All Three Men Have Creditable Experience in Journalistic Performances

Otto C. Person, present business manager of the Techno-Log, will resume duties in the same capacity, following the announcement of appointments to the new staff, by Samuel Sutherland, managing editor.

Person, who is a Junior Architectural Engineer, has held his position since last March. He was chairman of the executive committee in charge of the recent St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Peckham's Record

Harold Peckham has an enviable record as a journalist; served as a reporter, telephone editor, and city editor on the staff of the Aberdeen Daily News, and having acted as assistant sport editor of the St. Louis Republic. Peckham is a junior mechanical engineer and a member of Chi Sigma Tau engineering fraternity. He was delegate to the St. Patrick's Day convention of engineering students held recently at Rolla, Missouri, and was the chairman of this year's celebration at Minnesota.

A similarly creditable record has been made by Horace Tousley, the other associate editor. His list of journalistic performances include practical work on the St. Paul Daily News as reporter and sport editor, managing editor of the Humboldt High Spectator while in high school, and the handling of publicity for the staff for two conventions. Tousley was a member of the first staff of the Techno-Log before he left school. Returning to school this year he was made Architectural editor and then Associate editor in January. He was in complete charge of the March edition of the magazine. Tousley is enrolled in the Architectural department as a sophomore.

An academic procession, with the faculty and students in caps and gowns, led by the band, is to precede the exercises. The program will be as follows: Processional march by the band, address by Mr. Falconer, presentation of the candidates for degrees by the deans, conferring of degrees by President Coffman and several musical numbers by the band.

The students will then march to the campus knoll where the seniors will sing the traditional song "Our Commencement Pledge." The locomotive yell and "Minnesota Hail to Thee" will be given and the program completed by the sounding of "taps." The exercises will be held at 11:00 a. m. in the Armory. Benson Second in Oratory League Contest at Urbana

WINNING second place for Minnesota in the 32nd annual contest of the Northern Oratorical League held recently at Urbana, Ill., Sidney Benson, sophomore academic, again demonstrated his ability against a field of seasoned speakers.

His topic was on the Soviet of Russia, which was the subject of the speech that won for him first prize in the Pillsbury Oratorical Contest, April 13, his first appearance in campus oratory. Northwestern, represented by James Armstrong, took home first prize in the League meet.

The others were: Julius B. Glasgow, Michigan, third; Erling Yvivaaker, Wisconsin, fourth; Robert C. Hayes, Illinois, fifth; and Vernon L. Sharp, Iowa, sixth.

The judges were taken from faculty representatives from each 'U' in the League. The Northern Oratorical League is endowed with a fund donated by the Honorable Frank O. Lowden. The contest will be held at Minnesota next year.

LYMAN TO DIRECT MAGAZINE FINANCE

Sigma Delta Chi Reappoints Business Manager for Year at Meeting

Dwight P. Lyman, academic '23, was unanimously re-elected business manager of Ski-U-Mah magazine on Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, sitting as a board of publishers for the magazine.

Mr. Lyman's election last night was made in recognition of his exceptional service on the business end of the magazine this year, according to Leonard F. Peterson, managing editor. "Mr. Lyman has brought the magazine up to a firm basis financially, and has greatly improved the quality of the business end."

He will continue in office until June 1923, at which time the management of the magazine will be taken over by the new board of publishers for All-University major publications, which will also control the Daily and the Gopher.

Mr. Lyman is a School of Business student and has had several years of practical experience in banking at Iowa Falls, Iowa, his home.

Weekly Advocates River Flat Site for Stadium

That the new athletic stadium should be constructed on the riverbank, is the substance of an article in the last issue of the Alumni Weekly.

The site at the end of the mall with its natural amphitheatre made by rounding out the old stone quarries and leveling the river flats would make an ideal location for the athletic field the article said. Director Lauehr recently spoke before the directors meeting of the Alumni association and emphasized the advantage of a stadium in this place.

At that time the directors have passed a resolution officially endorsing the site.

Hardesty Johnson has been procured to give several tenor solos, and James McCully will give a piccolo solo.

