Student-Faculty Cage Exchange Starts Monday

Basketball ticket exchanges for students and faculty will start Monday and run through Wednesday. The Gophers first home game will be played Dec. 3 with Loyola of Chicago.

Both students and faculty may get tickets for the game by showing their athletic cards and fee statements at any one of three places on both the Main and Ag campuses.

- From 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Wednesday at the Cooke hall ticket window.
- From 10:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday in 204 Ag union.
- From 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the Campus club, fourth floor Union.

The same offices will be open for ticket exchanges Dec. 5 through Dec. 7 for the Oregon State game on Dec. 10.

Ticket manager Tom Swain said no basketball exchange will be necessary for the game with Iowa State Dec. 17.

Present fieldhouse capacity is 9,500. Swain said 5,000 tickets will be set aside for students at the first two games. He said students would not be affected by the limited seating because 5,000 seats is the average for students for December games.

IRC to Play Host To 200 Dec. 2, 3

By Doug Wachs

The University International Relations club will be host to 200 regional representatives next week.

The occasion will be the annual conference of the Northern Mississippi Valley IRC conference to be held Dec. 2 and 3.

Five notable figures in the field of foreign affairs will speak at the conference to be held here, Bob Bartholow, president of the University IRC said yesterday.

James Wadsworth, assistant to ECA administrator Paul Hoffman, and Arthur Uppgren, professor of economics and member of the editorial board of the Minneapolis Star, will speak at a Friday noon luncheon on the operation and problem of ECA and its influence on Europe.

Saturday speakers will be Lewis K. Hyde, member of the state department's United States mission to the United Nations, and Carl Hambro, head of CARE and former president of the Norwegian parliament. They will talk on the role of the United Nations in the economic reconstruction of Europe.

Herman Finer, from the University of Chicago political science department will talk Friday evening on "The Impact of Economic Reconstruction upon European Political Systems and Ideologies."

About 50 colleges will be represented from a region made up of Iowa, North and South Dakota, Manitoba, Canada and Minnesota, Bartholow said.

Overall topic of the conference will be "Problems of International Economic Reconstruction." The conference will divide into five round table groups and each group will hold three sessions to consider various aspects of the problem, Bartholow stated.

Faculty advisors from each of the colleges will serve on the sessions as specialist advisors on the topics of discussion.

State department publications, United Nations material and information of international significance will be available at the conference.

Members of the faculty, foreign students and students affiliated with International Relations groups are invited to attend the sessions, Bartholow said.

Headquarters of the conference will be the Union. A Friday night dance will be held in the Union junior ballroom for delegates and their friends.

Part of the second day's activities will be joined with those of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations conference. The council is a joint organization working in cooperation with the IRC.

Sororities to Hold Teas

Open house teas for winter quarter rush will be held from 3 to 5:30 p.m. Monday in sorority houses in group D.

U Prof Denies Charges Of Anti-Vivisectionists

By Bob Erickson

Charges that the University is encouraging "unscrupulous men in their nefarious living" were called "completely untrue" by a University professor last night.

"The charges made against the University by Sue Dickey Hough, vice president of the Minnesota Anti-Vivisection society, in the Everybody's Ideas column of yesterday's Minneapolis Star are completely untrue," said Dr. William G. Kubicek, professor of physical medicine.

Mrs. Hough supplied the Star with a photostatic copy of a letter written by Dr. Kubicek to one of the dealers who supply the University with research animals. The letter notified the dealer that the business office had cleared him.

'Here I Come,'

says Daily photographer Leo Stock as he is lowered 90 feet below the earth's surface. He is going down to take a picture of work being done on a shaft which will connect with the steam tunnel in front of the new Chemical Engineering building. The shaft will be 105 feet deep when finished. George Brazinski, powder man and foreman, and Tommy Marintil, miner, are working at the bottom of the 90-foot shaft. The work is expected to be finished sometime next week.

"This letter shows that the University investigates its dog dealers," said Dr. Kubicek. The letter said that the University never questions where or from whom the dogs are obtained.

