junior, has been re-elected president of the English club for the fall quarter, and Rose McCollar, secretary.

As a project for their activities of the year, members have been discussing the possibility of sponsoring noted lecturers or writers in appearances at the college.

At their last meeting a large number of new students turned out. It is expected that even more will attend the next meeting.

Helen Olson Elected Head Of College Terpsichorean Group

Orchesis, the honorary dance society, will hold its meeting every Tuesday at four o'clock in the gymnasium under the direction of Miss Fox, physical education instructor.

Helen Olson has been chosen president. She is the only officer in the organization.

New members will not be admitted until the end of the Fall term. Before admittance to the club, applicants must pass an examination in which they show interest and definite ability.

The program for the year consists of practice of modern dance techniques and work in dance compositions.

Wandmaker, and assembly committeeman, Leonard Ostrom.

The biggest event of the Junior year is the sponsorship of the annual Junior Prom in honor of the seniors.

The Sophomore class president has not been selected as yet, but will be chosen soon. The vice-president is Fred Nelson; the secretary-treasurer, Joy Ballou, and assembly committeeman, Hilmar Hanson.

A sports dance in the spring is the social affair always given by the Sophomore class.

Freshman class officers are: President, Duncan McLean; vice-president, Olaf Swenson; secretary - treasurer, Elizabeth Bjornstad, and assembly committeeman, Eddie Hegvolt.

During the fall quarter each year the new Freshmen give their "Swingout" so that new students may become acquainted with each other and other students.

Torrance Hall Initiates New Women Members

Have you noticed the poise of the Freshman girls at Torrance Hall? Their recipe is this: Place a book, 5 in. by 8 in. by 1 in. squarely on the summit of the head; tie the book securely on (if possible) and wear for at least a day. The result—a headache, later, poise.

We noticed that Jule picked the book, "It Can't Happen Here"—only it did.

More practice in balance came when all meals had to be eaten with a knife as the only implement. We're glad they used them on the food and not on us.

We ended our day's festivities with a marshmallow roast and singing around the fireplace in the evening. All the girls that were initiated were grand sports and, we, the old members of the hall, welcome them most cordially into our group.

One of the important events that takes place each quarter at Torrance Hall is the election of a house council. This quarter we have selected the following: President, Marjorie Bullard; senior representative, Elda Anderson; junior representative, Ruth Frisell; sophomore representative, Elizabeth Suista; freshman representative, Janis Driscoll.

Phyllis Brooks Heads Language Club

The Language Club held its first meeting of the year Friday, September 15. The following students were chosen as officers: Phyllis Brooks, president; Ivy Syvertson, vice-president, and Madelyn Kleutsch, secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for a picnic which was held on September 21.

Future Teachers Show Aims of Association

The FTA was organized in the Duluth State Teachers College in the spring quarter of 1939 to supplement the former Rural Life Club. The purposes and aims of the club are to acquaint and interest the students in the profession of teaching and to promote high ideals in character and leadership. FTA is an organization based upon a most important fact: That the future of mankind is in the youth of today—in the purpose, intelligence and excellence of their lives. FTA offers an opportunity for pioneers who wish to perform a service for their country and humanity.

FTA held its fall picnic at Lester Park Sunday, September 24th. Football, baseball and lunch were enjoyed by all who attended.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, September 28th, at 3:20 in room 316.

Kindergarten Club Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Kindergarten Club was held on Thursday, September 21st. The new officers, who assumed their duties at that time, are as follows:

President, Helen Dahl; treasurer, Mary Maynard, and secretary, Florence Caldwell.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held on Tuesday, September 26th, on the North Shore. Committees are as follows:

Invitations, Irma Nelson, Rhoda Trygg and Florence Caldwell; refreshments, Idabele La Budde, Barbara Tonskemper and Arlene Gleason.

Student mail boxes are located by the main office. Watch your box each day.

NEW BOOKS IN LIBRARY

A variety of new books has been placed in circulation for students and faculty members. The following is a list of recent books:

Fiction.