Students Riot At Colorado 'U'

Friction among students of Colorado College with their president is believed to have caused a raid upon the school museum and the subsequent transformation of the campus into a jungle yesterday night.

Specimens from the $50,000 collection were spirited away and placed in true jungle fashion among the trees, and to top the climax a live cow was driven into the museum building. "This will keep up until Dunway goes," and "Dunway get out" were among the signs written on the walls. The president characterized the action as a "sawdust attack."

McCabe, Yates, Hanft; Gopher Team to Meet Opponents in Bible College at 8 P. M., on Subject of Kansas Industrial Court—Will be Decision Debate, With Mable, of Iowa, as Judge.

For the first time in 20 years, for- ensic representatives from the Universities of Minnesota and Northwestern will clash in a debate in the Christian Bible college auditorium tonight at 8 p. m.

The subject for the debate is "Resolved that the several states of the United States should adopt the Kansas plan of adjudicating industrial disputes."

Will Hold Decision The event will also mark the return to decision debates after a two year experiment with decisionless contests. There will be only one judge, E. C. Mable, of Iowa, who will decide the winner and explain his reasons for the decision. This is the first University debate in which one judge will have rendered a verdict.

Two Teams Work Minnesota's team will be composed of T. M. McCabe, Hobart Yates and Frank Hanft. While one Gopher team is debating here another, will travel to Madison to tangle with the Wisconsin "U" squad. LeRoy Matson, Gerhard Sonesyn and Joseph Schneider will go to Wisconsin.

Stiff competition from the Northwestern squad is looked for by the Gopher speakers. The Evanston school has a large department devoted to public speaking and oratory and has a traditional reputation for sending out highly trained speakers. C. P. Lindsley coach of the Minnesota squad, said last night.

DAILY BOARD WILL STAY NAMING B. M.

Week Allowed for More Candidates in Exchequer Job—Bridge Only One in Field

Candidates for the position of business manager of the Daily may file for the office at a meeting tomorrow for the office as a result of the extension of time allowed possible candidates at a meeting of the resigning and incoming Boards of Publishers held Wednesday in the Minnesota Union.

Men seeking the business manager's job will be given an opportunity to state their qualifications before a joint meeting of the two boards Wednesday, May 17 at 4 o'clock. Dwight Lyman who was considered for the position is definitely out of the race because of his re-election as business manager of Ski-U-Mah for the coming year.

June Buck, business manager of the Gopher this year, retorted the statement that he was a candidate for the position, nor have I any intention of going out for it now," he said last night.

This means that John M. Bridge, advertising manager of the Daily, is the only one in the field.

Tom Pledge was unanimously elected as the third academic representative. Mark Severance was chosen as representative from the school of business, and Shattuck Hartwell from the school of medicine.

Whether or not the advertising manager should be chosen by the Board or by the business manager, was discussed. Members of the two boards were about evenly divided on the issue. Settlement of the question was left over until the next meeting.

Plans were made to entertain the visiting delegates to the Western Conference Editorial Association, which includes the managing editors of all the University dailies in the Big Ten conference.

A banquet at the Minnesota Union will be given in their honor, followed by a theatre party at the Metropolitan where John Drinkwater's Abraham Lincoln is being shown. The conference will be held Friday and Saturday of next week.

Green county is represented by 53 students, including 18 women and 35 men, at the University of Wisconsin this year.

Nearly 35 per cent of the cow testing associations in the United States are in Wisconsin according to figures from the federal government.

The members of Alpha Kappa Psi of the Northwestern University have been delegated by national headquarters to conduct the installation. Alumni of the fraternity in the Twin cities will participate. The local fraternity of business men was granted a charter in the national organization at the spring convention.

Banquet for Old and New Members of Council, Plan

Dean Nicholson and Prexy Coffman to Speak at Dinner, Date Not Set

All-U Council deliberations yesterday were chiefly concerned with imparting new impetus to the Better Minnesota movement, and to arranging for a Council banquet. Dean Edward E. Nicholson and President Lotus D. Coffman will speak at the banquet, which is to be a joint affair for old and new council members. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for holding the dinner next week.