Denying other charges of the letter, Dr. Kubicek made the following statements:

- We never operate on dogs without anesthetic.
- Our labs are open to public inspection at all times and always have been. Representatives of the anti-vivisectionists were shown around our laboratory about a month ago and at that time did not register any complaint.
- To my knowledge, there has not been a proven case of a stolen dog arriving at our laboratory in the past nine years.
- Dogs that we buy always arrive at the University in good condition. There never has been evidence of previous mistreatment.

"This letter is typical of the irresponsible, scurrilous attacks on the medical profession," said Dr. Kubicek.

SOLOISTS Donna Sorenson, soprano, and Roy Schuessler, baritone, practice for the special Twilight concert at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in Northrop auditorium, at which the 300-voice University chorus will perform with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. Dr. James Aliferis, chorus director, at the piano, will be guest conductor of the orchestra.

U Chorus, Soloists Star In Tomorrow's Concert

The 300-voice University chorus will perform with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at the fourth twilight concert at 4:30 p.m. Sunday in Northrop auditorium.

Director of the chorus and guest conductor of the orchestra, Dr. James Aliferis, will open the program with his own composition, "Minnesota, 1849."

This fantasy is an elaboration of several Indian tunes used in the University's Territorial Centennial stage production, "Rifle, Axe and Plow" last April. The tunes include two "Sioux Dancing Songs," "Chippewa Love Song," "Sioux Song of Victory over the Sacred Pole" and "Sun Dance."

The chorus will also perform Vaughan Williams' "Dona nobis pacem," with soloists Donna Sorenson, soprano, and Roy Schuessler, baritone.

The last selection will be the Coronation Scene from Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounov" with Schuessler in the Boris role.

During the latter, the University bells, installed in Northrop auditorium a year ago, will be heard in a symphony concert for the first time. Representing the bells of Moscow, they will be played by Dr. Paul Oberg, professor of music.

'49 Christmas Seal Sale Starts Monday

The 1949 campus Christmas seal sale starts Monday, according to Barbara McLaughlin, chairman of the drive.

Envelopes containing 10 seals will be inserted in each Postoffice box. Collection tables will be located at each entrance to the Postoffice. The drive will last through next week.

Aeolian Trio to Present 2nd Concert Tomorrow

The Aeolian Trio will present the second in their series of three concerts at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Scott hall auditorium.

Two of the instruments used will be a violin and a cello made by Gagliano about 200 years ago. Members of the trio are Sally Lee, Patricia Hayes and Harry Nordstrom.

The concert is free.

Cosmo Club Gives $550 To Chest Fund

The Cosmopolitan club has turned a $550 check over to the Campus Chest foreign student loan fund, B. J. Borreson, associate director of the student activities bureau, announced yesterday.

"This money will benefit foreign students affected by currency restrictions placed on them by devaluation of the pound," Borreson explained.

"This devaluation led to devaluation in other countries which hit many foreign students pretty hard," he added.

The check was presented to the Cosmopolitan club by the International club, a Minneapolis organization. The Cosmopolitan club turned the check over to George Risty, director of the bureau of loans and scholarships, to be put in the Campus Chest foreign student loan fund.

Profs Attend National Meet

Three University political science professors will take part in the annual National Conference on Government of the National Municipal league Monday through Wednesday in St. Paul.

Professors Lloyd M. Short, Clarence C. Ludwig and William Anderson will speak with a number of community leaders on various phases of local government.

The sessions will be held in the Hotel Lowry in downtown St. Paul and will be open to the public, Professor Anderson said.

Music

Kapell 'Settles Argument'

By Arnold Rosenberg
Daily Music Critic

An argument has been settled, and in the favor of William Kapell, pianist, who appeared as soloist with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra last night in Northrop auditorium.

During the past few years, whether consciously or unconsciously, Kapell has taken great strides in proving that he is more than just a brilliant and somewhat percussive keyboard technician.

His performance of Mozart's Concerto no. 17 in G major served as ample proof of the fact that Kapell is also a master at the art of sensitive interpretation.

He had sufficient opportunity to display his more familiar brilliance in Rachmaninoff's Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini.

If, for no other reason, Antal Dorati deserves a vote of thanks for bringing to light such a masterpiece as Mozart's Symphony no. 34 in C major which, for some unfathomable reason, has never before been performed by the Minneapolis orchestra.

In addition to adding this work to the repertoire, he and the orchestra gave it a scintillating treatment.

