Regents Extend W. C. Coffey's Term

Agreement Clarifies Project Difficulties

A formal agreement between the University Ag extension division and the U. S. Employment service yesterday listed the projects which will be allocated to the extension service and put full responsibility for supervision of state farm labor on Paul E. Miller, chief of the extension division.

Marjorie Cleland To Be New Head Of Campus Chest

Marjorie Cleland, Business junior, was appointed chairman of the 1943-44 Campus chest drive at a meeting of the organization yesterday.

The quota for the drive timed to coincide with the Twin City campaigns in October is tentatively set between $5,000 and $6,000. The reason the date is set at that time is that the St Paul and Minneapolis chests both are direct beneficiaries from the Campus drives.

The budget allocations committee of the chest is now considering requests from student organizations for financial assistance for the coming year in war aid, welfare, and educational projects.

This new plan follows the plan of the Twin City drives in determining the money distribution. Up to this time provision has been made for SWECC projects only.

The agreement cleared up existing indecision concerning the dividing line between the work of the U. S. Employment service and the extension. It came in the form of an eight-point statement signed by Miller and Leonard B. Ryan, state director of the U. S. Employment service.

Outline of policy concerning several recent developments in the solution of the national farm manpower problem including a directive by Paul V. McNutt, war manpower commissioner, was included in the agreement.

"Full operating responsibility for the recruitment, placement, transfer and utilization of agricultural workers" has been given to Miller under the U. S. department of agriculture as directed by Commissioner McNutt.

Authority has also been given to the extension division by an agreement between the University and Chester Davis, war food administrator.

Hansen Will Talk On Currency Plans For Stabilization

Alvin H. Hansen, economic advisor to the Federal Reserve board and government consultant on post-war economic problems, will discuss "The Keynes and White Currency Stabilization Plans" at 3 p. m. Monday in Murphy auditorium.

The two plans are concerned with post-war monetary stabilization.

Dr Hansen is a former professor in the University Business school. He left here in 1937 for the Harvard Business school where he is now a Littauer professor in the Graduate school.

The meeting is open to the public.

Dr Schmitz Elected Dean of Ag Campus

President Coffey's term as University head has been extended for at least a year—to June 30, 1945, by action of the Board of Regents at its meeting yesterday.

Under present University regulations, Dr Coffey would be retired June 30, 1944, since he will be 68 before that time. Fred B. Snyder, chairman of the Board of Regents, pointed out, however, that it would be unwise to make a change under present conditions.

Dr Coffey became acting president of the University in July, 1941, and was elected to the presidency early that fall. He had been dean of the University department of agriculture for 20 years.

The board also elected Dr Henry Schmitz, who has been professor and chief of the division of forestry for 18 years, dean of the College of Agriculture, Forestry and Home Economics. Dr Schmitz will take office July 1 upon the retirement of Dean Edward M. Freeman, who has reached the retirement age.

Dr Schmitz is president of the Society of American Foresters this year and has been editor-in-chief of the journal of that organization for many years. He is also a member of the American Wood Preservation association.

The Board of Regents accepted a grant of $50,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation for the promotion of creative work in connection with the study of Minnesota and the Northwest; its history and present day life, its culture, its people and its problems.

The grant is for a three-year period and will be used particularly to aid writers of books or shorter studies, histories and biographies which will offer interpretations of regional life past and present.

An advisory University committee will aid Theodore C. Blegen, dean of the Graduate school, in passing upon applications for grants and in determining upon

Minnesota Aids the War Effort

U Geologists Find Aluminum Here

Because geology professors believe in looking in their own backyards first, Minnesota may be able to contribute a strategic metal, aluminum, to the war effort.

Today the Minnesota geological survey and the United States geological survey plan on conducting further investigations of southwestern Minnesota rocks. Some of the rocks are already analyzed and the results have been good.

Demand for aluminum has increased greatly since the war started. Part of the foreign supply has been discontinued and many of the ore boats have been sunk. That means the United States has to furnish her own aluminum, so wherever there is a possibility of finding it—investigations are started.

