Rapid Sale of Tickets For "A Cowboy In A Kurhaus" is Reported

It is Rumored That Classes Will be Dismissed Monday That Being a Holiday.

RECEIPTS WILL BE USED TO FOUND WOMAN'S LOAN FUND

Many Fraternities and Sororities have Procured Blocks of Seats or Boxes.

University students may possibly be given a chance to see Mrs. George E. Vincent's play "The Cowboy in a Kurhaus" Monday afternoon without missing any classes. In other words next Monday may be declared a holiday at the University as it is down town. A meeting of the university deans on Thursday will decide whether the students will be free Monday afternoon to attend Mrs. Vincent's play or attend their regular routine work.

Seats for the play are selling with unusual rapidity and are nearly all gone for the evening performance. The boxes are entirely sold out but a few choice seats are left for the evening performance and a number for the afternoon performance, which are expected to be taken by students. A number of the fraternities and sororities are planning to attend in a body; among these are the Alpha Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta sororities and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. The evening performance in Minneapolis will be a society event, and many theatre parties have been planned by overtown people as well as the people of the east side.

The play will be staged by the Faculty Women's Club and the receipts used for a Faculty Women's Club Loan Fund to be administered by the Dean of Women for university girls who are in need of funds for their college work.

The cast for the comedy "A Cowboy in a Kurhaus" will be composed of prominent members of Minneapolis and St. Paul's social set as well as several members of the faculty. Two performances will be given in Minneapolis, a matinee and evening presentation, and one in St. Paul. The matinee at the Minneapolis Shubert Theatre will be given at 2:30 and at popular prices. The afternoon performance is given that university students may attend; this fact with the popular prices and possibility of no school Monday seems to warrant the prediction of the immediate sale of the few remaining matinee tickets.

The few tickets left are on sale at the Shubert box office and should be immediately obtained if one does not wish to be liable to disappointment.

Geo. J. Young To Lecture

Address Will be Given Before Engineers Under the Auspices of Tau Beta Pi.

Prof. Geo. J. Young of the School of Mines will deliver a lecture this evening at 8 P. M. in the Auditorium of the Main Engineering building on "The History of Mining in Nevada." The lecture will be given under the auspices of Tau Beta Pi, an honorary engineers' fraternity.

Prof. Young, who has spent a number of years in Nevada, is at present preparing a section of the official State History of Nevada; and his speech will be an extract from certain portions of this work. The bearing of his talk will be engineering as exemplified by the history of mining in Nevada.

He will deal with transportation, drainage, camp construction, and mining methods in general. This lecture will be open to all engineers and miners; and, as the subject is one of general interest, the public at large is invited.

LAST OF BLUE SLIPS ARE OUT.

Forty Percent of Students Receive Conditions, Falls or Incompletes.

The blue slips are all out, according to the Registrar. This year over 40% of the students in the university received finks, conditions or incompletes. That is 1,500 students were below in one, or more subjects at the end of the first semester.

The faculty is anxious to ascertain the causes for this unprecedented flood of slips but students explain it only as the fault of the difficult finals or the immense amount of work required for each individual subject.

In an editorial of one of the downtown papers there was a plea for easier finals, which they said, was the cause of most of the students failures.

Y. W. C. A. Campaigning For Mission Students

Mrs. Potter, Travelling Secretary and Former Missionary is Here Directing the Work.

The Canvass Has Been Apportioned to Captains Each Representing an Organization.

The Y. W. C. A. has begun its campaign for membership in its Mission Study Classes. Mrs. Potter, travelling secretary for Home and Foreign Missions, is visiting the campus this week and is arousing interest in missions among the girls. She has been a missionary; is intensely interested in the subject, and will be very glad to talk to any girls who wish to confer with her. Mrs. Potter began the campaign yesterday which will continue until Saturday and every girl is urged to sign for the classes as early as possible. Following is the list of classes that will be offered:

Comparative Religion, Rev. J. A. Croft, Wednesday, 11 A. M. to 11:45, Y. W. parlor.