Buck, "Patriot;" Van Dine, "World's Great Detective Stories;" O'Brien, "Best Short Stories, 1939."

Non-Fiction.

Dodd, "Through Embassy Eyes;" Meyer, "More European Educators and Their Work;" Thompson, "Debussy, Man and Artist;" Hindus, "We Shall Live Again;" Hitler, "Mein Kampf;" White, "Puritan in Babylon: Life of Calvin Coolidge;" Mayorga, "Best One-Act Plays of 1939;" Atkins, "Edna St. Vincent Millay and Her Times;" Ferber, "Peculiar Treasure: Autobiography of Edna Ferber;" De Voto, "Mark Twain's America;" Hawthorne, "Heart of Hawthorne's Journals;" Sontag, "Germany and England, 1848-1914."

LSA Entertains New Students At Welcome

"Welcome Night" for new students was held by the Lutheran Students' association Friday evening, at a weiner roast at Lester Park.

Miss Hortense Haze, student secretary for the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America and a national LSA advisor of Minneapolis, spoke at their recent meeting.

The club is composed primarily of DSTC students, but other Duluth colleges are represented.

Other officers are vice president, Bob Evanson; secretary, Olaf Swenson, and treasurer, Peter Otteson.

Committees for the term have been selected. In charge of refreshments are Hazel Paulson and Helen Dahl. Daisy Okerbergh and Grace Stageberg are handling publicity, while Dorothy Erickson and Frank Duncan arrange the programs. Bob Evanson and Edith Peterson are on the social committee.

Natura Amantis Varies Activities

Natura Amantis activities for the year combine a wide selection, including evening dinners, picnics, club hikes, and speakers from the college and from elsewhere.

"Majors and minors in Biology are especially invited to join this scientific and social club," says Iva Marie Beebe, the president.

Tentatively meetings will be held every other Wednesday at 3:30 in classrooms of the Biology department.

The organization programs are divided into three parts: First, education and research, second, recreation.

Doris Gooder was elected vice-president, and Elizabeth Helpa, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Frazee and Dr. Lakela are advisors for the club.

Three Choral Groups In Music Department

The Music Department this term has formed several choral groups which will be heard from time to time during the year in special programs. One of these is the Candlelight Singers, a group made up of eight voices specializing in madrigals and other secular numbers. Last year they were enthusiastically received by the student body.

The other two choral organizations are a cappela choirs which present both sacred and secular music. The first choir numbers fifty voices and meets every day, except Thursday at 12:30 in room 305. The personnel this quarter includes the following:

The newly organized laboratory choir meets every day except Thursday also, in room 305 from 1:30-2:30. This organization is still open to membership, in fact, more women's voices are needed. Any student interested in singing for enjoyment, should see Miss Ehlert immediately.

Swing Assembly As New Program Pleases Students

Dr. Sorenson's humorous treatment of the introduction of last Monday's "swing" assembly served to introduce his sense of humor in a very effective way to the new student body! "Here," they undoubtedly thought, "is a man who, besides having the cultural background of a college president, has also the intelligence to realize that the younger generation does enjoy swing!"

As far as the assembly itself is concerned, there is no doubt that nearly everyone who attended enjoyed it! Various snatches of conversation at its conclusion indicated that having a program of this type every now and then would do much toward enlivening school life!

Of course, every student realizes, or should realize, that he goes to college mainly for intellectual cultivation, but variety does harm to no one. In fact, one might even go so far as to say that when a student sees the comparison between the classical type of music and, as Dr. Sorenson expresses it, "the jungle type," he may be impressed by the higher of the two, which obviously gives more lasting pleasure!

Physical Examinations Required Of All

All students are required to have physical examinations. If you have not made an appointment, see Miss Vavra in Washburn.

The examination is necessary for all students in the completion of registration routine.

"Hell Week" Held At Washburn Hall

New Men Initiated Into Dormitory

With the posting of Hell Week directions, initiation of eleven new members of Washburn Hall officially began at midnight, September 10th, 1939. The practice was started last year, the first year Washburn Hall was used as a men's dormitory, and is on its way to becoming a tradition, with the freshmen being the only ones initiated. All new residents were initiated this year.