Principal source of aluminum today is bauxite which is a form of rock with a high aluminum content. Georgia and Arkansas are the leading bauxite producing states, but the Arkansas supply will soon be exhausted. So Congress has authorized the United States geological survey to investigate areas where bauxite may be found. The Bauxite survey sent 40 investigators out and Minnesota may prove to be one of the sources.

Geology professors at the University hadn't been interested in the project for the past 25 years. They became interested again when Frank Grout, professor of geology and mineralogy, went to a geological survey meeting in Washington. Dr Grout reminded the survey that Minnesota was a possible source for aluminum. One of Dr Grout's research projects is a study of the high alumina clays of Minnesota. So Minnesota was one of the areas to be investigated.

At present, Harlan Bergquist, representative of the United States Geological survey, is making further investigations. Mr Bergquist says, "Every possible area in the United States is being investigated today. How long the Minnesota project will last depends on the demands for aluminum and the length of the war." Mr Bergquist is a graduate and former instructor in the University geology department.

Ag Service Begins Market Reporting

So that housewives will know the "best buys" in local fruit and vegetable markets, the Minnesota Agricultural Extension service on the Ag campus recently resumed its daily reporting service to homemakers.

Because of the rationing of canned goods, consumer interest in fresh vegetables and fruits is expected to soar high this year.

Each week day Twin City newspapers and radio stations will report the activities at the local markets, informing housewives of the best in homegrown fruits and vegetables. Growers, also, are expected to benefit from the information service by more efficient marketing of home-grown produce during peak seasons.

Spanish Institute to Open Latin American Culture Will Be Stressed

By Marilou Stannard

No English allowed! The Institute de Estudios Hispano-Americanos (Spanish Institute) will be held again this year from June 14 to July 24. Upon successful completion of the courses offered, the student will have earned 10 credits.

"The Institute is a serious attempt to develop in America, and especially the Midwest, an interest in the highest democratic forces operating in Latin America today," said Director James A. Cuneo, instructor in romance languages and a native Argentinian. "Last year we were trying to teach Spanish in an intensive way. This year we are widening the opportunities for learning about Latin American culture."

The staff to be announced later is twice that of last year and has been selected from different regions in Latin America which have differences in accents. Young women from Latin America will be assistant instructors.

Courses never before taught in any American university will be offered at the Institute. An Argentinian and a Cuban, specialists in their fields, will teach the new courses.

"Influencias Filosoficas en la Evolucion de Las Ideas en Latino-America" (Philosophical Influences in the Evolution of Ideas in Latin America) will include a study of the philosophy of Spain and America during the colonial period, an analysis of modern philosophy and its influence on the Latin American ideas of today; and the part played by Positivism in Latin America.

"El Humanismo y la Lucha por la Libertad en Latino-America" (Humanism and the Fight for Freedom in Latin America) will be offered.

Modern Spanish-American literature will be covered by two classes. The "Survey of Contemporary Prose" will include the literary cosmopolitanism of Hispanic America; the importance of journalism in the development of literature; the essay; the short story and the novel. The "Survey of Contemporary Poetry" will include the study of "el Modernismo"; the second modernist movement; the development of feminine poetry and the search for a new poetry.

A Costa Rican artist will teach a course in Latin American art.

Two study programs will be available: intermediate and advanced. All students registered will be required to live at the Spanish house. Twin City students will not have to rent rooms but will be required to take their meals there. Spanish will be spoken exclusively during meals and informal gatherings.

The custom of "tertulias" (open house) will be carried over from last year, when the Institute was held in Sanford hall. At that time visitors at the open house enjoyed every Thursday night a free cup of coffee, saw movies of Latin America and short Spanish plays and sang songs. Students contributed to the all-Spanish conversation. Books and articles of clothing were among objects from Latin America exhibited. Attendance was never less than 250 and often more.

Letters received by Mr Cuneo after the last session show that students were highly pleased at the effort and that they found the Institute worthy and useful.

Mr Cuneo is looking for someone who can play Latin American songs on the piano. Anyone qualified may apply.

The Institute will bring three internationally known guest speakers. Motion pictures with the sound track in Spanish will be used in some classes.

"We on the staff of the Institute intend to bring an exact picture of Latin America, very far indeed from the one we sometimes see in the movies. The Spanish Institute is an example of Latin America at work," said Mr Cuneo.