The Decisive Hour of Christian Missions, Dr. Powell at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday, 5 to 5:45 P. M.

The Teacher in the Small Town, Thursday at 2 to 3 P. M., Y. W. parlor.

South American Problems, Rev. T. W. Graham, Tuesday, 11 to 11:45 A. M., Lit. Society rooms.

India, Rev. Herron, Monday, 2 to 2:45 P. M., Y. W. parlor.

The Students of Asia, Miss Alice Anderson, Thursday 1 to 2 P. M., Y. W. parlor.

The Emergency in China, Miss Mary Smith, Tuesday 2 to 3 P. M., Y. W. parlor.

"Islam—A Challenge to Faith," Miss Helen Salzer, Wednesday 1 to 1:45 P. M., Y. W. parlor.

Bible Study—An interesting course taking up various phases of "Christian Personality" will be offered by Mrs. Wilde, on Tuesdays, 11 to 11:45 A. M. in the Y. W. parlor. A course in helpful suggestions for Sunday School workers will be given at 2 o'clock on Tuesday.

Cadets Will Dance Again

Third Dance Will be Held in Armory This Afternoon from 4 to 6 O'clock.

The third of the series of cadet hops will be held this afternoon in the Armory from 4 to 6 o'clock. The music will start promptly at 4:10 and a program of nine or ten dances will be played.

At the last hop many were dissatisfied because of the lateness in starting the dancing. This was because of a misunderstanding as to the time the band should assemble. Proper arrangements for this hop have been made beforehand so that the entire program will be played. Chaperones have been procured from the university faculty.

Flickertails Overcome Gophers in Close Game By a Score of 18 to 16

Loss of Capt. Stadsfold and Shaughnessy is Hard Blow to Varsity B. B. Team.

PETRABORG WAS INDIVIDUAL STAR FOR THE MINNESOTANS

Playing of Team for Remainder of Year Expected to be Wholly Consistent.

Eligibility rules have never before affected Minnesota athletic teams as seriously as this year. As a result of the final reports it is discovered that all prospects have vanished for a University gymnastic team this year, about half the track candidates are ineligible, several of the most promising baseball prospects will be unable to play, and two of the mainstays of the Gopher basketball team, Captain Stadsfold and Shaughnessy, are out of the game for the remainder of the year.

The immediate effect of these facts will be to greatly lessen Minnesota's chances of winning the rest of her conference basketball games. The game with North Dakota last night while not a conference game, determined the strength of the men in their new capacities. Doctor Cooke started the game with Giltinan and Robertson as forwards, Petraborg at center, and Pynn and McGeary guards, but put Lewis in for Giltinan. The North Dakota team started with Murray and Robinson as guards, Murphy playing center and Sexton and Lowe as forwards. Cooke took Murray's place and Smith was put in for Sexton.

Summary:
Minnesota..... No. Dakota.

Referee: Clark of Minnesota.

Pres. Vincent To Lecture Today On Robert Owen

Great English Social Reformer and Author of the "New Moral World" the Subject.

Address Part of Faculty Series on the "Leaders of the World's Thought" Given Wednesdays.

President Vincent will lecture this afternoon at four o'clock in the auditorium of the law building, on the subject "Robert Owen, and the new Moral World." This lecture is one of a series given by members of the university faculty on leaders of the world's thought and development.

Robert Owen, a wealthy cotton mill owner in England during the last part of the eighteenth century and the early part of the nineteenth, was a great social reformer. Owen opened pleasure resorts for his employees, stopped the employment of young children, and introduced a system of education for in advance of his time; improved the houses; furnished provisions at fair prices; and established insurance funds for sickness and old age.

He established many ideal communities both in England and America, many of which ultimately failed. In 1835 he published his "New Moral World" and gave the remainder of his life and fortune to his social schemes. The faculty expects this lecture to be of special interest to students of social reform, but also of interest to the public at large.

LIBERAL ASSN. MEETS TODAY.