Want To Remove Tennis Blue Law

Crowded tennis courts on all days of the week except Sunday, when no one is allowed to play, is at present the cause of considerable agitation to have the ban on Sunday play removed.

Supporters of the movement claim that many who are now unable to play during the week would have a chance to play if the restriction was lifted. Students whose work prevents them from playing on the days when the courts are open have but Sunday for recreation, and are forced to play on the still more crowded public courts. Allowing Sunday play would take care of a large number of these, say advocates of the change.

Big Ten School Cited Plans being given at other universities vary greatly from absolute restrictions to unrestricted Sunday playing. At some places the courts are closed only between nine and twelve on Sunday morning, the time of church services, and at others play is allowed only after 2 in the afternoon. The latter plan is at present being followed at Princeton, where formerly all use of the courts on Sunday was prohibited.

Athletic Director Fred Luehring declined to make any definite statements concerning the agitation, when questioned yesterday. He intends, however, to look into the matter thoroughly in order to become better acquainted with the situation.

F. Scott Fitzgerald will be the guest of honor at a meeting of the Garrick club next month, when plans for the fall production will be discussed.

It may be produced next year at the opening of the new theatre in the Music building. Spring tryouts will be held Tuesday, 3 to 6 p. m., in the Minnesota Union.

Authors May Get Plays Back This Week

Plays submitted in the Pi Epsilon Delta contest will be returned this week to their authors at the office of Miss Ariel MacNaughton, Folwell. A number have been sent to the national office of the fraternity for publication, however, and these will not be returned until action is taken on them. Twenty-four plays were submitted in the contest by campus playwrights.

Madison Girls Rap 'Flappers'

Madison school girls have declared war upon the "flapper" in their midst. The young men started the action by adopting resolutions against the deplorable "ten per cent" of their members who smoke and drink. The girls came back with the following resolutions:

- Don't wear short skirts. Don't smoke. Don't powder your nose in public. Don't be "unduly" familiar with boys. Lift the tone of your conversation to a level befitting young people.

Madison, Wis., May 10—Two students who were recently asked to withdraw from the University of Wisconsin, after it was found that they had been secretly married for some time, were allowed to re-enter last week after the matter had been discussed before the Board of Regents.

The students were Doris M. Moses, junior, and Robert J. Johnson, sophomore. They were asked to withdraw, according to the University officials, not because of the marriage, but because of violations of university rules of conduct during the period when their marriage was secret. There is no rule requiring students to withdraw if they marry. They petitioned the Regents for reinstatement which petition was granted.

SPANIARDS AND FRENCHMEN MEET IN GAME MAY 13

Game Will Be Played on Parade Grounds—No Admission to Be Charged

"Caramba—caramba—volla—en-core—bravo" and everything like that will resound over the parade grounds next Saturday afternoon when the French Club meets the Spanish Club at two baseball games. The budding Ty Cobbs and Babe Ruths of the clubs will attempt to settle the baseball championship of the country in a battle of languages.

There will be a surprise on hand for all, since the Spanish Club refuses to announce its female line-up, and the French Club is backward about making known its male champions.

"Snappy" Lineup

The French Club announces its line-up as follows: Mayme Bender, Helen Jackson, Melva Lind, Dorothy McGhee, Ann Roberts, Marguerite Robinson, Winifred Hughes, Elizabeth Kinder, and Dorothy Hedler. They will play a team of Spanish Club girls as yet not announced.

Both clubs are optimistic as to outcome of the two games, and have decided not to charge any admission, so that many people may view this epoch making event. The winning team will either enter the movies or tour the Orpheum circuit.

KITCHENER'S WAY

Meeting a monocled Britisher in one of our hotels the other day we were reminded of a little anecdote of Lord Kitchener. He had a great dislike of anything that savored of affection, and he said to an officer he was interviewing, "Is it absolutely necessary for you to wear that glass in your right eye?"

"Oh, ah, certainly, yes" drawled the other, somewhat taken by surprise.

"Then I'm sorry," said Kitchener. "I had intended to give you a staff appointment, but I must have a man who can see."

The officer retired crestfallen.—Boston Transcript.

