SELF GOVERNMENT WINS OVER COMMITTEE RULE

Girls Will Have Organization Separate from Y. W. C. A. and Woman's League

Committee Rule Does Not Have Backing that was Expected and Loses

248 votes for self government against 8 for committee, was the result of the closed ballot held yesterday by the girls of the university.

Self Government or Committee Rule was the question of the moment yesterday among the college girls and the voting was carried on all day with a lively interest and enthusiasm. At 5 o'clock the polls were closed and the count of the vote showed the above result.

The plan of Self Government provides for an organization distinct from the Y. W. C. A. and the Woman's League, an organization in which every girl in college will be an active factor. This organization will elect a president and other officers thru whom their plans will be carried out.

The Committee Rule plan, which was warmly advocated by some, proposed to put the management of the building in the hands of a committee composed of the presidents of the Woman's League and of the Y. W. C. A., and three girls chosen in mass meeting of all the girls in college, thus giving a voice in government to the two associations and also to the girls who do not belong to either of those organizations.

At a meeting of the girls held at chapel time Miss Hutinspellar of Wellesley gave a talk on the subject of Self Government. This plan, she said, is now in use at Wellesley and has been found very efficient. It is interesting to note that Wellesley took six years to secure this management.

FIRE DESTROYS LODGE

Chi Psi House at Cornell Burned and Several Lives Lost

Students here were horrified yesterday to hear of the burning of the Chi Psi Lodge at Cornell, in which it is known four members of the fraternity lost their lives and it is feared three others were killed also.

The lodge, one of the finest fraternity houses in the country, caught fire in the early morning, when all the occupants were sleeping, and the whole first floor was doomed before anyone was aware of their danger. Most of the killed and injured were due to falling walls and not to the flames as was first reported.

Lyle Decker, who was a Chi Psi at Minnesota last year and who is now attending Cornell, is reported safe. His parents received a telegram this noon assuring them of his safety.

The faculty at the University of Wisconsin has appointed a committee to commence a campaign against "cribbing" Wisconsin, according to a prominent professor is not yet ripe for an honor system.

MILITARY HOPS WILL BE RESUMED NEXT SATURDAY

Cadets will give Weekly Dances at Armory Under New System After Drills

Military hops will soon be in order and the strenuous cadet may unbend and enjoy himself hereafter on Saturday afternoons after he has satisfied Captain Sigerfoos as to his knowledge of soldiery. These functions are always looked forward to with great pleasure by the cadets. This year, however, the informals will be run on a somewhat different plan from that previously adopted; the band will play one concert number while the cadets put away their equipment after which twelve dances will follow instead of the six usually played.

Each cadet will be charged twenty-five cents for the dance which will be limited to cadets only. This plan has met with the hearty approval of Captain Sigerfoos and it is hoped that it will look good to the cadets. The object of charging this amount is to give the band some remuneration for their work and give them an opportunity to raise some money for their trip in the spring. The first hop will no doubt be given next Saturday.

BANQUET FOR FAIR SENIORS

Girls will entertain party at Shevlin Hall Dec. 13

Senior girls as well as Senior men are thinking about feeds. The first given by the girls will be Thursday evening, Dec. 13, at 7 o'clock, in the new dining room of Shevlin Hall.

A program of toasts has been prepared—"Senior Fraternalism," Josephine Schain; "The Dignity of the Mortar-Board," Mary Copley; "Plan and Purpose," Grace Dickinson; "Looking Backward," Irene Dunn; "A Senior—then what?" Edna Gould.

The committee which has the matter in charge is Grace Dickinson, Mary Helson, and Helen Hill.

An effort has been made to send a special invitation to every senior girl, but those who did not have postoffice boxes were not invited. All senior girls are cordially invited to attend—whether they have received a written invitation or not.

CLUBS SCORE SUCCESS

Splendid Program Well Received by Large Audience

The concert of the Glee and Mandolin clubs took place last evening at the First Baptist church, and was very successful. A typical college crowd enjoyed the varied program, which included solo work as well as the regular club numbers.