Judge Waite Will Speak on "The Juvenile Court."

The regular meetings of the University Liberal Association will be resumed this afternoon at five o'clock when the society will gather in room 104 Folwell Hall to listen to an address by Judge E. F. Waite. The subject of the talk by Judge Waite will be on "The Work of the Juvenile Court." The speaker is at present connected with the juvenile court in Minneapolis, and can give first-hand information as to the service that that institution is doing in the correction of youthful offenders. The meetings of the Liberal Association are open to all students.

Fraternity Basket Ball Games Progress Slowly

Large Number of Postponed Games Causes Considerable Delay in Playing Off Schedule.

Team Standings as Published Give But Slight Indication of Championship Possibilities.

The basket ball tournament now in progress among the various fraternity teams is going forward so slowly that, the scheduled games as played should have completed over two-thirds of the time. Still the numerous postponements leaves the half way mark still to be reached. The schedule was so planned that the Armory floor would be utilized for play at all times when not needed for actual curriculum. The coming week was set aside for the play-off of the final games, between the winners of the various sections but there were so many postponements, it now looks as if the entire week would be consumed in settling these various contests. The contests of last week were lively and clean exhibitions of the game. They evoked no little amount of enthusiasm from the gallery where the various fraternity brothers cheered their teams to greater efforts. The cheering display at almost any of these contests could be used to advantage in a varsity game. Last night's result was: Acacia forfeited to A. T. O. Psi U. forfeited to Alpha Delt. Phi Gam-D. U. game was postponed, as was also D. K. E.-D. Chi game.

With but one day remaining in which to file for offices on the Board of athletic control, there are but two candidates out for president "Bee" Lawler, of the Pharmacy School, and Frank H. Stadsfold, both of whom announced their candidacy yesterday. There are two candidates for the position of secretary, E. K. Geer and A. C. Ott. Claude Ehrenberg is unopposed for representative from the academic college. The rivalry is becoming hot and heavy in the race for engineering representative, with four men, Elmer Fegan, Tom Quigley, David Giltinan and John C. West struggling for supremacy. The agricultural College is as well represented by three aspirants, Robert Snyder, Richard Lewis and Irving Husby. In the Medic college the race is between Boleslaus Rosenthal and R. E. Ramaker. Emmons Sawyer announced that he or Horton Daniels must be in receipt of the names of all candidates for places by tonight at 6 o'clock.

The polls will be opened on Wednesday, February 25th and the All-University Council has decided to submit the question of the much discussed point system at the same election. In addition to the race for Board places and the point system, the athletic board will submit an amendment to the constitution of the association. This amendment provides that holders of season athletic tickets and not merely foot ball ticket holders are eligible to vote.

Mission Study Campaign Shows Excellent Results

Y. M. C. A. Announces Result of First Two Days' Canvass as Being Registry of 50 Men.

Five Courses of Study are Offered Under Leadership of Local Pastors.

The Y. M. C. A. mission study campaign is now in full swing and from the results of the first two days work the committee in charge feels confident that 200 men will be enrolled in missionary classes before the end of the week. Up to three o'clock Tuesday afternoon about fifty men had already registered, and today the committee expects to double that number. There are ten teams at work, led by the following men: Harvey Hosbour, Fred Weersing, Chester Whittier, Carl Painter, Phil Tryon, Edwin Dahlberg. (Continued on page 3)

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

When the plan of an All-University Council was put into effect two or three years ago it was intended to make that body a student governing body with unlimited chances for development. The object has, in part, been accomplished. The All-University Council has grown to a place of importance and its personnel is made up of efficient men and women. Yet we believe that the Council still has unlimited room for development. What it has accomplished in the past is little compared with the future possibilities.

