Find your class in the final exam schedule

Using the chart below, find the scheduled time and days for your lecture, seminar, or colloquium. The final exam time for that course will be listed in the next column. Some guidelines:

- If your course meets for more than three days per week or on an unusual schedule that isn't either MWF or TTh, use the MWF exam time that matches your course's scheduled time.
- If your course meets at different times on different days, use the time from the earliest day of the week that your course meets to find your exam time.
- If your course is listed as a common exam, that takes precedence and is the official final exam time for your course. Check common exam times below.
- In rare circumstances a final exam time will change because of an instructor's request. Always verify your final exam time with your course instructor.

Finals week: Monday, May 8 – Saturday, May 13, 2017

Study days: Saturday, May 6 and Sunday, May 7

Resolving an exam conflict

You are required to take final examinations at the times shown. However, if you have examination conflicts or three (or more) final exams within one calendar day, you may request adjustment with your college office and with your instructor. Such a request must be presented at least two weeks before the examination period begins.

If your instructor has requested a variation from the official final exam schedule, he or she must (1) give a special make-up exam to any students who have exam conflicts, or (2) give three (or more) exams in one calendar day.

If you miss a final, an I, an F, or an N is recorded, depending upon your standing at the time. To make up the exam, you must obtain the instructor's permission.