EVANSTON MEN MEET SPEEDERS IN DUAL SERIES

Northwestern Crew Fresh From Licking at Hands of Iowa—Loom Formidable in Dual Meet Session

Sweitzer and Crippen Due For Strenuous Session in Mile—Carl Schjoll Gets Ambitious with Javelin

By Ruben Loftstrom
When Maroon and Gold mingled with Purple on Northrop field Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the first dual meet of the year, Coach Leonard Frank expects to create a track rainbow in which the first mentioned colors predominate.

Northwestern will come fresh to Minneapolis from a bad beating at the hands of the Hawkeyes Saturday, but the fact is not going to deter Frank from putting in his best efforts to place the finest team in action yet this year, for Iowa has an extremely strong team, and Northwestern put up a good scrap before being snowed under.

Minnesota made a good showing in defeating Ames, but will be a great deal stronger by Saturday. Many of the men are slow in coming around, and others are still bothered by recent injuries.

Schjoll Getting Good
Carl Schjoll gave promise of recovering his previous strength in the javelin and discus, and should be breaking a few Minnesota records before the season is over. "Bill" Hawker came through with a win in the pole vault Saturday, but with his knee getting stronger every day, he should go well over 12 feet from now on.

Some of the records made at Ames Saturday were less than have been made in practice here time and again. The discus was won by Ames at 117 feet, when Gross has repeatedly made over the 125 foot mark here before. Other marks were as low, and if the Gophers can all get into their stride together, they will clean house right in the coming dual meets.

With fair weather Saturday the first intercollegiate cinder meet at home will be attended by hundreds of athletic fans. Minnesota has a crack outdoor team, and will uphold the Gopher honors this year as never before. Football tickets will admit the students to the meet. Other admissions will be 55c.

Netmen Out For Two Scalps

Seven Track Men Already Win Letters

Karl Anderson by garnering 14 and 2-3 points in the last two track meets has raised his total of points scored in meets this year to 50 1-3 markers. Sweitzer by adding another five points to his count remains in second place with twenty-five counters. The points scored to date by the different members of the team are as follows:
Anderson, 50 1-3; Sweitzer, 25; Winter, 14; Hoverstad, 15; Schjoll, 16; Neubeiser, 11; Juhnke, 8; Martineau, 8; Hawker, 10; Wm. Kelly, 8; Hirt, 8; Mel Kelly, 8; Johnson, 6; Wilson, 8; Campbell, 7; Oster, 5; Hultkrans, 5; Sevey, 4; Madsen, 3; Ulrick, 2; Sperling, 2; Mathias, 1; and Faricy, 1.

Gopher Team Still Has Eight Games

Eight games are still left on the baseball schedule and there is still lots of time left for the diamond pastimers to clamor up on the top of the league. The games remaining to be played on the Minnesota schedule are as follows: May 18, Luther at Minneapolis; May 23, Michigan at Minneapolis; May 24, Carleton at Northfield; May 31, Carleton at Minneapolis; June 5, Iowa at Iowa City; June 6, Ames at Ames, Iowa; June 23, Iowa at Minneapolis.

Badger Nine Due to Play Eighteen Tilts

A schedule of twenty games is being played by the University of Wisconsin this season. Eleven of the games have already been played off. The remaining games on the schedule are: May 13—Illinois at Urbana; May 15—Iowa at Iowa City; May 20—Iowa at Madison; May 25—Northwestern at Madison; May 27—Michigan Ags at Lansing; May 29—Michigan University at Ann Arbor; and June 2—Chicago at Madison.

Varsity Team to Play Luther College May 18

The next scheduled game for the Gophers will be with Luther College on May 18th, although in all probability another practice game will be secured before that date.

The Luther team is reported to be a fast organization and one that will give the varsity a good game. Minnesota batters will be interested that their opponents will have two star pitchers with long strike-out records to their credit.

The big attendance of the fans in the last game was greatly appreciated by the players and it is hoped that the next home game will be patronized as well.