We wish to call attention to the analogy between a small city and the university community. The All-University should be our council of aldermen. Let the council bring forth its legislation as a city council does. Let it be the supreme court of the campus, with regular weekly meetings. We firmly believe that the council would find opportunity for advancement if its meetings were more frequent and better attended. We believe that positions on the All-University Council should be made the most coveted positions on the campus. Certainly there is opportunity to make them the most important. And with the development of the council the greater must be the efficiency of student self-government. We hope the university will see the time when all strictly student affairs are supervised and regulated by the students themselves.

Communications

To the Editor of the Daily:
 The contributor to your columns on Tuesday who did not have enough backbone to sign his name but preferred to slink behind the nom de plume "A senior" is herewith requested for a bill of particulars. I want him to state in what respect the Tribune story on the Armory dance Saturday night upholds the charges made by the Daily against the newspapers generally. If he will abandon the Indian style of ambush fighting; show where the author of the Tribune articles is lacking in the qualities of a gentleman and deny the veracity of the Tribune accounts, we will have something to say to him. But we want to see his face, along with his fine Italian hand. Of course, I will have nothing to say about the Journal stories. You were wrong in your insinuation last week that I presume to represent the press in general.

Y. W. C. A. IS CAMPAIGNING FOR MISSION STUDENTS

 February 23, and will continue for six weeks, closing shortly after Easter vacation.

A tea for Mrs. Potter will be held in Shevlin Hall at four o'clock today to furnish an opportunity for all girls to meet Mrs. Potter. Every one is cordially invited. On Friday Mrs. Potter will speak at the regular Y. W. meeting.

The work of the campaign has been divided among captains. The number includes a captain for each sorority, literary society, boarding house, and for the freshman class.

MISSION STUDY CAMPAIGN IS SHOWING RESULTS

Harlan Frost, Lowell Holmes, Earl
Ellsworth and Selforde Stellwagen.

There are five courses of study offered on the schedule, and the classes will be led by local pastors. Rev. E. C. Horn of the Trinity Methodist Church, who has spent several years as mission inspector in the Orient, will conduct a class on "The Emergency in China," a subject of peculiar interest at the present time, because of the many religious and political changes going on in that country. The class on "South American Problems" at the same hour, needs no introduction to Minnesota men. Thomas Graham was formerly secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. and is now pastor of the Andrew Presbyterian Church. He has made a special study of conditions in the Latin American countries. Dr. J. W. Powell will conduct two classes, one on Tuesday at 4 P. M. on "The Moslem World" and one on Wednesday at 1 o'clock on "Comparative Religion," a course designed especially for upper classmen. Wednesdays at 5 o'clock, Rev. Elliott H. Moore of the Bethany Presbyterian Church will give a course on John R. Mott's "Decisive Hour of Christian Mission," a class which is proving very popular among Sophomores and Freshmen.

All of these classes will begin next week, and will continue until about Easter vacation, meeting one hour each week. Anyone who is interested may enroll in one of the classes by calling at the Y. M. C. A. office and signing a registration card.

The Cheshire Cat

Our twenty-five dollar hockey team is progressing marvelously! They beat up the boys from St. Paul Central on Monday 5 to 0. We have reason to be proud—25 lousies goes a long way.

Here's a "new" one:—

B. Oob: "Heard that you buried your father yesterday."

W. Ise: "Had to—he died."

New song, heard on the Campus this week (sung with feeling): "Where did you get the price—oh! you lucky devil."

The Kat is now working on a salary like any regular newspaper guy—we enlisted in the Battery yesterday!

The Sophomores are planning on having a big get-together next Tuesday. Will Hank let them "get together" though? Have a heart, Hank.

Say, what dayano? Prexy had another honor wished on him! He is a noted scholarship committee now.

Alfred "Ott" to get that position as secretary of the Board of Athletic Control alright. (Clever, eh?)

A man with a wife and fifteen children has registered in the university of Missouri! He ought to study Domestic Science.

The Shakopean Literary Society held a "banquet" at the Rogers last Saturday evening! Who said they were a literary bunch?

IN MEMORIAM
* R. Nuttingham McGlue.