"Big Brothers" were chosen by the new members, and highest respect, esteem, courtesy, and loyalty were paid to them at all times. It was expected that the freshmen rise and remain standing when a Big Brother entered a room. Then the Big Brother would give them permission to be seated. At the former's request he could have his shoes shined or his room cleaned, or anything he wanted.

New residents were not permitted to shave all week. Trouser cuffs were to be rolled up three times and no stockings worn. The same shirt was to be worn all week. A bright-red finger-nail polish was used. Hair was parted in the center. Monday morning additional bows and ribbons were placed on the boys so as to point them out. One boy carried a brick around all day, while another carried a large suit-case.

Law was enforced by the wielding of paddles made by the subjected. Anytime a Big Brother felt the need, he could command a freshman to "assume the angle." Three paddles were broken in this manner.

In spite of the possible "grief," everyone—both old and new—felt that Hell-Week was the best way of learning to know each other. An acceptance party was held for the old members by the new. This ended "Hell-Week."

JUST DUST

It seems to be a necessary evil for every college newspaper to have a "column"—so this is the sort of dust you students kick up!

There is a new freshie around here who, we understand, wishes to become a journalist and was discussing the idea with a staff member. When asked if he had any newspaper experience before, the frosh pondered awhile and finally his face lightened, as he eagerly replied, "Oh, yes—the the mimeograph." Well, he knows better than that now.

Boc McDonnel (of the Scotch Mc's) muttered the woes of a would-be music appreciator when, learning to play the piano from his hand-made copy of music, he said, "Gee, even a dust speck can ruin your grade for the week."—In other words, how was the dotted half-note invented?

Candidate for Freshman who gets most mail-of-the-week—Wally Dimmerio. No wonder he goes back to Mt. Iron for the week-ends! We personally think he haunts the postman.

If Mr. Ehlert knew how much resistance it took for certain members of Orchesis to refrain from entertaining his class with a little Hindu dance one day, he'd probably play the tune again!

LISTENING PLEASURE IN THE AIR FOR MUSIC LOVERS

This column is dedicated to those of you interested in classical music (and we all should be). From time to time this space will be devoted to news of good music here at school, on the air, and around Duluth in general.

Sunday still continues to lead the week in symphonic programs.

At 2-3 P. M. the Columbia Symphony orchestra is heard, directed by Howard Barlow. Next Sunday's concert consists of the following numbers:

"The Gypsy Baron" overture of Johann Strauss.

Schubert's "Symphony No. 2 in B-Flat Major."

Adagio, by Arthur Foote, and three English folksongs arranged by Vaughn Williams.

Following this program over the same station is heard a very interesting half-hour feature, entitled, "So YOU Think You Know Music?" Four lovers of good music are the contestants each Sunday in this interesting game of wits, a totally different kind of quiz program. If you haven't listened to this one before, give it a hearing next Sunday.

October 1st features the NBC Symphony orchestra under Alfred Wallenstein's direction at 7-8 P. M. over WEBC-NBC. There are only two more of these Sunday evening concerts, for Arturo Toscanini resumes the podium for the orchestra's regular Saturday night concerts beginning on October 14th. Mr. Wallenstein has selected the following numbers for his next Sunday's program:

Johannes Brahm's "Second Symphony."

The same evening, (October 1st), from 8-9 o'clock, CBS-KDAL presents the Ford Hour with Eugene Ormandy conducting and Gladys Swarthout as guest soloist. Incidentally, she is to be the Duluth Symphony's first soloist of the season on October 27th. More news of this will follow in the next issue of this paper.

October 15th brings the reappearance of the New York Philharmonic orchestra on CBS-KDAL at 2-4 P. M. John Barbarolli, eminent English conductor, will direct the season of twenty-six concerts as usual.