"If a window cleaner is paid $7 a day, what does it profit a man to be a college professor?"
"Well, it's true that the college professor has to exist on a pittance, but he has the satisfaction of knowing that if he and the window cleaner ever met at a social gathering he could make the window cleaner look foolish by discussing the influence of the Victorians era on contemporary literature."

Take on Chicago Tomorrow There—Meet Badgers in Return Game Saturday at Madison—Doped to Win

Out for a couple more scalps to add to their belt, the Gopher tennis team, four strong, will leave tonight for Chicago where it will take on the Maroon ball pounders Friday.

Saturday the Gophers will take on Wisconsin in a return game series at Madison.

The Minnesotans will play the Chicagoans in singles and doubles and are doped to put the skids under the Windy City lads in white flannels.

Gophers Beat Badgers
The Gophers took a wallop at the Badgers' net aspirations last Saturday afternoon and are doped to win again at Madison although the Cardinal and White men are sure that they can reverse decisions on the Madison courts.

Captain Bros. Norton, Pidgeon, and Kuhlman will make the trip tonight arriving in Chicago tomorrow morning, in Madison Saturday morning, and back to the campus Sunday.

Special courses in better crating and boxing are given at intervals by the Forest Products laboratory, Madison.

THIRTY-TWO HIGH SCHOOL TRACKMEN SQUADS ENTERED

Five Class "A" Teams Entered—Twenty-seven Class "B" Squads in—Banquet and Entertainment Planned

Thirty-two state high schools already have entered teams for the annual interscholastic track and field meet to be held on Northrop field May 19th. Indications point to the biggest meet in the history of the event, and more than 50 teams probably will take the field on the day of the tourney.

Teams which come to Minnesota will be quartered in fraternity houses and Friday night after the meet will be given a banquet in the Minnesota Union.
Fraternities keeping high school teams will confer with Fred Whittemore, in charge of reception of the visiting athletes, and efforts will be made to show the teams a royal time while here.

Five entries thus far have been received from Class "A" or Twin city high schools with 27 outside state schools composing class "B" at present.

A College Comic Hits the Dust

What constitutes college humor? Publication of the Sun Dodger, the famous comic issue of the University of Washington, has been suspended by the committee of publications there, who allege that the type of humor in its pages was in flagrant violation of good taste. The Sun Dodger attempted to reform, but its last issue in which it tried to walk in righteous paths was so dull and colorless that publication was finally suspended. So the Sun Dodger has gone the way of many other campus comics, among them our own Foolscape.

What is the status of campus wit? Is it impossible to write college humor which will come within the accepted tenets of good taste? In the east, the established seat of comic monthlies, the editors evidently do not have censorship to combat, and their work is satisfactory if judged from the viewpoint of being interesting and highly readable. But at the majority of institutions of the country, the comic paper is still in such a formative state that neither faculty authorities nor student editors are able to cope with the problem of supplying wit that shall be spontaneous and interesting reading, and yet not cause offense to the finer feelings.

There are apparently only two solutions to the problem; the accepted standards of college wit must be overthrown for a more liberal outlook, or college publications of humor must be abolished.—J. W. R.

Broad Minded or Big Headed

The student who took forty minutes in a class in philosophy to demonstrate offhand that the position of the author was ill chosen, according to his, the student's, belief, may have benefited slightly from his exercise in public speaking. But to the rest of the class he proved merely that his own mental balance was tilted at about forty-five degrees.

There are object lessons on the future of this student in every walk of life. In the extreme one sees, cynical failures, shuffled to the bottom of life's card deck by the hand of their own intolerance.

But, if society is less fortunate, they become narrow gauge preachers and school teachers, back yard gossip mongers, road hogs of the automobile trail, autocrats or wet blankets in industry, tyrants over the sweat shop in industry.

Our subject, the above student, is headed into the embrace of one of these alternatives. There is no hope for him under the present limitations of surgery. All the education in the world would not broaden his mind. He would become only the more self-centered.

But he has a function in life. Others may sense the tragedy of his deformed mind. They may exorcise the evil day he crossed their path. But they may also read the glaring danger signal in his example.

A broad mind is one of the highest fruits of education. The "big head" is its greatest despair. The difference is that between positive and negative, light and darkness, progress and "the rut," social consciousness and egoism.—L. S. W.

