28 to Compete for E-Day Queen Title

Engineers day queen candidates—28 of them—will preen and primp as they get set to walk before the reviewing stand at a coffee hour at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Union men's lounge.

Judges will be P. J. Hoffstrom, St. Paul Dispatch columnist; Virginia Safford, Minneapolis Star-Journal columnist; Claire Fry, Brown and Bigelow artist. Announcement of the queen will be made May 8.

Tickets cut in the shape of a slide rule went on sale yesterday for the Engineers Day Brawl. They may be purchased at the Union information desk, in 230 Union and on main floor of the Main Engineering building.

Sale of the 500 tickets, at $1.75, is limited to Technology students only for the first week, Harriet Schmitt, ticket chairman said.

Three Institute of Technology buildings will hold open house as part of the Engineers day Techs-hibition, it was announced yesterday.

Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering and Engineering station buildings will be open to public inspection without charge from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. May 10.

Demonstrations will include plastics, forge, welding, hydraulics, soils and principles of electricity.

Villains to Duck Popcorn Thrown At Performance

Villains will be cursed and popcorn will be eaten and thrown around at a repeat performance of last quarter's Minnesota Masquers' presentation, "Love Rides the Rails," at 8:30 p.m. today in the University Theater Green room in the Music building.

Popular demand, according to the Masquers, has necessitated three additional performances. The old-time melodrama also will be shown tomorrow and Thursday.

Spectators will sit at tables of 1890 vintage and wipe their eyes to such tear-jerkers as "Curse of an Aching Heart." Pam McCarthy, Arts senior, and Paul Hagen, unclassified, are among those wrapped up in the treachery and ultimate triumph of goodness.

Rosemary Harding, Education senior, is directing. Tickets now are on sale at the Theater box office in the Music building.

Music Director Will Speak at Powell Party

Augustus Zanzig, director of music at Griffith's Music foundation, will be guest speaker at an informal party held by the alumnae of the Nursing school at 8 p.m. today in Powell hall.

Tickets are 25 cents and reservations are being accepted by Vera Alexander, Powell hall.

McDiarmid Will Head Vets' Library Survey

Dr. E. W. McDiarmid, University librarian, will head a nationwide survey of veterans' libraries for the veterans administration, it was announced yesterday.

"Theoretically it will be a far-reaching survey conducted by a large staff of researchers who will investigate veteran libraries in hospitals, homes and administrative offices, Dr. McDiarmid said yesterday.

"They will determine the degree of efficiency being maintained and suggest countermeasures for current problems," he said.

Within two weeks Dr. McDiarmid will meet in Washington with members of the veterans administration and the American Library association to discuss details of the project, which is expected to be completed by June 15.

Vets' Princess Finalists Chosen

Mayor Among Judges For Contest at Ball

Seven finalists for Veterans club princess were chosen yesterday from 35 Rooming House council, sorority and Comstock and Sanford hall girls by five secret judges yesterday.

Merry Esbjornson, University college junior; Claire Kelsey, Arts junior; Dorothy Cumming, nursing freshman; Delphine Udem, Arts sophomore; Virginia Pickhardt, education senior; Donna Lou Garretson, Dental Hygiene senior; Norma Gilbertson, Arts freshman, were selected by the judges at the preliminaries.

While the girls sipped coffee and ate doughnuts in the Union men's lounge, Veterans club members, among whom were the five judges, made copious notes on the merits of University coeds, Billy Rose notwithstanding.

The club princess will be picked from the seven during intermission Friday at the Princess ball by Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey, Cedric Adams, Star-Journal columnist, and Col. Harlin Bynell, Gov. Edward J. Thye's representative.

The other four meetings will be grouped under the topics, "Attitudes," "Money Worries," "The Role of Sex," and "Religious Problems." Meetings are open to all Ag campus students.

Dane Finds U.S. Students Serious

By George M. Kremer

The manner in which veterans have been able to readjust themselves to campus life in American universities is a matter of considerable surprise to Niels Nielsen, professor of geography in the University of Copenhagen, Denmark.

The Danish professor, who is spending three days at the Center for Continuation Study, said yesterday, "Danish students saw a great deal of excitement in the underground during the war and now don't want to sit down and relax."

Dr. Nielsen arrived in the United States about a month ago to begin a 10-week tour of American universities under the auspices of the Danish government. He is interested mainly in seeing how educational problems have been solved during the past six years—especially the veterans' problem.

"Things were quite normal in the Danish universities during the war," said Dr. Nielsen. "Political issues were avoided, and the professors used some discretion in what they said."

Enrollment decreased during the last year of the war, however, when students didn't like to go to the universities for fear the Germans would descend on the group and take them all to labor camps.

Briton to Speak At Student UN

A. R. K. Mackenzie, adviser to the permanent British representative to the United Nations, will speak at the student mock UN to be held Friday and Saturday in the capitol in St. Paul.