It Began in Madrid

U Press to Release Play

When Madrid was bombed in the Spanish civil war, type set for the printing of a book by Dr Richard H. Olmsted, a former University student, was wrecked.

Dr Olmsted had in his possession in the United States a few page proofs which had been sent to him for checking and a copy of the manuscript. The manuscript has now been accepted for publication by the University Press.

Physical Education Test Stresses Coed Fitness

There is no short cut to health fitness according to the women's physical education department. For that reason the health aspects of fitness are stressed in the tests now being given to coeds in physical education classes.

"Health fitness is a matter of religiously drinking your quart of milk and two quarts of water a day," Catherine Snell, assistant professor of physical education, explained. "It is a matter of eating a crisp green salad in preference to french fries and a coke. It means getting eight hours of sleep a night, no matter what—and a few minutes of daily exercise more if you need it. It's exercise outdoors or in a gym or pool at least one hour a day."

Such a routine may seem dull, but Miss Snell said that with a little thought on the subject, you will find that you prefer a plate of vegetables to a candy bar, and a few minutes of daily exercise will become indispensable.

Big Turnout Forecast for Spring Tilt

Both Dr. George Hauser and Lowell (Red) Dawson announced yesterday that their Navy and Army teams will be in top physical shape for the Gopher's annual spring football game today.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 people are expected to be in Memorial stadium at 2 p. m. for the game. All the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

A multitude of thrills can be expected with both sides shooting the works to win. For some of the gridgers this will likely be the last game they will play as Gophers on the Memorial Stadium turf. Many of the squad members are Navy and Marine reservists and as yet it is not known whether they will be here and able to play next fall.

Red Dawson's soldiers will have an advantage in experience, but Dr. Hauser's Navy squad has several freshmen of more than average ability. Among these is Ed Bush, a 215 pound tackle from Thermopolis, Wyoming, who last fall was tried at fullback and now has come into his own at tackle. Jack Spewak, at center, is one of the hardest workers on the squad and is playing his first and last game as a Gopher for Monday he reports to Fort Snelling for induction into the Army.

Signal caller for the Navy will be Bill Garnaas, who needs no introduction, and last fall was recognized as one of the smartest quarterbacks and best blockers in the Western Conference. Perko and Dellago at guards will form a strong link in the forward wall. Dr. Hauser's squad can be expected to fill the air with passes with Bill Johnson, the red headed Chicagoan recognized as one of the finest passers on the Gopher squad, chucking the pigskin into the arms of Capt. Cliff Anderson at end.

The Army's chief threat will likely be a strong running game, however, Frickey and Red Williams are no slouches as passers either. Teamed with these two formidable threats are Sandberg at quarter and Kubitski at full. The latter should crash the middle of the Navy forward wall for a number of needed yards. The soldier backfield will carry a definite weight and experience advantage. In the line Coach Dawson will have the two stalwarts, Mitchell and Aldworth, at the tackle positions, and this pair will offer a strong defense for any offensive maneuvers tried by the Navy gridgers. Bob Solheim will fill in very capably at the pivot position and prove his worth in backing up the line.

This game must be rated as a toss up and should be a slam bang battle from start to finish. The Fort Snelling band will appear at the game and the Navy and Army trainees on campus will be at the game to cheer on their respective teams.

Those who have obtained their tickets early should note that the game will start at 2 o'clock instead of 2:30 as was printed on the first ducats. Students will be admitted for 25 cents.

Record Donations Needed For Cadets

Records—either sweet or swing—are needed by the members of the army air forces stationed in the stadium.

The cadets have a public address system which broadcasts programs of popular music during free hours. Students who have records to contribute may leave them either in the Union social program consultant's office, 131 Union, or in the special services office in the stadium.

8 Trackmen Place In Big Ten Finals

Minnesota's track team took eight places in the qualifying trials of the Big Ten track meet at Evanston yesterday. The conference champions will be decided in the finals today.

The Gophers were led by freshman Fortune Gordien who twirled the discus 19 feet farther than any of his competitors for a distance of 151 feet, 4 inches; and Ralph Pohland who had the best time in the half mile field at 1:54.9.