It is with copious draughts of silver, salty tears that we take it upon ourselves to perform the lugubrious duty of informing the public of the unfortunate demise of our brilliant, scintillating scribe, Reginald Nuttingham McGlue. Mr. McGlue has fallen by the wayside, and was attacked while in a debilitated condition by the heartless Administrative Board and claim, for the sole insignificant reason that he received four funques. The Board, whose ghoulish pleasure it is to affix the hardware to persons deficient in their scholastic endeavors, could not discriminate between those comprising the vast army of ordinary boneheads, and an embryo genius (meaning Mr. McGlue.)

As stated above, it rends our hearts assunder to see this brilliant journalist, this excellent proof-reader, and this sweetly-dispositioned man leaving us for the Windy City.

Stanford: Women students at Stanford University have been styled the "non-funkables" because so few have "funkt" or dropped out of the ranks for low per cents in their studies. In the half-year just ended, out of the 500 women students, only seven have received notice that their work must improve. Out of 1,000 men, 95 have received similar notice.

Quick on the Trigger
With a Snap-Shot Eye

THE crack trapshooter has to have steady nerves and muscles absolutely under control—always ready to swing his gun into place and bring down his claypigeon. This means trained, not to the minute, but to the split-second.

We present the names of some famous crack shots. They like to smoke, but take no chances on a tobacco that might "throw them off." They use Tuxedo because it is mild, relaxing, steadying—strictly pure.

GEORGE W. MAXWELL
leading trapshooter
"I find complete enjoyment in Tuxedo. It's a nerve stealer and a sure fire, slow-burning tobacco."

TOM A. MARSHALL
famous crack shot
"Tuxedo tobacco is unquestionably the acme of perfection; smoking Tuxedo makes life better worth living."

FRED GILBERT
celebrated trapshooter
"The coolest, most fragrant tobacco to my experience—Tuxedo. Leads in mildness and purity."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is made of only the finest, choicest, selected leaves of perfectly aged Burley tobacco. It is made by the original "Tuxedo Process" which removes every trace of bite and sting and develops all the wonderful mildness, fragrance and flavor of the Burley Leaf in a way that no other brand of tobacco has ever successfully imitated.

Dr. Robinson To Travel

University Professor Will Spend Fifteen Months Studying Conditions in Mediterranean Countries.

Dr. E. V. Robinson of the university faculty will leave in June for Europe to spend 15 months in the study of economic and commercial conditions in the Mediterranean countries.

During his studies Dr. Robinson will visit all the countries of northern Africa and southern Europe, including Egypt, Syria, Asia Minor the Balkan states, Spain, Morocco and Algeria. During the hotter months of his stay he will spend his time studying in the national library, "The Bibliothek" of France, in Paris.

"Economic conditions in the Mediterranean countries," said Dr. Robinson today, "are undergoing very rapid changes at the present time. This is still more evident in the Balkan states and those countries which have recently been involved in war. I am going to give particular attention in my studies to conditions in the country, rather than in the cities.

"I expect to touch every country in the Mediterranean district, will make a journey down into the Sahara desert as far as practicable for my purposes, and will also spend a great deal of time in Egypt and Syria.

WILL PRODUCE "LA GRAMMAIRE"

French Club is Planning the Staging of a Second Play.

Close upon the success of the production of "La Grammaire" by Le Club Francais comes the announcement of the trials for "Le Medecin Malgre Lui," the second play that is planned by the Club for this year. Mr. Parker will be in his office, 228 Folwell Hall, on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 4 to meet candidates for parts in the play. If it is impossible for anyone to come at the set time, a special appointment may be made.

"Le Medecin Malgre Lui" is a short three-act comedy by Moliere. It has three roles for women and eight male parts, some of which are of but a few lines. These positions on the cast will not be limited to members of the French Club, nor to students who are taking work in the department, but all who are interested will be eligible to try out. Since the play is to be produced in some theatre under the auspices of the French Alliance, the parts are very desirable aside from the practice in French that they will afford. Keen competition is looked for at the trials.