The Glee club showed up best on the whole in "Land-Sighting" by Greig, and the most consistent effort of the Mandolin Club was in the descriptive fantasy, "A Day in Arcadia." Besides these rather serious and sustained pieces, there were several numbers of a frivolous and delightful nature which were heartily received. The solo work of Clifford Champine, Mendelssohn Jones and Walter Coapman was very good.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR TODAY IN ALICE SHEVLIN HALL

New Building Will be Open to Public During Afternoon and Evening

Today the Christmas Bazaar for which the Y. W. C. A. girls have labored so long, will be given in Alice Shevlin Hall. For the afternoon only women are invited but in the evening the first of but few chances to see the building from the inside will be offered to the men.

Not only will all kinds of fancy and useful articles be put on sale but ice cream, cake, candy, jelly and preserves of exceptional quality will find ready customers.

Some of the mysteries of the evening have been disclosed, such as the unclaimed office, the flower garden, and the U. S. Postal Delivery. Features galore will be there for the amusement of the buyers.

Attractive programs have been prepared for afternoon and evening and will include readings and violin, vocal and instrumental music.

Special mention is made of Grace Garrish as she is one of the most prominent young readers in the state.

The patronesses for the evening are: Mesdames Jas. Paige, E. Carpenter, J. G. Groos, J. T. Eddy, J. B. Gillilan, Cyrus Northrop, A. B. White, G. W. White, H. F. White, J. F. Downey, Carl Schlenker, E. P. Sevenworth, J. S. Clarke, F. M. Anderson, F. Potter, F. L. McVey, G. B. Frankforter, Misses Edith Moore, Peck.

Absolutely nothing will be missing that fully equipped confectionery, novelty and dry goods stores can offer.

GIRLS WILL ENTERTAIN

Large Reception for Prof. Maria L. Sanford on Dec 19

Professor Maria L. Sanford will be tendered a reception by the Woman's League, on the evening of Dec. 19, at Alice Shevlin Hall.

December 19 was chosen because on that date Professor Sanford completes three score years and ten.

Professor Sanford is well known to almost every student in college. She has been professor of rhetoric for twenty-six years and for this reason many alumni will participate in the reception.

Students, alumni and other friends of Professor Sanford are invited to be present and participate in the reception.

FRAT BOWLING LEAGUE

A meeting of the representatives of all the fraternities has been called for next Tuesday noon to discuss the advisability of continuing the Interfraternity Bowling League. If the league is desired, new officers will be elected and other arrangements made for an immediate starting of a schedule.

The organization comes somewhat late this year but a schedule can be run thru before spring. Cups and prizes will doubtless be offered if the league is organized.

SENIOR PLAY HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DISASTER

Results of Two Months' Work of Play Committee Consigned to Wastebasket

Opportune Rescue Saves Detailed Outline, Prospective Cast and Setting of Play

Narrow indeed was the escape of the senior play! Even yet seniors are holding their breaths in horror, when they think how near they came to having no play at all.

It was thusly: The committee, driven hither and yon by fierce janitors with broomsticks, settled at last in a comparatively peaceful corner of chapel.

Here they painstakingly wrote out a complete outline of the play—name, cast of characters, stage-setting and all. Now the play was in just that unsettled stage (never having been put on paper before) so that if this valuable outline were lost all would be confusion again.

The chairman laid the paper on the seat beside her, and the committee proceeded to discuss details. Suddenly, a presentiment of danger grew in the air, and they felt rather than saw a shadow above them. They turned.

Jacob, the ever-persevering janitor stood there, strong faced, ramming the precious document into the bottom of his waste-basket, with his broom. Unconscious and serene he crushed and jammed it and would have passed on—but that a low wall escaped from the committee.

"Ya didn't want this old paper, did ya?" he asked finally.

The play was rescued, but the committee has decided to parody Jacob and put him in a prominent place in the play. This is for revenge upon the tribe of janitors, but it will be so artistically worked up that it will be a distinct addition to the play.

JUNIOR BALL ON FEB' 7

Association Now Letting Contracts for Annual Function

The Junior Ball date has been announced as Thursday, Feb. 7.

The armory, of course, will be the place where the ball will be held.

Negotiations are now under way securing a contract for the decorations, refreshments and music.

The association list is not entirely complete but will soon be closed and the committee members named.