Gordien also led the field in the shot put, but his 46 foot, 10 inch heave was only a foot better than second placer George Kraeger of Michigan.

Although these were the only first places scored by the Gophers, the team placed in five other events for the finals today.

Dick Kelley placed in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes as the only other Gopher besides Gordien to win two berths on the finalist squad.

Other qualifiers in the meet were Frank Adams in the 220 low hurdles, Harry Covey in the quarter mile, and Carl Ekberg in the discus.

Michigan's team held the edge on the meet by qualifying 14 men, while its big competitor, Illinois, was tied with Ohio State with 10 finalists each. Minnesota's eight men placed them at fourth, and the rest of the teams followed: Northwestern six; Purdue and Indiana, four each; and Wisconsin and Chicago, three each.

Services Team To Contest Fencers Today

Fencers representing cities from coast to coast will make up a service team which will face the University of Minnesota squad at 1:30 today in Cooke hall.

Tom Soddy of Detroit will be captain of the servicemen's team which will also include Victor Low of St. Louis, William Mason of Brooklyn, M. T. Crapsy of Rochester, N. Y., Jerry Stewart of Ann Arbor, and Frank Gimbra of Los Angeles.

The Minnesota team will consist of Captain Ed Kueffer, Russell Ferguson, John Hinn, Bryce Clark, James Link and William Link.

Hinn is the state junior division foils champion.

Sigma Nu Wins All Tennis Titles

Sigma Nu captured all three of the academic fraternity titles. Rod Gaumnitz won division four and Bob Turner won division 10 in

Maple Maulers Grasp Second Bowling Title

Running their win streak to 18 straight games by sweeping a series from NROTC I, the I-M champion Maple Maulers team assured itself of at least a tie for its second straight title in Union bowling Thursday night.

With only two matches remaining the Maulers need only one game to clinch undisputed first place. After Thursday's bowling the rest of the Independent league may well concede the title, because the Maulers are actually improving. They established a season's high this week by averaging 192 and THAT WAS WITHOUT HANDICAP.

Petoile topped the Maple Maulers with a sparkling 627 performance, high for the entire year. He rolled successive games of 180, 233 and 214. High team game for the Maulers was 598.

In other Independent league bowling Xi Psi Phi broke a deadlock for second place by winning two out of three from Delta Sigma Pi and dropped the Delta Sigs to third. The triple win gave Xi Psi Phi a slim chance for a title tie.

Other three game winners Thursday were NROTC II on forfeit from Alpha Chi Sigma and Phi Rho Sigma I who climbed out of the league basement by beating Triangle.

singles and John Arnold and Rog Novak won their doubles competition.

Gopher Nine Beats Cyclones Again, 8-4

The Gopher baseball team handed Iowa State a third successive defeat yesterday as Minnesota downed the Cyclones 8-4 behind the pitching of Gene Kelly and Norm Gallup.

The fourth and final game of the two two-game series between the schools will be played today at 3:30 p. m.

As the first man up in the game yesterday, Butz Lehrman hit a single and scored later to put the Gophers into a lead that the Cyclones could never overcome.

Scoring two more in the second, the Gophers led 3-0 going into the third inning before the Cyclones scored their first run.

But Minnesota scored two more in their half of the third on four errors by Iowa State.

Another duce in the fifth virtually clinched the game. But the Gophers had to hit for these runs with Earl Bruhn, Herb Hein and Leo Shields all getting singles.

Iowa State managed to push two runs across the plate in the sixth on two walks, an error and Wiltse's single after the bases were loaded.

The Gophers scored another run in the seventh for good measure and loaded the rest of the way out. Norm Gallup came into the game at this point for the tiring Kelly and put the Cyclones down without a hit.

Kelly pitched fine ball for the Gophers, allowing but six hits, all singles, in his seven innings. The Cyclone hurler, Lee Jaspers also gave up all singles, but the eight hits were piled onto seven errors to score the Gopher runs.

Stan Kaess will start on the mound in today's game to face Cyclone Norm Madson. Madson is reputed to be best of the Iowa State hurlers, and his not pitching in today's game against Kelly may be interpreted as an effort for the Cyclones to win one game of the series.