Cut Them Down!

Communications are constantly coming into The Daily office for publication that would run over two columns of space. While The Daily welcomes any comment on campus affairs, communications must not run over 200 words in order that all may be accommodated. Anything longer cannot be printed!

This is the time of the year that the frosh in other universities are casting aside the ol' green headgear, with appropriate ceremonies. Lessee, now, did somebody mention "tradition" at Minnesota?

A professor at Michigan has found a human skull on the campus lawn. Probably some weary bird who overslept after math class.

The Iowa State Student conducts a "calendar of approved dances." Problem—when is a dance not approved?

"Police of City Become Studes of Univerity," we hear from Utah. This would solve the problem of policemen in Minneapolis—you would be able to locate a cop—absolutely—by just dropping a note in his P. O. box.

"Population of Ohio Prison May Be 6,500 in 1932," says headline. They'll have to raise the entrance requirements, we guess.—Ohio State Lantern.

Contemporary Comment

Exponents of Ridicule

An author once classified professors into certain fixed types. He found some whose individuality caused difficulty in classification. But there were a surprising number that were readily recognizable as standardized. One of these types might be dubbed the "ridicule" professor. Everyone is familiar with him. He is found in plentiful numbers in high school circles and even in college.

He is the sort who takes great delight in asking an innocent question, and from that point quizzes and cross-quizzes and bringing up puzzling and misleading angles until the poor, bewildered student is the subject of the laughter of the class. It is excusable to cross-question to bring out important points, but not for sport.

Whatever his motives are, they might be worthy of a psychologist's investigation. It cannot be for any benefit that is derived from this method of teaching. He would not detain 30 or 40 other members of a class while he is engaged in entertaining the mind of the unlucky one being questioned if he were really taking his profession in the right spirit.

It may be only a careless habit, fallen into from years of teaching, but it is one that the student body does not love.

It carries vital dangers to the teacher. It brings a general attitude of resentment against him. It brings a widespread atmosphere of ineptitude, since few students are concerned after the first few times over the blunderings of a fellow-classmate. It, in time, spoils all the effectiveness of teaching.—Ohio State Lantern.

The man whose courage and foresight saw alternating current to America, and founded the Westinghouse industries.

George Westinghouse

Thirty years ago the alternating current system was but an infant whose life those who believed in it were fighting daily and nightly battles; today this same system is a giant of almost inconceivable size, so capable of defending itself that no one seeks to attack it. For 95% of the electricity that is generated and transmitted today is alternating current.

The story of the development of alternating current is a story of courage and vision and faith; of misunderstanding and misrepresentation; of engineering failures and triumphs; of commercial ability and organization. It reads like a classic romance. In its chapters are credit and honor for all who have deserved it, but the central figure, the man whose motives and acts furnished the basis of the plot, was George Westinghouse, the founder of the Westinghouse Industries.

When, in 1886, he brought over from Europe the crude Gaulard and Gibbs system, even he, great as was his foresight, did not dream of the coming magnitude of the idea which he was fostering. The development work undertaken by the strong engineers whom he put to work led at first into many serious differences with those who favored direct current. Legislatures were even importuned to prevent the use of the "deadly Westinghouse Current", as many extremists described it.

That the little 50 horsepower generators of those days have grown to sizes two thousand times as large; that stations of a few horsepower have been succeeded by stations with a capacity of hundreds of thousands of horsepower, while at the same time, distribution voltages have grown from 1,000 to 220,000, is due largely to the vision and the courage of George Westinghouse, and to the qualities of the engineers whom he called, characteristically, to help him. By no means the least of the achievements of this man was his ability to organize the greatest aggregation of engineering intelligence ever known, men of analytical ability, consummate mathematicians, great inventors; and to promote in this great group the most harmonious and intelligent co-operation.

The same energy and courage and purpose that forced the acceptance of the air brake, the modern systems for the economic and safe distribution of natural gas, and later of the steam turbine, led and won the fight for alternating current, which has grown to be one of the world's greatest and most necessary commodities.

Westinghouse