His topic will be "Britain Looks at the United Nations." "The Essentials of a Successful United Nations" will be the topic of a speech by Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey. These speeches will be presented at the first meeting of the general assembly at 9:45 a.m. Friday.

"The future of the United Nations depends on the international-mindedness of the youth of this generation," Mayor Humphrey said yesterday.

Mackenzie's talk will represent the British point of view on the UN, while Mayor Humphrey will express United States opinion.

Seventeen schools will participate in this first annual mock UN conference. Students are invited to attend the proceedings which will begin at 8 a.m. Friday and will end at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

It is planned that each delegate will serve on a country's five-man delegation and also will be on a committee or on the security council.

Nations to be represented will be Australia, Czechoslovakia, Netherlands, United States, China, Mexico, United Kingdom, Chili, India, U.S.S.R., Canada, Greece, the Ukraine, Brazil, France, Poland, Belgium, Egypt, Norway and Yugoslavia.

It is intended that delegates from each school will represent different countries. Assignments will be made according to individual preferences as far as possible.

New Veterans' Post Seeks U Approval

Further affirmation that no clash of interests need exist between the Veterans club and the embryo American Veterans Committee campus post was given yesterday at the first organizational meeting of the post.

"Biggest single obstacle to approval of the post," Jerrold Stoll, chairman of the post, declared, "is the Veterans club. But there is absolutely no reason why there should be a clash of interests between us."

The post has not yet been approved by University officials but a meeting of the Senate committee on student affairs may be held on the matter Monday, Stoll said yesterday.

A by-law committee was named to draw up the by-laws for the post. By-laws for the campus post would probably follow the by-laws for AVC posts in Minneapolis.

An over-all planning committee also was set up to establish a foundation for the organization.

Named to the liaison committee were Paul Engstrom, unclassified; James Thenkleson, unclassified; Francis Boddy, instructor of economics and statistics.

Planning committee members are Michael Roger, unclassified; L. E. Mourer, unclassified; Peter Lower, unclassified; Dwight Burton, unclassified; Sidney Shear, Arts sophomore; Edward Tworuk, unclassified; Paul S. Anderson, Business senior.

Members of the by-laws committee are James Thenkleson, unclassified; Jerrold Stoll, chairman of the post; Robert Story, unclassified; Eileen Tarago, unclassified.

After spending last weekend in Des Moines, Coach Jim Kelly's trackmen will make a return appearance in Iowa Saturday when they journey to Ames for a dual meet with Iowa State.

The 19-man squad which Kelly sent into competition didn't do so well last Friday and Saturday in the hotly contested and rain-soaked Drake relays, scoring only one second place, in the 440-yard shuttle relay.

But in Philadelphia the one-man Gopher representation, freshman Harry Cooper, took top honors in the pole vault event in the Penn relay meet.

Cooper, using a borrowed pole, vaulted an even 13 feet to defeat the class of the East in a meet, the outstanding feature of which was the exhibition put on by another Big Ten school, Illinois.

Hurdlers Ray Tharp, John Reimer, Bob Mickelson and Lloyd McPherson garnered the Gopher points in the Drake meet Saturday as they finished second to Notre Dame in the shuttle relay event. The winning time was 1:01.6.

Tharp, limping from a leg injury received in workouts last week, failed in his attempt to re-

Minnesota, Carleton Tangle On Northrop Field Today

By Bob Schabert

Well satisfied with the showing of his ball team in the opening conference games last weekend, Coach Dave MacMillan stated yesterday that he would use three pitchers in today's game against Carleton college at Northrop field. Game time is set for 4 p.m.

Earl Daniels, who hurled four-hit ball against Nebraska two weeks ago, will start on the mound and pitch the first three innings. He will be followed by Arwed Henning, and Charlie Glass will make his first appearance before the home crowd by pitching the last three innings.

The Gophers, who were hampered by bad weather in the spring of 1945, seem to have found their batting eyes early this year as they pounded out 16 hits in each of the Iowa games. They won the first tilt, 7-4, behind the fine pitching of Bob Schumack.

Cage Star Reports For Spring Football

By Don Olson

As the Gopher football squads began their fifth week of spring drills on Northrop field last night, a possible shot in the arm was provided by the appearance of Ed Kernan, outstanding guard from last year's Minnesota basketball quintet.

Kernan had a shining record as a halfback when he attended high school at Two Harbors, and may give the Maroon and Gold that triple threat back they have been needing.

The squad came out of Saturday's intra-squad scrimmage with only a small number of minor injuries and stands at its top physical condition since the second week of practice.

The second game, which the Gophers won, 10-7, in 14 innings, was a thriller from the start. Each team countered in the first inning and the game saw-sawed back and forth until the fourteenth inning when the Gophers scored four big runs.

Ole Lucken, who continues to pace the hitting attack, Max Mohr and Bob Johnson each came through with three hits apiece in the second game.

Don Tepel, who relieved Henning in the fifth inning and held the Hawks in check for the last 10 innings, received credit for the win.