In the Pilgrim Congregational church, Twenty-third avenue east and Fourth street, Friday evening, September 28th, the Matinee Musicale presents in recital, Marcel Dupre, greatest living organist. Student tickets are only 75 cents. A season's ticket for students is as low as $2 and includes four outstanding recital programs.

The Duluth Civic Symphony Association offers six evening concerts during the year in the Armory. Season tickets for this year can be obtained for as low as $4. For further information regarding these concerts see either Mr. or Miss Ehlert in the Music Department. Students should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing one or more of these programs if they can possibly do so.

NEW MOVIE COMING

Students shouldn't miss seeing and hearing Jascha Heifetz in "They Shall Have Music," starting Friday at the Garrick theatre. Some thrilling music is featured in this film, Mr. Heifetz's first vehicle.

Bulldogs Trounce Eveleth Jaysees In 21 to 6 Victory

Ballou, Valby and McLean

The Bulldogs initiated the season by a smashing win over the Eveleth Jaysees Saturday afternoon at Ordean Field, 21-6.

Inspired by the plunging drives of Ossie Simonich and Bill Ericson, and the elusive runs of Chet Nagolski, the charging Bulldog line blasted away at the Ranger line so effectively that they piled up a 21 to 6 victory over the hard-fighting Jaysee team.

A quick glance at the final tally will make only more obvious the DSTC superiority throughout the game. The Green and Gold boys piled up ten first downs as compared to one for Eveleth—that being the result of a 15-yard penalty against Duluth.

Power and cleverness in the Bulldog line can be credited with many long gains and loss of many yards of their opponents.

Bulldog touchdowns were made in each of the first three quarters, two by Simonich and one by Nagolski. The Rangers' only score came in the last quarter after they blocked a Duluth punt and got the ball in the end zone.

Al Wendfeldt blocked an Eveleth punt and Ed Stephon recovered, so paving the way for Duluth's first touchdown. In seven plays DSTC reached the goal post, with Simonich crossing the line. Nagolski place - kicked for the point.

Chet Nagolski ran an Eveleth punt back 20 yards to the 21-yard line. From there, he and Simonich made a first down. Dixon passed the ball to Nagolski who made the second touchdown.

The final score for Duluth was made on a 50-yard march when Nagolski and Simonich again starred in making the points.

In the final canto, Cliff Branson attempted a punt, but the Eveleth line invaded the Duluth team and batted the ball into the end zone. Lamppa fell on the ball and scored. But the conversion wasn't made and the score ended 21-6.

49 Men Report To Peterson For Football

Coach Peterson has announced the list of men candidates for the football team:

Peglow Is Elected Team Captain

The gridiron is once more scheduled to be the scene of a terrific battle, according to the present outlook.

With a new crop of material and a substantial portion of last year's line-up, Duluth State Teacher's is looking forward to a good season. Fifty-two candidates are practicing afternoons at Ordean Field to uphold the honor of D. S. T. C.

Out of the new boys Coach Peterson expects to train a number of valuable players. Young, a member of Denfeld's eleven last year, holds the distinction of being the heaviest player ever to come to our college. He is expected to fill a tackle post in the line and due to his drive and fast play is expected to go places. Duncan McLean, a past Central star, is also showing up in good style in the scrimmages.

This college boasts of a heavy team (the average weight being approximately one hundred ninety pounds) which combines swiftness and alertness with experience in carrying the ball.

Charles Peglow, who played guard last year, was elected captain of this year's team. Other veterans who most likely will show outstanding performances this year are Chet Nagolski, fastest backfield man they've found; Ozzie Simonich, who played fullback; Stephon, the smallest linesman; Stupca, a brilliant backfielder, and Bill Ericson, fullback, who will probably be shifted to right end. Also bolstering the team are Thom and Jorgenson, veteran ends.

Strong support in the line is expected to make our backfield go places. Orlaski, Lorendo and Inforzato — three husky boys, are aids to the older team members in opening holes in the opposition line.

A tentative starting lineup, but one yet open to competition ,is likely to be something like this:

Halfbacks — Bill Ericson, "Chet" Nagolski.