Another important addition to the repertoire were the Three Sea Interludes from Benjamin Britten's "Peter Grimes." In fact, the superb playing met with shouts of "Bravo!" Apparently, Dorati didn't reach his peak last week, and the season is only six weeks old.

Baby Elephant Gives GOP 'Bright New Face'

There is a bright new face in politics. So said Mrs. C. E. Howard, state Republican chairwoman, at a meeting of the University Republican club recently. The new face belongs to a baby elephant which is to be used as an attraction at county fair Republican booths during the coming year. Mrs. Howard reported that the animal almost lost the party a future member by stealing the bag

Senior Cabinet Backs Congress On ROTC Stand

The Senior Class cabinet yesterday passed a motion supporting the All-University congress resolution on ROTC.

The congress motion was passed earlier in the week. The resolution supports in principle "any intelligent, dynamic and forceful recruiting campaign to obtain voluntary student participation in army and navy ROTC."

"I will talk to Bob Provost, Congress president, and find out what our part in any forthcoming ROTC campaign will be," George Thiss, Senior Class cabinet president said.

The Cabinet also passed a motion calling for the cabinet election to be held in the spring.

The motion will be sent to the Class Cabinet steering committee.

Ag Extension Staff Gets Three New Men

Appointments of three new men to the Agricultural Extension Service staff were announced Tuesday by Paul E. Miller, director.

Harold E. Jones of Concordia, Kans., will join the staff as assistant professor of soils; Orrin C. Turnquist of St. Paul, as a horticultural specialist; George N. Wisdom from Greeley, Mo., as livestock marketing specialist.

The appointment of Osgood Magnuson as northwest district 4-H supervisor with the rank of assistant professor was also announced.

Pharmacy Fraternity To Initiate 2 Faculty

Phi Delta Chi, professional pharmacy fraternity, will initiate two faculty men at 8 p.m. Monday at the chapter house, 321 Eleventh avenue S.E.

They are Dr. Wallace White, associate professor of pharmacognosy, and Major Leonard Zagelow, assistant professor of military science.

O'Neill Play to Be Given

Wesley Players will present a Eugene O'Neill play, "Ile," at 8 p.m. tomorrow on the basement stage of Wesley foundation.

animal almost lost the party a future member by stealing the bag

Jim Wackerbarth, club president, announced that the club has elected officers for the coming year. They are Bob Williams, president; Dwight Lindholm, vice president; Muffy Dickinson, corresponding secretary; Doris Patterson, recording secretary; Phil Youmans, treasurer; Len Nadasy and Ed Sanford, members-at-large.

Organist to Give Bach Bicentennial Recital Monday

Organist Klaus Speer will give a Bach bicentennial recital at 8:30 p.m. Monday in Northrop auditorium.

He will play part III of Bach's "Klavierbung," consisting of 21 organ chorales adapted from Lutheran catechism hymns.

Speer is director of music at Lincoln Memorial university in Harrogate, Tenn., and received the greater part of his musical education in Berlin.

Ag Union Board Discontinues Fall Twilight Dances

Twilight dances on Ag campus will be discontinued for the remainder of fall quarter, it was decided Wednesday at a meeting of the Ag Union Board of Governors.

The dance program will be reorganized and dances will be resumed winter quarter.

Price of coffee at the Ag Union will remain the same for the rest of this quarter, Dick Zoller, Board member, said. The price winter quarter will depend on the wholesale cost of coffee and on the amount to be paid to Ag Union employes for bussing students' dishes.

The Board selected Lavon Sumpston, Ag junior, and Dorothy Milbrath, Unclassified, as co-chairmen for the seventh annual, Ag campus Talent show.

It also appointed Janice Engbretson, Board member, to work with the Ag campus student council on an Ag Union open house.

Correction

The Daily was incorrect Wednesday in reporting that the chairmanship of the Union house committee is vacant.

Filings are instead being accepted for a position on the Union Board of Governors. Applications may be made in 229 Union. Interviews will be held next week and the vacancy filled at the last board meeting of the quarter.

Clayt, Leo Land Posts On Collier's All-Midwest

Additional honors continue to pour in for Minnesota's veteran linemen, Clayt Tonnemaker and Leo Nomellini. The latest is their selection to center and tackle berths on Collier's All-Midwest team announced yesterday in the magazine's annual review of sectional standouts. Collier's will release its All-American team next Friday.