SENIOR MEN FEED

Elaborate Banquet with Brilliant Toasts Marks First Affair

Last evening the seniors held their first senior feed and it proved a great success. Twelve courses were served. Between courses many brilliant toasts were rendered by the "soon-to-be" or "hope-to-be" alumni.

Heard in the engineering department: "Professor, I can't possibly draw this curve, straight."

Hamlin Garland is to give a lecture at Purdue next Monday.

PROF. MARIA L. SANFORD

The reception to be given to Prof. Maria L. Sanford by the girls of the university is a fitting tribute to the splendid services which Miss Sanford has rendered the university.

Her widespread reputation is not only based on her work in the university but on her work in the field of education and lecture. She is well known speaker and has warm friends everywhere thruout the state who fully appreciate the amount of work she has done.

Miss Sanford's long term of service and her personality have endeared her to all who know her and this chance of participating in a function in her honor will undoubtedly be gladly taken by a large number of students.

The fire of yesterday at Cornell in which the chapter house of Chi Psi was burned and several lives lost, has aroused much sympathy among university students, and the Daily can only offer sympathy to the local chapter and trust that the loss of life is not as serious as is at present reported.

WHO'S A ROWDY?

There are fads and fads but the latest out seems to be that of smashing "derbys." This fad is unusually expensive, but nevertheless was decidedly prevalent yesterday in and out of the library building.

Rowdiness—for such this must be termed—should be suppressed at all times around the campus and in the campus buildings. With some people, however, it appears to be an in-suppressable characteristic as has been evident of late.

It is hoped that something may be done to preserve the tranquility of the library at least where so many students pass in and out that rowdiness can possibly have no place therein. The same may be said in connection with chapel.

CLASS OF 1910 MEETS

Fagundus Elected Vice-President and Constitution Adopted

The Class of 1910 held a meeting at 1 p. m. yesterday to elect a vice president in place of Miss Gertrude Swinburn, resigned, and to take action on a constitution submitted by the constitution committee. Miss Ruth Fagundus was elected to take the place of Miss Swinburne in the office of vice-president. The constitution was adopted after careful consideration and the class decided to adopt strenuous measures to collect from the members of the class the special assessment for the girls' basketball tournament. A table will be placed in the rotunda of the library and a freshman stationed behind it with the official books of the treasurer and as each man cashes up his name will be checked from the list.

The students of Colgate University closed the football season with an elaborate entertainment in the form of a smoker.

ENGINEER FEED THURSDAY

Engineers will congregate in numbers next Thursday evening at the St. Anthony Commercial club rooms, which will be the scene of a banquet given by the Engineers' society. Louis Jones, E. W. Leach and Stanley Bingham constitute the committee in charge of the preparations, and they promise a good feed.

A program of toasts on various interesting topics is being prepared, and some originally conceived stunts will give spice to the evening. The dinner is arousing much interest among the engineers, and a large number are expected to gather around the festal board.

AT THE THEATRES

Metropolitan—Mansfield's "Peer Gynt" calls on every student who has the true university spirit to go and enjoy himself.

Orpheum. The 4 Bards are America's greatest acrobats. Papinta is Europe sit up. Both are at the vaudeville center this week.

Bijou. Magic and mystery rule here this week. Kellar is a leader in the art of making the impossible seem otherwise. As a change from the humdrum of the ordinary he is worth seeing.

Lyceum. A sterling melodrama written by Haddon Chambers is on this week. "Captain Swift" makes the heart appeal.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Attendant principally upon football contests, there is one thing which more than anything else has tended to drag the good name of the university and university students into the mire. That is the proneness of the daily press to put into unsavory prominence every act of a college student that might be classed with the extraordinary. The grocery clerk from down town, or the prominent young business man may commit any act of indiscretion short of anarchy or actual law breaking, without exciting a mention in the yellowest sheet published, but the harmless celebration of a bunch of college students after a football victory is magnified into a mountain of monstrous orgies, and scattered broadcast into the maws of the green-eyed country editors all over the state, who were waiting for just that chance to wobble their quills both in denunciation of the shameful doings of "those students," and in strenuous opposition to the proposed appropriations for university improvements up before the next legislature.