If you wish to earn enough during vacation to pay your way next year, you can do so by writing insurance. Very desirable territory open in South Dakota. Investigate immediately. E. O. Bratrud, Roswell, S. D. 136

In order to give the schedule number of Friday evening concerts in Minneapolis and also fill the three weeks' engagements demanded by its eastern tour, the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give a concert next Friday night after an interval of only one week, instead of the usual fortnight.

The chief number of next Friday evening's program will be Robert Schumann's first symphony, in B flat major, Opus 38. This is one of the most purely joyous compositions ever written, expressing both the rapture of love and the gladness of spring. It was composed early in 1841, the composer's ideal marriage to Clara Wieck having taken place during the preceding autumn. The work was directly inspired by a poem by Adolph Botzger which ends with the line, "Spring blossoms in the valley." In harmony with this thought Schubert at first contemplated giving descriptive sub-titles to the different movements as Beethoven did in his Pastoral symphony. To his friend Spohr he wrote: "I composed the symphony toward the end of winter, under the impulse of that vernal ardor which carries away man even at the most advanced age, and seizes upon him anew every year. I did not aim to describe or portray; but I do believe that the season in which the symphony originated has influenced its form and made it what it is."

The program will open with the merrily fugal overture to Mozart's opera "The Magic Flute." This opera was not only the last composed by Mozart but was his final completed work. It was written at the suggestion of Emanuel Schikaneder, a strolling actor and manager, who took most of the credit for this immortal work. The opera is supposed to bear a close relation to the mystic rites of the Masonic order symbolized, in the overture, by the mighty chords with which it opens and which are heard again after the development of the main fugal theme.

Mr. Oberhoffer has received so many requests for a repetition of Richard Strauss' tone-poem "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks" that he has made it the closing number of next Friday's program. This work is one of the greatest and most vivid examples of orchestral humor ever written and depicts the madcap adventures and impudent and irreverent practical jokes of Till Eulenspiegel, a half-legendary German character of the early middle-ages whose reckless daring led him further and further into thoughtless mischief until he was finally seized by the governmental authorities and hanged by the neck until he was dead, dead, dead.

Next Friday evening's soloist will be Harold Bauer, admittedly one of the greatest living pianists. Of German-English parentage, Harold Bauer was born in England in 1873. As a boy his gifts attracted wide attention, particularly his violin playing, and a violinist's career was uppermost in his mind until Paderewski's judgment is too well known to require comment at this time. He will play, with the orchestra, Brahms' D minor concerto for pianoforte and orchestra, a work that has never been heard with orchestra in this city. This work, written by Brahms at the age of 25, has a curious history. It was started as a symphony, turned into a sonata for two pianos and finally, at the urgent advice of Julius Otto Grimm, was completed as a concerto for pianoforte and orchestra. It was not an immediate success, but was partially rewritten and, in its present form, holds a high position among the greatest works of its masterly composer.

such as institutional dietitian and management, management of lunch rooms, hotels, restaurants, and catering establishments, along with journalism and kindred subjects, a vocational conference will be held at Ohio State University, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, February 17, 18 and 19.

The program of speakers will include Dr. A. F. Shepherd, of the Ohio board of administration, who will present institutional opportunities; Dean Sarah Louise Arnold, of Simmons College, Boston, a vocational school for definite vocational training; Miss Helen M. Bennett, director of the Chicago Collegiate Bureau of Occupations, who is to speak on journalism and publishing houses, with special reference to positions open to women.

The opportunities for women in civic, social, and welfare work will be presented Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Chemistry lecture room. Miss Edith Abbott, of the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy, and Miss Sophronisa Breckenridge, joint authors of reports published by the Russell Sage Foundation, will speak on delinquent children, the housing situation, and woman in industry. Miss Caroline M. Breyfogle dean of women at the Ohio State University, has been largely responsible in bringing this distinguished company of women to Columbus. The conference is an endeavor to make the product of the University more efficient in life and happier in occupations fitted to the student's ability.