Quarter—Eugene Dixon.

Fullback—Simonich.

Ends—Bob Thom, Maurice Jorgenson.

Tackles—Wendfeldt, Young.

Guards—Peglow, Stephon.

Center—Cercvenik.

With a lineup like this the Bulldogs should be a tough team to beat. Under the guidance of veteran Charles Peglow as captain, the school can be sure other conference teams won't run all over our boys. In fact, let's help them by giving our team the support it needs to make such an austere prospect impossible.

The Duluth State Teachers' College footbal squad has won its last fifteen consecutive games. If this winning streak continues, so that the team wins all its games this season, it will have a better record than that of the University of Minnesota.

Play Mankato T.C. Next Saturday At Mankato

Mankato Worried

Mankato State Teachers College is the Bulldogs' next competitor. The game comes off Saturday in Mankato.

From Mankato papers comes this item:

"A dearth of experienced ends is giving Jim Clark, new football coach at Mankato Teachers college, his principal worry as he prepares his own team for the season's opener with Duluth Teachers here September 30.

"Mankato at Duluth tied for Northern Teachers college conference honors a year ago. The game was originally scheduled for September 29 but was moved back a day because of a conflict with the high school schedule.

Ineligibility of Martin Buck, Mankato's best end of a year ago; failure of Howard Hedenstad, 190-pound reserve, to return to school, and decision of Harvey (Red) Nolan, a regular, to accept a coaching position in the Teachers high school, have left Clark with only one experienced end. He is Hank Thompson of Minneapolis, a reserve last year.

"In his search for wingmen, Clark has converted Daryl Dressen, freshman from Pipestone, into an end and has given tryouts to LaVerne Berg, sophomore from Grand Meadow; Gene Page, Mankato freshman, and Don Rice, former Big Eight conference all-star at Albert Lea.

Three regular lineman have returned from a year ago. All seniors, they are Alan Berguist, 195-pound all-conference tackle, who gained national attention recently when he was posted for "little All-America" consideration before the season even started; Hillis Slaymaker, guard, and Nic Schultz, center. Freshmen are expected to fill in at the remaining line berths.

"An all - letterman backfield will be available, despite graduation of Louis Lopata, rated as perhaps the greatest halfback in Mankato history. Art Chiodo of Minneapolis, a sophomore, is leading the race for quarterback, while Lee Davisson, senior from Waseca, and Bill Larson, sophomore from Windom, are leading the race for halfback starting honors. Lige Southard, 1938 regular, and Glen Tews, also a letter winner a year ago, are fighting for the fullback post.

Breakfast Hike at Fond du Lac Given by WAA

A breakfast hike to Fond du Lac has been planned by the Woman's Athletic Association for Saturday, September 30th, says Doris Gooder, president.

At a recent meeting, officers were elected. They are: Secretary, Alice Johnson; treasurer, Edith Peterson; member-at-large, Mina Wombacher; point recorder, Helen Anderson.

To become eligible for membership in the WAA, the candidate must have 300 points in sport achievement. Information regarding these points is posted is Dr. Graybeal's room 113 and the women's locker room. The gymnasium will be available for earning points on Tuesdays at 2:15 and on Thursdays at 12:30.

Barkers Elect Robert Evarts As Their President

Bob Evarts was recently elected president of the Barkers, college pep club.

Betty Trelford was selected as secretary - treasurer and Charles Pegelow, vice-president.

The Barkers have charge of all pep assemblies and encourage attendance at all college functions.

Cheer leaders for the Barkers this year are Alyce Taylor, Richard Luce and Harold Steffen.

Department Of Physical Education Offers Many Courses For Women

A wide variety of subjects is offered to women students in the Physical Education department this quarter, under the direction of Dr. Graybeal and Miss Fox.

Individual sports such as archery, golf and swimming encourage large classes.

Group activities, soccer ball and field hockey are preferred by many girls.

The modern dancing classes also have a large enrollment.

The greater the sacrifice the greater the happiness.