Lakers Romp To 101-81 Win Over Denver

The Minneapolis Lakers win them just as easily under any conditions.

Playing for the first time in their history in the mile-high atmosphere of Denver, Colo., Johnny Kundla's lads romped to a 101-81 decision over the home-town Nuggets in a Friday night NBL game.

The Lakers pulled away from the Nuggets after having only a 74 to 63 lead over the men from the high altitudes.

In the fourth quarter it was all the Lakers as they poured in the points to clinch the game.

The loss extended Denver's winless streak to 15 straight.

The Lakers return home tomorrow night to face the dangerous Chicago Stags, winners over George Mikan and his crew on two occasions this year, once each in league play and exhibition.

For the second day in a row, it was the light heavyweight division that stood out in the semi-finals of the Contender's tourney yesterday.

Gene Stevermer, the man with a right, sent a series of vicious right hands to the head and scored a technical knockout over Arnie Joseph.

It was Joseph in the first stanza as he fought a clever fight jabbing Stevermer with sharp lefts and tying him up the clinches.

Midway in the second round, Joseph threw caution to the winds and tried to slug it out with the hard hitting ex-coast guardsman.

Referee Frankie Wolinski stopped the fight in the third round when it was evident that Joseph was weakening badly from the hard rights.

In another lighthavies scrap, Schuck Schneider won a split decision from Jim Hedlund in a match that was a slugfest all the way.

From the first bell, both boys came out of their corners trying for a knockout. Schneider and Hedlund flayed away at each other with lefts and rights until the final bell in the third round.

First it was Schneider staggering Hedlund with a powerful right hook; then it was Hedlund landing rights to Schneider's face. And so on to the finish.

A sharp display of boxing brought senior-welterweight Tom Kelly through his third fight against the taller Grant Haggquist. Though Haggquist tried to keep Kelly at long range by pecking away at him with left jabs, the shorter and smoother Kelly ripped several good rights to the head to gain a TKO in the third.

In a middleweight clash between Perry "Marcel" Turgeon and Berny Koenig, Turgeon slipped a stream of left hands to the face of the outclassed but game Koenig to score a unanimous decision.

Sophomore Ron Raveling and Hank Jepson put on another good display of punching in one of the two heavyweight matches.

Raveling connected with a hard right to the head of Jepson and dropped him for a nine count in the second round.

Skrien Elected Captain; Grant, Lundin Honored

Naming Dave Skrien as next year's captain and Bud Grant and Johnny Lundin as most valuable players closed Minnesota football activity for 1949, although at least two Gophers will appear in post season all-star games. Clayt Tonnemaker and Gordy Soltau will play in the East-West Shrine game Dec. 31, and there is a possibility that other members of the team may be invited to Southern all-star contests.

Gold Top Whites In Cage Practice

By Ray Gammon

Ken McGonagle and Wally Salovich combined their scoring punch to lead the Gold team to a one point scrimmage victory over the Whites yesterday.

Maynard Johnson used his one hand push shot to pace the squad in scoring, but his efforts were not enough to give the Whites the scrimmage win.

The winning Golds had Wesley Sabourin and Ken McGonagle at forwards, Dick Means and Jerry Mitchell at guards and Wally Salovich at center.

The Whites started with Virgil Miller and Whitey Skoog at forwards, Roger Schnobrich and Bill Holmes at guards and Johnson at center.

Mitchell did some good rebounding for the Golds and he also brought the ball down the court well.

Schnobrich and Holmes contributed some effective rebounding and ball handling for the Whites.

The basketball squad still is not in the best physical shape.

Bill Bliss, Bill Tierney and Elmer Salovich have been missing practice because of injuries.

Bliss' shoulder is still sore from the infection he suffered a month ago.

Tierney and Salovich are hampered with knee injuries. Salovich will probably have his knee operated on and may miss the rest of the season.

Picked for East-West Game

Icemen to Miss Soltau

By Jo Smith

The selection of Gordie Soltau to play in the East-West football game has knocked a hole in the defense that was being built by the Gopher hockey team.

