

OBSERVATORY OPENING

Darling observatory, 910 West Third street, a UMD facility, will be open at 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays under auspices of the Science and Mathematics division. Robert Dufault, UMD junior and physics major, will be in charge. A 9-inch refracting telescope, a planetarium, and a large collection of slides are available at the observatory. The observatory is open to the general public as well as to UMD personnel.