Soltau was one of only two lettermen expected to return to man the blue line for the pucksters. The other letter-winning defenseman, Ken Troumbley, stands alone now that Soltau's post-season football activities will make him ineligible for hockey.

Even though Soltau is out, one of his football teammates, George Hudak, intends to make the switch from cleats to blades as soon as an injured wrist heals.

While the gridders were shifting in and out of Coach Doc Romnes' plans, the rest of the team worked out again yesterday at the Minneapolis arena. Romnes sent his men through their first extensive passing drill, having each forward line pass the puck up the ice in a three-man scoring rush.

Romnes already has trimmed the squad to a workable size. About 20 men, including six candidates for defense spots and three goalies, are taking part in the arena workouts.

Netminders Bob Moran, Dave Serempa and Morris Taylor took turns trying their luck in the cages during yesterday's pass drill and the short intra-squad scrimmages that followed.

A similar scrimmage Wednesday was marked by the season's first casualty. During the action, Don Bodin of Duluth suffered a cut over the eye that required three stitches. Bodin is one-third of an all-Duluth forward line from the University branch there. He came down from UMD with teammates Bob Nyhus and Russ Strom.

The Duluth trio has been working together and other combinations are being formed with the first game just three weeks away. That means only about a dozen practices between the Gophers and their opener Dec. 17 at Rochester.

NCAA Meet Final C-C Run for Kilty

By Scott Nelson

Dick Kilty will run the last long race of his career in the National Collegiate Athletic association cross country meet Monday at Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich.

It will be the second time a Minnesota runner has gone to the national meet since it was inaugurated in 1939. Bill Schimmel ran in 1945.

Kilty, who was third in the Big Ten meet Nov. 11 when he ran four miles in 20:13, has been working out in Williams arena, the University's new fieldhouse. He ran a while in the snow yesterday in anticipation of doing the same Monday.

Bob Black of Rhode Island State, who won the NCAA title last year, was beaten Monday for the first time this year by Bob Shea of Army as Michigan State, NCAA team champ, finished third. With Wisconsin crippled by the loss of Jim Urquhart and Dick Randolph, the team battle will be wide open.

Don McEwen, Michigan's sensational sophomore from Canada, who broke the Big Ten mark in 19:44.5, will be out to break Black's NCAA mark of 19:52.3 and win the individual title over the four-mile course.

Kilty had three firsts, and a second to Gehrmann in the Wisconsin tussle in dual meets this fall. He will be out to finish his cross country career with a place high among the nation's best distance runners.

The meet, which is run annually over the hilly Michigan State campus will start at 11:30 a.m.

Cadets, Irish Risk Undefeated Records

Two traditional rivalries highlight the last big day of 1949 football fare in games around the nation's college gridirons today.

In Philadelphia, Army's high-scoring Cadets lay their unbeaten record on the line against Navy, winner of only two games in the last two years.

The West Pointers, favored by two touchdowns or better, are expected to pull out all the stops in an attempt to redeem themselves for their drab performance in the service battle last year when the Middies battled them to a tie.

Observers who have followed Coach Earl Blaik's Black Knights this year point to Army's high-powered backfield as the factor which may sink the spirited Midshipmen today.

In T-quarterback Arnold Galiffa, halfback Jim Cain and fullback Gil Stephenson, the Army has three backfielders who rank among the best in the country.

Meanwhile, at South Bend, Notre Dame's loaded Irish carry an unbeaten string of 36 straight into their clash with Southern California in one of the year's top inter-sectional attractions.

Twenty Notre Dame seniors, including four-year stars like Leon Hart, Emil Sitko, Jim Martin and Larry Coutre, will end their home careers against the Trojans. Against them, USC will throw a big, experienced squad, essentially the same one which tied the Irish last season.

Notre Dame is favored to win by three touchdowns.

Freshman Cage Practice Draws 200 Candidates

The largest freshman turnout in history reported to assistant basketball Coach Joe Vancisin when 200 appeared for the first practice Wednesday.

Among those reporting was Dave Weiss, Austin's outstanding cager. Also reporting were Bob Gelle of Osakis, who starred at fullback on this fall's frosh football team, and Jim Wallerius, husky 6-foot 6-inch cager from Sacred Heart high, Fargo, N.D.
